

Another Flying Boxcar Crashes As Eight Dead

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP)—The fourth crash in 11 days of an Air Force C119 Flying Boxcar claimed eight lives yesterday when one of the huge transports crashed and burned in a muddy field 12 miles east of this South-Central Montana city.

The eight deaths raised to 91 the number of servicemen killed in Boxcar crashes since Nov. 7. Four of the dead in the Montana crash burned to death when the two-engine craft plowed into the ground while attempting to make an emergency landing. Four died of injuries.

Eight others, including the pilot and co-pilot, were rushed to two Billings hospitals. Attendants said two were in critical condition.

The Air Force withheld identification of the dead.

Bound from Edmonton, Alta., Canada, to Denver, the plane crashed in cloudy weather but visibility was good.

Civil Aeronautics Administration investigators said propeller trouble apparently caused one motor of the transport to shake loose.

The Air Force in Washington said it has no intention of grounding the C119s "unless a pattern of mechanical failure is established by accident investigations."

A reserve officer said reports the transports are "not suitable" for arctic operations have been on file with the Air Force since last April.

Maj. William H. Jay, former commander of the 65th Troop Carrier Squadron, said he and another squadron commander filed the reports. Now a commercial airline pilot, Jay said the reports recommended the Boxcars be replaced by C54s and C124s.

Another report, Jay said, was submitted by Maj. Ned M. Letts, now with the 77th Squadron on duty in Alaska on operation Warmwind.

Jay said both reported serious difficulty in operating the planes in arctic weather.

An Air Force spokesman said no report on the C119s being unsuitable for arctic operations had been released.

A C119 smashed into an Alaskan peak Nov. 7, killing 19 men. Another vanished with 20 aboard in Alaska Saturday, the same day a Flying Boxcar crashed in Korea, killing all 44 aboard.

County Fathers Appreciate Views About Courthouse

Members of the Howard County Commissioners Court this morning expressed appreciation for the interest shown in the new courthouse lawn by the four Hyperion clubs and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Hyperion clubs joined in opposing a parking area around the new structure. A total of 89 signatures of the women members was attached to a letter sent County Judge Walter Grice.

The Jaycees also went on record as favoring a beautification program for the courthouse lawn. Members oppose the parking area and favor a lawn.

Judge Grice stated that a number of individuals have made their views on the subject known to commissioners. Opinions of the people are requested, he said.

Commissioners are W. L. Long, precinct 1; Pete Thomas, precinct 2; A. J. Stallings, precinct 3; and Earl Hull, precinct 4.

New Courthouse Due To Start Rising Up Above The Ground

Appeal Issued For Donors To Aid Blood Drive

An urgent appeal for additional blood donors was issued by Red Cross Bloodmobile officials here Tuesday morning as the unit started its second day of operation in the basement of the First Presbyterian Church.

Enough donors were signed up to carry the Bloodmobile through Tuesday, but only about 70 pledges have been received for both

Persons wishing to contribute a pint of blood to America's fighting men may secure appointments by mailing name, address and telephone number to The Bloodmobile, Box 626.

If it is more convenient, the same information may be given the Red Cross by telephone, No. 256.

Wednesday and Thursday, said Mrs. Moree Sawtelle, executive secretary of the Howard-Glasscock Red Cross Chapter.

At least 200 additional blood givers are needed for the last two days of the Bloodmobile visit, she reported.

First day of operations Monday saw blood given by 164 persons. Mrs. Sawtelle said she particularly was gratified by the fact that almost without exception persons who had signed pledge cards kept their appointments.

A like number were scheduled for Tuesday, but only 40 persons have pledged to give blood on Wednesday and 29 are scheduled for Thursday. It is for the last two days of the four-day Bloodmobile visit that the 200 additional donors are needed.

All blood received by the Bloodmobile is immediately processed and sent to aid stations and hospitals in the Far East for treating the Korean War wounded. There is no charge made for the blood anywhere between veins of the donor and those of the ultimate beneficiary.

Hours blood may be given Wednesday and Thursday are from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m., with the period from 9 a. m. to 11 a. m. being set aside for Webb Air Force Base personnel.

Impetus to the campaign was due Tuesday afternoon when Local No. 826 of the Operating Engineers (AFL) at Cosden organizes a substantial number of its members. Cosden is providing time off for the men, who will leave the plant in a body around 4 p. m.

Transistors Used To Run Portable Television Set

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 18 (AP)—Transistors instead of radio vacuum tubes, which amplify radio signals to operate a portable television set and electronics experts said the new devices some day may cut in half the cost of video receivers.

Utilization of the pea-sized transistors, which amplify radio signals without the heated filaments in ordinary vacuum tubes, was demonstrated at the Radio Corporation of America's research center here.

The television receiver was battery operated and had 37 transistors. The only convention type of vacuum tube in the set was its own self-contained picture tube.

The set is about one quarter the weight and size of a normal home table model receiver.

He was charged with capital murder and was held in the county jail.

Navy Airmen Down Two MIG Fighters

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—The Navy reported today that two Russian-made jet fighter planes had been shot down only 35 miles from Las Alamitos, Calif., fought the battle near the task force late yesterday. One of the American planes was hit during the encounter but was able to return to the carrier Oriskany, floating home base for the squadron.

One MIG pilot was seen bailing out. A second Red plane was last seen in a steep spiral dive and smoking badly. A third MIG broke off the action after having been damaged.

The pilots credited with the kills were Lt. I. R. Williams and Lt. (j.g.) J. D. Middleton, Lt. (j.g.) D. M. Rawlings accounted for the damaged MIG.

Home addresses of the three officers were not immediately available, but the Navy said they were all believed to have come from Southern California.

ROKs Regain Vital Sniper Ridge Knob

SEOUL (AP)—South Korean infantrymen in savage hand to hand fighting today blasted Chinese Communists off a vital knob on blood soaked Sniper Ridge, lost to 175 screaming Reds a few hours earlier.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said F86 Sabre jets shot down one Communist MIG15 and damaged another today. The series of dog-fights just south of the Yalu River produced the second American ace in two days.

Capt. Leonard Lilley of Manchester, N. H., became the 22nd U. S. ace of the Korean War when he shot down his fifth MIG.

The Air Force also confirmed a sixth MIG kill yesterday. This boosted the two-day toll of Red warplanes to seven destroyed, one probably destroyed and two damaged.

Even as the battered Chinese reeled back from Rocky Point, a new Red buildup was spotted at the northern end of Sniper. Allied war planes, tanks and artillery hammered the Communists with high explosives and searing napalm.

Ten U. S. B29 Superforts last night pushed the Korean air war right to the doorstep of Manchuria. The B29s smashed Chook, a Red mining and processing center within sight of the Yalu River and set off a chain of huge fires and explosions. Other Superforts blasted a Communist ammunition dump near Pyongyang, the North Korean capital.

The bitter fighting for the Kumsu ridge south Korea's Central Front roared into its 38th straight day when 80 Chinese attacked Hocky Point at dawn. The Point is an important knob on Finger Ridge, which juts out from the main line of Sniper.

The first Red assault was hurled back in close quarter fighting. At 10 a. m. 175 fanatic Chinese lashed out at the Point again. This time they smashed through the Republic's defenses.

But, before they could consolidate their gains, the ROKs came charging back. By early afternoon the South Koreans had regained every inch of lost ground.

1,000 Hunters Said Stranded In Ariz. Area

PHOENIX, Nov. 18 (AP)—Estimate of the number of hunters stranded by the season's first heavy snow storm of last week end in the Mogollon Rim of White Mountain area of Arizona rose today to 1,000.

A. W. Yoder, director of the Arizona Game and Fish Commission, made an estimate. He based his figure on reports from hunters who have made their way to freedom or have been brought out by rescue parties and on the number of elk hunting permits issued.

Yoder said 5,000 permits had been issued but there was no way of determining exactly the number of hunters who were in the areas when the storm struck.

Planes from Williams Air Force Base and Civil Air Patrol planes which flew over the snowbound territories yesterday were in the air again today, trying to locate isolated hunting camps.

Col. James D. Mayden, commanding Williams, promised the Air Force would continue its efforts to aid in evacuation of hunters and would make airdrops of rations and bedding.

Fort Service officials at Holbrook said between 200 and 300 hunters are stranded in the White Mountain area.

Snow removal equipment from the Highway Department, the various counties, the Indian Service, Forest Service and private logging companies are trying to clear the roads of drifts which at places are more than six feet deep.

Rainfall Measures .03 Of An Inch Here

The U. S. Weather Bureau measured .03 of an inch moisture in a light rain shower at 1:30 a. m. today.

It was in the phantom class so far as most of the city and county were concerned. For virtually all signs of it were gone by sunrise.

Colorado City reported a trace of rain at 1 a. m.

The month's total to 28. Cold weather has been forecast for Big Spring and vicinity by the local weather bureau. The forecast reported it will be colder this afternoon, and more so tonight and Wednesday.

The weatherman said that the cold air will be the tail-end effect of a front which moved through Big Spring Monday. The winds will come from the northwest, he said. The Monday cold front is now in Louisiana.

RESERVE CHAMP AWARD GIVEN SUE WHITE

Sue White, 18-year-old 4-H Club girl from Big Spring, today showed the reserve champion at the Eastern National Livestock show in Timonium, Md.

Her steer, T-O Again, was runner-up in the open class for a summer yearling Hereford steers and did not get to compete for grand champion.

Her father, Floyd White, and County Agent Durward Lewter and Sue left Baltimore this afternoon for Chicago to enter the steer in the International Livestock show. The same steer was reserve in the 4-H division at the American Royal in Kansas City.

Her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, her daughter-in-law Mrs. John Eisenhower, and their three grandchildren—Dwight David II, 4, Barbara Anne, 3, and Susan, 10 months.

Aides repeated that the general was going to the White House mainly in the role of a listener and that he intended to make no commitments to Truman.

Immediately after the White House meeting, the President-elect will fly to New York for a series of conferences at his Manhattan headquarters, starting tomorrow. He will confer first with Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and other GOP congressional leaders.

He has New York appointments booked through Friday. His plans beyond then have not been disclosed.

James C. Hagerty, the general's press secretary, yesterday repeated a daily pronouncement—that there still was "nothing at all" on when Eisenhower will go to Korea, but that he definitely is going. The general said during the campaign that if elected he would go to the war zone in an effort to find a solution to the conflict.

Joint Statement Sought By HST

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—President-elect Eisenhower and President Truman sit down to get together today to talk over ways of keeping the ship of state on an even course as command shifts from the old captain to the new.

Their meeting the first face-to-face since June 2 when Eisenhower came back from command of European defense forces was set for 1 p. m. CST.

Much of the initial drama may never be known to the public. White House arrangements call for Eisenhower and Truman to be alone in the President's office for the first 15 minutes.

Those minutes will present an opportunity for personal exchanges which might erase some of the bitter things said in their political campaign when Truman battled so furiously against the election of Eisenhower as his successor.

From the President's office, they will go to the Cabinet Room where key advisors will join them for formal discussions of the problems with which the Truman administration is now grappling and which will confront Eisenhower and his appointees when they take over Jan. 20.

Truman was reported to be hoping the meeting would produce, at the least, an agreement for a joint statement assuring the world of this country's basic unity and supporting his administration's position in the United Nations on the Korean issue.

But some of those close to Eisenhower described the Republican President-elect as determined not to make any pre-inaugural commitments on vital matters.

A spokesman for Eisenhower told reporters that unless the general changes his attitude there may be no statement at all or at most a brief one.

Eisenhower, who has been resting at Augusta, Ga., since the election, left there by plane at 9:38 a. m. (CST) to fly here.

New York Meetings Set For Ike Wednesday

His plans are to leave Washington by plane at 3:45 p. m. (CST) for New York. He has conferences scheduled there tomorrow with a group of Republican congressional leaders.

Truman prepped for his conference with the general by holding a series of last-minute meetings with top advisors. Frederick J. Lawton, director of the budget, was a forenoon visitor.

Secretary of State Acheson, Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, Secretary of Defense Lovett, and Averell Harriman, the Mutual Security administrator, were asked to come in at 11:30 a. m.

Eisenhower's attitude in advance of the conference with Truman, was described by a spokesman as welcoming the opportunity for a briefing on government problems but as wanting no strings tied to him.

The spokesman said the President-elect feels that, unless there is some unexpected development of world-shaking proportions, he should refrain from even suggesting to the Truman administration any course of action on domestic and foreign affairs.

The President-elect will be ready to act quickly, this source said, when he takes office Jan. 20. In this connection, Republicans looked toward New York conferences tomorrow between the general and GOP congressional leaders as likely to be decisive in charting his opening course.

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio told reporters yesterday Eisenhower will be asked to "point the way" on a half-dozen pressing legislative issues when he talks with Taft and Rep. Joseph Martin of Massachusetts, expected to become Speaker of the new House.

Eisenhower also will see Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, scheduled to head the powerful Appropriations Committee, and Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, prospective new chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee.

Capital Greet Ike With Giant Welcome Fete

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower flew to Washington today under a leaden sky but the raw day didn't dull the spirit of the uncounted thousands who turned out to greet the next President.

Two hours before his plane was due in from Augusta, Ga., men, women and children were seeking vantage points along his parade route.

A sizable crowd was on hand at the airport.

Eisenhower's plane arrived in the vicinity of National Airport well ahead of scheduled landing time—12:24 p. m. (CST)—and circled over the nearby countryside.

The ceiling was 1,600 feet and visibility was seven miles just before the arrival.

The Army's Third Infantry Regiment, especially trained for ceremonies, provided a cordon of 200 officers and men, reinforcing the heavy contingent of Secret Service men who were primarily responsible for protecting the President-elect.

The hundred-piece Army band, in brilliant gold and blue uniforms, was drawn up.

Flying in with the President-elect were Mrs. Eisenhower; her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud; their daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Eisenhower, and their three grandchildren, Dwight David II, Barbara Ann, 3, and Susan, 10 months.

President Truman, although he campaigned tooth and nail to keep Eisenhower out of the White House, lent a helping hand to today's triumphal procession. He directed that all of the 250,000 federal workers who can be spared from their duties be released from their jobs long enough to join in the cheering.

More than that, painters hastily slapped a layer of gleaming white paint on the outside of the main entrance to the White House executive offices in which today's Truman-Eisenhower talks were to take place.

Brilliant red, white and blue bunting blossomed forth along the route of the Eisenhower motorcade from the Military Air Transport Service Terminal, in nearby Virginia, across Memorial Bridge spanning the Potomac, to the President-elect's future home at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue.

One stop was scheduled for the 15-car procession—at the Statler Hotel, where Mr. Eisenhower arranged to wait out the conversations between her husband and the present tenant of the White House.

Why didn't the future first lady go along for a look at her new home?

Ike Got Medal At Last HST Meeting

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 18 (AP)—President-elect Eisenhower turned his back today on a two-week "partial vacation" here and flew to Washington for a historic meeting with President Truman.

The general's chartered plane was airborne at 9:38 a. m. (CST) for a flight of some two hours and a half to the Capital. It was due at the Military Air Transport Terminal across the Potomac River from the Capital at 12:25 p. m.

Fifty minutes later, after a civic welcome and a parade in an open car to the White House, Eisenhower and Truman came face to face for the first time since last June 2.

Then the general had just returned from Europe and had given up his command of the North Atlantic forces to campaign for the Republican presidential nomination. At a White House ceremony, Truman awarded him an Oak Leaf Cluster for his Distinguished Service Medal.

Truman suggested today's White House conference two days after the Nov. 4 election. He proposed it in the interest of orderly transition from the Democratic regime to the new Republican administration and said it would demonstrate to the world that political differences had not destroyed basic American unity. Eisenhower agreed.

Listed to accompany the general on the trip to Washington were Mrs. Eisenhower, her mother Mrs. John S. Doud, their daughter-in-law Mrs. John Eisenhower, and their three grandchildren—Dwight David II, 4, Barbara Anne, 3, and Susan, 10 months.

Aides repeated that the general was going to the White House mainly in the role of a listener and that he intended to make no commitments to Truman.

The general said during the campaign that if elected he would go to the war zone in an effort to find a solution to the conflict.

Eisenhower closed out his vacation yesterday with a final round of golf at the Augusta National Course. He scored an 89 for 18 holes and had 18 birdsie 2 on the par-3 170-yard sixth hole. His tee shot on that one was four feet from the pin.

Par for the Augusta course is 72. Eisenhower's best score during his vacation was an 84.

Costello Successor Faces Deportation

NEW YORK (U.S. State crime) and then ordered him off the witness stand. U. S. Atty. Gen. James P. McGranery moved in Washington yesterday to strip citizenship from Luchese by directing the filing of denaturalization proceedings against the Sicilian-born ex-convict and wealthy garment manufacturer. McGranery's action, similar to a move taken recently against Costello, is a prelude to possible deportation. The Justice Department said the denaturalization proceedings would charge Luchese, listed in department records as Luckese, concealed arrests in connection with homicides when applying for citizenship. Luchese, who was convicted of grand larceny but not of homicide, was naturalized nine years ago. In Brooklyn, U. S. Atty. Frank J. Parker said last night he would file a denaturalization petition against Luchese in Federal Court today. Luchese, who will be 53 Dec. 1, has been subpoenaed to testify before the Stat Crime Commission in public. However, he obtained a temporary legal postponement last week. Arguments will be heard today in State Supreme Court on whether a permanent court order should be issued or the temporary order revoked. Carmine G. DeSapio, chief of Tammany Hall (the Manhattan Democratic organization), created a sensation at yesterday's hearing when he clashed with the commission and denounced phases of its inquiry. DeSapio, 43, who admitted he won a draft deferment as an essential worker during World War II when he didn't have a regular job, said he did not want to be "smeared or lynched by implication." The commission refused to allow DeSapio to read a statement in rebuttal of previous testimony.

3 Alternatives Seen In Problem Of Korea

By The Associated Press
Maj. George Felding Elliott, famed military affairs commentator, says President-Elect Eisenhower has only three alternatives in Korea. And the Korean Republic's ambassador to the United States believes one of the alternatives, increasing military pressure, should be used at once. Elliott, in San Antonio for a club lecture, said Eisenhower—on his projected trip to Korea—could only survey the tactical situation with the commanding officers and get the views of the combat troops. After that, Elliott said, the three alternatives open to the president-elect are:
1. Continue negotiations for peace.
2. Pull out of Korea completely.
3. Increase the military pressure.
In Houston for a speech Tuesday night at a World Service dinner, Dr. You Chan Yang, thought the third alternative a pretty good one. He told interviewing newsmen that the only course left in Korea is to win the war on the battlefield. "Let's show action," the ambassador said. "We Koreans have had enough of war and real suffering. We are the most peace loving people. But we're being realistic. We know that when the Communists are ready they will attack whether we like it or not." Elliott said war with Russia is inevitable unless that nation collapses internally. Peaceful co-existence is a myth, he added, pointing out that it goes directly against the pronouncement of Lenin, who held that one or the other nation must ultimately conquer. Russia cannot and will not yield any gains, he said, and to do so means defeat for Communism. But Dr. Yang said, "The present stalemate is a tremendously effective propaganda medium for the communists behind the Iron Curtain. Dr. Yang said he did not know exactly what Eisenhower's proposed visit to Korea will accomplish toward ending the war, but said it would boost the morale of said it would boost the morale of people. Elliott said he believed Russia would neither risk all-out war nor make an effort in good faith to negotiate a settlement of the conflict. But don't expect any United States "drift" into a major war with Russia, Elliott predicted, and he added: "The general is a positive man who will institute positive policies—and none of them will be predicted on drifting into war."

Surgeon Douglas Fairman went through the motions of taking out the patient's tonsils. He didn't really operate, however. It was all part of a court hearing yesterday in a suit filed by Mrs. Dorothy Moon, Bristol widow, against the Bristol General Hospital. She charged Fairman with negligence and rough handling during a tonsil operation on her husband in 1949. He died later. The mock operation was staged to show how a patient's head is handled during a tonsillectomy. The court said it would rule later on the suit.

SHOULD EISENHOWER GO TO KOREA — OR NOT?

First Of A Series On Ike's Trip to Korea

General Eisenhower's proposed visit to Korea has stirred up debate and speculation throughout the entire country.

... Should he take the risk of such a long and dangerous journey?

... Do the American people expect his trip to bring an earlier end to the war?

The Gallup Poll has conducted a special survey across the country to test public opinion on those questions.

Only through the medium of the public opinion poll is it possible to find out quickly and with a high degree of accuracy what the American public thinks on such issues.

The Gallup Poll's special survey series on Eisenhower's trip to Korea will be published exclusively in the Herald starting Wednesday, Nov. 19.

Actress' Hubby Gets Probation In Narcotics Charge

LOS ANGELES (U.S. Actress Joan Leslie's husband, Dr. William C. Caldwell, has been placed on three years' probation and fined $300 after pleading guilty to using fraudulent narcotic prescriptions. The physician was accused of writing seven prescriptions in the names of patients and having them filled for his own use.

Absolute Fidelity Not Right, British Society Tells Wives

LONDON (U.S.—Every husband is entitled to philander once in his life, a spokesman (male) for the British Law Society said last night in advising wives it is better to forgive once than try to forget forever. "I think for a woman to take up the stupid position of insisting upon absolute fidelity from her husband is wrong," London lawyer E. C. Harvey told the Royal Commission on Marriage and Divorce, which is hearing suggestions for changes in divorce laws. "It might be suggested very strongly to a wife to overlook it where a husband had failed on one occasion with one particular woman and had freely confessed it—rather than rush into divorce. After all, she will be a long time divorced," he said.

Speedy Ruling Is Promised On Coal Pay Hike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Economic Stabilizer Roger Putnam has promised a quick ruling on the disputed pay raise for coal miners. And there was a hint the miners might not strike if the ruling went against them.

The industry negotiated a $1.90 a day pay raise with union leader John L. Lewis but the Wage Stabilization Board approved only part of it.

The WSB decided only $1.50 per day was payable and barred the remaining 40 cents as inflationary. Lewis and the industry have asked Putnam to reverse the WSB and approve the full amount.

Putnam heard arguments from both Lewis and Harry M. Moses, industry spokesman, at a special hearing yesterday.

They argued coal miners should get special consideration because of their hard underground work and conditions peculiar to the industry. They contended the full pay raise was approvable under the WSB's rule.

After the hearing, Putnam gave no indication of how he will rule, but said he would do so as soon as possible.

Coal miners had been expected to strike if Putnam ruled against the full pay raise, but Lewis indicated yesterday this might not happen.

Lewis said "we'll wait" until the WSB goes out of business and wage controls are abandoned, if necessary, but he said some day the miners will get the full $1.90.

Woods Plans To Cut The Price Of Meat

By WILLIAM O. VARN
 WASHINGTON (AP)—Price Chief Tighe Woods plans to reduce the price of meat to consumers if it's legally possible.

Woods yesterday ordered his Office of Price Stabilization staff to have ready by Monday an order rolling back retail meat prices—or let him know why it can't be done.

He said a pulse-feeling swing he made through the country convinced him consumers are more concerned about food prices than any others, and that meat is first on that list.

Woods said cattlemen and farmers complain that the prices they receive for live cattle have gone down but that consumers are paying as much for beef now as they were when ceilings were set more than a year ago.

The price chief said if this is so he wants to know the reason why, and where the difference in price exists.

The Western States Meat Packers Association, a trade group, took sharp issue with what they said was a suggestion that meat retailers and packers are getting excessive profits.

E. F. Forbes, the group's president, yesterday made public a letter he sent co-sponsors a recent letter. The letter said Woods made "irresponsible and inaccurate" statements in Minneapolis earlier this week "designed to turn consumers against meat packers and retailers."

Forbes said actually beef at wholesale is selling below ceiling prices—in some instances as much as 35 per cent, below.

At Chicago, Public Relations Director Norman Draper of the American Meat Institute, which represents 500 meat-packing companies throughout the country, commented:

"Everybody is getting rather tired of distortion of truth by Tighe Woods. We wonder what office he may be running for. Perhaps he has forgotten there was an election Nov. 4."

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Tues., Nov. 18, 1952 3

of food costs were most common. Among possibilities of effecting a rollback being studied is the advisability of switching from the present dollars and cents per pound to a margin-type regulation.

If this were done, butchers would recalculate their ceilings at regular intervals to reflect any change up or down in their wholesale costs. This method already is used in regulations governing pork and veal, and one official said it would comply with the controls law.

Irvin L. Rice, assistant chief of the OPS Food and Restaurant Division, reported that veal and top grades of beef generally are selling at about 5 per cent below ceilings as wholesale. He said other grades are selling substantially lower at wholesale.

Spray-On Plastic Dressing Is Found For Wounds By AF

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force has a spray-on plastic dressing that quickly coats a wound with an infection-proof film the attending doctors can look through while healing goes on.

Announcing the development, Air Force headquarters said the film had promise for emergency use in case of atomic attack or other disaster, and also might displace gauze as dressing for many kinds of surgical wounds. It is still under test.

Luther Club Plans Christmas Dinner And Party Dec. 11

Mrs. Dean Self gave a demonstration on pastry baking at the meeting of the Luther Mome Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. Joyce Richardson recently.

"Good pastry depends largely upon the kind of flour and amount of fat and water used," Mrs. Self explained. Excess fat increases the tendency toward crumbly pastry and excess water gives a tough product.

Mrs. Jim Zike showed the club members a four square knot belt she had made. At the next meeting Dec 4 in her home Mrs. Eugenia B. Toland will give a demonstration on pie filling.

The club's Christmas dinner and party will be held Dec. 11 in the home of Mrs. Self, at which time new officers will be installed.

Taft Urges Ike Fix Congress Timetable

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) called on President-elect Eisenhower today to fix the timetable for legislative action in the new Congress.

At the same time, Taft told a news conference he doesn't believe it will be necessary for Eisenhower to intervene in the choice by Senate Republicans of their new leaders.

Taft predicted the Republicans will fill major posts "without any battle." He declined to say whether he wants to be chairman of the GOP Policy Committee or floor leader in the new organization.

But the Ohio senator said he believes Eisenhower should summon to the White House for weekly conferences the three top leaders in the Senate—the policy chairman, the floor leader and the head of the conference of all Republican senators.

Taft, who will see Eisenhower in New York tomorrow along with Rep. Martin (R-Mass.), prospective speaker of the new House, said the general will be asked to decide which legislative measures he wants action on first.

Taft listed the following as the most pressing:

1. The budget, including possible reorganization of the Budget Bureau and establishment of a congressional budget commission.

2. Taxation—Taft said the decision on this could await budget action.

3. The question of whether the government Reorganization Act, which expires in April, should be renewed.

4. Possible extension of price, wage and rent controls, as well as allocations powers, which expire in the period between April 30 and June 30. Taft said there had been some suggestions that these powers be ended immediately, adding that he had heard President Truman might take such action before he goes out of office Jan. 20.

5. Action on proposed amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act.

6. Possible creation of a commission to study the federal government's place in handling social welfare, health, housing and social security problems.

7. Possible extension of the reciprocal trade agreements.

8. New authorizations and appropriations for the foreign aid program.

In the latter connection, Taft said he assumes the new secretary of state will reexamine foreign policy. He said it will be up to Eisenhower to determine what changes may be necessary.

Boone said he wants Dr. Wilkinson to say whether he was quoted correctly in the newspaper account.

He noted that Wilkinson is quoted as saying 90 per cent of the patients in the VA hospitals are there for disabilities not service-connected. Actually, Boone said, 35 per cent have service-connected disabilities and 90 per cent of the rest would receive no treatment if they had to pay for it.

Dr. Wilkinson is president of the Southern Medical Association.

VA Medical Aid Denies Misuse Of Hospitals

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—A denial that Veterans Administration hospitals are being misused by veterans has been issued by the VA's medical director, retired Vice Admiral Joel T. Boone.

He made public yesterday a letter to Dr. R. J. Wilkinson of Huntington, W. Va., which enclosed a newspaper account of a speech Dr. Wilkinson made last week in Miami before the Southern Medical Association.

"When I first read this article," the letter said, "I was shocked to think that a physician trained to approach all questions on the basis of truth and scientific facts could be delivered of such a conglomerate of invidious innuendo, misstatements, half-truths and even untruths as are contained in these few paragraphs."

Planned Dam Heading For Court Fight

AUSTIN, Nov. 18 (AP)—The proposed 15-million-dollar Wesley Seale Dam on the Nueces River today appeared headed for a court battle.

The Board of Water Engineers granted a permit for the dam's construction yesterday. Attorney Victor Boudin, Houston, representing opponents of the project, indicated immediately it likely would be contested.

The board action followed three days of public hearing, interrupted by a four-week recess. Board member A. P. Rollins said the permit involves no additional water allocation and testimony showed the project to be feasible both from an engineering and economic standpoint.

The permit allows impounding of 300,000 acre feet of water under authority of already existing permits and water rights to the city of Corpus Christi.

The dam would be built 1,300 feet upstream from the existing Mathis Dam and would provide 14 billion gallons of water a year.

Opponents contend the big downstream reservoir would take so much of the river's flow there would not be enough for future development of upstream communities.

Ex-Communist House Taken By Van Fleets

SEOUL, Nov. 18 (AP)—Mrs. James A. Van Fleet and her four-star general husband today moved into a five-room Korean house once occupied by Communists.

"This is really a beautiful place," she told reporters.

Mrs. Van Fleet arrived last night for a visit with her husband. She had not seen him since he came here 19 months ago to take command of the U. S. Eighth Army.

She said she had come to Korea at the invitation of President and Mrs. Syngman Rhee.

The house was provided by the Rhees, who lived in it several years ago. It was used by the Reds during one of their occupations of Seoul early in the war.

Rooney Is Wed A Fourth Time

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Nov. 18 (AP)—Mickey Rooney, the diminutive film actor, fidgeted and fumbled for the ring this morning as he married for a fourth time following a surprise elopement.

The bride, a flame-tressed, comparatively unknown model described as slender and "quite a bit taller" than Mickey, signed the marriage certificate as Elaine Mahken, 22. She's been married once before.

Giving the slip to newsmen who had been told they'd be wed at the Flamingo Hotel, the couple was married by the Rev. Thomas Daly at the Wee Kirk O' the Heather Chapel. Then they hurried to El Rancho Vegas Hotel, registering as Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Yule—Mickey's real name.

Rooney's former wives were actresses Ava Gardner and Martha Vickers, and an Alabama beauty contest winner.

Municipal League Meet Is Underway At San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 18 (AP)—The National Municipal League's scheduled three-day conference was at the midway point today with 12 more cities pleading their cases for "All-America" honors.

Yesterday, 11 cities presented their cases—success stories—ranging from an anti-unworld political campaign in Miami, Fla., to a school appreciation program in Minneapolis.

Pollster-Foreman George Gallup said awards would be based on progress due to intelligent citizen action.

In other developments at yesterday's opening sessions, about 340 delegates heard the businessman as citizen, presided over by Ben B. Ehrlichman, president of United National Corp.

Methodist Bishops To Talk About Securing New Church Members

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 18 (AP)—Bishops from Methodist churches will discuss plans to make churchgoers of some 20 million young people in this country who they say have no religious connections.

The plans are among topics to be dealt with during the five-day annual meeting of the Council of Bishops of the Methodist Church, which got under way yesterday.

Court Suit Is Threatened Over Utilization Plan

AUSTIN, Nov. 18 (AP)—A court suit against proposed utilization of the Canyon Reef Pool in the Kelley-Snyder and Diamond "M" Fields, Scurry County, was threatened yesterday.

The hearing continued today. Possibility of a court contest was raised by Gillis Johnson, attorney for W. A. Moncrief and others. He said he might seek a court ruling on whether the applicants have to offer substantial evidence at the utilization hearing that interests of non-signers will be protected.

J. A. Rauhut, attorney for Sunray Oil Corp., one of the chief applicants, contended that exact operating details of how non-signers' interests will be protected often are worked out at a later hearing after the Railroad Commission grants approval to utilization.

Johnson charged frequently during the 4 1/2-hour hearing conducted by commission Chief Engineer Arthur Barbeck that backers of the utilization plan have "only offered a conclusion that the interest of non-signers will be protected."

He challenged how such a promise could be made if the applicants do not yet know where water injection wells would be spotted or how much water would be used in each well.

William L. Horner, vice president and manager of Sunray's reservoir engineering division, said location of such wells could not be determined until it was known how many tracts would not participate in the utilization plan. He noted also that the commission would have to approve plans for field operation under a unit agreement.

The suit was first brought in 1949 charging that E. I. du Pont de Nemours Company of Wilmington, Del., General Motors Corp. and the U. S. Rubber Company violated the Sherman Antitrust Act.

The government contended the firms violated the act by restraining trade through secret rebates and by dividing several fields of manufacturing amongst themselves to eliminate competition.

The charges have been denied. Three du Pont holding companies and 117 individual members of the du Pont family, including 59 minors, are also defendants.

IN CHICAGO COURT Du Pont Monopoly Trial Is Underway

CHICAGO (AP)—The six-billion-dollar Du Pont industrial empire goes on trial in Federal Court today on government charges that the huge firm is monopolistic.

The government plans to introduce 1,203 exhibits and more than 25 depositions during the trial, which is expected to last at least four months. Judge Walter J. Labuy will hear the case without a jury.

Special Asst. Atty. Gen. Willis L. Hotchkiss, head of the Chicago Antitrust Division of the Department of Justice, will present the government's opening statement today.

Attorneys for the defendants will then present their statements, which are expected to last through Wednesday. More than 25 attorneys are to represent the defendants.

The suit was first brought in 1949 charging that E. I. du Pont de Nemours Company of Wilmington, Del., General Motors Corp. and the U. S. Rubber Company violated the Sherman Antitrust Act.

The government contended the firms violated the act by restraining trade through secret rebates and by dividing several fields of manufacturing amongst themselves to eliminate competition.

The charges have been denied. Three du Pont holding companies and 117 individual members of the du Pont family, including 59 minors, are also defendants.

The holding companies, which the government contends the Du Pont family tightly controls, are Christiana Securities Company, Delaware Realty and Investment Corp. and Wilmington Trust Company.

The government charges that the holding concerns control the Du Pont company, which in turn controls General Motors and has a major block of stock in U. S. Rubber.

Hotchkiss said the government will seek a court order directing the Du Pont company to sell its General Motors stock. He said he does not plan to ask the defendants to dispose of their U. S. Rubber stock, which he said they own individually.

Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark, who was attorney general when the suit was filed in 1949, said then that it was "directed to the breaking up of the largest single concentration of economic power in the United States."

Tanker Skipper Didn't Know Of Navy Maneuvers

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 18 (AP)—The captain of an oil tanker said yesterday he didn't know military maneuvers were underway in the area when his ship rammed a Navy transport last Friday, killing six soldiers and injuring 37 others.

Capt. John D. Cain, Groves, Tex., testifying at a Coast Guard Board of Inquiry, said he was asleep in his cabin on the Texas Co. tanker, Washington, and was awakened by the alarm seconds before his ship collided with the converted destroyer, USS Ruchamkin.

Cain said the two ships were locked together for about six minutes and when he got no answer to his megaphoned shouts, he gave orders to back away.

The crash occurred 55 miles east of Cape Henry, Va., in the Atlantic Ocean. The Ruchamkin was engaged in joint Army-Navy maneuvers at the time of the collision. The victims were soldier passengers aboard the transport.

Production was unchanged in Texas, 3,094,975.

CHECK UP ON SUBVERSION

Probe Of Tax Exempt Groups Is Undertaken By Congress

By FRANCIS J. KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress today opened an investigation into tax-exempt philanthropic and educational foundations with the declared purpose of finding whether any of them are engaging in "un-American and subversive activities."

The inquiry embraces more than 80 such organizations, including the Rockefeller, Carnegie and Ford Foundations, whose activities reach into almost every corner of the world.

Chairman of the special House investigating unit is Rep. Cox (D-Ga.). The other members are Reps. Hays (D-Ark.), O'Toole (D-N.Y.), Forand (D-R.I.), Simpson (R-Pa.), Goodwin (R-Mass.) and Reece (R-Tenn.).

Under a resolution sponsored by Cox and approved by the House during the last session of Congress, the committee has specific instructions to determine "which such foundations and organizations are using their resources for purposes other than the purposes for which they were established, and especially to determine which such foundations and organizations are using their resources for un-American and subversive activities or for purposes not in the interest or tradition of the United States."

The committee said the first week of hearings would be devoted primarily to establishing the history and growth of the tax-exempt foundations, their members, resources and income, their impact on society and their accomplishments in various fields.

Cox added, however, that he personally is "less inclined to point the accusing finger" at the organizations than he was before the committee's 15-member staff began laying the groundwork for the inquiry.

He said it should be remembered that the foundations are an outgrowth of the capitalistic system, and said the committee intends to find out whether some of them have "shown a tendency to bring that system into dispute."

Twenty-page questionnaires went out to 50 of the largest foundations and less detailed inquiries to the remainder. Replies have been received from most of them and they are being processed. The foundations, among other things, were asked to list all their grants over the past 15 years.

Cox said the foundations had cooperated and appeared to welcome the investigation.

Cadillac

It May Be Starting a Million Miles!

Happy, happy man! His time has come to own the "car of cars" . . . and there he goes for the first thrilling ride at the wheel.

But what an additional thrill he would have if he could look down the long, long road that car will travel before it comes to its final stop!

For then he would know, beyond peradventure, that he has just taken possession of one of the mechanical masterpieces of all time!

Reliable statistics kept by a great tire manufacturer show, for instance, that certain Cadillacs in its testing fleet have actually approached a million miles.

Naturally, when you take possession of a new Cadillac, you are not thinking of owning and driving it for such a spectacular distance.

But consider, if you will, what this phenomenal endurance foretells for your own period of ownership.

It is your finest possible guarantee that the thrill and the satisfaction of your first mile at the wheel will go on and on—until, with reluctance, you pass the car along to another proud and happy owner.

And it means, of course, that the value of your Cadillac will endure. Even its second, and third, and fourth owners will find that its relative value is amazing. There is almost always a demand for a Cadillac, regardless of its age.

Of course, the great thrill of owning a Cadillac comes from the car's wonderful performance and its marvelous prestige.

But it is so nice to reflect, as you sit at the wheel, that your pride is practical—and that your satisfaction is coming from a sound investment.

Is it time for you to think about a Cadillac? If so, we would be happy to see you any time.

40 Cases Of Whiskey Are Said Stolen

Sheriff's officials were today still investigating the robbery of Uncle Tom's Liquor Store, which occurred early Monday morning.

T. J. Higgins, proprietor of the store, stated that 40 cases of whiskey were stolen.

The liquor store is located on West Highway 80 in the old Yells Inn building. Deputy Dub Weatherford stated that entrance to the store was made by cutting through a partition.

He said the burglars entered the half of the building which was vacant, drilled 19 holes in the separating partition with a big bit, pulled the boards loose, and entered.

It is believed that the cases were wheeled from the store on Royal Crown trucks. Weatherford stated that the cold drink man reported that theft of his small trucks, and trucks were found to indicate some trucks had been used.

Officers believe that several individuals were involved in taking the whiskey.

Hearing Sought On Activities Of Denton Sheriff

TERRELL, Nov. 18 (AP)—Rep. Fred Merdith, chairman of the Legislature's Crime Committee, said today he had been asked to hold hearings on activities of the Denton County sheriff.

A grand jury reported last week it could find nothing wrong with the activities of Sheriff W. O. (Oney) Hodges or with the conduct of his office.

Merdith said he received the request yesterday and hasn't had time to give it much consideration. He said the whole committee will have to vote whether to hold a hearing.

"However," Merdith said, "we have received similar requests that we can hold hearings on this request."

The hearings were requested by Rep. Doug Crouch of Denton in a letter to Merdith, Crouch and another Denton attorney filed a district court petition about a month ago seeking removal of Sheriff Hodges. The case was dismissed.

Later, Dist. Atty. Darwin Wilder submitted it to the grand jury, which reported it found "no evidence of misconduct or irregularities" in Hodges' conduct.

Seven days after Hodges took office in 1949, he was blinded by a shotgun blast fired by a man he was trying to arrest.

Merdith said he will present Crouch's request to the full Crime Committee. He said he didn't know when he will be able to get the committee together.

Sicilian Denied Bond In Deportation Case

WACO, Nov. 18 (AP)—A Sicilian who said he fled Italy to escape political persecution yesterday was denied bond in federal court pending the result of deportation proceedings.

Pasquale Scortino, 29, was returned to the Bexar County jail at San Antonio after the ruling of U. S. Judge Ben Rice Jr. The judge said the law permitted him to act only if the U. S. Attorney General had acted arbitrarily or capriciously in refusing the bond. He was unable to find that this was the case.

Scortino said that if he is returned to Italy he will be murdered.

The Italian government charges that Scortino committed a number of felonies as a member of a bandit gang of the late Salvatore Giuliano.

Scortino is wanted in Italy on various charges, including "massacre" and illegal possession of weapons. Holland was informed that the Sicilian marriage still is in effect. He believes it would be dangerous to release Scortino because the man had evaded arrest by going from state to state and using a variety of names.

Scortino told this story: He never committed a crime. He was a member of an organization called the "Evis," devoted to winning Sicily's independence from Italy. He fought for this cause by making speeches and also "we fought with shotguns, forks and 'sticks' against an Italian Army force."

His marriage to Marianne Giuliano was forced on him. Her brother thought he came over here and showed that I am a good man and think the way Americans think they would let me stay."

Scortino continued: He joined the Air Force because he wanted to do something for the United States. He hoped to be sent to Korea and would rather go there to fight than be sent back to Italy.

added a quick explanation that Mrs. Truman didn't know until Sunday that her successor was coming to Washington with the general.

Invited by telephone yesterday, Mrs. Eisenhower said sorry but she'd made other plans for the afternoon. The White House said, however, that she promised to come down from New York real soon and have a talk with Mrs. Truman about White-House-keeping.

Because of the welcoming plans, the arrival time of the Eisenhowers after their flight from Augusta, Ga., was set back to 1:00 p. m., EST. This allowed for a 30-minute procession to the White House, where the briefing of the incoming President was scheduled to begin at 2 p. m.

Army, Navy, Air Force and 10 or 12 other bands were posted along the route of the motorcade. Armed forces security guards were ordered at the White House and at the airport, where District of Columbia leaders planned a brief greeting ceremony.

Many business houses followed the government's lead and gave their employees "a. o. off to join the throngs lining the capital's streets. A forecast of clear, mild weather bolstered expectations of a vast turnout.

After the White House talks, the Eisenhowers planned to fly to New York, which will be their home from now until inauguration day, Jan. 20.

TEXAS ACCEPTS BID

Baylor Works Hard For Pony Outing

By CLAYTON HICKERSON Associated Press Staff

Baylor's Golden Bears—pointing to the annual Baptist-Methodist tussle with Southern Methodist Saturday in Dallas—worked hard again Tuesday after heavy scrimmages Monday.

For the most part, the rest of the Southwest Conference members took it fairly easy.

The University of Texas Longhorns voted to represent the conference against the University of Tennessee in the Cotton Bowl game—and surprised nobody.

Both the Longhorns and the Texas Aggies were idle Tuesday since neither team plays Saturday and will wait until Wednesday to start getting ready for their traditional grudge game Thanksgiving Day.

Texas emerged from their 14-7 win over Texas Christian last week in good shape and Texas A&M hopes to have Ray Graves back at quarter and Pete Mayeaux back at half when the annual Texas-Texas A&M classic rolls around.

Graves was hurt a fortnight ago in the game with SMU and Mayeaux suffered a neck injury in the game with Arkansas last week.

While Baylor went right into hard work preparing for the Mustangs, the Methodists watched moving pictures of last year's SMU-Baylor tussle, and called it a day.

Texas Christian—getting ready for Rice—were due some heavy work Tuesday after a light workout yesterday. Rice, the Frogs' opponents Saturday, scheduled long workouts Tuesday and Wednesday to give the Owl seniors a chance to win their first game from the Christians.

The Arkansas Razorbacks, still groggy from their 27-17 loss to SMU last week, scheduled heavy workouts Tuesday for their final game of the season Saturday with the University of Tulsa.

The Steers, who came out of the Vernon game in good shape, play their final two games at home. They wind up against Sweetwater here Thanksgiving Day.

It'll be like "old home week" for three of the Snyder coaches. Three of them are former Big Spring residents. They are: Head Coach Speedy Moffett and Assistants Hal Battle and Horace Bostick.

Moffett coached here in the early '30's. Battle and Bostick starred with the local team more than a decade ago.

NEW YORK (AP)—Michigan State, leader for most of the season in the Associated Press poll of the nation's top college football teams, apparently has only to beat Marquette Saturday to wrap up its first national football championship.

Michigan State's impressive 21-3 thumping of Notre Dame, combined with Georgia Tech's close call against Alabama and Maryland's upset loss to Mississippi, left the undefeated Spartans off by themselves with nearly two-thirds of the third-place votes from 127 sports writers and broadcasters participating in this week's poll.

Michigan State was named first by 80 voters and piled up 1,168 points on the usual basis of 10 points for first, nine for second and so on down the line.

Despite its close game with Alabama, Georgia Tech managed to retain second place. The writers there regard it as Mississippi, ranked UCLA and fourth-ranked Southern California. Tech received 1,020 points as compared to 968 for UCLA and 911 for USC.

Oklahoma, bouncing back from its Notre Dame defeat with a 47-7 thrashing of Missouri, jumped from eighth place up to fifth, with 542 points.

Mississippi climbed from 11th place to sixth with its upset in the process knocked Maryland from third down to eighth. Tennessee held firm in seventh place, while Notre Dame fell from sixth to ninth and Texas dropped a notch to 10th despite a 14-7 victory over Texas Christian.

The leaders (first-place votes in parentheses): 1. Michigan State (80).....1,168 2. Georgia Tech (14).....1,020 3. UCLA (9).....968 4. Southern California (11).....911 5. Oklahoma (1).....542 6. Mississippi (4).....522 7. Tennessee (4).....496 8. Maryland.....433 9. Notre Dame.....256 10. Texas.....242

Second 10: 11. Tulsa (3).....85 12. Michigan (3).....77 13. Wisconsin.....58 14. Alabama.....53 15. Syracuse.....40 16. Pittsburgh (1).....36 17. Princeton.....19 18. Kansas.....15

Others receiving votes included Virginia, Villanova, Navy, Florida, Ohio State, Purdue, San Jose State, Illinois and Kentucky.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

When the assigned officials failed to put in an appearance at the Vernon-Big Spring game in Vernon Friday night, it was left up to the local players whether they would play.

The coaches left the dressing room and the lads decided, after deliberating some ten minutes, to go ahead and take the field. A makeshift lineup of officials, called down from the stands, was used.

The vote to play wasn't unanimous, by any means, but the Steer gridders balledoted favorably on the proposal because they felt, by asking for a forfeit, they would be disappointing the many Big Spring fans, the high school band and the many rooters following their games on radio—not to mention the Vernon people who paid to see the game.

Did the delay in the starting time of the game by an hour and 35 minutes do any harm to the boys' emotions? What do you think? Tension is always bad immediately before a game. You can imagine the emotion letdown a boy suffers when told, after taking the field to warm up, that the game was being delayed.

The Steers started out like the proverbial house afire, sagged in the middle two periods and then roundly outplayed the Lions in the fourth period.

It is not intended to imply that Big Spring would have won the game had the regular starting hour been observed. The Vernon lads suffered, too, because of the delay. It is suggested that the Steers' chances for victory might have declined rapidly once they were told they would not be able to play immediately.

This much is known of the incident. Harold (Spot) Collins, the Vernon coach—whose job it was to find the officials and have them appointed by Coach Carl Coleman of Big Spring—had never had the appointments confirmed by the officials themselves.

Apparently, he contacted four in September, yet never received any indication they would show up for the game. Local officials confirmed their suspicions by talking with a couple of the men in question in Abilene over the week end. Two of the arbiters were working a game in Haskell Friday night.

Will there be any reprisals taken against Vernon? No. Once Big Spring took the field, they forfeited their right to bring the matter before the district rules committee. The boys were fully aware of that fact. They would not have wanted to win the game in such a manner, anyway. They felt if they were not up to the challenge on the field they certainly did not want a court room verdict.

Coleman and Wayne Bonner will be the first to tell you the officials who worked the game did not hurt them at all. They were a bit rusty on some of their rules interpretations, but that was about all. Their honesty certainly was not challenged by any of the Big Spring delegation present.

For some reason, a small but vociferous portion of the Vernon fans present seemed to hold it against Coleman for causing the delay, and hued invective at him throughout the game. You'll find such an element at any game, though. The city of Vernon and the school should not be censured for the unsportsmanship shown by a few individuals.

Big Ten-Coast Rose Bowl Pact May End After '54

By WARREN ROGERS JR. WASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan State President John Hannah's prediction that the Big Ten will end its Rose Bowl contract in 1954 has brought quick and cautious reaction.

The Rose Bowl, as every kid in shoulder pads knows, is the oldest of college football's annual post-season classics, dating back to 1902.

The Pacific Coast Conference, which provides the host team each New Year's Day at Pasadena, Calif., has an "freemert running until Jan. 1, 1954, with the Big Ten, which supplies the opponent. The arrangement began in 1947 and was renegotiated last year.

And Dr. Hannah, whose college becomes a Big Ten member next year—hence, eligible to vote on renewing the contract—forecasts it will be dropped. He said yesterday: "I think presidents of the Pacific Coast Conference think about as I do."

Hannah declined to speculate whether that meant there would be no Rose Bowl after Jan. 1, 1954, but he said: "If there is, I suspect that the Big Ten will not participate in it."

Elimination of all postseason competition, football bowls included, was one recommendation of a special committee of the American Council of Education. Hannah was chairman of the group, which conducted a nation-wide investigation into college sports programs.

Hannah's remarks yesterday were in a copyrighted interview with U. S. News and World Report, a weekly news magazine.

Big Ten Commissioner Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, reached at Chicago, would say only: "The conference will act on a decision of renewing the Rose Bowl contract some time next year."

Pacific Coast Conference Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt was noncommittal. He told reporters at Corvallis, Ore., "The conference has found its relationship with the Rose Bowl over the last half century to be satisfactory and desirable."

Also at Corvallis, Oregon State President A. L. Strand said: "The California schools are irrevocably married to the Rose Bowl." He said Northern schools in the conference would go along with the California members.

However, President Harry K. Newburn of the University of Oregon said at Eugene he was ready to back Dr. Hannah.

Phillips Meets Dumas Friday In Headliner

By The Associated Press

Phillips and Dumas, two of the top teams of Class AA schoolboy football and both undefeated, untied and unworried except about each other, clash at Phillips Friday night in one of the season's feature games.

Unfortunately they are in the same district—No. 1—and only one of them will be able to move into state-wide play.

This is the only battle of unbeaten teams in the state this week as Class AA decides all district championships preparatory to the fight for the state title.

Fifteen district champions have been determined and 16 more will be by Saturday. There are 31 districts in Class AA.

District champions decided are: District 4—Seymour, 5—Stamford, 6—Tahoka, 12—Graham, 15—Clarksville, 16—Center, 17—Jasp, 18—Huntsville, 21—LaVega, 22—Killeen, 26—Bay City, 27—LaMarque, 30—Yoakum, 31—Aransas Pass, 32—Weslaco.

Aransas Pass and Weslaco already have arranged their bi-district game. They will meet at Alice, Nov. 28.

Class AA might have the same finalists as last season although neither of those teams—Arlington and LaVega—appearing anything like as strong as in 1951. But LaVega, which lost to Arlington in the finals, already is back for state play and Arlington can make it if it beats Mineral Wells at Mineral Wells Friday night. This game decides the District 11 title.

There are 10 undefeated, untied teams left in Class AA. They are Floydada, Phillips, Dumas, Stamford, Terrell, Mt. Pleasant, Center, Killeen, Huntsville and Uvalde.

In districts where clear-cut champions have not been determined the situations are like this: 1—Phillips vs Dumas, 2—Floydada vs Center, 3—Childers vs beating Shamrock, 4—Brewster vs beating Levelland, 5—Kerrill, Monahan, Peas and Seminoles vs beating Kerrill, Peas and Seminoles, Seminoles beat Peas, Peas beat Kerrill and Kerrill beat Monahan, so it's a mad jumble. The district committee probably will have to decide it.

6—Winters vs beating Brady, 7—Ranger vs beating Comanche, 13—Terrell vs Garland, 14—Mt. Pleasant vs Sulphur Springs, 15—Rains vs beating Hillsboro, 16—Hill vs beating Mineral Wells, Diamond Hill at Hambley, 17—Waco vs beating Hill, 18—Hill vs beating Hill, 19—Arlington at Mineral Wells, Diamond Hill at Hambley, 20—Waco vs beating Hill, 21—Waco vs beating Hill, 22—Lampasas at Killeen, Oataville at Hamilton, 23—Campan at Reubend, Taylor at Georgetown, 24—San Marcos at Fredericksburg, Gonzales at Lockhart, 25—Breunam at Navasota, Bellville at La Orange, 26—Humble at LaPorte, 27—Humble at LaPorte, 28—Humble at LaPorte, 29—Humble at LaPorte, 30—Humble at LaPorte, 31—No games (schedule finished), 32—No games (schedule finished).

Stanton Hosts Denver City

Denver City has clinched District 4-A championship laurels and the right to compete in bi-district play against Abernathy, the 3-A king pin.

The Mustangs, who lost two early season practice games, still must meet Stanton this week but is favored to win that one handily. Sunday could be the game for the crown but the Cayuses have already beaten Stanton.

Denver City visits Stanton Friday night. The Buffaloes, hampered by injuries all season, are winless in conference play but copped four practice games.

Only other district activity this week pits Sunday against Seagraves in Seagraves.

Share Duties In Backfield

When Doyle Maynard (right) suffered a leg injury in practice recently, his place in the Big Spring Steer lineup was taken by Ted Scott (left). Both are due to see lots of action at a halfback spot against Snyder here this week end.

SAYS COLEMAN

Tigers No Easy Mark For Herd

Snyder will have the better record when it takes the field against Big Spring here Friday night but the Steers figure to pick up the win and insure themselves a fourth place finish, at least, in District 1-AAA standings.

Last year, the Longhorns wound up in the 1-AAA cellar, with a 1-4 won-lost record. A win over Snyder would be their second in league play against two losses.

Snyder has won three games this year, Big Spring only two. However, Big Spring has shown the more potential against stronger competition.

Coach Carl Coleman has told his Big Spring charges they cannot afford to take the Snyder game for granted and must guard against a letdown.

The Tigers own victories over Jefferson of El Paso, Bowie of El Paso and Cisco, while losing to North Side (Fort Worth), Levelland, Vernon, Lamesa and Sweetwater. Bowie later beat Ysleta.

which holds a win over Big Spring. Big Spring will outweigh the Tigers considerably. Curtis Tate, right tackle, is the beefiest man in the Snyder forward wall. He weighs 187. Center Robert Hagin comes in at 173, as does Left Tackle Perry Smith.

Alan Snead directs the Snyder attack. Helping him with the backfield chores are Joe Davis, Dan Burns and Jackie Grimmitt.

The Steers, who came out of the Vernon game in good shape, play their final two games at home. They wind up against Sweetwater here Thanksgiving Day.

It'll be like "old home week" for three of the Snyder coaches. Three of them are former Big Spring residents. They are: Head Coach Speedy Moffett and Assistants Hal Battle and Horace Bostick.

Moffett coached here in the early '30's. Battle and Bostick starred with the local team more than a decade ago.

Snyder Tigers Still Rated Above Steers By System

Snyder is still rated above Big Spring in the Williamson Features Syndicate, Inc., football ratings, released today. The two teams play Friday night in Steer Stadium.

Snyder is ranked 44th in the poll, Big Spring 45th. Lamesa is ranked first in District 1-AAA and 11th in the state by the system. Vernon is 21st, Sweetwater 23rd and Plainview 49th.

Football Bad Game Says Red Paper

MOSCOW, Nov. 18 (AP)—The newspaper Soviet Sports indicated today that American "futbol" is a rough, bad game that cripples players both physically and spiritually.

The Russians previously described "futbol" as a "beasty battle, a bloody fight with mayhem and murder."

"It were as if American 'futbol' had been created for inciting beastly instincts both in the audience and in the athletes themselves," the organ of the Soviet Sports committee declared.

"Futbol cripples youths spiritually and physically and therefore it is widely cultivated at stadiums of American universities and colleges."

The story was part of a general article which purported to prove that all American student sports are corrupt and are intended solely to prepare American youths for militarism.

TV Prexy Scores Policy Of NCAA

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (AP)—Is the NCAA program of controlled television a monopoly?

"Yes," says Dr. Allen B. DuMont, president of the DuMont TV network.

"You can't compete with free tickets," is the rebuttal by Asa Bushnell, NCAA TV director.

Dr. DuMont aired his views yesterday at the weekly luncheon of the New York Football Writers Assn.

The Billies are tentatively lined up to compete in a tournament at Courtney Dec. 4-5-6.

Rainfall Varies In South Texas Areas

By The Associated Press

Gusty winds swept rains into South Texas Tuesday, leaving help for crops and livestock scattered behind them.

Within single counties, rain varied from sprinkles to heavy showers. From a number of points in East, North and Central Texas came reports of enough moisture to bring up small grains and fill stock tanks.

The rains developed gradually Monday and became widespread Monday night. Beneficial rains continued to fall lightly in widely separated places Tuesday behind the front that pushed thunderstorms and moisture as far south as Corpus Christi and Alice.

Frost, in Navarro County, had received 3.51 inches of rain up to mid-morning Tuesday. Blooming Grove and Rice received two inches and Corsicana 1.5 inches. But other points in Navarro County got only light showers.

Palestine received 1.55 inches Monday afternoon and night. It was the heaviest rain there since May 23 and was described as of "tremendous value to livestock, cover crops, feed and stock water."

Cloudy, windy weather produced 2.60 inches of rain at Sulphur Springs. Farmers around Sherman, in Grayson County, figured their heavy showers would sprout small grain crops.

As the rain front moved south, 2.8 inches fell at College Station. Heavy rain was falling at Lufkin—in the heart of East Texas' fire-scourged pine forests—and winds whipped up to 35 miles an hour. Corpus Christi had gusts up to 45 miles an hour and Houston had gusts up to 52 miles an hour.

Rain also fell Tuesday at Waco, Dallas, Victoria and Palacios.

Monday night heavy thunder-showers fell at Fort Worth, Dallas, Hillsboro, Grapevine, Alvarado, Cleburne and Greenville. Hall and high winds accompanied the rain here in the Northeast Texas area and overturned five trailer houses in Fort Worth. One woman was hospitalized after she became hysterical.

Rain in varying amounts was reported in Denton and Grayson Counties and in scattered areas over much of the upper portion of the state. Its value to farmlands and cities was yet to be reckoned.

Temperatures plummeted far back of the front. Freezing weather was reported early Tuesday at Marillo, Salt Flat, and El Paso. But other 5:30 a.m. temperatures included Lubbock 33, Wichita Falls 51, Abilene 55, Big Spring 47, Midland 43, Wink 39 and Marfa 37.

The forecast called for widely scattered showers Tuesday in east and south central portions of the state with cooler temperatures.

For the rest of the state, cooler temperatures and partly cloudy to clear skies were predicted.

Meanwhile, welcome rains that rang up to downpours of five inches and more, drenched a wide belt of the winter wheat country.

While Oklahoma and most of Kansas had only a teasing mist, rain extended from Illinois across Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, South Dakota, Colorado, and into New Mexico and Arizona. A little of the rain spilled over into Northern Missouri and parts of Northern Kansas.

Twister Damages Town

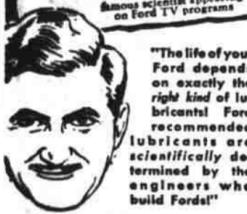

Rubble and twisted debris litter the street before a wrecked carpentry shop and a tavern along the main street of Hopkins, Mo., after a tornado struck the small northwestern Missouri town of 800 population. Two persons were injured. Property damage was heavy. Fire Chief Landon Wallace (left) and Wren Peve, a volunteer, check the damage. Three buildings were destroyed and all 16 stores damaged as the twister swept up the main street of the town. (AP Wirephoto).

Narcotics Case Testimony Is Heard In Court

Testimony was being heard in 118th District Court this morning in the trial of Cruz Sepulveda, who is under indictment alleging possession of narcotics.

Sepulveda was arrested last Jan. 7 by Sheriff J. B. Bruton and Deputy A. C. Abernathy. The indictment alleges that Sepulveda has marijuana in his possession.

It was the eighth case to come to trial since criminal proceedings began in 118th District Court Monday morning, and the second jury trial to be called in two days.

In a jury trial Monday, James Wesley Gibson was found guilty of driving while intoxicated, second offense. His penalty was set at 60 days in jail, plus a $250 fine.

In pleas of guilty before the court Andrew Parker drew two terms of five years each in two cases alleging forgery and passing as true worthless instruments, with the terms to run concurrently; Emile Rousseau and Floyd Mount, drew two, five-year terms each on robbery by assault counts, with terms to run concurrently.

Judge A. Q. Newman of Brownwood is presiding over the court session here this week.

OUT ON $30,000 BOND Man Free In Two Abilene Murders

ABILENE, Nov. 18 (AP)—Fred C. Ohlenbusch, Sweetwater business man, is free on $30,000 bond after being charged with murder in the shotgun slayings of his wife and another man.

Mrs. Martha Ohlenbusch, 41, and James Cecil Hendley, 44, were shot to death Saturday as they sat in a parked car on a country road near here.

The detective, Mrs. Minnie G. Cannon of Fort Worth, reportedly made no statement, nor did her nephew, Ben Bunton, who was driving her car. Previously, they said they had driven their car past one in which Hendley and Mrs. Ohlenbusch was parked on a road south of the Abilene Air Base. They stopped about a quarter of a mile down the road while another car bearing Ohlenbusch, his brother, Henry, and a brother-in-law, Clarence C. Etheridge, pulled along side the parked car.

When they heard a shotgun blast, she said she and Bunton drove down the road a bit, turned around and came back. Then they accompanied the other to a phone to call officers.

When officers arrived there was a shotgun lying across the hood of Hendley's car and a pistol was in it. There was no indication as to whom the pistol belonged.

The window of Hendley's car was blasted on the left side.

Services for Hendley and Mrs. Ohlenbusch were held in Abilene Monday.

Five Killed When Car Driven Into Wyoming River

EVANSTON, Wyo., Nov. 18 (AP)—Three boxers, their manager and trainer, all from Denver, were killed today when they lost their way, took a side road and drove their car into Bear River.

Sheriff Frank Narramore said the vehicle landed upside down in the shallow stream. He said the men were not drowned but, unable to break out of the closed car, died of exposure.

Only one man of six in the car—returning to Denver after performing Monday night in Salt Lake City—survived. He was Jimmy McDonald, listed in fair condition.

Narramore named these as dead:

Joe Levinson, 47, the manager; James Howard Bealer, 44, the trainer, and these fighters: George Harvey, 21; Garfield Sineros, 28, and Freeman Edward Lofton, 21.

Narramore said investigation indicated the accident happened between 1 and 1:30 a.m. (MST). He said that the wrecked car was discovered about 4:30 a.m., when a carload of workmen noticed tracks leading from the road and investigated.

Just Simple And Honest Mistake

SELBY ABBEY, England (AP)—The Rev. John Kent announced in the parish magazine last month that his dog Lassie was going to become a mother and her puppies would go on sale shortly at 2 shillings, 6 pence (35 cents) each.

Today the vicar said it was all a mistake.

"Lassie had us all fooled," he explained. "She is just a well-fed dog."

Mrs. Crawford Dies Here Of A Heart Attack

Mrs. Willie Ora Crawford, resident of Big Spring for 25 years, died of heart attack Tuesday morning while enroute home from a grocery store.

Mrs. Crawford had served for a number of years as a nursery attendant at the First Methodist church until about six months ago. She also had been active for a number of years as a baby sitter and was well known in the community.

She had been to Safeway Store early Tuesday and was enroute to her home at 704 E. 4th, as she came to the Modern Cleaners, 303 E. 3rd, she went inside, told Mrs. R. C. Bennett that she was feeling badly and asked if she could sit down and rest.

In a few minutes, she suddenly slumped. An ambulance was called immediately but she was dead on arrival at the hospital.

Identity was established through the Safeway sales ticket and two checks she had cashed in payment for groceries.

Mrs. Crawford was the widow of R. U. Crawford, who died here in 1949. They came to Big Spring from Tennessee in 1927.

Arrangements are incomplete and the remains are at the Eberley Funeral Home.

Survivors include several nieces and nephews, including Mrs. W. G. Rueckart, Mrs. R. W. Jennings and Mrs. W. R. Loving, Big Spring; Laura Hawk, Dallas; Mrs. J. H. Frederick, Mrs. Evelyn Lee, Corpus Christi; Mrs. Charles Beckham, New York City; Paul Hawk and Jack Hawk, Dallas.

City Commissioners Take Day Off Today

City commissioners are going to take a day off.

They won't meet this afternoon Mayor G. W. Dabney announced this morning. It wasn't a regularly scheduled meeting anyway, although the commission has been convening every Tuesday, "regular meeting day" or not, in the past.

Two commissioners were out of pressing business, said the Mayor.

HIS PREDICTIONS TRUE Oklahoma Druggist Is A Political Seer

By SAUL FELDMAN

PONCA CITY, Okla., Nov. 18 (AP)—Just before the election a Ponca City druggist bought a full page in a newspaper, not to sell his pills but to make a last prediction—that Dwight D. Eisenhower would be elected President.

It calculated a one-man campaign T. J. Cuzalina started back in 1946 in the White House. Dwight that time he predicted (in paid-for newspaper space): Eisenhower would run only if he was convinced he was needed; Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) would support him; Truman would not seek another term in 1952, and that the general would be nominated on the first ballot.

And now that his man is in? "It was a tremendous victory," Cuzalina says. "But now I'm through with politics. I can go back to just selling pills and get politics out of my column. I'm going to leave this country in the good hands of Eisenhower and devote my column to humor."

"The only thing I want out of this election is maybe getting to play a little golf with Ike. After he won I just sent him the same greetings I put in a wire when he was nominated: 'Hot zigzey dog! Congratulations. T. J.'"

From 1946 on, Cuzalina never once let up in his drive. An unwavering faith, plus a phenomenal ability as a self-educated publicity man, resulted in slogan contests on behalf of the general, letters to all the nation's druggists to promote his candidacy, distribution of Ike buttons and a daily column in a local newspaper.

Friends hail the personable, sharp-witted druggist, son of an Italian immigrant family, as the original Eisenhower booster.

Cuzalina's first efforts for Ike came after a group of his cronies were mulling over the problems of the day at his soda fountain and the discussion got around to the man they'd like to see be the next President.

Eisenhower, then still in Europe, was mentioned and the more Cuzalina thought of the general, the better he liked the idea.

"I'll tell you what I'll do," he told the fellows. "I'll plug Ike in my column and we'll order 5,000 Ike buttons just to see what happens."

Dee Donohoe, Ponca City real estate man, agreed to halve the cost of the buttons. They shelled out $82.50 apiece.

And into Cuzalina's daily column, "Just Poppin' Off," which he pays for and uses to discuss the events of the day, went the first of thousands of words on behalf of Ike.

"After a while Donohoe lost interest but I kept up the campaign," Cuzalina recalls.

After Eisenhower eliminated himself in 1948, Cuzalina set about booming the general for 1952. He started working through the nation's druggists, compiling a list of 80,000 names and sending a list of his colleagues urging formation of Eisenhower for President clubs.

He started mailing his column to 300 newspapers and promoted a contest, giving $1,000 for the best slogan.

Mrs. Joe Kanewski of Galveston, Tex., won with "Get right with Ike."

Then came more buttons, more letters and more words in his column about Eisenhower.

He estimates more than 120,000 letters were sent out from his store. His only help was a couple of high school girls working part time. The incoming mail was just as voluminous. He received more than 100,000 letters and thousands of clippings from newspapers and magazines.

Cuzalina won't say how much he's spent on behalf of Eisenhower. But it's all his money. He accepted no contributions.

"I'll tell you one thing though," he said. "I've spent more than $2,700 just for 3-cent stamps."

After the convention, Cuzalina met Ike for the first time.

The druggist took five days off from his work—the first time that he can remember taking a vacation—to play some golf at Denver. The general was there playing a little golf, too.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (AP)—Three more Municipal College teachers have been fired for refusing to answer some questions about alleged Communist affiliations in testimony before a U. S. Senate subcommittee.

The Board of Higher Education dismissed the three last night, bringing to six the total of Municipal College instructors fired as a result of the Senate hearings.

Cool Reception Greets India's Compromise On Prisoner Issue

By OSGOOD CARUTHERS
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—United Nations delegates gave a cool but studious reception today to the long-awaited Indian compromise proposal for settling the Korean prisoner of war deadlock.

Although objections were raised on several points of the draft resolution India handed the U. N. General Assembly yesterday, neither Communist nor non-Communist representatives rejected the proposal outright. Neither side, however, was enthusiastic about it.

The world diplomats marked time in the main Korean debate in the Assembly's Political Committee as they could study the resolution further. Sessions originally scheduled for today were postponed for lack of speakers.

FOUR AIR BASES DUE Greenland Defense Is Being Expanded

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 18 (AP)—The Danish government guardedly announced today that Western defense facilities in strategic Greenland are being expanded.

The announcement gave no details of what the expansion would mean, but reliable government and engineering sources said last night Denmark and the U. S. had agreed on construction of at least four huge new U. S. air bases on the big island across the North Pole from Soviet Russia's arctic doorstep.

Bonner To Take Part In State VIC Meet

Charles Bonner, district president of the Vocational Industrial Clubs, will participate in a state advisory meeting in Austin on Dec. 13.

This report brought statements from a U. S. State Department spokesman, Danish Foreign Minister Ole Bjorn Kraft and Finn Nielsen, acting chief of Denmark's Greenland Department, that they knew nothing about any such agreement.

14 To Lose Posts

DALLAS, Nov. 18 (AP)—Ernest Tutt, National Production Authority regional director, said 14 persons would be dropped from offices in the region by year's end.

Today's statement from the Greenland Department said: "As a result of a mutual Danish-American desire to employ the ability and experience of Danish engineers in the expansion of the defense zones in Greenland, a contract has been concluded with the firm, Danish Arctic Contractor, which is a combine of six individual firms."

US 'Show-How' Can Aid Europe Ag. Production

CHICAGO, Nov. 18 (AP)—Two farm experts said today "stomach Communism" and the economic ailments of Asia can be combated by American agricultural "show-how."

Dr. Truman G. Blocker said the substitute, if it could be found, was to be used in event of atomic disaster. He addressed a conference of pediatricians here yesterday.

McGranery, Hoover Sought To Testify In Weinberg Trial

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—Defense attorneys sought today to question Atty.-Gen. McGranery and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover in their efforts to knock out a perjury indictment against Dr. Joseph W. Weinberg, a scientist who also has been accused of slipping atomic secrets to a Soviet agent.

Harry I. Rand, a defense attorney, said he wants to question McGranery and Hoover about what they know, if anything, about the use of illegal methods, such as wiretapping, to obtain evidence against Weinberg, once known as "Scientist X."

Red Prisoner Dead

TOKYO, Nov. 18 (AP)—A Communist prisoner of war was found dead on Koje Island Sunday, apparently killed by another prisoner in a scuffle fight, the U. S. Army reported today.

Governors Discuss Problem Of Conserving States' Resources

By ERNEST G. FISCHER
NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The Southern Governors Conference turned to conservation of natural resources—water and soil—today after shouting down a proposal to establish a Southern regional education foundation.

Carolina sided with Shivers by declaring he wanted to know who was going to administer those funds. "Power, once it's given, is hard to recover," he said.

Gov. John Battle of Virginia lit the fuse that blasted the foundation when he asked matter-of-factly: "How are the trustees (administrators of the foundation funds) going to be selected?"

IT'S MAN'S OWN FAULT

WACO, Nov. 17 (AP)—A Breckenridge rancher and tavern keeper told police today he was swindled by two men who offered to sell him $10,500 in counterfeit money for $3,000 cash.

The man picked out a police picture of a Navarro County confidence man and said he was one of the swindlers. The rancher said the two men lured him to Waco and talked him out of $3,000, saying they'd return with the phony bills. They didn't, he said.

At the end of the annual joint meeting of the governors and the education board, Gov. Lawrence Wetherby of Kentucky was named chairman for the ensuing year. Middleton was named vice chairman, and Chancellor J. D. Williams of the University of Mississippi, secretary-treasurer.

Peanut Quota To Be Larger During 1953

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—The marketing quota for peanuts grown in 1953 will be about 2 per cent larger than this year's quota, the Agriculture Department announced yesterday.

The 1953 quota was set at 663,000 tons, compared with this year's 650,000 actual production this year has been estimated at about 631,000 tons.

The program seeks to restrict each grower to the sale of peanuts grown on his individual planting allotment. Sales from excess acres would be subject to a penalty tax equivalent to one-half of the government's price support for peanuts.

Section Of Man's Aorta Is Replaced In Rare Operation

HOUSTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—John James Smith, 62, is recovering here today from a rare abdominal operation, probably one of three in all medical history.

tally injured in a traffic crash. Because doctors here do not want to excite him, Smith—a quiet little painter—has not been told of the rarity and danger of the operation. He has a weak heart, and surgeons said they performed the operation only to save his life.

Baptist Against Federal Aid To Church Schools

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—A Baptist official has come out against a Roman Catholic bishops' call for government financial aid to church-supported schools.

The bishops, in a statement issued after their annual meeting last week, deplored what they called efforts to divorce religion from education. They also expressed alarm at what they saw as "efforts to create a monopoly of education for a secularized public school."

Man Is Electrocuted

HOUSTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—Forest H. Forehand, 40, a utility firm lineman, was electrocuted yesterday when he came in contact with a high-voltage line.

Doctors called the operation "always dangerous" and "spectacular." Similar aorta grafts have been successful in the chest, the surgeons said.

Captive Fox

Zerah LeFevre, police radio dispatcher, takes a break to play with the young fox city policemen picked up Sunday night. Patrolmen L. C. Waits and E. W. McCain took the animal into custody when he scratched on the back door of the E. C. Airhart residence, 707 W. 13th, about 9 o'clock last night. They figured it was someone's pet and they were right. The Herald learned, shortly before press-time, that the fox is the pet of Savoy Kay. Kay is off on a deer hunt and is expected to return to Big Spring tonight.

Nehru Uncertain About Banning Discrimination

By SELIG S. HARRISON
NEW DELHI (U) — Prime Minister Nehru cannot decide whether a proposed new anti-discrimination law will help or hinder the cause of India's 60 million still outcast "untouchables."

Technically, they are already touchable. The Indian Constitution rules out all discrimination and lays down special guarantees of political and social equality which run for a decade.

But ancient custom is dying hard in the villages of rural India. As always, an orthodox high caste woman may throw away food handled by an untouchable. Untouchables remain apart, in segregated quarters at the village outskirts, low men socially and economically on the Hindu caste ladder.

Legislation putting teeth into the constitutional guarantees of equality may be introduced in current session of Parliament. If the government Congress party goes ahead with the bill and wins passage over high-caste opposition, acts of discrimination would become statutory punishable offenses for the first time.

However, the Nehru government's own official charged with protecting the rights of untouchables, L. M. Skrikant, opposes such a move. So far the Premier has not taken a personal stand in the behind-the-scenes controversy.

Skrikant, a businessman active in social welfare organizations sponsored by Brahmins and others of high caste for the advancement of the lower castes, advocated financial help for "non official groups working for the uplift of the scheduled castes and for the removal of untouchability."

He also urged greater emphasis on action by state governments, especially in compiling "a record of villages where Harijans are still suffering under social disabilities."

The late Mahatma Gandhi gave untouchables the name Harijans, which literally means "children of God."

Largely through the efforts of the Gandhian group, of high caste Hindus, most states have passed laws prohibiting interference with the use of wells and access to temples and other public places by Harijans. But Skrikant reports that "very few cases have been recorded in the courts of law for breach of the provisions of these acts."

The main reason, he explains, "is that Harijans have no courage to come forward either to draw water from the common wells or to go to public places, since they are generally economically dependent upon non-Harijans."

Economic discontent among the Harijans, who make up most of India's landless agricultural labor, is beginning to find political expression. Communist success in organizing landless untouchables in some areas was mainly responsible for South Indian Red victories in the general elections.

Meets Death In Crash

Some 18 hours following the tragedy, and after heavy traffic on US 80 had all but erased other marks of last Saturday night's collision west of town, the body of this small dog was all that remained to be moved from the scene. The dog belonged to Wanda Sue and Peggy Joyce Donaldson, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Donaldson of Odesa. The entire Donaldson family and Mrs. Donaldson's brother, Gendron Farrell Wallace, were all killed when their pick-up truck collided with another truck five miles west of Big Spring. The little dog, which had recently been acquired by the Donaldson children, presumably was riding in the back of the pick-up, and was thrown off the road and killed.

RABIES HITS ANIMALS

Canadian Province Struck By Epidemic

FORT VERMILION, Alta. (U) — Strange tales of unusual antics by normally-shy wild animals are coming from homesteads and settlements in this area 600 miles north of Edmonton as Alberta Province battles its first epidemic of rabies.

Canadian officials have brought the outbreak among domestic animals under control and a program has been mapped out to eliminate the disease, a highly-infectious one that causes madness and death, among foxes and timber wolves.

Many cases of mad foxes and timber wolves have been reported and at least one case of a wolf attacking humans has been substantiated although there are no reports of anyone having been bitten.

Mrs. L. Gray, of Little Red River, reported that by late August a change was noticed in the character of foxes. They were no longer shy and timid but walked boldly near cabins and settlements. Soon several dogs were bitten and died of rabies.

First signs of rabies were seen among foxes at Fort Chippewyan and Fort Fitzgerald in the north-eastern corner of Alberta. From there it spread up the Peace River to Wood Buffalo Park and westward to the Fort Vermilion area, a sparsely-settled farming region. More than 37 farms were quarantined and almost 1,300 dogs vaccinated. Four men were put under observation after handling or skinning infected animals and a quarantine was placed on all of Alberta lying north of the 57th Parallel forbidding the export of dogs which might carry the disease.

The three worst centers in the epidemic area were High Level, Fort Vermilion and Moose Lake. At High Level two mad foxes were killed with clubs in the settlement's clearing when they attempted to attack humans.

A frightening brush with a mad timber wolf was experienced by Mr. and Mrs. Steve Kowal who farm west of Fort Vermilion. This beast, after biting 12 hogs and a cow, attacked the Kowal home.

The 150-pound animal gnashed at the wood on the entrance and hurled all its weight forward in an attempt to open the door. It took the combined strength of the Kowals' son skinned it. He is under treatment to prevent rabies, several infected hogs have died.

A few miles away another wolf attacked a farmer working on a tractor in the field. The animal chewed tractor tires before disappearing.

OUT OF ANXIETY FOR LOVED ONES

American Dollars Are Going To Hike Satellite Economies

By THOMAS RYAN
NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (U) — Millions of American dollars, flowing from the torment of anxiety for loved ones, are being infused into the economic bloodstreams of Soviet satellite countries in Europe. In return, the United States gets mostly abuse.

A business in millions of dollars is carried on by agencies of Poland, Czechoslovakia and Hungary. At the same time, Communist Czechoslovakia floods the United States with propaganda. Polish Communists, there is reason to believe, put the pressure on Poles with relatives in the U. S. to beg gifts from America. Hungarian Communists encourage the idea that American gifts can be turned into money on the free market. The money realized in this business, which extends from one American coast to the other, is believed to be used in part to finance operations of these Communist governments in the United States, such as upkeep of missions and consulates.

In a swank suite of offices on the 18th floor of 25 Broad Street, in the heart of New York's financial district, a large staff works for the Polish agency Pekao, collecting dollars in return for certificates which are labeled redeemable in Poland for goods.

In the heart of New York's Little Bohemia in the East 70s, Darax, the Czechoslovak agency, carries on the same operation.

On the 14th floor of 300 Fourth Avenue in New York is the office of the American Fuel Trading Company, whose "Hungarian Department" carries out the same operation with regard to Communist Hungary.

Here is what goes on: Poland: From the Polish agency Pekao one can order anything from a food package or textiles to complete materials for building a house, or even cows and pigs. As in the other cases, this is done by buying a certificate from the order. A cow for example, can be ordered for delivery in Poland for $200; a full-grown pig for $32; a ton of cement for $27; bricks, 1,000 units for $50; packets of food, baby carriages, motorcycles, coal or almost anything.

The order is mailed to Poland to be filled there. The purchaser in the United States eventually gets a signed receipt.

There have been persistent reports of begging letters from Poland for such certificates. One Polish source in this country says advertisements appear in the Polish provincial newspapers—inaccessible to Westerners—urging people to write their relatives and friends in America for gift certificates and for such things as wonder drugs.

Apparently many letters come to the United States begging certificates for cement and other building materials. Such things are in short supply in Poland, but in exchange for the dollars poured into the coffers of the Polish agency in the U. S., apparently the Communists are willing to produce.

Certificates for textiles, such as material for an overcoat at $30, are much in demand. The Warsaw press recently announced Polish shops were well supplied with clothing, but the prices indicate the clothes are out of reach of the average Pole. The average Polish industrial worker makes less than 600 zlotys a month, but the cheapest overcoat would cost 650 zlotys. A coat of 100 per cent wool gabardine would cost about 2,000 zlotys.

Czechoslovakia: The operation is called Darex, whose American agent is Centex. The system is similar; Certificates for delivery in Czechoslovakia of anything from food to building materials. The recipient of the certificate buys in Darex stores in a number of Czechoslovak cities, free of rationing, items which otherwise would be unobtainable or out of reach in price.

Hungary: The operation of the Hungarian agency is similar. For certificates sent there the recipient can buy food, liquors, cigarettes, textiles, clothing, watches, radios, bicycles and other items.

The people who send the certificates to these three countries are obviously moved by humanitarian sentiments. But at the same time the three governments reap benefits. Not only does the operation ease economic stresses at home, but it likely helps finance many Communist activities in the U. S., even, possibly, to maintaining the Polish and Czech United Nations staffs.

These agencies have nothing to do with private agencies which send out such things as parcels of old clothing from this country for people abroad. When such a package is delivered in Poland, and probably in the other Communist countries, it is opened in the postoffice. Anything forbidden is confiscated. Much of the old clothing and other items find their way into the open market, bringing high prices.

But the operations of such agencies as Pekao in sending certificates to the Communist countries seem perfectly legal in the absence of open hostilities between the U. S. and the European Communist countries. In the case of China, involved with us in Korea, a blockade has been clamped down, and such an operation would be outside the law.

'Frank' Is Governor Of Tennessee At 32

By JOHN A. HARRIS
 NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Frank G. Clement, a broad-shouldered, ex-trovert Democrat with a firm handshake, at 32 will be the second youngest chief executive in Tennessee history.

"Just call me Frank"—a statement he repeated frequently during the campaign—indicates the informal air which the young attorney brought to volunteer state politics.

One of his associates says this of the governor-elect: "Everytime he rides an elevator he shakes hands with the operator and he never crosses a hotel lobby without shaking hands with all the bellboys."

The tactics paid off in winning a four-way Democratic primary race—which generally means election in Tennessee.

In the general election Clement's majority was greater than the highest total vote ever polled by a candidate in any previous Tennessee election. He defeated Republican R. Beecher Witt.

A World War II veteran and former FBI agent, Clement was born in the Middle Tennessee town of Dickson, June 2, 1920. At 19 he married Lucille Christianson. They have two small children.

Clement has a long record of achievement in civic groups and veterans organizations. In addition to his private law practice, he was for the Tennessee Public Utilities Commission.

On the day after his general election victory, Clement said in a radio speech: "I plan to take a short vacation. Then I'm going home to wait for any little visitor that might happen to drop in."

The visit to which he referred was of a nonpolitical nature. Mrs. Clement was expecting a baby.

Doctors Seek 'Hidden' Cases Of Diabetes

By FRANK CAREY
 Associated Press Science Reporter
 WASHINGTON (AP)—A medical manhunt is on this week—to find more than one million Americans believed to have diabetes without knowing it.

You could be in peril if you actually have the disease and it's left untreated. If you are found your disease can quickly be brought under control with insulin and proper diet, sometimes diet alone.

A small army of doctors and volunteer workers will be on a special hunt for "hidden" diabetics all this week, which is known as Diabetes Week, sponsored by the American Diabetes Association.

Many of them will offer free urine tests for excessive sugar, usually a reliable means of detecting diabetes.

Collection stations, where urine samples can be left, have been set up in many of the 700 counties which have established formal programs. Drugstores, public schools and firehouses have been designated for that purpose in some communities.

The American Diabetes Association (ADA), a nonprofit organization of doctors and laymen especially interested in diabetes detection, treatment and education says that whether the tests are offered without charge is left entirely to local medical authorities.

Medical authorities in 31 of the 48 states have organized state-wide detection and education programs. The ADA estimates about one million diabetics now are under treatment and that another million persons have diabetes without knowing it.

Still another two million Americans at any one time are believed to have a potential for developing the disease sometime during their lives.

People who are overweight are among likely candidates—especially if there's a history of diabetes in the family. Excessive thirst, frequent urination and excessive hunger are among danger signals.

Time Savers Spell Rewards
 Wilburn J. Shaw (left) and J. L. Goddard (right), two civilian maintenance employees at Webb, were rewarded to the tune of $275 for submitting a time saving device in performance of their duties. The invention has been placed into use on the base. Shaw receives reward from Col Ernest F. Wackwitz (center), base commander.

Magic Of Fire Is Shown To Airmen

Fire can be man's most wonderful servant or worst enemy.

This was demonstrated many times over as Paul Witt, health and safety engineer for the Department of Interior, Bureau of Mines, explained the "Magic of Fire" to Webb Air Force Base personnel and Corden Petroleum Corporation officials at the Academic Building Auditorium recently.

The lecture, arranged by Ground Safety, was held in conjunction with "Operation USAFe," an AF three-month drive which has for its goal to eradicate as many safety hazards as possible.

Witt, who works from the Dallas regional office, displayed a lively variety of pyrotechnics (it would have done justice to the Fourth of July) from his portable fire laboratory in reproducing on a small scale fires and explosions that have taken countless numbers in lives.

Accenting safety precautions necessary in the handling of flammable liquids and vapors products used extensively at all air bases, Witt explained and demonstrated the why and wherefore of fires and explosions.

He took the "magic" from fire in outlining its origin, usually traceable to the carelessness of an individual or individuals.

No one could have possibly slept through Witt's one and one-half hour-long lecture. Small-scale fire reproductions were frequently punctuated by explosions.

He pointed out the extreme danger in becoming lax with flammable liquids and vapors—and why so. His own laboratory-manufactured sound effects were produced with a minimum of supplies.

With one drop of gas (vaporized) he came up with explosions that would have set many jumbo firecrackers to shame.

A safety engineer at Sheppard AFB during World War II, Witt is very familiar with fire hazards confronted at an air base. And he covered them all.

All phases—preventive measures, sources of different types of fires, and the smuffing out and controlling of fires—were explained.

It took no less than nine suitcases of equipment to explain and display the various points of the talk.

More than 275 refueling service, refueling maintenance and aircraft maintenance specialists attended the lecture in addition to the Corden officials.

and Goddard is engine shop foreman. They paid $32.80 for the actual amount of material and made the tool in the Webb shops. "We figured up about 16 man-hours of work went into the whole project," said Shaw.

As a result, the two men will receive bonuses from all bases that utilize the new idea. A set of plans has already been flown to Craig Air Base at Selma, Ala., upon Craig's request. "There's a good chance that all bases in the Air Training Command handling J-33 engines will use the new tool," said Donald H. Hines, shop superintendent at Webb.

Said inventor Shaw smiling, "It sure makes for a nice Christmas."

FOR TIME-SAVING IDEA 2 Webb Employees Get Cash Awards

An ingenious idea for a time-saving aircraft tool has brought cash awards totalling $275 to two Webb Air Force Base civilian maintenance employees.

The inventors, Wilburn J. Shaw and J. L. Goddard, both of Star Route in Coahoma, also hold the distinction of being the first men to have their suggestions utilized by Webb. As a result, they received the top bonus that Webb pays for suggestions.

The tool is a generator seal remover for jet engines of the F-50 and T-33 class. Because the generator seal was a restricted piece of equipment, due to its technical intricacies, the generators previously were shipped all the way back to Middletown, Pa., for repairs. This had cost Webb $80,000 a year in shipping and handling expenses.

Shaw and Goddard wrote to the Flying Training Air Force Headquarters to see if something could be done. But FlyTaf replied that since the generator was highly technical they recommended a special tool. So, taking the hint, the pair drew up the plans and set to work.

Youth Vows To Keep Children Together After Parents Die

SEATTLE (AP)—A young Navy recruit vowed today he'd see that his newly orphaned seven brothers and sisters stayed together.

The 17-year-old sailor, Robert Byron, returned home yesterday on special leave from his Navy station at San Diego, Calif. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Halldor A. Byron, were struck and killed by an automobile early Sunday.

Before his arrival, a sister, Beverly, 16, was the nominal head of the family, which includes five boys and three girls.

Robert, the eldest son, said he planned to make the Navy a career "to be sure of being able to help out financially."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. John Taber, New York Republican, said today "there are stories going around" that government files are being burned in the closing weeks of the Democratic administration.

Sister-In-Law Of Comedian Seeking To Be Separated

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Babe Blum, Jack Benny's sister-in-law, often the object of his jokes, has sued her husband, Myrt, for separate maintenance. She alleges mental cruelty.

Mrs. Blum, 47, sister of Mary Livingstone, Benny's wife, asked for half the community property, which she values at $300,000, and $2,000 monthly support pending trial of the suit.

The court yesterday ordered Blum, 62, to appear in court Friday to show cause why he should not contribute the support. The couple married 12 years ago. Blum's lawyer said he intends to file a cross-complaint for divorce, also charging mental cruelty.

Six Are Held On Narcotics Counts

NEW YORK (AP)—Six persons were held on narcotics charges today after dawn-to-dusk raids in East Harlem which federal agents and city detectives said led to seizure of 1 1/2 million dollars worth of heroin.

The raiding officers said the racket raided here had branched to Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit and Cincinnati. No details on the out-of-town connections were given by authorities.

Ike Resigns Post As Columbia President

NEW YORK (AP)—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower has resigned as president of Columbia University, effective the day before his inauguration Jan. 20.

The university announced yesterday that Eisenhower in a letter dated Nov. 15 submitted his resignation both as president and "an active trustee."

The general assumed the presidency of Columbia on June 7, 1948. He has been on leave without pay since February, 1951. He originally took the leave to serve as supreme commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces.

Bomb Plan Goes Awry As 5 Persons Killed

TUNIS, Nov. 18 (AP)—Five Tunisians were killed today by premature blasts of bombs they had apparently planned to set off. Their deaths caused additional tension in this French North African protectorate.

Authorities ordered a dusk to dawn curfew in Gabes, where terrorists sprayed a military convoy and barracks with automatic weapons, killing four French soldiers and wounding 20.

Tunisian nationalists are demanding independence.

Yank Missionary Is Out Of Red China

HONG KONG, Nov. 18 (AP)—Francis Olin Stockwell, an American Methodist missionary in China 23 years, reached here today after expulsion from Red China.

He said he had spent 23 months in jail, 14 of them in solitary confinement, and was released after nine months of "brain washing."

Stockwell, pastor of Methodist churches in Lamont and Dewey, Okla., before going to China, said he was never manhandled. He said he "confessed to everything they accused me of."

Super Welcome Is Planned Again For Ike By Koreans

By BILL SHINN
 PUSAN, Korea (AP)—The South Korean government has reversed signals once again and is planning a super-doooper welcome for President-elect Dwight Eisenhower, whose proposed visit to this war zone is supposed to be shrouded in utmost secrecy.

A 15-man committee headed by acting Prime Minister Paik Toon is making plans for the show. The committee is composed of members of the executive, legislative and judicial branches and four patriotic organizations.

The government will foot the bill for flower carts, posters, banners, arches and the full regalia of a Korean reception.

A government spokesman earlier had promised the biggest spectacle in Seoul's long history. A special Cabinet meeting was called for the formation of the committee.

The government said previously that it might call off its original plan to give a big public reception for Eisenhower for "security reasons." But the light is green again.

Special precautionary measures to insure security for Eisenhower have been set up by the Army and police.

Local government authorities throughout South Korea will hold welcoming rallies for Eisenhower regardless of his appearance in the area, a government spokesman said.

It Matters Little, The Fine Is Same

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The penalty for a giant in police court yesterday was the same as for normal-sized men who get drunk and disorderly.

Max Palmer, 25, who towers 8 feet, 4 inches, paid the $15 fine after pleading guilty to the charge.

Palmer, advance agent for a Hollywood band, was arrested earlier in the day by a group of normal-sized cops.

The officers had to sort of fold Palmer into the paddy wagon. They also had to bend him a couple of feet to get him into and out of the cell in which he was locked up for several hours.

Navy Seeks Okay For Promotions

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy has informed Congress that about 4,000 officers will be denied earned promotions and some 2,000 others may be "busted" in rank unless Congress does something in a hurry.

The action will be required, the Navy contends, under an amendment to the Defense Appropriation Act which limits the number of officers in all services who may be paid in each grade.

The measure, passed earlier this year, was sponsored by Rep. Davis (R-Wis.), who said it was designed to keep the military from becoming "brass-heavy."

17 Guardsmen Are Promoted In Local Unit

Seventeen members of the Big Spring National Guard unit have received promotions, Capt. T. A. Harris, commanding officer, announced today.

Three men were elevated to the rank of sergeant first class, seven were promoted to sergeant, and seven received their corporal's chevrons.

The local unit, Battery B of the 132nd Field Artillery Battalion, 36th Infantry Division, also passed its annual Fourth Army inventory, Capt. Harris reported. No shortages were found in any department. Inventory record of the battery was rated with the best in the Texas National Guard.

Promoted to sergeant first class were Donald Barber, Raymond Bedford and James E. Brooks. Receiving the rank of sergeant were Johnny M. Allison, Billy Jack Johnston, Joe A. Lopez, Robert J. Mask, James W. McClendon, Weston B. Mitchell, and Milton L. Nanny.

New corporals in the battery are D. W. Day, Paul Fortenberry, Andrew Gamba, Truitt O. James, Hugh E. Merworth, Maxie L. Robinson, and Charles W. Stacey.

M-Sgt. Jessie B. Wood, caretaker for the battery, is now serving as first sergeant, following the discharge of John N. Scheulke who formerly held that post. Full-time administrative officer for the unit is W-O Billie L. Eggleston.

The Guard battery, which meets once a week for drill and training, is using the new Howard County Fair buildings on the rodeo grounds as an armory.

Best Sermons Of Dr. Quillian Are Published In Book

Fourteen of the best sermons by the late Dr. Paul Quillian for many years pastor of Houston's First Methodist Church, have been put under one cover, "Not a Sparrow Falls."

The book ($2) was released Monday by Abingdon-Cokesbury Press. During Dr. Quillian's lifetime he was too absorbed in his ministry to take time to sift and edit favorite sermons for publication. Fortunately a number of them were recorded as he preached. Fourteen of the best have been included in the book.

"In reading these sermons, one can feel the heart of Paul Quillian reaching out beyond the pulpit to those who were listening, saying, 'Little Flock'... The thousands of us who knew and loved him will see his face again and feel his spirit on every page." So says W. Kenneth Pope, his successor at First Methodist Church.

The messages in "Not a Sparrow Falls" deal with the importance and the responsibility of the individual, a favorite theme of the author. Dr. Quillian is affectionately remembered for his ability to speak intimately from the pulpit to every member of his congregation — the largest in Methodism. This gift is apparent in his book where every reader will feel the author's genuine concern for him as an individual, according to those who have read it.

Sausage Imports Require Licenses In Great Britain

LONDON (U-P) — The best tasting sausages Britain can remember in years were just too good to last.

The Food Ministry discovered that high quality meat was brought in from New Zealand and sold off rations to butchers who gave their sausages 15 per cent more meat content than the government standard.

The ministry felt the private imports—spurred by demand for the better-tasting sausages—would increase so much it would interfere with the government's bulk purchases of meat, the country's chief source of supply. So the ministry clamped licenses on the imports.

Fireman Jahn And The Canopy Release

The publicity-shy fireman, an airman at Webb AFB, "blew" the canopy off a burning jet plane and dragged an unconscious cadet to safety. Jahn had not told authorities of his unselfish act, and the fact was not generally known for three days. (Air Force Photo).

FROM BURNING JET PLANE

Story Finally Comes Out How Webb Fireman Saved A Cadet

A fireman whose modesty completely over-shadowed his courage, an injured and unconscious aviation cadet, and a flaming jet plane added up to a story of considerable heroism at Webb Air Force Base.

But no one would even have heard the whole tale if it had been left to the publicity-shy fireman, A-2c Glen R. Jahn, a "cow-chief" on one of Webb's crash trucks.

Preliminary reports indicated that a T-33 jet plane piloted by Aviation Cadet Folmer Cristoffersen, a native of Denmark, had made a crash landing on the runway at Webb last Thursday. The plane's landing wheels buckled, the ship slewed off the runway and caught fire.

Cadet Cristoffersen, who had received a hard blow on the head, could not remember just how he got out of the burning plane, but investigators at first thought he managed the job without aid—before the crash truck arrived.

Over the week end, the true story came out. When the jet plane crash-landed, the mobile control tower on the runway notified the crash crew. Airman Jahn and his crash crew jumped aboard their truck and tore across the field to the burning plane.

They found the whole underside of the ship ablaze and part of the right wing burning, with fire just beginning in the cockpit. Cadet Cristoffersen sat slumped in the pilot's seat, completely unconscious.

Jahn directed his men to lay down a path of foamite fire extinguisher, from the end of the burning right wing direct to the cockpit.

Then, with complete disregard for his own safety, Jahn ran through the narrow path, with flames on both sides, to the plane's cockpit. He tried to release the cockpit canopy electrically, but nothing happened.

But there is also a second safety release for the canopy—an emergency ball-out mechanism that utilizes gunpowder to actually blow the canopy free of the plane. It can be worked from inside or outside the cockpit.

Jahn calmly released the emergency actuator and "blew" the canopy off.

Cristoffersen was still slumped unconscious in the plane and the flames were growing every second. The fire ate unbacked the cadet from his safety harness and shook him. Cristoffersen stiffened slightly, making it easier for Jahn to drag him bodily over the side of the cockpit.

Jahn struggled mightily in his effort to free the injured cadet, slowly getting him through the pathway still kept free of flames by the other firemen using the foamite spray. Just as the pair began to get clear of the blaze, Cristoffersen regained consciousness.

At that moment—just seconds after the crash—the investigating officers arrived to find the cadet standing dazedly by the plane, now burning more fiercely than ever. Jahn returned to fight the fire.

and the investigators made their report. They asked Cristoffersen how he got out of the plane, but he couldn't remember. Jahn, busy putting out the fire, did not hear the question, so it was assumed that the dazed cadet accomplished the feat by himself.

Asked why he hadn't reported his extraordinarily brave rescue, Jahn said: "There wasn't really anything to report. It was just a regular job-in the line of duty." The young fireman has been in the Air Force just 13 months, and has been a fireman only since March.

He had just been released late this summer from 78 days in the Webb base hospital, recovering from a seriously burned hand suffered during another fire-fight.

Webb AFB Fire Chief Peter J. Perring said, "Airman Jahn exhibited a high degree of personal bravery and initiative in his rescue

'Poor' Farouk Lives On $3 Million Yearly

By L. S. CHAKALES

CAIRO (U-P)—It depends on how you look at it.

One way, you can take ex-King Farouk's word for it that he is a "relatively poor man." He has suffered a drastic cut in wages and standard of living.

For instance, at Capri he restricted himself to $400-a-day lodgings. The last year he occupied the Egyptian throne he had an income of more than $113,000 a week—just from the state and one reported holding of arable land. He had four major palaces and a half-dozen others scattered around the country.

At Capri he spent $400 a day. In Egypt, his minimum income was $16,000 a day.

The hidden story of the fabulous wealth and income of the playboy-monarch is slowly being pieced together.

El Sayed Ahmed Khasaba, one of the two custodians of the ex-king's property, has disclosed that part of Farouk's personal holdings included 12,000 acres of the most fertile soil in the Nile Valley. This did not include what is scattered around under concealed names and owned by various members of the royal household.

These particular 12,000 acres have been estimated to be worth $17,230,000. The annual income for Farouk from these lush acres was $2,132,000.

He got another $3,731,000 from the Egyptian state last year to run the royal household.

Just from these two sources alone, Farouk had an annual income of nearly six million dollars a year. He had other resources, of course, including his secret holdings abroad. These have been estimated at between 40 million and 60 million dollars in cash and securities on foreign banks.

When the whole story of the vast Farouk economic structure is placed together there is virtually no chance that Farouk will ever get a penny out of Egypt. There has been a public clamor for confiscation of his properties. Already his four major palaces have been put directly under the control of the government.

All of which makes him a "relatively poor man." His income has been slashed from a minimum of 10 million dollars a year to whatever he can eke out of the investments abroad.

That's roughly three million dollars a year.

Now—the car of the year — the deal of the year!

And we're ready to back up that headline with appetizing facts and generous figures. For example, "the car of the year" is more than a glib phrase, it's a title that Mercury has earned by doing—by making news.

Mercury is the one car in its class that came up with something really new for 1952—styling so new it left other cars far behind... lines so sleek and fresh that they eliminate the worry about buying a new car that may soon look out of date. And, if that weren't enough, Mercury (with optional overdrive) again proved that pound for pound it could beat all comers for economy in the nationally famous Mobilgas Economy Run.

But, we know, you're equally interested in "how much" for your present car. We can give you some idea if you just pick up the phone and call us. But we can do even better if you give us a chance to appraise it firsthand—so we can allow for the extras and the care you've given it.

So drop around. You couldn't pick a better time to buy a new car than right now, or a better car to buy than Mercury. Our deals are now the best of the year. That means tops in town.

Standard equipment, accessories, and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice. White side-wall tires and full-disc hubcaps of extra cost.

Income Tax Forms Are In Mails

During the just ended presidential campaign there was a lot of talk about taxes and this week Postmaster Nat Shick and his helpers are passing out reminders that it wasn't all just talk. The forms for preparing 1952 income tax returns are in the mails. Several mail sacks filled with them have reached the Big Spring Post-office and more are expected. For those who reported incomes for 1951 and whose report can't be made with a simple employee's withholding receipt, a collection of the needed forms is being mailed flat, and not folded in an envelope as before. Now they're coming flat inside a pamphlet titled "These Are Your Income Tax Forms For 1952 And Helpful Information On How To Prepare Your U. S. Income Tax Return On Form 1040." The pamphlet is of 12 pages and approximately 8 1/2 x 11 inches in size. It was designed to be sold by the Government Printing Office at 25 cents a copy, according to a note on the cover.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Dr. You Chan Yang, Republic of Korea ambassador to the United States, says the only course left in Korea is to win the war on the battlefield. "Complete victory means no less than chasing the Communists completely out of Korea, to the Yalu River, and unification of the country," he told a news conference yesterday.

Grange Recommends Trio For Ag. Post

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—The National Grange at its annual meeting yesterday recommended three Republican farm leaders for the post of secretary of agriculture in President-elect Eisenhower's Cabinet. The men are John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State College, East Lansing, Mich.; Clifford R. Hope, Republican congressman from Kansas, and John H. Davis, general manager of the National Wool Growers Marketing Association.

Riding THE GRUB LINE With Franklin Reynolds

More than 2,700 copies of J. Evetts Haley's "Fort Concho and The Texas Frontier" have already been sold and it is expected that the book will be out of print by Christmas. If a second printing will be made that fact has not been announced.

Book stores all over Texas are reporting very high sales and for the West Texas area it has become a regional non-fiction best seller. Four thousand copies were originally printed and Christmas buying is expected to clear the book store shelves.

The pink bollworm, potentially the most destructive of all cotton insects, has shown a tremendous increase in the San Angelo area this year and in its gradual northward migration.

Trash from one bale of cotton ginned near Wall produced 12,110 worms and another showed 21,208 worms. Operators of the gin trash machine designed to facilitate the count of these worms say the worms actually found in the trash represent only a small percentage of the worms that are actually in the cotton. G. E. Orr of Lamesa, representing the Division of Pink Bollworm Control, says there isn't a field in Tom Green County, either irrigated or dryland, that isn't infested. He describes the increase of these insects as "alarming."

Champion Shorthorn yearling steers over all breeds in seven out of eight shows is the enviable record of Joseph Winkler of Castle Rock, Colorado, at the Chicago Federer Show this year, which is the world's largest feeder competition. Winkler's fleshy 725-pound steers topped the show at the Chicago Stock Yards, where 532 car loads of cattle were shown. The Winkler yearlings were sold at $40.00 to the 4-H Club at Ashley, Michigan.

Shorthorn calves in the sale averaged $33.90 which was one dollar above the average for all breeds.

Shorthorn cattle had their first national show on the West Coast this year at the Grand National Livestock Exposition in San Francisco's Cow Palace.

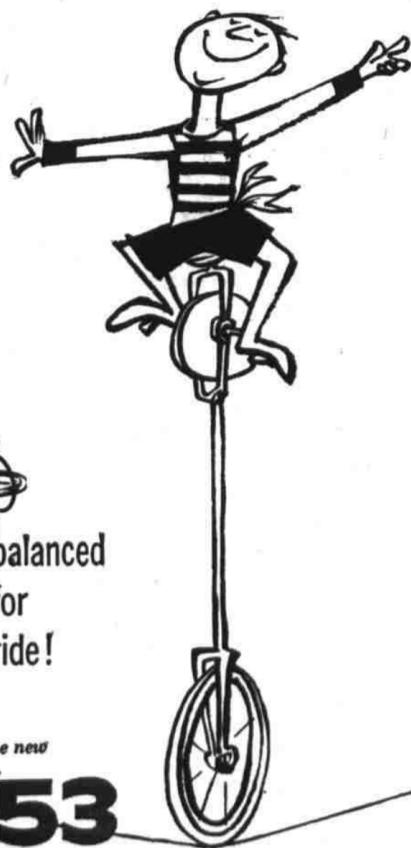

Fifty-five registered Shorthorn bulls were sold there and it is significant that a majority of these went to commercial herds of other breeds. It would appear that the trend to Shorthorns in the West is on the increase, although Herefords are in first place with Aberdeen-Angus coming next.

Seventy-six Shorthorn range bulls, completing a 125-day grass-on-grain feeding program under a actual range conditions, sold at auction at Idaho Falls, Idaho at a straight $500 per head average. They made up the Shorthorn National Range Bull Project for 1952.

Buyers saw the bulls in range condition and not in any way especially fitted for the show and sale. The top gaining bull had added 2.98 pounds daily. A Polled Shorthorn was second place weight gainer with 2.84 average pounds. The average daily gain for all bulls in this range-conditioning program was 1.80 pounds.

The highest prices paid for Shorthorn breeding cattle in this generation were recorded at an auction at Mason City, Illinois, this month. This new record average for the breed was made for 50 lots selling for an average of $3,020 to bring $151,475. Twenty bulls averaged $3,638 and an average of $2,624 was made for the 30 females. The top bull sold for $19,500 and the top female went on a $5,000 bid.
