The street paving has been somewhat delayed owing the recent wet weather.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Heare, of the Santa Fe station, are enjoying the comforts of their new home in North Tahoka, which has recently been completed, and is one among the most modern in the city.

W. D. Nevels and daughter Miss Ruth, made a trip to Lubbock Sunday. Mr. Nevels went to the sanitarium to have his eye examined, which member was injured some few weeks ago while Mr. Nevels was hawking some cattle on his ranch west of town.

C. L. Roqumore, manager of the Planters Gin Co., in Tahoka, was a business visitor to Sweetwater one day the past week.

J. J. Cunningham, representing the Linograph Company of Davenport, Iowa, was a caller at this office one day the past week.

At the close of the morning service Sunday, the Baptist denomination of Tahoka unanimously voted to begin their revival meeting at the church the first Sunday in June of this year. The meeting will be held by the pastor, Rev. J. M. Doshier.

It is probably that another meeting will be held during the late summer.

IT IS THE AMBITION OF MOST PEOPLE TO BE "INDEPENDENT." THERE IS NO BETTER WAY TO INSURE THE ACHIEVEMENT OF THIS AMBITION THAN TO SAVE MONEY—DOLLAR BY DOLLAR, DAY BY DAY, WEEK BY WEEK, MONTH BY MONTH, YEAR BY YEAR—PERSISTENTLY AND CONSISTENTLY BUILDING A STEADILY GROWING "INDEPENDENCE FUND."

He served his senatorial district as Senator from 1910 to 1918, at which time he was elected Lieutenant Governor, serving his two years term, ending in 1920. He was a member of the board of regents of the University of Texas prior to his election as State Senator. Johnson has been a resident of Memphis for 32 years and editor of the Hall County Herald.

He was an elder of the Presbyterian church.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Applewhite, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Tate, visited with S. I. Kemp and family at Post, Sunday.

New Piano for Auditorium

A new Star piano adorns the stage of the new school auditorium. The new instrument takes the place of the old piano, and Miss Lola Donaldson, teacher of music in the Tahoka schools deserves much credit in taking the leadership and making possible the purchasing of the new piano. A free will contribution, the sale of red tags and various other means of raising funds has partly paid for the piano. Those who have not contributed toward this fund, and wish to do so, can hand same to Miss Donaldson. You will be helping a good cause.

Miss Jewel Doak of O'Donnell is a visitor in the city this week.

Miss Lena Doak of Loop, is the guest of her brother, Ray Doak and uncle, I. S. Doak in Tahoka.

W. L. Knight is constructing a new residence in north Tahoka.

The Baptist Church, of Tahoka, will pave in front of the church property on Porterfield street.

Mrs. O. I. Luellen and son came in Tuesday from Stamford, where she had been visiting her mother. Mr. and Mrs. Luellen have moved to Tahoka from Wichita Falls. Mr. Luellen will be with the City Pressing Parlor.

TAHOKA WINS ONE; LOSES ONE TO SNYDER

Tuesday and Wednesday of this week Tahoka citizens had the privilege of witnessing two real baseball games, when the salaried team from Snyder, Texas came here with one of the fastest teams ever visiting this city. Tahoka lost the first game to the visitors 7 to 0, but turned the tables and won the second by the close score of 3 to 2, starting a battling rally in the seventh frame with the score standing 2 to 0 in Snyder's favor, Tahoka took the game with a land slide, scoring the three runs with clean hits.

Black of Seagraves, started the game Tuesday, but was relieved by Larkin in the fifth, who pitched air-tight ball. Snyder's pitcher in the first game was a professional and we learn played with the league team in Amarillo last year, and went from this place to join the Clovis, N. M., league team Wednesday morning.

(Skip) Taylor, was on the mound for Tahoka the second day, and was successful in holding the Snyderites down to a few scattered hits. Taylor still possesses the real stuff that keeps the best of batters guessing. He is a regular member of the Tahoka club, playing with the team last season.

The games with Snyder were well attended and thoroughly enjoyed and it is hoped that Manager Doak will bring many more teams here of the same class as the Snyder boys during the playing season.

Snyder went to Lamesa Thursday for a two-game series.

The local club will journey to Slaton Sunday for a game with that club in the afternoon.

ROSS AND GOOD ARE REFUSED BAIL IN HIGHER COURT

Tom Ross and Milt Good, charged with murder of W. D. Allison and H. L. Roberson at Seminole, April 1st, were denied bail by the Court of Criminal Appeals at Austin last week, and they will be confined in jail at Lubbock until their trial in June.

The higher courts affirmed the ruling of Judge Mullican in refusing the prisoners bond at a hearing in Seminole.

Miss Lizzie Lawrence, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. S. S. Howard, left the latter part of last week for points in California.

E. W. Harrison and family, and Mrs. M. E. Turrentine, of Hereford, spent the week end with Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Turrentine, in Tahoka.

LIGHTNING STRIKES RESIDENCE OF ROY POER

During the electrical storm Sunday night, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Poer, east of Tahoka, was struck by a bolt of lightning, striking the top of the house and running down the stove pipe, across to the bed post and railings and out through the wall of the room.

Mr. and Mrs. Poer had just retired for the night. Fortunately no one was injured. Mr. Poer was in town Monday and related the exciting experience with the lightning Sunday evening. It made quite a hole in the house and melted the rims of the stove pipe; also turned the bed posts and railings a brown color.

Archie Harris, one of Lubbock's prominent business men, spent a few hours in Tahoka Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Quincy Haney, of the Palm Cafe, this city, paid a visit with relatives and friends in Slaton Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Albert Curry, formerly an employe of the News, has accepted a position with the newspaper at Littlefield, and left for that point yesterday.

Mrs. J. J. Hamilton and little daughter, Virginia Nell, of Henryetta, Okla., and Miss Sue Cobb, of Dallas, arrived Sunday morning to be at the bedside of their sister, Miss Jimmie 'Cile Cobb, who is very ill at her home near Tahoka.

Mrs. E. N. Weathers left on the Wednesday morning train for Celeste to spend some two months visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Henry Perkins. Mrs. Weathers had the news to follow her that she might keep in touch with the happenings in Lynn county during her stay in Celeste.

Dr. L. W. Kitchen, veterinary surgeon, of Post City, was over on a professional visit Wednesday of this week. Dr. Kitchen reported everything in a flourishing condition in the Post country.

The trustee election held Saturday in Tahoka Independent School District, No. 2, passed off very quietly, but very little interest being demonstrated. Only thirty-five votes were polled, G. E. Lockhart receiving 32 votes, R. C. Wood, 31; W. M. Lee, 32; H. E. Baldrige, 31; whose names were printed on the ballots with four to elect. Names written on the ballot were, Joe Bovell, 1; John Evans, 2; J. D. Donaldson, 1; Bill Nevels 1.

H. E. Baldrige was elected to fill the vacancy of S. E. Reid, who has so efficiently discharged his duty the past two years. G. E. Lockhart, R. C. Wood and W. M. Lee were re-elected.

ANCHOR FILLING STATION BEING ENLARGED

H. B. Howell, owner of Howell's Garage and the Anchor Filling Station, is making some extensive improvements by enlarging the station building. The addition is being built of brick. When completed Mr. Howell will move his entire stock of tires and accessories to the Anchor Filling Station.

LUBBOCK AVALANCHE BURNED SUNDAY

O'DONNELL, WILSON AND TAHOKA WILL HAVE YOUNG LADY SPONSORS

Four Buildings Destroyed Entailing a Loss of $75,000.00

About 100 West Texas cities will be represented at the Pageant of Progress to be held in San Angelo, May 21, 22 and 23, in connection with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce annual convention.

Lynn county will be represented with three lady sponsors from as many towns. O'Donnell will send Miss Lois Pugh. Wilson will send Miss Clara May, and Tahoka will be represented by Miss Gladys Lee.

The News ventures to say that not another county in West Texas will have any more, if as many lady sponsors as Lynn. It is hoped that a large representation will attend from O'Donnell, Wilson and Tahoka, as well as all over the county. Let's put our county and towns on the map at San Angelo, May 21, 22 and 23.

Lamesa will be represented by Miss Jessie Harris; Post, Miss May Weakley; Slaton, Miss Margaret Whittaker; Lubbock, Miss Mable Ricker.

Miss Kara Belle Glass, of New Boston, Texas, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Tull Adams of this city.

Postmaster Ben Moore, of O'Donnell, was in Tahoka a short while Saturday afternoon on his return home from Slaton, where he was a delegate to the Methodist Quarterly Conference. Mr. Moore stated to the News that he cast his vote for Tahoka for the next meeting of the conference, but since Idalou was stronger represented, they were successful in getting it.

IDALOU NEXT MEETING PLACE OF METHODIST

The town of Idalou was chosen as the next meeting place for the Quarterly District Conference at the conference held in Slaton Friday and Saturday of last week. Tahoka was a strong applicant for the next conference, but was out numbered in the number of delegates by Idalou and other towns in that community. Tahoka voted 20 points, Post City 10, whereas Idalou received 30 votes.

The local Chamber of Commerce and the board of stewards in the M. E. church had extended special invitation for the conference to convene here. It is said that Idalou had never had the pleasure of entertaining the conference, and this fact assisted them in securing the next meeting. Tahoka was the meeting place of the quarterly conference nine years ago, according to statements made by the older members of the church.

Just 20 Seconds a Day and a Milk Scale

It just takes 10 seconds to hang a milk bucket on a scale, record the weight and pour the milk into the can. Twice a day means 20 seconds a day for each cow.

Don't you think that is mighty little effort to use in checking up and finding out whether or not those cows are paying you a profit?

Lots of dairymen who never gave the matter any thought or never actually figured their cost of grain feed per pound of milk are beginning to do so now. The man who is taking chances on profits or future in the dairy business is the one that does not know what his cows are doing.

We will be glad to tell you how you can make a very profitable test on your cows with Cow Chow and how you can obtain a milk scale at manufacturer's cost and free milk record sheets. Just write, call or phone us.

THINK IT OVER

Often the man of ability hasn't nerve enough to sell his ability while some men of limited ability sell their nerve.—By Stansifer.

The News deeply sympathizes with editor Jas. L. Dow, of the Lubbock Avalanche, in the loss of his plant and building by fire Sunday night, entailing a loss of $50,000.00. This is the second fire suffered by the Avalanche in the past four years.

"Buy it in Tahoka" slogan includes the home printing office just as much as carrying out the idea of buying groceries, dry goods, etc. As a rule, the home printer can make you as good or better prices on the general run of printing. If the job is too large for the home printer, it should be placed through the home office anyway, who represent some of the largest and best printing firms in the United States.

And who can say that West Texas will not make the biggest and finest crops in her history this year? Certainly everything points that way, and if the weather man continues to smile on this section, a new production record will be set up. This spring and summer will be busy times for the farmer, and this fall he bids fair to harvest a crop that will satisfy his highest desire.—Abilene Daily Reporter.

Editor Haynes of the Lynn County News is laying it on McDuff lately. He not only toured the intervening country between Tahoka and Amarillo with friend wife to meet the boys at the P. P. A., but before he left home he tied on to a brick building where the News is now located, to be sure that the News would be still "put" when they returned. Haynes is a hustler, and deserves all that is coming his way.—Terry County Herald.

The editor of the Terry County News served notice on his subscribers that he will hereafter accept no more subscriptions for the Dallas Semi-Weekly Farm News since that great (?) metropolitan journal has shown its narrowness by making disparaging remarks in their editorial columns about this section of our great state. The News has noticed on several occasions that the Dallas News does not cater very much to the Panhandle section, in fact they publish articles that is a direct knock on these parts. However, we hardly believe it necessary to "cut out" taking subscriptions to the Farm News. This means we are sure would have no effect on the editorial policy of that paper. We will continue to accept subscriptions for the Semi-Weekly News, for we know they will continue to issue the News regardless of whether or not the Terry County Herald of the Lynn County News do or don't take subscriptions.

O'DONNELL MARINE ON PACIFIC BATTLESHIP

Special to the Lynn County News.
Washington, D. C., May 8.—Cruising about the Pacific and visiting the various ports along the West Coast, Johnnie Warren Carroll, nephew of Mr. William W. Williams of O'Donnell, Lynn County, Texas, is now a member of the U. S. Marine guard on the dreadnaught Seattle, one of the battleships of the Pacific Fleet. His name appears on the list of Marines attached to that vessel.

Johnnie joined the Marines at their recruiting station in Denver, Colo., August 18, 1922, and for several months was stationed at Mare Island, Calif. Later he was assigned to duty on the Seattle, where the Marines are trained to learn certain types of guns and to perform guard duties. Occasionally the marines come ashore for practice marches, or to visit the larger cities on the West Coast when the vessel drops anchor near Los Angeles or San Francisco.

The Seattle was recently reported at San Pedro, Calif., but will probably leave shortly for other ports. No doubt Carroll will have many interesting experiences to recount when he returns home.

The very of young folks spent the evening in sand fights, trips up and down the sand hill and singing.

Just as the moon came peeping over the eastern horizon, a large bon fire was made. "Winnies" and marshmallows were toasted and added to the lovely picnic supper of sandwiches, deviled eggs and cakes.

About eleven o'clock the party came back to town. The affair was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Hood and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Tunnell.

JUNIORS ENTERTAINED

One of the most elegant affairs attended the Senior Class of Tahoka High School was a party given by the Junior Class at the home of Miss Wilma Brashear.

The lower floor was thrown en suite and was aglow with a profusion of cut flowers and pot plants.

Upon their arrival each guest was introduced to the "Watson Family," causing quite a lot of merriment. "Forty-Two" and "Pitch" were the main pastimes of the evening.

A delicious ice course was served consisting of ice cream and assorted cakes.

Music on the Edison was furnished through the evening.

Uncommon Sense . . .

By JOHN BLAKE

SALESMANSHIP

WHETHER you are taking orders for threshing machines or life insurance, or drawing a salary of ten dollars a week, you are a salesman. In the first instance you are selling somebody else's product. In the last you are selling your own.

You will sell threshing machines or life insurance faster if you know something about them, and believe in them.

You will sell your own services for a higher price if you believe in yourself.

If the merchandise you offer is not worth the price you ask for it, you can't be sincere in your efforts to dispose of it.

And if you do not absolutely know that your services are worth more than you are getting for them, you will never be able to get more.

All salesmanship that is worth anything is based on confidence.

You will find it hard work to convince people of anything you do not believe yourself.

Before you make any effort to raise your own salary be sure that it ought to be raised.

Compare yourself with other people doing the same work for the same wages.

If they are better than you are at the job, don't ask for a raise until you have made yourself better than they are.

Your hands or your brains are the commodity you have to dispose of. Make them just as efficient, just as productive as you can.

Discover and eliminate the faults that keep them from doing their best.

Work, study, practice—bring yourself up to a higher point of usefulness.

Then when you begin to talk about getting more money you will have an argument.

Believe in yourself thoroughly and other people will believe in you.

But remember that you cannot sincerely believe in yourself unless you are convinced that you can really produce more than the other men who are doing the same kind of work.

SCHOOL DAYS

From idle slumbers they call youth and point the way to honor and fame; from the valley of gloom they bid the despondent to look up to the glorious heavens; from the mire of sin they lift up the fallen, seeking no reward but the joy that is theirs from doing good.

They sin as we all sin, but unlike most of us, they are charitable towards all mankind, prayerful, watchful, faithful.

When the chiming in the belfry chant their evening hymns, no souls on earth are more serenely peaceful than the

WHAT DIES?

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

WHAT dies? Most certainly the pine
Will never die—descendants brave
Maintain the old majestic line—
The very oak above the grave
Speaks Nature's continuity.
What dies? Not, certainly, the tree.

What dies? The bud, the rose, the seed,
Each has its time and has its turn.
One needs his garden but to read
Of life's eternity to learn.
That every springtime will disclose.
What dies? Not, certainly, the rose.

What dies? The sun will fade, the stars
Come out, and then the stars will fade—
But still the midnight has its Mars,
The day will have its light and shade.

The sun again when night is done.
What dies? Not, certainly, the sun.

What dies? The river finds the sea,
The sea the sky, the sky the hill—
The hill shall give us presently
The river from the mountain fill.
With star and sun again to gleam.
What dies? Not, certainly, the stream.

What dies? Shall only one thing die?
God's mind in human minds expressed?
Shall tree and rose live on, and I
Expire, this spark within my breast?
Is death the end of all the plan?
What dies? Not, certainly, the man!

Falsehoods Blacken House.

Community Building

POINT FOR HOME BUILDERS

"Waste" for Which There is No Necessity, and Which It is Easy to Eliminate.

You have observed homes nearing completion and noted unused lumber lengths, studs, joists, flooring, bricks, short ends strewn "helter skelter" around the house and lot. Those "left overs" usually provide the home owner with kindling wood for several years to come. At $30 per thousand feet this makes mighty expensive fuel. Sometimes this waste amounts to as much as the first year's interest on the home building investment. In nearly all cases this waste is unjustified. If the home is yours, you pay for it.

Another important source of waste is the unnecessary use of elaborate finish and expensive equipment in small homes. You can select a type wholly out of comparison, so far as expense is concerned, with the cost of the home. You can build an extravagant, complicated roof, you can overload your home with unnecessary meaningless details, such as monstrous brackets, wide, projecting eaves, heavy cornices and "frilly" things which have the appearance of being fillers or "stuck on" in an attempt to secure architectural effects.

Much of this has little or no architectural merit, renders no service, detracts from the beauty of the home, and certainly piles up the total costs to unjustified amounts. Details of this character and special equipment frequently require special knives and extra mill work.

"Extras" are things which many home builders can do without and in no way interfere with the beauty, service or comfort of the home. It is worth while to remember these things and see that your home plans are designed to eliminate waste.

MAKE USE OF SHRUBBERY

Back Yard May Be Made a Thing of Beauty by the Judicious Use of Trees and Vines.

Step into your back yard and look in six directions—north, east, south, west, up and down. You are fortunately situated if there is in more than one of these directions a view that cannot be improved. The view up is likely to be charming, and the view down, if you have a good lawn, will be. But in the other four directions, it is likely there are pictures which you would not care to have framed on the walls of your living room.

Where this is the case, the elimination of these views is the first object of garden planning. The boundaries of the private area must be determined. Allow for a vegetable garden, either within this area, or adjoining it, in a location which enjoys the maximum of sun possible. The service area for domestic uses must also be set aside unless the premises are too limited for that. And when this is done, plantings to screen the private area from the outside world, or such of it as may be undesirable to the view, may be planned.

Usually shrubbery with a few trees for accents and shade will furnish the most pleasing boundary planting. But where space is much confined lattice or board fences, to be covered with vines or even left uncovered, may be used to advantage. Use the fence if shrubbery threatens to encroach upon the flower borders or central lawn; for the chief interest of the garden will not be found in the trees and shrubs; it will be in the flowers, and the activities which may be enjoyed on the lawn.

REMOVAL OF SOOT

The Federal Fuel Administration board suggests the following plan for removal of soot: The fire is put into good condition with a substantial body of hot fuel. Common salt thoroughly dried is then thrown or sprinkled onto the incandescent fuel bed in a quantity depending entirely on the size of the furnace. In case of a house-heating furnace one pound at a time is ample, in the case of a larger power plant boiler, four or five scoopsful may be required. The dampers are kept open so as to maintain the furnace temperature, and the salt is allowed to remain until the fumes have entirely disappeared.

Immediately upon charging with salt, the furnace becomes filled with dense white fumes which may require as much as half an hour to entirely disappear. If results are not secured on the first application it should be repeated as many times as necessary.

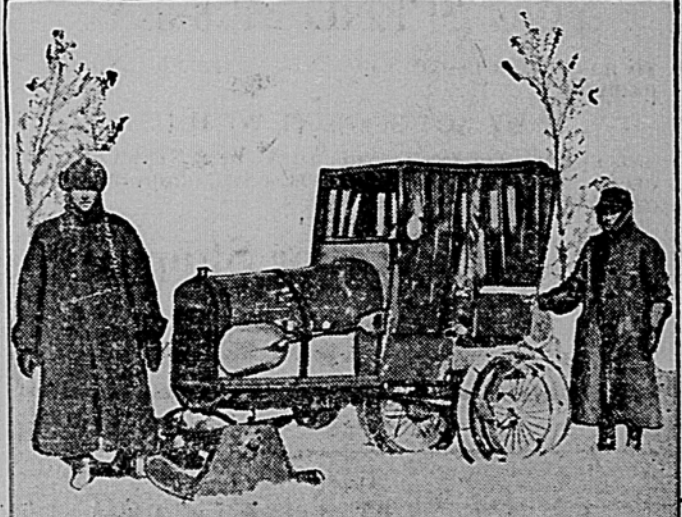

Once the heating surface is thoroughly cleaned a small application every few days is usually sufficient to keep it so.

FACT AND FANCY

There was a man who fancied that
By driving good and fast,
He'd get his car across the track
Before the train came past.

He'd miss the engine by an inch
And make the train crew sore,
There was a man who fancied this,
But—there isn't any more!

COMBINE BOB SLED AND FLIVVER

The photograph shows a cross between a bob sled and a flivver. The blizzards and storms the past winter throughout the Middle West furnished the incentive for Dr. H. M. Blegen, at the left, and Andrew M. Anderson, right, of Warren, Minn., to seek some means of traveling over the snow-covered roads. The front wheels were removed and steel runners put in their place.

DRIVERS INJURE RAILROAD GATES

Motorists Begin to Realize There Is More Room Behind a Train Than in Front.

The great volume of propaganda directed at the evils of carelessness when a "Railroad Crossing—Stop, Look, Listen" sign looms up has brought most motorists to a realization that there is more room behind a train than before it. It is with something of a shock then that one reads a report of the Chicago safety council showing that 27 per cent of the motorists who approach railway crossings carelessly are so blindly impatient and foolhardy that they damage the crossing protection equipment provided in an effort to make the dangerous spots foolproof.

Drivers in Haste.
Railroad crossing watchmen of 16 roads in and about Chicago last year reported 357 cases of careless driving at their crossings to the safety council. Of these reports 107, or 27 per cent, indicate that the drivers were in such haste to get over the tracks—to "beat the train to it," that they damaged the equipment provided to keep the crossings safe. Disregarding warning bells and the whistles of the watchmen, many of them kept going even after the crossing gates had started to descend. It is this type of driver that causes the safety engineer to tear his hair and have a moment of terrible doubt as to whether trying to save life is worth while.

FIFTY PER CENT IN SOME CASES

In some cases the number of instances in which the gates were damaged amounts to more than 50 per cent. The Chicago and Western Indiana reported 30 cases, of which 17 resulted in damaged equipment, indicating that a driver tried to beat the gates. Of 63 cases reported by the Illinois Central, 35 showed damaged gates. Eight out of the 12 reported by the North Shore Electric line were "damaged gates."

The work of the safety council has done much to spread the "careful crossing" idea effectively. Railroad gatekeepers have been instructed by their officials to note the license number of any car driven carelessly at their crossings. These reports go to the safety council, which sends a letter to the car owner calling attention to his carelessness and asking for co-operation in reducing the number of railway crossing accidents and in promoting motor safety in general. The careless crossing evil is thus attacked at its source.

REMEDY SLIPPING FAN BELT

Ingenious Motorist Overcomes Trouble by Applying Little Compound to the Surface.

One ingenious motorist who was troubled with a slipping belt cured the trouble by applying a little belt compound to the pulley surfaces. Belt compound, by the way, is a somewhat sticky substance that is used in machine shops, power plants and factories to insure the gripping of the pulley by the belt with sufficient force to transmit the power without slipping. Just a trifling amount of compound is enough for a fan belt. Often it may be obtained from a garage machine shop, but if not there it will be found almost anywhere that belts are used. Such a small amount is required that it is not worth while to buy a can of it.—Scientific American.

RUT-PROOF TIRE IS NOT ON ANY MARKET

Not Wise Plan for Automobile Driver to Follow Straight and Narrow Path With Car.

The old axiom about the advisability of following the straight and narrow path holds as good today as ever, but the autoist who interprets it as meaning that he should drive in ruts and car tracks will find it pretty expensive advice. A rut can be classed with flies, mosquitoes and other pests. It was made for no reason at all. Some men pick out ruts to drive in because it saves a certain amount of steering, but the law of compensation is an inexorable one, as the rut fender soon discovers when he finds his tires chewed to bits. It would be quite impossible to build a tire that could with any degree of truth be termed a rut-proof casing, because of the fact that the side wall cannot be made as heavy and inflexible as the tread. No great amount of re-enforcing material can be built upon the side wall of a tire. In rut running both the side walls become the tread as much as does that portion of the casing which was intended to come in contact with the road. In fact, in rut running the side walls, under such circumstances, are subjected to even more abuse than the tread, for the reason that the tread rolls over the surface of the ground, while the side walls are scuffed and subjected to a side-swiping motion that very soon wears away a rubber tire. Of course, it is quite true that there are times when bad roads cannot be avoided or when conditions make it absolutely necessary to drop into a rut.—H. W. Slauson in Leslie's.

BE PREPARED FOR REPAIRING

One of Chief Factors in Doing Good Work of Any Kind—Equipment of Importance.

One of the principal factors in doing good work of any sort lies in being prepared for the job you are going to tackle. This is something the new car owner often fails to realize. You cannot properly wash a car, grind the valves, clean a spark plug or do any of the other jobs necessary for keeping the car in good order without being perfectly equipped for the work. By degrees the car owner collects the equipment to enable him to finish each job he tackles in a workmanlike and satisfactory manner.

BEATING TRAIN TO CROSSING

Approximately 3,000 Autos Struck at Grade Crossings and 2,000 Persons Killed in 1922.

Approximately 3,000 automobiles were struck by trains at grade crossings during 1922, killing some 2,000 persons and disfiguring about 3,000 others. The driver of each of these cars figured he could beat the engine to the crossing.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

Good brakes depend on good brake lining and proper adjustment.

When a car has had a severe shock the bearings should be immediately inspected.

Never varnish the body of a car with temperature below 70 degrees Fahrenheit.

Experience has taught that one of the best ways to save gasoline on the road is to keep the spark well advanced.

Drain and flush out transmission and rear axle and refill with lubricant suitable to temperature range of locality.

Door rattles can be eliminated by wedging small pieces of tin underneath the door bumpers. This is equivalent to inserting new rubber bumpers, only it requires far less trouble.

Something to Think About

By F. A. WALKER

THE GREAT HEARTED

ONLY the great-hearted can be true friends.

All along the shadowed ways of life the great-hearted are constantly sending out sunlight and cheer, which humans of inferior natures can never know or bestow.

To do good, without having their motives suspected, is their grand intention. They seek no praise.

They move about with the quiet of summer breezes, leaving in their trail the delicious scent of gardens and the peace of tranquil skies.

In the happiness they give to others, they find a gratification rich beyond price. If but once in your life you should be fortunate enough to meet a great-hearted man or woman, the remembrance of it will linger in your mind until the end of your days.

Great hearts often dwell in lowly places.

Sometimes they are found in frail bodies, poorly clad, but there is about them a radiance of spirit brighter than a thousand stars and clear as the beaming of the noonday sun.

Great hearts blow to flame the spark that blazes with love; they espouse Truth and Mercy; they sing from morn till night of kindness and good will, when their days are lonely and their tables are bare.

They are neither silent nor neglectful when the ill and the discouraged need succor or sympathy.

Meek or lowly, they are the ministering angels from heaven, carrying to the sorrowing "good tidings of great joy."

Last night I gazed upon the world, wrapped in her moon-veil mysterious, and said: "How perfect! 'Tis like heaven." But—'tis heaven like this? Or do the dead gaze out upon heaven as I upon the earth, and say: "How perfect!" til melted. Add a few dashes of cayenne, one-half teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, a beaten egg and let cook for five minutes at low temperature. Add one-fourth of a cupful of chopped olives, one-half cupful of chopped walnuts. If cream cheese is used, no butter is needed, but cheese not so rich should have a tablespoonful of butter. Serve on toast or heated crackers.

Tomato Rarebit.
Heat one tablespoonful of butter with a small grated onion, add one-half teaspoonful of dry mustard, six drops of tabasco sauce and a cupful of tomato soup. Cook well together, then add one cupful of grated cheese and stir until melted, then fold in two well-beaten eggs; when creamy pour over well-buttered toast.

Baked Bean Rarebit.
Melt one tablespoonful of butter, add one cupful of cheese and one cupful of milk; when the cheese is melted add one cupful of mashed baked beans, one beaten egg, mustard, salt and cayenne to taste. Pour over hot toast.

THE END OF THE WAR

By Phebe K. Warner

So long as "Might makes right" men are going to fight. This is the final conclusion of the Motherhood of the World. But who ultimately pays the bills? "In Flanders fields the poppies blow, between the crosses row on row. But every cross means a soldier sleeping amid the poppies." His last battle's fought. His life work done, his victory won. His heart aches ended. But every cross means more. It means a broken home. A heart ache somewhere that never will be eased until death brings relief. Oh! the agony of the heart of the mother whose son is sleeping in Flanders fields and even the greater agony in the heart of the mother who knows not where her boy is sleeping or when or how he fell and suffered and died.

Who pays the bill for war, after all? The soldier who falls in action and whose suffering is soon smoothed in the sleep of death? The Government that exacts the price in dollars and cents from the people? Or the soldier who returns to civil life again to find his health, his position or his friends gone, and the mother who gave her son to die for his country while she suffers on to the end of life without him? Who really pays the bill in love and suffering and sacrifice? There is but one answer to all these questions and that answer is "Woman!" Women pay the final war debt in the most heart rending way.

For five years now the men of all nations have been trying to find a way to put an end to the war. But men have so many interests to consider. And men are so accustomed to fighting for peace it seems hard to be human. There are many conflicting claims between the nations. But these do not mean so much in the minds of the mothers of the world. They are thinking more in terms of human values, human suffering and human sacrifices.

The women of the world have about concluded if Peace ever comes on Earth and if wars ever end this great change will have to come naturally as other great changes have come in the human family. And that is by the women of the world coming together and devising ways to rear a generation of men throughout the world who want peace, who believe in peace and who will us their hearts and brains to bring peace on earth, good will to all men.

It is to this end that a representative group of women from all nations met in Washington, April 30 to May 5th to study the conditions of womanhood and motherhood throughout the world. The name of this new World Movement is the Woman's Universal Alliance. It was organized in Washington, D. C., U. S. A., in April, 1922. Its purpose is to serve humanity in the highest sense and to Memorialize service. To foster a spirit of good understanding and fraternity amongst the people of all nations to the end that WAR MAY BE NO MORE. To co-ordinate the efforts of all women and all organizations of women of the world in welfare work. And to establish bureaus of national and international information for the dissemination of knowledge of such work for the benefit of mankind. To establish and maintain at Washington an Acropolis to Womanhood of all lands as the first memorial in the world to the efforts and service of women in the achievements of civilization. To encourage the work of character education and the development of children and young people of various nations in order that a better and more enlightened citizenship may be established in all nations.

The history of every country and every state in the United States is rich in the noble deeds of its great patriotic and constructive women.

These women were the torch bearers of civilization. The World's Universal Alliance proposes to honor these great women as a duty to the past and an incentive to the present and future. To this end each State in the Union will be requested to select the names of twenty-five women not living whose life and work have meant the most to their State and present these names to the National Historical Research Committee who will be the final judges for the best list submitted.

It is this work of selecting the names of the greatest women of the past in your State that we wish the women of Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma to be thinking about. Take up the discussion in your home, at school at your club. What could make a more interesting study than the study of our own great women?

PET BROWN SHOT TO DEATH AT CISCO SUNDAY

Elmer D. (Pet) Brown, middle-weight champion wrestler of the world, was shot and instantly killed Sunday night about 11 o'clock at his construction camp a short distance east of Cisco on the Eastland road, in an altercation with Constable Louis J. Starkey.

Pet Brown and the constable are said to have had trouble over the arrest of a negro employed in Brown's camp. Brown, it is said, offered to make bail for the negro, but was refused by the constable, who shot Brown through the heart without warning. Brown, it is said was unarmed and not looking for trouble of this nature. Pet is a brother of "Leather Hat" Brown at Lubbock. The body was buried at Taylor, his home.

VOGUE FOR LACES

Winsome Fluffy Material Graces Apparel from Underwear to Evening Gowns.

This promises to be a lacy season. Perhaps it is the Spanish influence that has cast its spell on America, or it may be a cry from the peasants of Belgium or France, calling to us to behold the beauties of foreign products.

But one finds exquisite laces from underwear to tea gown, afternoon frock and lovely evening gowns. And how reminiscent of soft summer evenings is the lace gown for dance or dinner, observes a fashion writer in the Chicago Evening American.

A smart gown for afternoon is of light brown lace griddled with puffings of olive green ribbon and brown and gold embroidery. The bodice has tiny kimono sleeves, oval neck and long waistline. The skirt is attached at the hips and falls soft and full, pointed in deep scallops at the bottom. The griddle is made of the narrow puffings, with the embroidery touched in between. Under this lace frock one wears a slip of soft tan satin, suspended from shoulder straps.

A beautiful gown that combines lace with velvet in a most unusual manner shows a slim slip of cyclamen velvet with short sleeves that barely cover the shoulders. Over this there is draped a skirt of mauve and silver lace, that hangs considerably below the velvet slip, and is caught up in the center front with a gorgeous buckle. A huge feather fan of American Beauty shade and silver sandals and headress complete this striking costume.

Direct from Paris comes another clever lace and velvet gown, combining silver lace, blue tulle and velvet. The gown itself is of the old blue velvet, with closely fitted bodice and wing sleeves of the tulle. The skirt opens over a lavish petticoat of silver lace and blue tulle, showing a panel at the front. There is an attractive griddle of blue, silver and jewels that hangs down the front over the petticoat.

This Smart Outfit Is New Arrival From Paris

Not only in gowns is the vogue for lace interpreted, but it is also shown on many of the spring hats. A small turn-down bonnet of sand colored straw is made more interesting by a short Parisian lace veil, that is scalloped and falls to the tip of the nose. These lace veils lend an air of charm to the hat.

Much Latitude Allowed by New French Sleeves

Sleeves, as offered by all the French houses, have novel features. They frequently come in tiers or pairs, a tightly-fitted under part, that may or may not extend over the hand, and a bell or other flowing sleeve. And yet short sleeves have not disappeared. They are shown on some of the most conspicuous models. The kimono sleeve is as good as ever for the street. For evening the rule is no sleeves at all.

On the whole, the sleeve question remains as it has for some seasons back. If short, tight sleeves become one's particular style, wear them by all means. The new styles only illustrate the truth that is establishing itself more and more—you are privileged to do as you please about the design of your clothes, so long as you observe certain prescribed lines, and the major rule of becomingness to your style.

The Brooch Is Revived.

The short throat necklace and the brooch are revived after these many years. It is said that the return of the Bertha collar has brought them back into vogue. Short throat chains which fit the neck are becoming extremely popular. Amber beads are said to be the favorites of the moment—the kind that grandma used to wear tightly around her throat to ward off goiter. Next to amber, pearls in short lengths are favored. As for brooches, old-fashioned cameos and cut-jets and carved ivories are considered quite the smartest thing for 1923.

Short Fur Coats Are to Be Worn Into Summer

Little fur coats are to be much in evidence throughout the spring and into the early summer, according to fashion authorities. The model shown is in mole and German chipmunk.

Gay Colors in Coats to Distinguish the Season

Top coats are invaluable for motoring, for travel, for cool days in the country or at the seashore. They are equally smart with the simple frocks or the chic box suits which are so new. The gaiety of their coloring reminds one of the present vogue for umbrellas of purple and red and bright blue. Just because the weather happens to be disagreeable, we've learned, is no reason for us to put on a somber appearance and be as cheerless as possible ourselves. And it's so much brighter, on a rainy day, to look down on a bobbing sea of gay umbrellas than a somber stream of dark ones.

It's the same with coats, and it's well to remember this when you go to select your new spring one. It's the season of bright colors, remember. It will be easy, too, to find a gay color which is becoming to you and of which you won't grow tired. If you have a becoming little hat, which you can wear with it, you won't have to bother about the coat being a perfect match for all your frocks, as the new spring coats are all-enveloping anyway.

Straight Dresses Are Heavily Embroidered

The newer straight dresses which are being imported are things to inspire us to more creations in this direction. The skirts are heavy, being embroidered at the bottom in many layers of thickly laid-on stitches. And this application of embroidery may reach the knees, or it may even extend to a low waistline, in its effort to give distinction and an expression of the

SUITS REIGN TRIUMPHANT; FAVOR STRAIGHTLINE CAPES

IT ONLY requires four letters to spell the word "suit", but it would take the entire alphabet multiplied into a dictionary of adjectives to describe the intriguing allurements and versatility of ideas expressed in the two-piece and three-piece suit modes created this season.

There is a lavishness of ideas seldom equalled, apparent among suits of the present vogue, and there is a type for every individuality.

Versions of short jackets are legion. The striking mode shown in the pic-essential regardless of the calendar. Only in the superlatively warm climate does a modish wrap become a negligible quantity. With most of us a charming cape or loose lightweight coat which can be thrown at will over a lingerie frock or carried as protection against capricious weather, is a greatly to be desired possession.

This season fancy drifts to capes, the straight-line kind, of elegant material. To a surprising degree interest centers in the all-black wrap, deep soft pile fabrics leading, in favor. Just ture is a particularly happy manifestation of tailored art. It is of Polret twill, one of the leading materials of the day. It carries style in every detail of jacket and skirt. It satisfies from a tailored point of view and it pleases from the standpoint of novelty and tendency to assume an air of dressiness. Braiding finds unique placement on sleeve and pocket in military style. The long, narrow ribbons from such a cape as is shown in the picture is receiving a majority vote.

Not all capes are of strictest simplicity, for fashion swings the pendulum to the extreme of ornate novelty. This is especially true of capes styled of silk crepe, which are tucked, ruffled paneled and plaited in most unique ways. While black even in the crepe cape leads, there are many alluring types in fawn colors and gray.

Two Alluring Wraps

the throat lend a feminine charm and the gold metal ribbon belt is distinctive in appearance. The skirt embodies plaits, not too many, but enough to respond to the season's demands.

All-over embroidered side-fastened jackets feature in many of the new suits. The skirt is of the plain cloth, with all the elaboration concentrated on the short coat or jaquette.

Heavy canton crepe suits, densely braided or embroidered, are the masterpieces of the season's suit development. Sheer merit brings them to the topmost round of popularity. These stunning braided types are either in solid color or, in some instances, the braid contrasts, especially in the combination of black and white.

Theoretically wraps and summer-time are subjects foreign to each other. In actual practice a covered all-cape or wrap is a treasured

Not all capes are straightline, but even in dolman effects, the cape idea is introduced in a sleeve-like way. This is evidenced in the model to the right, which in the original is the new peccan shade, embroidered in self-colored floss. It is an important part of the style program to embroider one's wraps, frocks and hats.

One may choose between embroidered collars as demonstrated in the picture, or fur, for furs are to be worn on many capes and wraps throughout the summer. White and light colored furs will be excellent on crepe garments of similar shade. An exception to this is the use of gray or white fur on black.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale
BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE GOLD FISHES

Mr. Pekin Baxter and Mr. Tokio Jones, the two gold fishes, were chatting together in their gold-fish way as they swam about the fish-bowl in the living room.

"It is Surprising."

They were enjoying themselves immensely. They had just had a very good meal, and they had not been given too much.

"It is strange," said Mr. Pekin Baxter, "but there are many people who feed their gold fishes too much. I hear the friends of our mistress talking, and they ask her such absurd questions.

"They say: 'If the fishes leave food untouched which you've given to them it shows you've given them too much, doesn't it?'"

"You don't want to give them so much that they could possibly leave any untouched, and the way to do that is to give them very, very little.

"For gold fishes eat more than they should when it is given to them, and when they leave food untouched it means they've been given a great deal beyond what they could possibly eat, and a great, great deal beyond what they should eat.

"Gold fishes have small stomachs; they're not taking great long swims and lots of exercise, and they shouldn't be fed too much."

"Yes, that is what our mistress tells her friends."

"And that is right, too," said Mr. Tokio Jones. "It is strange how ignorant people are about feeding gold fishes and how many of them think that as long as the gold fishes eat up all their food they've been given the right amount!"

"Dear me, it is surprising how ignorant people are."

"Well," said Mr. Pekin Baxter, "it is true that people can't read our thoughts—what few ones we have to read—and they can't tell unless they know just how much gold fishes want to eat, for people haven't the tastes of gold fishes, nor have they the wishes of gold fishes."

"Nor," said Mr. Tokio Jones, waving a fin, and grinning a funny grin, "are they gold fishes!"

"Well," said Mr. Pekin Baxter, "I'm glad when news about gold fishes is spread about, for we don't want to get sick, and our relations don't mean to be greedy, but when they see so much before them it is hard not to eat and eat and eat."

"Of course, too, it is hard to tell when we're not feeling well, for the way to tell about us not feeling well is a different way from the way people have of telling if they're not well or if their children are not well."

"When our little mistress does not seem to be well the doctor comes, and he says, 'Stick out your tongue,' and then he usually says:

'Ah, just what I thought! Yes, a little tonic will do you good.'

"Or perhaps he says, 'Some medicine is what you need, and then you'll be all right.'

"A tongue is most important to some, for it seems to be an excellent thing in its way of showing whether a person is well or not."

"Yes," agreed Mr. Tokio Jones, "with people a tongue is important; or, perhaps I should say, many tongues are important, for they all have one apiece."

"But with us it is different," said Mr. Pekin Baxter. "We need our dorsal fins. They are all important; or, perhaps I should say, each one of us has a dorsal fin and it is very important."

"I think, perhaps, that is the correct way to speak."

"Some may not know what the dorsal fin is, but if they will look at you or me, or at any of the members of our family, they will see a fin which is spread up on top of our backs. It is a fine, straight, healthy-looking fin when we are well, but when we're sick that fin droops and does not stay out nice and smooth."

"So people can tell if the gold fish is well by the way his dorsal fin or the fin upon his back looks, and a person can tell if another person is well by the look on his tongue."

"So let the people have their tongues—they need them—but let the fishes have their dorsal fins."

"My dorsal fin is not wrinkled up—it looks like a handsome, outspread fan, and that shows I'm healthy, and yours is the same way, Tokio, and so you're healthy, too. Hurrah, splash, splash, gurgie, bubble!"

"Stick Out Your Tongue."

1. Samuel Mourns for Saul
1. Why He Mourned
Saul was no doubt a good man, and for a king, a noble and lovable personality. The ruin of so promising a young man would deeply affect a man of God's people.

2. Excessive Mourning
The fact that God had chosen David as His anointed should have lifted Saul's grief. Excessive grief over God does is a reflection on the mourner. We should submit to change our plans. When comes a hindrance to the duty, it merits rebuke.

3. Samuel's Fear
1. Samuel's Fear (1.3) by this time Saul was a desperate character. He was taking steps to avoid his throne, his own life, and danger. Samuel was waiting this difficult situation. God's servants are to be even when going on errands we should not over-shoulder exercise the pressure so that unnecessary is avoided.

2. The Lord's Direction
The Lord smoothed the way for David. He showed him his duty and escape. He was to take a belief that he was going to die into the Lord and to sacrifice. The prophet of all that would happen. Only God's way with us, our work piece by piece step by step. Samuel was known only to him. He kept a secret so that he not reach Saul. This device but entirely better is not necessary for our purposes.

Being of a mechanical turn of mind, his comment was: "Gosh! The lungs must be a fine piece of machinery, to do that much work and keep from wearing out."

A neighbor, expert at making cellar wines out of various kinds of garbage, said: "Twenty-six hundred gallons, eh? What a pity it isn't whiskey."

IF YOU MISS IT, YOU MISS A REAL TREAT

"Hunting Big Game in Africa" is Filled with Tense Thrilling Action.

E. L. Howard, manager of the Star Theatre, Tahoka, will present "Hunting Big Game in Africa", Friday and Saturday, June 1st and 2nd.

Tense, thrilling moments, punctuated with genuine, mirth-provoking scenes, and great lessons from nature taught in such a way as to make everybody a willing pupil, are the high points of the film.

Everybody who ever read "Big Game Hunting in Africa" from the pen of our late, red-blooded President Theodore Roosevelt, felt the call of the Dark Continent and made most of us vow to emulate him at some future time if we ever got rich enough to carry out our dreams. It is no longer necessary, for we can make the trip with H. A. Snow, the intrepid hunter, and his son, Sidney Snow, the photographer, whose confidence in his father's aims reminds one of William Tell.

In addition to the pursuit of game there are scenes of whale harpooning the mining of diamonds and many pictures of tribes and customs. More than fifty distinct varieties of animals are shown. It is a picture that will interest every red-blooded boy in creation, and the same is true of grown-ups.

This thrilling picture will be shown at the Star Theatre, Friday and Saturday, June 1st and 2nd. Don't miss it.

POST 2; TAHOKA 19

In a one-sided exhibition of baseball here Sunday afternoon, the Post City team was overwhelmingly defeated by Tahoka 19 to 2. The game ended in the eighth frame, after Post gave up the ghost and hung up the white flag. It is said the Tahoka boys made a race track out of the diamond, until the would-be ball players from Post saw their was no use since they were up against real ball players. Larkin was on the mound for Tahoka, and pitched a good game, allowing only two hits. One of these hits was a homer over the fence. Larkin is a left handed twirler, and has the real makin's of a real mound artist. This is his first year in fast company, and with a little more seasoning will more than likely hold down a regular berth on the pitching staff of the Tahoka team.

The Post club returned home late Sunday fully convinced that Tahoka had a fast aggregation of ball players.
