

City Will Cooperate In Paving Of Streets

HOME TOWN TALK

By Betty

California people have spent $100,000,000 on state highways. The state highway commission has checked traffic on those highways. It has found that traffic has increased 93 per cent in the past four years and that the total automobile mileage of the state now amounts to 2,121,000,000 miles.

The figures were obtained by actual count effected by the commission's employees at 103 different points in California. There are around 1,500,000 automobiles registered in the state. If the commission's mileage estimate be accepted there is a grand average yearly mileage of 1400 miles per car—on state highways alone, which of course, does not include towns or city travel.

How well has this $100,000,000 investment paid the people of California?

The largest item of profit that of new commerce, time-saving and cheaper haulage of goods, cannot be computed or even estimated in money at all.

The other great human gain, which is recreational, also cannot be stated in dollars and cents.

Suppose those 2,120,000,000 miles had been traveled over the old dirt roads, with chuckholes, bad grades, hazardous turns and poor traction. Isn't it well within the facts to put the saving of car expense at one cent a mile?

And that means a saving of $21,200,000 a year on tires, springs, gasoline and depreciation. At that rate the entire state highway system could be rebuilt out of the amount saved in the wear and tear of automobiles.

Highways pay state, every county that has them. They will pay Howard county. We have lost too much money, too much new business, too much saving in the cost of hauling products to precast concrete highways.

We will not. On December 23 the people of Howard county must avail themselves of the opportunity of providing highways.

Howard county has too many undeveloped resources, too great an opportunity to cash in on the tourist crop, too much pride to turn down the road bond issue.

A. F. of L. Opposes Appointment Of Brotherhood Man

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—The same opposition which has gained credit for keeping William N. Doak out of the post of labor secretary at the beginning of the Hoover administration, was recorded against him today.

Because Doak, legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, is not affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, William Green told President Hoover yesterday that his appointment would be opposed.

Doak has figured as the favorite in discussion of the post, which will fall vacant next week when James J. Davis takes his seat as senator from Pennsylvania.

The federation president also registered opposition to elevation of Robt. Carl White, assistant secretary, who is understood not to be a member of the labor organization.

Green maintained the federation felt the secretary of labor should come from its ranks. He pointed out that both Davis and William R. Wilson, who held the office before him, were members of his organization.

He named a list of acceptable men, all officials of unions affiliated with the federation. Green's stand was promptly criticized by Senator Fess of Ohio, republican national chairman, as "unfortunate."

Fess said President Hoover should "be allowed to make his own cabinet appointments."

Attorney General Visits City; Terms Hotel Beautiful

Attorney General Robert Lee Fobbitt, enroute to Austin after a trip into the West Texas, stopped for several hours at the Settles hotel Tuesday. He made no statement relative to the purpose of his trip into this section.

While at the hotel the attorney general took occasion to make a minute inspection, alone and in company, of the new 12-story building, from top to bottom. Having finished, he pronounced the Settles "the most beautiful hotel in Texas."

Club Behind Chest Drive

Luncheon Club Hears Blomshild And Rev. Day

Members of the Business Men's Luncheon Club went on record today as endorsing the Community Chest movement, and lending all support possible in an effort to raise the $10,000 goal set by the committee.

The action followed announcement by Carl S. Blomshild, general chairman of the drive, as to how the money would be used. He declared the Red Cross, Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, and worthy charity cases would benefit by the money. He also declared the $10,000 goal was exceptionally low compared with that of other cities on a per capita basis.

"Many of us today," he declared, "are throwing away more than our forefathers had. We are spending more on luxuries than they did on essentials. We have health, and liberty, and religious liberty, we have everything to be thankful for.

"Many are prone to forget God and his blessings. Many are prone to forget the things He has done for us and we will forget unless we stop and give thanks for those things.

"It would be a happy world if each of us tomorrow would stop and designate our lives to Him again."

Marshall McFarland, district traffic manager for Southern Air Fast Express, was introduced as a new member of the organization and spoke a few words on aviation.

"Flying," he declared, "is safe, economical and fast. It has been estimated that if a person flies an average of 10,000 miles a year, he will be in an accident his thirty-third year, and he killed his 282nd year in an airplane crash.

"Our company has flown 5,913,000 miles, carried 56,000 passengers, and has not had an accident or scratched a passenger."

Music was furnished by the Jackson Sisters, violinists, and Miss Roberta Gay, pianist.

Mrs. E. A. Eubank, singing a vocal solo, accompanied by Mrs. Morris.

2 Wounded As Bank Robbery Is Frustrated

EL RENO, Okla., Nov. 26 (AP)—A bank robber and Deo Follart, assistant coach at El Reno high school, were probably fatally wounded today following an unsuccessful attempt to rob the First National Bank of El Reno.

First reports were to the effect that two robbers had been slain.

The robber, George Lovett, 38, of Chickasha, was shot four times, once through the chest, and his death was expected momentarily.

Follart, a customer, also was shot through the chest and his condition was critical.

Both men were taken to the same hospital, giving rise to first reports that two robbers had been shot. No accomplice of Lovett could be found, nor could officers locate any automobile in which the robber might have planned to escape.

Lovett was shot first by J. M. Durge, assistant cashier, after he had held up the eight persons in the bank. George Adams, proprietor of a tire shop across the street from the bank, shot three times as Lovett emerged, and brought him down.

Lovett fired three shots in the bank, one tearing out the bar of a window behind which was Durge. Another struck Follart, former wrestling star of the University of Oklahoma.

Mrs. Durge, who was in the front end of the bank, ran out the door and called for help.

Those in the bank were W. H. Morris, president; Mr. and Mrs. Durge; Mrs. Georgia Cox and Miss Teresa Williams, bookkeepers; Follart; J. F. Haley of Geary and Ed Lyman, customers.

MARENGO, Ill., Nov. 26 (AP)—A robber, brandishing two revolvers, herded four employees of the Third National bank of Marengo into the vault today as it escaped with $12,000 in currency.

PANA, Ill., Nov. 26 (AP)—Five men armed with revolvers and a machine gun held up the state bank at Pana today, a small mining community in Christian county today and escaped with approximately $3,000.

Others Fight Oil Proration

Oklahoma Producers To Get Hearing On Dec. 1

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 26 (AP)—Two more oil companies joined C. Champlin, Julian and Marjorie today in their attack upon state proration of production.

Oils, Inc. and Century Petroleum Company file petitions with the corporation commission, asking that the state wide proration order be vacated. Hearing was set for Dec. 1.

Both companies, operating in the Oklahoma City field, alleged the conserv. law upon which the commission based its order was unconstitutional and that proration was a price fixing measure.

Board Of City Development Named By City Commission

To Honor Editors

A board of city development, consisting of 15 representative men and women, was approved by the city commission at the regular meeting held Tuesday night.

Although the organization will not be provided immediately with funds with which to operate it will act as an advisory board to the city commission proper.

The group was selected as representative of various industrial, business and professional groups in Big Spring.

Problems confronting the city commission upon which an opinion of the majority of the people is desired, will be given to the board.

Members appointed by the commissioners at the Tuesday night session were: H. Reagan, president West Texas National Bank; E. A. Kelley, manager Southern Ice & Utilities Co.; J. A. Yarbrough, Texas & Pacific Railway blacksmith; Charles Koberg, Texas & Pacific Railway engineer; C. T. Watson, manager Chamber of Commerce; Shine Phillips, Cunningham & Phillips drug store; Joseph Edwards, president Big Spring Pipe Line Co.; V. H. Ellswell, distributor Camden Refinery products; Mrs. W. A. Earnest, Lyons and Earnest, realtors; Mrs. Fox Stripling, secretary Big Spring school board; Joe Kuykendall, manager J. A. Radford Grocery Co.; L. L. Bugg, Bugg Bros.; W. F. Fahrnenkamp, chief clerk to master mechanic, Texas & Pacific railway; Tom Jordan, Jordan Printing Co., and M. H. Morrison, attorney.

Notices of the appointment will be mailed within the next few days.

'City Hotel' Is Provided Old Express Company Building To Be Used For Purpose

While other cities of West Texas are organizing chain gangs for transient youths and men, Big Spring is ready to see they are treated kindly here. City manager V. R. Smith today announced the purchase by the city of a building to be used as a lodging place at night for the men and boys without places to sleep.

The old Express Company building, First and Main Streets, was purchased and will be converted into a lodging place. A stove will be installed and beds arranged.

Police men will clear the streets at night of the hitch-hikers, and ramps taking them to the building to spend the night.

City policemen have reported a number of the men suffering from exposure each night, as they could not find a place to sleep and keep warm.

The city "hotel" will be opened for four months, Smith declared. The city manager was authorized to purchase the building by the city commissioner in an effort to have frozen pipes, meter boxes to be paid for.

According to city officials last year a number of meters and meter boxes were destroyed when the box was broken into and a fire built on the meter. The cost of the meter is $2.00, and the box $2.00. Where the meter is destroyed in this manner, the cost will be applied to the bill and will have to be paid, city officials declare.

In most cases it is found the water pipes leading into the structure is frozen and not the meter, they declared.

State Seeks $939,000 Penalties In Suit Filed At Lamesa Against Radio Company

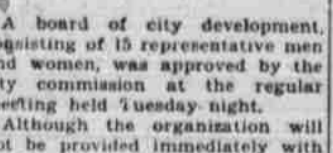

Alleging Violation Of Anti-Trust Statute

Charging violation of the state anti-trust laws, creation of a monopoly, and conspiring against trade within this territory, the State of Texas has filed suit in Dawson County district court against the Radio Equipment Company of Dallas.

The suit asks judgment for $939,000, being the maximum amount recoverable by the state provided allegations are sustained. The penalty is asked on a basis of $1,500 per day for the last two years, the maximum that can be recovered for the offense alleged.

The Radio Equipment Co., 939 South Lamar Street, Dallas, is state representative for Majestic Radios and Majestic accessories, it is alleged.

Stabbed to Death

Police are investigating the death of Mrs. Leone Bowles, 35, Portland, Ore., society woman, who was found stabbed to death in the apartment of her husband's former secretary.

The city of Big Spring is ready to cooperate immediately with property owners in paving streets. It was announced at the regular meeting of the city commission, held in the city hall, Tuesday night.

According to a plan submitted by V. B. Smith, city manager, and approved by the two commissioners present, and Mayor J. B. Pickle, the city will bear its part of the cost of paving streets where the residents are ready to pave.

The commissioners went on record as favoring paving the first street where all the property sign petitions, providing the street, when paved, connects with other pavement. The body was in favor of bearing its share of the cost of 15 or twenty blocks of paving. It is possible that a number of property owners on various streets in the city desire the pavement, the commissioners believed Streets 40 feet wide, including two feet of curbing on each side are proposed.

The action was taken to relieve unemployment conditions to a certain extent, and to provide paved streets where all the property owners are in favor of the paving.

The work would be done on a contract basis, the agreement to call for use of local labor and local rock in construction.

Specifications would call for a street with a seven and one-half inch thickness, including a topping of one and one-half inch, and a solid rock base.

The cost is divided, with three-fourths being borne by the property owner, and one-fourth by the city.

Warrants would be issued by the city in payment for the work. According to the commissioners, it is impossible that one street may be paved on this plan within the near future.

Brady Case Before Court

McCraw Terms Penalty Given Judge Very Lenient

AUSTIN, Nov. 26 (AP)—A plea that a verdict "overflowing with the strangest kind of mercy" be not disturbed was set against vigorous protest to alleged errors in the lower court record as the appeal of John W. Brady for a three year sentence for the murder of Miss Leahia Highsmith was submitted to the court of criminal appeals today.

William McCraw, district attorney of Dallas county, in arguments consuming less than half the time allowed him, said the three years imprisonment assessed by the jury against the former appeals court judge, itself demonstrated the fairness of the trial.

"It showed a remarkable leniency by the jury," McCraw said. "It was veridical overflowing with the rarest and strangest kind of mercy, for a cool, calculating and cold blooded murder."

Maury Hughes of Dallas set forth the legal grounds upon which Judge Brady hoped to gain a new trial. Judge Brady himself was not in the courtroom, but the meager facilities of the room were taxed as curious spectators crowded in.

Maple's Counsel Seek To Compel Sanity Hearing

HOUSTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Attorney for Jess J. Maple, confessed slayer and robber, set out hurriedly for Austin today in quest of a habeas corpus writ to compel Judge Whit Boyd to grant Maple, condemned to execution early Friday, an insanity hearing.

They took this step, considered the last available to them, after the judge this morning had refused to grant such a hearing on the second insanity affidavit filed in behalf of the paperhanger, who slew two Houston motorcycle officers on the night of September 30 after helping rob a furniture store.

The court of criminal appeals at Austin also denied a mandamus to force the trial judge to permit Maple's attorney to appeal his case.

Then attorney F. O. Fuller, who previously had submitted an insanity affidavit which Judge Boyd characterized as a "fool affidavit," presented the second affidavit to the judge.

New Viaduct To Be Opened

Benton Street Overpass Finished By McKee Company

The second viaduct to span the Texas and Pacific Railway tracks in the city limits will be thrown open to traffic Thursday morning, it was announced today by officials of the contracting company.

The Benton street viaduct, a concrete structure with a steel center, has been completed and will be turned over to the railway company today.

The structure was erected at a cost of $112,500, and is said to be one of the best concrete viaducts in the state. It is 981 feet long, and spans the railway yards from the south to the north sides. The center of the viaduct is constructed of 160-pound steel. A brick top surface was used, with the exception of asphalt over the steel work.

Work on the viaduct was started June 25. The Gregg street viaduct, a steel structure, was opened to traffic Christmas day.

The Benton street structure was erected by the Texas & Pacific railway, Howard county and the city of Big Spring.

The contract carried with it a clause calling for closing the Gollad street grade crossing when the viaduct is opened for traffic. Elimination of the Gollad street crossing will mean the passing of the final grade crossing in Big Spring.

City commissioners, however, are considering conferring with railway officials in regard to establishing a crossing over which to move houses and heavy structures.

The viaduct was erected by R. E. McKee, El Paso, contractors.

Football Season To Be Brought To Close Here Thanksgiving

Colorado Wolves Will Furnish Competition In Last Battle Of Season For Longhorn Battalion

Just Eleven Of The Bovines Playing Final High School Game Of Their Careers Thursday Afternoon

One more day and the jig is up in high school football, so far as this city is concerned. One more game, and the moths start their annual banquet on the moleskins.

Thursday afternoon at 3 p. m. the Big Spring Steers and the Colorado Wolves will start smacking each other around Steer Stadium in the last game of the season. The calendar says Thursday is Thanksgiving Day, and the grid contest is the outstanding event of the holiday in this city.

It is presumed that Coaches Stevens and Brown will send their first brigade against the invaders in the initial minutes. If the going gets smooth, which will be quite a novelty for the Steers if it does, some of the 1931 products will replace the regulars and get a taste of what is in store for them next year. If the going gets rough, which is more likely, the brunt of the attack will fall on the shoulders of the Bovines that have been in the big middle of the melee all year. Present indications are that the Colorado Wolves will be just as tough, if not tougher, than either Sweetwater or Brownwood, and who is that can forget that those two teams took the Steers down in a sweet sephyr?

Captain Delbert Rogers will lead his last high school team into battle. The diminutive backfield ace will be playing his final game for the Steers and when he steps out of his battered pantaloons after the fray it will mark the last time insofar as high school is concerned.

Not only Rogers but ten more of the Steers will bid goodbye and whatnot to high school grid contests after Thursday.

Bob Kidwell, Cecil Neel and Nugie Mims, first string backfield men who have been in practically every game this year, will be through after the tilt with Colorado. Pardue, center; Glover and F. Orr, guards; Eddie Maxwell and Brownie Hanshaw, tackles; Phillips, end; and Yarbrough, substitute lineman, will be playing in their grand finale.

Bill Flowers, flashy backfield man, will be the remaining member of the 1930 quartet to be seen on the gridiron next year. There are some up and coming ones, however. Harris should make a good backfield man next year, with Swatsenbach, Richbourg, Stamfl and others to make the grade.

The Thanksgiving Day tilt is scheduled to start at 3 o'clock.

LAREDO, TEXAS, Nov. 25 (AP)—Dave Ehrlich, 46, merchant of Sabin, died in a tourist camp here today after an attack of acute indigestion.

MIDLAND CLUB OUSTED

STANTON, Nov. 26.—Stanton's Buffaloes today became the champion of the western section of district 8 as the result of action of the district committee in disqualifying Midland in a meeting at Monahans.

Stanton, which preferred charges against Midland, will meet Mar's later in the week for the district title.

Midland was ousted on a technicality which arose as result of James White's having played baseball last summer on a club which it was charged carried a "money man" on the roster. White is a line star for the Midland team. Midland won the championship last year by the same method, Stanton having been disqualified for use of an ineligible player.

Midland defeated Stanton 13 to 0 last week in a playoff for the sectional crown. In a previous meeting, the teams had played a scoreless tie.

is favored to win, but the Steers may stage an upset and cop the fray. Quien sabe. Which means "who knows" or else someone played a dirty trick on us. If it means anything else we didn't write this and besides we'll be out of town for a couple or three months.

Littlefield To Depart From Custom Of Starting Seniors In Final Fray, To Fire The Best Barrel

AUSTIN, Nov. 26 (AP)—The Longhorns of the University of Texas today continued light work for their game tomorrow with Texas A. and M.

Should the Steers defeat the Aggies, it will give them a clear title to the 1930 flag but if the Aggies building the Steers, it again will throw the race into a huddle.

Coach Clyde Littlefield, head mentor of the Bovines, said he would depart from the time-honored custom observed at Texas of starting seniors in the final game,

Warning was broadcast to all fans to be on their guard against peddlers of counterfeit tickets. Last Saturday several spurious pasteboards were sold on unsuspecting fans at the T.C.U.-Baylor game and it was feared similar attempts might be made at the game tomorrow. The game will be called at 2 o'clock.

Strikingly beautiful, fleet and smart — a masterpiece of Fisher styling

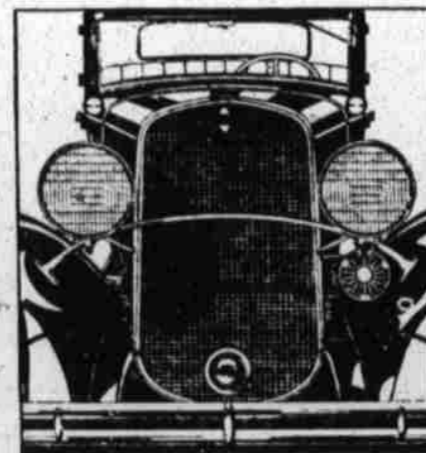

In the entire field of modern coachcraft no symbol has come to mean more to the buyer of a motor car than Body by Fisher. And never has Fisher's superiority been more strikingly exemplified than in the beautiful new bodies of the Bigger and Better Chevrolet Six!

Working with the added advantage of a lengthened wheelbase, Fisher designers have been able to achieve in the new Chevrolet a degree of smartness, comfort and impressiveness hitherto considered exclusive to cars far higher in price.

Inside and out, you will discover scores of refinements that stamp this car as a masterpiece of modern coachwork. Radiator, headlamps and tie-bar have been artistically grouped to create an unusually attractive and distinctive ensemble. Mouldings sweep back from the graceful new radiator in an unbroken line to blend with the smart new body contours. And new colors, in carefully devised combinations, lend a new individuality.

Front view of the new Chevrolet Sport Coupe

Interiors, too, are exceptional in every way. The new mohair and broadcloth upholstery is tailored with exceptional smartness. Seats are wider and deeper and more luxuriously cushioned. A deeper windshield and wider windows give better vision for both driver and passengers. And beautiful new hardware, of modern design, lends a final note of charm.

The greater quality and beauty of the new Chevrolet-Fisher bodies have a counterpart in the many improvements which have been provided in the chassis of this Bigger and Better Six. Pilots Cause Most Air Crashes; Scheduled Flying Found Safest WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The pilot continues the greatest single cause of accidents in civil aviation. He is blamed for 55.83 per cent of the mishaps occurring in the first half of 1930 in the semi-annual accident report of Clarence M. Young, assistant secretary of commerce for aeronautics.

Only once since the government began checking in 1927 on air accidents has the pilot been blamed for fewer than half the mishaps. That was in the first half of 1928 when pilots accounted for 43.29 per cent of the accidents.

Two hundred seventy people lost their lives in the first half of the year in 930 civil aircraft accidents but the air secretary found a large increase in the safety of scheduled air transport operations.

These operations, in which aircraft carry passengers, mail, and express over fixed routes at regular intervals, covered two and one-half as many miles per fatal accident as they did in the same period of 1929.

They traversed 16,902,728 miles with six fatal accidents while in the same period in 1929 they covered 8,201,338 miles with nine fatal accidents.

Most accidents, 45.16 per cent, occurred in pleasure flying in which 56 pilots, 63 passengers, 3 students, 1 crew member and 2 spectators lost their lives.

Increased safety in scheduled air transport, however, the secretary found, was not matched by an

Mrs. L. R. Kuykendall Appointed Community Chest Representative

The Big Spring Study Club met at the Settles Hotel for the regular bi-monthly session yesterday afternoon at two o'clock.

Mrs. L. R. Kuykendall was appointed to represent the club in the Community Chest Drive.

The program was as follows: "Telling the Bees," reading by equal growth in safety of miscellaneous flying.

Such operations covered 51,767,300 miles for an average of 359,494 miles per fatal accident where in the first half of 1929 they flew 47,000,000 miles for an average of 398,505 miles per fatal mishap.

The weather, arch foe of the aviator, maintained its menace by accounting for 6.52 per cent of all civil flying mishaps but darkness, which accounted for 1.62 per cent of the accidents in 1927, has been reduced as a hazard by night-flying aids and training to .09 per cent.

EVERYDAY QUESTIONS

Answered By
Dr. S. Parkes Cadman

Questions from readers are answered by the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Radio Minister of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. Dr. Cadman seeks to answer inquiries that appear to be representative of the trends of thought in the many letters which he receives.

Altruism?
I have often wondered what motive induced Simon the Pharisee to invite Jesus to his home in view of the fact that we know the Pharisees hated Jesus. What is your interpretation of this event?

It should not be assumed that the Pharisees as a group were all alike. On the contrary, it is plain that Simon had broader views than many of his friends in Judea. He was so curious about the Master that his curiosity overcame his prejudices. He had heard that Jesus was openly proclaimed as a prophet, and more, a very strange and interesting personality, who did not shun society, nor live the life of an ascetic, as John the Baptist had done.

So Simon invited this brilliant young Nazarene to his home for the same reasons that dukes and millionaires invite eccentric geniuses, famous experts or accomplished musicians to their social gatherings. Of course it did not do to allow Jesus too much freedom. After all, as the Rev. A. Gooder quaintly remarks, "though He might dine with the aristocracy of Magdala, He was only a carpenter and a Galilee boy from Nazareth. He had no education. He had lived only with country people. He was bound to be a little rough. He might be a little shy, or maybe a little extravagant."

Beat the invitation as given in St. Luke, 7:36-50, and you will discover what a surprise Simon got on that eventful day.

and last must originate in and express the people's common sentiment. "Scotts Who Ha' With Wallace Blvd." is Scotland's past, present and future in one lyric. Other examples could be quoted, but one must suffice. Consider the first stanza of the lyric of Sir Cecil Spring-Rice:

"I love to thee, my country—all
The things that are
Entire and whole and perfect,
The service of my love,
The love that asks no question;
That lays upon the altar the
Dearest and the best,
The love that never falters,
The love that makes undaunted
The final sacrifice."

In this and the following verses you have a significant and moving tribute to patriotism's noblest forms.

Canton, Ohio.
According to the Bible we are all from the seed of Adam. Why, then, are the Jews God's chosen people?

Because they were selected for a great service to be rendered to mankind at large. The fact that two other world-religions originated in Judaism substantiates the statement, since made. The poetic description of creation in the Genesis document uses the word "Adam," which means man as an appropriate name for the first human being.

One branch of our race is traced as descending from Shem, son of Noah, through Abraham to the various saints and prophets whose message is the Bible. Despite their perversities and disobedience the Hebrew people secured and kept the spiritual primacy of mankind. Jesus, who was of Abraham's seed according to the flesh, extended the revelation of His earthly ancestors and completed their mission.

They came, the revolutionary heralds of the New Testament Gospel that hangs forth all men are equal before God, and Christ is their unifying bond. Could a more marvelous plan of racial development or one so harmonious with human interests, have been devised? Under its progress, its creative force, its actual achievements in history and its oncoming consummation herein is the answer to your question.

Blissful Verse?
Which of the hymns we sing in patriotic services do you prefer? As a public school teacher, I would like to know your choice.

My children and I have about as usual for general appeal as any I know. "The Star-Spangled Banner" is a stirring composition, favored by many, but I dislike the paper, the dignity and the exultant strain of a national anthem. Some verses, both the hymns mentioned, the last fit the alleged proclamation; the second for its staid note.

Katherine Lee Bates' beautiful lyric, "America the Beautiful," has gained widespread and devoted popularity during the last decade. Increasing numbers of children and young people favor it, and I believe with numerous adults, that it expresses the soul and purpose of our republic more completely than either of the foregoing selections. But no poet can write a national anthem to order, nor can legislation impose such an anthem on the people. It must spring from their very hearts and voice their deepest, truest ideals and aspirations through a gifted spirit who speaks for all.

The music to which it would be set is also of supreme importance. Great Britain's hymn, "God Save the King," owes much of its appeal to its magnificent melody. Haydn composed the music for the Austrian national hymn, and that of Russia has a similar strain, all its own. Both the Austrian and Russian hymns are now discarded because of their unbecoming words.

Thus, rejecting as I do the fact that national anthems should and last must originate in and express the people's common sentiment. "Scotts Who Ha' With Wallace Blvd." is Scotland's past, present and future in one lyric. Other examples could be quoted, but one must suffice. Consider the first stanza of the lyric of Sir Cecil Spring-Rice:

"I love to thee, my country—all

Entire and whole and perfect,
The service of my love,
The love that asks no question;
That lays upon the altar the
Dearest and the best,
The love that never falters,
The love that makes undaunted
The final sacrifice."

VALUE OF BOY SCOUTING

Scouting is American All Over. Scouting is based on the ideal of education, which is preeminently an American ideal. It is scientific education, for it begins with the things the boys know, and goes from that to things they ought to know.

It does the things that the schools can't do and that the Sunday schools can't do. And yet the whole force of it is to increase the boys' interest in the things that the schools can do and the things that the Sunday schools are doing.

Boys are "motor-minded." They want action. They don't want to just sit down and listen. But they will listen if what they are going to hear is related to what they are going to do a little later. That is where the Scout teaching ties up with what the schools and Sunday schools want him to think about.

Boy All Over
The Boy Scout movement is just "Boy All Over." It takes that original instinct of the boy to be busy. It utilizes the things the boy wants to do. It is built from the ground up on the constructive basis. Negatives are turned into positives. The boy is shown the "why" of the things he does. Body, mind and soul are exercised in clean, straight living.

Absolutely Non-Sectarian
Recognition of God and service to him are fundamental in Scouting, but the movement is absolutely free from any sectarian bias. Wherever it is practical troops are organized in connection with churches of all denominations. A boy is trained away from his own religious environment. Scouting plays fair with the church.

The question is often asked as to whether the Boy Scout movement gives military training. The answer is a decided "No." But there are certain things as necessary to moral integrity as they are to military discipline which are taught.

Scouts do not carry guns nor are they taught tactics distinctly military in character. But the Scout movement emphasizes the individual responsibility of the boy to obligations which he has voluntarily assumed. He is taught that his oath involves obedience to discipline that he may gain efficiency. Above all the boy is trained to courage, loyalty, truth, and manliness. These are things which a man needs outside of military life as well as in it.
