LYNN COUNTY NEWS.

VOLUME 8

TAHOKA, LYNN COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1911

The Northwest Texas Conference

the Methodist Episcopal Church South. Will Convene at Plainview, Texas, en November the First This Year.

e first day of next month will doubtedly the largest gatherng that has ever come together n the Great South Plains.

This Conference is comprised sixty-six counties, and semehing like three hundred deleates and preachers will likely e present, to say nothing of he hundreds of visitors that will attend especially on Sunday, for the Conference will be in sion six days including Sun

The Conference will be preded over by Bishop Atkins and everal distinguished men from uisville, Kentucky and Nashville, Tennessee will be present. Rev. T. W. Sharp, the Tahoka stor, will leave on the mornng train the last day of this onth.

Every Methodist on the Plains who possibly can, should attend is great gathering of their wn church.

Will Duncan returned Thursay noon from an eleven days rip with a Tahoka Livery team and a shoe drummer. They left ahoka at noon Sunday a week to, and visited Brownfield, ains, Bronco, Knowles, Shafer Lake, Seminole and several ther places at all of which ces the drummer did a good Many of the t

MRS. R. C. CHISUM DEAD.

Thursday morning a telegram was handed to us containing the ad inteligence of the death of Mrs. R. C. Chisum. Mrs. Chisum died in Mineral Wells. Wednesday October the 25th at five o'clock in the afternoon. All of her children were present at her bedside when she received the This Annual Conference which summons to "enter into the joys ets at Plainview this year on of her Lord. She leavs a husband and four children to mourn her departure. Mr. and Mrs. Horace Wilkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Toney Chisum and Misses Robbie and Bessie. Her many friends in Tahoka and Lynn county will mourn with her relatives, for we all know that a good woman was taken from us. The burial took place Thursday the 26th in Paris, Texas.

SPECIALIST WILL BE HERE.

I will be in Tahoka Thursday November 2nd. I treat all Diseases of the Eye, Ear. Nose and Throat, and I have Glasses with

I	. E. SMITH, M. D.
9-1t	Big Spring, Texas.
	aunnant fina hanka an papers support five banks and appear to do it pretty well too. "Whatever has been accomplished by the Commercial Secretaries has been through the cooperation of the newspapers.

"A few years ago, when it looked as if the entire state would be eventually planted in cotton, the press began to preach diversification, until now nearly every farmer is a diversifier.

"The movement for good roads would have died in its infancy had it not been for the press of the state.

"Until the press took up the campaign for civic improvement

put little had been done in Texas to improve conditions in the

"Do you realize, gentlemen,

cities.

TEXAS NEEDS GREAT MEN IX. DISCOVERIES.

OLUMBUS discovered America and Galileo discovered solar systems and planets and throughout all ages, civilization has been indebted to wise men who could think beyond the age in which they lived. We need in State government men who can see across two continents and look into the horizon of Twentieth Century civilization and discover new zones of trade, new worlds of industry and new planets of prosperity.

COLUMBUS DISCOVERING AMERICA.

We are standing on the edge of the ocean of discovery in Texas. Our mountains are the mineral vaults of the universe; artesian lakes of

CANDIDATE FOR SENATOR

JOSEPH W. BAILEY'S SEAT

SOME "MERCANTILE" PRICES.

The Tahoka Mercantile Co., has a full page advertisement in Shook decided to open up Main this week's issue of The News that we guarantee will fully demonstrate the old saying that "Facts are more facinating than fiction." At any rate a careful neighbor to a lumber yard on reading of this ad will prove to account of the great fire risk. be far more profitable to all our readers in Lynn and surrounding counties than any fiction to which they may have access. Furthermore, this advertisement is a strictly up-to-date piece of "news" for the "sale prices" will not be put on until Monday. feet north of Porterfield street This will be your chance to get or public square, on the west some bargains.

willing hand is a talent; better than that-it is an art, and one finished this week, then there than which there are few more will be the glass front to put in valuable. So don't waste time and the interior to be finished grumbling and fretting over and shelved also the cement dificulties. But learn to keep side walk to be put down, and

Doing More Work On Main Street Ramsey & King Moving McAdams

NUMBER 9

Lumber Sheds This Week. Brick Work on Ketner Building Completed.

S. S. Ramsey and Ben King are busy this week with a force of hands moving the large lumber sheds of the A. G. McAdams Co., to their new location on the corner of Porterfield and Petty streets. For weeks the float teams have been busy transfering the lumber from this shed to the new location.

Moving this lumber yard is only a beginning of the many changes that must take place before the new street can be opened up. But when A. D. street and make of it the chief business thoroughfare the first thing to be done was to have the lumber yard moved for no mercantile house wants to be

The new brick building being built for J. E. Ketner is not only the first brick mercantile building to be built in Lynn county. but it is the first of the many projected for Main street. This building is situated about 55 side of Main street facing east.

The brick work will likely be g men are finding out that oka is the nearest railroad oint for all this vast Western Plains country, and that the ad west from Tahoka is the hortest and best.

EVELOPMENT OF THE TEXAS PRESS.

"While Texas has made re-te" said Will H. Mayes, ed-

or of the Brownwood Bulletin

d former president of the National Editorial Association

n addressing the Commercial

Dallas.

saloons.

cretaries & Business Men in and printing plants are worth thousands where they were formerly worth dollars--were mere junk heaps, in fact.

that in newspaper offices in every section of this nation. Texas papers in their respective classes are regarded as the highest type of American journalism? Anp when thtt is said it arkable progress in the last means the highest type in the wenty-five years, its developworld, for the american press ent has hardly been in keeping leads the world. ith that of the press of the > Messers. Blankenship and Chambers, of Tahoka, were over this week looking over the Tahoka road with a view of bidding on the work to be let when to the glaring defect. He does the Commissioners meet. They were very optimistic over the

"Not many years ago," he possibility of making a good intinued, "the average country road. Upon seeing a Herald paper was published in a dingy, dirty building around the corner with a big lot of Lubbock advertisers ropresented and only a in the rear of some abandoned few inches from Tahoka they shack. It was printed from an were painfully surprised and equipment that could readily be said that Lubbock would hold loaded into a one horse wagon the trade just as long as Tahoka and moved on to the next county showed a disposition to leave woen the publisher's credit was well enough alone, and we fully exausted and he could no longer agree with them. Herald does get his 'patent insides' from the not pretend to dictate to our express office-because it took people where they should trade, cash-nor fill his insides at the but many of them have a warm feeling for their little county "Now, most of the papers in paper and patronize those who patronize it. the state are published in their own buildings-as good build-Smoke the Elkraco cigars, the ings, too, as can be found in the best five cent cigar on the martowns where they are published; ket. Bought only at Parkhurst's the best presses are used, type-Broken $ Store. setting machines are common, 4-tf

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Coughran and sons Finley and Urban, came in Tuesday evening from an extended visit with relatives "In my own town it used to in Jones county. Mr. Coughran take- three banks to support reports businets conditions on an three newspapers and keep them upward tendancy in that part of brother-in-law and wife, Mr. running, while now two news- the state again.

boundless area lie underneath our surface; our agricultural domain awaits men who can work inspiration into the soil and give a powerful impulse to progress. We need a Columbus to sail the high seas of our magnificent possibilities, to discover new continents in agriculture, to explore our mineral kingdoms, colonize our industrial opportunities and give us a new world to live m. Texas needs great men.

TYPOGRAPHICAL ERRORS.

DON'T BE A FAULT-FINDER.

circumstances.

None but the initiated can From the time you enter the know the intricacies required in workshop, store or office where a printing office, says an exyou are employed to the time you leave it at the close of your ian cattleman. change. The average reader day's work, it is your duty to who detects a misspelled word use your time and attention in or a letter upside down feels such a way as to be of the best that his mission on earth is not fully accomplished untill he has not notice the thousanas of letters that are in the right place nor the multitude of words correctly spelled, but his eagle eye with, etc.

is glued on that one which is out of place. So with our deeds. Man does a thousand good things and no attention is paid to them, but if he makes one mistake it is fiashed all over the world. A life time may be spent in building up a reputation that may be wrecked in a moment. The world is a harsh critic, exacting to a fault, and if the Father does not temper justice with mercy we may fail to to reach heaven.

on the Wednesday from a trip to Dallas.

For dependable windmill work get E. N. McReynolds. Satisfaction guaranteed. Phone 32. 41-tf

Mrs. W. B. Slaton left on the Tuesday evening train for Lamesa where she will visit her and Mrs. Carl Slaton.

your tongue still and your hanas this sidewalk should be extendbusy doing the right thing at the ed to Porterfield street at once. right time. - The Reflector.

We read with regret in last week's Sentinel, of the death of empty must be moved out of the Charley Trimble, who died at his home in Seminole Tuesday 17 to look as thoug Main street was after an illness of four days. a dream of the future no longer Our business manager met Mr. but a reality of the present.

Trimble at the District Conference in Lamesa this spring and found him to be an ideal christ-

PLAINS GROWN COTTON, BEST.

Mr. H. W. Fairbanks, of Dalservice possible to your employer. During working hours your las, formerly president of one of called the attention of the editor time belongs to the man for the largest cotton mills in the whom you are working, and south, praises the cotton grown time saved is money earned. So on the South Plains very highly, don't wast your employer's time and being a man who knows finding fault with your job, the whereof he speaks, we quote in The nineteenth stear weighed poor tools you have to work substance what he said.

> He visited the Aderholt gin at The man who never met with this place and got a sample of obsticles never lived. We all the bale of cotton being run at have our troubles, alwaos have the time and stated that it could had them and so long as we not be classed lower than strict maintain our material lives we midling and he believed that it will have them and you must could be easily graded higher. expect to have your share. To He said further that the fibre is grumble and worry about your agreat deal stronger than the troubles is to make your way so black land cotton and the color was almost perfect, and in his much the harder.

If your employer happens to estimation it was peculiarly adgive you a dificult piece of work apted to the manufacture of to do don't lose time kicking and high class cotton cloth, which fussing about it, but go ahead makes it worth from one-half to Judge T. M. Bartley returned and do the best you can. The one cent per pound more than afternoon successful men are those who the black land cotton, and he know how to obey orders to the felt sure that if the cotton grown and not having any prejudiced best of their ability without on the South Plains could be finding fault. He who would kept seperate and sold by itself command must first learn to that it would bring at least this obey. And the obedient, trust- much more than the cotton proworthy employee is not the man duced in the black land belt of to waste his employer's time by the state.

> grumbling and finding fault with He stated to the Avalanche man that the cotton that he had on the Thursday morning train

> The ability to do the right seen on the South Plains, and he from a visit with relatives in thing at the right time with a had been sampling it from Post Lamesa.

Then will come the moving in of the stock from the old-wooden building, which as soon as it is way and then things will begin

THE HEAVIEST EVER.

On the fourth of this month, H. Currie, of the Happy vicinity sold in Kansas City the heaviest grass fed steers ever shipped from the Texas Panhandle. This big beef bunch comprised ninteen head of five-year-old steers, eighteen head of which weighed 26,520 pounds and sold at $6.50, or a total of $1,724.45. 1,630, and sold for $6.50, or a return of $105.95.

A carload of corn-fed steers from the same cattle heard averaged 1,650 pounds all around, and sold at $7.65.-Hale County Herald.

to Plainview, all seemed to have the same grade, and was the best that he had seen for at least twenty-four years.

To those who have been adverse to the growing of cotton on the South Plains, this may sound rather exaggerated, but with the experience that Mr. Fairbanks has had with cotton, motive in giving out the statement, it sounds rather good to us, and speaks very highly for this part of the state as a cotton producing country. - Lubbock Avalanche.

Mrs. W. B Slaton returned

ганока

rope is a unhappy as if it had lost the baseball pennant.

TEXAS

11

w hats still linger, but chiefly s guise of next year's hens' nests.

Tou never can tell till you open is well known, a handsome wo-can be attractive in almost any

the wearers will not even be nan out west is trying to regain. ortune by newspaper work.

The cost of dying has gone up 33 1-3 ar cent, and some feel that they innot afford the expense.

Eljah may have been the first avi-ator, but there was no promoter there to e ellect the gate receipts.

It is hinted that the Mona Lisa was toled by an artist. He certainly was an artist at getting away with it.

We have reason to believe that the "ankieview" skirt will cause mere men to sit up and take notice.

The corset may go, as fashion die tators say, but we may rest assured that something worse will be substi-

red by clouds, but the presump-is that it is keeping its adveranother unsuccessful attempt has an made to swim the English channel. But why try to swim when it is so ersy to fly across?

There is a form of butter in India called "ghee." We will hazard the opinion that some of our own cold storage kind beats it.

Frit pests are being killed by electricity in Spokane valley. The mod-ern griculturist earns his bread by the lum of his motor.

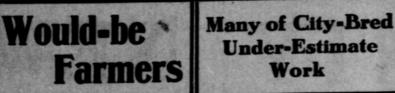

Hay fever may be a sign of brains, but a good many people are willing to forego the brains if, by doing so, they can get rid of the fever.

An expert tells us that birds spread diseate. This probably will be selzed upon by the ladies as a pretext to wear dead birds on their bats.

A New York policeman who rescued a girl from drowing was reward-ed with a kiss and a hug. Here is a suggestion for Andrew Carnegia.

The trouble between Germany and England reminds us of a quarrel be-tween two prominent puglists. All the fighting is done in the newspapers.

The census gives Nevada only sev-

By GEO. B. BRABBIT

HE VAST majority of city-bred persons have no place on farms and no conception of the self-denial, independence, initiative and self-reliance required to make a success of farming or fruit or poultry raising or of any branches of rural industry, aside from the capital required.

Under-Estimate

Work

Indeed, most of those who undertake such a change are destined to a disastrous failure, much more far-reaching in its results than the life of the particular individual.

There is a large class of city dwellers to whom this does not apply who have been reared on farms and who, for one reaon or another, have drifted into city employment.

The plan of Rudolph Spreckels hardly meets the situation. A better plan would be the organization on a strictly business basis of a national and exchange, along the lines of the board of trade and the stock exchange, the object of which should be to regulate the conduct of members selling lands at a distance, either for colonization or investment; to provide facilities for investment, sale and exchange of lands and to give to the purchaser some guaranty of fair dealing from the land seller and of getting full knowledge of what he is buying and the difficulties he may expect to encounter if he becomes a settler or investor.

Those engaged in the business of selling lands should themselves take the initiative on such a scale as to assure the confidence of the public and the success of the enterprise.

Our rural communities are in need of educated men and women for the farms. What is wanted is more accurate information for the land purchaser and a fuller understanding of the demands made upon him by the new occupation in which he proposes to engage.

A national land exchange would help greatly in this direction.

Such an organization could co-operate with railroads and steamship lines and board of trade and other public bodies in all parts of the United States to secure better distribution of immigrants coming to the country from abroad and could assist in securing an intelligent and reasonable presentation of the merits of each section of the country for the settler and investor.

> A prominent merchant once dismissed a salesman whom he overheard saying to a shopper: "We usually sell that for $1.25, but seeing it's you, I'll let you have it for $1.

The article regularly sold at $1. Nothing could injure a business more than to make customers feel that personal influence governs prices. In the first place, an intelligent buyer cannot help discovering the salesman's duplicity, and aside from the fact that it is against all good business principles, there is another thing to be considered.

Some people, foolishly enough, allow themselves to be persuaded that they are of special importance and can buy goods at that particular store at lower prices than anyone else. They become accustomed to looking for reductions and feel angered if called upon to pay the regular price for anything.

But, worst of all, they spread the impression among their friends that they have a so-called "pull" at So-and-So's, and offer to use their influence to get the reduction in price for their friends also.

DEMAND FOR HEAVY DRAFT HORSES STILL CONTINUES BIG

No Mechanical Contrivance or Motor Vehicle Has Yet Been

Discovered to Replace This Magnificent Animal-

Most Valuable Asset the Farmer Has Who Breeds Him Properly.

One of Clydesdale Geldings That Bring High Prices for Six-Horse Team.

(By CAPTAIN A. H. WADDELL.) or any other, for that matter, has the heavy draught horse been in such demand or so valuable as he is today. Indeed, he is the most valuable asset the farmer has who breeds him right. No mechanical contrivance or motor vehicle has been discovered that will fill the place of this magnificent, animate creature of flesh and blood, or will any contrivance of any kind be perfected for many a long day, that will accomplish what he can, and do the work as well and so thoroughly, as well as, as cheaply as he can. Motor trucks have failed not only to cope with the heavy loads imposed upon the brewers dray for instance. and the hauling of cumberous and heavy machinery, but have been unable to handle them in the narrow and congested thoroughfares of the great cities, where backing and twist-ing and turning is absolutely necessary. Besides the great service and imperative use of these mighty animals in the large towns and cities of the country where their demand and value is increasing day by day, they are a power that cannot possibly be done without in the agriculture districts where the farm produce requires great hauling power; and in those sections of the country which have as yet not yielded to the plow. they are a pre requisite that cannot be done without.

more of the biggest, best, and most Never in the history of this country, suitable individuals of the western grade mares, and breeds them to one or other of the great imported stallions of the Clydesdale, Shire, Suffolk, Percheron or Belgian breeds, will, in hree years from the time of foaling have a youngster that is worth from $300 to $400, or if more mares have been bred, pairs that are worth from $600 to $800, and which he would have no difficulty, whatever, in selling.

Being able to work his mares up to within a short time of their foaling, he is making good and certain money at both ends, for the young stock cost him comparatively little to keep, and if he has been careful in his selections and wise in his breeding, there is no telling what he might not produce in valuable heavy draught horses. Look for instance at the geldings that go to make the great six-horse teams of the country, the horses that constitute the teams of the great packers. These animals fetch great prices. The heavier, the stronger, the better boned, and more active they are, the better they are for such work, and the more money will they fetch in the market.

Borers Injure Trees.

hs of a man to the square mile. are in Nevada a good many miles that don't deserve even that much.

Highwaymen, after robbing a Chicago man, took away all his clothing and left him shivering in the street. It may become necessary to have emp-ity barrels left around at convenient

A Chicago man is suing for divorce because his wife has been throwing things at him for nineteen years. Probably he is tired of paying for having the dents taken out of the ceiling

These velours hats for men are lovely things. So are china eggs.

A Boston girl, who proclaimed her right to choose a husband for herself, has revelved one hundred proposals of marriage. Declarations of independence are now in order.

We are told that the yelling of a parrot in New York saved twenty-five lives in a burning building. It also saved the feathers of the parrot, which was a question of far more concern to said parrot.

A man in Pennsylvania hanged him-self because his crop of tobacco was too large to store in his barn. Hounded to death by too much prosperity, he fell a victim to the inconsistency of human wishes.

Isn't it about time to invoke the clause of the constitution prohibiting cruel and unusual forms of punish-ment? A New York magistrate told the wife of a man brought before him on a serious charge to take him home and tell him what she thought of

Thun far the air is not darkened by aviators making transcontinental

A fireman has beaten Weston's alking record from coast to coast, at Weston still holds the record for 60-year-old pedestrians with gray mus-

We are told that the summer has en too hot for oysters. We also reason to believe that some sec-ns of it were too hot for human be-

Of course there are times when it is necessary for ever well-regulated business concern to cut prices upon merchandise-for instance, when certain lines refuse to leave the shelves or assortments are depleted. But in this case the cut is general and applies as much to Mrs. Jones as to Mrs. Smith.

Some salesmen who desire to be clever and who have a high opinion of their ability along this line are inclined to work this sort of confidence game on their customers: They will take the favored ones (?) aside and inform them that, as a special favor, they are going to let them have for $1 an article for which every one else is paying $1.25, while in reality $1 is the regular profit-bearing price.

This ruse may work for a while, but it is, nevertheless, bad business. It is well enough to impress a customer with the fact that an article is worth more than he is asked to pay for it if this is actually the case, but they must not be led to believe they can buy it for less money than any one else can.

Honest business methods pay in the long run.

Honest

Business

Methods

Long Run

By HARVEY PEAKE

Pay in

I have about come to the conclusion that the good Lord intended for some of his creatures to be fat and some thin, regardless of medicines and so-called infallible cures.

For a long while I tried all the alleged obesity cures and none of them did me any good. Then I determined to starve myself and take lots of exercise.

All my life I had been a lover of good eating, and counted that day lost on which I did not consume for my dinner the better part of a sirloin steak as thick as a darky's foot, with all the trimmings.

For breakfast I usually destroyed a platter of cakes, three eggs and no end of thin-sliced bacon, besides fruits and two cups of coffee.

This lifelong system I abandoned for an entire month, cutting out all the meat and about all the vegetables, a piece of toast and glass of milk taking the place of my morning meals and a little rice being the chief item on the meager dinner bill of fare. Lunch I omitted wholly.

In addition I walked at least six miles every day and did all sorts of stunts in my room with a gymnasium outfit. Prior to going to bed I perpetrated all sorts of muscular contortions and rolled on the floor till my body was bruised.

At the end of thirty days I felt fit to run a three-mile footrace or go in the ring with the champion.

About this time it occurred to me that I ought to get weighed, and I made a bee line for the scales.

My grocer assured me that they were correct to an ounce, but they showed I hast gained fourteen pounds in the period of my abstinence.

The farmer who purchases one or

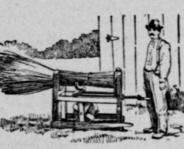

American Grown Rods are of Good Quality When Proper Care Is Taken in Their Culture.

(By WILLIAM F. HUBBARD.)

Willow growing gives an uncommonly high margin of profit. A large demand for willow is now supplied by import, and as American grown rods are of good quality when proper care is taken of their culture, there is no reason why the further development of the industry should not be possible. if more American farmers can be convinced of its practicability.

Of late years willow furniture has sprung into fashion, and today no minor industry is more prosperous than that devoted to its supply. The wages are good and the manufacturers demand a steady supply of superior willow.

Machine for Budding Willoms.

This is now almost entirely received from France at a price which will give the entire trade to the American if he can equal the quality.

Experience has proved that no stock is equal to a willow when durable baskets are demanded. The high-class basket has made a place for itself in the market even under present circumstances, and the entire decline in the trade has been in the low priced basket, which competes with the foreign willow product or the American made wooden basket.

While the trees are not always killed when infested by the borers, their vitality is lowered, so that they become liable to some other attack, and futhermore they do not produce the amount of fruit which might otherwise be expected.

To put a low priced basket on the market with raw willow at its present price the wages must be cut lower than the normal standard in America. For this reason the trade is almost entirely in the hands of immigrant basket makers, who know no other trade and who are seldom or never reinforced by native workmen. The remedy lies in a reduction in the cost of the raw material. The cheaper the willow (when good in quality) the better the wages which can be paid to produce a low priced basket, and a low priced basket of good quality will find an almost unlimited market. On this point the entire trade agrees.

Great care should be taken in the selection of the willow bed. Rich, permanently moist sandy loam gives best returns, though ordinary moist, sandy land often yields profitable crops of willow. Poor soils produce paying crops where there is a market for short rods. Avoid land on which water is stagnant during the summer. If by drainage the water level on land can be lowered at least six feet below the surface, the situation may be considered appropriate.

Do not plant willows in localities where early frosts occur. The tender shoots are easily injured by the cold. Plow 10 or 12 inches deep in the fall, prior to planting the following spring. This turns the top layer of the soil so deep that weed seeds cannot spring up.

Returns depend very largely upon the method of culture, but more upon the variety of willow planted, because the shoots of even the best varieties and in the most suitable soil grow brittle after the stools become old.

Rabbit Now of Value.

Rabbits which have been a great pest in Australia have now become of commercial value. During the past five years, 45,400,000 frozen rabbits were exported, mainly to England, with 98,000,000 rabbit skins. The United States last year bought skins to the value of $48,000.

CHANGE

Graniteville, Vt.-"I was to me that for the sake of of

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn,

GOOD DIGESTION

wels and solid flesh. Pr to rem when you need a n or COUCHS and C

NATURALLY A HIT.

TAKE-

of Lif

from nand othe

sym

The Rooster-Our young Mr. Pig, is making a hit on th The Duck-What is he playin The Rooster-Ham-let.

Some Shakespeare Statis A Shakespearean enthusiast turn for statistics has discove the plays contain 106,007 1 $14,780 words. "Hamlet" is t est play, with 3,930 lines, "Comedy of Errors" the with 1,777 lines. Altogether contain 1,227 characters, of w are females. The longest pa of Hamlet. The part with the word in it is that of Co "Love's Labor Lost," who tel that he is "not so long by the honorificabilitudinitatibus

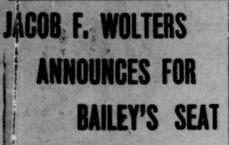

FROM TEXAS Some Coffee Facts From Star State.

From a beautiful farm down as, where gushing springs form babbling brooks that wi sparkling way through flower comes a note of gratitude for from the coffee habit. "When my baby boy cam five years ago, I began Postum, having a feeling that be better for him and me that kind of drug-laden coffee. I disappointed in it, for it enable small, delicate woman, to bouncing, healthy baby 14 m "I have since continued th Postum for I have grown 1 and have discovered to my jo has entirely relieved me of habit which used to prostrat or three times a year, cau discomfort to my family and to myself.

"My brother-in-law was chronic constipation by coffee and using Postum. come even more fond of it was of the old coffee.

"In fact, the entire family, latest arrival (a 2-year-old w calls for his 'potie' first th morning), up to the head of t think there is no drink so 8 wholesome as Postum." by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Read the little book. "Th Wellville," in pkgs. "There's Ever read the above le one appears from time to are genuine, true, and fu

Houston, October 7.-Hon. Jacob F. olters today announced his candiacy for the seat in the United States nate to be vacated by Senator Josoph W. Bailey. His statement fol-

To the Democrats of Texas: I am a candidate for the office of senator of the United States from Texas, subject to the action of the Democratic Larty.

I respectfully submit the following views:

1. I am a Democrat. Party organfration is essential to the ultimate procurement of legislation through which correct principles may be appiled to the administration of public affairs. To make such organization offective it is the duty of every Democrat to abide the judgment of the majority on all public questions as expressed in the party platform. The public servant, elected through the instrumentality of the Democratic party, is in honor bound by all honorable means to endeavor to procure the nactment of laws and policies to which the party is expressly committed. If elected, I shall to the best of my ability endeavor to carry out the instructions, demands and pledges made by the Democratic party, regardless of any individual views I may entertain on any given subject. If at any time the party should declare for a fundamental principle which in good conscience I could not support, I would at once return the commission to the people, in order that another might be selected. In my opinion, it is the highest duty of the public servant to obey the direct instructions of his constituency upon any question. This right has been recognized by the Demecratic caucus in congress in more than one instance, even though such instruction is contrary to the views expressed in the national platforms. I shall deem it my duty to obey the direct instructions of the Democrats of this State upon any given question so long as my State leaves me under such instruction.

The views hereinafter expressed, as well as any other I may entertain upon public questions, will be subordinated to the judgment of the party as expressed in its platform.

Favors Tariff for Revenue Only. favor a tariff for revenue only auention to practical work for the material advancement of our people than to politics.

Waterway Improvements.

The comparatively near approach of the time when the Panama canal will be affording an outlet through ports of Texas for the products of all the great Southwest to the markets of the East emphasizes the importance of the speedy development and improvement of our deep water harbors, to the end that not only the people of our own State, but of the entire Southwest, may reap the benefits to which they are entitled by reason of their natural and superior location.

Each and every port on the Texas coast, including the port at Houston, is capable of being deepened by the proper expenditure of sufficient funds so as to admit ocean-going steamers.

The intercoastal canal now under construction with a depth of five feet and forty feet in width, and in instances a depth of seven feet, should be speedily completed, and the depth increased to nine feet and the width to 100 feet, thus connecting the Mississippi and Rio Grande with a tributary through which freight may be carried on barges in unbroken cargoes from Pittsburg and intermediate points down the Ohio and Mississippi to all points on the Texas coast.

The rivers and other natural waterways of the State should be speedily developed and improved by straightening the streams, dredging them, and by the installation of a system of locks and dams, so that such freight could be carried in barges in unbroken cargo to points inland, as far as they are practicable for navigation, to the territory tributary to the Red, Sabine, Trinity, Neches, San Jacinto, Brazos, Bernard, Colorado, Trespalacios, Navi-dad, Guadalupe, San Antonio, Nueces and the Rio Grande rivers, aside from other minor waterways possibly available for navigation by the expenditure of a reasonable sum of money.

With the completion of the intercoastal canal, and the making of these rivers navigable, Texas will be afforded an inland waterway system, such as no other country on the face of the globe possesses

That the creation of this system is practicable, no man who has given the matter investigation and study will question for a moment. That it will come to us in time can not be questioned, but it is of the utmost importance to the living generation that the work of procuring sufficient appropriations to carry on the work in its entirety be done, thus bringing the projects to a speedy completion.

Benefits of Intercoastal Canal.

As an illustration of the henefits that will come to us by the completion of this inland waterway scheme, I call attention to one instance. The rate by rail on cotton from Corpus Christi to Galveston is 50 per cent per 100 pounds. Two years ago, a limited steamship service was installed, and has since been operated between the two points. The rate on cotton by this method of transportation is 25 cents per 100 pounds. This is a saving of $1.25 per bale, and if it could be applied to every bale of cotton raised in the State, it would, on an average crop of 3,000,000 bales, save the farmers Texas $3,750,000, or a little less than $1 per capita for every man, woman and child living within the great mass of average citizens that

New England States or eight Pacific States; more than a third of all the national banks in all of the thirteen Southern States or the nine Western States; almost a third of those in the six Eastern States and more than a fourth of those in the eight Middle States.

Here's the champion cotton picker. His name is Ernie, son of H. H. Barron. He is II years ole and weighs 58 pounds. Going to work at sun-up, he picked 200 pounds by noon, took a jull hour for dinner and then picked 269 pounda more. quitting in ample railroads, from which no new tonnage can be developed, thus making constitutes the producing masses of the construction and operation theresufficient profits to earn interest on investment and expense of operation. With the completion of the intercoastal canal, railroads may be built from any direction and through any territory to any point on the canal as a terminal, by barges deliver its define and maintain the rights of capi-tonnage either to the shipside or to talists and laborers, we must be any connecting line of railroad accessible through the canal at any of the present ports or any other line similarly terminating at the canal.

I pledge my earnest and energetic efforts toward the procurement, in connection with the other senator from Texas and the representatives in the lower house, of sufficient appropriations to complete the intercoastal canal to a depth and width now ad-vocated by the Inland Intercoastal Canal League of Louisiana an i Texas; the speedy improvement of the inland rivers and waterways, and the early empletion of all the deep water ports on the Texas coast, including the deep ning of the Houston ship channel to he required depth.

Advocates Income Tax.

5. I favor an income tax to be imposed upon the income of individuals is well as corporations to the end hat an equitable distribution of the ourdens of taxation and the bringing about of the reduction of all tariff chedules may be accomplished.

6. I am in favor of electing United States senators by direct vote of the eople, just as our present State oficers are elected.

7. I hold that the natural resources belong primarily to the whole people and should not be alienated by municipal, State or national grant or ranchise to individuals or corporaions except for a limited period, and ander proper restrictions.

The right of a people in the waters s inherent and indefeasible: I believe hat the federal government has no ight and should not alienate or convey water by granting franchises or he use thereof for commercial power purposes in perpetuity without just compensation in the interest of the raw material and the consuming of entirely too expensive to realize masses of the finished product for their support, through profits derived directly by the capitalist and indirect-ly by the laborer through the wage he is enabled to earn from the capitalist because of his dealings with the producer and consumer. In our efforts to talists and laborers, we must be guided by wisdom and prudence so that the original producers and the ultimate consumers are not crushed between the upper and nether millstone. I think I may be permitted to say that my life's record should be a sufficient guarantee to the laborers in this State of my friendship for them. have never played the demagogue. When I thought their demands for remedial legislation were just, I have aided them to the extent of my ability. When I thought these demands were unjust and not for the general public good I have had the courage to tell them so. Adopting as my guide the fundamental principle expressed in the declaration, "Equal rights to all and special privileges to none," I am constrained to believe that I possess judgment sufficient to conceive the rights of all concerned and the courage in the performance of the duty of a public servant to apply them in the enactment of proper and suitable legislation upon the subject.

Opposes Initiative and Recall.

10. I am opposed to the initiative, referendum and recall as same is advocated to be applied to our State and national government.

So important a proposed change in our form of government should receive our most careful and calm consideration. Into the discussion of its merits and demerits no collateral issue should be permitted to enter. In a paper of this character it is not possible to discuss so important a subject in all of its details. Briefly, however, I submit ome of the reasons that impel me as 1 Democrat and citizen to most earn estly protest against the partial, if not the entire, abandonment of representative government by the adoption of this system, new in our republic, though so old in the world's history hat the ancient Grecians by the aplication of practically the same sys m to their republic finally found emselves converted into a despotism.

Look Before You Buy! このあたいです はあいち でんちか ふうからのあのない ちないないない ないでない かんちょう ひてくちょう パント・ホート

Pictures Are Decptive!

Come look over my swell line of Furniture. I can sell you the same piece furniture that the catalogue houses show for the same price, give you better stuff and you "Don't have to take scratched stuff." I have just received a car of furniture including dining tables from $10 to $20, chairs $1.25 up, other things in proportion. See our Sealy Matresses sufficient to meet the economical administration of public affairs, so levied as to apply in equitable proportions upon raw material and the finished product. When public policy, for any good reason, demands the absolute free competition on any particular article, raw or manufactured, the same should be placed upon the free list.

3. Monopolies in trade are destructive of that free and open competition essential to the enjoyment of prosperity which is the natural right of every citizen.

To the preservation and strengthening of our federal anti-trust laws , pledge my earnest support by act and rote. With all due respect to the learned judges who constitute the supreme court, a majority of which held that the present federal statute in re straint of trade was intended to apply only to "unreasonable restraints" of trade. I am unable to differentiate be tween "unreasonable" and "reason able" restraints. Therefore I shall vote to write plainly into the law that combinations in restraint of trade include combinations in restraint of trade of any and every character.

I favor the enactment of stringent statutes denouncing those engaged in such unlawful combinations in inter state trade as guilty of felony, punish able by confinement in the penitentiary.

4. I do not underestimate the im portance of the proper solution of the many economic problems of general interest to the people of the nation. but I do most earnestly contend that we have reached that period in the affairs of our country when our public servants, both in the legislature of the State and in the congress of the na-

BURNER RICHARD BURNER

J. R. HONEA The North Side Baaber Will be pleased to give you an artistic Hair Cut; a Smooth, Clean Shave, Massage, Sham-poo, or a Good Tonic Bath Room Attached N. SIDE SQ.

The completion of the intercoastal canal through which freight may be carried by barges drawn by steam tugs, the perils of navigation now present are eliminated and the expense is reduced to a minimum, still further lowering the rates.

State.

The intercoastal canal is now completed from Corpus Christi to Matagorda bay, with an average depth of five feet, and with a width of forty feet at bottom. Appropriations have been made to complete the work of connecting up Matagorda bay with the mouth of the Brazos river. This work should be finished within fifteen months, thus opening this section of the canal for navigation between Corpus Christi, Galveston and Houston, and intermediate points.

With the canal completed and the rivers and other natural waterways connecting with it made navigable as far inland as practicable, this water transportation will be available to a great portion of Texas and require only a short haul by rail from other sections of the State to reach the water transportation. With the possibility of procuring cheap fuel by on barges through the carrying it Ohio and Mississippi rivers, thence through the canal to points on the coast and points inland, either by short haul, by rail or by the rivers made navigable, manufacturing industries will be increased, affording to our people, both the producers and the manufacturers, profit, and giving additional employment to many people and increasing our property values.

Many sections of Texas are still without railroads. One of the principal reasons why railroads have not been constructed through such territory is because in order to enjoy a profitable business railroads must be enabled over their own or connecting lines to deliver their tonnage to tide water. In many instances, in order for a railroad constructed through such undeveloped territory to reach one of the existing Texas ports or connecting carrier, it is necessary to construct many miles of road through territory aiready well supplied with people.

The conservatism of forests and aters is essential to the welfare of all our States and I indorse the work carried forward by the forest service and reclamation service concerning these great resources, and believe they should have adequate support.

Recognizing that the farming industry is the greatest industry in this State, much can be done to require the federal government to aid in the way of conserving its industries and such aid should be rendered especially to the agricultural department, agriultural schools and colleges by the ederal government furnishing soil exerts for the study of the best methods of conserving same.

For Local Self-Government.

8. I stand for the Democratic principle of local self-government and the opplication thereof to the relations existing between the federal and State covernments. The autonomy of the State and its right through its courts o adjudicate matters involving the control and regulation of the intrastate business of public service corporations should be preserved inviolate, as well as all other rights that belong to the State.

9. The right of laborers, skilled or unskilled, organized for mutual protection, is an inherent one. Labor, organized or unorganized, is entitled to the benefit of proper legislation, especially applying to their respective crafts. Capital is likewise entitled to the protection of the law safeguarding its investments. In the apparent continuous struggle between capital and labor, each striving for an advantage, we should be just so that each may not suffer wrong at the hands of the government, and that each may be afforded just and constitutional protection. But ultimately, both of these and the laborer-depend upon the

The term "initiative" as here used nvolves a scheme of initiation and diect legislation as follows:

A specified per cent of the voters of State may submit a measure directly o the voters and if a majority of those oting vote for its adoption. it shall

CONTINUED ON BACK PAGE)

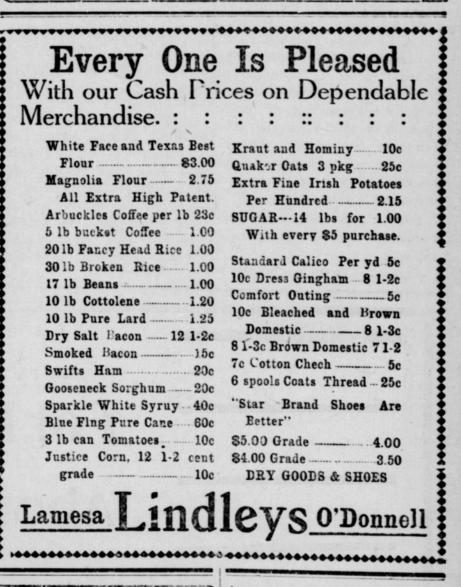

Mrs. Sumner Clayton is spendg the week with her father and other., Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Crie, vhile Sumner is driving one of P. Hall's livery teams over into New Mexico with a drummer.

A very pleasant party of young cople gathered at the home of esse Murrah, of the Edith comnunity Saturday night.

TEXAS NATIONAL BANKS.

Statistics compiled by the Texs Bankers Journal show that since the beginning of the National Banking system in Texas in February 25th, 1863, to July 31. 1911, the number of national banks organized in the state was 716. Of this number 31 have become insolvent and 171 are in iquidation, leaving 514 in operaclasses of our citizens-the capitalist tion. This gives Texas more national banks than either the six

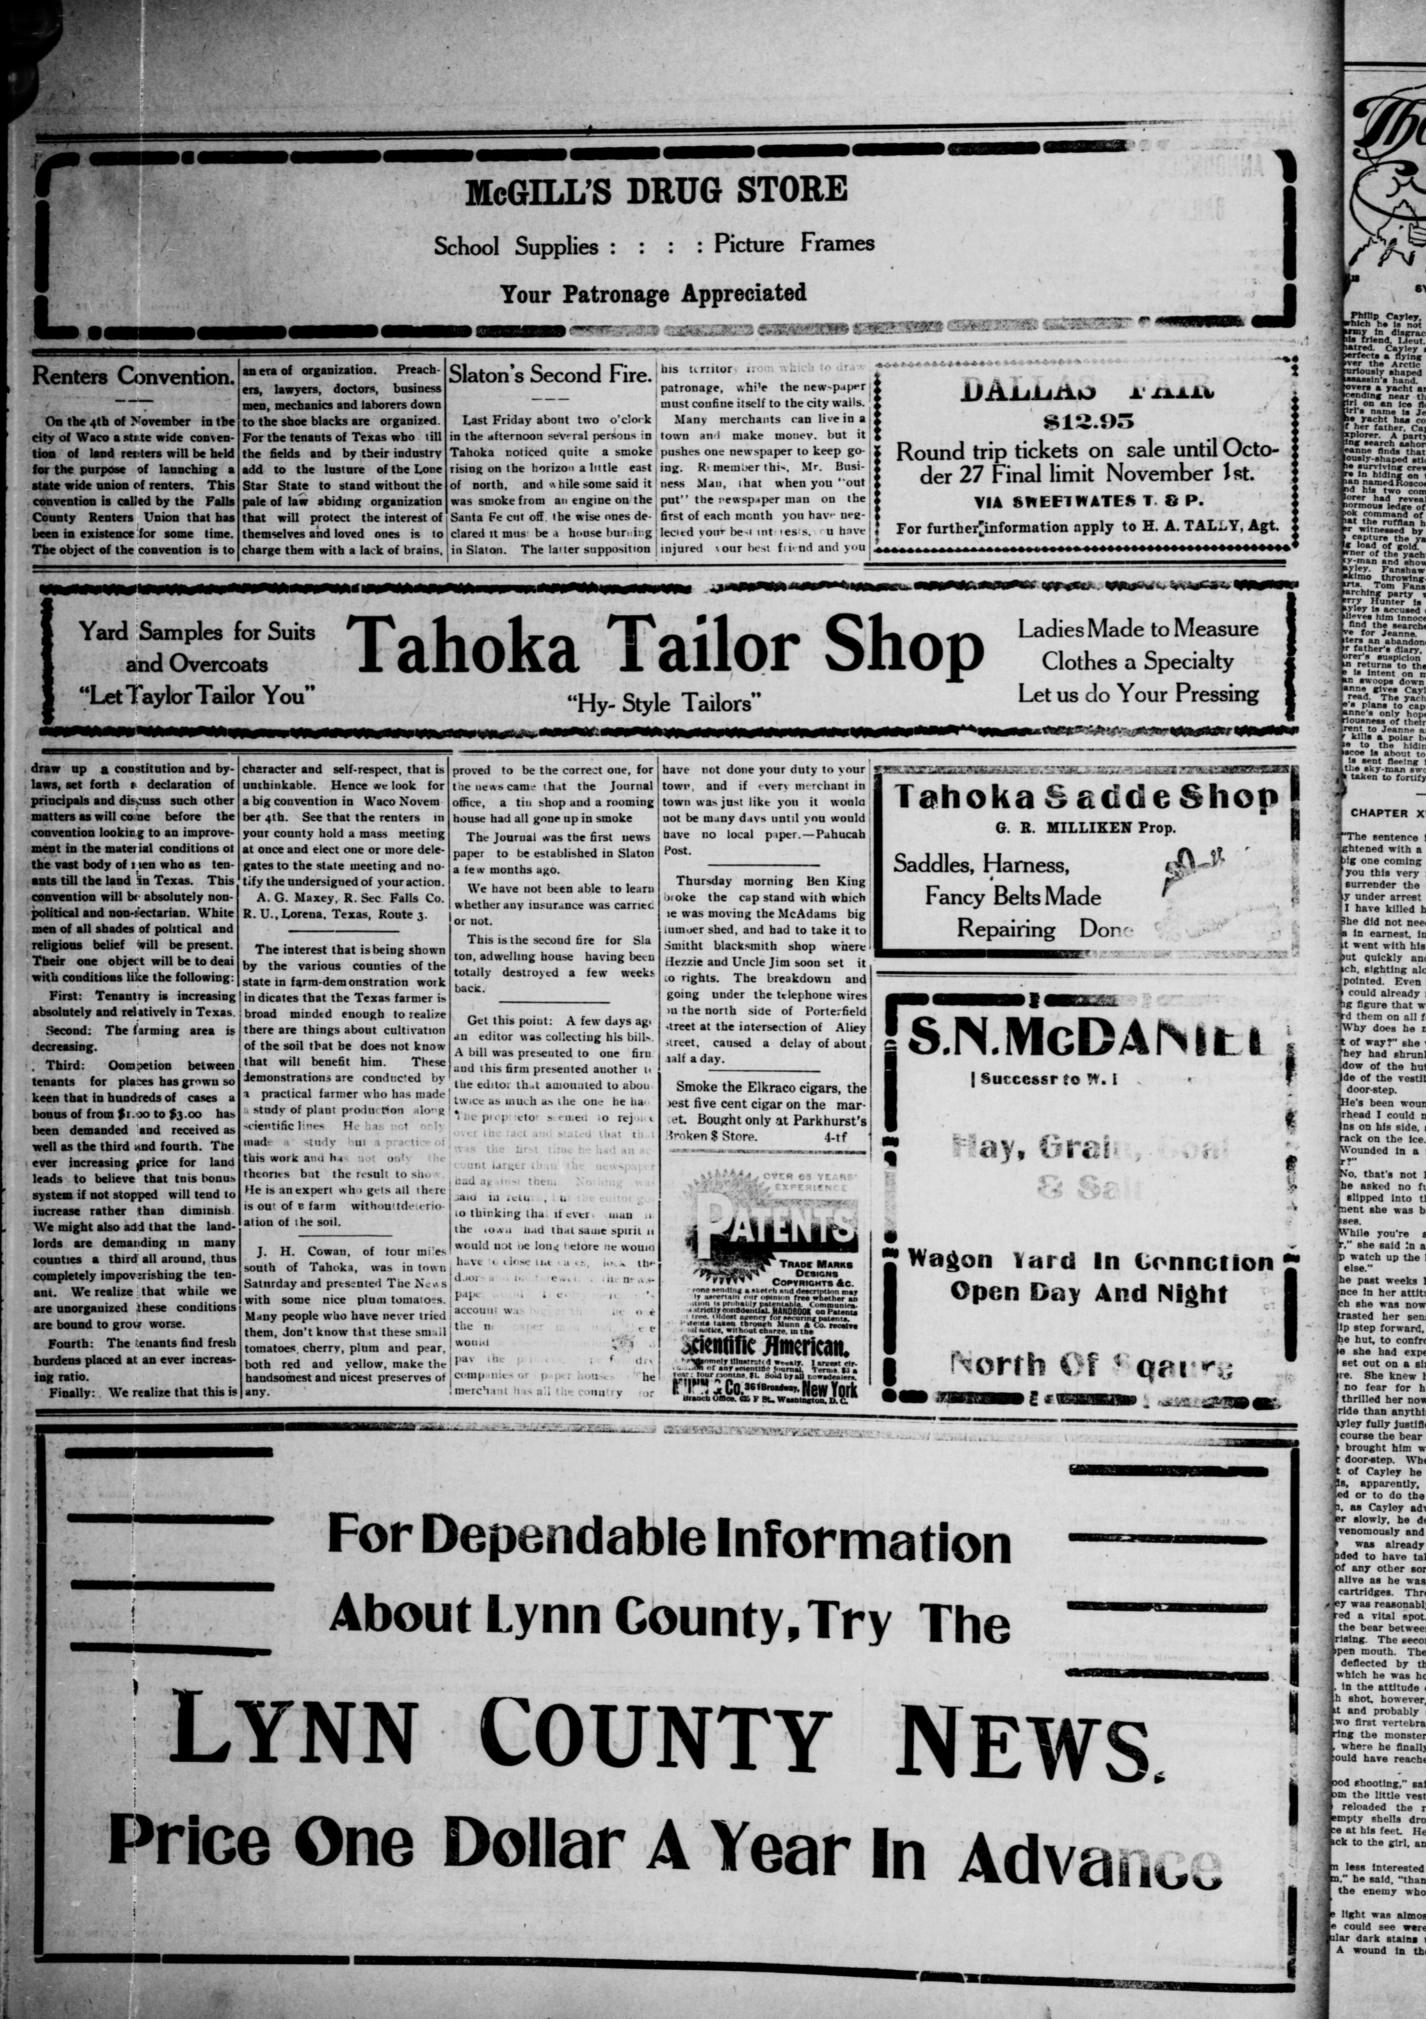

Bob Majors The Furniture Man

Work Guaranteed	H.C.Smith	Prices Are Cash
General Blacksmith
Tires shrunk hot or cold upto 4 inches. Let us put new rubber tires on your buggy. New spindles and boxes for buggies and wagons always on hand.
Phone No. 60. North of Square time to get back to the house before sundown, with 469 pounds to his credit. This in a crop that averaged 300 pounds to the acre, and Erie didn't start in to break a record, either .- Dawson County News.

Austin, Texas, Oct. 16-There are 61.908 persons employed every day during the year by the Texas railloads, according to a statement given out by Attorney Hiram Glass, of the Texas Railways Association. Figuring an average of five to a family, there are 309:540 persons supported by the different railroads of the state.

one of Cayley's shots could have ac counted for, he explored with practised hand disgrace d, Lieut. surprised him greatly. ending near the steamer, he meets a 1 on an ice floe. He learns that the 1's name is Jearne Fielding and that yacht has come north to seek signs her father, Captain Fielding, an arctic plorer. A party from the yacht is ma-g search ashore. After Cayley departs inne finds that he had dropped a cu-usly-shaped stick. Captain Planck and surviving crew of his wrecked whaler in hiding on the coast. A giant ruf-n named Roscoe, had murdered Fielding 1 his two companions, after the ex-rer had revealed the location of an imous ledge of pure gold. Roscoe then k command of the party. It develops t the ruffan had committed the mur-witnessed by Cayley. Roscoe plans capture the yacht, about the visit of the -man and shows him the stick left by 'Ne. Fanshaw declares that it is an timo throwing-stick, used to shoot ta. Tom Franshaw returns from the vers him innocent. A relief party goes ind the searchers. Tom professes his for Jeanne. She rows ashore and rs an abandoned hut, and there finds father's diary, which discloses the ex-er's suspicion of Roscoe. The ruf-returns to the hut and sees Jeanne. is intent on murder, when the sky--spinst to capture it are revealed. is plans to capture it are revealed. Is plans to capture it are revealed. is plans to capture it are revealed. in eiges Cayley her father's diary ead. The yacht disappears and Ros-spins to capture it are revealed. ine's solly hope is in Cayley. The Justes so the rituation becomes ap-nt to Jeanne and the sky-man. Cay-kills a polar bear. Next he finds a to the hiding place of the stores. See is about to attack the girl when sent faceing in terror by the sight te sky-man swooping down. Measures taken to fortify the hut. was all about, in a moment. into his face. "A bullet!" she said. "But_1 thought that Roscoe wasn't armed not with fire arms, I mean."

leeing in terror by han swooping down. fortify the hut.

CHAPTER XVIII .- Continued.

"The sentence is that you shall be shtened with a bear story. There's big one coming down the beach aftyou this very moment, and you're surrender the revolver to me and y under arrest in the hut until aft-I have killed him."

she did not need to be told that he s in earnest, in spite of the smile it went with his words. She turned out quickly and looked up the ch, sighting along Cayley's arm as pointed. Even in the deep twilight could already make out the shamng figure that was coming along tord them on all fours.

Why does he move in that queer of way?" she whispered. hey had shrunk back into the dow of the hut, the girl actually ide of the vestibule and Cayley on tive edges a rather de man and a girl could see that he had found something unexpected, something which thought of And there into trans was more than surprise. There was even his g alarmed urgency in his voice when he spoke to her. He offered no explana-tion. Merely told her to go into the he might h ago and hut and make fast the solid wooden shutters over the windows. He would The thing come in and would tell her what it in itself, a sp sion for gold The girl had hardly finished the murder Car task he had given her, when he came he tramped in. In his blood-stained hand he was ledge and th holding out something for her inspeche worked, c out of the r Conquering a feeling of repugnance, beating it pu she bent over the hand, cast one glance at the thing it contained and along, this un As the we then started up and gazed, wide-eyed, compensated terrors his him, and gra old normal, On the day w hat was to Cayley nodded. "But this be pretty good evidence that he

He's been wounded. When I was rhead I could make out the blood ns on his side, and he was leaving

Wounded in a fight with another

No, that's not likely." he asked no further explanation. slipped into the hut. The next ent she was back with the field-

While you're attending to the r," she said in a whisper, "I'll just p watch up the beach for—for any

he past weeks had made one dif nce in her attitude toward Cayley ch she was now aware of, as she trasted her sensations on seeing ip step forward, out of the shelter he hut, to confront the bear, with

she had experienced when he That's why I set set out on a similar errand once It occurred to e. She knew him now, and she no fear for him. The feeling ed windo thrilled her now was nearer akin ride than anything else. yley fully justified her confidence course the bear was taking would brought him within 20 yards of door-step. When he first caught of Cayley he stopped, in two apparently, whether to be or to do the hunting himself. as Cayley advanced upon him slowly, he decided, hissed at enomously and reared up.

was already badly enough He laid ded to have taken all the fight of any other sort of animal, but of the e alive as he was, he cost Cayley cartridges. Three of those shots more my y was reasonably sure must have one m ed a vital spot. The first one ence. the bear between the eyes as he tainly. rising. The second was fired into Both tried en mouth. The third was prob- it and, deflected by the massive fore conjects which he was holding across his their m in the attitude of a boxer. The very well. shot, however, penetrated his upon them and probably smashed one of discredit if wo first vertebrae, for it seemed sition of a ing the monster down all in a with am where he finally lay still. Cay- date back to ould have reached him with his Fielding, not the Aurora od shooting," said the girl quietweapon, by m the little vestibule. very recent reloaded the revolver, letting or two. mpty shells drop unheeded on at best. e at his feet. He gave the weap-It was k to the girl, and bent over the and for Je watch ald less interested in what I did they paid he said, "than in what he got tion to the the enemy who first attacked windows. It was ight was almost gone, so that when Ca could see were two or three to find he ar dark stains upon the white him by wound in the flank, which his

ay. ain Fielding led the the party. It lef party st to fortify the

CHAPTER XVIII.-Continued.

"The sentence is that you shall be atened with a bear story. There's g one coming down the beach aftyou this very moment, and you're surrender the revolver to me and under arrest in the hut until aft-I have killed him."

She did not need to be told that he is in earnest, in spite of the smile at went with his words. She turned ut quickly and looked up the ch, sighting along Cayley's arm as pointed. Even in the deep twilight could already make out the shaming figure that was coming along toard them on all fours.

Why does he move in that queer rt of way?" she whispered.

They had shrunk back into the adow of the hut, the girl actually none of Cayley's shots could have accounted for, he explored with practised hand.

Watching him as he did so, the irl could see that he had found so thing unexpected, something which surprised him greatly. And there was more than surprise. There was alarmed urgency in his voice when he poke to her. He offered no explanation. Merely told her to go into the hut and make fast the solid wooden hutters over the windows. He would come in and would tell her what it was all about, in a moment. The girl had hardly finished the task he had given her, when he came in. In his blood-stained hand he was holding out something for her inspec-

Conquering a feeling of repugnance. she bent over the hand, cast one glance at the thing it contained and then started up and gazed, wide-eyed, into his face.

"A bullet!" she said. "But-but we thought that Roscoe wasn't armednot with fire arms, I mean."

Cayley nodded. "But this seems to that was to terminate the long series be pretty good evidence that he is of golden days which Jeanne and

CHAPTER XIX.

Roscoe. Roscoe had never been able to clear up his doubt as to Jeanne's identity, nor to solve the mystery of Cayley's earance in the air. The doubt app and the mystery tormented him worse than any final conviction could have done. When he thought, as he some-man and a woman, and the woman beautiful, young, alluring-when he thought of all that he would go off into transports of rage, which left even his gigantic body limp and exhausted. If that were the situation, he might have killed the man weeks ago and taken possession of the woman.

in itself, a species of insanity, the passion for gold which had led him to murder Captain Fielding. Every day he tramped up the glacier to the gold ledge and there, while the light lasted, courage as it was that the mere feel he worked, cutting the precious metal of it in his hands brought him back out of the rock, and with infinite labor

As the weeks and months dragged along, this unvaried routine more than | unreal. compensated for the solitude and the

him, and gradually restored him to his old normal, formidable, brutal self. On the day when he made the discovery him should he attempt it.

without them.

-the man.

tion, however, when a luminous idea occurred to him. Around on the far, side of the hut, the west side, which looked toward the headlands, was a good-sized heap of fire-wood, which

Philip had not been able to find room for inside the hut. Roscoe had with him a fiint and steel and a quantity of tow. He never traveled

With infinite precaution against noise he began laying a fire against the windward wall of the hut. Squatting, with his rifle across his knees ready to use in case of an emergency, he methodically whittled a quantity of dry splinters off a few of the sticks, ignited them and carefully nursed the blaze, until, under the rising wind, it grew to the beginning of a fair-sized conflagration. Then, catching up his rifle, he slipped around the other side of the hut, crouching down not more

Already the fire was burning finely and the silhouetted outline of the hut

His plan was a good one. The people inside the hut would have no choice and, probably, no thought, but of escape. When they rushed out, as they almost certainly would, bewildered and confused, and plainly visible to him against the glow of the fire behind them, it would be easy, from the safe shelter of the darkness, to shoot

It was only, indeed, by the merest hair's breadth that Roscoe's plain failed to work. The instinct of escape by the nearest way from a burning building is almost irresistible, and it led Philip and Jeanne to the very edge of the destruction, which Roscoe

Cayley had his hand upon the bolt of the great door, whither he had sprung when Jeanne's cry had awakened him, before the saving second had planned for them.

was plain against the glow of it.

started. His devil was being kind to him today. There could be no doubt of that. Only, was he being too kind? Roscoe wondered a little uneasily. For, shambling along the ice, through the thickening twilight, not 100 paces away, was a big bear. Roscoe was tired of walrus meat. The thought of a bear steak made his mouth water.

Three years' disuse, however, had made his marksmanship somewhat uncertain. He fired too soon, and though he did not miss, the only effect his shot had was to make the bear turn about and go shambling down the glacier toward the beach. with ungainly haste. Roscoe hurried after him, and fired two more shots. Whether they hit or not, he could not tell. Certainly they did not serve to check the bear's flight. The next moment he had rounded the corner of the cliff and disappeared down the beach in the direction of the hut.

Roscoe hesitated, but only for a moment; then, with an oath, he set out in pursuit. It was not so much the protection which the rifle afforded than 20 paces away, and waited. him that was responsible for this new in touch once more with the everyday matter of fact world, and made his visions and ghosts seem a little

It was fully dark down here in the shadow of the cliff. The lumbering yellow shape of the bear was indistinguishable against the icy beach. That didn't matter, for he could follow along well enough by the bloody tracks the wounded beast had left ..

The last of the twilight was still in the sky, and half his glances were directed thither, looking for something which he told himself could not possibly exist, except in his own fancy, yet fully expected to see nevertheless, the shadow of Cayley's great wings. And at last he saw it impending in the lower air, like a brooding spirit, just above the tiny square of light which marked the location of the hut.

thought stayed him and held him frozen where he was. For perhaps Roscoe abandoned his pursuit of the five seconds he stood there, while the bear; all thought of it, in fact, was memory of the unexplained bullet hole gone from his mind: but he did not. he had found in the body of the great as on a former occasion, drop down prone upon the ground, his face buried bear, and the belated observation that in his arms; nor did he turn and flee the fire, which was destroying the hut, like one hag-ridden up the beach. He must have been started outside of it,

Inlin

him and enjoyed immunity from him ed the deadly revolver shooting he so long, almost led him to attempt to had seen upon the body of the bear. Also, he would have to go into the dark, with the firelight behind him break into the hut then and there, and settle matters; but his saner common sense told him that the settlement No. It wouldn't do. He must wait, would almost inevitably be against Well, he could afford to wait-much better than they could. He was still entertaining this no-

Reluctantly he rose, turned his broad back to the gale, and began ma king his laborious way back to the cave.

It was high time. His face was frozen already. . The intensity of the cold had already rendered his rifle useless, for the whole mechanism of the breech was frozen fast. His strat agem had failed in its ultimate intention, for nature had laid her great icy hand upon the board and for the pres ent declared the game a draw.

CHAPTER XX.

A Moonlit Day.

The midday moon had changed the somber purple of the snow to silver. The snow lay everywhere, save upon the vertical face of the cliff itself, an unrent, immaculate mantle over all this arctic world. The valley, the hills, the beach and the frozen sea all lay at peace beneath it, as if asleep or dead.

To Cayley, where he lay, suspended in midsky, the moonlight gleaming upon the sensitive fabric of his planes, as it gleams upon the faint ripples on a mill pond in the dead of some June night-to Cayley this white, sleeping, frozen world looked very far away. He was a-wing for the first time since that eternity ago when he had descended upon the beach beside Jeanne to warn her of the approach of the bear.

How long ago that was, by the measure of hours and days and weeks, he did not know. He had no data for an estimate that would be better than a guess. He remembered how desperately they had worked that night, saving what they could from the burning hut and carrying it back into the cave; remembered with what labor he and Jeanne had climbed the ice chimney to the only shelter that now remained to them, the little pilot house observatory upon the cliff-head; remembered the unremitting labor of uncounted hours while they adjusted their way of life to the conditions imposed by the calamitous loss of the hut

But after that there were lapses of time which memory did not cover. During that time he knew the utmost fury of the arctic winter had been raging over them, without cessation. They had been sheltered from it down in the heart of the great drift of snow which the storm had heaped about them. But, even in this security the shock of those successive paroxysms of nature's titanic rage reached down and benumbed them, body and soul.

But at last the rage of the storm had spent itself and had become still. The bitterness of the cold relaxed and became milder. Cayley had felt the blood stirring in his veins again, the power of consecutive thought and the times did, that the cause of all his terror, the thing which kept him penned up here in the cave and denied him access to more than the furtive edges of the beach, might be just a rather defenseless human couple, a

The thing that kept him sane was, beating it pure.

terrors his superstition thrust upon

e of the v estibule and Cayley on door-step.

"He's been wounded. When I was rhead I could make out the blood ains on his side, and he was leaving track on the ice.

Wounded in a fight with another

"No, that's not likely."

She asked no further explanation, t slipped into the hut. The next ment she was back with the field-

While you're attending to the ar," she said in a whisper, "I'll just ep watch up the beach for-for any e else."

The past weeks had made one difince in her attitude toward Cayley ich she was now aware of, as she trasted her sensations on seeing illp step forward, out of the shelter the hut to confront the bear, with set out on a similar errand once re. She knew him now, and she no fear for him. The feeling thrilled her now was nearer akin ride than anything else.

ayley fully justified her confidence. course the bear was taking would brought him within 20 yards of pened to offer a fair mark." or-step. When he first caught t of Cayley he stopped, in two a hundred times in the last weeks, ted or to do the hunting himself. a modern range." n, as Cayley advanced upon him r slowly, he decided, hissed at piece of ordnance," said Cayley. "It's venomcusly and reared up. was already badly enough led to have taken all the fight of any other sort of animal, but of the encounter from his hands. alive as he was, he cost Cavley cartridges. Three of those shots y was reasonably sure must have ed a vital spot. The first one ence. Not in our way of life, certhe bear between the eyes as he tainly.'

rising. The second was fired into en mouth. The third was probdeflected by the massive fore which he was holding across his their minds, but they did not succeed , in the attitude of a boxer. The th shot, however, penetrated his and probably smashed one of wo first vertebrae, for it seemed ing the monster down all in a when he finally lay still. Cay- date back to the murder of Captain could have reached him with his od shooting," said the girl quietm the little vestibule. reloaded the revolver, letting empty shells drop unheeded on the at his feet. He gave the weapat best. ack to the girl, and bent over the and for Jeanne to begin her evening

m less interested in what I did im," he said, "than in what he got they paid an extra amount of attenthe enemy who first attacked

It was a little before 11 o'clock light was almost gone, so that could see were two or three when Cayley came out of a deep sleep to find her bending over him, shaking him by the shoulder and crying out ar dark stains upon the white und in the flank, which windows.

following the bear, and that the lightlong years of exile, had dominated crew and captain of the Walrus and ed windows might give him a chance for a shot at one of us. No matter bent them to his will. what superstitious fears he has, he He was returning from the ledge could hardly be too much afraid to fire soft-nosed and steel-jacketed."

He laid it down on a shelf and went into the storeroom to wash the stains

"After all," he said, "It's only one more mystery, and I don't know that one more can make any great differ-

Both tried to stick to that view of it and, for the present, to dismiss conjecture upon the new topic from very well. The idea that forced itself discredit it, was that Roscoe's acquiwatch alone, but before that happened

tion to the security of their doors and along the crown of the glacier, when, at us from a safe distance, if we hapon the day of this discovery, he found that his accustomed path was inter-"But we must have offered him that rupted by a new fissure in the ice; it had occurred since he had come that way in the morning, and was too broad to leap across. So he was forced "That bullet is certainly a modern to descend by the rougher and more difficult track which lay along the moraine.

> Before he had gone three paces along this track his eye made out something, just off his patch and a little below it, which caused him at first to utter a snarl of anger, but led him the next moment to give a wild blasphemous yell of joy.

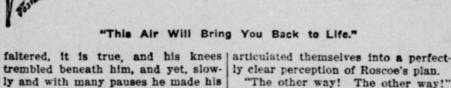

The great fissure which had opened in the ice had done, in an instant, what the party from the Aurora had failed to do after hours of hard labor -it had yielded up the body of Perry Hunter, which, during all these months, it had kept imprisoned.

upon them, in spite of their attempt to Strapped across the dead man's shoulders, just where he had carried sition of a modern, long-range weapon it in life, was a rifle and around his with ammunition to match did not middle a belt full of cartridges.

The next instant Roscoe was bend-I ... Ving, nor to the disappearance of the Aurora, but that he had found the ing over the body, jerking savagely at the frozen buckles which resisted weapon, by some strange chance, only very recently, perhaps within a day his impatient fingers. But they were or two. It was a disquieting thought, not to be denied. If they were clumsy, the hands were strong. It was time for Cayley to turn in

It was not five minutes later when Roscoe, rifle and ammunition belt in his hands, was hurrying on toward his cave once more. The body lay just where his desecrating hands had left

The rifle was uninjured: that he had seen at a glance, though , of course, all the mechanism of its breech was frozen fast. But a half hour's hard work with cleaning rod and rags of For a moment, an accession of In close quarters he could not do

And so it happened that Roscoe

The failure of his plan brought

At last he solved this mystery, too, partly solved it, at least, for he remembered the ice cave back of the

ly and with many pauses he made his way forward. he cried, motioning Jeanne back

He was horribly afraid all the time, through the storeroom. "Into the but curiosity was all the while overcave. He is waiting for us outside. powering fear. He was not more than That's why he fired the hut. Quick. 200 yards away when Cayley alighted We must save all we can." beside the girl.

waited in vain. He saw the blaze he At what he saw then, Roscoe had kindled reach its fiery climax, dropped his rifle on the beach, with a and then in spite of the icy gale which whispered oath, and rubbed his eyes. was fanning it, die down into an The light which diffused itself from the open window of the hut was not angry, sullen, smouldering glow. But no man appeared to furnish a mark much, but it was enough to reveal the fact that this great man-bird, this for his waiting rifle, and no woman was delivered defenseless, shelterless, golden-winged spirit which had kept into his brutish hands. him in terror for his own sanity all these months, was taking off his wings back a moment or two of the old supand folding them up into a bundle, in erstitious horror, but his mind was as matter-of-fact a way as if he were furling an umbrella. He stood there braced against it now and did not now, just an ordinary human figure readily give way. Somehow, the failure must be accountable-humanly acof a man; the very man, in fact, that he had seen before and would have countable.

killed long ago had it not been for his over-mastering terror of the thing with wings. He presented a fair mark now, and

hut. His first impulse, when he was in easy range, but Roscoe was too thought of it, was to attack them thoroughly astonished to seize the opthere and now, to charge in over the portunity, and in a moment it was red hot coals of the hut and settle gone again. The two figures shrank matters once and for all. into the shadow of the hut, and the He was sane enough to see that the next moment the light disappeared. advantage would be all against him.

ambition to live, coming once more into his possession. He had gone to work, feebly and drowsily at first, but with constantly increasing energy and strength, at the task of opening up, once more, the tunnel through the drift which the great storm had choked.

When he had broken through the outer crust of the drift, and the white radiance of the midday moon shone into the black tunnel where he had been working, he stood for a moment drawing deep breaths and gazing over the scene which lay beneath his eyes. He hastened back into the little pilot house.

Jeanne was dozing upon a heap of bear-skins. He roused her with some difficulty; really waking up had been a hard matter lately, almost as hard as really getting off to sleep. She was still drowsy when he led her along the tunnel to the cliff-head.

"Breathe deep," he told her. "We were half poisoned in there. This air will bring you back to life again, it and the moonlight."

He had been supporting her with his arm about her waist, but now, as she held herself a little straighter and he could feel her lungs expanding with the pure air she breathed, he withdrew the arm and let her stand alone. Even the white moonlight revealed the color that was coming back into her cheeks.

For a while she did not speak at all: then, as if replying to a comment of his, she said:

"Yes, it's beautiful. . . . But, Philip, it's dead. Dead."

"Not this air that has ozone sparkling all through it. It is alive enough to make your blood dance. It's doing that now."

He tried to persuade her to take a little exrecise along the length of the tunnel, but she demurred to that. Instead, she asked him to bring out some bear-skins and let her sit there at the cliff-head looking out.

"And," she supplemented, "If you want to know what I should like most of all, it would be to have you bring your wings so that I can see you flying again, and a field-glass that I can watch you through."

He felt some hesitation, partly out of a fear of leaving her and partly from a doubt concerning his own strength; but neither of these reasons was one he cared to avow. So he unfurled the bundle that had lain disused so long, spread and tightened and tested it, and at last, with a nod of farewell to the girl, dived off the cliff-head.

Any doubt he may have had concerning his strength disappeared at once. The mere touch of those great wings of his seemed to bring it all back, and hope and joy and confidence along with it.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

local or general, in its application. It would apply to an appropriation bill and could be used to suspend the putting into operation of a general appropriation bill providing means for the maintenance of the government, and thus leave our State officials without the necessary funds to pay the necessary expenses of the mainte-nance of our government and elee-mosnary and educational institutions. At a recent election held in South Dakota under the initiative and referendum a ballot was used seven feet long and fourteen inches wide, containing six legislative acts printed in nonparell type. At an election held in Oregon there was submitted under this system thirty-two acts, the titles of which only were printed upon the ballots. The number of acts which might be submitted under the initiative would be limited only to the number for the submission of which signers could be procured to petitions, and under the referendum the number could be limited only to the number of acts enacted by the legislature for the suspension and reference of which to a vote of the people the requisite peti-tioners might be procured. We all understand how easy it is to procure signers to any petition. Under that system a ballot might be created many times larger than the one referred to in South Dakota or in Oregon. Let us imagine, for instance, that such an act as our anti-trust law, election law, drainage act, appropriation bill, representative district reapportionn bill or national guard act, each of which necessarily contains many thou-sand words and hundreds of sections, should be either submitted under the initiative or, having been enacted by the legislature, referred under the referendum. The result would be a ballot containing so much matter that but few people, if any, could afford to take the time to read the same, much less do so understandingly. It must be remembered that under this system the law as submitted must either be adopted or rejected in whole. No amendments can be referred to them.

If any number of people should undertake to try to read these ballots in the election booths it would be impossible to have all of the qualified voters to vote!

This involves no criticism of the intelligence of the voters and their capacity for self-government. I believe the American people have demon-strated in more than 125 years of republican form of government their capacity for intelligent self-government under the existing system. But I ask every man who reads these lines, regardless of his avocation or profession, to answer for himself whether he would feel that he could, under the proposed system of the initiative and referendum, so thoroughly familiarize himself with even any reasonable number of laws upon which he, as a voter, might be called upon to pass, as to be sure of the wisdom of his vote, either for or against such meas-Theories are all well enough, ures. but when it comes to the practical application of them we must take a practical view of matters. I dare to say that few men would spare the time from their ordinary affairs to study such laws before the day of the election sufficiently to be able intelligently to pass not only upon the principle involved, but upon the details of the legislation submitted. A citizen may easily reach the conclusion that a 3 3 3 3 certain principle or policy proposed to 3 3 the application of government is good 3 % or bad, but the methods of wording and framing proper legislation to carry such a principle or policy into a stat ute is quite another thing. Under our 3 2 present system we, as a people, 2 2 initiate laws by the agitation of a principle or policy through the press or forum, by the election of repreentatives to our legislative bodies avoring such legislation and by a poitical system of direct instruction to our representatives and demands for 3 3 specific legislation through a political 3 3 party, primary system and expressions in party platforms, or by petitions, 3 3 directed to our representatives. Un-3 3 der our system we reach the conclusion for or against a certain principle 7, 7, or policy and we elect men to serve 3 9 us in the legislature who are presumed to be able to carry this principle into to be able to carry this principle into a statute properly and correctly drawn. Under our system a bill pro-$ $ viding for the principle or policy which we desire enacted tive bodies and there re committee for careful and study.

If the bill as drawn 'joker" or language that is to misconstruction of provi are objectionable, these tives of ours may make the changes and submit the m the body of the legislature form. There ample time is its careful consideration a adoption of such amendm dom may dictate are es In other words, under system legislation is initial people and enacted after study, deliberation and conwhile under the initiative endum such opportunities No opportunity is forded. amendment and the possibil drawing a bill artfully conce "joker" are many, which even covered by some of the vote only be met after much agitat a campaign of great magnitu which could only be avoided rejection of the entire measur out in the slightest degree q ing the intelligence or the pal of the people at large, I want Suppose that a general approp bill was referred to the body voters, how many of them would the information at hand to affo an opportunity to reach an int conclusion as to the necessity necessity for the appropriation dry funds for the various depar and institutions of our State? our present system, the legis creates a finance committee who thorough investigation in needs and requirements of the departments, and then, after or ing the amount of revenues th derived from all sources, suitable and necessary approp after the committee has the bill, it is submitted to the and sometimes weeks of care sideration, finally enact it. It reaches the executive, who, u constitution, is empowered to ve measure in its entirety or veto appropriations while approving The legislature and executive i forded argola time and angertu

Tahoka - - - - Texas

Ramsey & Ramsey

Now is the best season to build. Let us have your plans to figure on for Brick Business Houses.

DID YOU EVER PAY A BILL TW

The one who has not had to pay more than second time is the exception and not the rule." when paying a bill ask for a receipt and if the fail to keep the receipt. Did you ever have a dis a payment? Unpleasant is it not? Do you wish cumstance to occur again? There is one sure way it. Pay your bills with checks. If you received a on your idle money it would only show good sense wisdom to have it in a bank. Transact your be business way and pay your bills by checks. when returned to you makes an indisputable bank account makes you systematic and encourage save part of your income. Many a man has be because he became interested in watching his bank and was thus led to find ways to increase it. Start account with us and we will help you make it larger not begin today?

First National B

Of Tahoka, Texas

O'Donnell. Texas ******************

Tahoka, Grove CIRCLE, No. 714 Meet the 1st and 3rd Saturda; afternoon at three o'clock, Mrs. T. J. Blankenship, Guardian, Mrs. Fannie N. Henderson, Clerk.

Tahoka Lodge No. 420 Knights of Pythias Meet 2nd and 4th Monday nights in each month. S. W. Joplin, C. C. F. E. McDaniel, K. of R.S.

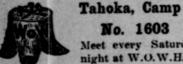

ahoka Lodge o. 653 I. O. O. F.

Meet Tuesday Nights D. T. Rogers, N. G., O. T. Bryant, Sec.

Tahoka Rebekah Lodge No. 150 Meet 2nd Tuesday after-noon, 4th Friday night. Mrs. W. A. Steddum, N.G.

Mrs. F. E. Redwine, Secretary.

Meet every Saturday night at W.O.W.Hall. C.C. H.M.Larkin, Clerk.

No. 1603

 J. V. Dyer, of five miles east of Tahoka, was in town Wednesday.

Hon. Percy Spencer and H. E. Raneall, of Brownfield, left for thair home Monduy about 7:00 s'clock p. m. They were over here on court business.

ppened up this year. In this issue of The News wil e found the announcement of Hon. Jake Wolters candidacy, for the United States Senate, together with his platform given in full.

Eighteen cars of cattle passed through Tahoka Thursday morning just before daybreak, going north.

Thursday night about nine clock the wind changed into the northeast and rapidly grew colder and soon it began to rain and it continued to rain off and on all right so that by morning considerable water was standing on the streets.

Wednesday of this week, Berr King, of the Palace Meat Market, bought 50 head of hogs of W. A. Yates, of Three Lakes community on the hoof, the hogs to be delivered to the Market as needed.

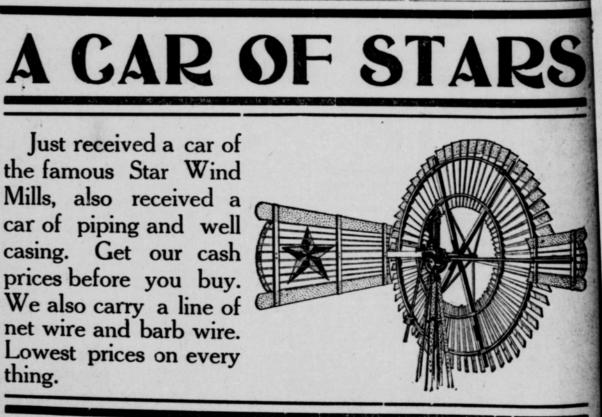

M. M. Redwine, of the Draw community, was in town Thursday.

J. F. McManis, of New Home community, came in Thursday brought in the cotton and Mr. McManis came in with Ben Opedycke. They came down the new grade north of town and found it very rough but Mr. McManis says that a little light travel on it will smooth it down and after it has Buzzard-wing sweeps, Enamel ware Tahoka Hardware Co.

the operation of any law enacted by the legislature and until the people have passed upon it at the next general election. Under the initiative, any person may write a law upon any conceivable subject, regardless of constitutional inhibitions, procure the specified number of signers to a peti-tion and this law would have to be voted upon by the people even though a vast majority should finally oppose it. Under that system there it. Under that system there would be no assurance of stability of government. People in conducting their ordinary affairs under existing conditions, making investments of capital, skill or labor would find themselves continually harassed by proposed leg-islation seriously affecting their welfare. No practical man would venture to make investments of any permanent nature under these conditions. In order that our people may enjoy the ordinary prosperity to which they are entitled, there must be some measure of assurance that existing conditions, whatever they may be, are Bert is to pay six cents a pound stable. It is the danger of changing conditions that withholds investments and retards development and progress. It would afford no cessation from continued agitation attendant with the usual strife and turmoil brought about by the campaigns incident to the submission of proposed legislation. Laws thus enacted would not be met with the check of the executive vote, but would become the law and remain in force until their validity could be pass ed upon by the courts. A law might be absolutely unconstitutional, so with his fourth bale of cotton, plainly so that no executive would ap-prove it, and still it would remain in force regardless of its injurious results until the courts had an opportunity to declare it invalid.

Evils of the Referendum.

On the other hand, under the referindum, the most wholesome law passed by the legislature after consideration and deliberation and approval of the executive, might be suspended for (Continued On Fifth Page)

For Best Prices and Best Lumber you will save money by letting us figure your bill. A. G. McAdams Lbr. Co.,

and ANNIVERSARY SALE 2nd Tahoka's First Real General Merchandise Sale

For 15 Days Commencing October 30 We will offer our Summer Stock of Merchandise at Cost and Below Cost Prices

For two years we have enjoyed the patronage of the people of Lynn and surrounding counties. Honest Goods at Honest Prices have increased our business until to day the Tahoka Mercantile Co.'s Store is one of the largest in this country. Our Stock is New and Fresh and this is not a clearing Sale---It is an expression of our appreciation to our many patrons and A Special Invitation to All Who Are Not, To Visit Our Big Store And Learn Our Prices.

Dry Goods Department

5 1-2c 6 1-2 cent Outing Flannel 6 1-2c 7 1-2 cent Outing Flannel 10c12 1-2 cent Outing Flannel 10c 12 1-2 cent Cotton Flannel-----6c 8 cent Cotton Flannel 7 1-2c 9 cent Unbleached Domestic 8 1-3c 10 cent Unbleached Domestic-10c 12 1-2 cent Bleached Domestic-3 3-4c 1000 yards Canvassing 25c 30 cent Bleached Sheetin

Canned Goods Department
3 lb can Tomatoes	10c
3 lb can Hominy	10
3 lb can Kraut	10-
3 lb can Apples	10
3 lb can Peaches	10
2 lb can Corn	10c
2 lb can Strawberries
2 lb can blackberries
2 lb can Stringless Beans
2 lb can Cherries
2 lb can Sucatash	10c
2 lb can Okra and Tomatoes	10c
Soap Department
7 bars Brown Soap	25c
6 bars White Soap	25c
6 packages Borax Compound	25c
3 packages Dutch Cleaner	25c
Syrup Department
Sparkle per gallon
Snow White per gallon
Orange Top Sorghum per gallon	48c
New South per gallon
White Swan, Best Yet, per gallon
LESS IN CASE LOTS.
Salt Department
100 lb sack No. 1 Refined	60c
100 lb sack No. 2 Refined	55c
50 lb Extra Dry Refined
25 lb Extra Dry Refiined	20
Best Coal Oil At 15 Per Gallon.

Clothing Department

erennes Department
$20.00 Men's All Wool Suits$14.00
$18.00 Men's All Wool Suits 12.00
$16.00 Men's All Wool Suits 10.00
$16.00 AllWool Overcoats 10.50
$15.00 All Wool Overcoats 9.00
$12.00 All Wool Overcoat 7.50
You may notwant to put much money into an Over- Coat. Now is the time to buy.
Shoe Department
$3.00 Men's Shoes 2.50
275

27 cent Unbleached Sheeting	23c
Cotton Check	Contraction of a set of the set
121-2 cent Shirting	10c
8 1-3 cent Gingham	_6 1-2c
10 cent Gingham	_8 1-3c
12 1-2 cent Dress Gingham	10c
Toile De Nord Gingham	IIc
$1.00 All Wool Dressgoods	0Uc
$1.10 All Wool Dressgoods	90c
BLANKETS AND COMFORTS
75 cert Cotton Blankets per pair	900
$1.25 Cotton Blankets per pair	115
$1.50 Cotton Blankets per pair	1 35
$2.00 Cotton Blankets per pair	1.85
$2.50 Comforts	1.60
$2.00 Comforts	1.15
$1.50 Comfort
Flour Department	****
La France Extra High Patent	$2.90
Cottor White Extra High Patent	2.90
Magnolia High Patent	2.75

Magnolia High Patent

5

rill

$3.25 Men's Shoes
$3.50 Men's Shees	3.00
$4.50 Men's Shoes	3.75
$5.00 Men's Shoes SAME REDUCTION IN LADIIS SHOES	4.00
SAME REDUCTION IN LADIIS SHOES
$2.00 Boys' Shoes	1.50
$2.25 Boys' Shoes	1.85
$2.50 Boys' Shoes	2.00
$3.00 Boys Shoes	2.50
A splendid time to shos the family. St	ar Brand
Shoes are the Best.
Hat and Cap Departmen	t
$5.50 Stetson	4.00
$7.50 Stetson	5 50
$1.50 Stetson	2.50
$3.50 Lion Special Liberal Discount on men and Boys (Japs.	2
Big Discount on Trunk	s and
Suit Cases.	5
Suit Vases.
Lard Department	. 1.
10 lb. Bucket Cottolene	1.15
10 lb Bucket Compound	1.00
10 lb Bucket Swift Premium Lard	1.50
10 lb Bucket Snow Drop	120
To to Bucket Show Drop
DIAMITY ALANT O

Practical Fashions LADY'S DRESS.

5553

Smart little one piece frocks are worn either with or without jackets, our model offers an excellent defor bne. It has the shirt waist efsign for one. It has the suit there piece fect of bodice and a plain three piece skirt. This style is suitable for cash-mere, serge, zibeline, velveteen, ponge silk, linen, etc.

The pattern (5553) is cut in sizes 32 to 42 inches bust measure. Medium size requires 4% yards of 44 inch mathis pattern send 10 cents Department," of this paper. and address plainly, and be size and number of pattern.

NO. 5553.	SIZE
TOWN
STATE

LADY'S THREE PIECE SKIRT.

asking: How far must he bend to break? ow much he can give don't mat 3ut only how much can be take? atter.

COOKERY A FINE ART.

Cookery should be a fine art, but, alas, in many kitchens it is thought of as drudgery, and put out of the way as soon as possible. The development and progress of cookery has gone hand in hand with civilization. The more enlightened and intelligent a people, the more attention they pay to cookery. It is an art as old*as history and its evolution is as interesting a study as the evolution theory is to the scientist.

Did you ever think that more people are spending all or part of their time cooking than in any other occupation?

The importance of food selection and preparation is the most important single factor on which rests the health, happiness and prosperity of mankind.

Cookery like all other arts, has its laws of proportion, or right values, its ws of harmony and contrast.

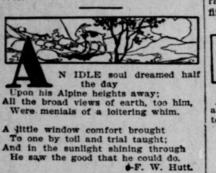

Cookery appeals to the sense of taste as music appeals to the hearing and as "Suns and skies and clouds of June" appeal to the sight.

An educated sense of taste is as highly gratifying as the indulgence of any of the senses and as necessary for good digestion and physical as well as mental well being

The simple and fundamental study of cookery should be the aim of every young woman. She should know when she has given her family a well-balanced meal, how to feed the sick, the aged as well as the infants. She should know that climate, age, sex and health should enter into the arrangements for the menus.

To serve a meal that is attractive to the eye, satisfying to the taste and sufficiently nourishing to the body, food that is digestible and the cost of which is kept within reasonable limits, is an accomplishment that any young woman may be proud of attaining.

Such accomplishment comes only by hard work, study and application, but it is worth the price many times over.

OCTOBER BREAKFASTS.

4ORNING glory at my window than all the -Walt Whitman.

Wisdom is ofttimes nearer when we op than when we soar. -Wordsworth.

SMALL CAKES.

These little cakes are always seasonable to serve with a cup of tea or cocoa or an ice. The housewife who has a supply of these cakes is prepared to serve a light repast on short notice.

Lady Fingers-Beat the yolks of six eggs until thick, add three-fourths of a cup of powdered sugar and continue beating. Add the grated rind of a lemon and the whites of the eggs stiffly beaten. Cut and fold in a cup of flour sifted with a half teaspoon of salt. Drop on a buttered sheet, using a tablespoon and spreading two lightly together to form a finger.

Cream puffs or eclairs are not difficult to make and the fillings may be varied, giving a variety of cakes.

Cream Puffs .- Melt a half cup of butter in a cup of boiling water. Let it boil, then add a cup of flour, all at Stir and cook until it leaves once. the sides of the pan. Take from the fire, cool and add three eggs, one at a time, beating hard after adding each egg. Drop by spoonfuls on a buttered sheet and bake thirty to forty min-Test them by lifting from the utes. pan. If they seem light they are done. When cool split at the side and remove the soft doughy mixture before filling. Sweetened whipped cream is used for filling or a chocolate sauce and the top is then brushed with chocolate.

Sand Tarts .- Cream a half cup of sugar and egg, two cups of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a fourth of a teaspoonful of salt. Roll and cut with a doughnut cutter. sprinkle with sugar mixed with cinnamon and decorate with three halves of almonds, placed equal distances on the tart. Bake eight minutes.

Creoles .- Beat three eggs and a half of brown sugar, a half teaspoonful of salt and three-fourths of a cup of flour, a few grains of cayenne and a cup and a half of pecan nuts. Fill small fluted patty pans half full and decorate with a pecan. Bake twelve to fifteen minutes.

MODERATE excess of food is probably harmless if not beneficial. It is not safe to sail too near the wind in matters of diet. -Hutchinson.

FOR THE FRUIT CELLAR.

Corn Relish .- Before the sweet corn is gone do not fail to prepare corn an apology for a man." relish. Cut the corn from two dozen

MISS SUSAN GLASPELL'S DOG Terrible Suffer

Voila the Original of the Puppies in Her Story, "The Visioning."

Miss Susan Glaspell, the author, has a dog, which fact is of more importance than might at first appear. For in her new novel, "The Visionary," are introduced two frolicsome pupples named Pourquoi and N'est-ce-pas. And there are no two more real characters in the whole book than Why and Ain't It, to use their names in English form. It was Miss Glaspell's own dog, a Bohemian beast, that inspired the creation of "The Visioning's" twin puppy clowns. The real dog also has a French name, Voila. When its owner bought it, over in Paris, she wanted at first to name it Raspail, both in memory of the boulevard on which she lived and as a sympathetic cognomen for a sensitive souled Parisian dog. But her family objected. They could not see their way clear to shouting. "Come Raspail! Raspail! Raspail!" So Miss Glaspell compromised on Voila.

Voila has vagaries. It is a wanderer. It is a collie, and a collie, it evidently thinks, ought to be afield. Whenever it feels that way, away Voila goes. Fortunately it wears a collar with Miss Glaspell's name and address. She has come to thing nothing of such a phone message as this: "Hello! Is dis Miss Glaspell! Vell, dis is der bartender bie Hans Bummelransen's saloon. No, no, vait! I didn't got der wrong phone number. I choost vant to say I got here your tog. Vill you come for him?"

Then the author of "The Visoining" has to drop chapter plans and seek out Herr Bummelransen's place with sorrow-and a dollar. But were it not so there might never have been a N'est-ce-pas and a Pourquoi.

THE TRUTH ABOUT BLUING.

Talk No. 4.

Liquid bluing is mainly water. Given a half or a cent's worth of bluing and a large bottle filled with water and you have the frail excuse that's called bluing.

Always use RED CROSS BALL BLUE. The best blue anywhere at any price. It does make the laundress smile for a week. Large package 5 cents. AT ALL GOOD GROCERS.

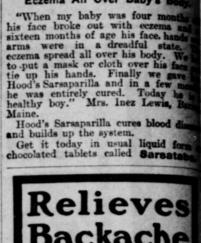

The Angler's Bait.

A well-known angler at Peterborough having obtained a wasps' nest containing a large number of grubs, placed the nest in the kitchen oven to kill the grubs so that he could use them for bait.

The next morning he went to get s-	His Specialty.

đ	The Doctor-Feeling better today? The Patient-A little. But my hear still hurts me.
e	The Doctor-Oh, I can stop that all right.
e	A Strong One. "I think Dr. Pullem, the dentist must be a wonder." "Why so?"
y	"He's the only man I ever hear

Eczema All Over Baby's Be

-

ha

th on

2

tis bly

fai

Ki

sli

me

bo

Bu

his sai

ret

wi

bri

no

Yo

po ha

clo

tie

vis

w!

an

WS

ed

ha

lot

yo

sp

ap

ing

th

Q

Â

C

SY

to

C

B

TH

Backache Instantly

Sloan's Liniment is a great remedy for backache. It penetrates and relieves the pain instantly-no rubbing necessary - just lay it on lightly.

Here's Proof. "I had my back hurt in the Boer Wan d in San Francisco two years ago I so hit by a street car in the same place tried all kinds of dope without suc-

ed all kinds of dope without suc-Two weeks ago I saw your lini-in a drug store and got a bottle to The first application caused instant , and now except for a little stiff. I am algosat well." FLETCHER NORMAN, is the best remedy for rheumatism, neuralgia, sore throat and sprains.

MISS E. RIM of Brooklyn, N.Y., writes: "Sloan's Liniment is the best for rheumatism. I have used six bot-tles of it and it is grand."

Sold by all Dealers. Price, 25c., 50c., and $1.00.

And roses folding, tremulous, Are holding converse each with each. One white star blazes in the sky. The sunset flings its banners far Until their tintings fade and die Beneath the luster of the star; The forest purples into black, The stars march up like homing sheep That to the fold are coming back-And all the world is now asleep.

Adown the hills the shadows drift,

Adown the fills the shadows drilt, The bees come, honey-drunken, home, The alder bushes yonder lift Their treasury of blossom-foam: The wind comes whispering to us A song that is too sweet for speech,

Cha Onlooker

& WILBUR D. NESBIT

There was once an Eminent Statesman, who was always Ready to take the Initiative, or anything Else that was not Chained down.

busily Writing.

Second Statesman.

Illiterates," responded the First, "and, by the way, I am Glad you dropped in. How do you spell illiterates?" Moral.-A Night School for Reform-

The First Course.

"I was captured by the cannibals fect stew ever since," wrote the mis sionary.

After dessert the cannibal chie added this postscript, and then maile the letter.

"I am pleased to inform you that Brother Goodleigh is no longer in the

The Grip of Etiquette.

"What? Marry you?" cried the fair young girl. "Why, you are only "True," he sighed, "but you are not

A Little Fable.

One day another Eminent Statesman chanced upon him While he was

"What are you Doing?" asked the "Drafting a Bill to Disfranchise the ers would Draw well.

yesterday, and have been in a per-stew."

This skirt gives us one of the novel effects which aim at producing a little more comfort in walking. Not only has the skirt three gores, but there is an underturned plait at each side seam. band at the bottom need not be used unless specially desired. Serge, nama, cheviot, zibeline, velvet and rash materials are suitable for this skirt.

The pattern (5555) is cut in sizes 22 to 30 inches waist measure. Medium size requires 2% yards of 50 inch material.

To procure this pattern send 10 cents "Pattern Department," of this paper, rite name and siddress planky, and be re to give size and number of pattern.

NO. 5555.	EIZE
TOWN	Construction of the Construction
STREET AND	10

Their Hiding Place

Some of the prettiest romances will remain unwritter, because they are safely locked up in the breasts of angelic old maida.

Girl Buried Alive.

The only daughter of a Bulgarian family at Uskut, after ailing some was found; inanimate recently. and her parents; thinking her dead. local customs, the same evening. A few hours afterward a policeman pass ing the cemeter, heard stilled cries from the newly-bade grave. He ran to the parents' house and a large num-ber of townspeople attended the ex-humation only to find that the girl had died a few minutes previously m suffocation

The spicy mornings of the autumn makes one feel like eating a hearty breakfast. We will have the luscious grape for some time yet and pears and apples are in their prime.

In many homes cereals, that is, the cooked ones, are never served at all. because of the difficulty of getting them cooked properly. The inscription on the box generally reads, "Cook twenty minutes." This should be multiplied by eight to have a digestible and well-cooked food.

For those who possess a fireless cooker, the problem is solved, for the cereal may boil twenty minutes, then put it into the cooker and leave over night. Reheat, and it is ready for the most delicate stomach.

For those who have no cooker, either home-made or manufactured, it is the custom to set the cereal cooking in a double boiler and allow it to cook all during the dinner hour. Then cover closely and set away to be re heated in the morning. Well-cooked cereal with good rich milk makes a sufficient meal for the growing child and will have sufficient staying power to keep the little ones from getting hungry before noon.

A bit of bacon is always appetizing for a cool morning breakfast, and with an egg and a piece of well-toasted bread or a muffin or two, grown-ups will be able to worry along until dinner time at noon.

Cocoa is a good drink for children occasionally, but too much is bad for the digestion. A glass of warm milk is easier digested than cold and on a cool morning it is very satisfactory.

An occasional morning of griddle cakes is appreciated and waffles once in a while go well these cool days. but it is yet a little early to eat much of such food.

Neighborly Inference.

Stranger (to Mrs. Rooney)-What eautiful children you have, ma'am. Mrs. Hogan (from the floor above) -Phat's thot slob sellin', Mrs. Rooney?-Puck.

Marksmanship.

"That was a wild pitch," said one fan.

"Mebbe it was," replied the other, "but it was a good shot. It hit the ampire."

ears, chop fine one head of cabbage. four large onions, four green peppers and add a quart of vinegar. Boil all together. Mix three cups of sugar, three-fourths of a cup of flour, half a cup of salt, a fourth of a cup of mustard and a teaspoon of tumeric. When well mixed add to the vinegar and vegetables and boil half an hour; add two teaspoonfuls of celery seed and put away for winter use in sealed glass jars.

Quinces come late in the season. Grate and cook with equal parts of sugar for a delicious concoction called quince honey. It may be served any time as a garnish for plain ice cream or for dainty pudding garnish.

Pears are so much more delicious canned in the following manner than in the way so many put them up for winter: Pare and prepare them in quarters or eighths. Put them with half their weight in sugar in a stone crock and let stand over night. In the morning cook slowly on the back of the stove until perfectly done, then can as usual. Lemon may be added if desired, but the fruit is much better flavored than when canned quickly. The thrifty housewife has been packing her eggs for winter use while they are cheap. Either water glass or lime water makes a good preparation to keep them. Make a list of all fruit vegetables, preserves and relishes that are in the store room and cellar. Then a glance will tell you what to choose without losing the time to look over several dozen jars.

Have everything labeled, for no memory is good for several months, and it saves many disappointments in opening the wrong jar.

If one can make their sausage at home, keep it in corn husks and smoke it. You will find a delicious flavor never before experienced. Some do not care for the smoking, but dip it after being wrapped in the husks and well tied, into hot fat, which will seal it, and it may then be packed in layers in a box. Keep cool, and it will keep for several years.

Nellie Maxwell

Truth or Repose. God offers to every man his choice between truth and repose .- Ralph Waldo Emerson.

so lacking in courtesy as to fail to accept an apology."

Her boarding school etiquette forbade her flying in the face of convention, so she resigned herself to her fate.

Wouldn't Waste It.

"Yes," confided the Eminent Actress, who had discovered her dramatic talent one day in the divorce court. "Yes. I shall wear a calico dress in my new play." We had a notion to say: "You seem determined to appear in print as much as possible." But she did not know that calico was print, so what was the use?

Before and After.

"Should a man deceive a woman, after he is married to her, even if he wooed her through false pretences?" asked the person who is always getting up debates. "Certainly," responded the party with the large bump of shrewdness. "Certainly; all's fair in love and war, you know."

Getting Out the Problem.

Through the weary watches of the night the dramatist pored over the volume. "Writing a problem play is not such an easy task," he murmured, with a long-drawn sigh.

But, with dogged persistence, he resumed his dramatization of "Ray's Elementary Arithmetic."

Blighted Hopes.

"Can you not trust me. Reginald?" she sighed, gazing into his eyes with a pleading that was hard to resist. "No, Roxana, the boss says everything must be sold on a cash basis hereafter."

And he gently, but firmly, put the ribbons back in the show case.

Could Use Them.

"I wish," said the heathen king, "that our foreign friends would not put so many suspender buttons in their collections."

"So do I," responded the chief of the commissary department; "a few crok-screw would be an excellent substitute occasionally."

Thebur Stesbit

W. N. U., Oklahoma City, No. 42-1

Ninth St., Kansas City,

Please write to the agents

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach

Many a man's deficiency in dollars is due to his deficiency in sense.

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated action of the stomach and its associated stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and desp ent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and so GIVES HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO THE WHOLE BODY.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this t alcoholic, medicine OF ENOWN COMPOSITION, not even though the urgent de may thereby make a little bigger profit. Ingredients printed on wrapper.

Come-join the merry throng of pleased gunners who have quit seeking for the one best ammunition because they've found it.

If you are a judge of ammunition, Robin Hood will be revelation to you. Instead of a big explosion that wastes half the force on "kick" our smokeless powders burn pro-gressively all along the barrel and give the load a tremen-dous velocity as it leaves the gun. Prove for yourself that R. H. shoots further, gets there quicker and hits harder. Get our Shot Sheils or Metallic Cartridges from your dealer and make a note of results. Send for our interesting booklet.

Send for our interesting booklet.

ROBIN HOOD AMMUNITION CO. 5th STREET, SWANTON, VT.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WEAK?

re are two ways to tell if you eak kidneys. The first is pains in the back. The sec-examining the kidney secretions. If you sus-pect your kidneys, begin using Doan's Kidney Pills at

E. R. Wilson, ettsburg, lowa, says: "I was completely laid up with kidney com-plaint and inflamtism. My limbs and fest were terri-bly swollen and so inflamed I could not walk for days. After dostors had failed to help me, I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. Three boxes cured me "When Your Back Is Lame, Re-ember the Name-DOAN'H." 50c a ox at all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Modern Morals. "William Dean Howells, st a tea at his apartment in Half Moon street," magazine editor who had just returned from London, "amased us all with reminiscences of New York celebrities

"Mr. Howells hit off rather neatly a as celebrity of Wall; street. "When that man came to New York in '69,' he said, 'everything he ssed was tied up in a bandana handkerchief. Today-'

"Mr. H. smiled and stroked his close-clipped mustache. "Today everything he possesses is tied up in his wife's name.""

When the World Was Made.

When Lottie returned from her first visit to Sunday school she was asked what she had learned. od made the world in six days, and was arrested on the seventh day," was her version of the lesson imparted.-Lippincott's.

Chirograph.

"Ethelinda writes a very peculiar hand," said Maude.

"Yes," replied Mayinle, "it's just a lot of straight lines and angles. When you read it, you have to guess at the spelling, the same as she does."

TO DRIVE OUT MALARIA AND BUILD UP THE SYSTEM The the Oid Standard GROUPS TASTELESS CHILL TONIC. You know what, ou are taking the formula is pialnip printed (of every bottle, abowing it is simply Quinine and iron in a fasteless form, and the most effectual form. For grown people and children, 60 cents.

Glad to Get Rid cf.Her. "Did she get her divor "Oh, yes, but she was cerribly dis-ppointed in a way. You know he lidn't contest it."

wer you have a pain think of Wizard Oil. For Headache, he, Earache, Stomach ache, and her painful ailmenta there is noth-

Some men never succ.,ed in putting their best foot forward because they are unable to decide which one it is.

"Dare-Devil Spike," a Native of South Africa, Raises the Devil Generally.

FIREWATER HIS FINISH

Monkey Takes Liking to Liquor and Gives Good Imitation of a Pittsburg Millionaire on an "O Be Joyful."

New York .- John Hampton, a prosperous auto dealer, recently returned from South Africa, bringing a large ape, which he christened "Dare-Devil Spike." He and Spike found accommodations at Ike Hirschorn's hotel

One morning recently before the bar room was opened for the day the ape appeared to have a thirst of the sort which only seasoned drinkers are supposed to possess. Spike sneaked out of Hampton's room, slid down the ban- EVER TAKE A MUSIC BATH? ister and deftly entered the bar room through an open transom. When Carl Hassenfleck, Hirschorn's lunch-counter man, appeared on the scene shortly after 5:00 a. m. he found Spike in the state of exhilaration peculiar to some college students after winning a foot-

Spike greeted Hassenfleck with a shrill cry of welcome, followed by a heavy tumbler, which missed the man's right ear only because Hassenfleck had learned to dodge in his youth. Jimmy Samponi, a porter, went to the lunch man's rescue, with passed an unenviable time hiding behind the lunch counter in a storm of falling steins, bottles, plates, knives, forks, and other objects. Several of Spike's outshoots, Hassenfleck said afterward, would win for him a place

That's all the time it takes for Oxidine to "get busy" with a tor-pid liver, sluggish bowels and kidneys and a weak stomach.

Tones and strengthens vital organs.

Try just one bottle of

OXIDINE

-a bottle proves.

The Specific for Malaria, Chills and Fever and a reliable remedy for all diseases due to disorders of liver, stomach, bowels and kidneys.

50c. At Your Druggists THE BERRENS DECO CO.,

Waco, Texas.

They Are as Good for the Soul, Holmes Says, as Water for the Body.

One must be educated, no doubt, to understand the more complex and difficult kinds of musical composition. Go to the concerts where you know that the music is good, and that you ought to like it whether you do or not. Take a music bath once or twice a week for a few seasons, and you will find that it is to the soul what the water bath is to the body. I wouldn't trouble myself about the affectations of people who go to this or that series of concerts chiefly because it is fashionable. Some of these people whom we think so silly will perhaps find, sooner or later. that they have a dormant faculty which is at last waking up, and that they who came because others came. and began by staring at the audience, are listening to a newly found delight. Everyone of us has a harp under, the bodice or waistcoat, and if it can only once get properly strung and tuned it will respond to all outside harmonies .-- Oliver Wendell Holmes.

PIMPLES ON FACE 3 YEARS

"I was troubled with acne for three long years. My face was the only part affected, but it caused great disfigurehours. ment, also suffering and loss of sleep. At first there appeared red, hard pimples which later contained white matter. I suffered a great deal caused by the itching. I was in a state of perplexity when walking the streets or anywhere before the public. "I used pills and other remedies but they failed completely. I thought of giving up when nothing would help, but something told me to try the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I sent for a Cuticura Booklet which I read carefully. Then I bought some Cuticura Soap and Ointment and by following the directions I was relieved in a few days. I used Cuticura Soap for washing my face, and applied the Cuticura Ointment morning and evening. This treatment brought marvelous results so I continued with it for a few weeks and was cured completely. I can truthfully say that the Cuticura Remaroused from bed by employes of the edies are not only all, but more than hotel, who dbserved the excitement they claim to be." (Signed) G. Baufrom afar. He entered the saloon, mel, 1015 W. 20th Place, Chicago, Ill., and Spike, delighted at fresh sport, May 28, 1911. Although Cuticura took aim at him with the largest glass Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a sample of each, with 32-page book, will

WISH AT LAST CAME TRUE

Arbuthnot Witheredge Had Long Wanted to Be Alone With Genevieve Grandilot,

"Well," said Arbuthnot Witheredge, "I am in luck to find you alone, this evening."

"O," replied Genevieve Grandilot, "do you consider it lucky to be alone with me?"

"Why shouldn't I?" "I-I don't know. I have never thought about it before."

"Haven't you ever wished that you and I might be all alone together?" "Why should I wish that?"

"I don't know. I wish you had wished it."

"Have you ever wished it?" "A great many times."

"Would you care if I should tell you

"I-I don't know. Do you think ought to let you tell me why?"

"I wish you would. I am going to tell you. It is because I-"

"Because you what?"

"I wonder if you will hate me after I have told you? Rather than have you decide that we can no longer be friends, I would carry the secret to my grave."

"O, please don't do anything like that. I am sure I shall not hate you. I could never hate you, no matter what happened."

"Do you mean that, Miss Grandilot -Genevieve?"

"Of course. Why shouldn't I?" "I shall risk all, then, and tell you.

I have wanted to be alone with you because-because I love you-because I have wanted to ask you to be mine!" Then the beautiful girl's mother stole away from her place behind the curtain and tiptoed up the back stairs.

LEWIS' "SINGLE BINDER."

A hand-made cigar fresh from the table, wrapped in foil, thus keeping fresh until smoked. A fresh cigar made of good tobacco is the ideal smoke. The old, well cured tobaccos used are so rich in quality that many who formerly smoked 10c cigars now smoke Lewis' Single Binder Straight 5c. Lewis' Single Binder costs the dealer some more than other 5c cigars, but the higher price enables this factory to use extra quality tobacco. There are many imitations: don't be fooled. There is no substitute! Tell the dealer you want a Lewis "Single Binder."

Aerial Scout Work.

As an example of what German military airmen are already able to do, the performance of Lieutenant Mackenthun recently is cited. In a space of 35 minutes Lieutenant Mackenthun, who was acting for the Red force, rose and flew along the enemy's front and was back on the ground at his headguarters ready to report. To obtain the same results would have taken a strong force of cavalry four

OR WHAT MAKE YOU WISH, WHEN YOU ASK FOR SYRUP OF FIGS AND ELIXIR OF SENNA, HE IS PREPAR-ING TO DECEIVE YOU TELL HIM THAT YOU WISH THE GENUINE, MANUFACTURED BY THE CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO ALL RELIABLE DRUGGISTS KNOW THAT THERE IS BUT ONE GENUINE AND THAT IT IS MANU. FACTURED BY THE CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO ONLY

NOTE THE NAME CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP C? PRINTED STRAIGHT ACROSS, NEAR THE BOTTOM, AND IN THE CIRCLE, NEAR THE TOP OF EVERY PACKAGE. OF THE GENUINE ONE SIZE ONLY. FOR SALE BY ALL LEADING DRUGGISTS REGULAR PRICE SOC PER BOTTLE

SYRUP OF FIGS AND ELIXIR OF SENNA IS ESPECIALLY ADAPTED TO THE NEEDS OF LADIES AND CHILDREN, AS IT IS MILD AND PLEASANT GENTLE AND EFFECTIVE, AND ABSOLUTELY FREE FROM OBJECTIONABLE INGREDIENTS. IT IS EQUALLY BENEFICIAL FOR WOMEN AND FOR MEN. YOUNG AND OLD FOR SALE BY ALL LEADING DRUGGISTS. ALWAYS BUY THE GENUINE.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. W. L. DOUGLAS $2.50, $3.00, $3.50 & $4.00 SHOES Men and Women wear W.L.Douglas shoes because they are the best shoes produced in this country for the price. Insist upon having them. Take no other make. THE STANDARD OF QUALITY FOR OVER 30 YEARS

The assurance that goes with an established reputation is your assurance in buying W. L. Douglas shoes.

If I could take you into my large factories at Brockton, Mass., and show you how carefully W.L.Douglas shoes are made, you would then understand why they are warranted to hold their shape, fit better and wear longer than any other make for the price

DENNA 3

AL CONSTIN

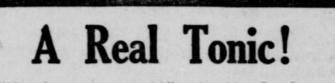

80

MINIATURE PICTURE

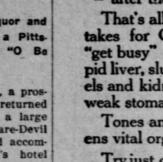

OF PACKAGE

CENT. OF ALCON

CAUTION The genuine have W. L. Douglas name and price stamped on bottom If you cannot obtain W. L. Douglas shoes in your town, write for catalog. Shoes sent direct from factory to wearer, all charges prepaid. W.L. DOUGLAS, 145 Spark St., Brockton, Mass. TWO PAIRS of ordinary boys' shoes

"When I was a young girl," writes Mrs. Guy Simmons, of Columbus, O., "I contracted a bad cold when I was just entering womanhood. From that time on, I grew worse and suffered untold pain. Soon after my marriage, three years here, and one day Hampton let Spike "set 'em up" for everyone in the hotel bar. This gave Spike his first drink, and gave him the desire for it. Nobody minded much, however, until the monkey drifted downstairs from its master's room shortly before dawn and gave a good imitation of a Pittsburgh millionaire on a spree.

ball game.

the result that the two men

"Why?" "Can you ask me why?" "Perhaps I could-could guess." why?"

LLIARD TABLES CANDO TABLES CANNOT AND TABLES CANNOT AND TABLES CANNOT AND TABLES CANNOT AND TABLES sold by co -BALKE - COLLEN

"Spike" Extends Greeting.

in a major league. Hampton was left standing.

"O, nix on that!" Hampton exclaimed. "Come on! I'll buy you a be mailed free on application to regular drink!"

The monkey instantly let a plate fall and leaped joyfully toward its master, who seized him tightly and off the effects of the spree. Hirschorn then took an inventory of his loss, which he conservatively estimated at "more than $50." Hampton said if he couldn't make Spike pay he'd pay him-

Funeral for Live Corpse.

Pottsville, Pa.-Relatives of Peter Magal, who was an inmate of the Schuylkill county almshouse, several miles south of this place, were notified of his death and made preparations for his funeral. When the undertaker received the remains at Shenandoah the mourners crowded around in tears. When the casket was opened it was found the body was not that of their relative. Indignant, the family of the dead man sent the undertaker to the almshouse to get the right body. When he reached the institution he found Magal hale and hearty. The body shipped in mistake was that of Charles Guardin. It was promptly sent back and consigned to the anatomical board.

Ladies Swipe R. R. Towels. San Francisco, Cal.-Twenty-one thousand dollars' worth of towels were "lost" by the Southern Pacific railroad last year and from that reason women who ride on its trains and boats will be compelled to furnish their own towels hereafter.

"Cuticura," Dept. 28 K, Boston.

To Farm on Copper Lands. A party of Houghton capitalists transported him to his room to sleep have under consideration the establishment at a point on the Copper Range railroad south of Houghton of a 600-acre experimental farm. The lands have already been secured, but are at present heavily timbered.

Steps will be tken during the coming winter to cut the timber, and early next spring the stumps will be removed and the land made ready for cultivation. It is hardly probable that crops will be planted before 1913, but the enterprise when established will prove one of the biggest from an agricultural standpoint i nthe copper country .- Michigan Manufacturer.

Color of Butterflies.

The colors of butterflies are influenced by the temperature of the air in which they live.

BEAUTIFUL POST CARDS FREE Send 2c stamp for five samples of my very chole-est Gold Embossed Birthday, Flower and Motto Post Cards; beautiful colors and lovellest designs. Art Post Card Clun, 751 Jackson St., Topeka, Kansas

It pays to be honest-at least it pays your employer.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Where it Belonged.

"Where are you going?" "To fetch some water, sorr." "What, in those disreputable trousers?'

"No. sorr, in this 'ere pail."-London Opinion.

Not Surprised.

"I am sorry, my dear young lady, but you have a black future before you."

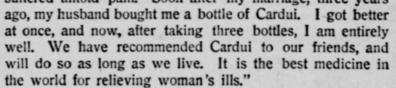

"That's no news. I've just been promoted to the mourning department in the store where I am employed."

Delusionary.

Every man hugs the delusion that sooner or later he will invent something that will make him rich.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic, 25c a bottle.

A man can't kick if his monument is a put up job.

The Woman's Tonic

Have you, too, suffered for years from womanly trouble? Try Cardui. It may be you have just begun to suffer such pains. Relieve the trouble before it becomes chronic-before you have endured years of pain. Try Cardui today.

Cardui has been used for nearly fifty years. The demand for it has increased every year, until it is now recognized everywhere, as the standard medicine for women.

If you suffer from nervousness, weakness, pain in the head, side or back, or from some other symptoms of womanly trouble, get a bottle of Cardui today. You'll be glad you tried it.

Because of those ugly, grizzly, gray hairs. Use "LA CREOLE" HAIR DRESSING.

FOR SALE.

Good New Mexico ear load lots F. O. B. Roswell, N. M. Dry mares from $40.00 to $45.00. Mares and colts 50.00. Will sell from one to five car lots.

Reference, any Bank or business house in Roswell, N. M. 8-10 HERBERT & POTEET.

Deering Binder Twine, 9 cents per pound at the Tahcka Hardware Co. 2-tf

We received an invitation, and we will extend it to include all of our readers, to attend an all day singing and dinner on the ground at the Joe Bailey school house Sunday October the 29th. Every body will be welcome as the Three Lake class. Come on. ment each week.

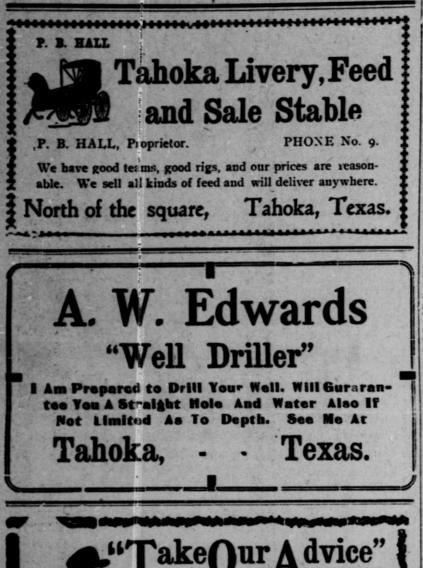

MONEY to Loan on Real Estate mares in at eight per cent, from three to ten years.

> FRED MORRIS, 8-14 Fluvanna, Texas.

J. L. Russell is busy this week moving the tools and machinery from the old Utility Shop on South Sweet street into the old garage building where he has rented a space of 24x40 feet and as soon as he gets his machinery set up he will be ready for business again. The old shop will be occupied by Jim Macfarlane as a blacksmith shop.

We call attention again this week to the advertisment of the rst National Bank. This ad will appear in the upper right hand corner on the editorial page, and as they are running there will be dinner enough for fresh matter in their space each all day and the grounds are spa- week, and as it is very instruccious enough to accomodate all tive matter our readers should the singers in the county, even not fail to read this advertis-

(Continued From Fifth Page) JACOB F. WOLTERS ANNOUNCES FOR BAILEY'S SEAT

investigate the needs and requirements of the different departments to as to intelligently understand what appropriations are necessary. Again, let us presume that a bill providing for the redistricting of the State into congressional, judicial, senatorial and representative districts is submitted to a vote of the people, how many men, regardless of their profession or avocation, and regardless of their intelligence, will take a map and the ensus report in order to ascertain whether such measure complies with the constitutional requirements and rightfully and justly apportions the State. How many men, regardless of their learning, will be able to pass in detail upon such a measure as our present election law? I mean, read it and understand it sufficiently to form a conclusion as to the correct-ness of its details. The present law itself is very voluminous and any law upon this subject must be. There are xamples of extreme cases, I admit, but this criticism applies to practically every law that might be enacted nd submitted

I believe that the people of Texas ould and will carefully consider this ubject before they change the present system which has proven so sat sfactory in the administration of our overnment

The reasons here assigned will be laborated upon during the oncoming ampaign.

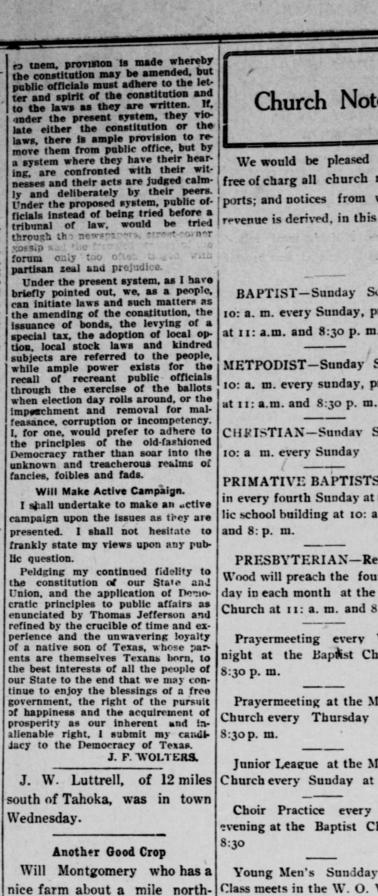

Present System Good Enough.

Under the present system we have rown from thirteen colonies into fory-eight magnificent States; our popuation has increased from 3,000,000 to 0,000,000 people, from a struggling cople who achieved their independace from foreign rule we have become the greatest nation on earth We have prospered as a nation and en joyed the blessings of free governent. I can not conceive it wise that we should change from this representative system to a pure democracy. am confident that when the pcople of Texas and the country at large have given this subject the earnest and careful consideration which it de serves, they will conclude that it is wiser to adhere to the judgment of those who originally created our present system of government, the wisdom of which was demonstrated so clearly in the running of time that it has been adhered to by the long line of illustrious statesmen of our nation and State who have been gathered to their rewards, not to speak of those living ones whose conspicuous ability in statesmanship of the nation and State have distinguished them as men of prudence, patriotism and wisdom, rather than adopt the teachings of nodern statesmen who can only present to us fanciful theories, unsupported by practical experience. Coupled with the initiative and the

too. Will believes in diversifieferendum is the recall, which, in my estion of me pinion, is as objectionable as the other.

The recall is this: Upon the petition of a specified per cent or number his 45 acre patch and that he will get at least 10 more bales.

This nice warm weather this week he is occupied in gathering his sweet potato and peanut crops which he says are alright

Dun

Church Notes

We would be pleased to print free of charg all church notes, re ports; and notices from which no revenue is derived, in this column.

BAPTIST-Sunday School a 10: a. m. every Sunday, preaching at 11: a.m. and 8:30 p. m. 10: a. m. every sunday, preaching bins.

CHRISTIAN-Sunday School at 10: a m. every Sunday

PRIMATIVE BAPTISTS-Preach in every fourth Sunday at the pub- per pound at the Tahoka Hari lic school building at 10: a. m. and ware Co. and 8: p. m.

Wood will preach the fourth Sunday in each month at the Baptist City Saturday of last week. Church at II: a. m. and 8:30 p. m

Prayermeeting every Wednesnight at the Baptist Church at Prayermeeting at the Methodist Church every Thursday night at 8:30 p. m.

Junior League at the Methodist Church every Sunday at 5: p. m.

Choir Practice every Friday evening at the Baptist Church at

Young Men's Sundday School Class meets in the W. O. W. Hall every Sunday morning at 9: a. m. west of Tahoka, tells us that he picked 13 bales of cotton off of Baptist Young Peoples' Union meets every Sunday evening at the Tahoka Baptist Chuich at 7:30 p. m.

The Womans Home Mission

Tahoka Sadde Shop

Society meets Monday afterno after the first and third Sunday in each month.

Senior Bpworth League 1 Every Sunday evening at Methodist Church at 7:30.

If you haven't paid your Ly County News subscription some time, wouldu't it be a idea to do so before the first?

P

Th

the man

that embe

off w

Coler

ment

as w

our]

er tha

officia

sched

nected

chang

trains

Mal

It h

Th

Irvin Shattuck made a trip Post, Saturday of last week ann returned home Sunday.

H. T. Gooch, of T-Bar con nity, was in town Monday after METPODIST-Sunday School at load of coal from the McDani

> Irvin Shattuck, of Edith c munity, was in town Monday ter coal from the McDaniel vard

Deering Binder Twine 9 cen

Dr. S. H. Windham and W PRESBYTERIAN-Rev. J. P. May shipped five carloads of c tle, mostly dry cows. to Kansa

> WANTED-Thrashed Kaffir an maize, sacked at $1 per hundre Ketner & Hatchett.

Albert Beard was in town a bale of cotton Wednesday.

Bart Reece, of four miles east

Come to the

IRA DOAK, PROP.

Up-to-date

TAHOKA, TEXAS

The Tahoka, arrived in town with United load of cotton for the gin The are tog day morning just before daybre of dolla topogra This me For a clean, comfortable Shave such di or a smooth, artistic Hair-Cut balls in to hang feet his Wes ide Barb + Shap convenie being ma of surve rangle, o Baths always on tap: Try one of a degr Laundry basket in connection tude-ab and a se; lished for ed. Tw have alrea the maps located of the Sta During Inited Se party, un

topograph

mapping

the Bryan

be Buekfi

ford and A

These qua

by the Mai

the Grand

quadrangle

miles. Mr

sisted by R

Judson, of

and by fi

completed t

field and Br and work

rangle is we

Almost

knows the v

ment's topo

topographic

ey, and stre

voters demanding the recall of a public official, at the same time nominating a candidate to be elected to fill the vacancy, an election is ordered and held to determine whether the official shall be recalled and the nominee of the petitioners elected to take his place. Under our present system opportuni-ty is afforded to recall a recreant public official at the expiration of his term by the use of a freeman's ballot. At the same time ample provision is made and power vested under the constitution in the courts for the removal of county and precinct officials guilty of corruption, malfeasance or who are incompetent, while the legislature is invested with the power to arraign and impeach and remove from office mempers or State officers and members of the judiciary for corruption, malfeasance or incompetency. Recall a Strife Producer. The proposed system of the recall will produce constant strife and agitation and multiply our elections to an interminable number. A minority of voters dissatisfied for any reason with the actions of any public official can, under this proposed system, file a petition and bring on an elec-tion at any time. It is seldom that in the administration of our public officials of high or small degree that severely by some of the people and sometimes by a majority of the peo-ple, which acts, upon second thought and further consideration, are found to have been not only prompted by and further consideration, are found to have been not only prompted by the highest order of patriotism, but wise in their beneficial effects. In moments of public excitement and pas-sion such an officer would be subject-ed to the recall, the people involved in a campaign and possibly result in harm rather than good to the public. It would tend to make of our public officials cowards and decagogues. What we need more than anything else in this country is men in the pub-lic service of high character, lofty ideals, with the moral courage to do right to the end that the general good may be preserved without being in right to the end that the general good may be preserved without being in-fluenced by either the clamor of the crowd or the appeals of selfish inter-osts. This is essentially a country of laws and not men, and in order to preserve the integrity of the republic, both the constitutional rights pre-served by the citizens from their gov-ernment and the statutory laws enact-ed thereunder must be rigidly adher-ed to, regardless of consequences. If

