Tahoka Public Schools Will Open September 5th

Tahoka High School, Tahoka, Texas.

Mr. Haynes: We announce in your good faith that school will open September 5th. I would be glad if people would turn from the problems and cares that attend their attention so much to think a little while of the school. I have found some in the last few days who do not think that ours is an affiliated school. Some do not know that the High School of the First National Bank worked last year under that classification. The facts have been given in The News, and in other papers but some people have asked them. So, it is with the school as it is with many things; some people do not appreciate because they do not know. Therefore I would like those interested in our school to stop for a moment to think about our school and what it means to our town and country. The school will open with the best for excellent work this year. The School Board has its best to provide for a year's work. Teachers have been carefully chosen, and the best provided as far as means. One of the most important things provided this year is an extra teacher for grade work. With this help we can make it to have promotions this year. This arrangement should mean much to many children. Another change worthy of notice is the substitution of Spanish for Latin. This, I am convinced is a wise change, if for no other reason, because we shall each year become more closely related commercially, if in no other way, with the Spanish speaking people to the south of us, and those will be at a advantage who have a knowledge of the language. We are all disappointed at not having our new buildings. Since their approval, the bonds could be sold only at a sacrifice, and this the board has refused to do. We expect to have one additional room finished and equipped by the opening of school. And while speaking of the finances of the school may I say that an investigation will show that considering the school we have, and the attendance, our school is maintained more cheaply than the average. The records will show that we have as good a school as any place our size, but I want to make it more efficient this year and to this end I earnestly and respectfully ask the help of every patron and friend of the school. There are two points on which our school needs improvement, and which the people can help improve: attendance and tardiness. I hope we may have better attendance this year and fewer tardies. I wish to call attention to the use of free text books. The law and the rules provided by the state authorities requires that children using free text books must care for them or be deprived of the use of them, and the school authorities are charged with the duty of seeing that this is done, being required to give bond in excess of the value of the books to secure the care of them. The law requires that children must cover their books. The Board is not required to furnish covers and will not do so this year. Those who will not cover books will be deprived of the use of the books. As the law requires this, we have no choice in the matter, and the rule will be strictly enforced. As we have no place for meeting at the school building, I would like very much for all of those interested in the school to meet at the Methodist Church Monday morning, September 5th at eight o'clock and let us talk school work for an hour. Send the children on to the school house by nine o'clock prepared to stay all day. There will be no need for their coming to the church. I wish to thank The News for its co-operation in the past, and hope I may continue to have it. Respectfully, H. P. Caveness.

Gulf Highway Boosters to meet In Fredericksburg

The annual State Convention of the Puget Sound to Gulf Highway Association will be held at Fredericksburg, Friday, Sept. 2nd. This will be the first time Fredericksburg is honored with this meeting, and judging by the manner in which this city is taking matters in hand, it will be the most successful meeting of the kind ever held. Although the business meeting will take up only one day, the people of Fredericksburg have planned a big outing to the enchanted rock, a 160 acre solid granite dome over 500 feet high, located 16 miles north of the town on a site rich in Indian legends, where a big free barbecue will be given to the visitors on Saturday, September 3rd.

If you want to keep this highway you should attend this meeting and "boost it up". Free camping grounds will be provided for those who wish to camp out. Tahoka is located on this highway and a number of local citizens have signified their intention of attending the association. J. J. Taylor and family of Crosbyton, are the guests of his brother, S. The meeting was called by S. B. Hatchett, President of the local Chamber of Commerce, to discuss the proposed Sewer and Pavement election, which will probably be held at a date in the near future, as most of the leading business men of Tahoka realize that the time has come if we keep pace with our neighbor towns that we must do this very necessary work, and the meeting was also called at the request of County Judge Elliott of this county, to discuss the road problems of this section. It is the general opinion of those present that the meeting was a success from every viewpoint.

LAW ENFORCEMENT PLAYED IN SENATE

SENATORS INSIST ON KEEPING STANLEY AMENDMENT TO ANTI-BEER BILL.

THE HOME BREW QUESTION

House Substitute Would Permit Numerous Small Distilleries, It is Claimed.

Washington.—The Senate will insist that the prohibition laws be enforced with proper regard for constitutional guarantees against unwarranted search and seizure.

This was made clear Thursday, when a parliamentary wrangle over the status of the anti-beer bill developed into a bitter attack on the methods that have been employed in enforcement, in which both wets and dries participated.

The House had altered the Stanley amendment in a way which Senators declared virtually nullified it. The House substitute, it was argued, practically legalized home brewing operations, and at the same time permitted the search of individuals without warrant.

The Senate agreed to do as Sterling asked, but not until there had been three hours' discussion, which began with an effort to figure out just where the legislation stood. During the debate Senator Reed of Missouri denounced admission of Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, into the conference between Senate and House spokesmen in the face of a denial from Sterling that this had been done.

Senator Ashurst of New Mexico, bolted the conference on the bill because he said there were indications that the Stanley amendment would be weakened, declared he would sign no report which did not support the exact text of the amendment.

LABOR'S DEMANDS ARE REFUSED BY RAILROADS

Western Roads End Two-Day Conference With Brotherhoods.

Chicago, Ill.—The demands of the big five railway brotherhoods to wipe out the recent wage cut, withdraw all further requests for wage decreases and cancel all demands for elimination of time and one-half for overtime in train and yard service, were refused by the Western railroads on the ground that these demands disregarded the public's interest in economical operation and resultant lower freight and passenger rates.

The decision followed a two-day conference between the executives of the brotherhoods and a committee representing the Western carriers and composed of A. W. Trenholm, vice president of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul; W. T. Tyler, vice president of the Northern Pacific; G. S. Waid, vice president and general manager of the Southern Pacific and E. E. Calvin, vice president of the Union Pacific System.

NEW MEXICO TOWN IS WIPED OUT BY FLOOD

Residents Of Hatch Flee To Foothills, Abandoning Belongings.

Las Cruces, N. M.—The town of Hatch, N. M., 38 miles north of here, was destroyed Thursday by a flood following a cloudburst, according to reliable information received by the Chamber of Commerce here. The 500 residents escaped to the hills, most of them in their night clothes. There was no loss of life reported.

The cloudburst struck Santa Teresa, a village in the foothills two miles west of Hatch, shortly after 3 o'clock Thursday morning. Only one dwelling was left at Santa Teresa.

Two hours later the wall of water rushed down the arroyo into Hatch, where the male residents were assisting women and children to the hills. Many of them were forced to flee in their night clothes, abandoning everything.

CREDIT MEN OPPOSE PROPOSED MERGER

MUCH OPPOSITION TO ADMITTING COMMERCIAL AGENTS IS SHOWN.

Houston, Texas.—The ninth annual convention of the Retail Credit Men's National Association opened Tuesday morning with about 500 members, including seventy-five women present, and with George A. Lawo, president, presiding, assisted by David J. Woodlock, secretary-treasurer, and E. W. Nelson, first vice president.

C. P. Younts, president of the local association, welcomed the delegates in the name of the organization and made announcements of the pleasure and entertainment features of the three-day convention.

Sewell Myer, City Attorney, welcomed the delegates to the city of Houston in the absence of Mayor Oscar F. Holcombe who was detained at the City Hospital.

Response was made by Sidney E. Blandford, representing R. H. White & Co. of Boston, and the official orator of the national association.

One of the most important matters that will come before the convention was the introduction of a resolution and motion to admit to full membership, individually and collectively, the National Association of Mercantile Agents, which has been holding a convention in connection with the credit men's meet and which adjourned its final session this morning.

E. W. Nelson, first vice president and chairman of the joint committee of credit men and mercantile agents, which considered the proposition to combine, made the motion on the convention floor Tuesday morning. Instantly opposition to the proposition sprang up from all quarters of the hall and a heated discussion of the meaning of the combination was delved into by various members.

President Lawo's only recommendation was that an assistant secretary be employed to assist in research work. The creation of this department, he said, would prove of inestimable service and value to the association.

BILL CUTS ANNUAL TAX $790,330,000

Greatest Loss Would Reflect In 1923 Under Proposed Measure.

Washington.—A reduction of $790,330,000 in the annual tax bill of the Nation will result from the changes in the 1918 revenue act embodied in the new administration tax bill, Chairman Fordney of the Ways and Means Committee declared in a majority report filed Monday with the House.

"Inasmuch as the repeal of the excess profits tax and reduction of surtax rates on individual incomes do not become effective until the calendar year 1922," the report said, "$406,250,000 of the contemplated loss of revenue collections prior to 1923."

Actual reductions in taxes for this fiscal year, the report continued, are estimated at approximately $200,000,000, total collections under the new bill being figured at $3,376,000,000, as against estimated collections of $3,576,000,000 under the present law.

The negro came into the store and purchased a package of cigarettes and as he reached for his proffered coin, he grabbed her arm and the struggle began.

TEXAS CROPS ARE REPORTED IMPROVED

REPORTS SHOW THAT COTTON HAS BEGUN TO LOOK BETTER.

Dallas.—Rains in various sections of Texas during the last week have improved the cotton prospects and made for better yields of grain.

East Texas farmers say the prospect is very much improved since a week ago. Rangers in Brown County are very dry and frequent pasture fires are a menace to cattle and improvements.

Marshall reports cotton to be deteriorating rapidly and the crop to be about three weeks later than the seasonal average for picking. Farmers there are making an effort to dispose of about 1,500 bales of old cotton before the new crop begins to move.

The only worry of farmers in the Panhandle of Texas is to secure cars in which to ship out their grain crops. Amarillo got three and a half inches of rain in one day last week.

Forty cents per 100 pounds seems to be the price that will prevail for cotton picking in Navarro County and vicinity this season and the farmers report adequate help for the work. The average yield of cotton there is from one-fourth to one-half bale to the acre.

Gainesville reports very sad prospects for a cotton crop owing to boll-worms. Little grain is being marketed there.

Oklahoma cotton prospects are very poor and the Government estimate of 600,000 bales for that State is asserted to be greatly in excess of the prospect. All other crops save cotton are doing well in Oklahoma and the spirit of the farmers is high.

RHINE BARRIER WILL BE LIFTED SEPT. 15

Germany Must Pay Promptly Her War Indemnities, However

Paris.—The lifting of the economic barrier of the Rhineland on Sept. 15, providing Germany pays up the amount she undertook to pay under the London ultimatum and agrees to remove the boycott against French goods, was decided upon at the final session of the allied supreme council Saturday. It was decided, however, to maintain the occupation of Ruhrt, Duisburg and Duesseldorf until the next meeting of the council, which, it is understood will be held previous to the Washington disarmament conference.

At that time Premier Briand consented the question of the occupation of the right bank of the Rhine would be reconsidered. With the question of the disposition of Upper Silesia out of its hands, the council went to work on the other matters which it had to take under advisement.

$200,000 IS FIGURE OF ARMAMENT PARLEY COST

Estimates Place This As Minimum Cost to The United States.

Washington.—On the basis of the first official estimates, it will cost the American Government at least $100,000 a month in its attempt to limit world armaments and settle problems of friction in the Far East. This is revealed in a memorandum prepared by Undersecretary of State Henry P. Fletcher and submitted to Congress by President Harding, requesting an initial appropriation of $200,000 "at the earliest possible date." Fletcher, however, emphasized his inability to calculate in advance the printing costs attendant upon the arms conference and "I must point out," he added, "that the estimate is based on the sessions of the conference covering the period of only two months. If the sessions are prolonged beyond that period it will no doubt prove necessary to secure an additional appropriation."

Rural School Aid Now $2,500,000.

Austin, Texas.—What is declared to be an exact compromise was made Tuesday by the conferees on the bill appropriating funds to aid the rural schools of the State when it agreed on $1,500,000 the first year and $1,000,000 the second year. The conference report was adopted and the bill sent to the Governor.

Body of Tourist Found.

Prescott, Ariz.—The body of August Kaufman, automobile tourist from Pasadena, Cal., missing since last Wednesday, was found on the desert fifty miles west of Congress Junction, forty miles south of here, by Majave County officers. The man had perished from thirst and exposure, the officers said.

Prison Reform Up To Neff.

Austin, Texas.—By passing the five penitentiary bills, the House indorsed the work and recommendations of the legislative committee that investigated the prison system and went on record as being in favor of revising the entire penitentiary system. All these bills have already passed the Senate so that that action of the House clinches the Legislature's attitude on the subject. The only question is whether Governor Neff will veto the bills.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 18, 1921.—Quotations for week ending August 15. HAY.—Receipts increased during week but prices held strong for good grades in central western markets. Eastern markets easier and slightly lower. Higher quotations in southern markets restricted buying. Relatively heavy receipts in Pacific coast markets were in excess of limited demand. FEEDS.—Trade quiet and prices for most feeds slightly lower than last week. Bran is weak under heavy offerings from the southwest. Middlings strong and in fairly good demand. Gluten feed fairly active. Hominy fed dull and lower, cottonseed meal lower because of nearness of new crop. Stocks of old crop meal light and selling slowly. Lined seed easier. Export demand for high protein feeds poor causing weak undertone for these feeds. Stocks of most feeds ample. Alfalfa meal steady. One fact lending support was the storage report released Aug. 10 covering total United States holdings which indicated a shortage of some 19,000,000 lbs. under last year. Ninety two score prices Aug. 15: New York 44c; Chicago 41c; Philadelphia and Boston 41 1/2c.

GEORGE CREEL OUSTED AS ENVOY OF OREGON

Washington.—George Creel has been dismissed from the service of the Mexican Government since the publication of the now famous interview, in a New York newspaper, purporting to have been written by President Obregon of Mexico, but in reality written by Creel.

Elmer Dover of Seattle, formerly high in the councils of the Republican party and a personal friend of President Harding, has been chosen to succeed Creel, it was learned here, and is now engaged actively in the attempt to bring about, through all legitimate means, the recognition of the Mexican Government by the United States. Private reports from Mexico City tell of the dismissal of Creel and employment of Dover. It is a case of a deserving Democrat ousted in favor of a deserving Republican.

LEGISLATURE AGAIN CALLED IN SESSION

DEPARTMENTAL, REDISTRIBUTING AND ELEMOSYNARY ACTS ON BLOCK

Austin, Texas.—Governor Neff vetoed the departmental appropriation bill, the eleemosynary institution appropriation bill and the senate redistricting bill and submit all these matters to the special session of the Legislature which starts Wednesday. He made this known to members of the Legislature who met at the executive office. He present intention to submit of topics to the newly convened session, but as to that he would be governed by future developments.

Much pressure is being brought to bear on Governor Neff not to veto the departmental and eleemosynary bills but to use his blue pencil to veto the items to which he objects. Miss Annie Webb Blanton, State Superintendent, and others went to Governor and pleaded with him to throw the whole thing back to the Legislature and have the billings, quarrels and delays. They it would be far better if he veto items to effect the reduction he seeks.

In resubmitting the Senatorial districting bill, after it is vetoed, Governor will not discuss the apportionment made therein but will miss his objection to the Senate amendment which would not permit bill to become effective until 1924.

Hardly had the echo of adjournment gavel died away when Governor Neff issued his proclamation announcing the second extraordinary session of the Thirty-Seventh Legislature, and he called it before the members can collect any mileage.

In issuing his sunrise proclamation reconvening the Legislature on Wednesday he used this language in submitting the purposes: "To make appropriations, within the available resources for the support and maintenance of the State government and State institutions."

Speaker Thomas and Mr. S. white went over the appropriation for the Governor to show that will be enough revenue to of the State's obligations, creating a deficiency and that is no need of making heavy by vetoes. They also suggested who it would be a mistake to veto money bills and throw them back the Legislature and especially present mood.

APOLLO.

Jane Harding, respectable conservative old spinster, never too old to think of a young man with more money than she. She is inveigled by a strong-armed spinster, Miss Higlesby, with him into financing an expedition to buried treasure on Leeward Island. Her niece, Virginia, learns of it by letter, and hurries up trip to the Panatier if he and catches the steamer, demands her aunt. "Another yell the captain."

CHAPTER I.—Continued.

When, was Miss Violet Higlesby. I saw a grim, bony, shape, in a companion costume, my aunt's. Around the edges of her helmet her short iron-gray hair bristled. She had a mask on her face, and a seamed and rugged expression which did its best to live the humiliation of a ridiculous use with no bridge. "What riveted my eyes was the glare with which hers were turned upon me. I saw that not only as certain of my identity as this sign she had guided me from my steering steps, but that in a single apprehend grasped my motives, available beyond purposes, and meant once maintenance, out-general and defeat and State slaughter. He announced to the company and Mr. Saliberation: "The Young Per-appropriated!"

show that I was extremely. "Be- tations wish to save my poor aunt and that such a situation as this? It heavy in charitable to infer madness suggests one who have led her into it!" I reviewed this speech after them realized that it was not, under specially circumstances, the best calculated friends. "I say, what a jolly good sailor you seem to be—pity your aunt's not!" I looked up and saw Apollo sitting beside me. Or rather, shall I say a young man who might have walked out of an advertisement for a ready-made clothing house, so ideal and im- possible was his beauty. He was very tall—I had to tilt my chin quite pain- fully to look up at him—and from the loose collar of his silk shirt his throat rose like a column. His skin was a beautiful clear pink and white just tinged with tan—like a meringue that has been in the oven for two minutes exactly. He had a straight, chiseled profile and his hair was thick and chestnut and wavy and he had clear sea-gray eyes. To give him at once his full name and titles, he was the Honorable Cuthbert Patrick Ruth- more Vane, of High Staunton Manor, Kent, England. But as I was ignorant of this, I can truthfully say that his looks stunned me purely on their own merits.

Outwardly calm, I replied, "Yes, it's too bad, but then who ever dreamed that Aunt Jane would go at- tending at her time of life? I thought nobody over the age of thir- teen, and then boys, ever went treas- ure-hunting." "Ah, but lads of thirteen couldn't well come such a distance on their own, you know," returned Apollo, with the kindest air of making allowance for the female intellect. I hurriedly turned the subject. "I really can't imagine Aunt Jane on a desert island. What will she do if she meets a cannibal and he tries to eat her?" "Oh, really, now," argued the para- gon earnestly, "I'm quite sure there's no danger of that, don't you know? I believe there are no natives at all on the island, or else quite tame ones, I Higlesby-Browne and her fellow-pas- sengers was a cool little white gown, which would shine at least by con- trast with Miss Browne's severely utilitarian costume. White is becoming to my hair, which narrow-minded per- sons term red, but which has been known to cause the more discriminat- ing to draw heavily on the dictionary for adjectives. My face is small and heart-shaped, with features strictly for use and not for ornament, but fortunately inconspicuous. As for my eyes, I think tawny quite the nicest word, though Aunt Jane calls them hazel and I have even heard whispers of green.

Five minutes after the gong sound- ed I walked into the cabin. Miss Browne, Captain Watkins of the freighter, and half a dozen men were already at the table. I slid unobtru- sively into the one vacant place, for- tunately remote from the captain, who glared at me savagely, as though still embittered by the recollection of my aunt's fits. "Gentlemen," said Miss Browne in icy tones, "Miss Virginia Harding."

Two of the men rose, the others stared and ducked. Except for Miss Browne and the captain, I had re- ceived on coming aboard only the most blurred impression of my fellow-voy- agers. I remembered them merely as a composite of khaki and cork hel- mets and astounded staring faces. But I felt that as the abettors of Miss Browne a hostile and sinister atmos- phere enveloped them all.

Being thus in the camp of the en- emy, I sat down in silence and devoted myself to my soup. The majority of my companions did likewise—audibly. But presently I heard a voice at my left: "I say, what a jolly good sailor you seem to be—pity your aunt's not!"

chaps, with no end of revolver and things. Mr. Shaw—sitting opposite Miss Browne, you know—is rather running things, so if you feel nervous you should talk to him. Was with the South Polar expedition and all that—knows no end about this sort of thing—wouldn't for a moment think of let- ting ladies run the risk of being eaten."

I peeped around Apollo for a glimpse of the experienced Mr. Shaw. I saw a strong-featured, weather- beaten profile, the face of a man some- where in his thirties, and looking, from this side view at least, not only stern but grim.

I made up my mind at once that the backbone of the party, and inevitably the leader in its projected villainies, whatever they might be, was this rugged-looking Mr. Shaw. You couldn't fancy him as the misled fol- lower of anybody, even the terrific Violet.

As it seemed an unpropitious mo- ment for taking counsel with Mr. Shaw about cannibals, I tried another tack with the beautiful youth at my side.

"How did you like Panama? I fancy the old town is very pictur- esque."

"Oh, rather!" assented Mr. Vane. "At least, that is what those painter chaps call it—met a couple of 'em at the hotel. Beastly little narrow streets and houses in a shocking state and all that. I like to see property kept up, myself."

"I am afraid," I said severely, "that you are a philistine!"

He blinked a little. "Ah—quite so!" he murmured, recovering himself gallantly. "One of those chaps that backed Goliath against David, what?"

From this conversational impasse we were rescued by the interposition of the gentleman opposite, whose small twinkling eyes had been taking me in with intentness.

"I did some flittin' about that little old burg on my own hook," he in- formed us, "and what I got to say is, it needs wakin' up. I might have took a hand in it myself, if I hadn't have met up with Miss Browne and your aunt. Yes, sir, I had a slick little proposition or two up my sleeve. Backed by some of the biggest capital in the U. S. A.—in fact, there's a bunch of fellers up there in God's country that's pretty sore on old H. H. for passin' things up this way. Kep' the wires hummin' for two-three days, till they seen I wasn't to be switched, and then the Old Man him- self—no use mentionin' names, but I guess you know who I mean—Wall Street would, quick enough, anyway—the Old Man himself threatened to put his yacht in commission and come down to find out what sort of little game H. H. was playin' on him. But I done like Br'er Rabbit—jest lay low. Hamilton H. Tubbs knows a good thing when he sees it about as quick as the next one—and he knows enough to keep mum about it, too!"

Three or four rough-looking men, of whom one, a certain Captain Mag- nus, belonged to our party and the rest to the ship, continued vigorously to hack their way through the meal with clattering knives and forks. Of other sounds there was none. Such gloom weighed heavily on the genial spirit of Mr. Tubbs, and he lightened it by rising to propose a toast.

"Ladies and gentlemen, to her now unfortunately laid low by the pangs of mal de mer—our friend and bony dear, Miss Harding!"

This was bewildering, for neither by friend nor foe could Aunt Jane be called bony. Later in the light of Mr. Tubbs's passion for classical allusion, I decided to translate it bona den, and consider the family complimented. At the moment I sat stunned, but Miss Browne, with greater self-possession, majestically inclined her head and said: "In the name of our absent friend, I thank you."

In spite of wistful looks from the beautiful youth as we rose from the table, and the allurement of a tropic moon, I remained constant to duty and Aunt Jane, and immured myself in her stateroom, where I passed an unenjoyable evening listening to her moans. She showed a faint returning spark of life when I mentioned Cuthbert Vane, and raised her head to murmur that he was Honorable and she understood though not the heir, still likely to inherit and perhaps after all Providence—

The unspoken end of Aunt Jane's sentence pursued me into dreams in which an unknown gentleman oblig- ingly broke his neck riding to hounds and left Apollo heir to the title and estates.

"I say, Miss Harding, you're bound to like Shaw. No end—"

Has Light of 500 Million Candles. A one-half billion candlepower searchlight, the most powerful in the world, whose rays can be seen for 70 miles, has just been received at San Francisco, where it will be installed on Mount Tamalpais, at the entrance to the Golden Gate.

The light is ten feet high, weighs nearly three tons and has a 60-inch lens. A man standing ten miles from the light could read a newspaper. Ten feet away he would be able to light a cigar by means of it. A citizens' committee of San Francisco is arrang- ing for the searchlight, which will shoot its rays out across the Pacific ocean and give the first indication to incoming steamships that land is near.

Suit-Frocks and Others

JUDGING from the examples now on exhibition, of one-piece frocks for fall, we may prophesy a season in which these dresses will follow the lines of the natural figure. It would be more accurate to say that they adjust themselves to it easily and gracefully in a way that is flattering to all figures. Many of them are of the straight line type, showing a very slight definition of the waistline which they contrive to make a little long. Others have bodices bloused, over gir- dles, all around and still others are bloused at the front and hang straight at the back in the fashion of a "paletot," which extends below the waistline.

Box and side platings are making themselves very useful in one-piece frocks, both in suit-frocks like that at the left of the picture and in dresses that do not simulate a suit. Some of the smartest of the suit-frocks have jackets, capes or other wraps to match but this is the excep- tion and not the rule. The model pic- tured here, of dark blue cloth, has its bodice faced with beige-colored crepe de chine and turned back to form a collar. It opens to the waistline over a high-necked vest of batiste, voile, net or other sheer wash fabric and has a narrow tie of black ribbon at the throat. Wide, black, crepe ribbon is used for the girdle and groups of plaits at the sides break the straight lines of the skirt.

Several successful summer ideas are carrying over into fall and among them are long petal tunics as shown in the dress at the right. Four long petals rounded at the ends, are embroidered with a narrow band in a contrasting color and hung over a plain skirt. The embroidered band outlines the neck and finishes the sleeves. There is a vestee and a wide sash of crepe de chine which match the embroidery in color.

Fall Hats Follow Devious Ways

THE story of millinery for fall and winter is going to be interesting, not to say exciting. Its opening chap- ter, now being written in hats for early fall, is fascinating, introducing us to new arrivals in the realm of fabrics and trimmings, and intriguing us by the exhaustless ingenuity of de- signers. Starting with fabrics—duv- etyn and similar cloths, satin, velvet, both plain and panne, are the old fa- miliar favorites that make a founda- tion or a background for new kinds of brocade and new kinds of em- broidery net; brocades that look like cut-out work, nets that look like metal embroidery on heavy fabrics over which they are posed.

For trimmings, the designer looks to many things, beads of the bugle and seed varieties and larger wooden beads, soutache braid, narrow ribbons, feathers, silk embroidery and stitch- ery. And the public, it appears, puts a premium on originality in the use and combination of all these.

As may be gathered from the hats that appear in the group above, hats are far from simple, most of them frames, whose outlines are more or less definitely followed, crowns are soft, or at any rate soft looking, even in blocked shapes. A duvety hat at the upper left of the group is a good ex- ample, with a narrow braid that has the effect of embroidery, making an irregular scroll over it. A pln with a dangling head, studded with rhine- stones, is thrust in the coronet at the right side. The lovely velvet hat at the right follows the lines of a similar shape more vaguely, and has rosette of narrow cre ribbon set in a row at each side. The wide brimmed Bre- ton sailor draped with duvety is faced with satin elaborated with braid. Beads and narrow ribbon cover the coronet of the round velvet turban, with a flower and leaf design. The felt shape, with overbrim, which may be either velvet or duvety, makes a fine background for the wreath of chenille flowers applied to its crown.

Pay Up Last Month's Account This Month

It Will Keep Your Credit Good and Make Your Account Desirable

The Retail Merchants Association of Texas is conducting an advertising campaign to educate slow-paying customers in the justice and importance of paying their bills promptly when due.

Credit is a convenience based on confidence—not in your ultimate desire and ability to pay your bills, but in willingness and ability to pay them promptly when due.

Many persons have been negligent and indifferent in the past to the prompt payment of their bills, mainly, because they did not realize the importance of this rule. These people will readily respond to the mere announcement of the conditions that render the enforcement of this measure imperative at the present time.

There are others, however, who believe that because they eventually pay their bills their accounts are desirable. They think a fancied superiority to ordinary mortals, because of prominence in social, business, or political circles, releases them from the obligation of paying their debts promptly.

They assume the prerogative of saying how and when they shall pay their bills. Or possibly because of poor management of their personal affairs, they buy more than they can pay for. In other instances they put off paying from month to month, meanwhile buying more and more, until the amount of the account becomes almost unpayable.

Then they become indignant at the courteous requests for settlement. It is decidedly unpleasant for all concerned.

A banker will lend money to a poor man who pays promptly; he will not lend to his rich neighbor who allows his obligations to run into the overdue stage.

From now on all customers are asked to pay their accounts when due, between the first and tenth of month following purchase. If they will do this their accounts will be welcome in all stores. If they do not do this, they will soon find that their accounts are undesirable.

That, as a part of the consideration for said property the said V. T. Williams made, executed and delivered to the said C. C. Barnes, his certain four promissory notes, No. 1 for the sum of $550.00 due on or about the 15th day of October, 1920; No. 2 for the sum of $400.00, due on or before January 1, 1921; No. 3 for the sum of $500.00, due on or before August 1, 1921; No. 4 for the sum of $600.00, due on or before January 1, 1922, after date respectively. No. 1 of said notes bearing interest at the rate of 10 per cent from maturity thereof, and Nos. 2, 3 and 4 of said notes bearing interest at the rate of 10 per cent from date, each said notes providing that a failure to pay any one of them, when due, shall at the election of the holder of the mature all said notes, and each said notes providing that if same are placed in the hands of an attorney for collection or suit is brought thereon, then giver agrees to pay 10 per cent additional on the principal interest then owing as Attorneys' fees, and being due and payable at Tahoka, Texas.

That on or about the 25th day of October, 1920, the defendant V. T. Williams, gave to the plaintiff C. C. Barnes, a renewal note in lieu of the No. 1 of said series of notes with the defendant Thomas J. Williams as surety thereon, said renewal note being for the principal sum of $500.00, and being due and payable on or before the 15th day of September, 1921, and bearing interest from date until paid at the rate of 10 per cent per annum, and payable at Tahoka, Texas, and to further secure the payment of said last noted note Defendant V. T. Williams made, executed and delivered to Plaintiff C. C. Barnes, his certain chattel mortgage on one model 648, Buick Car, engine No. 1749.

That none of said notes have been paid and plaintiffs elect to mature all them: that there is now due and owing upon said notes the principal of $1950.00, and interest from the dates to the present time at the rate of 10 per cent per annum.

That plaintiffs have placed said notes in the hands of W. F. Hendrix, attorney, for collection and prompt to pay him the amount of 10 per cent provided for in said notes. To secure the payment of said four notes, the Defendant V. T. Williams, made, executed and delivered to the Plaintiff C. C. Barnes, Chattel Mortgage upon the Separator, Engine and Water Wagon, which said mortgage plaintiff immediately filed for record in the proper office of Lynn County, Texas. That said notes and mortgages were made in the name of C. C. Barnes, and that W. R. Ragle owns the same and owned the property sold and said was made for the use and benefit of the said W. R. Ragle. That Note No. 1 of said series of notes, is dated August 9, 1920, when in truth the fact, same should be September 14, 1920, that said notes were made on said last named date and by mutual mistake of the parties and by mistake of the draftsman who drew said notes, said Note No. 1 was not corrected so as to show proper date before signing, and plaintiffs say same should be reformed as to show the proper date of the said defendant V. T. Williams removed said separator, engine and water wagon from Lynn County to Dawson County, by the act of the plaintiff, but that he has abandoned same, and same is in Dawson County, and the said separator were at plaintiffs information, about 9 miles and are not being properly cared for, and are going to rack and ruin, and are losing their security. The defendant H. H. Barron taken possession of the separator which plaintiffs have a lien, and removed same away from where engine is, hauling same over a road, shaking same to pieces and not taking good care of same; that he took possession of same without any authority whatsoever, and therefore converted same to his own use and benefit; that plaintiff attempted to get the possession of said separator from the defendant H. H. Barron, but was prevented by him from doing so; that he took possession of the same or any part thereof without any authority whatever on his part, and did also convert same to his own use and benefit; that said separator was at the time of its conversion by said defendant of the value of $1000.00 to plaintiffs damage in this amount. That plaintiffs had made two trips from Tahoka to Dawson County, for the purpose of getting said property so that they might take proper care of same and might foreclose their lien thereon and collect their said debt, but that the said H. H. Barron refused to allow plaintiffs to take possession of same, or any part thereof, at an expense to plaintiffs of $20.00. That the defendant V. T. Williams, took the automobile upon which plaintiffs had a lien to Plainview, Texas, and there borrowed $40.00 on same and left the car in possession of the lender to secure the payment of said $40.00 and that there was $10.00 storage charges on same and plaintiffs were compelled to go to Plainview and pay off and satisfy said sum of $50.00 in order to get possession of said car and protect themselves at an expense to them of $30.00, exclusive of the $50.00 paid; that the said V. T. Williams had no right to take said car to Plainview, and no right to again pledge same for any sum, this to plaintiffs damage in the sum of $80.00, but that plaintiffs have since sold said car under the terms of said mortgage on same and received therefor the sum of $500.00 less the sum of $15.00, the costs of making said sale, leaving a net amount of $485.00, for which plaintiffs here tender credit on said renewal note. That the defendant Elzie Williams is claiming some kind of a right, title or interest in and to said property, but plaintiffs say that whatever said claim or interest may be, same is inferior to the lien of these plaintiffs.

Plaintiffs pray that the defendant V. T. Williams, be cited to appear and answer herein, that a writ of sequestration issue and said property be taken in charge by the officer, subject to replevin; that they have judgment for their debt, interest, attorneys fees and costs, for their expenses against the defendant V. T. Williams, and against the defendant Thomas J. Williams on said renewal note for their expenses in connection with same, and the other security thereon. That they have judgment against the defendant H. H. Barron, for the wrongful conversion of said separator in the sum of $1,000.00, together with their expenses in trips to Dawson County to get possession of said property. That in the event the court should find that the said H. H. Barron is not guilty of wrongful conversion, then that plaintiffs be adjudged to have a superior lien on said property to secure the payment of said notes and that they have judgment for their said expenses. That plaintiffs be adjudged to have a superior lien, as to each and all of the defendants, to secure the payment of their said debt and that said lien be foreclosed and said property sold and the proceeds arising from the sale thereof be applied to the payment of plaintiffs debts and all costs of suit, and that in the event said property could not sell for a sufficient amount to satisfy said debt in full, then that plaintiffs have judgment for any balance that may remain due and that said judgment bear interest at the rate of 10 per cent per annum as in said notes provided, and for such other and further relief, general and special, either in law or in equity to which they may be entitled.

S. W. SANFORD, Sheriff, Lynn County, Texas. Herein fail not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same. Witness, H. B. Robinson, Clerk of the District Court of Lynn County. Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Tahoka, Texas, this the 27th day of July, A. D. 1921. B. H. They Weren't Cherries.

While going through the grocery department of one of our large stores recently I noticed a crowd around a demonstrator, but I paid no attention to what she was saying. On the table was a dish of what I thought were maraschino cherries. I took one and put it in my mouth. With the first bite I had the crowd around me. I thought I was poisoned and could not understand the laughing and screaming of the crowd. Instead of a cherry, as I thought, it was a capsule containing coloring matter for oleomargarine that the lady was demonstrating. My lips, chin and waist were colored a beautiful yellow. I must have looked like the Yellow Kid. This cured me of the bad habit of sampling things.—Exchange.

RADIUM: Mine To Hospital

COLORADO HEADQUARTERS

By JOHN DICKINSON SHERMAN.

CONCERNING MME. CURIE

Curie and her discovery of radium, her recent visit to the United States and the presentation to her by American women of a gram of radium in recognition of her services to science and humanity the reading public is sufficiently informed. Everybody knows that she was made much of by our dignitaries; that ten degrees were conferred upon her by our universities; that President Harding himself made the presentation to her in the White House with appropriate words in the presence of a brilliant gathering of notables, and that a tired and happy woman finally sailed away with her precious gram of radium stored in a mahogany case lined with steel and lead. She said she was going to take a real rest and that she hoped in September to go back to her work in the Curie Institute in Paris—now that she again has radium to work with. The institute divides its work along two main lines. One has to do with the study of radium and radioactive substances purely from the viewpoint of the physicist; the other deals with their application to the treatment of human ailments. She will also carry on an extensive investigation of mesothorium, another radioactive substance—enough of this was presented to her to bring the value of the combined gift to $165,000.

But where this American radium came from and how it was produced is another story, which may profitably be told in this connection. It is especially interesting, inasmuch as the total world's supply of radium is estimated at only 140 grams (a gram is one twenty-eighth of an ounce). The illustration by comparison shows how small is this amount. The lower section represents that made by the principal American radium refinery, the dark section that made by other American refineries and the upper layer that produced abroad. So, though radium was not produced in the United States till 1913, this country now has made about five times as much as the rest of the world.

While Mme. Curie, by discovering radium, introduced a new conception into the fundamental problems of existence, she actually produced very little radium, since she was denied the ores with which to work. Moreover, she gave it all away to the medical profession of Europe. A very small portion found its way to New York. In 1911 the late Joseph M. Flannery of Pittsburgh, who had made a success with vanadium as an alloy for steel, devoted his attention to the production of radium. The ores of other countries being out of the question, he turned to the carnotite deposits of southwestern Colorado. Prior to the World war this carnotite ore had been shipped to French and German producers of radium.

The mining and handling of carnotite ore in southwestern Colorado is attended with difficulties. The region is desolate and practically uninhabited. Water is scarce. Flannery had his troubles. He had to train new men. He finally established headquarters at the only spring of clear water within 100 miles; here the Standard Chemical company maintains all the offices for its mining work, transportation and supplies. Eighteen miles away the company built the largest radium concentration mill in the world, through which has passed the ore from which has been refined more than half the world's supply of radium. Burros carry the ores from the mines to the mill, and water and supplies to the miners.

Mme. Curie worked on European ores which contained about one gram of radium to every five or six tons. In the Colorado ores there is about one gram to every 500 tons. Moreover, the carnotite miner is a pocket hunter. Sometimes the ore appears on the surface and along rim rocks; then extraction is easy. More frequently the ore is found under a heavy overland of other material; then regular mining tunnels are run and dynamite is used to break the rock for transportation to the surface. The pockets vary widely; some contain only a few pounds, while exceptional pockets have contained 1,800 tons.

First, of course, the pocket must be found. Prospecting is done by drilling in likely spots with jack hammers and with diamond drills. Where the ore is not more than 25 feet deep the jack hammer, operated by portable gasoline compressors and compressed air, is the cheapest method of working. Under other conditions the diamond drill is used.

Hamilton Foley writes for the Pan American Union an interesting account of the operations of the company and of the production of the radium presented to Mme. Curie; the pictures used herewith are among the illustrations. He says in one place:

"Let us follow the various operations from the extraction of the ore to the final recovery of the radium. At the concentration mill in the wilds of Colorado 500 tons of ore are reduced to about 125 tons. In a powdered form this quantity is shipped in 100-pound sacks, by wagon and, where possible, by motor trucks, the 95 miles to Placerville, Colo. Here a narrow-gauge railroad takes it to the transcontinental railroad at Salida, Colo. From Salida it travels the 2,290 miles to Canonsburg, Pa., just outside of Pittsburgh, where the company maintains its concentration plant, No. 2.

"It should be noted that at the mill in Colorado, and in the operations pertaining to it, some 300 men are necessary to carry through all the detailed work. Also, that when the ore is taken up by the Colorado mill, there is only 1 part radium for every 400,000,000 parts of the ore; but when the ore reaches the mill at Canonsburg the proportion is 1 part of radium to 100,000,000 parts of the ore.

"The task of the Canonsburg men is to reduce this mass of ore to less than a quarter of a ton, and in such a way that whatever radium may have been in the greater mass will be found in the small residue. This is done with regularity and precision, notwithstanding that in the elimination of the 100,000,000 parts of undesirable material the Canonsburg plant has to use 10,000 tons of distilled water, 1,000 tons of coal, and 500 tons of chemicals. It should be noted in this connection that whatever small quantity of vanadium and uranium there may be in this material is saved while this final reduction is being made.

"The actual recovery of whatever radium there may be in the tons of material handled at these two great concentration plants is made elsewhere. When the 125 tons of material that reached Canonsburg from the mill in the West have been reduced to less than a quarter of a ton, this residue is sent to the radium research laboratories of the company in the form of radium barium chloride. SERVICE WARNS DRIVER THAT GAS SUPPLY NEEDS QUICK ATTENTION of the most uncomfortable in the world is suddenly discovered when one is motoring far from a supply station, and the gasoline tank is empty or nearly so. Every automobile driver meets with an accident of this sort at one time or another.

COURT SETS VALUE ON TREES

Decision That Will Be of Interest to Many Communities Throughout the Country.

In Salem, Mass., a resident sued the town gas light company for damages caused by the killing of five shade trees through the escape of gas from a leaky main. A verdict for $1,000 against the company was rendered—$200 a tree. The decision is said to have been awaited with a good deal of interest by surrounding towns, for tree killing from this cause is a common thing.

The killing of a thrifty, well-grown shade tree is usually a distinct loss to any property, commonly lowering its value. In view of the time required for the growth of such trees $200 is a moderate sum in the way of damages, and no amount of money, when it comes to that, can really recompense the owner of the trees.

AUTO CARE DURING SUMMER

Radiator Should Always Be Kept Filled and at Intervals Flushed Out and Refilled.

During the summer season motorists should give frequent attention to the radiator, advises a motor car manufacturer. It should always be kept filled, and at intervals it should be flushed out and filled with clean water. In connection with efficient operation of the cooling system, fan belt adjustment should be made, for the fan is needed in summer. The position of the spark lever should be watched to see that it is kept in an advanced position, thus assuring better cooling of the motor.

Minor parts, such as spring shackles, wheel bearings, steering connections and universal joints, require oiling more often in summer. It is wise to use a heavier grade of lubricating oil than in colder weather, and oil should be drained from the motor at intervals not to exceed every 1,000 miles.

AUTOMOBILE GOSSIP

Sixty per cent of the production of gasoline is used by motor vehicles.

At one time it was considered unconventional for a woman to drive her own car.

Twelve thousand motor vehicles are operated by rural schools in the United States.

Muffler cutouts are prohibited on any public highway in the state of Pennsylvania.

A motor trip from Paris to Verdun through the devastated regions and return costs 245 francs.

Street cars have the right of way between cross streets over all privately owned vehicles in Kansas City, Mo.

Since 1899, the first year in which statistics are available, there have been built in the United States 11,839,483 motor vehicles.

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

HONORED PIGS.

"A great honor has been shown to us," said Porky Pig. "And that is the truth."

"Grunt, grunt, what is it; what has the honor been?" asked Miss Ham.

"Some people," said Porky Pig "went on a trip to see a beautiful country estate. Now a country estate is a big farm dressed up in its best clothes, I believe.

"That is the way I understand it to be, grunt, grunt.

"And the people who went to see this country estate went from here. Our very own people went. By our very own people I do not mean that the pigs went, you understand, but the farmer and his wife and the children all went, leaving the pigs and the chickens and the geese at home."

"Did you want to go, Porky?" asked Miss Ham.

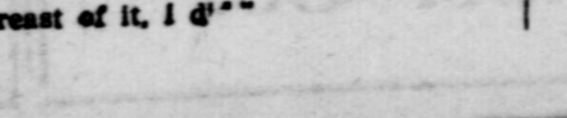

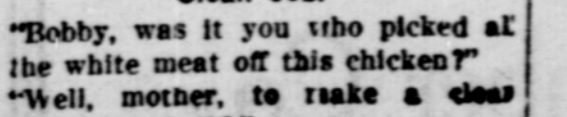

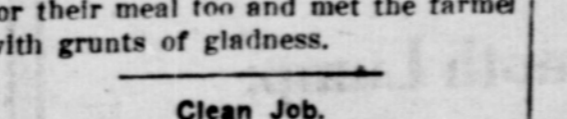

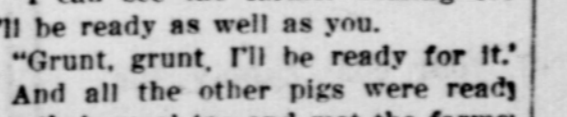

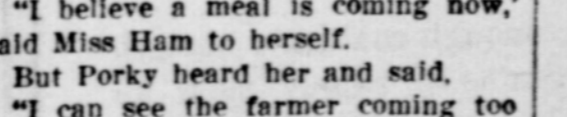

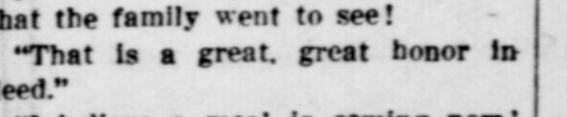

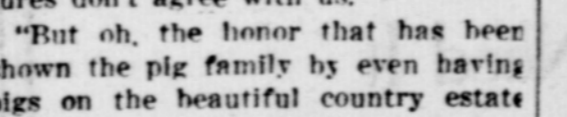

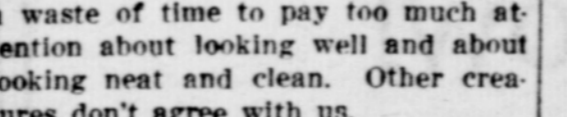

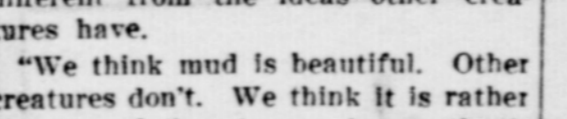

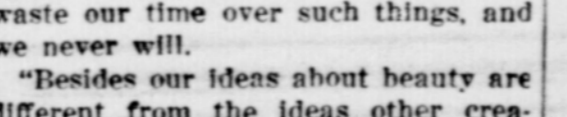

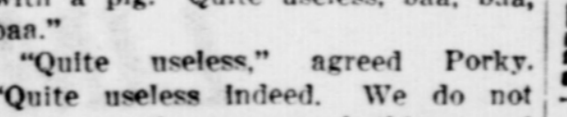

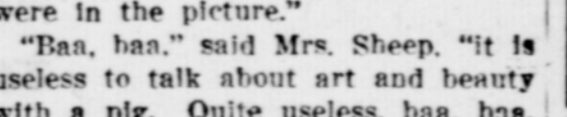

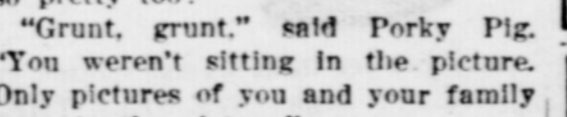

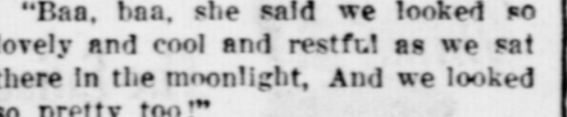

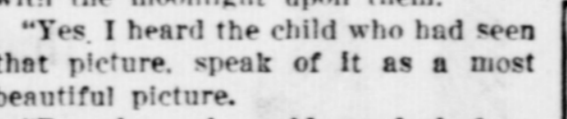

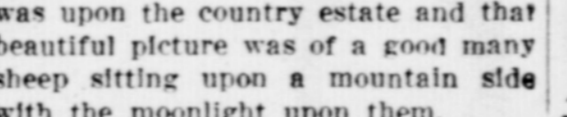

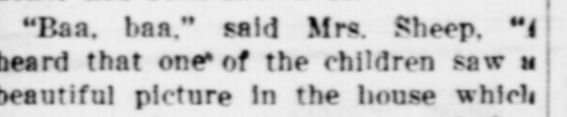

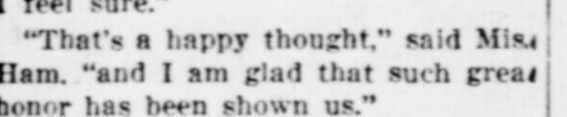

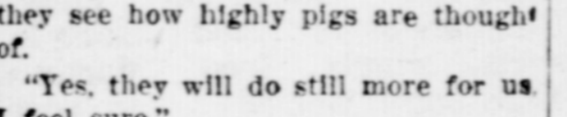

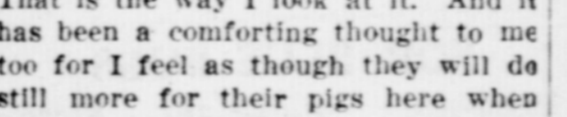

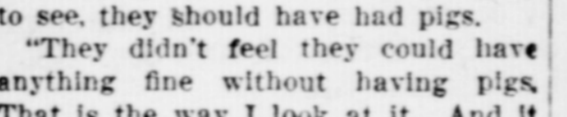

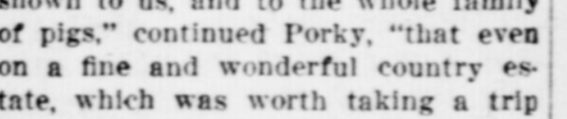

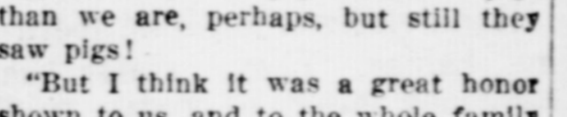

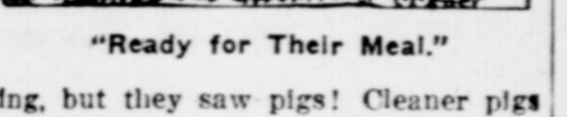

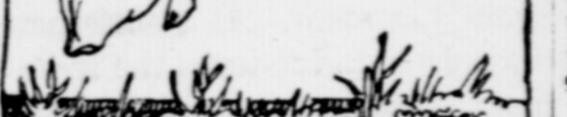

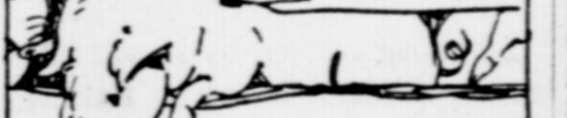

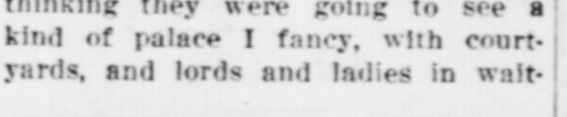

"I was undecided about it," said Porky. "If I went I might miss some good things to eat here and if I didn't go I might miss some good things to eat there.

"So, as I say, squeal, squeal, I was undecided. But the question was decided for me. Yes, it was!

"I wasn't asked to go and I didn't have to decide it. But I've heard about the trip since the family have come back.

"The children were very much amused because upon this beautiful country estate there were a great many pigs.

"That was a joke on them! They went, thinking they were going to see a kind of palace I fancy, with courtyards, and lords and ladies in wait-

DODSON STOPS SALE OF CALOMEL

"Dodson's Liver Tone" is Taking Place of Dangerous, Sickening Chemical, Say Druggists

Every druggist in town has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day.—Advertisement.

"So it does," said a stranger who was lounging by an automobile with the engine running. "If it will make the job look any more realistic to you, old duffer, I'll just poke this automatic in your face and you can hold up your hands until my pals come out with the swag."
