[J. M. Lewis, in Ft. Worth Record.]
Oh, sister, set the kettle on
And brew a cup of tea,
And serve it strong and piping hot,
Then come and talk with me;
For I have just come and left
The North Countree.
And I am sad and sore of heart,
My step is weak and slow,
I saw the hills I used to climb,
The paths I used to go,
And all the wimpling streams and meads
And vales I used to know.
But all my nephews and the friends
Gave me a doubting sneer;
It seemed that they could scarce believe
That I could hail from here;
They felt that I should snort and prance
Like a wild Texas steer.
They thought my legs should be arrayed
In thick chaparejos,
That I should wear both spurs and guns,
And moccasins, and nose
To shame the very sunset's hue,
And wild and woolly clothes.
They thought that I should wear long hair
And a big sombrero,
And wear a bowie knife and dirk,
And cuss and talk and blow
About my fighting prowess, like
A drunken desperado.
So I am back to Texas, dear,
Where none of these things be;
Where men wear civilized attire
And maids are fair to see;
And Texas and our Texas folk Look mighty good to me.

Col. D. M. Jay, of near Estacado, was in our office the first of the week and informed us that he had gathered 1½ acres of corn which shelled and measured 82 bushels; or about 55 bushels to the acre. Who can beat this? Who said you couldn't raise corn on the Plains.—Lubbock Avalanche.

Onion Crop Pays.
R. A. Hall, one of our stock farmers living a few miles northwest of town, favored this office with a friendly visit Tuesday. Mr.
Hall is mixing considerable truck farming with the other departments of the farm and it is safe to say that he is succeeding as well as the best in this particular department. Mr. Hall this year had one acre in onions of the Yellow Dan-ver variety from which he has gathered 125 bushels. Making our calculation from the basis of the market in Hereford at present, which is 90 cents per bushel, Mr.
Hall can realize $112.50 from his first experience with an acre of onions, and it should be borne in mind that this is a very unfavorable season for this particular crop.
—Hereford Brand.

The Santa Fe surveyors are camped in the edge of town. Just came in on the Texico line. We are told that they cross-sectioned as they came down. This means ready for grading.—Hale County Herald.

Injunction Dissolved.
Just as our forms are being locked up to go to press we learn through the courtesy of our telephone manager, Mr. R. T. Burk, that Judge Shephard has rendered his decision in the motion to dissolve the prohibition injunction in Dawson county argued before him at Big Spring last Monday dissolving said injunction. This puts the will of the people again in force in Dawson county, and the News sincerely trusts that no further effort will be made to subvert and set it aside—Dawson County News.

We are told that the contract for the construction of the railroad from Canyn to Plainview has been let to Moore Bros. of Kansas City and that work will begin at an early date. Our people are ready for work to commence at any time and are anxious to see the dirt fly.
We think the work will begin as soon as the contractors can complete their arrangements.—Hale County
Herald.

THAT WATCH OF YOURS is in many respects similar to a railway engine. Let an engine be run without oil or cleaning and before long it will stop dead. Upon examination it will be found that the friction and wear and tear has ruined the machinery.
It is fit only for the old iron heap. Likewise your watch: you put it in your pocket and while there is a kick in it, you, in your mistaken economy, do not consult the watchmaker and consequently rob your watch of years of good service and also much of its former accuracy. The time keeping qualities of a good watch are maintained and often improved by timely and skillful attention. If you want your watch to be true to you, you must be true to your watch.

Application has been made for entrance in the postoffice as second class matter.

We have had two or three light frosts, but have heard of but little damage being done so far.

Tahoka sure does shine these days, since the Cosmopolitan Hotel, J. H. Conway's store, R. D. Morris' store and C. H. Doak's residence had lightning rods put on them.

And now comes W. C. Nixon general manager of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe who says that there will be no Brownwood-Texico cut-off for years to come. Yet there are surveyors camped at Plainview who are working on the line from Texico, and Third Vice President Kendrick of the Santa Fe with a party of officials, including an engineer, left the railroad at Colorado and past through Snyder on their way toward Lubbock. It would seem as though it were another case of "true love never runs smooth."

Our school is doing nicely under expert management of Professor J. B. Walker and his able assistant, Miss Minnie Chambers; and there is one thing that we are pleased to see, and that is that but few of the pupils are allowed to hang around the stores after school hours. There are few things so demoralizing to a child as to be allowed to loaf about the streets and stores on their way to and from school. Parents should require their children to come straight home from school and not allow them to loiter on the way.

Go to Taylor's for patent medicines and pure drugs.

Mr. Jess Brown is reported the latest victim of the slow fever.

More room, more drugs, more customers at Taylor's drug store.

The farmers have their hands full, saving the feed crop, which is very heavy this year.

We are always receiving, and selling, fresh, pure drugs at Taylor's, west side square.

The Lynn school will close the 20th of this month for a month or six weeks of cotton picking.

Mr. Cade brought in some fine samples of Indian and Kaffir corn which he intends to send to the Dallas fair.

We were pleased to see Noah Cade in town again, shaking hands with his many friends Tuesday, after his long spell of fever.

"Where did you get this calico?" "At Conway's." "What did you pay?" "6 cents." "Why I paid 7 cents for mine."

Miss Lula Luttrell made the editor a very pleasant call Saturday afternoon. We are glad to see the ladies at all times. Come again Miss Lula.

First Bales.

STRENUOUS LOVER.

Won a Bride by Attempting Thrice to Kill Her.

Chicago Journal.

There are those who believe that love was stronger and truer in the historic days when young Romeo, early in sunlight, batted his net over the head with the thigh bone of a dinosaur and carried her to his cave, where they lived happily ever after. So far as it is known, there were no divorces in those days.

Strength, aggressiveness, daring, brute force, count with women today.

A Rome dispatch tells of a young Italian that loved a young flower girl intensely. She wouldn't have him. She laughed at him publicly and he stabbed her in the neck.

He wore a ball and chain six months for that.

In his second attempt at matrimony he used a stiletto and had the lady pretty well carved when the police came. He served a year for assault, and again came to the front with protestations of undying love. The lady said no, and he blew up her house with dynamite. The kitchen flew over the barn and the parlor disappeared into the cellar, while the girl was taken to the hospital and her lover to jail.

Now, you would naturally think that the young woman would have cheerfully seen her assailant boiled in oil or drawn and quartered, all of which shows how little you know of a woman's heart.

On her knees she went before the judge and begged the law to excuse the man that loved her so well. The judge couldn't quite excuse the dynamiting, but he made the sentence as light as possible and later the couple were married and are said to be living happily.

Of course, it wouldn't be wise to advise lovers to go a-wooing with Gatling guns or dynamite, but certain it is that the strong man, the fellow that does things, can command respect and love. It has been that way since the time of Adam, and it probably always will be.

Mr. Conway is canvassing his rooms preparatory to papering.

Mr. A. R. McGonagill went to Lamesa Wednesday on a business trip.

We had another norther to blow up Thursday morning, and it looked very much like winter.

"Where did you get this calico?" "At Conway's." "What did you pay?" "6 cents." "Why I paid 7 cents for mine."

Mrs. Doak is now convalescent and we will be glad to see her out again. Mr. Doak is now smiling on the prospector, extending the hospitality of Lynn County to the homeseeker.

Two wagon loads of bagging went through Tahoka Wednesday enroute for the Lubbock gin. Where King Cotton extends his domains, there must the railroad come to do his bidding.

Mr. W. L. Davis tells us that his well in northeast Tahoka is a good one, and that no 3 inch cylinder can have any effect on it. It has been said that Tahoka has no water, but this doesn't look much like it.

Mr. Crawford and family of Nebo, I. T. are camping in the rooms back of the barber shop while they look around for a home in Lynn County. We would be glad to welcome them as citizens of our community.

A crate of fine chickens arrived in Tahoka Tuesday from the home of S. W. Windham near Brownwood. The chickens belong to Mrs. Petty and Mrs. Alley and are White Plymouth Rocks. They are the first of the kind the editor ever saw, but they certainly are very fine birds.

Mr. J. W. Stevenson informs the News man that he has a sorghum patch of an average height of 11 feet and requiring a ball of twine per acre to tie it. Since one ball will tie about 850 bundles, there need be no cattle die of poverty in Lynn County this winter, if the owners will only get the cattle and feed together.

Dissolution Notice.

This is to inform the public that G. F. Patterson, has bought my interest in the blacksmith shop in Tahoka, and that I will be in the shop for a week or ten days in order that those indebted to me may come in and settle their accounts. These accounts must be settled at once in order that I can close my books.—J. W. Stevenson.

The get-rich-quick investment companies have not attacked this part of the world yet and the chances are, they never will. The reason is, our people have within their reach the very best investment in the world: the land, which is really worth ten times present prices, and will sell for that, just as soon as this part of the world gets the railroads it needs and teaches the rest of the world the truth about this part of the world.

More towns die from want of confidence and lack of enterprise upon the part of its citizens than from rivalry of neighboring towns and adverse surroundings. When a man in search of a home or business location visits a community and finds the people brim full of hope and enthusiasm over the prospects of the place and energetically at work in an effort to build up the town, he at once imbibes the same spirit and is almost certain to make investments. Put aside grumbling and fault-finding, and quit growling. Clothe yourself with the smile of peace, plenty and contentment; therein is the future hope and success of the community.—Baylor County Banner.

Mr. Robert Maloue and his two sons-in-law, Dan Bigham and Leonard Randolph, all of Floyd county, paid the News office a pleasant call Thursday morning. These gentlemen are prospecting in this part of the Plains, and express themselves as highly pleased with Lynn County and we hope to be able to settle them here. Mr. Malone moved to Floyd County from Abilene, and was soon afterward elected County Commissioner and as one of the Hesperian force in Floydada, we found him to be a good servant of the people, and an honest official.

Mrs. Dr. J. H. McCoy boarded the hack for Gail, Thursday, on her way to join the doctor in Fort Worth, where he will likely take lectures for six months or more.

Mr. J. A. Wilson, of 13 miles south of town, paid the News a call Thursday—one of those calls that help to make a newspaper man's life bearable. Mr. Wilson tells us that he expects to gather five bales of cotton off of his 15 acre patch. He says that his cotton is ready to begin picking, but he is so busy harvesting his heavy feed crop that it will be two weeks before he can begin on the cotton.

Mr. C. O. Edwards, of Fort Worth, owner of the T— Ranch was in Tahoka Thursday with Mrs. W. T. Petty, and they took Mrs. Petty's White Plymouth Rock chickens home. Mr. W. T. Petty is one of our county commissioners, and while the T— Ranch looks big enough to us, it is said to be the smallest of Mr. Edwards' ranches.

CAPTURE BEAR AFTER FIGHT

Big Specimen of Bruin Family Is Taken by Hunters After Strenuous Conflict.

Montrose, Col.—One of the largest black bears ever killed in this country was brought in from the Cimarron by Uri Hotchkiss and Maurice Diehl. They conquered the big fellow only after a bloody fight.

It seems that Mr. Diehl had gone over into that country with a load of trout fry, intending to place them in Deep lake. He found the snow so deep he could not get in with the fish, so he started back to the Harris ranch. He heard Uri Hotchkiss, who was riding for cattle, shouting, so he went over the ridge to see what the trouble was.

Uri and the bear were contemplating each other. Uri had wounded the big fellow, but, having but one cartridge left, he didn't feel like risking it until he had to do so. Just then the bear took a notion to do some hunting for himself, and though Uri is almost as big as a common bear, Bruin started after the hunter, and down the hill they went through the deep snow.

Mr. Hotchkiss probably thought it would be a good plan to coax the wounded bear down near the wagons before he killed him, but he almost missed his guess, for the bear came on with a rush, and it looked as though it was all day with Uri. Maurice peited the bear with rocks in an effort to stop him, but he got pretty close to Uri, when the latter fired his last bullet, striking the brute in the end of the nose and rooseveltizing him in good shape. The bear was brought to Montrose.

GROWS VINELESS POTATOES

Montana Genius Can Supply New Tubers at Any Season in New Form.

Great Falls, Mont.—A local man has produced potatoes without vines, and asserts that he is now able to supply new potatoes for the market at any season of the year. The inventor will not reveal the process in detail. He has conducted his experiments in a box four by eight feet, in which there is a steam coil for heating.

He states that he has succeeded, after much experimenting, in perfecting a compound resembling soil that when heated is a fertile field for the development of plant life. In a layer of this compound he plants potato eyes, then another layer of the compound with more potato eyes, and so on until the box is filled. He claims that in this compound potatoes grow without any portion of the vine or sprout appearing above the surface; that all growth is in tubers, and that it is not necessary for either light or air to reach the potatoes at any stage of their growth, elements in the compound serving the purpose of oxygen.

At first the potatoes, when exposed to the air, rotted quickly, but now this has been overcome, he says, and his experiment is an unqualified success after many years. Those who saw the box he exhibited showing potatoes in varying stages of growth were greatly impressed with the "spuds." A Chicago man has offered him $100,000 for his inventions, he declares.

BIRD OUSTS CONGREGATION

Feathered Mocker Does "Stunts" in Church—Audience Finally Takes Its Leave.

Baltimore, Md.—An English mocking bird wandered into Hagerstown, Md., and had quite a time. It attacked first an apple in the street in front of a fruit store on West Franklin street, and when some sparrows interfered, knocked them right and left. They formed a chattering ring and speculated on the new champion. The bird then flew off and entered Christ Reformed church by the bay window. Rev. Charles Shaffer of Thurmont, was reading his text, when the bird lit on the edge of the Bible. He gently waved it off, and it flew down to the edge of the pulpit and came back and stood on the text. The reverend gentleman read, though, and the bird flew to the top of the organ and sat awhile, and then came back and perched right over the preacher until he was through with his sermon. It seemed very attentive. When the organ opened it flew to that and enjoyed the music, and, finally, after a comprehensive flight over the congregation, turned to the chandelier. There it was when the congregation went out. Mr. Spielman went to the church and easily captured it.

DOG A MOTHER TO CHICKS

Canine Shelters Wee Feathered Creatures—Chases Cats with Criminal Intentions.

Bloomfield, N. J.—Edward G. Naumann is the owner of seven little chickens which were brought to life in an incubator. Mr. Naumann is also the owner of a pet dog. The dog was basking in the sunshine the day the little chickens were turned out to scratch, and one of the little chickens butted up against him and immediately took shelter under his fleecy hair. The six others followed suit.

The dog did not resent the intrusion and the chickens made themselves very much at home, making short excursions from their shelter and then running back again. When the dog got up and moved he was followed by the batch of little chickens, and when he lay down again the chicks again used him for a shelter. The intimacy thus formed developed into a mutual attachment, and the dog assumed a guardianship over the chickens.

The dog, Mr. Neumann says, is a wonderful guardian and protector. While there are no fences around Llewellyn avenue premises, yet such is the sagaciousness of the dog and his intuitive ideas of surveying and geography that if the chickens attempt to cross the line of the Neumann place, the dog noses them, telling them their proper bounds, and if they appear in the neighborhood of the house, he puts it to flight. The dog is very considerate of his charges and when they want to rest he lies down and the chickens cuddle up against him.
