1.85 Inches Recorded For January

TAHOKA, LYNN COUNTY, TEXAS 79373

THURSDAY, JANUARY 25,1968

IOW HALTS LOCAL ACTIVITY School Closed And Motorists

Snow which began falling | n Tahoka at about daylight last Thursday morning totaled six to eight inches and was followed by four days of misty weather that brought total precipitation to 1.84 inches as measured by the local observer for the U.S. Weather Bureau. The moisture for this month is already the most for any recent year, and farmers report soil is in excellent condition for listing and there will be a deep season in the ground for spring planting.

The weather interrupted completion of the cotton harvest for many, but most farmers were happy. Several hundred bales of cotton were on the yards of other gins in the south part of the county.

With the return of sunshine on Tuesday morning, farmers now expect to harvest late maturing cotton just as soon as they can get into the fields Although the snow drifted badly, up to several feet in some places, enough remained on the ground in most places to wet the farmland. Whipped over the roads by wind. US 380 East and West of Tahoka was closed to traffic until up in the day Friday. Also, Friday night US 87 North and

South was closed for a time. As a result of congestion. many motorest were forced to spend the night in motels. hotels, and even in public buildings and jails of the area. Some others spent the night in their cars, and others were rescued by Highway Department workers

School buses Thursday were unable to get all the children home, and in one instance in the Grassland area Tahoka school children were forced to spend the night in a private home when the bus was stranded in a snow drift.

In spite of the warm weather, there was still a vestige of these snow drifts left as late as Wednesday of this week. Many farm roads were still very slick and some almost impassable.

Although about three-fourths of the county was covered by heavy snow, the fall was much lighter north of town, and was very light from Carter store north and in the Dixie, New Home, Lakeview, Petty areas. However, the mist and slow rain which followed was of substantial value to farmers in these areas.

Stranded Throughout Area The estimated eight inches in Tahoka measured out to .61-inch of moisture content. The 1.85 inches measured so far in January is the most moisture received in this month in Tahoka since 1949.

when 3.94 inches of rain and snow fell, the all-time record since establishment of the coperative Weather Bureau station here in 1939. However. Tahoka recorded 3.02 inches of precipitation in January 1939 for the second highest measurement on record for the month.

The rainfall here this year is the third highest for Jannary on record in the 55-year period. In 1958 Tahoka recorded 1.45 inches, and in 1961 there was 1.55 inches. Last year, Tahoka received only a trace in January, and in 1966 only 59 was received Average for Agriculture work in Lynn County was based on a program set by the County Program Building Committee. Programs included cotton livestock management, soil and water conservation and Farm and Home Management.

Cotton is the major income commodity in the county. A broadbase program was conducted in the county. The program included meetings held on cotton production, weed control and harvest aid chemicals. Cotton Production Guidelines included information on all recommended practices to increase production and improve the quality of cotton. handbooks Demonstration were used for reference on variety recommendations and production practices. 1967 Demonstrations were planned by the Crops Committee to cover the major problem areas. Demonstrations included varieties, fungicides, chemical weed control, nematode control with fumigants, systemic insect control and the use of fertilizers to increase

The 1967 program was successful. About 30 per cent of the acreage was planted in improved varieties. Fungicied treated seed was planted to about 10,000 acres. The fungicides mentioned did not include Ceresan or Panogen treatment These treatments were on all seed planted. Fertilizer was used on about 40. 000 acres of the 65,000 acres of irrigated cotton. The county was assisted in obtaining free classing and grading through the Smith tage of lean cuts. Following Doxey Program to provide the on foot evaluation on

Peas were interplanted on about 10,000 acres of cotton planted two and skip four. 106 farmers planted 10. 000 acres of forage sorghum

Ann Davis, CHDA Says:

Good - looking garments made at home from durable press fabrics begin with a careful choice of paterns and adjustment in certain construction techniques.

Ann Davis gives these pointers when sewing with durable press fabric:

Use a pattern with straight lines, a minimum of seams and few details. Avoid fullness in sleeves and other shapped areas because it cannot be steamed or pressed out.

Mercerized cotton, nylon. "polyester core" thread may be used. Zippers and interfacing should be pre-shrunk. Tape, interfacings and linings should have similar qualities as the garment fabric.

Avoid seam puckering by relaxing stitch tension on both spool and bobbin feed to minimize puckering.

As with all fabrics, press during construction with a hot iron, first trying out temperature on a test swatch. You will have to use heavy pressure on seams since the fabrics are highly resistant to creasing, the Texas A&M specialist says.

During the process which converts wheat seeds into fine white flour most of the dark parts are removed. But these portions contain most of the minerals and vitamins in natural wheat. Enriching flour ads vitamins, thiamine. riboflavin and niacin plus the mineral iron. Always buy the enriched flour - it is the best "bargain

Removing wallpaper was once a tedious frustrating experience. One manufacturer has solved this problem with a roller which removes paper equally well where it is layeron-layer, painted over or plastic coated. The roller, which attaches to a standard 9-inch paint roller, has hundreds of small teeth which penetrates the paper while it forces wat er through the perforations and behind the paper to soften the paste. Large sheete of paper peel off easily.

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm attacks the problem this week, but not too spending successfully.)

Dear editar:

According to all the newspapers that have turned up on this Johnson grass farm out here during the past two weeks, some members of Congress are saying we've got to have more spending cuts, we've got to economize, shaving the budget is the first order of business.

I have run across one idea which might help in this direction in a small way. A Harvard University economist has come up wth a plan to eliminate subsidies to farmers, new running into millions of dollars a year, almost but not quite as much as subsidies to airlines, shipping companies, manufacturers, etc.

He says the government should give marginal farmers a subsidy to leave the farm, and after they all get safely into jobs in town, all subsidies would stop, to them and to the farmers left in the country.

On the other hand, other economists are contending the answer to the crowded conditions in cities is to move the people out of

We can not possible list all the names of the churches, clubs, business people, and individuals of New Home, Wilson, O'Donnel, Tahoka and all over the county who helped us to have a most wonderful Christmas and helped us with supplies for these precious children. Some are helping us in our workshop. Some are serving refreshments One group of ladies is now paying for milk This too is greately appreciated, since some of them do not have breakfast. the ghettoes, even at government expen Here's where my idea of saving m comes in.

Don't use two sets of busses. When the government hauls a bus load of farmen to the city, why couldn't the same bus a turned around and used to haul city people out into the country? Any time you ca solve two problems with one bus, you'r saving money.

I don't know how big a dent this would make in the budget, but even if it's on a few million dollars, it'd be that much and if you and every other citizen wou come up with one idea apiece saving a fee million dollars, it'd add up.

Of course I can hear somebody saying now but you haven't solved anything if you take the country people to town and the town people to the country.

That's because he doesn't understan modern government. The purpose of govern ment is not to solve problems, it's jus to shuffle them around. Even when they demand and get a new deal, most people will forget they're still

"With research," came the reply. "He studies the findings of other men in that field-determines what has been proven-what is unknown."

"That's a good way to begin your experiment with religion," we suggested. "It would hardly be 'scientific' to judge Christianity, or your need for it, on the basis of one visit to Church. But a few months of faithful attendance, and many thoughtful evenings with the Bible will give you a clear understanding of what others have found in Christianity. You'll discover spiritual truths which centuries of experience have proven, and gain a faith that can bridge the Unknown."

At last report, our chemist was making fine progress in his experiment. In fact, he no longer thinks of his religion as experimental!

Study Report Given Jan. 13

J. P. Hewelit was a member of the study group to improve lines of communication to make certain every handicapped personin the South Plains region knows what services are available to him and where they are available.

The regional Vocational Rehabilitation Study Group. in a final report, adopted January 13 as part of the deve lopment of a statewide plan. called for establishment of a comprehensive rehabilitation center on the Texas Tech campus.

The group further endorsed the proposed rehabilitation center at Tech to serve all of West Teras plus all or parts of nearby states. Other mos important recommendations included a call for legisla tion to ease wage law restriction which now discourage employers from hiring persons who need to be rehabilitated.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Sitting alone and doing some ninking of home I thought would write.

There are many things I niss that are in Tahoka. ainly all the friendly people Out of all my tours in the Marine Corps. I have never been in a town more friendly than Tahoka. There are many things I have taken for granted there. Now I know it is a own that cares about their own people

My first tour of duty in Vietnam I wrote to the Lynn County News. I do not expect my leters to be published I just want everyone to know I do miss home and the people if Tahoka.

If sometimes you need a space filler. I would like for my address to be it. This is for those who wouldn't mind writing to me. Mail means a great deal to a person who is far away from home. It lets one know someone is backing him in what he is doing, not stabbing him in the back while he is away.

I'll close now because I know I have taken up too. much of your time already. Yours truly.
