Farm Bureau Legislative Newsletter

WEEK OF APRIL 24

State Minimum Wage, S.B. 121, a bill to be known as the Texas Minimum Wage Act of 1970, was brought to the Senate for debate Friday, April 11, and during this debate, Senator Jack Hightower got the Senate approval of an amendment which would have exempted all farm workers with the exception of piece rate workers who are already covered by federal law. On Tuesday of the week then, the Senate, in a very unusual maneuver, moved to reconsider S.B. 121. Following approval of this motion to reconsider, the amendment was tabled by a very small margin. Following this action, Senator Hightower offered another amendment exempting persons engaged in the range production of livestock or in activities in support of livestock production. This amendment was approved by the Senate. Let your Legislator know how you feel about the State Minimum Wage Bill for Agricultural Workers by writing to them.

Taxes, H.B. 1222, the bill to impose a one percent gross receipts tax on producers of chemical products, impose present sales tax exemptions on food, drugs, medicines, and farm and ranch machinery and equipment was heard by the House of Representatives Committee on Revenue and Taxation on April 16. There have been questions on how a one percent gross receipts tax on chemical producers could result in a 5 percent increase in the cost of agricultural chemicals to farmers ranchers. For an illustration, DDT is made up of nine different chemicals. Each chemical would be subject to the tax if the formulator bought each chemical from a separate chemical company. All 9 taxes would be added to the final cost of DDT to the consumer. Another example - there are 34 taxable chemicals in epoxy paint.

WEEK OF MAY 1

S.B. 121, known as the Texas Minimum Wage Act of 1970, was brought before the State Senate this past week, was delayed by a filibuster by Senator H. J. (Doc) Blanchard and Wayne Conally. The next day, the bill was passed in the Senate with an amendment excluding dairy farm workers from provisions of the bill.

S.B. 479, an amendment to the Texas Seed Law, providing for more accurate labeling of seed for germination and purity, and providing for improved inspection procedures and strict enforcement of the law was passed and sent to the Governor for his signature.

H.B. 107, an amendment to the Texas Egg Law, designed to improve the quality of eggs sold in Texas, providing for more accurate labeling designations and to provide for more adequate enforcement of the law was heard by the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Livestock and reported out favorably. Final passage of this bill could come at any time.

H.B. 908, Natural Fibers Research, a bill to add wool and mohair research to the projects on cotton research now being worked on by the Cotton Research Committee was passed by the House and sent to the Senate.

H.B. 700, a bill to prohibit corporations from engaging in farming, livestock feeding, and ranching operations is scheduled for hearing before the House Committee on State Affairs on Monday, April 28.

FOLK around here are gradually adjusting to the new time change. About the only ones I know that approve of the extra daylight hours are the kids. Seems it gives them more time before bed-time.

Apparently several people neglected to change the clocks and were late or missed Sunday services completely. In fact, I know of one local resident that hasn't changed his clocks and does not intend to. He says that this is one of those instances that he can get back at the government and they can't do anything about it. Could be he's right.

HERE'S a little item taken from the Missouri American. A lot of people are like wheelbarrows, not good unless pushed. Some are like canoes, they have to be paddled. Others are like kites, if you don't keep a string on them they fly away.

Yes, some are like footballs, you can't tell which way they will bounce next. Some are like balloons, full of wind and ready to blow up. Others are like trailers, they have to be pulled. Yet, gratefully, some are like a good watch, open face, pure gold, quite busy and full of good works.

Craft Seminar Held Last Week

A Make-It-And-Take-It workshop was held from 1 to 6 p. m. which twenty women had fun making Mod-Podge purses and painting a rooster made of cold ceramics.

Mrs. Greathouse says, we were fortunate in getting two talented people such as Gwen Edwards and Mary Stewart, owners of Village Craft Corner in Lubbock to present this program. It was fun as well as educational. While in Lub-

Today's Youth, They're Great

EDITORIAL

Today's youth are not all bad, but it is just that we hear so much more about the minority group that is involved in rioting and protests on college and high school campuses.

The nation's press is partially to blame for giving publicity to the unrest and happenings in cities and on campuses. Oft times this is just what is needed to add fuel to their so called cause. I think that news media should concentrate more on the good that our youth are doing rather than presenting an image of angry, shouting misfits.

Sunday evening, I heard one of the most inspiring programs about youth and freedom. Members of the United Methodist Youth of Tahoka presented their annual program about the activities of their organization and its purposes.

No one can deny, after seeing the program, that these youth know the meaning of being a Christian and putting these Christian practices to work in this world. Yes, these youth also have a cause. Theirs is to work toward a lasting peace through the world and here at home.

They know the meaning of freedom and the necessary goals to be reached to accomplish a closer end to wars and unrest. They know that Christ must be a part of their lives and that His teachings must be told to the world. They know that they must be sincere in all phases of life and association with their fellowman.

I think that today's youth are the "cream of the crop" and we have less to worry about when they take their place in society. They are interested in America and the world and want to make it a better place to live.

These youth will be tomorrow's leaders, educators, businessmen, and parents and I think that our nation will be in good hands. Good will overcome evil and Tahoka's youth along with all of the intelligent youth of this nation will overshadow the rioters and protesters, resulting in a movement to bring true freedom to the nation's and world's peoples.

The Most Wonderful Thing That Ever Happened To Me

I would like to tell you about the most wonderful thing that ever happened to me. I have gone to Sunday School and church almost as far back as I can remember, but had given little thought to spiritual needs.

First Baptist Church, Tahoka was having a revival meeting, and I was attending the evening services. It was during one of these services that I was made to realize I was lost and that I needed a personal savior. During the invitation I gave my life to Jesus and He gave His salvation to me.

Now I know that His spirit lives within the hearts of His children.

Have you had a similar experience in your life?

Farm And Ranch Owners Are Eligible For Recreational

The Farmers Home Administration can now make loans to farm and ranch owners or tenants for outdoor income producing recreational enterprises according to Billy H. Stewart, County Supervisor.

Loans to individuals can be made to convert all or a portion of their farms to recreational facilities. The recreational enterprise may supplement regular farm income or, in some cases, replace farm income by converting the farm to recreation.

Public recreational areas are increasing in number each year; however, the demand for such facilities still exceeds what is available. The purpose of this loan program is two-fold in that it will provide more recreational areas and help farmers and ranchers to increase their income stated Bill Stewart.

Loans may be made for camping, picnicking, and hiking facilities, swimming, boating, skiing and fishing facilities, golf courses, riding stables or many other forms of outdoor recreation. Funds can be used to purchase necessary materials, supplies and animals, acquire and develop land and water resources, construct or improve modest essential buildings, and to purchase and install needed equipment and fixtures.

Each loan will be scheduled for repayment over a period not to exceed 40 years at 5 percent interest. Interested individuals should contact Billy H. Stewart at Tahoka for further information.

The Most Wonderful Thing That Ever Happened To Me

May I tell you the greatest thing that ever happened to me? My parents had always gone to church and took me regularly during my childhood years. But as I grew older I realized something in my life was missing. Finally I let Christ come into my heart, and let Him take command of my life.

Although there have been times I have failed Him, I know that He will never fail me. It's not always easy to follow Him as He wants me to but I know He will strengthen me when I ask Him.

The greatest thing to me is not only that I accepted Christ but Christ accepted me.

Has this ever happened to you?

"Section 49-d-1 (a) In addition to Texas Water Development Bonds heretofore authorized to be issued by Sections 49-c and 49-d of Article III of the Constitution, the Texas Water Development Board is hereby authorized to issue $3,500,000,000 in aggregate principal amount of bonds. No part of such additional bonds shall be issued prior to approval thereof by the vote of two-thirds of the elected members of both houses of the Legislature.

State of Texas. Provided, however, that financial assistance may be made pursuant to the provisions of such Sections 49-c and 49-d subject only to the availability of funds and without regard to the provisions in Section 49-c that financial assistance shall terminate after December 31, 1982.

"(e) Under such provisions as the Legislature may prescribe, the Texas Water Development Board may receive grants and, in addition, execute contracts with the United States or any of its agencies, other states of the United States, foreign governments and others, for the acquisition and development of such water resources and facilities for the State of Texas. Such contracts when executed may be secured by the general credit of the state, and if so secured shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas in the same manner and with the same effect as Texas Water Development Bonds. If facilities are acquired for a term of years, such contracts shall contain provisions for renewal that will protect the state's investment. The aggregate principal amount of Texas Water Development Bonds authorized herein and in said Sections 49-c and 49-d shall be reduced by the aggregate of principal payments committed under such contracts constituting general obligations of the state. The provisions hereof shall not be construed to limit the authority of the Texas Water Development Board to execute contracts or issue revenue bonds when such contracts or bonds are not secured by the general credit of the state.

"(f) Texas Water Development Bonds and such contracts secured by the general credit of the state shall after approval by the Attorney General, registration by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and delivery to the purchasers, be incontestable and shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas under the Constitution of Texas.

"(g) Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this amendment, such Acts shall not be void by reason of their anticipatory character."

Section 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on Tuesday, August 5, 1969, at which election all ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment broadening the powers of the Texas Water Development Board and the purposes of the Texas Water Development Fund; eliminating the interest limitations on Texas Water Development Bonds; raising the authorized amount of Texas Water Development Bonds by $3,500,000,000; extending the maturity schedule on Texas Water Development Bonds; eliminating the procedures for curtailment and the curtailment of the financial assistance to be provided by the Texas Water Development Board."

The Legislature shall have the power, by General Laws, to provide, subject to limitations herein contained, and such other limitations, restrictions and regulations as may be by the Legislature deemed expedient, for assistance grants to and/or medical care for, and for rehabilitation and any other assistance payments only out of state funds on behalf of such individuals shall not exceed the amount of Eighty Million Dollars ($80,000,000) during any fiscal year.

What Is A Cop?

A cop is like the little girl, who when she was good, was very, very good, but when she was bad, she was horrid. When a cop is good "he's getting paid for it." When he makes a mistake, "he's a grafter and that goes for the rest of them too." When he shoots a stick-up man he's a hero, except when the stick-up man is "only a kid, anybody coulda seen that."

Lots of them have homes, some of them are covered with ivy, but most of them are covered with mortgages. If he drives a big car he's a chiseler, a little car "who's he kidding." His credit is good; this is very helpful, because his salary isn't. Cops raise lots of kids; most of them belong to other people.

A cop sees more misery, bloodshed, trouble and sunrises than the average person. Like the postman, cops must also be out in all kinds of weather. His uniform changes with the climate, but his outlook on life remains about the same: mostly a blank but hoping for a better world.

Cops like days off, vacations and coffee. They don't like auto horns, family fights, and anonymous letter writers. They have unions, but they can't strike. They must be impartial, courteous, and always remember the slogan "At your service." This is sometimes hard, especially when a character reminds him I'm a taxpayer. I pay your salary.

Cops get medals for saving lives, stopping runaway horses, and shooting it out with bandits, (once in a while his widow gets the medal). But sometimes the most rewarding moment comes when after some small kindness to an older person, he feels a warm hand clasp, looks into grateful eyes and hears "Thank you and God bless you son."

D. P. S. REPORT

Driving is a full time job and not child's play. Too often, we read about accidents involving underage drivers, with parents permission, to practice driving on suburban streets and rural roads.

Just recently, three persons were killed and 10 injured in a head-on collision in which one of the cars was driven by a 12-year-old boy. He was learning to drive and was trying out his great-grandfather's car.

The collision occurred in the middle of a county road, not in a heavy traffic area. An accident can happen anywhere and operators of vehicles should be of the age that proper thinking and judgement let them control the vehicle, not letting the vehicle control them.

The state law prescribes the legal age for a person to operate a vehicle upon public streets, highways, and roads. A person can obtain a license at age 16 if he has had drivers education and can pass a written and driving test, given by an officer of the Department of Public Safety.

Youth not having drivers education must wait until the age of 18, before being issued a license and passing the required tests. Parents should remind their underage youth of these facts, saving argument about why they cannot drive the family vehicle.

The responsibility of underage drivers lies with the parents. They are as wrong letting youth drive as the underage youth operating a vehicle.

Now the law and proper age limit. The information can be found in the state driving manual and more information can be obtained by calling your local Highway Patrol Office.

Degree Stated For Tucker

Harold Robert Tucker of Athens, whose wife is the former Margaret Sue Roberts, a former resident of 1801 S. 1st, Tahoka, will receive the master of religious education degree during the spring commencement services at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, May 9 in Ft. Worth.

Rheubin L. South, pastor of Park Hill Baptist Church, North Little Rock, Ark. since 1952, will deliver the main address. The program will begin at 9:30 a. m. in Truett Auditorium on the main campus in Fort Worth.

Bill Griffin, County Agent, Says....

During the last half of May some 40,000 Texas farmers will receive at their mailboxes a most important questionnaire from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in Austin.

County Agent Bill Griffin says it will be the annual acreage survey and that many farmers in Lynn County will be included in the 40,000. The information derived from the replies will be the basis for the official estimates of crop acreage for the State of Texas and for each county.

Gary D. Palmer, state statistician for the Texas Reporting Service, emphasizes the importance of getting back just as many of the 40,000 questionnaires as possible so that each county will be well represented.

The Texas Legislature, explains the county agent, has provided a program of estimates for each county.

The county agent urges all farmers in the county who receive the questionnaire to fill it out accurately and completely and return it as soon as possible to the Reporting Service.

In one case, the owner of a vicious dog did take the trouble to post a "BEWARE OF DOG" sign on his front door. However, when a postman rang the bell to deliver a package, the man opened the door and permitted the dog to dash outside and bite the postman in the leg.

A court duly imposed legal liability on the household. The judge said posting the warning sign did not end his responsibility toward those visitors who, like the postman, had a perfect right to come onto the premises.

Whose Voice on the Telephone?

Rare is the person who has never gotten a playful telephone call asking him to "Guess who this is." But all too often, identifying the caller on the other end of the line is no joking matter.

For example: Who was it that telephoned the parents of a kidnapped child about the ransom money? Who made those obscene calls to a terrified widow? Which bank employee, questioned by telephone, okayed a check that was no good?

Generally speaking, the law puts considerable faith in a listener's ability to recognize the voice he hears on the telephone. The modern instrument works well enough to reveal distinctive vocal characteristics.

Thus, a blackmail victim was allowed to testify that he recognized, from prior acquaintance, the voice that had threatened him on the telephone. As one judge commented:

"The recognition of persons by their voices is a common occurrence, and is often the only means of identification."

Suppose you don't recognize the voice at the time of the call. May you still identify it later, on? Consider this situation:

The father of a kidnapped child received several ransom calls from someone whose voice was not familiar. Later, when a suspect was arrested, the father talked with him face to face—and decided the man had the same voice he had heard on the telephone. Here, too, the court held the identification was sufficiently reliable to be accepted into evidence.

What if you don't remember what the voice sounded like but do remember what it said? A case like that arose when a lumber dealer tried to collect for merchandise which a customer said he had never ordered.

"I can't remember what the caller sounded like," said the dealer in a court hearing, "but I do recall that he used this customer's name. I had no reason at all to suspect that he wasn't telling the truth."

But the court ruled that this kind of identification of a caller was not adequate as legal evidence. The judge felt that, with no voice recognition or other corroborating circumstances, it was all too possible that the call was indeed a hoax.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Postman vs. Home Owner

More often than not, the relationship between postman and home owner is a warm and friendly one. But even into this sunny clime a little rain must fall. Such as, when the postman gets hurt and sues the home owner for damages.

As a general rule, the home owner is not liable if he is not guilty of any negligence. For example:

A home owner was sued by a postman who suffered a bad fall when a rotting porch step suddenly caved in. But a court found no liability. The judge pointed out that, since the rot was visible only from underneath, there was no reasonable way for the home owner to have discovered the danger.

By contrast, take the following case:
A postman slipped and fell in the outer hallway of a home, because an excessive amount of wax had been applied to the floor. This time, there being negligence on the part of the home owner, the court ordered him to pay the postman's claim.

In terms of sheer frequency, the Number One hazard that the postman faces is a bite by the home owner's dog. Many thousands of on-the-job bites are suffered each year by mail carriers.

In such circumstances, the home owner is usually liable if the state has a "dog bite law." Under this law, a dog's master may be held responsible for a bite not only when he was negligent but even when he was not negligent in any way.

If the state has no dog bite law, the home owner might still be liable—but only if he was somehow to blame for the bite.
