Nazis Repulsed In The Caucasus; Further Allied Success In Egypt

Counter Blow Protects Port On Black Sea

Hitlerites Pay A Big Price For New Stalingrad Gains

By HENRY C. CASSIDY MOSCOW Oct. 28. (AP)—Red army defenders of the cliff-sided mountain road to the Black sea port of Tuapse have turned the tables on the nazis in the western Caucasus with a smashing counter-attack which forced the Germans into a retreat that started several days ago battlefront dispatches reported today.

In Stalingrad, a German onslaught renewed at deadly cost gained the invaders two more debris-littered streets, but the main Russian lines held, and northwest of the besieged city the Red army's relief offensive bit menacingly deeper into the German flank across the sodden steppes.

Timed with the reurgent Russian thrust along the road approaching Tuapse through passes to the northeast, other Russian forces struck determinedly into German-guarded positions east of the port of Novorossiisk, 80 miles farther up the coast.

Red Star said that in the fight for the approach to Tuapse, provisional base of the Soviet Black Sea fleet, a stubborn Red army defense forced attacking alpine troops to fan out into the wooded mountains in a flanking attempt.

When the main body of the attackers started to swing southward to follow up the original flanking penetrations, the Russian blow was struck, an important mountain position was wrested from the Germans, and the entire attack force was caught off balance and rolled back with heavy losses, the army newspaper reported.

Erwinia, the government newspaper, said autumn rains had turned the Don-Volga steppes northwest of Stalingrad into a quagmire where the enemy's mechanized forces bogged down.

There Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's attack on the nazis flank was said to have scored steady gains. Pravda disclosed that the Germans were driven from a key defense position three days ago, and had lost 7,000 men in a battle of mortar and rifle fire which beat off their attempts to recapture it.

In this salient alone the Germans were said to have lost 67 tanks destroyed and 150 damaged and captured.

Cotton Oil Co. Warehouse Is Razed By Fire

COLORADO CITY, Oct. 28.—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the warehouse of the Continental Cotton Oil company here at 5:30 a. m. Wednesday. No estimate of the total loss was announced by Fred Gutter, manager, but the 180 feet by 300 feet sheet iron building was said by company officials to contain gin machinery, 250 bales of lint cotton, bagging and ties, and two carloads of lumber. The fire was discovered by a Texas & Pacific engineer and switchman who gave the alarm. Firemen worked for several hours at preventing the blaze from spreading to the mill proper and to nearby warehouses.

BUSINESS UP AUSTIN, Oct. 28. (AP)—Texas composite business index rose to 160.7 last month from the September, 1941, figure of 133.5, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research announced today.

Salary Boosts Put Under Regulation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—That joyous cry "I just got a raise," probably will be heard much less frequently during the wartime emergency due to new federal regulation of all wage and salary increases. Under rules announced yesterday the captains of industry and the lowliest wage earners both become subject to pay control—and even salary or wage decreases must be justified in certain cases.

In case where salaries were less than $5,000 a year on October 3, no decrease may be made by the employer below the highest salary paid between January 1, 1942 and September 15, 1942, "unless to correct gross inequities or to aid in the effective prosecution of the war," except with governmental approval. In cases where salaries were $5,000 or more, the government if it reduces the level below $5,000.

The regulations issued by Economic Director James F. Byrnes and approved by President Roosevelt generally limit public and private salaries, except those fixed by statute, to a top net of $25,000 a year with no changes to be made in general pay and wage schedules up to that amount except for such things as increased production, individual merit raises within established salary rate ranges, and individual promotions.

The treasury and war labor board will enforce the rules.

The purpose was to discourage wartime inflation and at the same time increase federal tax revenues by causing corporations to retain amounts formerly paid out in high salaries. The corporations thus would be required to pay taxes levied at a higher rate than on individual earned income.

The $25,000 salary limitation is not effective until Jan. 1, although increases are prohibited meantime.

The qualified freezing of salaries of $5,000 or less became effective yesterday and that of salaries of more than $5,000 was retroactive to Oct. 3.

Increases may be granted automatically in these classifications in cases of individual promotions or reclassifications; individual merit increases within established salary rate ranges; operation of an established system of salary increases based on service; increased productivity under an incentive plan, and in the operation of a trainee system.

Even raises in these groups would be forbidden if they caused "any substantial increase of the level of costs or shall furnish the basis either to increase price ceilings of the commodity or service involved or to resist otherwise justifiable reductions in such price ceilings."

Control of all wages and salaries not in excess of $5,000 was given to the war labor board in the case of employees represented by a labor organization or those not employed in an executive, administrative or professional capacity. The treasury department assumed jurisdiction over all other salaries.

Col. Frederick To San Angelo Post

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 28. (AP)—Col. Linus D. Frederick, commanding the air forces navigation school at Hondo, has been transferred to command the advanced flying training school at Goodfellow Field, San Angelo, it was announced here today. His successor at Hondo has not been announced.

Big Clash Of Armor Power Is Imminent

Rommel Reported To Have Lost Heavily In Tanks

By STEPHEN BARBER CAIRO Oct. 28. (AP)—The next phase of the new battle for North Africa was shaping up today in the widening gaps in the axis desert defense line as Britain's army of the Nile and Field Marshal Rommel's invaders rolled an increasing weight of tanks into the first clashes of an expected crucial test of armored power.

A British communique which reported "further progress" Monday night and unabated attacks on the German-Italian line throughout yesterday said the British came out on top in the first main test of armor.

"Yesterday," it declared, "an armored clash on a larger scale than hitherto developed. After considerable fighting the enemy was driven off with a considerable loss. Our own losses in tanks were light. Fighting continues."

Dispatches from the front indicated that axis tank losses already had been considerable, although it was clear that by far the main mass of Rommel's tanks still were poised back of the battlefront, where they have been under continued bombing and strafing by United States and British bomber and fighter-bomber squadrons.

Prisoners who streamed back along the British supply lines said they had been under a deadly battering by the allied artillery barrage which has been thundering since the outset of the British push, now in its fifth day.

The allied air forces—United States, British and South African—kept Rommel's planes on the defensive yesterday except for a single attempted Stuka attack, and scored 13 to 6 over the axis in planes shot down in combat.

Yanks Get Seven

CAIRO, Oct. 28. (AP)—United States fighter pilots bagged seven of the 18 axis planes shot down yesterday over North African battle areas, for their best score since the start of the new allied offensive in Egypt.

Lieut. Lyman Middlefield of Highland, N. M., got three of the seven, the biggest one-day bag so far for an American pilot. He shot down one of the four planes destroyed by American fighters over the desert battlefield last Sunday.

Barbara Bennett Denied Custody Of Five Children

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Oct. 28. (AP)—Screen actress Barbara Bennett's action in remarrying a few days after Tenor Morton Downey divorced her was an indication that she did not possess "mother love" and therefore she cannot have custody of their five children, ruled Superior Court Judge Edward J. Quinlan.

Miss Bennett, he said in a decision handed down yesterday, "permitted volatile infatuation to be substituted for mother love."

Miss Bennett, whose present husband is Addison "Jack" Randall, movie cowboy, and Downey were married in New York January 28, 1929, and separated in 1940.

Billy Mitchell's Son Claimed By Death

PINE CAMP, N. Y., Oct. 28. (AP)—Lieut. John Lendrum Mitchell, 22, son of the late Brig. Gen. William (Billy) Mitchell, prophet of modern aerial warfare, died last night after a three weeks' illness with a rare blood disease.

At his bedside was his mother, Mrs. Franklin F. Kovel, Alexandria, Va.

Capt. Irving E. Pugh, army public relations officer, made the announcement. Mitchell, a native of Washington, D. C., enlisted in 1940 at Milwaukee where an airfield was being dedicated to the memory of his father, and was graduated from the officers' training school at Fort Knox last summer. He served in the tank corps.

'If I Don't Get Back'

Five-year-old Jackie Shea of Arlington, Mass., and his dad, Commander John J. Shea, 45, who is missing in action, are shown together in this photo. The father was last seen fighting flames aboard the U.S. Aircraft Carrier Wasp before she sank. "If I don't get back," his last letter to Jackie read, "you will have to be mother's protector."

Demand Grows For Unity In Command

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—Demands for closer coordination of the armed forces grew louder in congressional circles today with influential members calling for a joint legislative committee to serve as a liaison agency on war problems.

The suggestion first was advanced by Rep. Maas (R-Minn.), ranking minority member of the house naval committee, upon his return recently from a four months tour of duty in the Pacific as a flying, fighting colonel of marines.

Maas recommended formation of a committee made up of members of the house and senate military and naval committees, as a preliminary step toward merging the army, navy and marine corps into a single, amphibious fighting force under one commander.

Rep. Wadsworth (R-N.Y.), author of the original selective service bill and of the still pending "teen age draft act, endorsed Maas' suggestion.

Newsprint May Be Curtailed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—Curtailling of newsprint and other paper production appeared likely today, chiefly because of what the war production board described as shortages of electric power, manpower and transportation.

E. W. Palmer, deputy chief of the war production board's printing and publishing branch, said yesterday that the newly created newspaper industry advisory council discussed several possible percentages of curtailment at a closed meeting with WPB officials and were informed that a freezing of paper production was necessary.

A horizontal cut in paper consumption, affecting all branches of the publishing industry, would be the first type of use-control to follow production curtailment, he said.

In addition reductions were necessary, Palmer added, each branch of the industry would be assigned a percentage of its past consumption. Whether the user was assigned a relatively high or low percentage of the available supply, he said, would depend on how essential the product was considered in contributing to civilian morale and the war effort.

Two Kelly Field Men Die In Crash

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 28. (AP)—Two Kelly Field fliers were killed in the crash of a twin-engine advanced training plane two miles from Ingram, it was announced from the field today.

Second Lieut. Roscoe L. Maris, son of Roscoe W. Maris, (1890 Arizona street) El Paso, was pilot of the plane and his passenger was Sgt. Anthony J. Mirro, crew chief.

The plane crashed into a high hill and both men were killed while on a routine flight yesterday afternoon.

Sgt. Mirro was the son of Amos Mirro, Yorktown, N. Y.

Pupils Among 16 Killed In Grade Crash

Speeding Train Hits Motorists In Detroit Suburbs

DETROIT Oct. 28. (AP)—Sixteen persons including several school pupils were killed this morning as a passenger train sliced through a crowded Detroit Street Railways motorbus.

Bodies were strewn along the tracks for two blocks and some were mangled against the front of the locomotive as the train, a Grand Trunk Western passenger train arriving from Chicago pulled to a stop a quarter mile past the crossing.

The bus, driven by William F. Closs of Detroit, had stopped at the Caniff avenue crossing while a northbound freight train passed.

Eyewitnesses said that electric flasher signals were operating, but that after the freight passed, the bus started across the tracks into the path of the southbound passenger train.

The front end of the bus cleared the tracks, but the locomotive smashed through the vehicle at its middle doors, cutting it in half. Most of the dead were passengers in the rear end of the bus.

School books of the younger passengers on the bus were scattered along the right-of-way. Many of the bodies, some decapitated and others with limbs severed, were impossible to identify immediately.

The front end of the bus, hurled aside as the train struck it, was left on its side close to the intersection. The rear end was smashed to fragments and scattered.

Fred A. Nolan, general manager of the municipally owned Detroit transportation system, said it was the worst accident in Detroit street railways history.

Joseph Lovinski, operator in a tower at the southeast corner of the intersection, told how he watched the bus start up after the freight passed.

"The red flasher lights were still working," he said. "The passenger train was coming fast, southbound, with the engine whistle screaming. I saw this bus start up. I knew it would do no good, but I leaned out of the tower and yelled. I yelled my head off. The bus went right in the path of the train, and there was an awful splintering crash, and then screams."

Mary Allen, 12, one of the bus passengers who escaped with slight injuries, said "I was in the front end of the bus and all I know is that there was a crash and then I fell down and then somebody cut through a piece of wood and picked me out."

Employees of a coal office, against which the front end of the bus was hurled, said two nuns were among the few passengers who were not injured.

Closs, who is 25 years old, has been a regular coach operator for two years.

He was taken to the police station in suburban Hamtramck for questioning. Nolan said Closs was unable to tell a coherent story of the accident.

The crash occurred at the Detroit-Hamtramck boundary, on the Hamtramck side. The front end of the bus was tossed into Detroit territory by the locomotive.

Officers worked for nearly an hour to extricate the bodies of several youths who apparently were enroute to classes at a Detroit high school.

Tire Requests Cancelled, Board Makes 'New Start'

In a move designed to protect Howard county residents and at the same time to make it possible for the War Price and Rationing Board to provide tires, retreads and tubes to those residents needing them badly, the board, effective today, is cancelling all its old applications on hand for tires, tubes and retreads.

The files which will be closed today contain applications for over 700 tires and retreads filed by many transient government workers who have left the county or who have secured second hand tires since they filed application.

Forces Battle For Island Airfield; Foe Loses Ships

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—American and Japanese warships boiled through the southwest Pacific in a titanic slugging match for control of the bomb-scarred Guadalcanal airfield today while on the island itself land forces were locked in mortal combat.

Latest reports from the battle zone showed action was continuing at a furious pace over a wide area and both President Roosevelt and Secretary of the Navy Knox said the results were not yet clear.

Two Japanese destroyers have been sunk, last night's navy communique reported, one enemy battleship has been hit, a cruiser badly damaged and a destroyer hurt.

In the epic land battle on the north shore of Guadalcanal Japanese forces broke through the American south flank during the night of Oct. 25-26 but were thrown back by army troops who regained their temporarily lost positions.

On the west flank, held by marines against series of attacks that have been under way since last Friday, the navy reported the enemy was forced to give ground in "heavy fighting."

At the Americans' backs was the prized airfield, built by the Japanese and captured by the marines last August, from which United States bombers have been able to hammer at enemy shipping for miles around. In Japanese hands, the field could be used as a springboard for an offensive against Australia.

Last night's communique told of navy and marine corps dive bombers apparently dispatched from this same field, flying to the aid of two United States minesweepers which were set upon by three enemy destroyers. Two of the destroyers were sunk.

Another enemy destroyer brought a pack of Grumman "Wildcats" from the Guadalcanal field roaring down on it after it sank the U. S. fleet tug Seminole and a small harbor patrol boat near the island of Tulagi, about 15 miles north of the field.

The Wildcats, appearing after shore batteries had slammed three shells into the destroyer, strafed and, in the language of the communique "further damaged" it.

During the night of Oct. 26-27, navy Consolidated "Catalinas" renewed an attack on an enemy force 400 miles northwest of Guadalcanal. They succeeded in putting a torpedo into an enemy plane carrier and scoring two hits on a cruiser before heavy antiaircraft fire, which damaged one of the attacking planes, drove them off.

President Roosevelt, declining to predict the outcome of the struggle, pointed to a headline in the Washington Evening Star at his press conference yesterday and indicated that it told the story accurately. The headline was: "Battle rages in Solomons," but the president added he did not know whether he would use the adjective "decisive."

Ship Loss Score Goes Up To 506

By The Associated Press Disclosure yesterday of the sinking of one American and one British merchant ship in the western Atlantic brought to 506 the Associated Press tabulation of announced united and neutral nations cargo ship losses in enemy action in those waters since Dec. 7, 1941.

The medium-sized American vessel was torpedoed and shelled by a submarine off South America in October. One life was lost.

The small British craft was torpedoed off the same coast this month. Four crew members were reported missing.

KING IS RESTING

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 28. (AP)—A doctors' bulletin on the condition of King Christian X of Denmark, seriously ill from pneumonia after a fall from his horse ten days ago, said he was resting well today after two blood transfusions given during the night.

He made his home in Long Beach, Calif., after 1930. He was a life-long member of the Baptist church. He was married to Miss Mary Keiso in 1886 in Pleasanton. His wife succumbed in 1925 and is buried at the local cemetery.

Survivors include his daughter, Mrs. Sam J. Horton of Big Spring, two sons, Lloyd Bell of Canadian and Claude Bell of Gardena, Calif., four grandsons, C. A. Horton of Big Spring, Lieut. Percy Horton of Egypt, Pvt. Frank R. Pike of England, and Charles Bell of Gardena, Calif.

Two granddaughters, Mrs. Ray Shaw of Big Spring and Velma Lois Bell of Canadian, two great-grandchildren, La Juan Horton and Ray Horton Shaw, both of Big Spring.

Fallbearers will be Ray Shaw, Reuben Creighton, Cecil Horton, B. Housewright, B. S. Tucker, James Horton, Ed Stringfellow and H. E. Long.

Rat Poisoning Campaign Has Big Response

When Henry Pfenneke of the rodent control division of A. & M. extension service arrived here Tuesday afternoon to take charge of poisoning in the rat-radiation drive, and expecting some 30 or 40 business firms to have signed for the poisoning, he was confronted with a list of 130 Big Spring establishments desiring his services and assistance.

Thrown behind schedule because of so many requests, Pfenneke was forced to cancel plans for speaking engagements at the various city schools, in which he was to outline the procedure for setting out the poison.

Instead, Supt. W. C. Blankenship made the round this morning and read directions to the assembly, while Pfenneke, Health Officer M. E. Eganoff, and Miss Leeper, city sanitary inspector, continued their rounds of the industrial district, where poisoning must be done under supervision because of the deadly nature of the mixture, thallium sulphate.

Even fumes from the mixture or small particles entering through the pores of the skin may cause death if proper precautions are not taken.

Barium carbonate, a mixture not so strong as that used downtown, will be put on bait in homes. Orders will be taken from school children Thursday and the mixture distributed Friday for use that night. One hundred percent cooperation is asked by school and city health agencies for the most completely effective results.

Retired T&P Worker Dies

Rites for Reuben Van Bell, 75, who succumbed at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Sam Horton, Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, will be held Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Nalley Funeral chapel.

The Rev. J. E. McCoy, pastor of the First Christian church, will be in charge. Interment will be in the local cemetery.

Bell, who was born November 12, 1866, in Mississippi, came to Texas at the age of five years. He lived in Pleasanton, Tex., until 1906 when he moved to Big Spring. He was an employe of the T. & P. Railway company until 1922 when he retired.

He made his home in Long Beach, Calif., after 1930. He was a life-long member of the Baptist church. He was married to Miss Mary Keiso in 1886 in Pleasanton. His wife succumbed in 1925 and is buried at the local cemetery.

Sweat Of His Brow Keeps Man Alive

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—For twelve years a Knoxville man has been working early and late that he might perspire. Suffering a peculiar ailment arising from adhesions, C. A. Stair must labor long hours daily so that perspiration may relieve his suffering and enable him to live. During the summer, he works in his flower garden. When winter comes he goes to his basement and shovels coal from the full bin to an empty one, repeating the process until spring.

Recent Bride—Mrs. Henry P. Jones, above, is the former Frances Graves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Graves of Fort Worth, whose marriage took place October 23rd in the home of WAAC's sister, Mrs. Earl Collins of Lubbock. Dr. Jack M. Lewis, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, read the ceremony. The couple is at home at 2308 Tenth street where Mrs. Jones is a sophomore and Jones is a junior student at Texas Tech. Guests at the wedding were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Jones, Sr., and Edith Hatchett of Big Spring.

Lieut. Williams Speaks To Group On Part The WAAC's Play In War

Fifty Women Meet To Hear Recruit Officer

By JEN WIESE
In the not-too-distant future you may have to take a second look at that uniform hanging in the closet to make sure it belongs to the man of the house. For Lieut. Virginia Williams of the Woman's Army Auxiliary Corps is in town this week talking WAAC and she sounds pretty convincing.

Some fifty-odd women gathered last night in the Settles ballroom to hear Lieut. Williams' story of her experiences in the woman's army and to ask questions regarding enlistment. The influence of the women will go down in history, Lieut. Williams thinks, and they will play a most important part in this war.

Never designed as a combat unit, WAAC is interested in placing some woman in the position of the man behind the desk to relieve him for service at the front. Skilled women are needed, women with training in every field—doctors, lawyers, stenographers, journalists, photographers, radio operators and many others.

"Name me a girl skilled in anything you like, and I will say we need her," she said, predicting that the unit, originally planned to include 150,000 women, will have 600,000 before the war is over if it lasts as long as most people think it will.

Referring to her training, Lieut. Williams said she learned right away that in the army one did not ask why something is done as it is. "There is a right way, a wrong way and the army way," she added.

Many of her personal experiences while at the WAAC officer training school at Fort Des Moines, were related by Lieut. Williams. Upon completion of training, WAACs can ask for service in any one of three places—overseas, within the continental limits of the U. S. and within 300 miles of home. Not strange is the fact that 90 per cent of the women ask for overseas duty, although at this time only 40 per cent can go. To be a WAAC you must be between the ages of 21 and 45, physically fit, and you must pass a mental alertness test. The latter will determine whether you will become an officer candidate or an auxiliary.

It used to be TABOO for girls to discuss this kind of help

Nowadays, thousands of women who suffer from purely functional periodic pain rely on the 3-way help of CARDUI. Started 3 days before the time and taken as directed, many find it brings relief. As a tonic, it often perks up appetite, increases flow of gastric juices, thus aiding digestion and helping build resistance for times most needed. A 62-year record says: "Try CARDUI!" (adv.)

Entertainment For Soldiers Club Topic

Program on soldier recreation needs and facilities for entertainment in Big Spring was given for the American Association of University Women in a meeting at the home of Mrs. K. H. McGibbon Tuesday night.

Elouise Haley spoke on church facilities which have been opened for soldier use, of the temporary USO center, and individual efforts of citizens to provide entertainment. She gave the results of a questionnaire given to soldiers asking for their suggestions.

The questionnaires showed that most soldiers wanted opportunities to meet nice girls and to have nice places to take them. The soldiers also expressed desire for attending dances, shows and bowling games. One complaint was that the football games started too late to allow them to see the end of the game.

The result of the discussion was a vote that the organization sponsor a city-wide "Soldier in Every Home" Sunday. Mrs. Ray Lawrence and Miss Haley were appointed as a committee in charge.

The group voted to give $1 a week to the temporary USO center for refreshments and voted to put on a play for children with money going to the fellowship fund. Mrs. George Lynn Brown Miss Haley and Mrs. Charles Watson were named as a committee in charge of the play.

During the business meeting, the association voted to sponsor an educational project for high school and seventh grade girls. Others present were Mrs. William Currie, Mrs. H. A. Stegner, Mrs. Seth Parsons, Mrs. G. H. Wood, Marguerite K. Wood, Mrs. Stormy Thompson, Mrs. Lawrence, Mrs. Fred Mitchell, Mrs. Bill Wright, Mrs. J. R. Muil, Nettie Lee Shelton, Ethel Reeves Bird, Mrs. Walter Wilson, Mrs. W. W. McCormick, Mrs. Brown.

C. W. Ricks, M. McLaurin and Billie Bess Shive returned this weekend from a visit in Shreveport, La., with Miss Shive's sister and with Ricks' parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Y. Ricks, in Mansfield, La.

BOWEL WORMS CAN'T HURT ME!

That's what you think! But ugly roundworms may be hiding in your bowels, causing trouble without your knowing it. Warning signs are uneasy stomach, nervousness, itching parts. Get JAYNE'S Vermifuge, right now! JAYNE'S is America's leading proprietary worm medicine; scientifically tested and used by millions. Acts gently. Be sure you get JAYNE'S VERMIFUGE!

Downtown Stroller

Just hobbling around these days is CHARLIE KELLEY, who is suffering with an infected foot. That bum foot is slowing him down but hasn't stopped him yet he says.

Mrs. J. B. STEWART, who has been working at Malone and Hogan Clinics-Hospital has left for Long Beach, Calif., where she will join her husband and make her home there. STEWART is in defense work.

Former employe BUCK TYREE came marching in yesterday in his army uniform and announced that he had gained three pounds already in his new life. At that rate, we couldn't afford to join ourselves. But he really looks good in his uniform and BUCK says it feels good to have one on too.

Mrs. HARRY HURT dropped in the office the other day, first time we've seen him or hair of her in a long time. She looked nice too, in a powder blue suit with a pink blouse and black accessories.

It's Sgt. WELDON ORME now, so we were informed the other evening when he dropped in for a visit with his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. DOUGLAS ORME. Sgt. ORME is stationed at Camp Barkley and managed to get a few days leave for a stop over here and in El Paso with his sister.

Little brother writes from Camp Bowie, Brownwood, that he has just recently completed the art of climbing seven foot walls and he can remember, less than three weeks ago, when it jarred him to run for a street car! The army is wonderful.

Newspaperman to the Limit!
An American war correspondent may be down, but he's never out.
The world learned that when AP reporter Vern Haugland returned alive after being lost in the jungles of New Guinea. As a tribute to Haugland's "devotion and fortitude," General Douglas MacArthur in an unprecedented action pinned the U. S. Army's Silver Star award on the correspondent, now recovering in a New Guinea hospital.
"I can't tell you how much we have been inspired by your getting back after such trials and hardships," said MacArthur.
"Vern Haugland's saga of his fight for survival during six weeks in one of the wildest spots on earth has gripped thousands of newspaper readers," writes the Helena, Mont., Independent, echoing the praise of press and public.
"Back from the land of the dead, this courageous reporter has given the world one of the most dramatic and vivid stories of an individual's experiences in war—his wanderings through the jungles and mountains of New Guinea where he parachuted from a disabled airplane while en route to cover the island fighting for The Associated Press."
Haugland's story, which he scrawled in a tiny note book until he collapsed at last unconscious, "is an epic of journalism," adds the Shreveport, La., Journal.
"Hail to Haugland—a newspaperman to the limit!"

Steers Get Ready For Colorado, But Are Looking Toward Angelo

Locals Doped For Easy Time With Wolves

Having nearly been caught short on the same deal once, the Big Spring Steers are getting ready for Colorado City here Friday evening by keeping their eyes on the San Angelo Bobcats.

This week the Steers should not have the trouble in getting by with this long range preparation, for Colorado City has been buffeted about in district play and despite the courage of the Wolves individually, on paper they don't have what it takes to carve a steak off the Steers.

It's no secret about this business of pointing toward the San Angelo game here Nov. 11. Big Spring always has proven a bitter rival for the Concho Cats and although the Kittens are rated to be much superior this season a razor-edge Steer team may reduce or even wipe out that margin.

Meantime the locals are steadily coming around. While hardly brilliant, they are working more as a unit and plays seemed to have a bit more precision in practice this week. Earnest Bostick has been hitting his men fairly consistently with his passing and Elmer Stewart, the battering-ram running, is showing more power thrusts into the line.

Peppy Blount looked great offensively against Midland, but he still has not let himself go with all his blasting power on the defense. When he gets cold and calculating there won't be an all around end in the district to surpass him.

Glen Brown and Bob Boykin will be starting tackles Friday in all probability but I. B. Bryan and Noel Hull have surprised in recent practice sessions and may see to it that the first stringers spend the greater part of Friday on the bench. Leo Rusk may do the same for either Bob Coffey or Darrell Webb at guard. This is the week for Billy Bob McDonald to play center but Hankley Wood also will have opportunity to play lots.

Dewey Stevenson has been looking better right along at his quarterback post. He's getting to be a steady ball handler and a reasonably safe field general. His punt returns and ducking through the line from the short man spot have looked good.

Billy Mims is still the old steady No. 1 at the halfback spot opposite Earnest Bostick but Hugh Cochran has been getting lots of grooming for the spot lately and somebody may have to make room in that backfield for Bobby Barron who is quick as a flash and hard as a pine knot.

Travel Problems Cancel The Game

CHICAGO, Oct. 28 (AP)—There were several reasons why the St. Leonard grade school football team didn't keep its engagement with the St. Joseph Academy eleven of suburban La Grange.

The captain's mother was to take some of the players in her car, but the starter got stuck and the machine wouldn't start; their coach was called out of the city; the right tackle's father's car was in a garage for repair, none of the other parents wanted to add any mileage to their tires, and the kids didn't have enough bikes to go around.

Honors At Stake When Ohio State, Michigan Clash

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 28 (AP)—There is no old oaken bucket of little brown jug at stake in Wisconsin's homecoming battle with Ohio State here Saturday but the contest between the undefeated eleven packs plenty of box office punch in other ways.

Dove Season Over; Duck, Geese Next

With one hunting season closed, sportsmen in this area were turning toward two others in hopes of getting in lots of shooting before gas rationing catches them.

Dove season closed Tuesday in the south zone and that wound up legal shooting of the gray birds for another year. The law provides that those who had doves in storage at the end of the season must deplete the supply within 30 days, which would be by Nov. 30.

Next hunting will fall to those who love to seek after duck and geese, for the season on these is Nov. 2 to Jan. 10. Bag limit is 10 a day and possession limit 20, including not more than six singly or in the aggregate of redheads and buffheads, nor more than one wood duck. The bag and possession limit is 25. For geese and brandt it is two a day but in addition to other geese, four blue geese may be taken. If only blue geese are taken, six may be taken in a day. Possession limit is two day's legal kill. Hunters were reminded that shooting hours are from sunrise to sundown, that a duck stamp is required of hunters, that no matter how you try to explain, you are not allowed to have the possession limit the first day.

Deer hunting this year will be fast and furious. Season for black and white tail starts opens on Nov. 15 and closes Dec. 31 except west of the Pecos river on blacktails, which may not be shot legally in that area after Nov. 30. Since gas rationing goes into effect Nov. 22, virtually everyone who is going deer hunting will take off that first week.

Quail season does not open until Dec. 1 and continues through Jan. 16. The three shell gun is the rule again and bag limit is 12 a week and not more than 36 in a week, the latter figure being the possession limit also.

LSU Team On Long Trip To Meet Two Foreign Foes

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 28 (AP)—The Louisiana State university football team is taking a tuesday junket in order to keep dates with Tennessee and Fordham.

The squad and coaches will leave Thursday by train for Knoxville, Tenn., where they play the University of Tennessee Saturday. Sunday morning they'll board a day coach for New York. They'll practice there until the Fordham game, Nov. 7, and arrive home Nov. 9.

Catching Quail Is Easy—Out Of Season

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 28 (AP)—A group of Kansas City bank executives took their dogs out for a practice sniff yesterday.

The dogs went on point. Up went a covey of quail.

One flew straight at Banker Robert L. Dornick, gunless like the others. He threw up a protesting hand—and caught the bird.

But he had to turn it loose. It's closed season on quail.

Those who have been lucky enough to get pastboards—the ticket office expects a near sell-out—may see in action the new Western conference titleholder or even the next mythical national champion.

Ohio State, unbeaten and untied in five games this season, has been parked in the number one spot on the Associated Press' nation's honor grid list for the past three weeks while Wisconsin, with five victories and a tie with Notre Dame, is in sixth place.

The game, which the super-charged Buckeyes are favored to win, has a two-for-the-price-of-one attraction for a thrifty grid fan.

In action on the field at the same time will be Ohio State's game with Wake Forest, and Baylor's game with Texas Tech, two of the foremost sophomore backfield men in the country. Fekete so far has piled up eight touchdowns and 12 extra points for a total of 60. Hirsch has tallied five times and pitched one scoring aerial.

For good measure there are Badger Fullback Pat Harder, leading Big Ten scorer and ground gainer last year, and Buckeye Halfback Paul Sarringhaus, who skipped through the Northwestern Wildcats for two markers last Saturday.

People Urged To Protect Their Security Cards

More than one million persons with old-age insurance accounts applied to the Social Security Board during the past year for duplicate account number cards to replace those lost, destroyed, or so badly worn they cannot be read, according to Elliott W. Adams, manager of the board's field office at Big Spring.

"Although requests for replacements are always granted," Adams said, "the worker should understand that the issuing of duplicate numbers is costly to the government and a little care on his part will help to prevent delay in issuing him a duplicate card and at the same time save money for the United States. He should keep a permanent record of his account number, in any way he chooses. With such a record he will be able to tell us what his number is, even if he loses his card. The number will assist us materially in issuing a duplicate to replace the original card. Without knowing what it is, we have to send his application for a duplicate to the accounting section of the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance at Baltimore, Md."

"In making such a request, the worker should be careful to explain that what he wants is a duplicate card, not a new one. Assignment of a new account number to a person who already has one number confuses his account and may result in difficulties in the eventual settlement of his claims for insurance benefits."

Pre-Session Budget Study Proposed For Legislature

AUSTIN, Oct. 28 (AP)—Before Gov. Coke R. Stevenson today was a recommendation that the chief executive and all members of the legislature convene informally in December to study the completed state budget for the next biennium now being prepared by the state board of control.

With state economy as the theme, a group of legislators in conference yesterday approved recommendations intended to slash millions from the state budget for the next two years.

Control Board Chairman Weaver Baker explained that his agency, the state's budget making office, had compiled tentative recommendations for allotments of $22,341,200 for each year of the new biennium beginning Sept. 1, 1943.

This compares with approximately $41,737,648 requested by branches of the government and $35,266,400 appropriated for the current fiscal year.

Further economies under consideration, Baker explained, should result in bringing expenditures even closer in line with estimated revenues of $22,341,200 in each of the next two years.

Isbell-Hutson Football Notes

Combine Sets New Records

CHICAGO, Oct. 28 (AP)—Only a ceiling on record breaking in the National Football league apparently can stop Green Bay's famed forward passing combination of Cecil Isbell and Don Hutson.

Isbell, star passer with Purdue six years ago, and Hutson, ex-Alabama end playing his eighth season with Green Bay, accounted for 10 records between them last year. This season they will better all those marks and others as well if they maintain their present pace.

League figures released today showed Isbell has thrown nine touchdown passes in five games and has collected a total of 611 yards. At this rate in his next six games he can boost his record of 15 touchdowns in a season to 19 and his yardage from 1,470 to more than 1,700. He's already assured of one new mark in that he has pitched at least one touchdown pass in each of 17 consecutive games.

Hutson, although playing but a half of Sunday's game against Detroit and held without a touchdown, also is well ahead of last year's pace. Here are some of his 1941 records with his current totals in brackets: Points scored, 95 (58); touchdowns, 12 (7); touchdowns on passes, 10 (7); passes received, 58 (33); yards gained on passes, 846 (612).

Perhaps even Connie Mack has forgotten that he coached the champion pro football team of the state of Pennsylvania in 1902. When the Philadelphia National league baseball club sponsored a pro eleven in 1901, the Athletics retained Mack as coach.

ROUNDUP SPORTS

By HUGH FULLEBTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—No matter what may happen to sports in the next year or so—and you can be sure something will happen when the army takes in a few more batches of athletes—the big air sport companies will keep on with competitive athletics.

They're sold on "the effect of championship principle upon morale." . . . Paul S. Gilbert, who handles the huge sports program that has grown up in the Grumman aircraft plants, claims that the men get rivalries started in football or bowling and then work just as hard to outdo one another on the production line. . . . And do the employees like it? Well, they'd stretch a softball game over two or three days by playing a few innings of lunch hour; they'll work 56 hours a week and try to train for boxing in their spare time and they'll start bowling matches at 8 a. m. when they come off the night shift.

Delayed Buck
That suggestion of reshuffling the major league ball club into eastern and western loops to cut down on travel was an idea this dept. had been considering and saving to use on some dull day. . . . We planned to go farther than Rud Rennie's anonymous executive and suggest that games should be played only on Saturdays and Sundays. And maybe Friday nights, so that ball players would have a chance to hold down useful jobs during the week. . . . We still don't think the very conservative major leaguers will consider it seriously except as a last resort. . . . All this only proves what you hear every day: "If you want to save something, buy war bonds."

John J. Perl, Stockton, Calif. Record: "Those who predicted that 80-year-old Amos Alonso Stagg would coach until he reached 100 may have been prophesying better than they knew. Coach Stagg's last game of the current season will be his 100th with the College of the Pacific. If football is suspended next year, as many seem to expect the game will be the 'grand old man's' final, at least for the duration."

More of the Richmond News Leader wires that a Broadway play aptly described the George Washington-William and Mary game last Saturday—"George Washington slept here." . . . When Tex Hughson, the Red Sox pitcher, attended a banquet in his honor at Kyle, Tex., the other night he reported he had been harvesting corn all day and was too tired to make a speech—but he'd talk baseball all night. . . . Although Les Mac-Mitchell is in the navy, New York U. will have a crack niler this year. Freshman Frank Dixon, who broke Mac's schoolboy mark, is winning cross-country races for the Violets and Coach Emil von Eiling sees him as "the greatest colored distance runner we have ever had." . . . Ever hear about the time Alab won three times in one day? . . . It was at Waterbury, Conn., a few days ago and Alab, a Boston terrier puppy, took three awards in a dog show.

Win, Lose or Tie
For seven years when Earl Blaik went to Boston with Dartmouth teams he always wore a red tie, and during that time the Indians never lost to Harvard. . . . A year ago he forgot his "maison" and Harvard beat Army. . . . Last week another game, Earl wasn't taking any chances. He donned the red tie before he left West Point.

Wonder if they run from a single wing formation?"

Army Squad Is Strengthened By Stars From Other Schools

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—If you have been wondering how the U. S. Military Academy could lose 80 of the 44 members on its football squad of a year ago and still approach the coming November with an unbeaten eleven, perhaps this will help you. . . . Bud Trossell, an cadet fullback, played for Dartmouth last season. . . . Substitute Halfback Bob Woods was a first stringer at navy last fall before flunking out and winning a West Point appointment. . . . And Francis Merritt, sophomore tackle, was a sensation as a Fordham frosh in 1940.

Perhaps even Connie Mack has forgotten that he coached the champion pro football team of the state of Pennsylvania in 1902. When the Philadelphia National league baseball club sponsored a pro eleven in 1901, the Athletics retained Mack as coach.

Why the guy was just a shell of his former self—down to 273 pounds! He lost twelve pounds from the start of the football season.

It is rumored that most of them came off when Temple lost to Lufkin several weeks ago. The first loss in poundage, it is reliably reported, came when the Wildcats fell before Amarillo just before that.

But the major trouble came from that Lufkin defeat. It smashed the most precious record of Cranfill's coaching.

To the Panthers went the honor of being the first team ever to make more than three touchdowns against a Cranfill-tutored eleven in one game and the first ever to beat a Cranfill-tutored eleven in one game and the first ever to beat a Cranfill team by more than two touchdowns. The score was 25-7.

But since then the Wildcats have returned to form with a vim and scored two victories.

These brought Cranfill's high school coaching record to 73 wins against 81 losses in seven and one-half seasons.

IT TAKES "know how" to do a job right. The makers of Coca-Cola have specialized in knowing how to produce refreshment.

Coca-Cola is a quality drink carefully made . . . with years of experience behind it. A finished art in its making, unknown to others, gives Coca-Cola an unmatched taste-appeal with an unmistakable after-sense of refreshment. A blend of special essences adds to the goodness of Coca-Cola an extra something that everybody welcomes.

More than just thirst-quenching, ice-cold Coca-Cola is the drink that goes into refreshing energy. Its refreshment pleasantly lingers, reminding you that contentment comes when you connect with a Coke.

War-time limits the supply of Coca-Cola. Those times when you cannot get it, remember Coke, being first choice, sells out first. Ask for it each time. No matter how short the supply, the quality of Coca-Cola arrives on.

When the whistle blows for lunch, workers make a bee-line for the red cooler that holds ice-cold Coca-Cola. Coke is the perfect partner of good things to eat.

Order Needed In Federal Oil Setup

Senator O'Mahoney's recent plea for greater coordination of the petroleum set-up makes a lot of good common sense. He points out that our available supplies are already depleted and that new drilling must be undertaken to insure a steady flow of the precious fluid. Our 7,500,000-man army and its attendant drain on oil and gasoline supplies, plus the rising requirements of the navy and air corps, make early action imperative.

There is no doubt about the serious trouble divided authority is causing. Take the matter of wildcatting as an example—a very painful example. While some agencies of the government point out the great need of keeping new production moving other agencies make it impossible to do so.

Only way new fields can be discovered—wildcatting—is to make it profitable to wildcat. With the price of crude what it is today, plus rising labor costs and labor shortages, plus priorities, plus higher and higher taxes, the indi-

MURDER on the Campus

Chapter Eight THE SERIOUS TRUTH Susan and the rest of them seemed paralyzed for a moment. It was not until Todd was out the door that Susan recovered.

"Eddie, stop him," she said, but Eddie Luttrell, turning his head slowly toward Phil Humphries, said, "No—let him go. I'll see him back at the house."

Humphries wore a bewildered expression. "Really, I'm sorry—I had no idea—I was just joking. It's amazing that my joke should have turned into a serious truth."

Eddie arose, still looking at Humphries. "I'm not sure about that, Humphries. Come on—let's get out of here. I don't like the smell."

Susan paused briefly before Humphries. "Phil," she faltered, "I don't think I believe you either." Then she rushed after the others.

Tony's was always crowded and anything said in one booth could be heard ten feet away. Two couples at the next booth looked at each other and a blond haired boy with a crew-cut whistled long and loud.

"Jeepers," he said, "did you get a load of what I heard?"

Kid Promise

Todd lay sprawled out on his bed, his face to the open window. A stiff, cool breeze felt good on his hot forehead. He heard the door open but he didn't turn around.

Eddie walked over silently in the dark and sat down on the bed beside him. He sat there for a full minute before saying a word.

"Susie said she had a wonderful time tonight," he said. "Maybe you'd better call her tomorrow."

"I'm sorry I ran like a whipped cur," Todd said.

Eddie swore softly. "You didn't. We understand why you got out of there so fast. We saw that look on your face. We were afraid, for a moment."

"So was I," Todd said hollowly. "I don't think I've ever shown it around here but I'm supposed to have a violent temper. Dad always told me when I feel it coming on I should walk away from it. He—"

Todd stopped. Eddie stretched out beside him. "I wish I had known—about your Dad, I mean. Maybe I could be of more help to you now. You know it doesn't mean a thing to me. You know that nothing could make any difference with me. Would you like to tell me a little about it? You don't have to, though."

"Thanks, Ed. There isn't much. They pinned something on Dad, two years ago—he was framed beautifully—and they sent him to the Pen." He punched the pillow viciously. "Sure, a lot of the boys have wondered about me for three years now. Couldn't blame 'em, I guess."

"He turned on Eddie fiercely. "But I never intend to conceal a thing. I'm not ashamed of my father. He was a gambler, yes—one of the biggest—but he was square and honest and as fine a man that ever breathed."

"Malone was a common name, so he made me promise I wouldn't reveal my background. I was just a kid, so I promised. And so far as this whole campus know I was just another guy from out West who had lived with his aunt."

"It won't make any difference—not with anybody," Eddie insisted. "You know that, don't you? People don't care about backgrounds, any more. You mustn't let this get you."

"I don't matter so much, Eddie. It's Dad—it's going to get him. He had his heart set on my living end—free from his shadow," Todd cracked his knuckles together. "I'll have to go down and see him as soon as I can. This thing will get around fast—awfully fast."

Eddie swore again. "That's what I'm afraid of. You can't stop something like that."

Into His Shell

Eddie Luttrell was right. It was too big for confinement. Pete Bailey phoned Sunday night and asked Todd to stop in at the coaches' office before practice Monday.

Pete Bailey was a huge bulk of a man with quiet, kindly eyes. For two decades he had been more than a football coach at State. Third-string scrubs found his office as comfortable as the All-Americans he had turned out.

He puffed slowly on his pipe. "Todd, we're in an ugly spot, yes, I said 'yes' because when one of my boys is on the spot I am too. I've heard about—well, who hasn't? In fact, Frank Garvey of the Chronicle and a couple other of the newspaper boys from downtown have been trying to get you all day. They finally got me. They want a story, Todd—and we've got to say something."

Todd stared at the wall, first, and then straight at Pete. "There's nothing like the truth," he said simply, "and the truth isn't going to take cover behind every tree

Stars Are Doing Their Part In Promoting Sale Of War Bonds

By ROBBIN COONS HEADING FOR HOLLYWOOD—More train sequences:

Joe College just got on. Joe College and Betty Coed and a couple of dozen counterparts. They had a noisy sendoff at their college station, and they're carrying on up and down the aisles. They're headed for the weekend football game, and before they're settled in their seats (if any) Joe College has his bottle out. Joe has a mild swing, which makes him exceedingly bubbly all of a sudden, and passes it to his crums. In no time at all that wicked pint is gone, and Joe et als are being just the devils while Betty Coed and her sisters smile tolerantly or frown disapproval—except for one Betty or two who join in the gussing.

Joe College is the Life of the Party. He wears his hat turned back and he leads cheers for dear old Alma Mammy. Sis-boom-bah, rah-rah-rah—just like in a college game. He makes his snappy dialogue, too. Like: "Water? Water? What's water?" and again: "Milk? Milk? What's milk?" And yet again: "Water is something I drink when I can't get mah whiskey." Boy-or-boy, Joe is in the groove. . . . And if a movie producer were a passenger today he might get a colossal idea for a college movie—all about campus life. . . .

Soldiers, soldiers, more soldiers. . . . One of them is, in a manner speaking, an ex-movie actor. He was in the company of authentic troopers who "acted" for John Ford in one of those Army training films. Both Director Ford and

Somervell In Action When He's On Leave

(Second Of Two Articles On Lt. Gen. Somervell) By JACK STINNETT WASHINGTON—Lt. Gen. Breton B. Somervell, chief of the U. S. Army services of supply, got his knowledge of capital bureaucracy, politics and society early.

When he was 15, his father, a physician, and his mother, a former school teacher, moved here from Little Rock, Ark., and opened Belmont Seminary, a finishing school for young ladies. That put the family in the thick of things and three years later, young Brehon was off to West Point.

In 1914, he graduated sixth in his class, became a second lieutenant in the Army's "brain corps"—the engineers. Somervell is probably the only man in the Army who has so distinguished himself and earned both honors and advancement "on leave."

He was "on leave" in Paris when World War I broke out. He hurried to the American embassy, volunteered his services, and made his mark herding stranded Americans home.

Four years later, he was again "on leave" in Paris, borrowed his general's car, drove to the front and volunteered his services. This was one of those things the Army catalogues as "highly irregular," but the 89th Division gave him a job. He participated in the Meuse-Argonne offensive and came out of it with the Distinguished Service Cross.

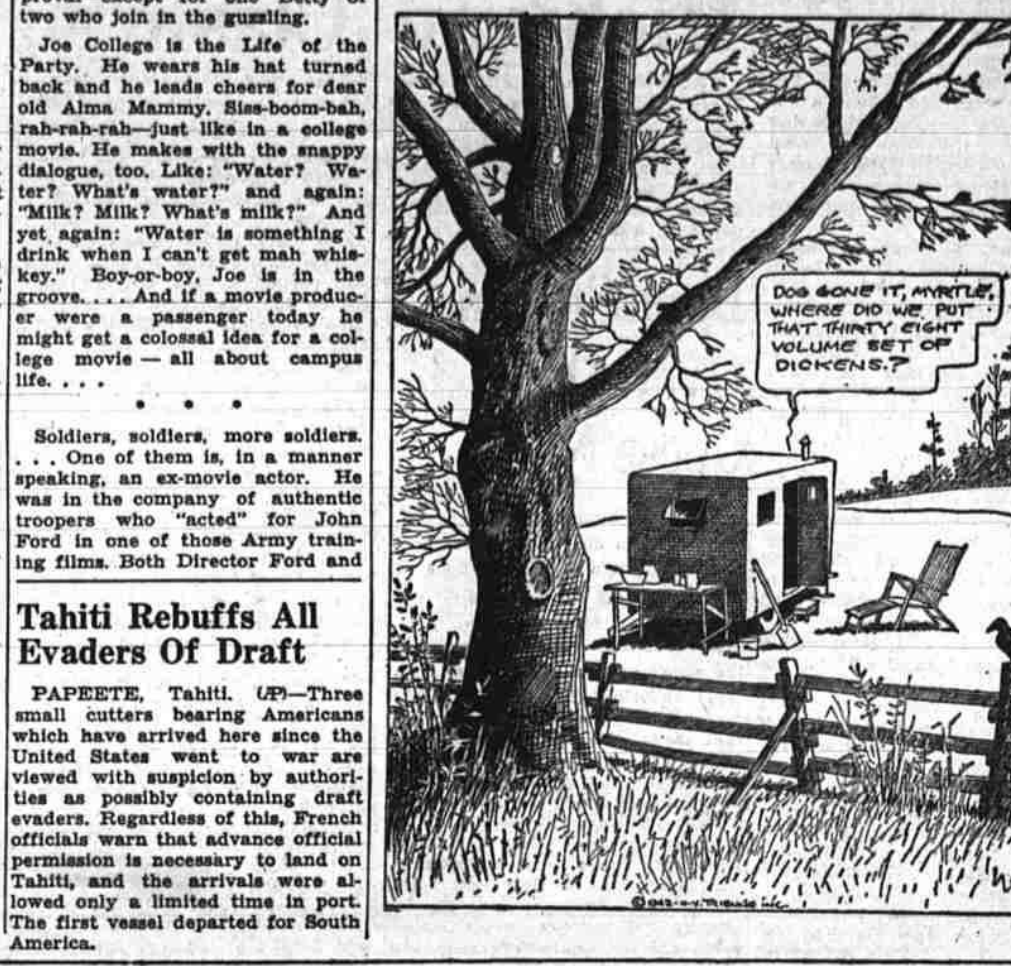

He was "on leave" too when he made WPA history by handling that troublesome New Deal agency in New York for four years.

Somervell's post-World war romance with YWCA worker Anna Furnell resulted in their marriage at Coblenz in 1919. Mrs. Somervell died recently and the general's household is now managed by his three daughters, but he is at desk from 12 to 17 hours a day.

One of those Washington rumors being kicked around these days is that General George C. Marshall is going to be placed in charge of the second front and that the man who will succeed him as chief of staff is Lieutenant General Somervell.

The rumor in itself isn't important. The fact that Somervell is practically the only one mentioned as General Marshall's successor is. He's a favorite with Congress and congressional committees. He has welcomed criticism from the men on the Hill and has been intolerant only of what he calls "the curbstone and barroom generals."

Swiftly, he pinched each of them again, and exited jailward, laughing.

Tahiti Rebuffs All Evaders Of Draft

PAPEETE, Tahiti. (AP)—Three small cutters bearing Americans which have arrived here since the United States went to war are viewed with suspicion by authorities as possibly containing draft evaders. Regardless of the French officials' warning that advance official permission is necessary to land on Tahiti, and the arrivals were allowed only a limited time in port. The first vessel departed for South America.

Benes Says Germany Is Suffering

LONDON, Oct. 28 (AP) — Four million German soldiers had been killed or put out of military action by severe wounds up to the end of August of this year, Eduard Benes, president of the Czech government in London, told his people last night in a radio broadcast on the eve of Czechoslovakia's independence day.

He said these figures had been obtained through a "gleaning" statement direct from Berlin.

He described Germany's food position as comparable to that of imperial Germany in 1917 and said her internal transport was "lamentable and worsening daily."

Benes declared that Italy was cast in the role of the Hapsburg empire during the last World War, and had become the weakest link in the axis.

The Czech leader said Field Marshal Fedor von Bock's southern Russian offensive in July came two months too late because the German army had been exhausted by the campaign last winter, and because of a disagreement between Hitler and his generals whether such an offensive should be undertaken at all.

There are no calves in Alaska and when a cow dies, another must be imported.

The 1940 census listed 125,000 Japanese in the United States. California had more than 90,000.

Mexicans Arrested Here Are Held On Marijuana Charges

Miguel Pineda, Mexican, entered a plea of guilty Tuesday when arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Ida M. James in Abilene on a charge of selling ten marijuana cigarettes.

Manuel Pineda entered a not guilty plea at the same time to a charge of selling 83 grams of marijuana. Both men were ordered held under bond of $500 each for action of the federal grand jury.

Both men were arrested here in the Mexican section of town and were transferred to Abilene by a U. S. marshal.

Germans Taking A War Lesson From Stalingrad

LONDON, Oct. 28 (AP)—The invasion-jittery Germans are frantically strengthening their continental defenses on the basis of a lesson learned from the Soviet stand at Stalingrad, a reliable diplomatic source said.

The lesson is that an ordinary city studded with pillboxes and strong points can be just as effective as conventional fortresses like those of Liege or Namur which the Germans took in stride May 11-25, 1940.

This source, who would not permit his name to be used but who is unusually well informed on continental affairs, said he had been advised that the Germans were employing approximately 100,000 men in Stalingrad-style strengthening of cities from Lille to Amiens and along the border of occupied France from the coast to Switzerland.

Symptomatic of the nasal invasion fears are daily aerial scouting flights over Britain for hints of when and where the British and United States forces are likely to deliver their first body blows.

Most sardines caught in United States waters are made into chicken feed and fertilizer.

Sales Volume Off, But Don't Count Out The Auto Business

Generally conceded to be among the first war casualties, the automotive business in Howard county lacks a lot of being completely out. Although new cars are a thing of the past for practical sales purposes, the dollar volume on trades in Howard county for the first nine months of the year is about a third of what it was an eight-month period of time a year ago.

From May 1, 1941, when a one per cent sales tax on automobile transactions went into effect, to the end of the year, sales aggregated $1,549,984. For the first nine months of this year, however, the total of all sales has been $555,095. Part of this decline is doubtless due to retirement of automobiles. A drop of 541 in the number of passenger car registrations as of this date as compared with the same date last year tends to substantiate the point.

Whether occasioned by men disposing of their cars upon entering the service, or from a desire to trade cars, trafficking in used machines has maintained its usual brisk pace this year.

But the automotive trade must hurdle still another obstacle. As if tire rationing were not enough, gasoline rationing is on the way. What effect this will have on trading remains to be seen, but at first blush it would hardly seem to hold much promise.

As it now stands automobile trading has netted $5,500.98 in sales taxes this year. Any business that does that may be down but not out.

Classification Work Is Being Completed

With the exception of a few "lost" men, classification of all registrants has been completed by the Howard county selective service board this month.

Three of those listed Sunday as "missing" have been located by the board and classification cards will be mailed them soon. They are George Edward Camp, Orville Moore and Alberto Lopez Espinosa.

Chief Clerk Margaret McDonald stated that the board was still unable to get supplementary questionnaires to the following registrants who failed to keep the board informed of their correct address: Harry Junior Shields, Henry George Starr, Ernest Le Roy Sylvester, Thomas Jackson Newman, James Glen Brown, Duward Oather Smith, Bill Taylor, Joe Carl Myers, Benancio Ramirez Soto, Robert Senl Vallego, Guadalupe Diaz Hernandez, Catarino Montes Nunez, Pablo Aguirre Ramirez, J. L. Hull, Alvis Charles Ingram, Francisco Salcido Lopez, M. C. Holt, Estanislao Rocha, John Henry Cardwell and Gregorio Bonilla.

February registrants still lacking military questionnaires are Antonio Moun Estran, Wesley Johnson, Jonnie Tift, Raymond Aurelia, Willie Houston Idell, Hughlen Johnson, Raymon Le Lamaniego, Sarosa Toniora Alabars and Ray Cline.

Modern Tale Of Traveling Salesman

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—Two traveling salesman landed in the midst of a whirlwind scrap drive at Caribou, a town in Maine's potato-growing area. Finding no place of business open except the bank, they pitched in to help the townspeople cart in scrap metals. Officials reported that 624 tons of scrap, of 149 pounds per capita, were collected.

Machinery To Hunt Bollworms Now At Stanton

Machinery for threshing gin trash in search for pink bollworms has been moved to Stanton this week, the bureau of entomology, department of agriculture, announced here.

H. E. Walker, head of the machine crew, operated it here through Saturday but found no pink bollworms in gin trash. Trash samples from all gins in Big Spring were put through the machine as were samples from most of the other gins of the county.

The unit works on a simple screening process. Large burrs and trash are trapped by the initial wide mesh and carried through. Sand and fine trash drops out and a fine screen catches the residue trash. This in effect is a concentrate which focuses insect infestation in several bushels of trash into a quart container.

Walker then goes carefully through each of these containers as they are filled, looking for pink bollworms. There was a considerable number of boll weevils this year, worlds of the lady bug beetles and lace worms—but no pink bollworms.

All trash passing through the machine is promptly burned.

Elinor Pancoast, Former Resident Has OPA Post

Dr. Elinor Pancoast, who belongs to that group of former Big Spring residents making their mark in the world, has been assigned a responsible wartime task by the office of price administration.

Here is the job of organizing the Maryland-Delaware consumer education division of OPA—one that involves her talents as a teacher. She is on leave until January from her post as professor of economics at Goucher college.

Dr. Pancoast is a graduate of the Big Spring high school having resided here for several years while her mother, Mrs. Anna M. Pancoast, operated the historic Cole hotel. Later she attended the University of Texas and then the University of Chicago where she was graduated the degree of bachelor of philosophy, her masters degree, and in 1927, her doctor's degree. Before her appointment as instructor of economics at Goucher in 1924, she had taught in Texas high schools and had done personal work in industry in Philadelphia. In 1930 she served briefly as acting dean at Goucher and since 1933 has been full professor of economics.

Her biography of Robert Dale Owen, a Civil War congressman, "The Incurable Idealist," was published in 1940.

Dr. Pancoast's task is to educate consumers to their part in maintaining economic equilibrium during wartime stimulation.

"Buyers should assume their share of the responsibility for seeing that price ceilings hold and that rationing quotas are not exceeded," she said. "Neither program can work without wide public support," and in Delaware and Maryland, Dr. Pancoast intends to do all she can to get that support."

The discovery of oil in Pennsylvania and the ending of the feud for whalebone, corsets gradually killed the American whaling industry.

AP Defends Unbiased News In Answer To Trust Suit

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—The Associated Press, charged with monopoly by the United States government, Tuesday answered the anti-trust suit against it with a denial of the charges, and said that if deprived of its right to choose its members, the assurance of an impartial and unbiased news report would no longer exist.

"If the news gathered through the cooperative facilities of AP and its members," the answer said, "were required to be made available to everyone, whether a member or not, the incentive of each member to contribute his time, effort and money to the up-building of an organization for the mutual benefit of himself and of others making a line contribution would disappear."

"Were AP obliged to admit to membership every newspaper which was prepared to pay its pro rata share of the cost of gathering and distributing the news," the non-profit association asserted, "AP would not only become a commercial news agency, but in view of the good will attaching to its name over a long period of years, it might well become the only news agency furnishing complete news coverage. The presently unfounded charge of monopoly in the collection and distribution of news might then be substantiated in fact."

The answer of approximately 7,000 words was filed in United States district court for the southern district of New York and comprised a general denial of the government's complaint of 14,000 words, in a civil action filed here August 28.

"It is the fundamental law of the land," the answer continued, "that no statute shall be construed as to abridge the freedom of the press. A free press requires that newspapers shall be free to collect and distribute the news and that they shall be free to choose their associates in so doing.

"This right is now challenged by the means of a novel interpretation of the anti-trust statutes, which is designed to foster a

P-TA Benefit At Moore Nets $113

MOORE, Oct. 28.—The action sale sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association and held in the auditorium Friday night was very successful. The affair netted the school $113 which will be used to take care of incidental expenses.

The junior girls basketball team played the Midway team Tuesday evening at Midway. Both teams got off to a slow start. Phillips of Moore tallied five points for the locals while Porch of Midway led her team to victory with four field goals. The final score was 10-8 for Midway.

The local war stamp sales at Moore school for last month total $23.50. During the month 198 25-cent stamps and 81 ten cent stamps were sold. The coming month our goal is set for $70.

WTCC Meeting Will Honor Legislators

ABILENE, Oct. 28.—As town meetings continue throughout the territory on the West Texas Chamber of Commerce referendum, plans are going forward for the organization's executive and referendum board meeting in Abilene, set for Tuesday, Nov. 10.

Announcement today said the day's deliberations by the 72-member group will be suspended at noon for a luncheon given by the executive board especially honoring members of and nominees to the 48th legislature. The speaker will be Sen. John Lee Smith of Throckmorton, who in January will take office as lieutenant governor of Texas. He will talk to his fellow West Texans on "Our War Time Legislative Responsibility." Invitations to guests are in the mails.

Smith has been a central figure in the West Texas chamber's legislative program for setting up tighter fiscal control and responsibility in the state government. His bill introduced in the 47th senate, and a companion bill by Rep. Joe Humphrey in the house, called for installation of modern budget procedure including preauditing of all state spending, centralized buying, the merit system in employment, and other reforms. The Humphrey bill passed the house with more than 100 votes, but the Smith bill did not reach the floor, although getting unanimous approval of the state affairs committee of the upper house.

A mandate to press the fiscal control campaign is contained in Plank 10 of the WTCC referendum platform being voted upon by affiliates. The plank is recommended by Jas. D. Hamlin, chairman of the Public Expenditures committee, and Rep. Humphrey, committee member.

More than 50 towns have taken action on the referendum, the regional chamber announces. Many directors and local chamber of commerce managers have wired in results of their group gatherings, advising that the referendum ballots are following by mail. Last weekend completion of action, with return of signed ballots, was received from 14 more towns. These were Olney, Clarendon, Bronie, Anson, Lamesa, Decatur, Pecos, Marfa, Hereford, Cisco, Hamlin, Haskell, Snyder and Sonora.

Man Facing Charge In Australia Is Held In Dallas

DALLAS, Oct. 28 (AP)—John Wolcott Forbes, wanted in Australia in connection with a $2,000,000 fraud charge, was held last night in the Dallas county jail after deportation from Mexico, Forrest V. Sorrels, supervising agent of the U. S. secret service, said.

Two other men, expelled from Mexico with Forbes, were also being held, Sorrels said.

One of them, he said, was Albert E. Dawson, jointly indicted with Forbes in New York in connection with the forgery of a United States treasury check.

Care For Your Car... For Your Country

THE well-dressed woman will be wearing overalls—willingly—if that's what it takes to care for her country's cars. And on her civilian duties she doesn't go faster than 35—same as all other patriots. 35 gets you there without undue wear. But there's still another main battlefield against wear... at exactly 00 miles per hour!

When your car's stock-still, with the engine starting cold, what's faster—your Winter oil or rampant Friction? You can have hopes—or you can have your engine OIL-PLATED by the quick simple change to Conoco Nth motor oil. Enriched by an added synthetic, this patented Conoco Nth oil seems to "magnetize" OIL-PLATING to inner engine surfaces as closely and smoothly as durable chrome-plating on bumpers.

Where does any good plating go during all-day parking or overnight? It doesn't go. It stays. And neither does OIL-PLATING all go draining down to the crankcase at every chance. Long hours after you stop—long minutes before any oil from below could climb all the way up—the OIL-PLATING that's stayed up can be easing cold starts. This faithful OIL-PLATING is still there at 35-an-hour, of course, assisting the high-duty liquid film of Conoco Nth oil to keep wear just that much farther away.

Not much chance now of changing to a new car. Smart strategy is changing to an OIL-PLATED engine. Get Conoco Nth oil for Winter at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company
