COTTON:-The average price of spot cotton at the ten designated markets advanced about four points during the week, closing around $13.18c per pound. New York March futures up 11 points

GRAIN:--Prices advanced steadily during the week except on the lith when prices were evened up for double holiday. The gains were as much as 7c in a single day, with a net advance of about 16c for the week. Factors contributing to advances were the decrease of nearly 3,006,000 bushels in the weeks visible wheat supply, green bugs in Texas, reports of bugs in Illinois, small country offerings, and strength in corn markets. Holland reported to have taken two cargoes Argentina wheat about 20c under American level Although the weeks visible corn supply increased 4,000,000 bushels the market was strong upon removal of around 750,000 bushels sold to SeaBoard. Sea-Board reports additional 750,000 bushels sold over holidays for export and indications of more business to come. TAXING POWER BILL IS FINALLY PASSED

Austin, Texas.-Final passage has been given Fly's house bill No. 42, and it is destined to become a law. It is the enabling act for towns, carrying into effect the provisions of the amendment to section 4, article 11 and section 5, article 11, of the state constitution, giving towns and cities increased taxing powers. The bill, which will apply to every incorporated town in the state.. is as follows.

"Section 1-The city council or governing body of any city or town in this state having a population of 5,000 or less shall have power by ordinance to levy, assess and collect an annual ad valorem tax sufficient to meet the interest and sinking fund on all indebtedness legally incurred prior to the adoption of the constitutional amendment of Sept. 25, 1883, regarding the expenses and for the purpose of conployes who engage as locometive en- struction or the purchase of public gineers, train conductors and flag- buildings, waterworks, sewers and othlimit or such city or town and for the posed in a trio of bills which have construction and improvement of the roads, bridges and streets or such city or town within its limits.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applica-tions are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample battle. When writing be sure and mention this paper .- Adv.

He slept; he slept too deep for dreams, and was beyond the reach of the call of any motorhorn when Mr. Milyuns' town car tried to shoo him along at eightthirty of a bright morning.

Once more was Mr. Randolph dragged by main force to wakefulness. "Good-morning, Thomas," he remarked. "Is the old man up?"

"Hully gee! Mr. Randolph! What ave you been up to now?"

"None of yours, Thomas," said Robert Hervey, in a kindly but firm voice. "Get me a bit of paper and a pencil." The chauffeur discovered the required articles in Mr. Milyuns' car, handed them over, and curiously watched Mr. Randolph write his note to the effect that Miss Imogene Pamela Thornton would receive her legal representative at Mr. Randolph's rooms in Fifty-ninth street between nine and ten. It was added that the said rooms, upon which rent had been paid to the end of the quarter, and all they contained, including the man, Tomlinson, were at the perpetual disposition of the said Miss T.

"Now, Thomas," said Mr. Randolph, "you take this in to the old man himself and tell him a chauffeur with an empty cab brought it. If you say another word I'll have you up at the union for losing me my job, and I'll lick the stuffings out of you besides.

make trouble whenever you feel like it. It's a slow world except for the likes of you."

As soon as the man had entered the house, Mr. Randolph started his cab and made for a point of vantage in the park, from which, in due course, he beheld the arrival of the lawyer at Fifty-ninth street. He waited long enough to make sure that the legal gentleman had penetrated to Miss Thornton; then he threw up his flag and made for the garage.

He sought out the manager. "Say," he plunged, "Pat O'Rellly lost his job to me last night shooting craps. My clock read twenty-eight dollars this morning; here's my slip."

The manager glanced at the slip, and took a long look at Mr. Randolph, "You're on, kid," he decided. "Take cold early morning the strong any shift you like. What's your PART II.

Flesh, Spirit and the Veiled God. Mr. Randolph spent the day getting acquainted and proved himself a good mixer. By telling a few stories that had not yet sifted down from Clubland and by standing a few drinks he soon found himself made free of all the technical information he needed and some more that was so ultra-technical that it could beat the brains that invented the delicate mechanism of the taximeter. He also established part ownership in a comfortable room in a house very much on the wrong or of the North river.

While he was still in funds he bought himself a woolen khaki overcoat with one of those enormous collars which look like an inverted bucket when they are up and surpass in efficiency the traditional black mask so beloved by illustrators of the weekly press. He also had a speaking slot cut in the glass of the cab window just behind his best ear and subsequently removed and lost the slide that had been fitted over it with considerable skill and trouble.

During the next few nights he proceeded to have the time of his life; so much so that he was constantly overwhelmed with wonder at his stupidity in not having become a taxi-driver years before! It should be remembered that Mr. Randolph was of New York Yorky; he knew everybody casually, from Mr. Milyuns and his daughter, Eileen, down to the latest addition to the pitiful ranks of the midinette. More than that, so broad was his acquaintanceship that as a sporting gent he had once or twice been tipped off as to the where and No Real Necessity Why Any House when of a proposed gun-play.

In addition to being by right of birth an integral part of all the social strata of Manhattan, he knew the surface of the island and of the adjacent commoner soil of the mainland considerably better than he knew the palm sonal fortune; for he who is completely satisfied with the present never worries about the future and Mr. Randolph had been born content.

With such an equipment, is it to be wondered at that he found the taxi field rich with unexpected and surprising blooms? Fair flowers, he had known heretofore to nod only over tea tables and solid silver appeared suddenly transplanted to his cab and ready to nod on a stalwart shoulder. Strong male tiger-lilies of the money market, grafted to the cushions of a taxi, became complacent pillars upon which some clinging ivy twined.

In six nights he learned the sound that a banker makes when slender fingers tickle him under the chin; the gasp of a girl, first-kissed; the cry of a young man upon discovering the abhave been tragic, the exasperating tap, a real home. No, it is not too late tap, tap, of a hen-pecking tongue that explained and condoned a murder mystery in the next morning's papers, and the sob of a ruined youngster who had played with borrowed money.

All these incidents took place with people whom Mr. Randolph knew or knew of and just to show what an extremely honest young man he was, let it be said that it did not once occur to him that he need never be poor while humanity, supposedly in good standing, continued to lay itself open to blackmail at the rate of a case a night. At the same time, he was not stupid and occasionally tapped out a missive loaded with dynamite on the garage typewriter when no one was around. Here is a sample.

"Mr. Poindexter MacGuler, Sir: As I was driving you and Miss B. B. larst night who was foster-mothered by an aunt of a frend of a frend of matrimony I'll get another frend of a few seasons. mine to get Mr. Robert Herv Randolph to tell what he knows about you cheaten at cards on Dec. 23 last."

Nights that gave birth in the morning to such illiterary tft-bits could scarcely be called dull, but it was not long before Mr. Randolph found himself threatened by an unexpected molifesaver to the inebriate elite spread the telephone was constantly burdened during the wee hours with the following: "Say, is Slim Hervey on the job? Well, when he comes in tell 'Im I got another tailor-model drunk here what has lost his home address from his

LESSON FOR FEBRUARY 27

REWARDS OF FAITHFULNESS.

LESSON TEXT-Matt. 25:14-30. GOLDEN TEXT-Well done, good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee rular over many things .- Matt. 25:23.

REFERENCE MATERIAL - Matt. 3. 17-46; Luke 19:11-27; Rom. 12:1-8; I Pet. 4:13. PRIMARY TOPIC-Doing Our Best. JUNIOR TOPIC-Duties and Rewards. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC

-Faithful Use of Our Abilities. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC -The Use or Neglect of Our Resources.

This parable, like that of the ten virgins, is associated with the Second Coming of Christ. In both instances the unpreparedness for His coming on the part of the people is exhibited. In that of the ten virgins their unreadiness consisted in their failure of inward life-absence of the Holy Ghost. In this of the talents it consisted in their failure to properly use the gifts which had been intrusted to them. The first was failure to watch; the second, failure to work.

1. The Distribution of the Talents

(vv. 14, 15).

1. It was a sovereign act. He called His own servants and distributed to them his own money. The Lord did not consult us as to our gifts.

2. It was an intelligent act. "According to his several ability." The God who made us knows our ability to use gifts, therefore has made the distribution upon that basis. The reason some have greater gifts than others is due to the fact that they possess the ability to use them.

3. It was a purposeful act. The talents were given to be traded with. They were not given to be used for one's own gain and profit, but as stock in trade for the enrichment and glory of the Master.

II. The Employment of the Talents (vv. 16-18).

1. All the servants recognized that the talents were not their own-that they were responsible to the Lord for the use made of them. We are not responsible for the creation of gifts, but for the employment of such gifts as have been given to us.

2. Two servants used their talents. The five talented man put his to use and gained five more. The two talented man put his to use and gained two more. This shows that God's gifts can be increased. The exercise of any gift increases it. The faithful use of what we have in the place we are will prepare us for greater usefulness and honor.

3. The one hid his talent. The fact that one possesses but one talent should not discourage him, but should make him strive harder. God sees not reward according to what we possess, but according to our faithfulness. The crime of the one talented man was not that he had but one talent, but that he hid the talent which the Lord gave

III. The Accounting for the Talents (vv. 19-30).

1. Its certainty. There is a day coming when all must give an account of our stewardship.

2. The time. This will be at the coming of the Lord. If we have done well we shall then have praise. If we have been unfaithful we shall then be cast out from the presence of the Lord. Watchfulness is not idleness.

3. The judgments announced. (1) Reward of the faithful. (a) Praise-"Well done." We all like to be praised. How blessed will it be to hear from the very lips of the Lord the word "well done!" (b) Promotion-"Be thou ruler over many things." Promotion is desirable to all. Much of that to which we look forward in life is the passing from lower to higher privileges and positions. (c) Entrance upon the joy of the Lord. The fivetalented man and the two-talented man received the same praise and same promotion. (2) Punishment of the faithless. The one-talented man lied when brought to account. The talent when dug up was not the same as when it was buried-it was not of the same weight. Gifts unused are lost. The natural eyes lose their power if we live continually in darkness. This is true spiritually. The one who ceases to grow in knowledge and grace loses the capacity to grow. (a) Reproachhe was called slothful and wicked. To be called lazy is a reproach which even the lazy man dislikes. (b) Stripped. The talent which was given to him was taken from him. (c) Cast out. He was condemned on his own ground. The very fact that he knew the character of the Lord should have been an incentive for him to have exerted himself. His condition was his own fault. In the day of accounts there will be no excuse to be made.

Choosing the Way to Travel. Man cannot consecrate himself entirely to God, and at the same time give his best efforts and his best time and thought to the world. The world, apart from God, takes an altogether different direction from that which God maps out. The world, apart from God, is prone to degradation by way of license and self-indulgence. On the other hand, the soul, under the guidance of God's Holy Spirit, travels along the way of sacrifice, obedience and self-restraint. The supreme question, therefore, for each one of us is: Which way am I choosing to travel?-Rau Henry Loundes Drew.

"Thanks to Ware's Baby Powder, My Baby Boy is Fine and Sturdy"

This famous Medicine brought Quick and Lasting Relief in bad case of Bowel Trouble

On May 25th, 1920, Mrs. E. Howard of Marquez, Texas, writes: "My little boy was a year old when his bowels got bad. We tried everything we had ever heard of, with no result, until a friend recommended Ware's Baby Powder. We gave it to him according to directions, and he began to change in every way until he got entirely well. Thanks to the powder, he is a fine, sturdy boy of three years. I am now giv-ing it to my 7-month-old baby girl with the same good results."

Ware's Baby Powder is just as successful in cases of teething, summer complaint and stomach trouble. Given to babies in liquid form, mixed with sugar and water, they love to take it. Perfectly harmless. At all druggists. 60c and $1.20 the package. THE WARE CHEMICAL CO., Dallas

After His Money's Worth. "This marine painting is the master plece of Daubson, one of our most celebrated artists," said the dealer. "It is a bargain at $50,000."

"What!" exclaimed the war millionaire. "You want $50,000 for a picture of a strip of water and a few clouds! Not for me! When I buy a sea pleture it's got to have a cliff in it and a lighthouse and breakers and a ship or two. In other words, I want the whole works."-Birmingham Age-Herald.

TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

First Step in Treatment Is a Brisk Purgative With Calotabs, the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets that are Nausealess, Safe and Sure.

Doctors have found by experience that no medicine for colds and infinenza can be depended upon for full ef. fectiveness until the liver is made thoroughly active. That is why the arst step in the treatment is the new, nausealess colomel tablets called Calotabs. which are free from the sickening and weakening effects of the old style calemel. Doctors also point out the fact that an active liver may go a long way towards preventing influenza and is one of the most important factors in enabling the patient to successfully withstand an attack and ward off pneumonia.

One Calotab on the tongue at bed time with a swallow of water-that's all. No salts, no nauses nor the slightest interference with your eating, pleasure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Druggists sell Calotabs only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your money will be cheerfully refunded if you do not find them delightful.—(Adv.) delightful.-(Adv.)

SENATE PASSES A BILL LANDIS IS IMPEACHED REGULATING ENGINEERS

MEASURE PROVIDING BOARD TO WELTY CHARGES HIGH CRIME EXAMINE APPLICANTS IS APPROVED.

Austin, Texas.-The senate finally passed the bill regulating the practice of architecture and professional engineering in Txas. The all carries the emergency clause and provides that within 30 days after it becomes effective a state board be appointed for the examination of architects and engineers applying for licenses required | ing on the bench.

three architets and three engineers to be appointed by the governor, and will be seif-supporting. There would be a secretary at a maximum salary of $3,-000 a year. Certificates to practice are to be isseud by the board after satisfactory examination is passed by the applicants. Persons who have practiced the profession prior to the going into effect of the act would be entitled to have such certificates without examination. Certificates also would be issued without examination to engineering graduates of the University of Texas or the Texas A. & M. College.

Texas senators have refused to adopt a joint resolution calling for an increase in their own salaries. They also failed to engross two bills but adopted unanimously the Bledsce "Americanized ballot" resolution and passed finally five other bills.

The joint resolution by Bledsoe would submit a constitutional amendment providing that only persons born or naturalized in the United States be allowed to vote in elections. An amendment by Senator Woods changed the time of submission to the fourth Saturday in July, 1922. This was done. BLUE RIDGE BANKER KILLED IN ROBBERY

Houston. Texas .- The Blue Ridge State Bank at Blue Ridge oil field, about 16 miles west of here, was robbed of about $6,000, all deposits except about $10, and Assistant Cashier Robert Lee Kirby killed by a lone bandit at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. Nothing definite is known of the bandit's identity or his whereabouts.

After entering the bank by a side window the robber attacked the assistant cashier, the only person in the bank at the time, beat his head into a pulp with the handle of the safe, seized the money, made his escape through a rear window and is reported to have ran across a stretch of open ground toward a number of shacks and tents. H. W. Boring Says He Is In Better General Health Than He Has Been in Years Since Taking Tan-

"Since Tanlac has overcome my troubles I have gained twenty pounds in weight and am in better general health than for years past," was the straight-forward statement made a few days ago by H. W. Boring, a prominent and well-to-do farmer living at Overland Park, Kans.

"During the two years I suffered I tried everything I knew of to get relief, but nothing seemed to reach my case until I tried Tanlac. My appetite was poo and my digestion was so bad I could hardly retain my food. Nothing agreed with me; in fact I was almost a confirmed dyspeptic. My whole system seemed to be out of shape.
