Local Bond Election Is Set February 8

*** Sewer And Airport Improvements Proposed ***

Local voters will be asked to approve two propositions in a bond issue election on Saturday, February 8. The propositions to be voted upon are No. 1, the issuance of $50,000 General Obligation Sanitary Sewer System Bonds and No. 2, the issuance of $15,000 General Obligation Municipal Airport Bonds.

Existing facilities at the city sewer plant are overloaded, and improvements and extensions are necessary to bring the plant up to standards, recommended by the State Health Department.

Engineer, A. C. Bowden, Lubbock, having already made a study of our plant in 1961, drew the plans and specifications which have been approved by the Texas Water Quality Board.

The plant, built in the early 1900's, was designed for approximately 1,300 persons, and is now trying to meet the demands of above 3,000 persons. Plant improvements have been needed for the past ten years.

Total estimated cost of this project is approximately $74,000 and the city has made application to the Federal Water Pollution Control Board for a grant of 30% of the total cost. This will amount to around $22,000. The board has been assured of that grant leaving the cost to the city of approximately $50,000.

The $15,000 issue asked for airport improvement is approximately $10,000 short of the needed $25,000 to match a state grant that is available.

Present runways include a lighted 30'x2,599', running east and west, and a north-south unpaved runway, extending 60'x1,825'. The proposed improvement will require purchase of a land tract of 450'x1,955'. This will accommodate a 50'x3,200' runway, which is the minimum required for executive type aircraft and car parking facilities.

The $25,000 state grant is not from public taxes, but is unclaimed gasoline tax paid by state and interstate pilots. The $10,000 difference between the bond issue and grant will be made up from city furnished labor and materials.

Any airport, according to information from the Texas Industrial Commission and various Chamber of Commerce, should be able to meet the needs of executive aircraft, before trying to compete for any type of industry. The present facilities are valued at approximately $12,000 to $14,000.

The city council deemed it necessary for local citizens to voice their approval of such airport improvements.

This bond issue, if passed, will not increase taxes in the city. The issue can be included in our present tax bonds, which will necessitate putting more of our tax dollar in the Interest and Sinking Fund, which would cut our income in the General Fund. However, the One Percent Sales Tax will more than offset the General Fund loss.

Persons qualified to vote in the bond issue election, must be owners of taxable real estate within the Tahoka city limits.

PAVING project is underway on West Lockwood. Plans call for a width plus curbing and gutter. Construction is City-State improvement project. News Photo

Tahoka Not To Be Outdone

Tahoka has its unusual items of interest and is not to be out done by our neighbor to the north, Lubbock.

Some time back, the Avalanche-Journal published an article about the discovery of mistletoe growing within the city. The unusual interest is that mistletoe, a parasite, is not usually found growing on the Caprock and South Plains.

Tech professors were mildly surprised of the discovery and now they can raise their eyebrows once again as Tahoka has its own tree, with several bunches of mistletoe. The tree, a Hackberry, is one of Tahoka's early trees, with several years growth. The mistletoe has been growing on the branches during the past four years.

Yes, Tahoka can be proud of its mistletoe.

Wildlife personnel of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department checked 354 hunters in five counties during the first two days of the pheasant season in the Panhandle and examined their harvest of 245 birds.

In Dallam, Deaf Smith, Hartley, Moore and Sherman Counties, Project Leader Richard DeArment said these hunters, the only ones checked out of the many participating, spent 1,606 man-hours seeking pheasant and fired 1,350 shells. Each hunter averaged almost five hours of hunting.

To determine on a small scale the economic impact of hunting on certain towns, personnel of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department examined hunter expenditures in motels for one night during the recent pheasant season in Hereford, a city of approximately 10,000 persons.

The game management officer assigned to the area said the spot check involved just the one item, room rent, and did not include meals, gasoline, sporting goods, and related expenses.

Some 164 hunters spent $1,349.00 in eight motels. One motor inn said that business was up at least 35 percent.

Karen Hobbs 1st in Contest

A Wilson High School sophomore student placed first in tenor sax in the regional contest held in Canyon January 4th. Karen Hobbs was the only Class B student to win regional among nine contestants. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Hobbs.

January 18, Karen is eligible for the area contest to be held in Lubbock. If she wins in the contest she will be included in the All State Band. Letters to School Dis. Patrons

Wilson residents received letters last week urging them to write their Governor-elect, Preston Smith, Capitol Station, Austin and legislators in Austin opposing consolidation recommendation of the Governor's committee on education, which would do away with small schools and proposing consolidation in this district, which would include New Home, O'Donnell, Tahoka and Wilson schools by June 1, 1971.

Four definite advantages of a small school (with less than 2,600) were listed in the letter over the large schools. They were: 1. Keeps the human element in teaching with a closer teacher pupil relationship; 2. Provides for closer supervision and offers opportunity for better character training; 3. Offers many more students opportunities to exercise leadership and to participate in extra-curricular activities; 4. Local small schools allow for a shorter bus-riding time for students.

In this reporters opinion, the smaller schools are the very heartbeats of the small communities and should they deteriorate, then the small communities would eventually no longer exist. Interested patrons of the smaller school district should write to oppose the consolidation recommendation of the Governor's Committee on Education, as soon as possible.

Topographic Map Project Underway

Topographic engineers of the United States Geological Survey are located at 516 West Broadway and are engaged in surveying operations for the preparation of accurate topographic maps in the Sundown - Seagraves - Brownfield-Tahoka-Lamesa area.

This work is part of a continuing cooperative mapping program with the Texas Water Commission. The object of the program is to complete and maintain a series of standard topographic maps covering areas of important water development problems in Texas.

The project in this area covers 1560 square miles on 25 seven and one-half minute quadrangles. The maps will be published at 1:24,000 scale which is about two and one-half inches to the mile. The contour interval will be five feet.

Topographic maps serve as a basis for the study and solution of many problems relating to activities that are affected by the character and relief of the earth's surface. They show roads, buildings, water wells, oil wells, political boundaries and all other works of man. In addition these maps portray the shape and slope of the land surface and give its elevation above sea level. Lakes, ponds, the course of streams and all other water features are also shown.

Linda Huffaker, CHD Agent, Says....

Cold water washing boasts several advantages: it boosts washing and ironing ease and is safe. Researchers have cold water washing followed by tumble drying at the standard 160 degrees F will produce little or no bacterial contamination, reports Linda. The washing method produces less wrinkling, especially of washable polyester or nylon knits and permanent press items that wrinkle, if washed in hot water and spun dry. Linda adds that cold water washing prevents certain stains from setting. Stains such as milk, egg, blood, and other protein types can become permanent if washed in hot water. But, she adds, grease and oil stains are better removed in hot water. Using cold water lessens the danger of shrinkage, especially in knitted fabrics, chino pants, and some un-Sanforized items. Cold water washing also saves hot water for other uses, points out Linda, and the washing compounds may be used in hot water. In fact, Linda says they are good in case of heavily soiled items in hot water washing. We are starting a new item in this column which we will call "Recipe of the Week." If you have a good recipe you would like to share, send it to me at Box 97, Tahoka.

County Agents Prepare Annual Reports

Report By
Linda Huffaker

Lynn County Home Economics activities are based on a program set up by the Program Building Committee consisting of key citizens from all part of Lynn County. The committee studied the situation in Lynn County and found that the 1960 census shows the county median income to be $4,043, with 35.4% of the families having an income of under $3,000. This is $849.00 below the state median income. 25% of the population is under 9 years of age and completely dependent. Supplying family needs on a limited income is a major problem.

Low Income Group
The Low Income families were instructed in a clothing construction class. The classes were given demonstrations on use and care of the sewing machine as well as instruction on selection of patterns, material and notions for children's clothing. The women made a simple garment during this workshop.

The Latin Americans of Lynn County were given a driver's education course so they could obtain a driver's permit. Twenty-five students completed this course and were allowed to take their driving test.

English classes were started for Latins, Negros, and whites who could not read or write the English language. The Laubach method was employed as the teaching system. This project is still in operation and it is hoped it will be continuous, each one teach one system. At present, the results are very favorable with most of the students showing great success in reading and speaking.

HD Club Women and Council
The Home Demonstration clubs chose projects to improve the county. They also planned programs for the year. These programs were chosen for the purpose of contributing to more satisfactory family relations in the home.

The Home Demonstration Council, governing body of the clubs, gave a Thanksgiving Luncheon for the County officials and raised money for the Lynn County soldiers in Vietnam.

Mrs. Wanda Foster was elected Texas Home Demonstration Chairman for 1969. She and Mrs. J. H. Lambright attended the State Convention in McAllen. Mrs. Lambright also attended the National meeting in Puerto Rico.

Farm and Home Management
Mrs. Mildred Medlock, Texas Tech Instructor in Home Management presented a series of lectures entitled "Family Money". The workshop was jointly sponsored by the Extension Service and the Tahoka Young Farmers Association.

Mrs. Medlock gave information on Estate Planning, Wills, Savings and Investments, Insurance, Credit and Records. She placed emphasis on planning for family security and keeping records up to date and accurate.

Physical Fitness
A physical fitness class was started for the women of Lynn County. The ladies exercised to records, engaged in walking routines, and discussed foods for fitness.

Pound and inch losses were reported by several women. All the ladies agreed that they felt better after exercising and toning their muscles.

4-H Members and Leaders
A workshop was held on Self-Improvement. Girls were instructed in poise, posture, manners and personality. They were taught care and use of the sewing machine and were enrolled in clothing projects. Clothing construction was done in the home with the help of qualified leaders.

Latin American High School girls were given instruction on 4H Food and Fun. The girls received information on sanitation, safe food storage, and low cost recipes.

Both boys and girls in Lynn County are enrolled in 4H Food groups. These groups are led by adult leaders who have received leader training. The purpose of these groups is to gain knowledge and skills in food practices.

The annual County Bake Show was held so that the 4Hers might show their new found skills. They were awarded ribbons and plaques according to the quality of their products.

These 4H programs are carried on with the intention of promoting physical, social, and spiritual growth of the individual.

herd improvement and sanitation to reduce disease and parasites.

Good moisture conditions produced an abundance of forage crops and hay. Silos were filled and many thousands of bales of hay were stored. Silage will be used to protect herds during drought periods. Several thousand acres of diverted land planted to forage crops were available for grazing on October 1, 1968. Producers were assisted in the screwworm program by a circular letter to alert them of the increased population of screwworms in Texas. Vials were located at feed stores and other places selling screwworm treating preparations. Due to the added checks of producers, one case of worms were identified as screwworms in the Wilson area. Producers were assisted with disease parasite control, sanitation and selection of animals, with a livestock shortcourse. Livestock producers were assisted in selection of new herd sires. To assist producers an association of Angus Breeders in Southern areas of the Plains. A Field Day was held to acquaint local Angus Breeders with area breeders and discussed breeding programs and classifying programs conducted by the American Angus Association.

4H Club members fed and exhibited 31 steers during 1968. An Annual Beef Calf Tour and a Beef Calf Preview was held to assist the 4H feeders. 4H Club members fed and exhibited 160 barrows, several champions were exhibited. Kevin James, an O'Donnell 4H Club member, exhibited the Grand Champion barrow at the 1968 State Fair of Texas.

4H Club members fed and exhibited 22 lambs.

The livestock mentioned in the feeding program were exhibited in community, county, and major Livestock Shows.

Farm and Home Management
Priority on record keeping of farm and home expenses and income.

A Farm and Home Management shortcourse of four meetings was held to assist producers with records and business analysis. Subjects taught were Capital Management, Labor Management, Enterprise Combination for Maximum Profit, and Management of the Family Income, including information on estates, wills, insurance, safety deposit boxes and credit use.

Six farmers participated in

The only change from 1959 to 1965 was a slight change in Micronaire. The 1968 crop was longer staple and higher P.S.I. x 1000 and higher micronaire. Quality in 1968 was suitable for mill use.

Bill Griffin

Agricultural work in Lynn County was based on a program planned by the County Program Building Committee. Program areas included Cotton, Livestock Management, Soil and Water Conservation and Farm and Home Management.

Cotton is the major income commodity in the county. An intensive program was conducted in the county. The program included meetings on cotton production, weed control and harvest aid chemicals. Demonstration handbooks were used for reference on variety recommendations and production practices. Fifteen demonstrations on cotton production practices were conducted in 1968.

The program was formally evaluated by a questionnaire mailed to 800 cotton producers. The formal evaluation showed that 41.3% of cotton producers were cooperating with the cotton program. This 41.3% of the farmers planted 59.7% of improved varieties of cotton. Quality improvement was very good. This quality was compared with 1969 and 1965. 1959 was used to compare over a 10 year period and 1965 was used because 1965 production was similar to 1968.

defeated in a contest for sheriff, a candidate challenged the validity of the election. In a court hearing he demanded that certain voters be ordered to tell for whom they voted.

But the court decided it had no right to make such an order. "Our whole ballot system," said the court, "is based upon the idea that unless secrecy is preserved, there can be no safety against those personal or political influences which destroy individual freedom of choice."

Secrecy of the ballot has long been recognized as a cornerstone of democracy. One of the earliest court decisions in the nation's history, a South Carolina case in 1795, denounced prying into votes as "a kind of inquisitorial power unknown to the principles of our government."

There is an exception. Generally speaking, it is permissible for a court to inquire into a person's vote if that vote is shown to have been cast illegally.

But otherwise, secrecy is the rule. This applies not only in court hearings but in voting procedures as well.

In one election, the voting booths were merely open, uncurtained cubicles. Voters could easily be observed either by other voters or by election officials. When tested in court, this system was held inadequate to insure privacy and the votes were thrown out.

Not only booths but also ballots and ballot boxes are regulated with the same objective of secrecy. Thus, a referendum on a local liquor law was held null and void because voters had to deposit their ballots into either one of two boxes—plainly marked "FOR" and "AGAINST."

What about the use of voting machines? Again, secrecy must prevail. One early machine worked fine if the voter wanted to vote a straight party ticket. But if not, the Tel-Fac Program of record keeping and attended a meeting to plan the years program with complete management information on crop production.

The Wilson State Bank, Wilson, Texas, purchased 100 farm family account books to provide a record keeping guide to customers.

Statistics prove about 100 million Americans suffer some sort of respiratory ailment between September and April of each year. Not only will cure flu or the common cold, but also contagious diseases are caused by viruses passed from person to person. In an effort to reduce ailments Americans should take the following steps:

- Avoid people with colds.

- Don't sneeze or cough into your hands.
- Eat well-balanced meals.
- Drink ample liquids to keep your system lubricated.

- Blow your nose lightly.
- Sentries. Forcing sprays are not effective.
- Soap is an effective germicide. Keep your home clean.
- Don't rely solely on remedies. Indiscriminate use of drugs can hide early warning signals of serious illness. Aspirin and nose drops relieve. Call your doctor for, chills or headache lasts more than 24 hours.
- Finally, be thoughtful of others by keeping your nose to yourself and your will to your own health... though illness is contagious, too!
