SEASONABLE POULTRY WORK

By Miss Myrtle Murray, Poultry Specialist, Extension Service, A. and M. College of Texas.

Regardless of how highly a flock of standard-bred birds have been bred for egg production there will be at least a few culls that should be eliminated each year. In the flocks where little or no culling has been done about a third of the flock can usually be culled without decrease of egg production.

However, the general care and feed of the flock should be taken into consideration. A hen is simply a factory that manufactures raw material into eggs. We would not expect to send corn to a cotton gin have it made into bales and eventually into cloth. Yet, occasionally we hear the remark "I feed my hens all the corn they want. I do not understand why they do not lay." A hen must have material to make these parts of an egg—shell, yolk and white. She may have the material to make two parts, but if she does not have the material to make the third part of the egg she still cannot produce the egg. Therefore it is very necessary that a hen have a balanced ration. I. e., a ration that will give her the necessary nourishment for the up keep of her body. At the same time the right kind of material from which eggs may be manufactured. The following is a suggested formula: 1. Scratch Feed; 100 pounds corn, 100 pounds wheat. 2. Dry Mash; 20 pounds ground oats, 20 pounds wheat bran, 20 pounds shorts or middlings, 20 pounds corn meal, 20 pounds dried beef scraps, 1 pound salt, (10 pounds dried beef scraps and 10 pounds of cotton seed meal may be used instead of 20 pounds beef scraps.)

3. Keep dry mash before flock in a self feeder hopper all the time. Also furnish an abundant supply of oyster shell, charcoal, grit, fresh green feed and water all the time.

In case the above mentioned grains are not raised in your county, ask your county farm or home demonstration agent to help you work out a formula for dry mash in order to use as much of home grown products, therefore materially reducing the cost of feed.

Since green feed is as necessary in the winter as it is in the summer, A. and M. College is putting out blue print plans for grain sprouters. The blue print plans for the grain sprouter self feeder, hoppers, colony houses and 3 sizes of laying houses may be secured from this office through your county farm or home demonstration agent.

Taking it for granted that you are either feeding your hens a balanced ration or that you intend to begin immediately, we will briefly mention the main factor to be considered in culling. The fundamental factor to be considered is strength, health and vigor. Birds possessing these qualities usually have medium length backs that are not only broad through the shoulders but broad to the end; full breasts; full body and fluff; set well apart on the legs; clear, bright prominent eyes; broad head with medium length neck and short stubby beak. The above are general characteristics. The following characteristics in addition to the above that should be rated in culling this season of the year. They are named in the order of their importance. The shanks and beak should be pale in color; moulting late; pelvic or lay bones thin and pliable; skin over the abdomen thin, soft and pliable; comb large, warm moist and waxy. Broad width of the pelvic arch indicates how heavily the fowl is laying at present. The above applies to hens and not to pullets.

Right now is the time to weed out the loafer that does not produce enough to pay for the pound of salt that seasons the 100 pounds of dry mash that the entire flock is eating. Not only shall we be reducing the feed bill (and not reducing the number of eggs) but we shall be saving our best for the next year's breeding pens. Giving these birds the best care and attention means money from high priced eggs at Thanksgiving and Christmas.

To dispense with the services of a helper, a hand truck, described in Popular Mechanics Magazine, has been so designed that it enables one man to handle large packages. Swiveled above the truck and its two small wheels is a platform so arranged that one end of it can be raised or lowered by double levers and links. On the platform is a sliding frame with its end turned at right angles so that, when lowered, it can be pushed under a package, and when that end is raised and the other end is lowered onto the truck, it is ready for moving.

THE TEXAS SCHOOL SURVEY

By Phebe K. Warner

There are four great pillars upon which every state and every nation is builded. These four pillars are the home, the school, the church and the government. Every state and every nation is just as strong and just as well balanced as these four pillars are strong and equally able to uphold their share of the state's total weight and burdens. Let either pillar crumble or decay and we have a distorted state or nation. Neglect the care of either of these great human props and we will immediately have a lopsided state. Let either deteriorate and you harm the value and efficiency of all the others. To have a perfect state we must make these four foundation pillars perfect.

Go anywhere you will. Study any state or nation you please and the student of human affairs will soon discover which of these great props is the weak one. Throughout our nation experts in all these lines are constantly on guard looking for the weak places in these four props. And it is almost the universal conviction that the weakest of these four pillars in our nation is the SCHOOL. That it is the school that is not bearing its whole part of the national burden. That the school is not meeting its share of the responsibility of human affairs and that the weak places in our school system is the cause of much of the danger that seem to be lurking within the other three national pillars, the home, the church and the government.

It is the most natural thing in the whole plan. And why every state has not decided long ago to make an intense investigation of the schools no one but the God of Indifference knows. Why, even a first-class ranchman pays someone every day to ride the fences to see if they are all in good condition and able to perform their particular function on the ranch. What would be the result if the ranchman neglected to look after the efficiency of his fences for a few years? And the railroads pay somebody to walk every mile of their track every day, to see that every rail is in its place and ready to bear its share of the burden of the swift passing trainloads of human freight. How many of us would risk ourselves on a train if we knew that no one was watching out for the weak places in the track? And what happens when a weak place is overlooked and neglected on a railroad track?

As we understand it, this is what the School Survey of Texas means. A general overhauling and investigation and examination of our entire school system from the kindergarten to the graduation exercises of the State University and our kindred state educational institutions. It has been already decided that the weakest of these state pillars in Texas is the school. It is the school in Texas that is not holding up its part of the state's weight and responsibility. It is the school that is not performing its highest mission in Texas and for Texas. But until this year the most of us have just fussed about the school instead of trying to find out what ails the school and then working together to relieve the trouble and build up our schools to as high degree of efficiency as the other props in our state. And the condition of our schools is undermining the strength and the efficiency of our homes and our churches and our government. If we will all get busy this year and make an individual study of our own school and then all be ready to work out the plan for a better school system when the survey makes it report, Texas will strengthen the whole foundation of the state when she strengthens her school system.

Texas is not alone in her weakness. The whole nation is suffering from this same weak prop. But several of the states have already recognized their weak prop and have had their school survey and are now busy putting it into operation. Two of these states are Virginia and Indiana. Perhaps a few items from the Indiana survey would help us all to better understand what we may expect by our school survey. Here they are:

The first thing Indiana did after their school survey was to place HEALTH at the head of the list of objectives in their schools. The second item in their new system is CITIZENSHIP. And after that came the readjustment of the courses of study to fit the needs of the children and the lives they must live. And the rearranging of the schools to give every child in the state an equal opportunity to receive a useful education. Taking up their high school course of study for the entire state, Indiana will require English through the high school course and PHYSICAL EDUCATION. Evidently Indiana intends that every child in that state shall learn to read and write and speak the English language. And second their next goal is to not rob a child of a healthy body in order to develop his mind. A trained mind in a healthy body is one of the essentials of better citizenship is the opinion of the State of Indiana. Is the thought worth anything to the parents and the teachers and the children of Texas.

The purpose of the school survey in Texas for which the last legislature appropriated $50,000 is not merely to spy around and find out the weak places in our school system. The prime purpose of this survey to be made some time within the coming year is to correct our educational mistakes. But before we can correct them we must all know what they are, else we will not agree on the methods and that will delay results. For this very reason the men and women who have been appointed as our educational commission to select the men we are to make the survey are anxious for every tax payer who supports the school and every patron who uses the school to make a study of our schools this year. Let's all think school, talk school, study school this year as we have never before done. That is the greatest need of our schools today. More folks to do more thinking about them and for them in a constructive way. Let's be ready to receive the final judgement of the best school experts in our nation and do for our schools what they prescribe. What is the use to call in a lot of school specialists to diagnose our school troubles and then not be willing to take the medicine they prescribe? Make this a personal question with your own self. What do YOU want changed in our school system and are YOU willing to bear your part of the sacrifice to make the change possible? If you were on that committee to survey the schools of Texas what would YOU suggest. Here is a chance for YOU to measure your ideas on education with the greatest educators in our land for none other will be asked to do this work. Make a list of the things YOU would like to see done for Texas schools and file it away to compare with the report of the committee. It will do you good to discover how much of a school expert you are yourself.

Grand Canal of China.
The Grand canal of China is by far the longest canal in the world. It reaches from Hangchow to Tientsin, the port of Peking, and covers a distance of nearly 1,000 miles. It crosses two of the world's largest rivers, the Hwang and the Yangtze.

For about 180 miles north of the Yangtze the canal is still navigable, but from that point to Tientsin it is choked with mud and is generally derelict. A plan is now on foot to reconstruct the northern sections. For the time being only about seven million dollars can be devoted to work that will put in order a section 100 miles in length. The reconstruction is in the hands of American engineers.—Exchange.

Convenient Potato Masher.

A potato masher, devised by Dr. Richard D. Roderick of Hazleton, Pa., is of novel shape, consisting of a segment of a cylinder. Across the bottom of the masher is attached the usual mashing screen. The handle is positioned directly above this screen. As the potato masher conforms to the contour of the inner portion of the container in which the potatoes have been cooked, its shape facilitates the mashing of the potatoes within the container.

If We Didn't Have Machines.

If we removed from the earth all the power-driven machines now operating, it would be impossible to crowd onto our globe sufficient people to produce the commodities now made. If we were to revert to the old method of making wire nails by hand, this job alone would require the daily effort of more workers than are now engaged in producing all our coal.—Floyd W. Parsons in the Saturday Evening Post.

A FRANK STATEMENT

"You can run your business without advertising just as you can run your car without gasoline—if it is going down hill."

Come, get ready for the Fair. Now is the time to make preparations—it's worth your efforts. Friday and Saturday Sept. 28th and 29th are the dates and we expect you to help make Lynn County Fair a success.

The News editor and wife acknowledge receipt of complimentary season tickets both to the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo, Sept. 25-29, and the South Plains Fair at Lubbock, Oct. 3, 4, 5, and 6. We hope it will be possible to be in attendance during both of these events.

How dear to our hearts is the face of a dollar, when some kind subscriber presents it to view; the stars and the eagle—E. Pluribus Unum—and blessed assurance of something to chew. The bright silver dollar, the hard to get dollar, the free silver cart wheel we all love so well.—Ex.

Vol. 1, No. 1, of the O'Donnell Index with Prentiss A. Womble at the masthead as editor, arrived at our exchange desk Monday of this week. The index is a four-page, six-column sheet and contained an unusually large sprinkle of advertising. The News joins the other South Plains weeklies in wishing the index every success possible in the field which it has chosen and may it be the means of inducing many more citizens to come west and locate on the great South Plains of Texas.

The Lynn County News, published by R. B. Haynes, at Tahoka, celebrated its twentieth birthday last week. The News is one of the old papers in this new country and for several years was almost dead enough to bury. Then along came Haynes and stock in the Lynn County News began to go up. At the present time it is one of the best weeklies in this section of good newspapers and there is no manner of doubt that it will remain so as long as Mr. and Mrs. Haynes guide its destiny.—Southwest Plainsman. (Amarillo, Texas.)

Don't fall out with your neighbor if he does not agree with you in your opinions and views regarding this and that organization. Remember, you and your neighbor will be living and enjoying peace, plenty and prosperity long after agitators for and against this and that ism have ceased their wailings.—Wise County Messenger.

OPEN SEASON

The Mail Order Houses are going to knock the smaller town merchants for home runs just as long as they can. That time will stop, however, when these same merchants stiffen their backbones long enough to fight back with weapons of 3 per cent newspaper advertising and thus stop the flow of dollars that are now going for catalog purchases with firms hundreds of miles distant. To set around with a "My-Gosh-Isn't-It-Awful" look on their faces, waiting for relief from this situation is not a manly practice, to say the least, and if these fellows had a spark of fight left in themselves they would be ashamed to be walked on in this manner. These mail order firms flood with their catalogs those communities whose business men are "piker" advertisers while, in contrast, converted 3 per cent newspaper publicity would have a tremendous influence in driving these monsters into the holes from which they came. The open season has arrived and you may now shoot on sight. May we help to load your gun?—Quanah Tribune-Chief.

The County Commissioners bought a handsome new Dodge car, which was turned over to Sheriff Tom Cooksey as his official car.—Dawson County Journal.

LYNN FAIR IS NEXT WEEK Next week is the Lynn County Fair and we will entertain hundreds of out of town visitors during the two days of the Lynn County Fair in session. It is up to us to make them welcome in the fullest sense of the word. Make them feel at home. If they want anything within reason, see that they get it. Tahoka already has a reputation for hospitality, let's enhance it during the fair. Treat every visitor as an honored guest. Make them feel that we are proud to have them with us. It will be worth untold value to county and community if every visitor to our fair goes home glad that he was present.

THE "NEVER SWEAT" CLUB

Judge Heare showed us a letter the other day that he had received from Gov. Neff in which the Governor expressed his regret that the Tech College had not been located at Amarillo so as to be as near the Miami "Never Sweat" Club as possible. He also accepted a membership in this splendid (?) organization and said that he felt that the pupils of the Tech College would miss much by not being near enough for the club to exert its influence over them.

Judge Heare also states that he is daily receiving applications for membership from leading citizens all over the country, and that he thinks he will organize a "National Never Sweat Club."—Miami Chief.

Judge Heare is the father of our efficient Santa Fe station agent and visited here a few weeks ago. We believe the son is following in his father's footsteps.

Most merchants are assistant on the local newspapers urging the people to trade at home—and keep the money in the community. But, "what is sauce for the goose should also be sauce for the gander," and some merchants fail to practice what they preach. Recently in a certain Plain town a merchant wanted several thousand circulars printed for a big sale, and asked the local newspaper to bid on the job, which amounted to nearly $100, and because his bid was $10 more than that of a large city printing office he sent the job to the city. The paper and ink necessary to do the job amounted to about $25, so the $75 out of the $100 would have gone for labor of printers and profit to the editor of the local paper, had the printing been done at home, and this money would have remained in local circulation and would doubtless have been more profit to the merchant who had the job done than the $10 he saved in sending the printing to the larger city. By sending the printing away he helped tear down his own town and to build up a large city. The local newspaper deserves every bit of job printing done in the community—not a dollar's worth should be sent to the city or given to an exclusive job shop.—Plainview News.

THE RAIN

Lubbock Avalanche: The general opinion seems to be that the rain Friday will be of very little benefit to the farmers of this section of the country. In fact it is the general opinion that the rain at this time will be detrimental to the crops as they are now. This we are not prepared to affirm or deny, but there is one thing that might be taken into consideration, and that is we have a pretty good season for planting wheat, and there is an opportunity for the people of this section to bring into play some more diversified farming. A few acres of wheat might not be amiss this year. The grain crops are cut rather short in some sections of the country, by reason of the continued dry weather, and the cotton is also short in some sections. Where this is the case we believe it would be a very good idea to plant some wheat. It will give winter pasture in all probability, that would make up for the short feed crops, and there is a good chance for a good yield of wheat next year.

Who knows that this fall and winter, and even next spring will be an ideal wheat season, and that there could be good money made from the growing of wheat this coming winter and spring. We believe that our farmers should give it a chance anyway.

WONDERFUL AGRICULTURAL AND LIVE STOCK EXHIBIT FOR CROSBY COUNTY FAIR

Crosby County will stage the greatest County Fair ever held on the South Plains. The dates have been set for September 26, 27 and 28.

The committees are all busy at work with their various departments. Stalls and pens will be arranged to take care of all the live stock. And there are being some cash prizes offered in all lines.

Hundreds of head of live stock are now being put in shape to exhibit at the fair.

The poultry and pet stock fans are going to have a real part in this great event.

The boys and girls clubs, under the supervision of Miss Pearl Carlisle, are going to put over something new staged there before.

A big better baby contest will be pulled off. There is some real cash being offered in prizes.

"Built Me Up"

"I USED Cardui for years and it did me more good than any medicine I ever used," writes Mrs. M. C. Ragsdale, of Fort Towson, Okla. "I used to suffer with womanly trouble that weakened me until I was a mere shadow, nervous, and could not sleep. I did not feel like I could live.

"It seemed that nothing helped me till I heard of Cardui and began to use it. It strengthened me, and I was able to do my work again. I feel like a new woman now."

NOTES ON EUROPEAN TRIP

By Frank E. Burkhalter.

I had intended writing another letter before I left Stockholm but Dr. Cloar of Texarkana, a member of the party with which I came to Europe, dropped dead in the street the afternoon after the Baptist World Alliance closed, and as all the other members of the party were due to leave the city before I was, the task of getting the body embalmed and ready for shipment and the numerous details involved in its shipment, fell to me. The task required the larger part of four days and was a very trying one.

Just now I do not recall whether I mentioned in any of my previous articles the long nights in Sweden. There are only about 2 1/2 hours of darkness in the summer time and one could read a paper by the twilight as late as 11 o'clock at night. Daylight came around 2 o'clock. In the winter it is just the reverse, the nights being long. Artificial lights are required in the streets until around 10 o'clock in the morning and after 2:30 in the afternoon.

My first touch of seasickness came on the Baltic Sea as I was going from Stockholm to Germany. The sea was very rough and the boat small, and though I vomited considerably I was not very sick. Fortunately, there was no one else on the boat whom I had ever seen before. If I thought the fish served on our tables ate what we cast into the ocean that day I would want no more fish forever. The sickness was of short duration and I was feeling as well as ever when we landed on German soil. A lot of children were down at the station begging as our train pulled out, for times are very difficult in Germany now. The dining car waiter said he had a wife and three children to support and that he was making only about $3.00 a week in American money. Bank clerks draw about $1.00 a week and laboring people less. Food is very scarce and very high, so far as German money goes, though I found my meals exceedingly cheap. I got breakfast, for instance, of grapes, bacon and eggs, rolls, butter and hot chocolate, for about 30 cents in American money. I rode 35 miles on the tram for a cent and a half American, and got a sleeper all night for 35 cents. The masses of the German people are living largely on brown bread and a little butter and cheese to go with it. The customs officers, police, railway people and everybody else I had any dealings with were very kind to me and outside of some difficulty in getting my sleeper out of Berlin, I had no difficulty at all. I could speak just enough German to show those I was talking with that I was making an honest effort and they were glad to come to my assistance.

Berlin is a very interesting and beautiful city. I could have spent a week there very profitably but had to be content with only three days. The most interesting things about the city were the royal castles formerly occupied by the Kaiser and his predecessors. Such finery I had never seen before. The Kaiser had 53 castles, 80 farms, 425 carriages (some of them covered in gold), 27 automobiles, and other things to correspond. The paintings, tapestries, furniture, porcelain, carpets, and the like were the very finest in the world. These palaces have now been converted into museums for the public and the people enjoy them, along with the fine gardens, parks and the like which surround the palaces.

Just what will become of Germany nobody knows. The farmers work hard, even until dark Saturday afternoon, and have fine crops, but selling them even at the present high prices when the German money is almost worthless is like giving one's produce away and naturally they do not feel like doing this. To give you some idea of how cheap the money is, I got over a million marks for a dollar. I paid $1,900,000 marks a day for my room and the city and state taxes were about double this amount, making my room with bath cost me a little over $3.00 a day. I got a bus ride all over the most interesting part of the city for 20 cents. A lot of goods were cheap, but I dared not buy them because they would in all probability have been taken away from me when I went to come out by the Customs officers. They took a new kodak away from a man on the same train I was on yesterday, because he had bought it in Germany. The hotels in Germany will not cash French or Belgium checks now nor accept them in payment of hotel bills, because of the punishment France and Belgium are inflicting on Germany in the Ruhr. All the German money was in paper and though I had 9,000,000 marks on me at one time I was not a millionaire by any means, as this amounted to only $9.00. I could have a pocket full of bills and still not possess more than $1.00.

In all the Scandinavian countries and in Germany I had to give my whole life history in registering, giving my name, age, birthplace, present address, profession, nationality, when entered that country, how long I intended to stay, and where I intended to go from there. In Berlin I had to get special permission from the police to stay longer than 48 hours. Everybody was very nice about it all. This is simply the law which the officers must enforce and which I wanted to obey.

Coming out of Germany late yesterday I passed into Switzerland, the most beautiful country I have ever laid eyes on. It appears to be a veritable garden spot, where the finest fruits, flowers and vegetables grow in profusion and where the people seem to be happy and prosperous. The mountains, lakes and streams are surpassingly beautiful and I can see the snow on the Alps from Lucerne, where I am spending the day. I'm leaving in a few minutes for Interlaken up among the mountains and lakes, where I'll do some mountain climbing, sailing on the lakes and other sightseeing. In the sun the weather is very hot but otherwise its delightful, and I expect to reach home around August 24, feeling much refreshed.

From Switzerland I go to Paris for five days and then I sail for New York from Cherbourg, August 15. I hope everything has gone pleasantly with you since my absence and that you'll pardon me for not writing oftener. I have been so on the go there has been very little opportunity. FRANK E. BURKHALTER.

LESSON FOR SEPTEMBER 23

TIMOTHY A GOOD MINISTER OF CHRIST JESUS

LESSON TEXT—Acts 16:1-3; Phil. 2:19-22; II Tim. 1:1-6; II Tim. 3:14-15. GOLDEN TEXT—"Be thou an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity"—I Tim. 4:12.

PRIMARY TOPIC—A Boy Who Loved the Bible. JUNIOR TOPIC—Timothy, Paul's Helper. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Timothy Trained to Serve. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Christian Ministry as a Life Work.

I. Timothy's Parentage (Acts 16:1). His father was a Greek and his mother a believing Jewess. On his mother's side at least, he had a godly ancestry. Usually the mother makes the son. Two generations of maternal pious grandmothers were back of Timothy. How thankful we ought to be to God for a godly ancestry. Christian heredity and training constitute the essential elements for a Christian life.

II. Timothy's Training (II Tim. 1:5; II Tim. 3:14-15). His wise and faithful mother and grandmother carefully nurtured him in God's Word. He knew the Scriptures from his childhood through their training. The faith which came to him from his grandmother through his mother did not come through the laws of heredity, but through careful training and teaching. Grace is not reasoned by the laws of heredity. The factors involved in his training were godly ancestors, a Christian home, and a diligent study of the Scriptures.

III. Timothy's Call (Acts 16:1-3). While on Paul's second missionary journey in company with Silas, Timothy was found at Lystra near Derbe. Perhaps he had been converted on Paul's first missionary journey, but hearing a favorable report of him by the brethren, Paul took and circumcised him so as not to offend the Jews, because his father was a Greek. This was not contrary to the decision of the Jerusalem council. It was a case where conciliation could be made without compromise of truth. From this time to the end of Paul's life, he and Timothy were boon companions. They were as a loving father and a dutiful son.

IV. Timothy's Character Retained. 1. Of a Retiring Disposition. II Tim. 1:8. Timothy had received a gift from God at the hands of the apostle, but it needed to be stirred up, that is, fanned into a flame. Such a temperament would mature in touch with a great personality like Paul. It is highly important that everyone store up the gift which God has given unto him.

2. Courageous. II Timothy 2:1-8. Having been stirred up, he was freed from the spirit of fear and deliberately identified himself with Paul in his sufferings and trial. Courage is greatly needed in doing the Lord's work. 3. Faithful. He tarried in the difficult field of Ephesus through many years. He was the only man of the needed fidelity to minister to the Philippians. (Philippians 2:20). The secret of his faithfulness in such a position was his fidelity to the Word of God.

V. Timothy's Ministry. 1. As a fellow-missionary with Paul. (Phil. 2:22). 2. As pastor of a church at Ephesus. Here he labored for many years tactfully meeting the difficulties of that great church. The Christian minister should believe in the Scriptures as God's Word and be able to rightly divide it so as to meet the needs of those who hear him. This is the only way to meet the difficulties that arise in the pastor's labors.

All Due to Christianity. We live in the midst of blessings, till we are utterly insensible of their greatness, and of the source from which they flow. We speak of our civilization, our arts, our freedom, our laws, and forget entirely how large a share of all is due to Christianity. Blot Christianity out of the page of man's history, and what would his laws have been?—what his civilization? Christianity is mixed up with our very being and our daily life; there is not a familiar object round us which does not wear its mark, not a being or a thing which does not wear a different aspect, because the light of Christian hope is on it, not a law which does not owe its truth and gentleness to Christianity, not a custom which cannot be traced, in all its holy and healthful parts, to the Gospel.

Responsibilities. Responsibilities gravitate to the person who can shoulder them and power flows to the man who knows how.—Hubbard.

Avoid Making Enemies. Those whom you cannot make friends of, avoid making enemies.—Epicurus.

The Weak. The weak may be joked out of anything but their weakness.—Zimmermann.

NATIONAL CONVENTION OF THE AMERICAN RADIO RELAY LEAGUE

Abilene, Texas, Sept. 18—During the past week Chicago citizens probably had a real taste of things western when a score or more Texas cowboys rumped up and down Michigan Avenue. Some fifteen or twenty young men of the state, amateur radio operators, left Texas the first of the week for the meeting in Chicago of the second National Convention of the American Radio Relay League from September 11 to 15. The first convention was held in the same city in 1921. Delegates from all over the United States and from several foreign countries were in attendance at the convention.

Those Texas boys bent on making a hit for Texas at the meeting carried, by agreement, cowboy outfits. Warren Wood of Abilene was among the number and he wore one of the famous uniforms of the Simmons College Cowboy Band. Warren was graduated with the class of 1923 of Simmons and taught classes in radio at this college during the past session. He has been associated with Thomas Williams in the West Texas Radio Co. of this city. Mr. Wood is on his way to Boston to enter Massachusetts Institute of Technology for a four-year course in electrical engineering. He attended the radio convention enroute.

The convention was held at the Edgewater Beach Hotel at which place there is the biggest broadcast station in the world. More than 1500 seats were sold for the banquet of the occasion. In addition to wearing the cowboy uniforms at the convention, the Texas lads had planned to pull off a regular old-time "badger fight" for the radio crowd. Reports of this fight were not broadcasted however!

Large Results Achieved These larger resources have made possible large advances in every department of work fostered by Southern Baptists. Indicating the growth in the homeland during the campaign period, it is announced that there has been a gain of 57 district associations, 881 active ministers, 2,963 local churches, 1,257 Sunday schools with 459,223 pupils, 5,685 Baptist Young People's Unions with 223,917 members and 7,994 Woman's Missionary Union organizations. During this time there have been 762,330 persons baptized into the local Baptist churches. $45,405,118 has been invested in local church property, and the increase in offerings to missions and benevolences has been more than $28,000,000 over the corresponding period preceding the Campaign.

Among the many gains on foreign mission fields are included 24,344 baptisms, 356 churches, 1,500 mission stations, 29 houses of worship, 53,666 members, 667 Sunday schools with 11,292 pupils, the sending out of 275 new American missionaries, the appointment of 2,829 native workers, entry into six new foreign countries and the larger equipment for all forms of work on sixteen fields.

Workers of the Home Mission Board have baptized 173,002 persons during the Campaign period, have received 277,968 persons into the membership of the churches, enlisted 11,772 young persons in definite forms of Christian service, built or improved 1,872 church houses, organized 935 churches and 2,898 Sunday schools.

Stabilize Church Finances To reach the original goal it will be necessary for Southern Baptists to raise $31,000,000 additional for the Campaign program by the end of that movement in 1924. In the hope of bringing the churches of the denomination to a better system of finances and the church members to a fuller realization of their obligation to support religious work, the Campaign Commission has employed Dr. O. E. Bryan of Atlanta, superintendent of evangelism and enlistment of the Home Mission Board, as stewardship and church budget director.

Dr. Bryan has assumed his new duties and working through the various state offices and the agencies of the district associations he is seeking to bring the Baptist churches of the South to the adoption of a yearly budget for both their local work and the general missionary and benevolent interests of the denomination, the aim being to enlist every member of every church in weekly and monthly contributions to religious causes.

is probably no collection of in the world that can compare of Russia either in historic or financial value. It contains a large number of crowns, scepters, thrones, and the costumes of the czars. The greatest interest attaches to crowns themselves, which are the most remarkable examples of Russian jeweler's art in existence. But the old crown of Monarchs apparently the most interesting.

Article entitled "The House With the Windows," by W. T. Max, in the London Magazine, says: In the old Russian code of laws that the crown of Monarchs be used at the coronation of the czars, and the vast majority of the remaining Romanoffs it will be the next czar. It is perhaps an idle belief, but kings and pretenders have owned to clutch at less important and there can be no doubt the removal of the crown of the Russian pretenders in Paris would considerably weaken their hands."

ORIGIN OF HUMANE SOCIETIES

According to Records, They Were First Instituted in England About a Century Ago.

Humane societies are celebrating the fact that laws for the protection of animals have been in existence for 100 years. In 1822 an act of parliament was passed in England which provided for a punishment for the "ill treatment of cattle," and the act was introduced by a man named Richard Martin, who was called "Humanity Martin" because of his introduction and support of this law. Naturally the passage of the bill brought a great deal of opposition.

The opponents wanted to know why the punishment should not be inflicted for boiling lobsters and eating live oysters. Martin not only passed the law, but was the first complainant under it. He found a driver who was mercilessly beating a donkey. The poor animal was dragged into court, and very much to the surprise of the court room crowd, the driver was found guilty.

Two years after the passage of the act Martin organized the "Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals." Queen Victoria later approved of the organization, and added the word "Royal" to the title, and Americans derive their own Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals from this excellent example.

MINERS SEEK GOLDEN VEINS

Veterans Know That Presence of Big Nuggets Does Not Always Indicate Rich Deposits.

In a rugged, out-of-the-way region on the ocean side of the coast ranges, in Monterey county, California, gold nuggets have been found of such size as to suggest that this was once a favorite retreat of the proverbial goose that laid the golden eggs.

Matter-of-fact prospectors, however, have sought to find the veins from which such masses of gold, loosened by the weather, were washed into the stream beds. Their search has not been successful, and J. M. Hill, a United States geologist of the Department of the Interior, in a report just published, suggests that the nuggets came from rich superficial pockets in very small veins, and that no large and rich deposits are likely to be found by deep mining.

The coast ranges of California, unlike the Sierra Nevada, are not rich in gold, and the occurrence of these large nuggets is exceptional and illustrates the fact, known to many prospectors, that the discovery of a few large nuggets does not necessarily indicate the existence of a rich deposit of gold ore near the place.

Botanical Ascents.

The "botanical ascents" of Mount Katahdin by an American scientist suggested the possibilities of intellectual entertainment and agreeable acquaintance with nature that are offered by easily ascended mountains. No mountain that rises to a height of several thousand feet above the neighboring country fails to exhibit a most interesting variety in the succession of the kinds of plants and trees that the climber finds covering it as he ascends.

And not only the person having some knowledge of botany enjoys this rapid change of surroundings, but a similar pleasure is in store for the geologist, who sometimes finds that a mountain is like a prepared section of a part of the earth's crust; for the entomologist, who discovers different insects at the top from those that inhabit the lower slopes; for the ornithologist, who finds that birds have preferences as to elevation, and in fact for all students of nature.—Washing- ton Star.

DISTINCT TYPES OF TEETH

Although Built on Same Principles, They Vary Greatly in Different Races of Mankind.

People's teeth reveal what they are. Every race of men—every type in each race—has teeth whose appearance are as distinctive as the color of their hair or the shapes of their heads.

The teeth of all animals are built on three patterns: those of the herbivore, those of the omnivore, and those of the carnivore. Another way of saying the same thing would be to call some teeth renders, some cutters, and some grinders.

All human teeth partake of these three shapes, but to different degrees in different races. Front teeth are of the incisor, or cutting type, eye teeth are renders, or fangs, while molars are built for grinding.

Nordics have teeth predominantly the rendering type—the type of carnivores with long eye cusps, the type of attackers. It is no coincidence that the Nordic mind is also the closest to the carnivore; fierce, untamable, and retrospective. A Nordic stalks alone in spirit and often, in fact, like a lion; hunting, either for game or adventure.

Celts have teeth of the cutting type, with large pendulous upper incisors. Similarly Celts are of a more settled mind, more tractable, more given to government, and not so impatient of restraint. Cro-Magnons have teeth of an intermediate type, and mentally they stand between Nordics and Celts.

Nordic teeth are soft, and usually yellow with age. White Nordic teeth are usually artificially bleached. Cro-Magnons have white teeth, hard teeth as a rule. Celts and Nordics are often troubled with toothache, because their tooth enamel will not resist the germs of decay that lurk in the crevices of the mouth.

If Aryan's teeth are middle ground, the Semites will stand on one side of them, with large teeth, while Alpines will be on the other side with small ones.

Semite teeth can be told at a glance. They are narrow, long crowned and hard and white. An infusion of Semite blood into a family stock can be detected in the children's teeth several generations after. A face of one type with teeth of another is a sign of a crossed ancestry.

Alpines have short crowned teeth, and in addition the front upper incisors are so short that the tooth edge in front is often concave upward instead of convex. This is sure mark of Alpine blood. In addition, Alpine teeth are much blunter than Aryan or Semite, and approach closer to the herbivore's type. This is in keeping with the Alpine traits of mind, passivity, stolidity, and love of fixed abode.

Why did Adam leave the Garden of Eden? A clay tablet has been discovered which it is said gives the original story from which the Biblical account of the fall was obtained.

This tablet, which has been translated at the University of Pennsylvania, claims that Adam was driven from Eden, not as a punishment, but to prevent him from obtaining knowledge which would make him into a god. The story is in the Sumerian language, and originally formed part of the library of the temple at Nippur.

It takes the form of a dialogue between God and man, and is very similar to that given in the Bible, except that there is no reference to a serpent or the temptation. Adam, says the story, was driven from Eden to prevent him from obtaining food which would make him immortal.

The Book of Genesis is supposed to have been written eleven hundred years after the tablet was inscribed.

GRAVE OF MARY MAGDALENE

Tradition Asserts That the "Great Sinner" of the Bible Was Interred in France.

The inhabitants of the Provence district in southern France claim that Mary Magdalene, the "great sinner" of the Bible, was interred in Saint Maximin chapel a hundred miles from Toulon and Marseilles.

Although the earthly remains of one of the first saints are declared to be contained within this chapel, it is not often visited by sightseers, the Detroit News states. A picturesque old woman conducts a small number of strangers daily through the chapel. She leads them into a crypt where the skull of Mary Magdalene, lined with bands of gold, is supposed to be kept. The bones are dark, almost black. Yet the deep eyeholes and delicately curved jawbones still arouse an impression of beauty. In a golden shrine one sees a curl said to have been cut from the head of the saint who, with her hair, dried the feet of the Savior. The hair is thick and soft and has a gold-brown luster.

To the question how the saint came into Provence the old guardian tells that on account of the persecutions of Christians in Palestine Mary Magdalene and her brother, Lazarus, left their native country. The ship on which they traveled happened to be wrecked near Marseilles.

He Got the Job.

The manager of a business house was interviewing applicants for the post of night watchman.

He was very hard to please and always found something the matter with each man.

One had brown hair, which the manager could not stand; another squinted, a third was Irish, a fourth too thin, another too short, and yet another too tall.

John Smithers heard of this as he sat in the corridor waiting his turn to be interviewed, and resolved to be prepared for everything.

When his turn came all went well. There was nothing the matter with him as far as appearance was concerned, and his references were quite in order.

"Now," said the manager, "is your health quite sound?"

"Well, sir," replied John "I have only one complaint."

"What is that?" said the manager, pricking up his ears.

"Insomnia," came the reply.—Lon- don Answers.

Why They Remain Unmarried. Dr. A. A. Brill of New York, in his study of 400 cases of patients who had been only or favorite children, found that only 93 of them had married, though their average age was thirty-four, says a writer in McClure's Magazine. In his opinion most of them remained old maids and old bachelors because they were unduly dominated by their attachment to their parents.

WHAT IS ADVERTISING?

ADVERTISING IS NOTHING MORE OR LESS THAN SALESMANSHIP. BY ADVERTISING YOU SELL TO SEVERAL HUNDRED PEOPLE AT ONE TIME INSTEAD OF TO THE SINGLE INDIVIDUAL. ADVERTISING DOES NOT BELONG TO THE REALM OF MAGIC. IT IS ABILITY TO TALK OF THE PRODUCT IN PLAIN, HONEST AND STRAIGHTFORWARD TERMS THAT APPEAL TO THE REASON AND DESIRES OF THE PEOPLE WHOSE TRADE IS SOUGHT.

HOW DO YOU ADVERTISE?—THERE ARE NO END OF WAYS IN WHICH YOU MAY ADVERTISE; THERE IS THE BILL-BOARD, THE CIRCULAR, THE POSTER, THE WINDOW DISPLAY, THE CIRCULAR LETTER, THE PERSONAL LETTER, BY WORD OF MOUTH, AND THE NEWSPAPER, THE BEST METHOD OF THEM ALL.

WHAT DOES ADVERTISING DO FOR YOU?—ALL ADVERTISING IS INTENDED TO CREATE GOOD WILL FOR THE PRODUCT OR SERVICE ADVERTISED. YOUR ADVERTISING SHOULD CREATE GOOD WILL FOR YOUR STORE THROUGHOUT YOUR TRADING AREA AND THEREBY INCREASE THE VOLUME OF YOUR ANNUAL TURN-OVER.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF LOVINGTON CLOSES DOORS

Wednesday morning of this week our citizens and town in general received a staggering blow when it fully became known that the First National Bank of our town had closed its doors at or near closing time the afternoon before, owing, it is said, by reli-

However, a number of the business and heavy depositors do not feel uneasy as to the final outcome and still feel confident that the stockholders themselves will come to the rescue and that business will open up again in the near future.—Lovington N. M. Leader.

COOK Electrically

---The Twentieth Century Way

The modern housewife has advanced beyond the dirt, heat and inconvenience of the old-fashioned cook stove. She has an Electric Range in her kitchen, and it is her joy and pride. To prepare the evening meal on the electric range is no trick at all—the heat is there at the snap of a switch. She comes from the party, from church or the shopping trip and finds it a pleasure to cook electrically because it is so fascinatingly easy to do, and so certain of perfect results. Do you wonder that the owner of an Electric Range is proud of her possession? You would be, too, if you had one of these splendid ranges in your kitchen.

FORD

Net profits of the Ford Motor Co. recently have been at a rate of 162 million dollars a year, according to the latest Ford financial statement.

To save you the bother of figuring it out; 162 million dollars represents 6 per cent a year interest on 2700 million dollars, which is not far from three billions.

This gives you a rather staggering picture of the amount of money in the Ford camp. Six per cent interest, you know, is about as much as the average rich man can get, with absolute safety. At least, it satisfies most of them, barring the profiteers.
