GOLF CLUB TO BE ORGANIZED IN TAHOKA

Large Membership Being Secured And Much Enthusiasm Shown

A golf club is being organized in Tahoka, and already a large number of members have been secured. Members are being admitted for the sum of $10.00. Judge G. E. Lockhart, a prominent attorney of this city, is directing the organization of the club and soliciting members.

A nine hole course will likely be made in the event that the club does not exceed fifty members, which can be put on 100 acres of land, according to information given out by those who have seen golf courses. If the membership goes over fifty, it would necessitate an eighteen hole course, requiring 300 acres of land.

It has not been fully determined just where the golf links will be located but there is plenty of rough, rolling country surrounding Tahoka to establish a course, and within easy reach of the city.

An effort will be made by the local club to affiliate with several other Panhandle towns for games during the summer months.

Golf is a clean, healthy, out-door sport that attracts real sportsmen the world over and is well within the reach of the average business man, professional and clerk.

A meeting will likely be held this week and a president, secretary-treasurer, field manager and green committee elected for the club.

The body was laid to rest in the Brownfield Cemetery Saturday, the funeral services being conducted by Rev. J. W. Baughman. He leaves a wife and two children to mourn his departure, both children being girls, one of which married recently and the other being about 12 years old.—Terry County Herald.

Cut the Weeds

The growth of weeds in Tahoka is becoming rank. It has been suggested by some of our enterprising citizens that a weed cutting campaign be launched, and a general clean-up made of the entire town.

The local commercial club, assisted by the city authorities, should take the matter in hand and promote a weed-cutting contest. This would effectively rid the town of these unsightly pests.

This would be a splendid move, and it would be an admirable thing if each citizen, (both renter and property owner) would get into the contest and make Tahoka, this year a really weedless town.

Visitors in the city have been heard to remark: "Tahoka would be a pretty town if its citizens would only cut those ugly weeds."

Let's make war on the weeds in every nook and corner on the town section.

Tahoka 7; Post 1

The Tahoka baseball club was again victorious Sunday, when they defeated Post on the home grounds, by the one sided score of 7 to 1. Tahoka did not score until the fourth inning, when Post blew up and let seven men circle the bases before the contest was finished. The visitors made the lone score the first half of the ninth, and did not succeed in reaching second base until this stage of the game.

Tahoka came near making it a shut out and would have done so, but for a little loose playing at this particular point of the game, the players supposedly becoming over confident that it would be such.

An act of the recent session of the Legislature that will go into effect June 11, is that forbidding the transaction of business in Texas under an assumed name. It provides that no persons shall hereafter transact business in Texas under an assumed name or any other designation, corporate or otherwise, than the real name or names of the individuals transacting such business unless such persons shall file in the office of the County Clerk of the counties where such business is transacted a certificate setting forth the name under which such business is to be conducted.

Delegates of Dist. Singing Convention to Meet Here

S. B. Hatchett is in receipt of a letter from R. I. Wilson, president of the Lubbock County Singing Convention, suggesting that a meeting of delegates be held in Tahoka the second Sunday in July for the purpose of organizing a district singing convention, composed of all the counties in the 72nd judicial district. Mr. Hatchett has not as yet been able to get in touch with the president of the Lynn county convention to discuss the matter, but it is practically assured that arrangements will be made for the meeting of the delegates in Tahoka on the above date.

An organization of this kind, it is pointed out, would induce professional singers over the state to attend these conventions, which would be held in the different county site towns within the district.

Tahoka will not attempt to entertain the delegates on this occasion with a big dinner, but will entertain them in the different homes in the city.

Watch for future announcements regarding the meeting in the News columns.

H. still owns considerable property here which necessitates his return to this section quite often. He always finds a warm welcome awaiting him from the citizens of Lynn.

LIGHTNING INJURES BROWNFIELD FAMILY

During the heavy rain here Monday afternoon there was considerable display of electricity, and one bolt struck the residence of Judge R. L. Graves in the Santa Fe addition.

The little nine year old girl was in the doorway and had hold of the coil spring that holds the screen, the door shutter being open. The mother had her hand on the little girl, and the fact that both received the bolt probably saved the girl's life. As it was the little girl was badly blistered on the arm and body, and Mrs. Graves was quite seriously burned on the back. Other members were only shocked or frightened.

The Judge informed us that a clothes line ran from the house and connected with an engine and batteries in the back yard. The bolt struck the west side of the house, tearing away a portion of the papering. There is a hole in the floor where the little girl's shoe heel was about the size of a quarter.—Brownfield Herald.

MAN FIRED AT CLOSE RANGE WITH BUCK SHOT

Seagraves, June 12.—While driving along the Seminole and Lovington highway, Obbie Chance narrowly escaped being killed by a load of buck shot fired at close range by unknown parties concealed by the road side. One of the bullets inflicted a flesh wound in Chance's arm. The side of the car and steering wheel was riddled with bullets, and the windshield was entirely shot away. How Chance escaped is a miracle.

It is alleged that Chance knows who did the shooting, but refuses to divulge their names.

Chance was recently implicated, it is said, in a liquor case. It is understood that he brought some others into the affair. Some local persons believe that refuge is back of the shooting.

A CORRECTION

In the News of last issue regarding the Welcome sign placed at the northeast corner of the courtyard, it was stated that the Commissioners had this work done, but we are informed by the contractor, J. D. Donaldson, that it was a donation on his part, he having run out of material on the day it was made, and did this nice piece of work on his own time. This correction is made as the result of some criticism to the effect that our Commissioners were spending the county's money needlessly.

SIMS' WIFE KEEPS HIM FROM TALKING

ADMIRAL GETS LITTLE CHANCE TO TELL LONDON REPORTERS ABOUT HIS SPEECH.

SENATE TAKES QUICK ACTION

Order Is Adopted for Investigation of So-Called Objectionable Address.

London.—A determined little woman has taken control of a situation which has all but developed into an "international incident" here.

The woman is Mrs. Sims, wife of Rear Admiral William S. Sims, who stirred things up in Washington by his reference to American Irish sympathizers as "asses" in a London speech. Mrs. Sims is chiefly responsible for the admiral's reticence during the last 24 hours.

Following the news that Secretary Denby had cabled Admiral Sims for an explanation of his quoted speech, and reports that Sims might be recalled from his leave here, correspondents began flocking to the Carlton, where the admiral and Mrs. Sims are stopping. The correspondents are received by the admiral, but Mrs. Sims is always present, and just at the moment when Sims reaches the point of voicing some of his views on the Irish Mrs. Sims intervenes.

Sims is frankly not attempting an alibi. It may be stated that he considers himself correctly quoted, although he is disdainful toward the press in general.

In his English Union speech he intimated repeatedly that the press was irresponsible and often untruthful.

Senate Takes Action

Washington.—Investigation of the recent speech in London by Rear Admiral William S. Sims touching on Irish sympathizers in this country was ordered by the senate without a record vote. The resolution was offered by Senator Harrison (Dem.) of Mississippi.

GOVERNOR SAYS SALOONS OPEN IN SOME COUNTIES

Calls on Editors To Support Plans—Johnson Measure To Be Re-submitted.

McAllen, Texas.—Governor Pat M. Keff, at the opening session of the forty-second annual convention of the Texas Press association delivered an impassioned address on law enforcement in the state and outlined briefly the measures that he will submit on this subject to the legislature at its forthcoming special session.

He said that if he could get the cooperation of the legislators and of the people of the state in putting through the program he has in mind that within a few months "Texas will be so dry that a man will have to prime himself before he can spit."

The governor said that he knew of counties in Texas where saloons and gambling houses were being run wide open and where no indictments were being returned.

He spoke rather extensively on the Johnson bill, which was submitted to the legislature at the last regular session, but which failed of adoption. He announced he was going to resubmit this bill when the lawmakers come together again in July and predicted it would pass this time if the newspaper men and the people of Texas would get behind him and cooperate.

REPUBLICANS FIX CONVENTION BASIS

Texas Loses Two Votes and Oklahoma Gains Two Under Revision.

Washington.—As a result of the resolution adopted by the national committee, requiring a deadline of 2,500 votes to be cast in the preceding election to be the basis of a delegate to the national convention, which was for the purpose of adjusting the situations in southern states, Texas will have 21 in place of 23 convention votes, based upon the results of the last election Oklahoma will get 22 votes, or two additional votes at large, as a reward for having given the state to the republican candidate for president. Some of the southern states sustained heavy losses by reason of the resolution and, in the opinion of the party workers, will serve as an encouragement to perfect better party organization in southern districts.

The Texans, it is said, are thoroughly alive to the situation and have already been laying the ground work for extension of the party strength in that state.

U. S. OPENS WAY TO RECOGNIZE MEXICO

STATUS OF PROPERTY PRIOR TO CONSTITUTION OF 1917 TO BE PROTECTED.

Washington.—The United States government has proposed to the Mexican people that the two nations enter into a treaty of commerce and amity such as will stabilize their relations and terminate the protracted period of mutual distrust.

The treaty, now the subject of negotiations between the two governments, would embody assurances by Mexico to safeguard American property rights, establish a claims commission to settle losses of life and property, provide for settlement of boundary matters, and finally, would include conventional stipulations as to commerce and reciprocal rights in both countries.

In announcing its advances the state department made it clear it was talking to Mexico as a nation and not alone to the Obregon regime. The question of recognition would be subordinate, the administration believes. It hopes for an immediate restoration of cordial relations with Mexico and is willing to negotiate the treaty in question with Obregon if he will abide by the provisions suggested. If Obregon refuses to accept the suggested terms this government will simply wait until there "is a government in Mexico willing to bind itself to the discharge of primary international obligations."

The whole difficulty in the path of a satisfactory settlement is embraced in the Mexican constitution of 1917. This declared that sub-surface resources were the property of the nation. The nationalization clause was aimed at the oil wealth of the country and it applied retroactively would be tantamount to confiscation of property acquired by Americans previous to 1917. That the laws permitted of such retroactive application was shown in the executive decrees issued by the late President Carranza and supporting the policy of confiscation. The American state department looks at the situation this way:

1. If Mexico proposes to confiscate American property, this government will not stand by and permit it.

2. If Mexico says the objectionable laws are not intended for confiscation application, this government believes Mexico should enter solemn obligation as a condition to the reestablishment of friendly intercourse.

In short, when it appears that there is a government in Mexico willing to bind itself to the discharge of primary international obligations, concurrently with that act its recognition will take place. This government desires immediate and cordial relations, of mutual helpfulness, and simply wishes that the basis of international intercourse should be properly maintained.

Accordingly on the 27th of May, last, Mr. Summerlin, American charge d'affaires at Mexico City, presented to General Obregon a proposed treaty covering the matters to which reference has been made.

AMITY CLOSES RAIL BOARD CONFERENCE

Representative of Roads And Employes Bespeak Co-operative Spirit.

Chicago, Ill.—The second wage reduction hearing before the United States railroad labor board, in which more than 150 railroads asked wage cuts, ended in a rhetorical love feast Thursday, with representatives of both railroads and employes expressing a desire for peace and amity in the railroad industry.

"Let's pull the country out of the situation it faces today," urged F. W. Sargent, counsel for the Chicago & North-Western, in a closing address for the carriers. "We're anxious to settle controversies for the benefit of all. We have faith in this board. It is an experiment, but I believe it is one of the greatest experiments ever undertaken by civilized government. So far as this road is concerned, it will obey every decision of the board, even if it takes us into the hands of the receiver."

Representative Gardner of Texas, acting for the house democrats, was unsuccessful in securing promise of the republican leaders to return.

RACE WITH TIME LOST BY 5,000 IMMIGRANTS

ITALIANS SEEKING TO REACH AMERICA BEFORE BARS GO UP IN DISTRESS.

New York.—Five thousand immigrants, most of them from Italy, are imprisoned on ships in New York harbor, losers in their race against time to get here before the new immigration restrictions became effective.

"Unless they are started back to Italy soon, or the government permits them to come ashore, some of these people are going to die on the ships," said Fred A. Wallis, commissioner of immigration in command at Ellis Island.

"The instructions we received are definite. We have on the island now more than enough Italians to equal the June quota from Italy under a new law which admits only 3 per cent per year of the total number of Italians resident in America in 1920. We have no further instructions and no alternative but to obey the law literally."

The commissioner said that the Italian steamship companies, knowing the law was to become effective on June 3, deliberately encouraged immigrants to take the chance of beating the barrier. The ships sailed in a race to get here before Friday. Some got here in time but three ships, carrying 5,000 Italians, most of them with but a few dollars cash and their baggage, did not make the Ambrose lightship until Friday morning.

"We would have no authority to receive and feed these people at government expense when they are not even eligible as this month's immigrants," the commissioner continued, "but even if the government decided to do it, for humanitarian motives, we couldn't receive them because we haven't the room. The island is jammed."

Secretary of Labor Davis is coming here from Washington on a special train, wearing all the executive authority there is to wear under the law, hoping to solve the difficulty.

SUBMARINE MEETS FATE OF ITS SEVEN VICTIMS

U. S. Navy Craft's Gunfire Sinks German Undersea Boat in Lake Michigan.

Chicago.—The German submarine U-97 was sunk at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning in Lake Michigan, some thirty miles off Chicago, by the four-inch guns of the U. S. S. Wilmette.

The sinking was under the direction of Captain Wurtzbach, under a provision of the treaty of Versailles. Two hundred naval reservists from Indiana and Illinois took part in the action. The submarine had previously been stripped of all removable machinery and brass parts.

This was the submarine that toured the Great Lakes during the Victory loan campaign. It had a record of having sunk seven allied ships. The sole remainder of Kaiserdom was a coat of arms of Germany painted on one of the masts.

ENNIS TO ESTABLISH A SYSTEM OF PARKS

Ennis, Texas.—Initial steps toward the creation of a system of public parks in Ennis were taken Tuesday when a fifteen-acre woodland tract two miles west of town was prepared for a park by nearly 200 citizens who turned out in work clothes. This tract is a part of 40 acres donated by the city which will be utilized for a park as rapidly as it is prepared. It has heretofore been used as a dumping ground.

The plan for the park system calls for creation of downtown parks and community playgrounds. The park commission, appointed last week by Mayor E. M. Thomas, is in direct charge of all work.

In connection with the tract west of town, an athletic field will be built, a natatorium, tennis courts and children's wading pools.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL Sunday School Lesson

BY HENRY F. B. PRIZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (©, 1921, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR JUNE 10.

MAKING THE SOCIAL ORDER CHRISTIAN.

LESSON TEXT—Luke 4:16-21; Matt. 23:34-35.

GOLDEN TEXT—Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me—Matt. 23:40.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—Acts 2:37-41; 8:4-8.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Pleasing Jesus by Helping Others.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Example Jesus Gave Us.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Making All of Life Christian.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Christianity Transforming the Social Order.

Again we say not "Making the Social Order Christian," if the committee please. At least these texts selected by the committee do not so teach, for they have no bearing upon the question. Why two texts so widely separated in meaning should be selected to go together under the subject named is incomprehensible. The teacher should therefore ignore the subject chosen and endeavor to bring out the meaning of the texts.

1. Jesus in the Synagogue at Nazareth (Luke 4:16-21).

1. His custom was to go to the house of God (v. 16). He now had come back to the town of his boyhood days and entered the place of worship as was His custom.

2. Jesus reading from the Scriptures (vv. 18-19). He opened the book at the sixty-first chapter of Isaiah and read the Scripture passage which set forth His entire mission.

(1) Character of His mission (vv. 18, 19). (a) Preach the gospel to the poor. God has peculiar regard for the poor, and the glory of the gospel is that it comes to the help of the very ones most in need. It puts a ladder at the feet of a man and enables him to climb as high as his ability will permit him. (b) Heal the broken-hearted. How many are the broken-hearted! (c) Preach deliverance to the captives. Those who are in captivity to sin and Satan. Christ can and will deliver (John 8:34-36). (d) Recovering of sight to the blind. Christ not only can open the physical eyes but the eyes of the spirit as well. (e) Set at liberty them that are bruised. Satan has been most mercilessly bruising men, but the Mighty One has come who can set them free. (f) Preach the acceptable year of the Lord. This was the Year of Jubilee which looked forward to the glorious millennial age (Lev. 25:8-13, 50:54).

(2) His endowment (v. 18). The Holy Spirit came upon Christ for the express purpose of fitting Him for His divine mission. Because of this endowment He cannot fail in His glorious work.

(3) His testimony (vv. 20, 21). Having completed the reading, He declared that the Scripture had fulfillment then and there in himself. This was a critical hour for the people. May it be just as critical for the members of every class where this lesson is studied! May there not be rejection like that which followed His testimony at Nazareth!

11. The Judgment of the Nations (Matt. 23:34-40).

The biblical unit here is verses 31-46. One cannot intelligently teach the verses selected without their setting; so it would be better to take a survey of the whole.

This judgment should be carefully distinguished from what is popularly called "General Judgment." The Bible speaks of different judgments, differing in respect to the subjects, the place, the time, and the results of the judgment. Note the following particulars:

1. The Judge (v. 31). The Son of Man in glory.

2. The time (v. 31). It is when the Lord shall come in His glory accompanied by His glorious retinue of angels.

3. The place (v. 31). It will be on the throne of His glory. This throne will be most surely in the land of Israel. The prophecy of Joel, third chapter, and Zechariah 14:1-5 make it to be in or near Jerusalem.

4. The people judged (vv. 32-45). These people will be the living nations upon the earth after the church has been translated (I Thess. 4:16, 17). These nations are the ones to whom the gospel of the kingdom shall be preached just prior to the coming of the Lord (see Matt. 24:14). The preachers of this gospel will be Jews (Rev. 7; Rom. 11).

5. The issue of the judgment (v. 46; cf. 34-41). The sheep enter upon the inheritance of a prepared kingdom (v. 34). The goats go into an everlasting fire prepared for the devil and his angels. Their destiny is fixed (v. 46).

Hope and Pray.

Let us hope and pray that those who teach and those who worship in the temples of God may never be out of touch with the saints above or the sinners below. When we get out of touch with humanity, we are never in very close touch with Divinity.—Uncle Henry's Sayings.

On Giving.

He that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none; and he that hath meat, let him do likewise.—Luke 3:11.

DR. J. B. GAMBRELL DIES; AGE 79 YEARS

Dallas, Texas, June 10.—Dr. J. B. Gambrell, retired president of the Southern Baptist Convention, died at the home of his daughter here today. He was 79 years of age and had been ill since February.

He was a noted Southern Baptist educator and had served as professor in various southern Baptist theological institutions. He was many years editor of the Baptist Standard at Dallas.

He had lived in Dallas 23 years. He is survived by two sons and three daughters.

Funeral arrangements will be made later.

Dr. James Burton Gambrell, son of Joel Burton Gambrell and Jane Elvira Gambrell, was born in Anderson, South Carolina, August 24, 1841. In the following year his parents moved to Mississippi, where he was reared on the farm, receiving an education at the country school.

Young Gambrell entered the confederate army in his twentieth year, serving 28 months in the Army of Virginia. Most of his service was as scout under General Robert E. Lee.

On one of these expeditions he met Miss Mary T. Corbell of Nansemond county, Virginia. A year later Gambrell picked his way through the Union lines and at midnight, January 13, 1864, he married Miss Corbell at her home.

Ordnained in Mississippi At the close of the war he returned to Mississippi, where he took up the ministry in 1867. He was ordained at Cherry Creek church, Pontotoc county, Mississippi.

In 1915 he accepted for the second time the secretaryship of the Texas Baptist convention and at the end of three years asked to be released of executive duties of the office. He was then elected to fill the chair of Christian ethics and ecclesiology of Southern Baptist University, Fort Worth.

Among his early pastorates were West Point and Oxford, Missi. While at Oxford, Gambrell took a course in the University of Mississippi. Later he was editor of the Mississippi Baptist Record and held the position for fifteen years. He also served several terms as president of Mercer College, Macon, Ga.

In 1897 Dr. Gambrell was elected corresponding secretary of the Baptist General Convention of Texas. He resigned in 1910 to become editor of the Baptist Standard at Dallas.

Elected Fourth Time

Dr. Gambrell was elected president of the Southern Baptist Convention in 1917. At the convention in Washington, D. C., in 1920, a precedent of many years was broken and he was elected president for the fourth time.

He retired after his term and was sent to Europe to visit the afflicted Baptists of war-stricken Europe. He was accompanied by Dr. E. Y. Mullins, president of the Southern Baptists, Theological Seminary at Louisville, Ky. They made a survey of the needs of Europe. Returning from Europe Gambrell spent his time filling speaking engagements in Texas and other states until his illness.

NO HAY IN THE PHILIPPINES

Because of Great Humidity Grass Cannot Be Cured, So It Is Cut Every Day.

Because of the great humidity grass can't be cured in the Philippines. As a consequence it is cut fresh every day and brought into the towns and cities for sale at a stipulated price per corgo, two bundles weighing about 125 pounds. It is cut with a small home-made knife and washed in running water before being placed in the bundle. American horses cannot live on it, but native horses eat it and grow fat. Guinea grass and Bermuda are the commonest kinds of grasses grown for horse roughage in the islands, according to a writer in the Philadelphia Public Ledger. For American horses and mules hay is imported into Manila from the Pacific coast states and brings about $75 per ton. Oats sell for about the same price. On account of the excessive rains oats cannot be grown in the islands; rust affects it. Corn grows well; Filipino farmers can harvest three crops a year from a single piece of ground. To keep it, it is necessary to leave it in the husk; otherwise weevils destroy it. It is tied in bundles and hung on bamboo poles, then husked and shelled as needed. Corn mills are now being established in Visayan islands, where the natives prefer cornmeal to rice as a staple food.

FELT LIKE AN IRON BAND AROUND HEAD

Mrs. Osborne Says She Shudders When She Thinks How She Suffered.

"For years," said Mrs. V. B. Osborne, of 718 Lancaster Ave., Lexington, Ky., "I have been in a run-down condition; nervous, weak and dizzy. I was actually so nervous that any sudden noise or excitement would produce a palpitation of my heart that frightened me. I absolutely could not climb stairs, for to attempt such would thoroughly exhaust me.

"I had nervous headaches and when they came on it seemed that an iron band was drawn tight around my head. I now shudder when I think of those headaches. My stomach was weak and I could not digest the lightest liquid food. Any food of a solid nature caused nausea and the sickening sensation remained for hours.

"My misery was almost unbearable. My sleep was never sound and I was worn out all the time. My condition was indeed a very deplorable one. I finally sought treatment in Cincinnati, but nothing helped me one particle. I was on the verge of giving up in despair when a neighbor pleaded with me to try Tanlac. I obtained a bottle of the medicine and began its use.

"I began improving at once and soon felt my nervousness and dizziness disappearing. Then my headaches left me and I realized my strength had returned. My appetite and digestion improved and I am now so much better in every way. This Tanlac is a wonderful medicine and the only one that ever really helped me. I hope every poor woman who is suffering as I did will try it."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.—Adv.

Modish Loose Wraps

YOU may have a cape, or a coat that looks like a cape, or a coat with a cape back, and go forth with assurance that you are in the mode, no matter where you journey. Arrayed in these ingenious and graceful wraps, with their flowing lines, one may sail with confidence straight to Paris; for there one will join a goodly company of ample garments of like character—all more or less close kin to the cape. There are many of them with big fanciful sleeves and with vividly colorful linings; silks with a floral pattern, or wool sponge embroidered in contrasting colors and it happens that these linings are revealed by means of the loose or split sleeves and in other ways.

Wraps are developed in wool and in silk or fibre silk materials. Gabardine, soft serge, homespun and a soft, loosely woven cloth that resembles it have made inroads upon the popularity of duvetyne and similar cloths among the woolls. The heavy crepe and knitted weaves in silk share favor with crepe de chine and satin, in the silks. Everything conspires to make this a season of beautiful and dignified wraps. Long shawl collars and loose sleeves, or no sleeves, have a look of spring and touches of color in stitching or color in hemmings, emphasize this springtime flavor.

Two good examples of current styles, in wraps that are practical as well as handsome, are shown above. They are both developed in wool cloths; that at the left, in dark blue with beige lining in crepe and beige braid for trimming. A warm tan or taupe gray, or any of the fashionable colors might be chosen for the model at the right, embroidered in self color or in contrasting colors. The cape pure and simple and the cape complex must not be overlooked in reporting wraps for summer time. They hang usually from deep yokes and with considerable flare. A very handsome one in which light and dark gray homespun join forces has a deep yoke of the lighter gray, a long shawl collar of the dark gray and the body of the wrap cut in long petals of the light shade bordered with the darker.

Organdies Bloom Anew

WHEN they are working with organdie, or organdie in combination with other materials, designers are handling mediums that prove an inspiration to them. The exhaustless variety in which they are turning out midsummer dresses is explained by the beauty of organdie and its adaptability. And this enchanting material has been presented this season in the plain weaves—in lace organdies and in embroidered and barred patterns. It has been made up with gingham and other cotton goods, with taffetas and other silks and in lovely color combinations of the plain weave.

Organdie in one color was used for the pretty dress at the left of the two pictured here. It is very simple with plain undershirt, long tunic banded with wide, hemstitched tucks and surplice waist with fichu collar. The edges of the waist are picoted, the fichu taking the place of a girle and fastening at the side with an ornament. Pretty organdie flowers are used with frocks of this kind in bouquets for the corsage.

The wraps in which checked and with organdie are endless, the gingham usually playing the role of foundation for an organdie overdress. But occasionally a designer uses gingham as a decoration on organdie, as when checked patterns intrigue her to cut out battlement borders or pointed borders of them, or to make bandings. In the pretty frock at the right of the picture gingham provides both the undershirt and bands for decorating bodice and apron of organdie. White organdie in this model appears with red and white gingham, but usually a colored organdie is used with gingham in a color and white, and is selected to match or tone in well with the color. In nearly all these combinations organdie is used for a sash but there are exceptions to these rules, as may be seen in the frock illustrated. These are informal and pretty dresses—within the reach of everyone and there is nothing that the season has to offer more alluring or becoming.

LOOK TO FUTURE EXPANSION

Civic Bodies of Kansas City Are Showing a Spirit Well Worthy of Emulation.

Just how valuable it may be to prepare for the orderly development of a city industrially is indicated in a piece of work which is now being undertaken by the city-planning commission and the chamber of commerce of Kansas City. The industrial department of the chamber aims to make a survey of industrial conditions in Kansas City which it may use in its own work, and the planning commission will seek much additional data through the survey which may be used to excellent purpose by various committees of the commission, by the industries themselves and by other agencies concerned with the most businesslike and systematic expansion of the entire city.

What the planning commission desires to ascertain in this respect is just what the most progressive and far-seeing business man would have in order to make possible the best development of his interests. The commission already has committees at work obtaining facts about Kansas City's present status and probable future expansion in respect to commercial, residential and industrial districts; recreation facilities, highways and transportation conditions; and it has prepared a basic map which makes zoning of the city possible. But the necessity of obtaining such facts as these about the city's industries, as well as the value of the facts, is at once evident.

What industries has the city? What is likely to be the expansion of these periods of ten, twenty or thirty years?

Where will the expansion be? What additional industries is Kansas City likely to have? Where will they be placed? Where will the additional employees live?

Los Angeles Built "Island" Around Unusually Fine Cluster in Path of Grading.

When the city of Los Angeles recently cut North Broadway through Holgate square there was a clump of fine old pepper trees directly in the path of the grading. So the city, rather than cut the trees down, built an "island" around them. An unusual feature of the island is an ornamental drinking fountain which was built for the purpose of supplying thirsty motorists and pedestrians with a refreshing draught of Adam's ale. The water is piped to the fountain from a street main.—Popular Science Monthly.

School Gardens.

Is there ground available for school gardens? Some schools have rented vacant lots and fields near the school house for their gardens and have succeeded in earning money on them, which has been used for other school projects or equipment. A certain school has an orchard of 100 trees, in which the children are given practical instruction on the care of fruit trees; the profit from the sale of the fruit goes to the school; and the orchard serves as a model for the community.

Is it possible or advisable in your school to have gardens and orchards so managed that they will make substantial contributions to the upkeep of various school activities, and at the same time provide valuable practical laboratory training for the pupils? This is a community problem, which may be solved best, perhaps, by general discussion.

"City Plan" Works Well.

The city plan has been tried in many cities with success. St. Louis and Milwaukee are examples. Under such a plan the city does not repeat obvious mistakes. At present the man who builds a home has no assurance that a filling station will not be his next-door neighbor tomorrow. He may move into another district and later see a factory shut off his light and air. The city plan idea, summed up, is that there is a place for everything and that everything should be in its place. The only way that idea can be made effective is through laws giving the planners the legal right to act.—Exchange.

CALOMEL DANGER TOLD BY DODSON

Says You Cannot Gripe, Sicken, or Salivate Yourself if You Take "Dodson's Liver Tone" Instead

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It can not be trusted any more than a leopard or a wild cat. Take Dodson's Liver Tone, which straightens you right up and makes you feel fine. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.—Adv.

"Only Got Relief After Using Ware's Black Powder"

—says Oklahoma man who suffered for years from what doctors called chronic indigestion.

"For several years I was a sufferer from what the doctors called chronic indigestion. I tried many remedies, but only got relief after using Ware's Black Powder according to directions. I believe it the best stomach and bowel remedy I have tried, and I have tried many."

This letter from Mr. T. P. Kyger of Pawhuska, Ok., written Jan. 4th, 1920, carries conviction. Mr. Kyger, along with thousands of other people, now knows the remarkable power of this great remedy, which is now in its forty-first year of successful use in the treatment of stomach and bowel disorders. Contains no harmful drugs. Not a purgative. Sold by all druggists for 60c and $1.20 the package. Write for free booklet on stomach and bowel troubles.

"My Baby Suffered Constant Pain from Intestinal Indigestion"

"But Ware's Baby Powder brought prompt and lasting relief" writes Shreveport man.

"Eight years ago my baby boy of three months was in constant pain, crying continuously, suffering from intestinal indigestion. After spending $750. with doctors, I tried Ware's Baby Powder and in 48 hours my baby was relieved and in a few days entirely well. I have since recommended it many times, and in each case relief has been found."

This is what Geo. W. Thomas of Shreveport says about Ware's Baby Powder—the remedy that has been relieving stomach and bowel trouble, teething and summer complaint in babies for forty years. Simple and harmless. Given to babies in liquid form, mixed with sugar and water, they love to take it. 60c and $1.20 the package at all druggists.

FOUND SILENCE ONLY REFUGE ANCIENT AND MODERN ROME

Under the Circumstances, It Would Seem, Mrs. Paula's Friend Had Made Wise Decision.

Now, everybody in town knows that Mrs. Paula Platt was talking of making a visit to her married daughter in Ohio. She had been talking about it for two years, but age and the natural timidity of a woman long a widow had postponed the great event from month to month, until the neighbors began to wonder whether it would ever come to pass.

So one morning when Uncle Tom Flitters met a friend of Mrs. Paula's, there was a twinkle in his eyes as he asked:

"When is Mrs. Paula going out to Ohio?"

"Don't ask me," said the other. "I don't know nothin' about it. If I tell her to go, she says we all want to get rid of her; and if I tell her to stay at home, she says I am mean. I ain't sayin' a word!"—Philadelphia Ledger.

Proud of Her Daddy.

Helen was playing out in front of her house Flag day and evidently had noticed the flags that were out in many of the homes. This same day happened to be her daddy's birthday but she was not aware of it until she had been let in on the big secret of a surprise that he was in store for her dad when he came home for the evening meal and that she was not to tell any one about it.

When given this information she exclaimed, "Is today daddy's birthday?"

When told that it was, she remarked quite decidedly, her big eyes getting larger. "Oh now I know why all the flags are out."

Very Rare.

"He's a rare bird."

"What makes you think so?"

World-Famous Buildings Sacred Sites in the Old "of the World."

Ancient Rome was built on the south of the River Tiber. Tradition regarded the Palatine as the site of Romulus' Urbis Quadrata. Excavations have brought to light remains of an earlier settlement and a pre-historic necropolis. The capitoline was the center of republican and imperial Rome. One of the principal ancient monuments is Hadrian's mausoleum which, as the castle of St. Angelo, was made the citadel of medieval Rome. West of this stood Caligula's circus, in which Nero tortured the Christians; its site is now occupied by St. Peter's, the chief shrine of Roman Catholicism, reputed to be the largest church in the world, occupying 18,000 square yards and measuring 435 feet in its highest part. North of St. Peter's is the Vatican palace, which covers 13½ acres and comprises over 1,000 halls, chapels and rooms. The pantheon, built by Agrippa in 27 B. C. and restored by Hadrian, is said to be the best-preserved ancient building in the city.

Intelligent.

"No, I think not," answered the marine.

A la Carte.

After a trip from Gary to Michigan City over the roughest road I have ever seen, I felt the need of a good dinner.

I didn't see any place to eat, and so called out to a newsboy who stood near on the curbing. "Hey, there, do you know where I can get some good food?"

"Sure," he said, "follow me." So saying, he hopped on to his bicycle and we followed. Where? To a hot dog wagon!

Too Much Candor.

My traveling companion had been carrying an old black bag which barely held together. I had told her that she would have to carry a different piece of baggage if she were going to travel with me, but it made no impression.

One early morning we sat down in a small waiting room in a branch line station in central Oregon. Next to me was an old black bag with which I began to fumble. Finally I put my finger through a rip in the side and began to pull out some wearing apparel and at the same time turned to my friend and said: "Pauline, you certainly ought to be ashamed of yourself to carry such a ramshackle contraption as this bag is."

"I beg your pardon," said a woman seated on the other side of me, "but that is my bag."

Brazil's Big Snake Nursery.

There are said to be more snakes in Brazil than in any other country of the western hemisphere, an exchange remarks. At Batuntan, near Sao Paulo, there is a great snake garden where scientists are studying the mysteries of snake biology. The original season for the establishment of the garden, which is a huge nursery for snakes, was to obtain serum enough for those bitten by snakes throughout Brazil. The garden is 600 acres in extent and divided into three departments, two of which are devoted to cobras, crotalids and bothrops, the most poisonous snakes known; while the third department is given to the

"For years we have used Black-Draught in our family, and I have never found any medicine that could take its place," writes Mr. H. A. Stacy, of Bradyville, Tenn. Mr. Stacy, who is a Rutherford County farmer, recommends Black-Draught as a medicine that should be kept in every household for use in the prompt treatment of many little ills to prevent them from developing into serious troubles.

THE DRAUGHT'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

"It touches the liver and does the work," Mr. Stacy declared. "It is one of the best medicines I ever saw for a cold and headache. I don't know what we would do in our family if it wasn't for Black-Draught. It has saved us many dollars . . . I don't see how any family can hardly go without it. I know it is a reliable and splendid medicine to keep in the house. I recommend Black-Draught highly and am never without it."

JIBAROS: Devil- Worshiping Indians of Peru

ANTHROPOLOGISTS who want to study primitive man in his native surroundings are respectfully referred to the Jibaros of Southern Ecuador. These savages have hitherto been unknown to civilization. Certainly they have not been contaminated by the white man. They appear to have virtues and vices all their own. In fact they appear to be sui generis since they have been isolated and have developed along a line particularly their own.

The Jibaros are devil-worshippers, among other things. Believing in neither a heaven nor a hell, they worship a sort of demon, who appears to the medicine men when they drink a vegetable concoction unknown to whites. Confirmed bigamists, the braves are jealous of all their wives, and punish unfaithfulness mercilessly. There is no institution of marriage. They have no ceremonies connected with the changing seasons. In hunting and fishing, the methods of the Jibaros differ from those of all other Indians known.

The Jibaro Indians were discovered by an expedition into the jungle of Southern Ecuador, undertaken by Harold E. Anthony and George K. Cherrie for the American Museum of Natural History, New York, for the purpose of obtaining rare specimens of birds and mammals. Mr. Anthony, who is assistant of mammals at the museum told of his nine months' stay and many thrilling experiences among this primitive people.

"The Jibaros are the first tribe of Indians I have met," said Mr. Anthony, "that do not believe in a benign being. The people have no berafter to look forward to, and no sins to look back upon. They are happy, none the less, and not bad if you treat them civilly. Naturally superstitious, they worship, or rather enter to, a sort of devil, whom only a few medicine men are privileged to see.

"The medicine men on occasions drink a terrible concoction unknown to whites even since the days of home brew. This makes them beastly drunk, and in their hallucinations they claim they see this devil, of whom they inquire what luck they will have on their hunting expeditions. Since the expeditions are always for the taking of the wives of other tribes and incidentally killing their husbands, the devil is invariably ready to fall in line with the plans of the braves. When the orgy is over, the hunt begins, and does not end until several heads are taken or lost.

"One of our party drank a tiny bit of the concoction, and almost immediately claimed he was 'seeing things.' When he got out of the trance, he said he was not surprised that the men, urged on by this strangely influential demon, became wild. Of course, only the medicine men are permitted to commune with the devil, but such is their invariable reaction, that they make their followers believe in the power of the devil even though the latter have not taken a drop of the stuff themselves.

"It is not surprising that the medicine men have such an influence over the savages. Ecuador abounds in strange trees with whose sap these Indians have experimented from generation to generation. Even the shrubs and flowers have drug properties of which modern medicine has as yet small knowledge.

"But the medicine men seem to have made a specialty of the most bitter of the herbs and the most fiery of the saps for their purposes. They use a mixture, the secret of which they alone know, which, when rubbed on one's body, is supposed to keep away the evil spirits. In this manner they control the superstitious Jibaros, and there is not a tribesman who does not believe implicitly in the power of these leaders of theirs.

"Besides the devil-worshipping concoctions and the mixture designed to keep away the evil-spirits, there are saps used for their purely medicinal properties. Among these is a sort of quinine which is used as a cure-all, and a medicine designed to preserve youth, or, at least, encourage longevity.

Poets Always Victims.

The absentmindedness of poets and artists and their carelessness about personal appearance has often given matter for mirth. The stories about Morris and his friends in Oxford gain in picturesqueness from Morris' efforts to keep the others straight while erring widely himself. Less well known is the tale of the Russian fabulist Krivlov—Grandfather Krivlov, as he was called, the title expressing the af-

"A man's affluence among the Jibaros is measured by the number of wives he can capture for himself, because each warrior must defend his household against the jealousy of others in his tribe, and because he has faithfulness. The women in most cases seem to be happy enough with their lot, and submit to their lord and master's will. But some are of a rebellious spirit.

"Sanctioned by the rest of the community, a terrifically painful punishment is inflicted on the erring wife by her husband. The warrior chops at the top of his squaw's head with a little hatchet, until all the hair is removed. He is careful to see, however, that the hatchet does not penetrate the skull.

"If the woman is still obdurate, the husband pins her to the ground by running a spear through a limb. In this position she is kept for two and three days at a stretch, and food and water are brought to her regularly until the period of the punishment terminates. If, in spite of her suffering, the woman is still alive and unrepentant, and refuses to live with her master, she is killed outright.

"These punishments, the Jibaros feel in their crude way, are justified, for, doesn't the devil order them to hunt for the women, and do they not kill their enemies in a fair fight? And do they not adopt the children of their enemies as children, not as slaves, and provide for them and for their mothers?

"The hunt is fearfully difficult, because of the impenetrable jungle through which the warriors must pass. Sometimes they tramp along animal trails, but as often as not, they must cut their way through the terrific jungle with a knife. Yet, although a man may already have three wives, he will endure all manner of hardships to obtain another for himself, because the medicine man has so ordered.

"Thrusting their lithe, copper-colored bodies among some dense shrubbery, the braves poison their arrows with another mysterious vegetable concoction, and shoot them from a blow gun into the backs of the unsuspecting savages. The forest growth gives them an advantage, and when the fighting is over, the women and children belonging to the men killed, peacefully follow their new masters to their new home.

"The Jibaro braves carry the heads of their victims back in triumph to their village, and mount them. After much molding, probably in the presence of his new wife, the warrior makes the head as small as a fist, with the aid of another of the innumerable vegetable compounds with which the district seems to abound. Filling the skull with sand and pebbles, the Jibaro is ready for the great ceremonial dance, in celebration of his victory.

"The scalp dance is probably the only ceremonial dance which this tribe observes. Only the men participate in it. Their decorations consist of brightly colored stuffed birds which hang down to their waist, and a crown of feathers in the shape of a corona on their heads. For the rest, they are practically naked. And as they dance around and around, holding the shrunken heads which they have hideously painted, their new wives and children look on. But they do not dare protest.

"The men were willing, even eager to pose for photographs, we found, but the women and children dared not for fear there was a bogey man or something in the lens of the camera. They are superstitious enough to think that if a picture of them is defaced or torn, the same thing will happen to them.

"One of our party who tried hard to obtain the picture of a particularly winsome little girl, could not succeed until he had given her a present. Even then, she was unwilling, until her father ordered her to stand in front of the camera, which she did tremblingly. He felt indifferent about her attitude before, but after she had accepted the present, he felt she was morally bound to face the stranger.

"There are no sun dances or rain dances as there is plenty of both. Indeed, there is no need for these Indians to depend upon the weather at all. In the first place there is no room for much planting, as it is too much trouble to hack down the trees, and in the second there is plenty of hunting and fishing to be done, which makes agriculture only a pastime confined to the planting of a little corn and cotton.

"The Jibaros are very fond of catching and eating monkeys. The skillful brave need use no arrow or gun to obtain one of these animals for he has learned to duplicate the monkey's call exactly. Certain that its mate or another monkey is calling it, the unfortunate little animal jumps out of some tree, and is promptly caught by the experienced tribesman.

"Most of the mammals we caught were killed by the natives with strange blow pipes. These pipes are 10 to 15 feet long. An expert blowing a little ball of hard clay through one can easily kill his object at a distance of 100 feet.

"The natives' method of fishing is to poison the stream at intervals with a pulp called barbasco, which stupefies the fish. But, so remarkable is this pulp, that what is poisonous to the fish, is harmless to man, and so the fish are edible.

"Birds can be captured alive if they imbibe of a certain potion which puts them in a trance without injuring them."

party he arrived in a new evening suit fresh from the tailor's, with the buttons still wrapped up in tissue paper. But it didn't matter, his friends were too fond of him to let him suppose they had noticed the superfluous trimming, and one very dear friend found a suitable moment to remove it—Christian Science Monitor.

"After suffering ten long months with stomach pains, I have taken Eatonie and am now without any pain whatever. Am as one raised from the dead," writes A. Percifield.
Thousands of stomach sufferers report wonderful relief. Their trouble is too much acidity and gas which Eatonie quickly takes up and carries out, restoring the stomach to a healthy, active condition. Always carry a few Eatonies, take one after eating, food will digest well—you will feel fine. Big box costs only a trifle with your druggist's guarantee.

WAS FAMILIAR WITH CHROMO BIRDS AS STREET CLEANERS

Mrs. Newly Rich Somewhat Too Anxious to Air Her Knowledge, and Her Ignorance.

Harvey Maitland Watts, a Philadelphia art critic, said at a dinner in Rittenhouse square:

"The ignorance of the new rich in art matters is quite incredible. The wife of a new rich profiteer was buying pictures in a Walnut street shop the other day. After she had bought a number of costly pictures she said: 'Now show me something a little cheaper for the back hall. It's dark there.'"

"The salesman brought out another picture.

"This, madam," he said, "is only a chromo, and we could let you have it for nearly nothing."

"The new rich lady nodded in a sage way.

"Yes, of course," she said, "Chromo is a struggling and obscure artist, and he can't expect to command good prices till he makes a popular hit, can he?"

Culture and Cooking.
Critical Husband—Where did you get the recipe for this mess?
Cultured Wife (calmly)—When speaking of the directions for preparing foods you should say "receipt." When referring to medicinal preparations you may, if you choose, use the term "recipe" from the Latin "receptere"—take.

Vultures Employed for the Purpose in Costa Rica, and Traveler Says They Are Efficient.

Garbage collectors in Costa Rica enjoy their occupation, because they eat what they find. In his book, "Sailing South," Philip S. Marden writes as follows:

"I was awakened on the first morning in town by a sound of wheels in the street below, and looked out. It was an impressive sight. The garbage man was abroad on his scavenging rounds. Ahead of his open wagon walked in a sober platoon four enormous vultures, all in sable and maintaining the chastened demeanor of undertakers at an open grave. Behind the wagon walked half a dozen other vultures similarly sedate. And around the rim of the cart, perched in solemn row, sat twenty-one other birds of the same species and same somber hue. I would fain have immortalized the scene, but the camera, alas, wasn't loaded. I began to understand why the streets of San Jose, which leave much to be desired in other respects, are at least so notably clean. The buzzards attend to that!"

No Workers.
"How many daughters has she?"
"Three. And not a dish washer among them."

A long life without accomplishment is but a row of numbers on a calendar.

Grassland Notes

Our school, which has been taught by Prof. M. B. Hood and Miss Marile Lowe, closed Friday.

Interesting programs were rendered Thursday and Friday nights.

This, in many ways has been the most successful year in the history of the Grassland school, and it is to be regretted that we will not have Prof. Hood and Miss Lowe in the school another year.

Both of them will leave in a few days for Canyon to attend the Summer Normal. While we regret to lose him from our community, Prof. Hood's friends are proud to learn of his selection as principal of the Tahoka High School. We have not learned what Miss Lowe's plans are for another year.

J. B. Miles, farmer-stockman of the O'Donnell community, was in Tahoka Tuesday, looking after business matters. In expressing his views on the general condition of the country at this time, Mr. Miles stated that the South Plains section had a better season just now than he had seen in thirty years. He is one of the old timers in the west, having resided west of Big Spring for thirty years and has spent twenty years of this period of time in Lynn county.
