O'DONNELL AND WILSON COMING

County-Wide Get-Together Set For Friday Night; Will Serve Refreshments

By G. H. NELSON
Sec'y Chamber of Commerce
Next Friday night, August 20th, the citizens of Tahoka will be given an opportunity to show the people of Wilson and O'Donnell that they are welcome to our little city. You will be afforded an opportunity to show the farmers from all parts of this country that you appreciate them as neighbors and recognize them to be among the progressive citizens of the state.

A few nights ago about fifty Tahoka men and women received from the O'Donnell Chamber of Commerce a cordial welcome at the meeting of their Chamber of Commerce. They were glad to have us come and meet with them. We went there for the purpose of having a better understanding between the Tahoka people and the O'Donnell people and to boost the Lynn county fair. We were assured that O'Donnell would be behind any movement that stands for the betterment of Lynn County. Let us show them next Friday night that we too are with them on these movements for general betterment.

Whether you are a member of the Chamber of Commerce or not, we want you to come to this meeting. There is no better advertising for a town than that entertainment courtesy, and refined treatment given by its citizens to visitors. A town can have no greater draw-back than for its citizens to be unconcerned and negligent concerning the entertainment of those who come into our midst of their own volition much less those whom we invite to come and be with us. Can you afford not to come out Friday night to the city tabernacle and do your part?

"THE SCHOOL OF 1926-27" IS SUBJECT OF SUPERINTENDENT

(By M. L. H. BAZE)
(Superintendent of Schools)

Soon the school bell will ring to call the children of the Tahoka Schools together for another nine months term. No doubt some patrons have already begun to speculate as to what kind of school we are going to have this year. As a matter of fact the change in administration of any institution brings speculation, and sometimes doubtful speculation. The fact that patrons begin to think of these matters is in itself a good omen, for interest in an undertaking is the first essential to success. In coming to your town as head of your schools I am gratified to find the interest that you have in things educational. I have always dreaded indifference in matters pertaining to education, but interest that might seemingly be against the progress of the schools as first interpreted is a sign that there is power at hand that only needs direction. It is my purpose to try to turn the power and interest in the right channel. In order to accomplish what I wish to accomplish this year there must be a clear and sympathetic understanding between the school administration and policy and the patrons. It is with the purpose in mind of setting forth some of the essential features of the proposed policy that I shall hand to the local paper articles for publication.

In the beginning of my sojourn with you I wish it to be known that I am a citizen of your town and community. As a citizen, not in any essential different from any other citizen, I ask and expect to be granted the privilege of a free exercise of my individual rights as a citizen. In the exercise of my individual rights as a citizen of your town I ask to be judged as a citizen and not as an administrator in your schools. Let us in the beginning of our work together understand this distinction.

Contrary to our beliefs at times, the school is by far the biggest business of your town. I do not hesitate to make this statement. It is my purpose to make it the biggest business of your town this year if at all possible. We must understand that the school in many respects is not unlike any other business institution of your town, and it should be run on a business basis. It has

MORE STOLEN GOODS FOUND

McCormack Goods Discovered Near Abandoned Car; Car Belonged To Kansas Men

D. W. Gagnat of the McCormack Hardware Company has recovered another lot of the goods which were stolen from the McCormack Store recently. As stated last week, two of the stolen shot guns and the radio were found in a Ford coupe which has been abandoned on the highway southeast of Hermleigh Tuesday of this week, the sheriff's office here were notified that other loot had been found and Mr and Mrs Gagnat went down immediately to identify and recover the stolen property. They brought back with them three of the pistols, eleven razors, ten of which were McCormack property and one of which evidently belonged to some of the thieves and was left through mistake, and one rifle, which Mr. Gagnat had not missed from the store but which he identified as belonging to the Store. These weapons were found wrapped in two rain coats, hidden in a pasture just across the Santa Fe railway track from the public highway where the stolen Ford coupe had been found. Some boys out hunting accidentally ran up on the stolen property and they notified Scurry county officers.

The owner of the Ford coupe has also been found and he has also recovered the car. It belonged to a gentleman residing at Little River, Kansas. It was stolen some time since July 7, according to Sheriff Wesley Simpson. It bore a Texas license number and an Oklahoma number was found in the car, but it bore no Kansas number when found.

On the next night after this car was abandoned near Hermleigh, a Chrysler-4 Sedan was stolen at Sweetwater, and officers suspect that the same thieves who broke into McCormack's Store and who abandoned the Ford coupe took the Sweetwater car.

Mr. Gagnat says that Sheriff Simpson and deputy sheriff W. M. Lee have been strictly on the job trying to locate the stolen property and to apprehend the thieves ever since the burglary occurred and he appreciates their untiring efforts.

Files Complaint Of Swindling; Jugged For Bootlegging

A certain O'Donnell gentleman was brought before His Honor, Judge C. H. Cain, a few days ago upon a charge of having given a "cold" check. He entered a plea of guilty to the charge and begged the mercy of the court. The Judge decided to ask some questions in order to determine whether or not he should be lenient and found that the prisoner had never paid the check. He insisted that this be done. The prisoner seemed perfectly willing to go to jail and pay a fine but he was strangely unwilling to pay the check in question. This aroused the Court's suspicions and upon further inquiry he found out that the check had been given in payment for some "hooch" that the complaining witness had sold the alleged swindler. Complaints were filed in turn against the complainant in the swindling case, a search warrant was issued by the Court, and a constable was sent to search his place of business in O'Donnell. Van Bates made the search and he found quite a quantity of the liquor in defendant's place of business. The liquor was taken charge of and the prisoner brought to jail. Friends made his bond and he was soon released from the county bastille, but the next grand jury will look into his case.

COACH RESIGNS; ELECT NEW ONE

Johnson To Attend School; Lewis, Coach At Littlefield, Is Elected To Coach Here

About two weeks Jack Johnson of Roscoe, who had been elected as coach and teacher of Science in the Tahoka High School for the coming year, tendered his resignation, stating that he expected to attend school again this year. He was released from his contract and on Tuesday of this week O. G. Lewis of Rule was elected to fill the vacancy.

Mr. Lewis taught and coached athletics the past two years in the Littlefield High School. He did successful work both as a teacher and as a coach, having been re-elected. On account of local conditions he preferred a change, however, and made application to the Tahoka board. Prior to his teaching experience he was a student in the West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon. He is a young man of pleasing personality, and it is believed that he will do excellent work here.

Miss Tempy Garrett, who holds a B. S. degree from the Southwest Texas State Teachers College at San Marcos and a Federal vocational certificate under the Smith-Hughes Act, was elected teacher of Home Economics. Miss Garrett has had two years experience as a teacher and comes well recommended.

Editor Well Fed During Week

Raises Fine Apples
The apple raisers of Lynn county are in their glory this year. Will Montgomery, who was one of the first settlers in this county, has a nice little apple orchard out at his place two miles northwest of town, just to prove to the editor that he is some apple-raiser, he brought to the News office Monday afternoon three specimens of the forbidden fruit. He drew one apple from the sack and we pronounced it nice. He drew a second one and we said it was magnificent. He drew a third one and we almost fainted. It was almost as big as a pumpkin. Will said it measured thirteen and 3/4 inches in circumference, and that was no Jimferguson talk. We took it up home and fed the family the biggest "bait" of apples they have had since leaving Arkansas.

Bill says he also has oodles of grapes, that make the finest jam and jelly and grape-juice and things that ever happened. He invited us out, and we think we shall go.

Uncle Jimmie Has The Grapes

Uncle Jimmie Fleming has a nice little vineyard out at his home in the west part of town and twice recently he has brought us parcels of the fruit of the vine. This editor has liked grapes ever since he was a kid. In our youthful days we used to climb away up and out among the branches of the trees to pluck the "mustangs." When we went grape-hunting we always got the grapes, though sometimes we came back with a puckered mouth. But Uncle Jimmie's grapes do not pucker your mouth. They are of the modern improved variety, and they don't grow in California any better. If there is anything that we like better than grapes it is grape-juice, Billie Bryan's drink, and Uncle Jimmie has the material to make it out of. We are going to see him some Sunday and stay all day.

Muskellon, Too

Mrs. J. O. King got a hunch that the editor liked muskmelons and she sent in a fine specimen Saturday, all of which we greatly enjoyed.

Clint Pool, Raymond Pool, and Gene Herring and families of Mt. Calm are here this week visiting the families of R. C. Wood, Bob Walton, and Roy Poer.

Warning Made To Traffic Violators

Attention is hereby called to the fact that the City Ordinances prohibit the parking of cars along the curb on certain streets in the business districts for more than ten minutes at a time. This includes delivery cars as well as others. The ordinances also prohibit the parking of cars within twenty feet of a fire plug or a corner in the business section. Violations of these ordinances are punishable by fine. Warning is hereby given that violations of these ordinances will be prosecuted.

BEGIN WORK ON H. S. BUILDING

Architect, Contractor, and Board Lay Off Ground; To Start Excavation Immediately

Preliminary work on Tahoka's $100,000 high school building was begun Tuesday morning. Mr. Wheeler the contractor and Mr. Galbraith, architect, of the firm of David S. Castle & Co. were here, and in company with members of the school board they selected the exact location for the building and staked off the ground. Excavation work will have begun probably before this is in print, at any rate before the end of the week. A small water pipe was laid early this week to the building site so as to furnish the water needed in building operations. It is Mr. Wheeler's purpose to begin operations in earnest just as soon as material can be gotten on the ground and to rush the work to completion at the earliest date possible consistent with good workmanship.

Coughran Reports More Land Sales

Several tracts of the Reiger lands lying along the line of Lynn and Lubbock counties have been sold since our report of sales last week, according to Anson Coughran, the agent. The additional sales reported by Mr. Coughran are as follows: B. R. Tate 160 acres, Jeff Connolly 160 acres, J. W. Simpson 320 acres, Mr. Smith of Coke county 320 acres, and L. A. Suttle of Coolidge, Limestone county, 320 acres.

Mrs. S. F. Kay of Hubbard, Hill county, is here visiting her sons, Bill and Joe Thompson.

CROPS ARE SUFFERING FROM THE CONTINUED DRY WEATHER

Much of the cotton in Lynn county has greatly deteriorated the last ten days as a result of the continued dry, hot weather. Perhaps two-thirds of the acreage has not yet appreciably suffered, but the other third has suffered greatly. A large section of country beginning about six miles east of Tahoka and extending to the east line of the county and thence on to Post, another large area in the Draw section, and a smaller area lying seven to ten miles north of Tahoka are in the stricken area in the Draw section, and in the next few days, the yield in all this territory will not be more than half what it promised two weeks ago. Some local showers fell in different parts of the county the past week but very little of these drouth sections were touched and the rainfall was not sufficient to relieve the situation. In some fields the cotton is already beginning to open and the prospects are that the ginning season will begin three or four weeks earlier this year than last year.

In the O'Donnell trade territory copious rains have fallen and the crops have not suffered. The same

MULLICAN IS MOODY SPEAKER

Lubbock Forces Coming. Joe Burkett Will Speak Monday For "Ma" Ferguson

It is announced that a Moody rally will be held on the court house lawn at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Judge Clarke M. Mullican of Lubbock, Judge of the 72nd Judicial District, will speak in behalf of Mr. Moody for governor. It is expected that people will be here from all parts of the county to hear this address. Lynn county was formerly included in the 72nd district and Judge Mullican was one of the most popular judges who ever sat on the bench in this county. He is a forceful speaker, clean and fair in his presentation of facts, and a most interesting discussion of the issues involved in the campaign is promised.

Following his address here, Judge Mullican will go to O'Donnell, where he will speak at 4:30. A number of Moody supporters here are planning to accompany the Judge to Lubbock.

Announcement has been made in the daily press that Joe Burkett, formerly Lynn county commissioner under the Ferguson administration, will make a speaking tour of West Texas, and Tahoka is included in his itinerary. He will speak here next Monday night.

Two Wells' Hogs Die Of Cholera

Two hogs belonging to J. S. Wells & Son out on one of the Wells farms died of cholera Tuesday. The hogs were raised in this county and the Messrs. Wells have no idea how the disease was contracted.

Dr. F. D. Porter of Fort Worth, Dr. J. G. Porter of Lubbock, representative of the Bureau of Animal Industry of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and Dr. G. H. Jackson, local veterinarian, went out to the farm Tuesday and held an autopsy. They made a thorough diagnosis and positively pronounced the malady to be hog cholera. They advised immediate vaccination of the other hogs on the place, and the advice was promptly followed.

This is the first case of hog cholera reported in Lynn county this year, so far as we have heard.

Farmers should closely watch their hogs and call a veterinarian if any symptoms of cholera should develop.

Fire Boys Hold Practice In Rain

The regular practice of the Tahoka Volunteer Fire Department is supposed to be on Thursday afternoon at 7 o'clock unless rain or bad weather prohibits.

Last week it rained and the boys were not expecting to practice therefore some had gone home while others were elsewhere doing nothing in particular.

But at the regular time some two or three of them were at the Fire Station and they decided then and there to determine how the other firemen would respond to the fire whistle while raining. The big siren was turned on full force and presto, the boys began coming in from all directions.

Large Indian Mound Discovered By U. of T.

Austin, Texas, Aug. 17—One of the largest Indian mounds ever discovered in Texas, located near Bandera, was positively identified as a "kitchen midden" recently by Roy Bedichek, director of the University of Texas Interscholastic League. A trip into the hills of Bandera County was made for the special purpose of investigating the mound, which was brought to Bedichek's attention by J. Marvin Hunter of Bandera, editor and publisher of the Frontier Times. Both Bedichek and Hunter are much interested in the study of the life and customs of the primitive people who lived in Texas prior to the coming of the white man. They have personally made extensive investigations of Indian mounds in various parts of the state.

At Bandera, Mr. Bedichek was joined by Mr. Hunter and they proceeded over a rough mountain road to a point near Tarpley, about 15 mi. south of Bandera. They met with no difficulty in finding the mound and it proved to be one of the largest ever discovered in Texas, according to Bedichek. Beyond establishing beyond a doubt its identity as a "kitchen midden" of remarkable magnitude and possible scientific interest, nothing was done by the visitor on this preliminary trip to uncover its contents. They hope that this may be done in a systematic way at some later time.

San Angelo—Five days of horse racing for prizes aggregating $4,500 are being offered this year as one of the chief attractions of the 1926 All West Texas Exposition to be held in San Angelo the last week in September. The program scheduled will be one of the largest racing cards ever held in Texas, and turf entries are already being made.

S. B. GOODRICH PRAISES LYNN COUNTY IN "HOME MADE" VERSE

S. B. Goodrich recently spent some weeks on Echo Ranch in Coleman county, and occasionally his heart would turn back to Dixie, Dixie in this case being the rolling plains of Lynn county. In this attitude of mind an heart one night he banished his accustomed prosaic thoughts and fell to writing verse. This child of his brain he named "A Psalm of Praise to Lynn County." The production was as follows.

Dear Lynn County, the pride of the West,
Because in development she is leading the rest;
Lynn county, the opulent Queen of the Plains,
Because of her excellent cotton and grains.

Her people are busy and so full of pep,
Other counties get dizzy watching her step;
Ah! yes, they are coming, so full of snap,
That's why she's outgrowing any place on the map.
They are farming by science, using judgment and pains,
And crops are a certainty regardless of rains.

The soil is the richest—grows everything but rice;
And in times of great dearth, they raise the taxes and price.
They boast of the climate in optimistic tune;
When it's hot, the nights will be pleasant, they say, in June.

Her citizens are peaceful and abide by the law;
Her officers rarely have to take one to tow.
Her boys are sober and carouse scarcely a bit;
If it were not for the weddings, the Justice would quit.

Her people all united, this unit the law enforces.
The courts have little to do but the granting of a few divorces.

The Lynn County News, that glorious sheet,
The most lofty views it strives fully to meet.
To read its editorials is a satisfying treat.
As a local newspaper it's very nice complete;
The editor he is both wise and great—
But sometimes he mails it a wee bit late,
So laden with news that they haul it by freight.

Old Lynn County, my sport of the past,
My pleasures with her were too sweet to last;

She promised me much on the golden Tomorrow,
Then darkened my life with the bitterest sorrow.
She broke my heart with disappointing pain,
But she's so fascinating I'll flirt with her again.

Lynn County a fairy land on this green earth,
The home of my children, the place of their birth;
A land of the free and home of the brave,
Where nestles my loved one's precious grave.

Lynn County, my home land, the pride of the plains;
I've drifted far from thee but my heart there remains.
I've drifted far from thee but never from choice,
I'll embrace thee again some day and rejoice.

Tahoka! the place where I gained—and lost—
Where I suffered deep pain and my life was storm-tossed,
I'll trust thee again, whatever the cost.

To the Kiwanis Club of Tahoka:
I desire to express my sincere thanks to each and every member of the Kiwanis Club for the A. & M. scholarship.

I attended the meeting at the A. & M. College August 2-7 inclusive. The trip was most enjoyable in every way. The week's work was most instructive and entertaining.

I took part in the State Baccalaureate contest. Although our county won no prizes, our district won thirteen places, of which we are all very proud. The five Club women and three Club girls who came from Lynn county are all well pleased with their trips.

Again thanking you for my scholarship, I am

WHEN DREAMS COME TRUE

You have doubtless been planning for years how that home of your dreams would be constructed, and when you come to the practical side—the actual building of a home—give earnest thought to the material that will be hidden in the walls.

The same care with which home buyers naturally consider the charm and outward comforts of a home should be given to unseen, hidden construction within the walls.

Within those walls are concealed materials and workmanship that affects so vitally the durability of the home—how long that outward charm will last.

Lumber is there, with the very important task of so strengthening the structure that it will hold its own against time and undue depreciation. Good lumber can be the home owner's best investment asset.

For years the lumber we sell has given home buyers and builders merited confidence in the durability of the home.

It is well manufactured—it is economical—it gives maximum building value.

ON THE SESQUI LAGOONS

Here are Americans, visitors to the Sesqui-Centennial international Exposition in Philadelphia which celebrates the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, riding about the lagoons in an Italian craft, a gondola, from which they view the buildings and displays from many lands. In the distance can be seen the mammoth Sesqui Stadium; to the right is the signal tower of the United States Coast Guard building and exhibit, and to the left is one of the Japanese pagodas which dot the exposition grounds. The Grecian pavilion is one of the permanent structures on the site before the city government decided to build the Sesqui at the front door of the great Philadelphia Navy Yard. Visiting Lady Is Entertained At "42"

Mrs. W. B. Slaton entertained with a "42" party honoring Mrs. B. E. Hamilton of Whitney in her beautiful home Wednesday afternoon. The reception rooms were decorated with vases of zenias.

Six tables of players were present, and at the end of the interesting contest, Mrs. R. P. Weathers was found to have the high score.

Nut ice cream and nut cake, with nasturtiums as plate favors, were served the following: Mesdames B. E. Hamilton, E. E. Callaway, R. H. King, Grover Stewart, Elbert Boulloun, "Boots" Swan, B. L. Hamilton, R. C. Moreland, R. W. Fenton, C. B. Townes, E. Smith, T. L. Lemond, Jack Alley, B. H. Robinson, R. P. Weathers, A. L. Lockwood, J. L. Heare, A. I. Thomas, L. E. Turrentine, Frank Hill, B. Mrs. Caveness Undergoes Operation

Friends in Tahoka have been informed that Mrs. H. P. Caveness, who with the other members of the family went to Greenville about three weeks ago to visit relatives, was compelled to undergo an operation soon after her arrival in Greenville, and the family have not been able to return home or to visit at other places on that account. It is understood that Mrs. Caveness' condition is improving, however, and the family are expected home within the next few days.

Mrs. W. E. Hamilton and son B. E. Hamilton of Whitney spent several days here with B. L. Hamilton of the First National Bank.

Mr. Hamilton is connected with the bank at Whitney and is enjoying his vacation. He was formerly cashier of the Roscoe State Bank, when the editor used to hibernate in that part of the West, and hence he knows many things on the editor which he was kind enough not to mention while here. We hope to locate B. E. out on these plains some time.

S. W. Sanford and son Lawrence returned Friday night from Sierra Blanca, where the family went to visit relatives.

Mrs. Sanford and daughter Virginia will remain a few weeks.

Maurice Small, who has been in Corpus Christi the past few months, arrived Tuesday to spend a couple of weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Small.

Mrs. W. B. Slaton and daughter, Lucille returned Wednesday from a short visit to Dallas.

Miss Jewel Sherrod is visiting friends in Amarillo.

Charley Thompson of Littlefield was here the first half of the week visiting his brother, Bill and Joe. Charley says that the good rains which visited Littlefield last week have assured the best crops in the history of the county.

Police Dogs "Wolfish"

The police dogs are not a distinct breed, but are shepherd dogs police trained. The German police dog should stand 22 to 26 inches at the shoulder and show in every line the qualities which he is supposed to possess—intelligence, alertness, loyalty, gentleness, courage, obedience, willingness and devotion. While the standard allows great range of color, those most often seen in this country are of the so-called "wolf" colors, dark tipping of hair over a tawny or buff ground. The muzzle (unlike that of a wolf) is usually blackish. Both the German and Belgian dogs may be divided into three general types—namely, rough-haired, wire-haired and smooth-haired. By their erect ears and general expression they betray their near relationship to the wolf.

Honest at Least

Her blond prettiness and dainty attire attracted a woman as she stood beside her in the public library. From her chic satin hat to her trim little shoes she was the last word in feminine smartness.

She had asked the librarian for the most widely read book of the day and the librarian was doubtful whether there was a copy in at present, but after searching a few moments returned and handed her the desired book.

"Oh, goodness, no! It has too many pages; I heard so much about it I just thought I should read it, but that's too much of a job," and thanking the girl very sweetly, tripped out of the building, leaving a faint trace of perfume and a wide-eyed librarian behind her.

Musical Instruments

Certain musical instruments are used almost entirely by one sex, others by both. The harp is largely a woman's instrument, but when men take it up they show marvellous ability to master it. The piano is very evenly divided between the sexes. Brass instruments are played mainly by men, ukuleles by women. The banjo is a man's instrument, while mandolins are well divided between the sexes. The saxophone, the most popular of all instruments at the present time, is played by both men and women.—John Howe in the American Magazine.

Eagle Gobbles Golf Ball

A possible eagle on the course of the Tallahassee Country club was made impossible by a real eagle, the big bird swooping down on the eighth green to seize a golf ball, as it was trickling in the general direction of the cup, says an Associated Press dispatch from Tallahassee, Fla. Frederick C. Elliot was the victim and gained scant comfort from the assurance that the eagle was "an agency outside the match" and the incident could not be held "a rub of the green."

H. M. Larkin and family, Mrs. S. J. Smith, Miss Maurine Davis and C. D. Doak and family of O'Donnell returned Wednesday from Ruidoso and other points of scenic beauty in New Mexico. The visited Carlsbad Cavern.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Swan and Garrett Richards have been in New Mexico for the past several days.

O. J. Jackson returned the first of the week from a trip to Bosque and McLennan counties, and he says that he saw cotton in that part of Texas of immense size that had practically nothing on it. He thinks the crop will be short in central Texas.

Band To Give Another Concert Soon

The Tahoka Concert Band is making better progress from week to week. They have played through the new music without any trouble whatsoever and are now waiting for other music that is supposed to be here some time in the next few days.

After they receive this music and have practiced a few nights they are going to give a concert on the Courthouse lawn and we have been assured that this concert will be the best that has been played in Tahoka in several moons.

Plans are underway now and the desired locations are being sought for the band to go and have all day practices on Sundays. Sometime within the next few weeks it is their plan to take their dinners and go to some place where there will be plenty of shade and water and practice all day.

If any one knows of a place where there is ample shade and water in the radius of 10 miles let the News know where it is and we will tell the band about it.

Wilson Pastor Holds Successful Revival

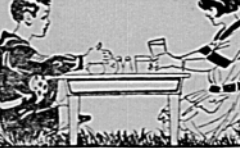

Rev. Graves Darby, pastor of the Baptist Church at Wilson, was a pleasant caller at the News office Saturday and reported that he had been engaged in a most successful revival with his home church. The services were to close Sunday night.

He was assisted in the meeting by Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Blankenship, who directed the music, and he was lavish in his praise of their work.

Up to Saturday there had been forty-two additions to the Church, about thirty of them being by Baptism. Among the number were two Catholics, the father and mother of nine children.

This is the third year in succession that Brother Darby has held a revival meeting at Wilson. Two years ago there were about 75 additions to the church and last year about 45. The Church has greatly prospered under his ministry.

Nourishing Drink for Children

BABIES and children, the same as adults, grow weary of being fed the same food in the same way each day. It is true that most children take naturally to milk, but that does not mean that they must be fed it ad nauseam. On the contrary, that is the very thing to be avoided.

Pediatricians advise consumption by children of a quart of milk a day in one form or another. This does not mean skim milk, but whole milk, for the skimmed product is lacking both in butter fat and the essential food element known as vitamin A, which is found in butter fat. Many mothers do not appreciate that removal of cream from the top of a bottle of milk results in skim milk.

In evaporated milk, a product recommended by many leading doctors for the use of infants and children and which is simply pure cow's milk sterilized in cans and with sixty per cent of the water removed, there is no cream line. The milk in the top of a can is the same as it is in the bottom of the container. This results from a process called homogenization, in which the fat globules in the milk are broken up into such microscopic bits that they remain in homogeneous suspension. Every drop of homogenized milk has a buttery taste because it contains butter fat. For this reason, in evaporated milk, there is none of the flat taste one finds in drinking from the bottom of a bottle of market milk.

In order to avoid feeding the baby or child plain milk three or four times a day, many authorities recommend the use of a mixture of fruit juice and milk, a highly palatable and refreshing drink.

Following is a recipe worked out by experts for an orange-milk drink: Mix in a fruit-jar 1/3 of a cupful of orange juice, 1/4 of a cupful of evaporated milk, three teaspoonfuls of sugar, 1/2 teaspoonful of lemon juice and a few grains of salt. Shake well before serving.

WITH THE

New Pyroxylin Paint Job

ARE NOW READY FOR DELIVERY

We have recently changed our closed body finish from a varnish paint job to Pyroxylin paint. Pyroxylin is the correct name for all cellulose and gun cotton base paints, although numerous manufacturers have applied particular trade-names to their individual Pyroxylin paints, such as Duco, Mimax, etc.

This paint, as you probably know, withstands the elements, and is not affected by alkali and acids, and will not mar as easily as the old type varnish finish.

Fordor Sedans are being finished in a Mole-Skin Gray color with Champaign striping, while the Tudor Sedans and Coupes are a Drake Green with Emerald Green striping.

Occasionally a street preacher comes along who seems to feel it his duty to take a whack at the churches and missions. One was here last week. He was a good speaker and an entertaining fellow, and he said some good things that many preachers need to hear. But like most of his kind, he put in a good part of his time criticising the churches and the pastors of this country. We have no objection to street preaching. We believe in it, when it is of the right kind. We think it does much good. But were it not for the churches and the pastors, whom these street preachers use so much time in criticising, this country would not be fit for decent white folks to live in and even the street preachers would often be stoned from the city as in days of old. As for missions, this country has become Christian as a result of missions. If Paul and other early Christians had not carried the gospel to Western lands and if their converts had not later carried it to England and other countries of western Europe, our ancestors would never have been Christianized and Europe and America would still be pagan lands. This street preacher also spoke lightly of the "Chinks" and expressed opposition to sending money to China so long as there is need at home. That is a narrow and sinful view. A few years ago there was a terrible famine in China. Children by the thousands could be found lying by the roadside, in the hovels, in the streets, literally starving to death. The same condition prevailed just a few years ago in Armenia. He is either an ignoramus or a heartless brute who would answer their wail with a sneer and with a plea to "let them starve." The real Christian is concerned with the welfare of the child, physically and spiritually, at home and abroad. Any brand of Christianity that would deny aid to any human being in distress, either physically or spiritually, anywhere, at any time, when aid can be extended, either from race prejudice or piousness or indifference to human suffering, is a spurious brand of Christianity. The churches are far from being what they ought to be, but they are yet the greatest force for good in this world. Let no street preacher prejudice you against the churches existing throughout this country and their pastors, who are usually golly and God-fearing men.

After Jim got so terribly licked in the first primary, he told Ma to withdraw and say that she would resign later Ma did so. But a few days later the Klan had a meeting. Jim didn't know that the Klan was going to have a meeting, and so when he found out that they had met without his knowledge and consent, he told Ma to get back in there and stay, that Dan had not accepted her challenge anyway, that a million school children must be protected from the terrible Dan, that the oil octopus was about to get the country, and that besides he had some unfinished business on hand which it greatly behooved him and her to attend to before turning loose. Ma got back in, and now some are predicting that it will take the ranger force to put her and Jim out in January.

What does a promise amount to? A solemn promise voluntarily made to the people of Texas? The governor says it amounts to nothing, and the people are asked to endorse her position. What virtue is there in keeping a solemn agreement voluntarily made with an adversary? None. It was made only for political purposes. It was made to be broken if the occasion should arise. All things are fair in war and politics. Why ask Ma to resign? Why censure her for not withdrawing? Let's elect her again and show to the world that we are not so simple-minded down here in Texas as to regard a promise or an agreement as binding. It's a mere scrap of paper.

When Ma announced her withdrawal from the race and stated that she would resign about November, she did so in good faith, she tells us. But afterwards she discovered that Lee Satterwhite and a fellow named Bobbitt had contributed to Dan's Campaign fund. When these outrageous acts of wickedness came to light, who could expect her to longer keep her pledge? She must renew her fight against wickedness in high places. It is true that a south Tex. as county judge who was a candidate for re-election had contributed to her campaign fund, according to her sworn statement, but that was an act of patriotism on his part. It was illegal and abominable and outrageous, however, for the Amarillo gentleman and the Laredo gentlemen to send in donations for Dan. Unless these donations are vetoed and squelched and abolished, and contributors kicked out of the party and slammed in jail, and Ma is re-elected so as to get a chance to pardon them, the country will go on the rocks. Ma must be re-elected!

News dispatches from Austin state that the special session of the Legislature soon to meet will be called upon to appropriate $6,000,000. State Superintendent S. M. N. Marrs will call for an appropriation of $4,000,000 to supplement the public school fund and insure an apportionment next year of $15.00 per pupil. Deficiency warrants aggregating $1,531,495 have already been signed by Governor M. A. Ferguson. Deficiencies inherited from Neff administration amount to about $400,000, bringing the total up to almost two million. Unless appropriations are made to meet these deficiencies, the holders of the state warrants must wait till some time next year, without interest to get their pay. Thus it seems that the claim made by the Fergusons that they have saved the people of Texas ten million dollars, if it was ever true, is fast fading away.

That the wheat belt of the Plains is wallowing in prosperity just now becomes evident upon glancing through the newspapers published in that section. A wheat crop of heretofore unequalled proportions has just been harvested, the yield in some portions of the Panhandle having been reported as high as sixty or seventy bushels per acre in some instances. Thirty and forty bushels per acre are common. In addition to all this, the biggest oil field in Texas has recently been developed in the Panhandle. A good feed crop is promised throughout the entire plains country, while an unprecedented cotton crop is just in sight all over the south plains. We have been saying that some day the Plains and Panhandle will one day be the richest section of Texas. That day is already dawning.

Jim told Ma to say that she did want to withdraw and resign and get out of this political muddle and away from the pie counter, but when she thought of one million three hundred thousand poor little school children who would be compelled to grow up in ignorance unless she were again elected governor it almost broke her heart, and so she has decided to again offer herself and her poor husband as a sacrifice on the altar of her country. And now what in the world will become of those poor little school children after Ma is led out and Jim is kicked out and that monkey-faced Moody becomes governor along about January?

Ma says she would like to be relieved of her public duties and return to private life but she has discovered that Liberty is about to be murdered, the government scrapped, and a reign of terror ushered in, and there is no one else to save the country but she and Jim. She decided therefore to break her promise to resign and will do her best to keep the fool people from sinking the old ship they are all on. The question that bothers us is, How in the tarmin did this old world manage to rock along six thousand years or more before Ma and Jim appeared on the scene?

The state automatic tax board has figured that the public school apportionment for next year shall be only $12.00 per child. It was $14.00 last year and the year before. A special appropriation will have to be made by the legislature soon to meet if the appropriation is increased to $15.00, as favored by both candidates for governor. That will mean about $4,000,000 additional taxes, however.

W. Gregory Hatcher of Dallas county and J. R. Ball of Fannin county are in the run-off for state treasurer. Mr Hatcher is the present treasurer, asking for a second term, while his opponent has received the endorsement of Jim Ferguson.

It is more important that there be a full vote in the primary of August 28 than it was that there should be a full vote on July 24. More is involved. Everything that was involved in the first campaign is involved in this. In addition, the people are now to pass on the issue as to whether a solemn pledge made to an opposing candidate and to the people of Texas can be violated with impunity. Every Texan who believes in the practice of honesty and good faith in politics as in the other affairs of life should go to the polls August 28. Let no voter fail to go, through indifference or from a belief that it is not necessary. Let's repudiate political perfidy and condemn Fergusonism with such an avalanche of votes that no candidate for governor in the future will dare to brazenly break a pledge in the second primary which he voluntarily made in the first. Let's redeem Texas.

It's surprising how smart people may be so easily and thoroughly deceived. For instance, Jim and Ma fully believed that Dan had accepted Ma's challenge until several days after the election. On Monday after ward, when Dan's lead had piled up to something more than one hundred thousand, Ma issued a statement saying that she would live up to her agreement with Dan and resign along about November 1. Two weeks later she discovered that Dan had not accepted her challenge at all and that therefore she was not bound by it. 'Twas strange, 'twas passing strange.

A battle royal is on in Ohio. Atlee Pomerene, wet, is the Democratic nominee for the United States Senate against Senator Willis, dry, the Republican incumbent. As long as northern Democrats persist in making prohibition enforcement the dominant issue and take the wet side of the case, they can expect no sympathy from the great mass of Southern Democrats. Most of us believe in the eighteenth amendment and all right-thinking people believe in law enforcement. If Pomerene is defeated overwhelmingly, most southern Democrats will shed no tears.

Dan Moody thought he had accepted Ma's challenge. Jim Ferguson thought Dan had accepted it. Ma thought he had accepted it. Everybody thought he had accepted it. But two weeks after the election Jim discovered that he and Ma and Dan and everybody were mistaken and that Dan had not accepted it at all. He told Ma not to resign, not to withdraw, but to get back in the run-off and that he would give the Ku Klux Hallelujah and they would make the road rocky for Dan even if she didn't have a ghost of a show to be elected. Ma obeyed.

The wets and the Catholics in New York and the East are persistently pushing Governor Al Smith for the Democratic nomination for the Presidency. It would be fatal for the Democrats to nominate him. If it did not cause a split it would cause such a defection from the party that the Republicans would be triumphant by unprecedented majorities. No Al Smith for the South and West. It was the kaiser who declared that a solemn agreement was nothing more than a scrap of paper. The governor of Texas apparently believes him.

TO SAVE AN EDITOR
Here is a minister who appreciates the editor. At a recent editorial convention he offered the following toast: "To save an editor from starvation take his paper and pay for it promptly. To save him from bankruptcy advertise in his paper liberally. To save him from despair send him every item of news of which you can get hold. To save him from profanity, write your correspondence plainly on one side of the sheet and send it in as early as possible. To save him from mistakes bury him. Dead people are the only ones who never make mistakes."

Fredericksburg—This city is to have a new $125,000 hotel, with work to begin on the structure in less than sixty days. The new building will have every possible feature of the historic Nimitz Hotel, which can be retained. It will contain a large banquet hall, a spacious lobby, and forty-two guest rooms, all steam-heated and provided with hot and cold water.

Aresia, N. M.—Work has been done on three new gins which will serve the Artesian section this year, when the cotton crop is brought in by the farmers. The Alfalfa Association gin is practically complete and buildings have been completed and awaits the arrival of the gin machinery, which will be installed soon.

Texas Lady Tells How She Got Rid of Her Troubles.
"The first time I took Cardui, I was in an awful bad way," says Mrs. Ora Carlie, R. F. D. 5, Troup, Texas.
"I was afflicted with awful smothering spells. My mother had some Cardui in the house that she was taking, so she immediately began giving it to me. In a few days I got all right.
"Last fall I got run-down in health. I was weak and puny and I began to suffer with . . . I would get so I could hardly walk. Having taken Cardui before, I sent to the store for a bottle of it.
"Almost from the first dose I could feel the improvement. . . I am much better now.
"Cardui has helped me a lot and I am glad to recommend it. I don't feel like the same woman I was last fall.
"My appetite is good now, and I'm sure it's Cardui that's made it pick up, for in the fall I had no relish for food at all, while now I'm hungry for my meals."

THE STATE OF TEXAS
COUNTY OF LYNN
TO THE SHERIFF OR ANY CONSTABLE OF LYNN COUNTY:

GREETINGS
You are hereby commanded to summon Vera Mae Page, by making publication of this citation once in each week, for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published in your county, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, TO APPEAR AT THE NEXT REGULAR TERM OF THE DISTRICT COURT OF LYNN COUNTY TEXAS, to be holden at the Courthouse thereof, in Tahoka, Texas, on the 3rd Monday in September, the same being the 20th day of September, A. D. 1926, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 23rd day of July, A. D. 1926, in a suit numbered No. 638, on the docket of said Court, wherein Robert T. Page is Plaintiff, and Vera Mae Page is the Defendant, said petition praying for divorce from the bonds of matrimony existing between said parties, the allegations in said Petition, being in substance as follows:

That Plaintiff is and has been a bonafide resident and inhabitant of the State of Texas for a period of one year next preceding the filing of this suit, and of the County of Lynn for at least 6 months prior to the filing of same. That Plaintiff and Defendant were lawfully married to each other on February 6th, 1924, at Brownwood Texas and lived together as husband and wife until their final separation on May 20, 1924, since which time they have been hopelessly estranged. That at all times during the cohabitation of said parties, Plaintiff was a true and dutiful husband, but that the Defendant, immediately after said marriage, commenced a course of cruel and inhuman treatment toward Plaintiff, which increased with severity until their said final separation as aforesaid, and during said time, was continually quarrelsome, and cursed and abused Plaintiff, and applied to him the most vile, and insulting epithets, and would often leave Plaintiff and remain away for several days at a time, without Plaintiff knowing of her whereabouts, and on one occasion shortly prior to said separation, the Defendant admitted to Plaintiff certain improprieties with other men, and admitted that said improprieties were of long standing, all of which greatly distressed Plaintiff, destroying his happiness and peace of mind, and is such nature as to render their further living together insupportable, Wherefore Plaintiff prays for divorce from the bonds of matrimony heretofore existing.

HEREIN Fail Not, but have you before said Court on the said first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

WILLIAM WHIPPLE, SIGNER
A lover of the sea, in command of a vessel before he was twenty-one years of age, was the beginning of the career of William Whipple, New Hampshire signer of the Declaration of Independence. The one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the signing of the document is being celebrated by the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition in Philadelphia. He was engaged in European, West Indian and African trade, and brought many slaves to America. During the Revolution he liberated all those which belonged to him.
The young sailor abandoned the sea in 1759 to enter business with his brother in Portsmouth, continuing in this until two years before the Revolution. He was elected a delegate from New Hampshire to the Continental Congress in 1775, taking his seat in May. For a number of years he was a member of the Provincial Congress of his state and was chosen by that body as one of the Committee of Safety.

Whipple received the commission of Brigadier-General in 1777, and commanded a brigade of New Hampshire troops at Saratoga and Stillwater. He was active in the campaign against Burgoyne, and after the latter's surrender he signed the articles of capitulation with Colonel James Wilkinson on behalf of General Horatio Gates.
General Whipple was afterwards selected as the officer under whose charge the British troops were conducted to their encampment on Winter Hill near Boston.

Robert Morris appointed him financial agent in New Hampshire in 1782, but he resigned soon after the appointment. He was president of the board created to settle a land dispute between Pennsylvania and Connecticut concerning the Wyoming domain. Subsequently he was named State Superintendent of Finance, Judge of the Superior Court and held many other offices until his death in November, 1785.

ANCHOR OF "SANTA MARIA" DISPLAYED AT EXPOSITION

The anchor of the "Santa Maria," flagship of Christopher Columbus when he discovered America in 1492, is on display at the official exhibit of the Republic of Haiti at the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition, now being held in Philadelphia. This priceless relic regarded as the "Liberty Bell" of Haiti, is prominently displayed beneath a portrait of President Borno.

The anchor, which is in an excellent state of preservation, is mute testimony to the eventful Christmas Eve in 1492, when the tiny flagship was wrecked off the Kingdom of Guacanagaric, on the north coast of Haiti. The relic was thrown up on the shores of the island and for centuries remained buried in the sediment of the ocean. Hundreds of years later a fisherman discovered the anchor and notified Government officials. Noted historians, after many years of research have proved the anchor belonged to the Santa Maria when it was wrecked.

GLAD HAND CLASS ENTERTAINS EUZELIANS

The Euzelian class, true to their expectations when they entered the contest with the Glad Hand Class, came out victorious, and To the victors belong the spoils, the "spoils" in this case being ice-cold water melons served by the Glad Hand Class to the ladies at the Twin Wells Friday evening, August 13.

The water melon feast was followed by a series of games, greatly enjoyed by all.

Fair Catalogues Are Being Distributed

By G. H. NELSON
Sec'y. Chamber of Commerce
The fair catalogues for the Lynn County Fair are ready for distribution. Some have already been given out in person. Several hundred more have been mailed to farmers all over the county. If you have not got one of these catalogues, let us have your name and address that we may get one out to you immediately.

The Lynn County Fair this year is going to be the best that has ever been held in Lynn county. When every town in the county and every progressive farmer in the county get behind a thing it must move on. This is the reason why the Lynn County Fair of 1926 is going to be a success. Arrangements have been made to care for your horses, mules, hogs, sheep, goats, chickens, farm products, and anything else that you wish to bring. With the women in all part of the county working, the club exhibits this year promise to be interesting indeed.

You cannot afford to miss the big parade on the last day of the fair, in which there will be a float from every community in the county, from all the different schools, Parent-Teacher Associations, clubs and from many of the business concerns of the county. Put your saddle horse in the parade. Automobile men, this is your opportunity to do some good, free advertising! Plenty of music will be furnished by the bands from O'Donnell and Tahoka and the two orchestras from Wilson. You need not worry about entertainment; for there will be plenty on hand.

THE FOLLY OF ANGER
"When I have lost my temper, I have lost my reason, too. I'm never proud of anything. Which angrily I do. When I have talked in anger and my cheeks were flaming red, I have always uttered something. Which I wish I hadn't said. In anger I have never done. A kindly deed or wise, But many things for Which I should apologize. In looking back across my life, And all I've lost or made I can't recall a single time When fury every paid."

THE SCHOOL OF 1926-'27

its customers that it must serve. These customers are not a few selected individuals. They are not a group. They are the whole people. The school is engaged in the most essential work of the country, not excepting a single institution. Next to the religious organizations it has the most sacred duty to perform and serve to render. Because of the fact that its contact with individuals and future citizens is more constant and extensive than even the religious institutions, the school must assume a weighty, and sometimes trying, responsibility. The present-day school has ceased to be an institution where Sammie is taught merely how to read and interpret the printed page, or solve problems in mathematics, science, etc. The school of today has taken upon itself the responsibility that has been thrust upon it. Let me repeat that this responsibility is very heavy indeed, and sometimes very trying, but the school men have accepted it and are setting about to "carry on" with the burden. The business of the public school is the making of useful, upright citizens. To an appreciable extent the home has broken down. The child has been handed over to the school to direct in mind and body. The school has taken upon itself the training of the child mentally, morally, and physically. The child has been handed to the school as a mass of undeveloped, unmolded clay. The school is expected to take this raw material and mold it into a model of useful humanity.

As a school man of eleven years experience in the public schools of this state, I wish that the patrons learn at the beginning that I appreciate fully the great responsibility that rests upon any man who attempts to direct the affairs of our school. Realizing as I do the great responsibility that I have assumed, I expect to drive straight through to ward the one goal. It never has been and never will be my policy to step aside from the path of duty as I see it before me. As the head of the greatest institution of your own, engaged in the most sacred task of making worthy citizens for your future good, and as one who appreciates fully the great responsibility thrust upon him and received by him, I want it clearly understood from the beginning that I am not subservient to the particular interest of any individual, institution, or group. It is in this undertaking that I ask every patron and every citizen of the town to join hands with me and the School Board. It is utterly impossible for one man to make a school. It is even impossible for your Superintendent and the Board together to make a good school. They need and should expect your hearty co-operation.

As one who has come to your town to direct the affairs of your schools for the building of an efficient system and for the training of your boys and girls in citizenship in its fullest sense, I close this first article with the expressed desire that we begin at once to put aside all preconceived ideas of what the school will be this year and enter into the spirit of co-operation that will rebound to a greater and more lasting growth in education. May we begin to realize the full meaning of the expression: "He is greatest who serves best."

Once Upon a Time

Once upon a time a man invented glasses with which people could see their own faults. He starved to death.

Once upon a time a preacher told his congregation just what they deserved to hear. He was lynched.

Once upon a time a lover told his girl that she was not the only girl he had ever kissed. She dropped dead.

Once upon a time a woman told her husband she would meet him at three o'clock and was at the appointed place five minutes before hand. Then she hawled him out for keeping her waiting.

Once upon a time a newspaper editor ran his paper to please every body. He was deported.

Once a vaudeville actor sang a "mother" song without making "joy" rime "boy" in any of the verses and the audience never recovered from the shock.

Once upon a time a woman told her husband she did not care for a new Easter hat. The alienists say there is no hope for him.

Once upon a time a woman declined to marry a man without promising to be a sister to him. The funeral flowers were costly and beautiful.—Wellington Leader.

SWEETWATER NEWSPAPER MAN KILLED BY TRAIN

Ablene, Texas, Aug. 15.—Riding alone in a large sedan, Hubert L. Roberts, young newspaper man who had been employed on the Sweetwater Daily Reporter, was instantly killed about noon Saturday at a grade crossing five miles west of Abilene. An eastbound Texas & Pacific passenger train struck his automobile at the crossing. The car was dragged several hundred yards and was completely demolished. The locomotive lost its pilot and sustained other damages in the collision. Young Roberts has a brother in Oklahoma and a sister in New York.

Dr. J. R. Singleton and family and E. G. George and family returned the first of the week from points in New Mexico, where they went on a sight-seeing trip. Among other points of interest visited was Carlsbad Cavern. The Doctor says that while exploring this wonderful work of Nature his foot slipped at one point and he came near being precipitated headlong into a chasm 250 feet deep. He thinks there are many points along the trail through this cavern that are dangerous, especially for children and infirm people.

Miss Ruth Nevels was taken to a sanitarium at Lubbock Monday where she underwent an operation for appendicitis. Latest reports are that she is recovering nicely from the ordeal.

Mrs. W. M. Harris is visiting relatives and friends in San Antonio.
