2-county drug sting yields 10 arrests

A two-county drug sting Saturday, January 16, resulted in nine arrests in Motley and Dickens County. An additional arrest was made on Sunday morning.

According to Motley County Sheriff Jim Meador, the drug bust was the result of a six-month operation, with the assistance of DPS Narcotics and South Plains Drug Task Force.

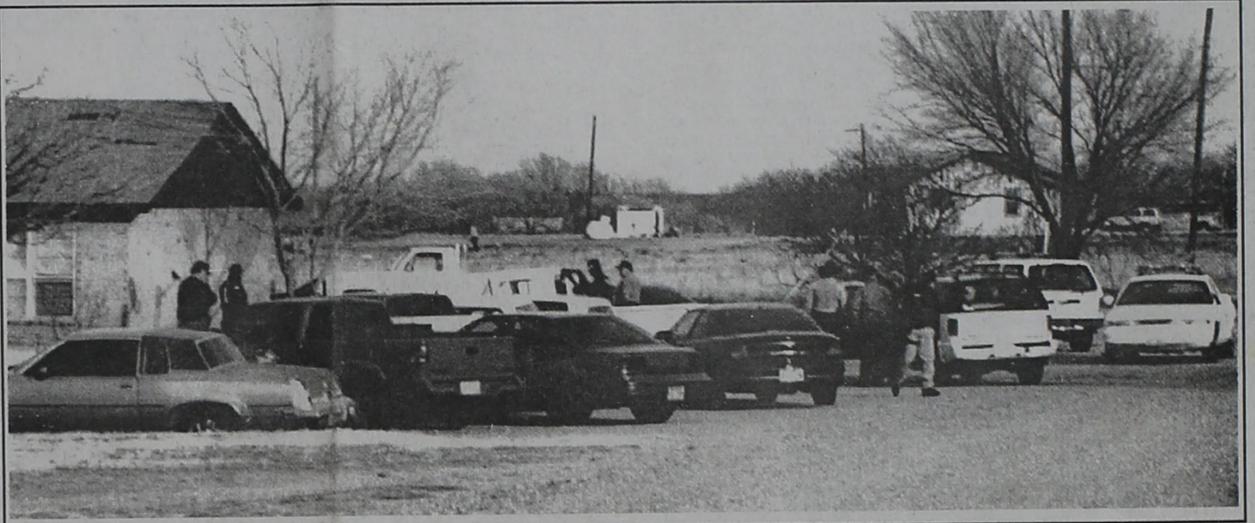

The sting began in Dickens County at about 2:30 p.m. where Motley and Dickens Counties Sheriff's departments, Motley County Game Warden, Spur Police officers, DPS troopers, DPS Narcotics, and members of the South Plains Narcotics Task Force arrested six adults and one juvenile.

The team then moved to Motley County where two adults were arrested. Another 17-year old was arrested on Sunday morning.

Sheriff Meador said that seven warrants for arrests were issued in Motley County. Only three were served on Saturday, with one adult receiving two warrants. The remaining four adults were not found on Saturday, but arrests are expected soon.

Motley County receives check from Tobacco Settlement

State Comptroller Carole Keeton Rylander announced that checks totaling $300 million — some as high as nearly $50 million for the Harris County Hospital — have been mailed to Texas cities, counties and hospital districts across the state to help them recoup some of the costs of providing health care to the indigent patients with tobacco related illnesses.

Motley County Hospital District received $27,056.76. Area counties receiving checks were Childress County Hospital District, $105,136.37; Hall County Hospital District, $68,966.49; Cottle County, $39,684.43; Crosby County, $128,996.48; Dickens County, $45,406.62; Lockney General Hospital District, $60,436.19.

"The funds being distributed amount to 'found money' for Texas cities, counties and hospital districts. The money is the result of a clause in the Texas tobacco settlement increasing payments from the tobacco companies as a result of the 'Most Favored Nation' provision. When the State of Minnesota and the tobacco industry reached agreement, the clause kicked in the extra revenue for Texas," said Comptroller Rylander.

Rylander said that even though the signature on the checks is hers, State Senator Bill Ratliff, House Speaker Pete Laney, Representative Rob Junell, and the Attorney General's Office deserve credit for negotiating the agreement that brought the money to Texas. Thanks are also due to the Texas Department of Health for handling the administrative work necessary to distribute the funds to the correct entities.

"Senator Ratliff, Speaker Laney, Representative Junell, and the Attorney General's staff negotiated the 'Most Favored Nation' tobacco settlement midsummer. Their vision and perseverance is paying off for the State of Texas," Comptroller Rylander said.

"Texas cities, counties and hospital districts that provide care to indigent patients will receive just under $2.3 billion over the next five years. The checks mailed out today are the first down payment," said Comptroller Rylander.

The money from the settlement is in addition to the $15 billion amount negotiated by the State of Texas with the tobacco industry and is for the benefit of cities, counties and hospital districts. While the Legislature must determine how to spend the $15 billion state share, they have no control over the distribution and spending of the money designated for the local entities.

Altogether, more than 300 checks were mailed out to cities, counties, and hospital districts across Texas. The check amounts were determined by several factors, including 1990 U.S. Census data and the providers' legal responsibility for indigent health care.

The recipients of the largest checks include health care providers in the Houston, Dallas-Fort Worth, San Antonio, El Paso, and Austin areas.

Under the terms of the agreement, the Comptroller's office will distribute another $100 million in April 2000 and $50 million in April 2001, using a formula based on unreimbursed health care expenditures.

An additional $1.85 billion to be received from the settlement over the next four years will be deposited to a Permanent Trust Account. The income from this permanent fund will be distributed pro-rata to the cities, counties and hospital districts providing indigent health care in proportion to their amount of unreimbursed health care expenditures.

Matador City Council appoints Housing Board

The Matador City Council met in a called meeting December 17 to discuss organizing a Matador Housing Authority Board. The Council made recommendations to the mayor to appoint a board after being made aware that this board was not in existence and had not been since 1993.

The Council had discussed the possibility of building another Apartment complex in Matador and decided that the existing one should be better organized before this was discussed further.

Mayor Lancaster appointed Seven Alexander, Chuck Ream, Ronda Miller, Vivian Thompson, and Peta Gonzales to this board.

The Board has since met twice with Housing Authority Secretary, Tony Rose, to discuss the Complex's budget, rent rates and the application process. An inspection of the Complex was made on Friday, January 15.

The City Council met for their regular meeting Thursday, January 14 at 7:30 a.m. All Council members were present. Councilman Rodney Williams gave the invocation. Mayor Gary Lancaster called the meeting to order.

Minutes of the last meeting were approved and bills were paid.

Council discussed a water usage situation in north Matador.

Water Superintendent Steve Barton gave water reports.

Meeting adjourned.

Miss Texas speaks to Motley County students

Miss Texas, Tatum Hubbard

Miss Texas 1998, Tatum Hubbard, spoke to students at Motley County ISD Wednesday, January 13 in the high school gym.

Hubbard represented Arlington at the Miss Texas pageant. Winning the "Spirit of Texas" award, she was selected by the other contestants as the woman who best represents the qualities of a Miss Texas.

She represented Texas at the Miss America Pageant last September.

She is a graduate of the University of Texas at Arlington with a degree in Political Science and a minor in Communications. As an undergraduate student, she spent a semester working for Senator Kay Bailey Hutchison in Washington, D.C. as a press office intern.

Prior to being named Miss Texas, she was pursuing her master's degree in Education while working as a second grade teacher. She plans a career as a public school teacher.

Hubbard has studied ballet, tap,

Being surrounded by law enforcement, you might say, I guess you can say I know first hand the work they put in to protecting the lives of the citizen. With a husband and a son who are both in the law enforcement field, and a brother-in-law and sister-in-law who work in law, you can probably guess what the topic of most of our family get together conversations is.

Of course, I have a special admiration for the work of law enforcement officers, and I respect them and their families. I know that every time they answer a call, they are putting their lives on the line, for you and me. It's a line a work, that I believe, takes a special man or woman. I believe the profession is somewhat of a calling by the Almighty. Of course, He surely knows the person who can handle the responsibility.

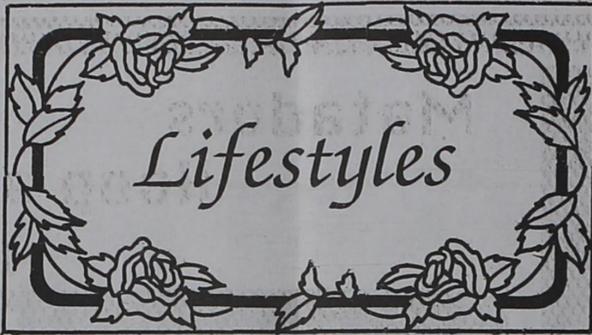

I have seen many times, again first hand, the extent at which they put their lives on the line. Each time the phone rings in the middle of the night, you don't know what to expect. Will this call be dangerous? Will it be their last? A question of course you don't even want to think about, so you teach yourself how not to.

Most people don't really understand the time and effort that goes into the type of operation that took place on Saturday in Motley and Dickens Counties. I know, from listening to their conversations, the concern they feel each time a citizen mentions someone they suspect of a wrongdoing, and the disgust they feel at knowing the red tape that is involved in proof of that wrongdoing.

This Saturday, I witnessed the Drug Bust, and saw the intent amount of emotion, concentration, strength and courage my husband, and other law enforcement officers practice, to put their lives in the line of danger, to make our homes, our families, and our everyday lives safer.

My husband is not one to brag in the least. He's very low key and will not, by any means, 'toot his own horn'. So I guess you could say, I am using this little bit of space to 'toot his horn' for him. I know the amount of work that went into this particular operation. And I want to give a special "HATS OFF" to Jim, his deputy Jay Hawkins, the Game Warden, Dee Litteken, our local DPS trooper, Mark Gumaer, and all the other Law Enforcement officers who were involved. And I want to say "I APPRECIATE YOU!" And to let them know, that even though the TV reports somehow didn't mention Motley County, and the Lubbock A-J reports barely made mention of Motley County, I, for one, know the importance of the event this past Saturday, and I am proud of you!

"An Apostolic Reminder"

Peter says that we need to consider our influence upon the people of the world who observe our behavior. If they find us guilty of not being spiritual and seeking righteousness, they will point to us and ridicule us as being hypocrites. It gives the world satisfaction and relief to be able to point accusing fingers at one of us.

We are to be scrupulously upright in all things and practice consistent self-discipline. The early church was accused of many kinds of abominations, but there was not guilt of the accusations. So, too, they still do that today, but we are to make sure they have no grounds for establishing guilt in us.

As Peter called for good works among his readers, we too, can look to the New Year of 1999 to call for and encourage one another to more good works. What a difference it will make for the church's image. It's important to ask ourselves at the outset, "What will the people of this community have to say about us at the close of 1999?" With our focus set at the beginning, the answer to that will be good.

A woman enjoyed sitting on the floor with children, coloring books and playing with them.
A boy was asked, "Do you enjoy your aunt's visits?"
"Yes," he answered, "but it's not so much the coloring I like, it's the loving."
Every heart hungers for love. Nothing else satisfies. When you feel unloved always remember that God loves you. There isn't anyone He loves more than you, and He wants to love others through you.
None of us can love perfectly, but He can and does. It's only as you let the God of love fill your heart that the love of God will flow from your life.

Texan-Santa Fe Expedition Campsites located in County

by Marisue Potts

"The site of Camp Resolution is definitely located in Motley County," Plainview museum director Eddie Guffee revealed to a joint meeting of local Historical Commission and Museum on January 11. The group gathered in the lobby of the historic Traweck Hospital listened attentively to information about the little known Texan-Santa Fe Expedition of 1841.

"We have found the exact spot off the resolve, where the group decided to break up and divide the command. In addition, we have pinpointed five other campsites within the county," said the archaeologist. Guffee represents the Llano Estacado Museum located near the Wayland University campus in Plainview. He has worked on the Taylor-Merrell Comanchero site near Quitaque, as well as completed the re-creation of a POW Chapel and the excavation of a baby mammoth in the Panhandle.

Guffee explained that the Pioneers of the Texas Republic were volunteer soldiers sent by President Lamar who was intent on establishing a trade route from Austin to Santa Fe. Without maps, adequate guides, and decisive leadership, the contingent faltered at the edge of the caprock when the remaining nine wagons could not make their way onto the plains. Ninety-nine men then left the camp in a desperate attempt to reach New Mexico across the uncharted Llano Estacado or staked plains.

Beseiged by Kiowas and facing starvation, thirteen men died in the Quitaque area. Having the advantage of the latest firepower in Colt revolving rifles, they kept the toll from being higher as about 200 Indians attacked a party along "American Horse Creek," near the old F Ranch headquarters.

According to the archaeologist, indicators of a campsite might include Republic of Texas buttons, lead bullets, musket balls, gun parts, and boat nails, possibly purchased in New Orleans for use as horseshoe nails. Gravesites might be denoted by rows or slabs of rock, but are difficult to detect in plowed fields.

When his work is complete, Guffee plans to display the artifacts of Camp Resolution in a definitive exhibit at the Llano Estacado Museum in Plainview, outlining the fate of the adventurers who faced death and hardship near the edge of the caprock.

In other museum business, Blake "Bud" Barton explained the background on the wooden propeller loaned by his father John Barton from an airplane he owned in 1925. One of the two historic photographs shows Mr. Barton on the wing, his wife Josie in the cockpit, daughter Louvaine under the wing, and Bud playing in the dirt, as his father gets ready to fire up the World War I plane. The OX-5 cost $595 and could achieve 60 mph. Mr. Barton developed his interest in aeroplanes when he worked in a factory in Chicago.

J.B. Cooper asked for help in getting a 1936 Centennial historical marker changed to reflect correct historical information. "The marker says that Nora Cooper was the first white child born in the county, but that's not right. It should read that she was the first white girl born in the county," he explained. The local Historical Commission will contact the Texas Historical Commission which is responsible for marker research and placement.

In another matter concerning a marker, Barry and Anna-Marie Hale of Roaring Springs protested that access is being denied the marker placed at the Indian grinding holes above the pool at the Springs Ranch Resort. Hale explained that when he wanted to take Swiss visitors to see the historic site, they were denied access. Hale said he felt historical markers should be available to the public for their interest and place in the history of the Old West. In this case also, the Texas Historical Commission will be notified.

Charles Keith discussed the possibility of making a joint move that will benefit both the museum and the Chamber of Commerce. "The museum has a problem of keeping the doors open for visitors and the chamber has need of office space." The possibility of setting up a Chamber of Commerce office in the Museum and sharing costs of an employee will be taken to both advisory boards.

Ramona Harris Comfe of Fairfield, CA stopped by to research her A.B. Newman line and found helpful information and newspaper photographs in the museum files.

Memorials include the latest ones offered by Bill Pallmeyer of Meridian for Frank Montgomery, J.D. Palmer, Louvaine Scaff, Zola Renfro, Beverly Whitaker, Carl King, Artie Watson, and earlier ones for Eleanor Traweck and Lois Bird.

Dean Bartley sent a memorial to the Clifton family, Leo and Joyce Archer presented memorials for Wayne Spray, Class of 1948, and Melba Kimbell Joiner, Class of 1950.

Erin Shearer, a great lover of history and heritage, was remembered by M.B. and L.M. Howard, Stephanie and Scott Lowe, Harry and Fran Campbell who submitted a memorial. In addition, Leo and Joyce Archer, June Keltz, and Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Edwards sent individual memorials for Mrs. Shearer, half-sister to Bundy, Harold, and Vance Campbell.

The Vance Campbells honored Eleanor Traweck with a written tribute and a donation in her honor.

The names of Claude and Mary Stearns will be added to the Museum Honor Roll plaque for their donation to the museum. Leo and Joyce Archer have also given a memorial in honor of Bertha Patton Stearns. Mrs. Stearns' family recently donated items to the museum in her memory, including a Roaring Springs school annual.

The museum also gratefully acknowledges a generous donation from Wilson Barton. For his support and the support of the above mentioned during 1998, the museum extends a warm "thank you" of appreciation.

"The Power Source", a photograph by local resident, Joe Farley will be published in the book Imprints of Time.

Joe Farley to have photograph published

Joe Farley of Matador was recently informed that his photograph, "The Power Source" has advanced to semifinalist in the Nature category in the International Open Amateur Photography Contest. His photo will now be entered into final competition to be held in Spring, where he will have a chance of winning $10,000.00. His photograph will also be published in the forthcoming anthology "Imprints of Time", to be published in late Spring.

In a letter received by Mr. Farley recently, the following comment was made about his photograph, "The Power Source" was selected for publication because of its unique perspective and your artistic vision, we believe it will add to the importance and appeal of this edition."

"Joe, you should be genuinely proud of your accomplishment. Of the thousands of photographs we see each year, only a fraction can be published. We are pleased that 'The Power Source' will appropriately achieve the recognition that a national publication can give it."

During May, 1998, Lowe's Roundup for Charity raised over $25,000.00. This money was raised in large part because of Lowe's customers. Because of this Lowe's will be donating various amounts of money to the school districts in which they have stores. This money is going to be used for college scholarships for graduating seniors. All school districts except for Lubbock and Ector Counties will be receiving $650.00. Pictured here are Motley County School Superintendent Rick Copp accepting a check from local Lowe's Pay-N-Save store manager, Frances Taylor.

Local Electric Cooperatives discuss consolidating resources and operations

Dickens Electric Cooperative (DEC) and South Plains Electric Cooperative (SPEC) are discussing details of consolidating cooperative resources and operations. "The consolidation will create economies of scale and improve operating efficiencies at both cooperatives," said DEC President Ned Ward. "Since cooperatives are locally owned by the members they serve, any corporate benefits of the venture will ultimately affect the members of both cooperatives."

"The cooperatives are a good mix," said South Plains Electric's President Tommy Jones. "Our irrigation, residential, cotton ginning and commercial load will blend well with DEC's farm, ranch and oil." SPEC was organized in 1937 and currently serves 29,000 connected meters in Crosby, Hale, Hockley, Lubbock and Lynn counties.

South Plains Electric is headquartered in Lubbock with its service territory bordering the west side of Dickens Electric area. SPEC has an eight member board consisting of President Tommy Jones, Cotton Center; Vice President R.D. McCallister, Slaton; Secretary/Treasurer Paul Zuber, Petersburg; Danny Stanton, Shallowater; Clarence Kitten, Slaton; Benny Nixon, Lubbock; Bobby Richey, Wolforth; and Marvin Schoepf, Lorenzo.

Melton Brooks is a patient at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. He fell at Crosbyton Care Center and broke his hip. He was conveyed to Lubbock by Ambulance and had surgery Friday morning. At news time, he is doing well. His wife, Modean, is with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Brooks and children, of Ft. Worth, came to be with his father for surgery. They returned home Sunday.

RS VOLUNTEERS ELECT OFFICERS FOR 1999

In their regular second Tuesday monthly meeting, the Roaring Springs Volunteers met in the home of Lea and Bill Peacock south of town on Highway 70. Due to the absence of President Darleen Fletcher, Vice President Walter Trammell called the meeting to order. Secretary Suzanne Abbott's reading of the minutes was heard and approved. She included the information that Volunteers now have a Web site at <www.roaringsprings.org>. Treasurer D.A. McGuire gave a detailed report of all income and expenses, including Kids Camp, from January 1, 1998 through December 31, 1998, and furnished a copy of the report to members. Dues, now due and payable, were accepted by Mr. McGuire.

Committee reports included Christmas activities of visits to shut-ins and a written report presented by Charles Keith on a study of the feasibility of attempting a Meals on Wheels project. After discussion the membership concluded that such an ambitious undertaking required further study at this time.

The report of the Nominating Committee was heard and accepted by acclamation. Officers for 1999 are President Darleen Fletcher, Vice President, Walter Trammell, Recording Secretary Suzanne Abbott, Corresponding Secretary Ruby McGuire, Treasurer D.A. McGuire, and Parliamentarian Joan Keith. Appointments were Reporter Rita Groves and Telephone Committee Chairman J.N. Fletcher. Zella Palmer asked to host the next meeting February 9, at 7:30 p.m.

Following the business meeting, visiting and light refreshments were enjoyed around the kitchen table.

Present, other than those already mentioned, were Pat Peacock, Mary Lumsden, C.W. and Pat Moore, Kenneth Abbott, Steven Byrd, Algie Groves, Pearl Patten, Ruby Hipp, Dorothy Lee, Jo Trammell, Cynthia and David Stafford, and Grace Zabielski.

Mary Lumsden was welcomed back after having moved to Lubbock, and will be residing in the Freda Keahey house on Circle Street.

Two valuable additions to the community are C.W. and Pat Moore. Mr. Moore has retired from the U.S. Customs Service in Laredo, and his wife Pat has found a place in the Spur School System as a special education teacher. They reside in the former Lyman Bundy Campbell home which they recently purchased on Walton Road in Matador, along with acreage on Highway 684 between Roaring Springs and Dougherty where C.W. can enjoy a little farming and ranching. These people will add to the already talented members joining in Volunteerism to make Motley County a better place to live.

Did you know? On Dec. 2, 1992, Quitaque, Texas became the first city in the world to have entirely wireless telephone service? Telephone poles and wires were replaced by radio waves. We read this in the A-J one day recently, so it must be true. We probably won't live to see all the wonderful changes that occur in this wonderful part of our world.

The "flu" picked a poor time to smite us. I missed my opportunity to help Lila Meador celebrate her 90th birthday. It seems such a short time since Mike Groves would sit at her piano and she asked him to play "On Galway Bay." Actually, it was so long ago I'm not sure that was the name of the song. It was over half her life ago. Lila is a lady. She fixed lunch for us the day we left Matador to move to California to be with granddaughter Kelly. She never put her needs or desires above those of her husband or friends. After Douglas Meador died, we tried to make her realize what a wonderful person she was - that Doug didn't have all the talent. She was patient, gifted, and a really selfless person. One of my favorite memories is of a winter day when she came with her mother, and Mrs. Tipton made "cabbage rolls" for lunch for a few friends. We were all poor as "church mice," but time seemed better used then. And we always knew to expect Lila's "Fulton Salad" when the meal was "bring a dish."

Flu prevented my going to the last rites for Hortense Yeates Goodwin. Memories of her involve so many pioneer families of Dickens and Motley Counties. It was shortly after we moved to Roaring Springs that she and our neighbor Curtis Goodwin married. Their granddaughter, Beverly Darsey, was one of my finest pupils and friends during my teaching career. We began to organize the Library at Patton Springs School before either of us had any library training, but "Uncle Sam" said we must have a library.

Last week, Zoe Smith, wife of Maxell Smith, the son of former resident, Sidney Smith, called to inquire why Motley County has a Web site with nothing in it except "interments in Motley County" published years ago and now out-of-print. Zoe is interested in genealogy, so we hope she and Maxell will visit the genealogy section of the Motley County Library soon, and visit our Web site. The Smith's address is 703 South East 2nd St., Tulia, TX 79088.

Roaring Springs Senior Citizens News

by Rita Groves

On a rather cold and foggy first Thursday of the year 1999, the seniors met to enjoy lunch and fellowship. The leader Ossia Brown was at home with a sick great-grandchild, little Dee, who was hospitalized with pneumonia at the time of Ossia's birthday bash. Odessa Mullins led the singing and directed the meeting in addition to giving a good financial report during a short business meeting. Plans are underway to better winterize the building. The membership is fortunate to include electricians, carpenters, and plumbers, among a few members. Carl Barton, Walter Trammel, Ruby Hipp, Zella Palmer, Dorothy Lee, Vera Mitchell, Billie Clifton, Algie and Rita Groves.

Mr. Trammel opened the meeting with a prayer of sincere thanks for present and past blessings and invoked a blessing on the good prepared for our lunch for which we hope we are worthy. Zella Palmer was the recipient of the birthday song.

In spite of the inclement weather, the outing was a blessing, and we hope to see more of our friends the next first Thursday, Feb. 4th. Present were Nurse Laura Taylor, who was unable to stay for lunch, but faithful with her presence, along with Shirley and Carl Barton, Odessa Mullins, Jo and Walter Trammel, Ruby Hipp, Zella Palmer, Dorothy Lee, Vera Mitchell, Billie Clifton, Algie and Rita Groves.

1999 Caprock Cotton Conference held Tuesday

The 1999 Caprock Cotton Conference was held on Tuesday, January 19, 1999. This year's conference was once again held at the Plains Baptist Assembly Camp located seven miles south of Floydada on U.S. Highway 62. This conference was designed as an of Agriculture in Lubbock presented current laws and regulations. Dr. Carl Anderson, TAEX Economist from College Station presented his outlook on the Cotton Market. Mr. Bob Maurer, Rand Financial Services, Chicago Illinois highlighting his views on the cotton market. Mr. Craig Fincham, TAEX Risk Management Coordinator introduced FARM ASSIST Program. Also Dr. Ken Stokes, TAEX Economist from Stephenville gave a complete and thorough explanation of the current Farm Insurance Program. From the production side, Dr. Petey Dotray, TAEX Weed Specialist from Lubbock had current data on various cotton weed control results. In addition Dr. Randy Bowman, TAEX Cotton Specialist from Lubbock presented an overview of 1998 South Plains Cotton growing season, along with Dr. Jim Lesser, TAEX Entomologist, Lubbock addressed the current boll weevil situation and outlook for 99. In addition participants had an opportunity to view some 20 booths and exhibits related to various phases of agricultural and cotton production. A noon meal was provided. Private applicators received 3 CEU's (5 L&R, 1.5 General & 1 IPM). A complimentary conference cap and a chance at several door prizes was given away throughout the day. This conference was an educational event developed by the Caprock Cotton Conference Committee and Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Major contributing sponsors were Watermaster, Monsanto, Paymaster Cottonseed, Gustafson, Deltapine

Seed, Rhone Poulenc, Associated Farmers Delinting, Inc., Novartis Crop Protection.

PCG Board Tackling Tough Issues

Members of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. (PCG) Board of Directors met Wednesday, January 13 to discuss a number of pressing issues. Among the topics discussed were crop insurance reform, cotton competitiveness (primarily concerning the need to revive the Step 2 program) and the implementation of the federal disaster assistance program.

Top priorities for the PCG Board in 1999 include working to encourage the investment of additional state and federal money into the Texas boll weevil eradication effort, improving the federal crop insurance program to better protect growers, and gaining additional money to revitalize the Step 2 portion of cotton's competitiveness provisions.

Arguments that Step 2 did not really provide a direct benefit to producers were shattered following the depletion of Step 2 funds and the reaction of the cotton market. PCG Board members agreed that in 1998 Step 2 easily meant an additional 6-7 cents per pound was received by growers up until program funds were depleted in mid-December.

PCG officials are hopeful that all the organization's goals can be met given the high level of awareness that currently exists in Congress and the Texas legislature of problems plaguing agriculture.

Good evidence of this awareness is the recently passed federal disaster program and the reported plans of area lawmakers to seek boll weevil eradication funds during this session of the Texas Legislature.

Conference To Address Production Issues

Producers should mark their calendars now and plan to attend the 1999 Southwest Crops Production Conference and Expo on March 11 at the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center.

The one-day event is being sponsored by Southwest Farm Press, Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., the College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources at Texas Tech University, the USDA Agricultural Research Service, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Attendees will be able to earn continuing education units (CEU's) for private pesticide applicator licenses.

SHP/C Erad. Zone Gearing Up for Referendum

Growers in the Southern High Plains/Caprock (SHP/C) Boll Weevil Eradication Zone, bolstered by the overwhelming support for boll weevil eradication by growers in the Western High Plains, are gearing up to try and shape their own weevil-free future.

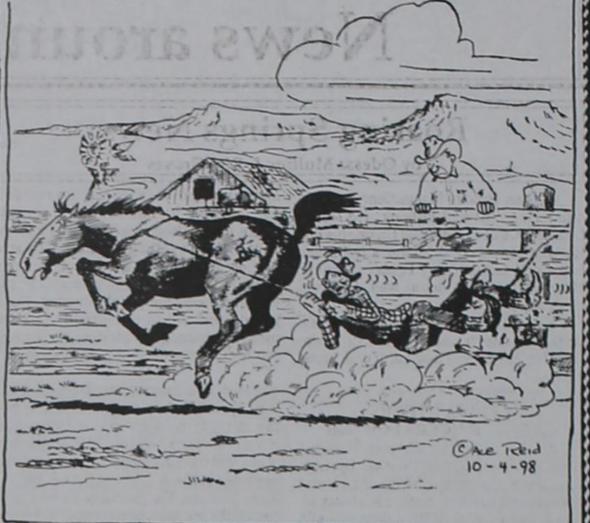

SHP/C growers will vote February 5-26 on a proposal to bring boll weevil eradication to another 1 million acres of cotton. A series of educational meetings have been scheduled to provide cotton growers and landlords in the SHP/C zone an opportunity to learn first-hand about the program being proposed.

All growers and landlords are invited and encouraged to attend the meetings to get the information they need to make an informed decision. The schedule of SHP/C meetings is as follows:

SHP/C Zone Education Meeting Schedule

Casteel completes Governor's Development Program

Childress - David Casteel, Childress District Engineer for the Texas Department of Transportation recently completed the Governor's Executive Development Program.

The Governor's Executive Development program provides top executives in state government access to the best and most current thinking in executive management. The program is administered through the LBJ School of Public Affairs at the University of Texas.

This year's class was the 17th offering of the program by the University of Texas. Participants from several state agencies and state universities worked with speakers from throughout the nation to examine executive practices and theories in the government sector.

"It was a privilege to participate in this program," said Casteel. "The information gained through this program will assist me in working with the citizens and elected officials of the Childress District to accomplish our transportation goals." Casteel was nominated to the program by Charles W. Heald, TxDOT executive director.

Pete Laney Re-Elected Speaker of the Texas House

Representative James E. "Pete" Laney, D-Hale Center, was unanimously re-elected as Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives by the members of the House on Tuesday, January 12.

Speaker Laney, 55, has served as Speaker of the House since 1993. He represents Texas House District 85, which includes Bailey, Briscoe, Castro, Cochran, Crosby, Dickens, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Motley, Parmer, and Swisher counties.

In his address to the House, Speaker Laney said the Legislature should continue the kind of responsible budget management that has produced a record budget surplus for the state government. "There is no question that our remarkable economic growth in recent years has increased state revenues. But that does not tell the entire story of our state's progress from budget shortfalls to budget surplus," Laney said. "We have managed wisely. Above all, we have exercised fiscal restraint."

Speaker Laney noted that the budget surplus should be used to set the course for a secure and prosperous future by investing in public education. "We must invest in education in ways that will help develop the tremendous potential of every child in Texas," he said.

Speaker Laney said his other priorities for the session include making further progress on health care for children, addressing the dramatic increase in child abuse in Texas, assisting the economically depressed agriculture and oil production industries, and reforming campaign finance laws.

Speaker Laney lives in Hale Center in the cotton-growing region where his family has farmed for four generations. He received a Bachelor of Science degree in agricultural economics from Texas Tech University. He and his wife, the former Nelda McQuien, have three children: daughter KaLyn Laney who is governmental relations director of the Texas State Bar; daughter Jamey Laney Phillips, a Lubbock attorney; and son J. Pete Laney, a Hale Center farmer.

Speaker Laney has received many awards and honors, including being chosen the 1998 Man of the Year in Service to Texas Agriculture by Progressive Farmer Magazine. He has also been named Texas Man of the Year by the Texas Legislative Conference and a Texas Tech University distinguished alumnus. He was awarded an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from Wayland Baptist University. He has received the Outstanding Texas Leader Award from the John Ben Shepperd Public Leadership Forum and the 1995 Headliners Leadership Award.

A Note of Thanks

We appreciate so much your words of comfort, thoughts and prayers at the death of our mother, Artie Wason. Thank you for your telephone calls and for memorials and floral tributes in her memory. Thanks to those who prepared the meal for us prior to the service. The service was so beautiful and comforting. May God bless each of you.

The family of Artie Wason

I would like to thank the Rural Nurses Resources for the lovely quilt I won at the recent drawing. Also to all the ladies who pieced and quilted it, and to the person who drew my name out of the many chances that were sold.

Thanks again,
Cora Smallwood
