TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

A friend who no longer finds it necessary to apply gray dye to his hair to appear mature, says his parents have restricted him from many former activities. His testimony is that his parents are Mother Nature and Father Time.

Humility is perhaps the first and most important requirement in reaching the estate of greatness.

You can kick the television habit. Start gradually by reading a good book, then turn on the picture without sound and after a time you will be able to turn off the picture, and the instrument will be unable to invade your privacy.

It is ironic that the handles of three summer devices are almost the same size. They are a golf club, a garden hoe and a fishing rod.

Pity is not always easy to justify. About the time I feel a few spasms of sympathy for an individual, he starts driving a new automobile.

History seeks to record but a small amount of the past; a few successes and a few mistakes of a few people, or a few nations.

Sincerity can become a savage quality when a crucial question is exhibited in the glass case of truth.

History indicates that matrimonial moonlighting was far advanced before the days of ships in space and modern tracking systems.

Some of the past which has slipped into oblivion, is the cowboy with a yellow oilskin slicker tied behind the cantle of his saddle, toes of his boots in his stirrups and spurs jingling. A way of life has passed, and one of the world's most adequate persons is beyond the horizon.

TIME SHORT FOR STATE SAFETY INSPECTION

Final days for securing auto safety stickers are at hand. Only about eight days remain before April 15, which is the deadline. On March 15 Motley County had registered 1179 vehicles, or 57% of the total of 1717 vehicles registered last year. All vehicles must bear safety stickers by the deadline to avoid penalty, according to Texas department of Public Safety Officer Ralph Briscoe of Wichita Falls.

Senator Hightower Says

We are Living in a Revolutionary Age

"Seeking to reach higher ground, this nation is in a revolutionary age, declared Senator Jack Hightower (30th District) of Vernon, guest speaker Thursday night at the annual Gentlemen's Evening program of El Progreso Study Club.

Senator Hightower was introduced by Furman Vinson, following the banquet held in the basement of the First Methodist Church. Mrs. Robert Darsey, President of the club introduced Mr. Vinson.

"It is necessary for this nation to move to higher ground," Senator Hightower asserted, "and we are capable of our own destiny. The Civil War was the result of many forces at work, and the nation went through difficult times, but following the war the nation grew and prospered," the speaker continued.

"We are experiencing change after change, and many of the changes today are in our society. We admit we do not have a perfect society, but we are striving to reach higher ground. At present we have about 10 million laws trying to enforce the Ten Commandments.

"Some of our critics think we should stand still, but that is impossible because we have not reached the 'Golden Age.'"

"It is all a part of living," the young Senator declared. "There are other mountains to climb, other rivers to cross... a higher ground to be reached."

Church's Worth Is Stressed By Evangelist

"My Church is Worthy" was the title of a dynamic address made Tuesday by Rev. Wayne Blankenship of Plainview, at the regular luncheon meeting of the Matador Lions Club, held in the basement of the First Methodist Church.

The speaker was introduced by Lion Larry Heard, pastor of the First Baptist Church. Rev. Blankenship is conducting a revival at the First Baptist Church, which continues through April 7.

"We are only one generation away from possible extinction of the church," the young evangelist declared, "but my church is worthy. When Jesus designated my Church, He had no other purpose in mind but that the church would prevail against all evil. When I say the 'church', I mean all denominations of religion."

Then he asked the question: "Can you love Christ and not love the church?" He said he believes the future of the church is as secure as the future of God, and that it will remain when all else has passed away.

During the report of committees preceding the address by Rev. Blankenship, it was announced by Lion Bob Stanley that approximately 60 applications had been received by the Motley County Development Committee in a survey of the available labor in Motley County.

A report of the nominating committee elected Ronnie Christian as the new President of the club. A full report of the committee will be made in a subsequent issue of the Tribune.

President's Home and Historic San Antonio on Hill Country Trail

AUSTIN—A stair-step chain of lakes, a President's home, historic San Antonio and a bounty of attractions and scenic drives highlight the Texas Hill Country Trail, one of 10 Travel Trails unveiled here January 17 by Gov. John Connally.

Stretching for an estimated 578 miles, the trail traverses the counties of Bandera, Bexar, Blanco, Burnet, Comal, Gillespie, Hays, Kerr, Llano, Medina, Real, Travis, Uvalde and Williamson. It swings south from Austin via Farm Road 1826 to Wimberley, a Blanco River community noted for its cool, shady streams beneath tall cypress trees. Dude ranches and youth camps cover the area.

State Highway 12 leads to San Marcos, home of unique Aquarena Springs and Southwest Texas State College, alma mater of President Lyndon Johnson. In addition to its submarine theatre, Aquarena offers glass-bottom boat rides on the San Marcos River, a Swiss sky ride and a Texana Village featuring a frontier town. New Braunfels is the next trail host where the annual "Wurstfest" celebration in November attracts thousands to pay tribute to the sausage-makers of the region. Two of the state's outstanding caverns are in this area—Wonder Cave in San Marcos and Natural Bridge Caverns, located about 12 miles west of New Braunfels off State Highway 1863.

Also near New Braunfels is Canyon Lake, one of the state's newest. Its 13,000 surface acres lie in a hills-and-valley region that provides spectacular lake views where elevations vary 1,000 feet and more.

The Hill Country Trail skirts San Antonio on the north via Loop 410 connecting with State Highway 1957 which leads to Castroville. Beautiful Medina Lake and River nearby make the area one of the most scenic in the state. Castroville was founded in 1844 and is rich in Alsatian traditions. The Landmark Inn, built in 1848, and St. Louis Catholic Church, constructed that same year, are sites worth the visitor's time. Leaving Castroville on U.S. 90, the trail turns abruptly north on Farm Road 689 for Bandera, site of the state's largest concentration of dude ranches. A change-of-pace life-breakfast, cooked on an open fire, a peaceful trail ride along a quiet stream, and an evening meal around a glowing campfire—awaits visitors.

Uvalde is home of the late Vice President John Nance Garner and the state park bearing his name. The trail turns northward once more, continuing to Camp Wood via State Highway 55 and on into Leakey on the Frio River. More spectacular scenery awaits the traveler in the Leakey area on State Highways 83 and 39 leading into Kerrville, county seat of Kerr County and home of Shreiner Institute. Nearby lakes on the Guadalupe River provide visitors excellent fishing and water sports on a year-round basis.

Moving north on State Highway 16 across the Pedernales River the traveler arrives in Fredericksburg, a city of old-world German charm. From here Chester Nimitz went to war, returned as a fleet admiral and became a legend in his own lifetime. A memorial museum containing personal documents of the famed World War II Naval commander has been established. One of the community's most famous historic structures is the 1847 Vereins Kirche, an octagon-shaped replica of the building which once served as the community's first church. Rock collectors visiting Fredericksburg marvel at the two nearby geologic rarities, Enchanted Rock and Balanced Rock, both located on Ranch Road 965. Enchanted Rock, the largest granite mountain in the southwest, is 17 miles from town, covers 640 acres and rises to a height of 500 feet. Balanced Rock is only four miles out and is maintained as a roadside park. The huge boulder is perched on a pinpoint base.

From Fredericksburg to Johnson City along State Highway 290 is Lyndon Johnson Country. Here the President was born, reared and returns for his leisure hours. The LBJ Ranch on Ranch Road 1 has become one of the state's leading tourist attractions. Visitors are allowed near the site except when the President is at home. President Johnson's boyhood home is open to the public in nearby Johnson City, while a replica of the birthplace home is on the ranch.

The return to Austin passes the forest-crowned shores of the Highland Lakes, a 143-mile stairway of water that tumbles from limestone caverns and winds among the cactus and sotol slopes.

Once the crystal blue lakes were a flooding threat. Then dams were built to harness the powerful Colorado River. And the lakes became a placid playground.

Longhorn Cavern and Inks State Parks offer recreational stops along the way. One of the oldest parks, Longhorn Cavern abounds in legends of outlaws using the cave as a hideout.

Sudden Arrival of Ambulance is Surprise to Victims in Accident

IT HAD BEEN a short night to Pat Seigler, manager of Seigler Funeral Homes and ambulance service, here and at Turkey. He was still very tired and the door bell continued ringing. It was near five a.m. Friday, March 22.

A Spanish man wanted to get his wife to the Paducah hospital in time for a new arrival. Seigler drove them in his ambulance and estimated his time to get home to get a little more sleep before morning. Fate had other plans.

Eleven miles this side of Paducah (coming west) he drove upon a wreck of a large grain truck and a panel vehicle in collision.

The new truck and trailer loaded with 50,000 pounds of wheat were upside down in the barrow ditch. The panel vehicle with a side bashed in, was nearby, and several injured people were groping in the darkness. Seigler was the first to arrive at the scene.

Presently another truck arrived and he sent the two truck drivers to Paducah. He and one of the injured passengers in the panel vehicle managed to get a seriously injured man in the ambulance. He used short wave radio to contact Paducah. The seriously injured man later died.

The two truck drivers (from Floydada) and the occupants of the other vehicle were amazed at the arrival of an ambulance so quickly after the accident.

Seigler was not out looking for business. He was headed home. Below is an account of the tragedy, appearing in the Saturday edition of the Lubbock Avalanche:

FOLK SINGER KILLED IN AREA ACCIDENT

PADUCAH (Special) — A Lemon Grove, Calif., folk singer was killed and four other persons injured in a Friday morning car-truck collision about 11 miles west of here on U.S. 70.

David Robert Spry, 19, died at 9:40 a.m. in Richards Memorial Hospital of injuries suffered in the 4:45 a.m. mishap.

Three of the injured were treated at Richards Memorial and released and Mrs. Sandra Ann Aldridge, 16, of Spring Valley, Calif., was in satisfactory condition in the hospital. Released were Ronald W. Aldridge, 19, of Spring Valley, the driver of the car in which Spry and Mrs. Aldridge were passengers. George William Mallow, 30, of Floydada, the driver of the truck; and Perry Eugene Redd, 43, also of Floydada, a passenger in the truck.

Highway Patrolman F. E. Johnson of Paducah said the accident occurred as the car was headed west and was in collision with the truck which was headed east.

Johnson said after the vehicles collided the car skidded 60 feet and overturned before skidding another 70 feet and overturning again. The truck went 160 feet east and overturned on the north side of the roadway.

He said the couple and Spry were returning to California from a trip to Tennessee.

He was a Methodist and is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Spry of Lemon Grove.

Seniors Inspired by 'Secret of Success'

There are unlimited opportunities for those who will aspire to higher levels in thinking and ambition," O. R. Stark Jr., of Quitaque told an audience of Motley County seniors Monday night.

Stark was the featured speaker at the annual Senior Banquet sponsored by the American Legion Fleming Post, and was introduced by Edgar Lee, Post Commander. Attendance of both Flomot and Matador seniors was lowered because both schools were competing in the one-act play Interscholastic League contests at Jayton.

County Judge Forrest Campbell introduced school officials from the three high schools, who in turn introduced class sponsors, who then introduced seniors of their respective schools. There are 32 seniors in the three high schools in the county, Roaring Springs, Flomot and Matador.

"I am going to give you the secret of success," Stark said. "It is 'The Magic of Thinking Big.'"

"Too many people," he said, "are depending on others to take the lead. My advice is to harness the power of belief, then believe strong enough and you will succeed. Think victory and believe success. Your own resolution to succeed is the most important... make your attitudes your allies."

Environment Unimportant

"You can conquer your environment, and the size of the town in which you live is not important," the speaker declared. "You will be judged by the company you keep and the manner in which you pursue your ambition."

"Also remember that great things can be accomplished through enthusiasm. Be enthusiastic... get excited... it can transform your personality! It is all in the state of mind; no one is defeated until he accepts defeat."

Mr. Stark, who is executive Vice-President of the First National Bank of Quitaque, was accompanied by Mrs. Stark.

Commander Lee expressed his appreciation to all who aided in sponsoring the banquet, which was prepared by Smith's Steak House. The buffet style meal was served by members of the American Legion. Lee cited James "Tootie" Meador and Foremost Company for providing the ice cream dessert.

Former Resident Studies in Spain

A former resident who was born here is currently studying anthropology in Spain, while modeling for television and magazine advertising in her spare time. She is Miss Tanya Slover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Slover, former residents of Whiteflat, now residing at Van Winkle Canyon, near Miami, Arizona.

Following information is from a newspaper clipping received here by Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Slover, uncle and aunt of the young lady:

"Miss Slover, a 1962 graduate of Miami (Arizona) High School, served two years in the Peace Corps in Columbia, South America, and attended UCLA for two years on a scholarship before making the trek to Spain to continue her studies.

"After studying a year in Madrid, Miss Slover changed her major to anthropology and received a scholarship to the Ibero American Institute of Anthropology, where she has her tuition paid and receives approximate $100 a month under the scholarship.

"The institute specializes in anthropological studies at a post-graduate level, offering 15 courses in all, divided into trimesters. She was accepted at the school in view of special considerations — one being her Peace Corps experience.

"When she finishes her studies there in June, she will do a month of field work in anthropology before returning to the U.S. She will attend UCLA another semester before entering the field as a teacher or doing research.

"During her stay in Spain, Miss Slover has been doing modeling for advertising in magazines and on television, all in Spanish, a language she speaks fluently. She has also performed some bit parts in Spanish movies."

Former Motley County Trapper H. W. Fite, who has been at Childress since 1942, retired recently. Following item is from the Childress Index:

Back in 1934 H. W. Fite began his profession as a government trapper.

Today, 20,000 coyotes, give or take a few and more than 250 bobcats later, he has retired.

"I've retired as county trapper but I'm not retiring entirely from the profession," Fite said.

"I plan to do some spot trapping for ranchers and a lot of fishing," he added.

The spot trapping will be for money—the fishing for fun.

The veteran trapper has the reputation of being one of the best fishermen in this section. Fite, who was born in Arkansas on January 5, 1898, moved to Frio County from Arkansas in 1928. In 1934 he started his profession there.

He later moved to Borden County, then to Crosby County and then to Motley County, holding the same job in each county.

On May 15, 1942 he moved to Childress County from Motley.

His largest catch in a single day was 14 coyotes which were caught in cooperation with Vernon Hafner, who was then County Agent here.

He has killed over 100 coyotes in a one month period.

The Fites plan to continue to live here where their daughter Ruth has an answering service.

COUNTY AGENT PALMEYER SAYS:

With all the moisture we have had, weeds may be a problem this year. Farmers are well aware of the shortage of hoe hands the last few years, and I would like to remind you of the wide choice of chemical and mechanical aids you have for fighting weeds and grass. These methods may be cheaper and faster than the old method.

The efficiency of nine pre-emergence chemicals, eight post-emerges, three "layby" treatments and three spot spray methods were used on more than 2.5 million acres in Texas during 1967. The rotary hoe is still the "backbone" of weed control in cotton, and flame cultivation is also becoming popular.

We need our moisture to grow crops, not weeds. The use of pre-plant chemicals such as Treflan or Planavin can be used, and for Johnsongrass, DSMA can be used if an early spring brings out this grass. An "over-lay" of pre-emergence chemicals in a band at planting time can utilize such materials as Caparol, Cotoran, CIPC, Karmex, Telvar or Herban.

Early post emergence chemicals include lateral oiling, DSMA, or MSMA for grass control and Herban or Cotoran combinations plus surfactants for broadleaf weeds, beginning when the cotton plants are three inches high until bloom. After the cotton is six inches high, Karmex or Caparol can be used on the weeds, and for layby, some of the same pre-emergence chemicals can be used.

Use of these chemicals is complicated, and to obtain complete information, ask for a copy of B-1029, "Suggestions for Weed Control With Chemicals". Also follow the directions on the label.

One of the secrets of successful home gardening is a well-prepared soil. A good quality of organic matter in the form of compost or manure will improve the structure of the soil.

Approximately 4 bushels of organic matter should be applied to each 100 square feet of soil area. It can be worked into the soil either by spading or plowing, but mix thoroughly.

It is also a good idea to apply some inorganic fertilizer to most gardens. A complete fertilizer such as 10-20-10 is usually beneficial when the soil is a silt loam or clay, and a 5-20-20 blend is suitable for most sandy soils. An application of 3 to 4 pounds per 100 square feet of soil area is usually sufficient. Broadcast this over the area and spade or disk into soil. This fertilizer may also be applied as a band placed to the side and slightly deeper than each row where the seed will be planted. As a general rule, leafy vegetables will respond to additional amounts of nitrogen fertilizer, while root crops will usually respond to more phosphate.

Finally, make sure that the garden soil isn't too wet when it is plowed or cultivated. This can result in packed or cloddy soil which is undesirable for good root development. Later, insects may become a problem, but I will cover that subject later.
