FASHIONS By Lillian Meriwether

In these times the morning hours seem all too short for the preparation of the affairs of afternoon and evening. But especially designed to meet the needs of a woman's leisure hours, are hosts of robes and negligees that flatteringly dress her for the boudoir or the breakfast table and keep her cosily warm.

NEGLIGEES

The old-fashioned wrapper has disappeared with the bygone years. The newest negligees are exquisite creations and evoake the admiration of the discerning woman who is fastidious in her dress ideals. The shops indicate her taste today. The rest robe has a restful appearance; simple pale colors and pastel shades are made up in long graceful lines, and the inside of the garment is as attractive as the outside. Everything is dainty, fine and perishable. The most beautiful of them might easily be mistaken for formal evening

Crepe de chine, georgette and lace combined made a charming and graceful negligee seen on sale in one of the shops. The body part was of the crepe, the long cape of georgette, this being bordered with the lace which also trimmed the yoke, collar and sleeves. The theatres display some charming negligees in the boudoir scenes, but these must be seen to be appreciated.

BREAKFAST COATS

The breakfast coat is a practical garment and is smart and handsome. There are coats of crepe de chine and lace; changeable taffeta and plisse ribbon, with decorative motifs, streamers and rosette buttons; and with the breakfast coat, as with all negligees, is worn the attractive cap. One can buy ready-made locks all arranged to form a coiffure as well as a cap, made not necessarily of hair, but of Chinese silk, and the undressed locks of the wearer are hidden by rosettes of braided hair or silk which come well down at the sides of the head. To complete the costume one slips into the light satin sandals, trimmed and buckled with fancy stones.

ROBES

There are quilted robes made of rich satin and imported from Japan, fashioned with high collars and long sleeves, deep pocket and silk cord gir-

Silk velvet robes and robes of quilted heavy satin, interlined with lamb's wool and silk-lined, are on display in the shops awaiting your choice. There are wool plaid lounging robes, man tailored, and embellished with silk cord at the collar, cuffs and pockets. Chenille corduroy makes a queenly robe, moufflon bordering the low, pointed neck-line, making it look luxurious as well as becoming, and lined throughout with silk.

Corduroy velvet lined with dotted silk mull makes a comfy dressing gown, and incidentally, the best thing to take along when traveling; it has the deep shawl collar, kimona sleeves, deep cuffs, large pockets and a narrow sash girdle. Popular colors in corduroy are rose, Copenhagen blue, benna and wisteria. The silk linings lend additional attractiveness .

There are lounging robes of all wool albatross, hand embroidered with crochet edge and self tie, and the flowered flannelette kimonas with satin ribbon trimming.

The young girl will like the quilted satin robe, hand embroidered in small designs in the Japanese fashion in a variety of colors and charming in effect.

At the end of the day, when the period of relaration comes, how much easier a woman can rest in an attractive bit of apparel and if the weather is mild, or the temperature are of Chantilly lace and are draped of the room allows it, she just slips into her silk night robe or silk pajamas. These last, in the Chinese type, consist of trousers and mandarin, coolie or hoari coat.

SATIN HATS

Now that every woman has bought her winter supply of hats, fashion, with her usual perversity, puts a new one on the market, and satin hats are the vogue, gleaming with lace and a touch of silver or gold. Anything but a satin hat might seem too heavy for a velvet gown, and then, too, a satin hat might be worn with any frock. Those who lead the fashion are already wearing them, the followers of fashion will wear them later-just when something new is about to be launched.

Feather, trimmed hats are also popular just now-women have been so long that, they are turning to fluffy trimming for relief. Coque, ostrich and hackle feathers are used. Flowers made of black lace are used in trimming the large hats of the floppy variety.

Somt women always like to wear a veil against the wind, and for the flattering look they give, and veils are being worn with any and every hat. There are the face veils and the veils to be worn draped around the hat. These latter, novelty veils, lasting impression some girls make." this city.

When Opportunity Knocks

Opportunity is knocking at the doors of Texas farmers. He is knocking most persistently at the doors of farmers who succeeded in producing fair crop of cotton. It has been many years since they have been given the opportunity to make a start towards securing for themselves more permanent agricultural income than past seasons offered them. Many farmers have been placed in a position financially where they can make permanent improvements, purchase needed machinery, equip their homes with lighting systems and running water, and give themselves a start with a few purebred cows, hogs and chickens. Good livestock is the cheapest in the end because of their productiveness and the rapidity with which they develop. Permanent prosperity is never at home on any farm that is without good livestock. Farm and Ranch does not advocate the abandonment of cotton as the money crop on Texas farms where it is suited. Cotton is the great staple crop of the South and every farmer should endeavor to increase his acre yield and improve his staple from year to year. Cotton should be made to pay the land notes, improve the buildings and buy the comforts and luxuries every farmer is entitled to. It should not be the sole source of support. The table should be supplied, the clothing purchased and other things provided to a large extent from other farm resources. Farmers who have made money out of cotton this year should take a lesson from the experiences of many who struck it lucky in oil. During the boom days in every oil field in the Southwest, men were made rich over night. Some were wise and immediately invested their winnings in something of a permanent nature. Others reinvested in oil and today, many of them are back to their old jobs, or working at something else at ordinary rates of pay. Cotton farmers who have profited by a fair production and good prices should not reinvest everything in cotton. The price of cotton is not always going to top 30 cents or even 25 or 20 cents. If history is repeated, it may reach a level where it is unprofitable to produce it. The farmer who fixes up his place and stocks it, within rea- rule are making an honest effort to son, with purebreds, and has learned place their roads in good condition to provide himself with other and before January 1, 1924, in order that more regular sources of income, will the Highway Department can keep be the prosperous citizen of the com- them in this condition after this date.

President of Texas Tech

Houston, Nov. 23. A vision of Texas Technological College at Lubbock as the greatest technical school in the Southwest, an institution not alone for West Texas but for all Texas, was described here Thursday night by Dr. Paul Whitfield Horn, chosen president of the new college at a meeting of the board of regents

Dr. Horn announced, simultaneously, that he is "delighted at the opportunity," and that he will offer his resignation to Southwestern University at Georgetown, of which he has been president since 1921, to become effective January 1.

Detailing the advantageous circumstances under which the new technical school will open its doors, Dr. Host expressed the belief that it has Mone of the most au-picious starts of the Southwest"

Dr. Horn has devoted his entire career to educational work. After his education at Central College. Fayette, Mo., and Baylor University he became president of Prior Institute, Jasper, Tenn., but resigned in 1891 to accept the principalship of the Sherman, Texas, High School. In 1904 he became superintendent of schools in Houston, a post he held for 16 years. From Houston he went to Southwestern, as president, in 1921.

The technical college, created by the last session of the Legislature will be erected on a 2,000-acre tract adjoining the corporate limits of Lubbock. An appropriation of $450,000 Is now available for buildings and an additional $100,000 will be on hand early next Autumn.

Sanguinet, Staats & Hedrick, Fort Worth architects, selected Wednesday by the board to design the structures, will begin preliminary plans at once, it is understood, although details have not been worked out. William Ward Watkins of Houston will be associate architect.

Protracted discussion over the selection for the presidency took up the greater portion of the board's time Thursday. It was the first meeting at which all nine members had been present.

The new school, which will have equal rank with A. & M. College, was created in response to a campaign of several years' duration by residents of the North and Northwest Texas districts, who complained that A. & M. at College Station is so far distant from their homes that training there is not suitable to the entirely different conditions of West Texas.

First proposals were for a West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College, but this was altered in the Legislature and the technical college

Members of the boards who attended the meeting here were: Amon G. Carter of Fort Worth, J. W. Meadows of Waco, W. P. Hobby of Beaumont, Clifford B. Jones of Spur, John Carpenter of Dallas, Mrs. Charles De Groff of El Paso, R. E. Underwood of Plainview, Dr. J. E. Nunn of Amarillo and Mrs. Frank Drane of Corsicana. Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The Hupmobile has always had a reputation for long continuous service. There are Hupmobiles running in this town six, eight, ten and twelve years old that are still giving their owners service. These cars are acknowledged to have been good values at the price they sold for.

The new Hupmobile, combining all the old sturdiness of these older models with the many added features, is a still greater value.

The demand for Hupmobiles is steadily increasing. Our business was three times as big in 1922 as it was in 1921, and twice as great in 1923 as it was in 1922, or six times as great as that of 1921,

We have dealers in territory no better than this, making from ten to fifteen thousand dollars per year on comparatively small investments,

We are going to put a dealer in this town. We want a good live business man, with some capital to invest and who is willing to work. We will show him how to make money selling Hupmobiles.

The Post editor placates the advertisers by assurances that the January and February purchases will make good whatever losses are sustained by the exercise of common sense on the part of Christmas shoppers.

Each individual has only so much money to spend, and if he spends it all in December he will be on the borrow in January. Buying on credit doesn't increase the total of the year's business, unless the book accounts be reckoned in as genuine sales. Some merchants never make any real money, because their profits are always out among the people. Of course, most people pay up from time to time, but go in again right away, so that the crediting storekeeper never lacks for accounts receivable or bills payable, but often lacks for regular money. The credit business is badly abused in Texas. When times are good a stranger can drop into almost any Texas town and buy boots, shoes, hats, caps, trunks and valises, besides half a gross of Hosstrader's Bitters, and have the whole collection charged to him. If he pays, very good; if he doesn't pay, the merchant is out the amount. The community hasn't benefited, for what one man gained by dishonesty another lost by credulity. Let us buy our Christmas presents for cash, or not buy any. If State Press were keeping store and some jolly goods fellow should try to play Santa Claus by asking S. More Good News

The following valuable information has been officially received from Captain J. D. Fauntleroy, State Highway Engineer.

In addition to the State taking over the maintenance of all State Highways January 1st, 1924, as announced in our October 30th Bulletin, the State Highway Department will also take over the marking of all state highways on January 1st, 1924, under the direct supervision of the sixteen district engineers, details of which are as follows:

The road signs will be very simple in design and merely intended to inform the traveler the distance between towns, cross-roads and other important places.

In addition to these signs, road markers will also be erected, which will consist of a black circle, six to eight inches in diameter, containing a single white star and in the center of the star will be the number of the highway. These circles will be painted on telegraph poles, bridge heads, culvert headwalls and occasionally on sign boards where there is nothing else available to show such markings. For example: Anyone leaving Texarkana and following State Highway No. 1 will see these markers erected, or markers on posts, headwalls, etc. at relatively close intervals all the way to El Paso.

In addition there will be other signs for "Bad Curves," "Railroad Crossings," "Detours," etc.

The State Highway Department will finance the marking of all highways and have exclusive control of same, which will eliminate the necessity of the public contributing funds for the purpose of marking highways.

This is, indeed, valuable information and persons reading same should make it a point to tell others.

The highway bills, advocated by the Texas Fighway Association, and passed during the 38th Legislature, made it possible for the State to take over this important work. TEXAS HIGHWAY ASSOCIATION

COOLIDGE ASKS NATION TO OBSERVE "GOLDEN RULE SUNDAY" ON DEC. 2

The plans for the observance of Golden Rule Sunday call upon the people of America to serve a menu in their homes similar to that served in the orphanages in the near east, the difference in cost of the orphanage menu and the erdinary meal to be contributed to orphanage work overseas. The obse ance is very appropriately fixed for the Sunday following Thanksgiving. Having on Thursday partaken from well-laden tables as a token of rejoicing in the prosperity of America, it is fitting that on the following Sunday people give special consideration to the needs and distress of those who are

Dec. 2 has been set aside as "Golden Rule Sunday." On that day people will be asked to observe the broad principle of the Golden Rule by fore going their usual noonday meal and eating instead the frugal ration usually partaken of by the parentless children of Greece, Armenia and Palestine.

The world's people will then be asked to contribute the difference in the cost of the two meals to the principal relief organization in their country, to be administered for the needy Notable people in Europe who will co-operate to give the day an international aspect are King George of Greece, Prince Carl of Sweden, ex-Premier Clemenceau of France, M. Paul Hymans and Dr. Alice Masaryk.

AMERICAN FOODS BEST SAYS FAMOUS DOCTOR

Athens.—American standard foodstuffs are the best in the world, says Dr. Mabel Elliott, famous woman physician, who for the past two years has been medical director of American orphanages in the Near East. From the standpoint of purity and high food value, she asserts that no European nation can compete with the United States, and for this reason she insists on American products in all orphanages and hospitals, in order to meet ad untely the needs of undernouris! ed children.

Dr. Eliott's annual report, summing up the results of the care of 50,000 children in orphanages as well as clinics for 50.000 additional children in refugee camps and homes,

"Stable American foods are now the backbone of all our menus for rebuilding children who became weak and anaemic during the refugee exodus from Asia Minor. Our menus contain, not only bread made from American flour, and corn grits in porridge and stews, but also the liberal use of corn syrup, American condensed milk and American cocoa and macaroni, thus making a balanced ration to meet all the scientific requirements as to relative food values, calories and vitamines.

The favorite orphanage pudding is composed of corn grits with coco sweetened with corn syrup, and made more nutritious and palatable by adding a sauce of American condensed milk. Such a pudding has a high food value and is very economical—no other equivalent food value could be obtained from other foods at twice the Moreover, it is so palatable that children eat it eagerly several times a week, and never seem to tire of it. The American people, in provid'ng for these parentless children such pure and wholesome foods from their awn tables, are certainly making a practical application of the golden

RELIEF HAS SAVED MILLION

People of All Nations Will Figurative ly Gather Around Same Table as Practical Sign of Sympathy With Near East Sufferers.

How many comfortably fed, clothed and housed Americans will sit down to a Sunday dinner of rice, corn grits and soup-typical orphan fare-on December 2, as a practical test of the golden rule?

The question is asked today by Charles V. Vickrey, general secretary of Near East Relief, who is in charge of the plans for the general observance throughout the United States of "Gelden Rule Sunday." In an inter view, Mr. Vickrey said:

If American people will renounce for one meal the food they are accus temed to eat, and contribute the difference in cost to the support of stary ing children in the near east, the situation in Greece, Armenia and Palestine will become infinitely more real to them.

"I have recently returned from several months in those countries. America is a name to conjure with there. Bitter reproaches are heard against nearly every other country, but none against us. That is because people realize that Americans have gone to them with a helping hand and a square deal, rather than with the mailed fist.

"America could well have afforded to have spent every penny of her relief funds as a long-sighted, cold-blood ed business proposition. The good will that has resulted from relief work in the near east is of incalculable value. When these orphans we are caring for today grow to man hood, they will become the leaders of their nations and their eyes will turn toward America.

"At least a million persons in the near east would not be alive today had it not been for American aid. Even today, 100,000 persons are being cared for day to day by the Near East Relief, mostly women and children who would probably perish in a few days or weeks if the work ceased.

"Our workers are now concentrating not only on the physical care of our 50,000 orphans, but on their industrial training as well. At the age of 16, when an orphan leaves our care, he is equipped to enter some useful trade or business. In Narazeth there are boys working in our carpenter shop a few feet from the spot where Christ toiled. In Macedonia, hundreds of Greek orphans are learning farming in the atmosphere where Paul spent many years in establishing the first European churches.

"Five dollars a month provides food and physical necessities for an orphan, and $100 a year provides for his education as well. The observance of Golden Rule Sunday by a million American families will provide enough funds for thousands of orphans

"When people break bread together they become friends. On this Inter-national Golden Rule Sunday people of all nations figuratively will gather around the same table, partaking of the same food representing the menu which the unfortunate children of the near east hope, by the benevolence of the West, to eat 365 days in the year, cit yfor a visit. But even this simple menu the orphane cannot have out so the rest of ham & Philips.

RED CROSS ADVANCING IN HEALTH CAMPAIGN

Extends Service to New Fields and Brings Healing Hope to Remote Sections.

"The supreme spportunity for lead ership" for the American Red Cross is its health service. Thus a committee made up of prominent physicians, san itarians and public health experts after months of exhaustive study, re ported and urged that not only should the Red Cross continue its present service, but should undertake a comprehensive educational campaign along public health lines. The annual report of the American Red Cross, just issued, discloses that !! has grasped this opportunity in the fields of public health nursing, in struction in home hygiene and care of the sick, nutrition work, first aid to the injured and in water life-saving.

Health service is fundamentally historically and practically an important function of the Red Cross, and each year marks its extension into new fields and along broader lines. In the Red Cross Nursing Service there are enrolled nearly 40,000 nurses, 20, 000 of whom served during the World War. The past year Red Cross nurses were assigned to duty in isolated sections of Alaska and North Caroline and to work among the fisher men of Penobscot Bay, Me.

The Public Health Nursing Service inaugurated by the American Red Cross in 1912, which operates chiefly in rural sections untouched by other public health agencies, has 1,038 Red Cross nurses working under the direction of Chapters. This work has won so high a regard that many of the nurses are taken over by the local authorities to maintain health services for their communities. Instruction in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick is noting a steady advance. Since 1914 certificates of proficiency have been given 304,427 women who completed the Red Cross course. In the last year 26,595 certificates were awarded and 65,901 students were under the instruction of 1,054 Red Cross

The benefits derived from meals balanced to meet each person's peculiar needs is winning widespread recognition through the work of the Red Cross Nutrition Service, particularly in the schools. During the school year 2,688 carried on regular instruction in nutrition, reached more than 150,000 children and adults. than 2,250 volunteers assisted in this work. Throughout the country 35,283 health meetings were held under Red Cross auspices, attended by approximately 254,500 persons.

Annual Summons to Red Cross Banner On Armistice Day

America's great humanitarian enort in behalf of stricken Japan early in September gave the answer to the question, "What is there for the Red Cross to do in time of peace?" What the American Red Cross did at once when this crushing earthquake disaster came without warning showed ter came without warning showed that it was ready on the instant with country-wide team work to carry out quickly and effectively the request of the President to lead the national effort for the relief of the many thousands of sufferers. Preparedness to take the field when relief is needed is a charter duty of the Red Cross. Without a membership enrolled in every community in the land this read! ter came without warning showed ery community in the land this read!ness would be impossible. That is why your dollar membership is most important.

It is imperative that the structure of the American Red Cross be made up of millions of individual units. Opening Armistice Day, November 11, and closing with Thanksgiving Day, November 29, the Roll Call this year will penetrate to the ends of the earth and to the ships sailing the seven seas. The 3,600 Red Cross Chapters in the United States will have their busy volunteers enrolling members during this period imbued with renewed enthusiasm due to the with renewed enthusiasm due to the recent revival of effort when the call came from Japan.

> Home Life and Balanced Farming Go into an all-wheat community, or an all-cotton community, and you will find shabby school houses shabby churches and shabby-looking farmsteads. But go into a locality where diversification reigns where the sow, the cow and the hen are in command of the fields and in the homes you will discover good books, bright minds and a cheerful spirit.

The money that accrues from intelligent diversification is not in itself a particularly inspiring objective. It is only as one translates the meaning of better profits into improved minds and bodies that they become worth striving for.

Dr. William M. Jardine, president of the Kansas State Agricultural College, made a wise deduction when he

"No balanced agriculture is complete unless it includes provision for improved home and community life. Just as there must be balance between different enterprises in agricultural production, so there must be balance between agricultural production itself and the home life which has always been found essential to successful and happy farming."
