More about upstate New York......

When driving from village you travel up and down hills sometimes lined with trees and sometime a lake or open area where you can see a valley lined with farms, houses, very large barns, and at least 3 or more tall silos by each barn.

The ladies like their Tupperware and Home Interior and Schwan food, same as us. They have herb gardens as well as flower gardens. I went to one shop that was an old barn that was turned into a country gift shop. They used every inch of the space inside the barn. Antique stores were everywhere.

The people are friendly and very down-to-earth. They love the sunshine. They enjoy boating recreation (it isn't far to a lake or pond in any direction). We saw several convertables, and a lot of motorcycles. Bill road motorcycles and snow-mobiles a lot when he was growing up.

On the plane looking down from Albany to JFK I saw a lot of swimming pools that sit on top of the ground and a lot of baseball diamonds. On the Mowhawk of baseball diamonds. On the Mowhawk and Hudson River they do a lot of boating. Everwhere you look.

This is the 10th year for New York's recycle program. They passed a "Bottle Bill" that began this project and it has been successful. The following is an article from The Daily Star, Oneonta, N.Y., Iune 22 issue:

June 22 issue: STATE 'BOTTLE BILL'

TURNS 10 YEARS OLD In the past decade, New Yorkers have carried billions of beer and soda contain-

They've also kept millions of tons of: glass, metal and plastic out of landfills and incinerators and reduced roadside litter by as much as 70 percent, according to estimates from the state Department of Environmental Conservation.

into a recycling mode."

With the state deadline for mandatory curbside recycling just months away, New York's bottle bill has gotten people accustomed to sorting and separating their trash. And according to figures from the:

DEC, a lot of neople return their empties. DEC, a lot of people return their empties.

Statewide, more than 75 percent of the soda, beer and wine cooler containers purchased were returned last year, according to DEC. The redemption rate was highest in an area of central New York at nignest in an area of central new 10 fx and area of central new 10 fx and nore than 95 percent and lowest in the lower Hudson Valley at about 63 percent.

Last year alone, 270,000 tons of glass, 60,000 tons of plastic and 60,000 tons of aluminum were recycled from returned beverage containers, according to preliminary DEC estimates.

That was after New Yorkers paid deposits on 3.3 billion beer containes, 2.8 billion soda contaiers and 20 million wine cooler bottles.

Golden Age Group Grandeur

"Old" people are just extra, useless baggage to many young people today, and if a person is over forty-five they are considered to be just one step this side of the grave

So many times when older people try

So many times when older people try to give some very wise advise to the young people the all knowing young will say, "What right do they think they have to tell us what to do and what not to do?"

Those "old people" have already been along that "teenage path", and many of them made many mistakes, and have been faced with many of the same temptations along that rocky road and they are only trying to warn the young, so just maybe they can miss some of those pitfalls.

When several of the Golden Age set get together young people say, "All they talk about is old times". Being a member of that elite group of oldsters, I can tell them why memories of the past are im-them why memories of the past are important to us. We have lived through several wars, some of our husbands were gone for four years or longer, we have lived through the "great" depression and survived. In our youth we never had to lock our cars nor our houses, and we were ever afraid to be alone at night and we never arrand to be atome at night and we traveled many miles and to many places. Now in our old age we have a steady diet of fear. Cancer and polio were about the only incurable disease, and now there is; AIDS. Everyone is scared if they have to have a blood transfusion for fear of contracing AIDS. We even fear that our doctors and dentists will infect us with

The reason "old people" talk about old times is, there are so many horrible, heartbreaking, evil things going on everyday that we revert to the old times to recall pleasant memories.

Modern times do come in for much discussion and condemnation. The fears we have now are for our young people. They have so many evils and temptations to fight. Can they survive a great depression such as we experienced? This recession, as it is called, is only a worrisome thing compared to a full fledged depression. The moral deterioration among the young and old alike is alarming. The young and old alike is alarming young and out anke is alaming. The children are lacking in religious training because their parents no longer set Sun-day aside as a day of worship. It seems there is very little "good" to talk about, what with the gangs, riots, demonstrations, drugs, alcohol, promiscious sex, rape, kidnapping, and abuse of little girls and boys. As usual the United States has waited until these ills of civilization are out of control to start trying to do something about them. Our wise and aged Supreme Court members have given freedom of speech to the lawless, the criminals, atheists, gangs and flag burners, but not al-ways to Christians.

When two or more Senior Citizens (old people) get together they always want to talk about the old times, or so the young people say. But they are mistaken. We talk about our arthritis, dizziness, cataracts, and blood pressure After that subject has been depleted the next discus-sion is all about grandchildren. I have no grandchildren but after listening to the many pleasures that grandchildren give, start bragging about my nieces, nephews. great, great-great, and great-great-great nieces and nephews. that prayer in schools robs them of their freedom of speech. I suppose that the wise old men in the Supreme Court don't know that this country was founded on and promised freedom of religion. It is all right for the draft dodgers and "weirdos" right for the draft dodgers and "weirdos" to burn our flag - a symbol of our freedom - but we are not allowed to have prayer or Bibles in our school. The atheist have convinced that same Supreme Court that we cannot use the Nativity Scene as Christmas decorations in public businesses. It is all right, in the eyes of the Supreme Court, to take a baby's life after conception, but murder of a person is punishable by prison terms or death. Now the atheist are trying to have the word God taken out by prison terms or death. Now the atheist are trying to have the word God taken out of the Boy Scout and Girl Scout pledge and to also have God stricken from the pledge to the flag and the oath of office.

Just recently a Lubbock TV station conducted a poll to find out how many people in their broadcast coverage were for keeping prayer in schools and how many were against prayer in public many were against prayer in public schools. Ninety-nine per cent of the surschools. Ninety-mine per cent of the sur-vey were for keeping prayers in public school and one percent favored abolish-ing prayer in schools. It seems that should prove something to our highest court.

The power that atheist are showing is very disturbing to older Christians and we need to be teaching our young people about those dangers and encourage them to help Christians keep control of our country. Mrs. Murray O'Hair, founder of American Atheist Inc. recently led a march of Atheist on the Capitol of Texas, and in a statement to the press as follows, As long as there is religious slavery and for total, complete elimination of religion in American culture." She also stated that

CLOTH VERSUS

CLOTH VERSUS
DISPOSABLE DIAPERS
Some of you may be pondering the use of cloth versus disposable diapers. Some recent research has come to my attention that I thought I needed to share with you. The long-term costs are amazing. Cloth diapers are $10 a dozen. Seven dozen cloth diapers will last through two babies for a one-time cost of $70.

for a one-time cost of $70.

The cheapest disposable diapers found were 30 cents apiece. At an average of ten per day (more for newborns, less for per day (more for newborns, less for older babies), that's a whopping $1,008 a year. Since most children are in diapers for two to two and one-half years (or more), that's $2,016 to $2,520 for disposable diapers - as opposed to $70 for cloth. Even with electricity, detergent, bleach, and offener (which your general), the and softener (which you use anyway), the difference is staggering. Washing diapers is no more difficult or time consuming than washing regular laundry. By the way, don't use fabric softener on diapers. It decreases absorbency and just costs the things you want to do is to t unnecessary money.

Considering the abysmal state of the economy, one has better things to do with $900 plus a year than wipe a baby's be-hind with it. It is no wonder the diaper companies are flooding the airwaves with commercials. When mothers in this coun-try realize how much cold, hard cash they are throwing away in the landfills, they'll all be out of business. One other fact: Disposable diapers do not decompose for 500 years, and United States landfills receive 16 billion diapers

LIFE'S WHEELS MAY COME OFF

In golf, there are days when nothing seems to work right. Your swing is off, the ball makes bad bounces, you hit it too fat or too thin, you look up, and you can't make a putt. The list could go on and on. That's when it is said that "the wheels have come off."

I heard a true story about a person who had the "wheels come off." He was trying to start his motorcycle on his front proch.

When it did start, he lost control. The motorcycle shot through the front door, spinning out of control into his living room. It knocked over furniture, lamps, wrecking everything in sight. He was busy trying to get the cycle under control when it fell over, breaking his leg. He got it shut off. His wife called an ambulance. They came to get him and she hurriedly cleaned up the gasoline that had spilled. She mopped up what she could and put She mopped up what she could and put the excess gasoline in the commode and quickly rushed to see about her husband at the emergency room. She brought him home with his broken leg cared for. He went to the bathroom. While there, he lit a cigarette and when he finished, he dropped it into the commode. The commode caught on fire, burning him badly. His wife called the ambulance again. The same two men came to get him. While they were carrying him out on a stretcher, the family dog bit one of the men. They dropped the stretcher and broke the man's am!!!

That story makes me cringe. If I were to be asked about what to do in a case like that when all the "wheels fall off" in life, the only thing I can think of that is left to do is start "scooting.

9 of Fat Grams

For example, if a person was on an 1,800 calorie per day diet then their daily fat allowance would be 40 grams.

In order to reduce their fat consumption, dieters must first be aware of what types of food it is found in. There are basically two kinds of fat: visible, such as the marbled effect found in some meats; and hidden, such as the fats found in milk, egg yolks, grains and nuts.

'People who want to watch their fat intake need to replace these types of food with lean meat, fish, poultry, dry beans and peas," Norman said. "They should also trim excess fat off meats, broil and bake instead of fry, limit their intake of saturated fat and watch labels for fat

Thank You

Brown and I would like to thank everyone for their prayers and acts of kindness while I was in the hospital and since I came home. Thanks so much.

Cooking Corner Tips To Help You

One-Dish Supper Is Healthy and Fast

(DM)—With time at a premium, more families are turning to fast food, frozen dinners and takeout. While convenient, these choices may be high in sodium and fat, and lacking fruits and vegetables.

Raisin Chicken Santa Fe is a one-skillet dish for today's busy families. It uses wholesome ingredients, such as chicken, peppers and tangy California raisins. Total cooking time? Just 30 minutes!

Versatile and convenient, raisins also are a good value. It takes four pounds of grapes to make a pound of raisins.

RAISIN CHICKEN SANTA FE 1½ cups chicken broth or bouillon 1 cup raisins ¼ cup tomato paste 1 teaspoon ground coriander Salt and pepper, to taste

- RAISIN CH skinned tablespoon olive oil cloves garlic, minced onion, chopped
  red or green bell peppers, seeded and sliced into strips fresh or canned jalapeño pepper, minced

In large skillet over medium heat cook chicken in oil until lightly browned, turning once. Add garlic, onion, and bell and jalapeño peppers; saute 2 minutes. Mix in broth, raisins, tomato paste and coriander. Bring to boil, reduce heat, cover and simmer 10 minutes. Uncover; cook about 10 minutes until chicken is tender and sauce is slightly reduced. Season with salt and pepper.

Makes 4 servings.

we "wouldn't be in difficulty if we weren't being ruled by those who believe in fantasy."

It is evident that Mrs. O'Hair has never read the Bible nor a History book or she would learn that the nations that have would learn that the nations that have turned away from God have met with their downfall. Russia is a very recent example of this fact. Let's all, young and old, use what is left of our freedom of speech to fight these efforts of the atheist speech to fight these efforts of the ameist to undermine our country.

The majority of the "old people" grant that politics are rotten and that Congress is a greedy self interest group. Congress gives itself a big raise every year then immediately starts trying to balance the budget by cutting back funds for education, child care, housing, and medicare benefits.

Everyone agrees it would help balance the budget if the government would start cutting down on its waste and do Something else young people must away with so many "free" things that government officials enjoy at the people's expense.

When the Golden Age Group get together it's not all gloom and disaster. We play games, go to different places to eat together, go shopping, play bridge, belong to different clubs, and take part in church activities.

Getting older has its advantages. The children are grown, educated, and on their own. We have retired, we can sleep their own. We have retired, we can sleep as late as we want, eat when and what we want, read or watch TV all day if we want to, doze in our chair, and spoil the grand-children (then send them home).

Traveling is one of the biggest things and most enjoyed. All of this is our recipe for feeling younger and staying younger It may take us two or three times to rock ourselves out of a chair to a standing position, and occasionally we may stager a little when we walk. Nearly all of us doze a bit in church, and it gets to be real painful to kneel at the altar to take communion. We know we are slower, a little munion. We know we are slower, a little munion. We know we are slower, a little hard of hearing and sometimes our memory is not the best in the world, but we really do enjoy life!

There is a bit of advice we would all like to pass on to the young people. Live your life in such a way as to be a good example for others and especially for your children. So many times children follow the examples of their parents, and no parent wants to mislead their children.

Something else young people must remember. They are not going to be young always, and years have a mighty sneaky way of flying by, and youth goes in a hurry.

So be patient with us "old people", and don't be in a hurry to count us out!

Childress Arts & Crafts Fair Set For August

CHILDRESS — The 1992 Annual Arts and Crafts Fair, sponsored by Childress Retail Merchants, is set for Saturday, Aug. 15th - about a month earlier 4. Ru than the event took place last year because merchants hope it will provide an opportunity for farmers and gardeners to offer melons and other produce for sale from wagons parked downtown.

Located on downtown sidewalks, the 1991 fair attracted over 50 exhibitors.

Many, unaware the event was taking place until they drove into the area, expressed surprise at so much activity in this normally quiet downtown city on a Saturday morning.

Described by participants and guests alike as an overwhelming success, the same format was chosen for the August fair.

Space will be donated by merchants at no charge to craftsmen. Electricity will be provided if requested. In return, exhibitors will be expected to follow established guidelines:

1. All items sold must be handmade.

2. No commercial products will be urged to use this occasion to offer some type of fund raising activities during the craft fair.

Tips for an Emergency Situation

No one plans on having an emergency, but statistics show that each year more than 77 million people receive treatment in emergency rooms across the country. Knowing what to expect in such a situation can prove helpful in a time of crisis.

Taking the Sting Out of Summer

The bugs of summer range from the pesky to the downright painful. Mosquitoes and gnats and even the creepy, crawly woods ticks mean us no ill will. They are just looking for a free meal, and we are a movable feast

Bees, wasps, yellow jackets and hornets are another matter. These are bugs with an attitude and a stinger to back it up. They are not looking for trouble; they too are looking for a meal. However, they aren't inclined to take much guff from picnickers in the process.

The bee taking a sip of your sweet soft drink thinks it has discovered the mother lode of nectar. Wasps, hornets and yellow jackets are predatory scavengers that think a shred of lunch meat is a feast. If you sip your soft drink and pin a bee or yellow jacket down with your lips, or sit down on a hornet trying to drag away a sandwich scrap, they get

For real hostilities, disturbing a wasp nest or beehive will unleash an aerial attack smaller in scale but similar in ferocity to the Battle of Midway. The stinger and its venom are the primary defense of these insects. Bee stingers actually rip out with the venom sac attached and continue to inject venom while the bee dies in defense of its hive.

Bee, wasp, yellow jacket and hornet stings cause significant local pain, redness and swelling for up to 48 hours. Multiple stings, common when a nest or hive is disturbed, can be serious enough to require a doctor.

With all stings, clean the area with soap and water. With bee stings, scrape the stinger from the skin. Do not squeeze it with the fingers, as that will inject more venom from the sac.

In the rural South, a wad of well-chewed chewing tobacco, applied as a poultice, was a common folk remedy. Perhaps this was not so farfetched. modern home remedy is a paste made of dampened meat tenderizer. Both saliva and meat tenderizer contain enzymes that help counteract the venom. Cold compresses and mild analgesics for discomfort also help.

For certain hypersensitive individuals, a bee or wasp sting is truly dan gerous. An allergic reaction to insect venom is characterized by a rash (hives), dizziness, nausea, facial and throat swelling (regardless of sting location), difficulty in breathing and even collapse in anaphylactic shock

This is a serious medical emergency that requires immediate medical attention, Mild antihistamines may aid breathing if medical aid is distant. Allergic individuals should consult their doctor about a special firstaid kit containing epinephrine before embarking on outdoor adventures.

Avoiding confrontation with the stinging insects is the best policy. Keep a clean campsite and don't leave food scraps in the open. Rinse food and drink containers immediately after use.

Check porches, sheds, outhouses, etc., at summer cabins for wasp nests. Removing a wasp nest is a challenging venture and not without risk. Wear protective clothing or call a professional. Id

WTU Adds New Business Development Department

West Texas Utilities Co. is strengthening its commitment to the future of west Texas with the creation of a new business development department. Head-ing the department will be David Young who was promoted from manager of economic development to director of business development.

Young will be responsible for the company's economic support programs which help local and regional groups like cities, chambers of commerce and indus-trial development agencies attract business and jobs to west Texas. "Attracting new industries is critical to the economic well being of this region" according to Paul Brower, WTU's vice president of marketing and business development who announced the changes. "This organiza-tional change emphasizes the increased importance we see for this effort and will allow David and his team to maximize their efforts in promoting the many ad-vantages of WTU's service territory" Brower said.

Young, a graduate of Northeast Lou-isiana University, holds a BS degree in business administration and a BBA in marketing. He joined Southwestern Electric Power Company in 1979 as a re-search assistant, then held staff advisor positions in energy audits and residential marketing before he became an economic development specialist in 1986. He moved to WTU in 1989 as manager of economic development. Both WTU and SWEPCO are subsidiaries of Central and South West Corp.

WORKING LONGER CAN ADD TO SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS

If you continue to work full-time past age 65, you may increase your basic Social Security retirement benefit in two ways. First, for each month that you do not receive a benefit - until the month in which you reach age 70 - your benefit amount will automatically increase.

Second, you will be adding years of high earnings to your Social Security record, and these earnings may result in higher benefits.

record, and these earnings may result in higher benefits.

Under the delayed retirement credit provisions, if you will be 65 this year or in 1993 and you continue to work, your benefit amount will increase 4 percent per year. By age 70, your Social Security benefit will be 20 percent higher than it would have been if you began receiving monthly benefits at a be 65. monthly benefits at age 65.

If you're like many people who continue to work after age 65, your most recent earnings are your highest earnings and continuing to work adds them to your Social Security record. Because benefits are based on earnings averaged over most of your working career, higher lifetime earnings result in higher benefits. One important point to remember is that if you decide to delay retirment, you should be sure to sign up for Medicare at age 65. You need to contact Social Security about 3 months before your 65th birthday to sign up for Medicare hospital insurance (Part A).

And, you also need to let Social Secu-

Knowledge Shared

The student of the Bible should have a deep and discernable love for both God and His Word. The Bible student should be able to say with David of old, "O how love I thy law It is my meditation all the day." (Psalm 119:97 There is purpose in the study of the Bible. First, to benefit one's self. Then to be able to share with others the "Good News" of salvation, which the Bible reveals to us. salvation which the Bible reveals to us.

In order to teach others, a teacher must first know what he or she is teaching. Winston Churchill once described an oppo-nent as "one of those orators who, before they get up, do not know what they are know what they are saying; and when they have set down, do not know what they have

The apostle Paul, encouraged the young man Timothy to "give attention to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine....Take heed unto thyself, and unto the doctrine; continue in them; for in doing this thou shalt both save thyself and them that hear thee." (I Timothy 4: 13-16). As gifted and blessed as Timothy must have been, he was nevertheless urged to study the Word of God.

Should we consider ourselves on a higher plane than Timothy? Are there any among us above the need to read and study the words of our Lord Jesus Christ? May God bless us and help us have the desire to seek for "the unsearchable riches of Christ."
