He also believed that a balanced four-fold life of mental, physical, social, and spiritual development was necessary to sustain individuals for the demands of leadership.

Matador Methodists Celebrate 100 Years

Culminating 100 years of Methodism in Matador, October 11, 1992 dawned bright, clear and warm, as the doors of Matador Methodist Church opened to members and friends who had come to join in the celebration of this centennial for the church.

The sanctuary was beautiful with its Fall decorations on the altar and the tables in the Fellowship hall with gourds, heads of grain, corn and seasonal beauties with brown straw paper bows accenting the arrangements.

A pictorial directory had been prepared for distribution and a cookbook printed using as the basis a cookbook compiled in the early 1920s by the Women's Society and loaned by Hazel Walton Donovan. There will be more copies of this printed later for sale and distribution.

Rev. Mary Helen Cross welcomed those attending including a group from Motley County High School, Fellowship of Christian Athletes. She also introduced Gene and Mary Louder, former pastor. During the year former pastors, Kenny Kirk, Royce Scott, Eddie Marcum, Gene Louder have returned to fill the pulpit in recognition of the centennial celebration.

Mrs. Furman Vinson, as church historian, presented a brief history of the church from its inception when a band of hardy pioneers met on the banks of Ballard Creek near the Reeves home northeast of Matador on October 2, 1892 to the present relating how and when the three church buildings had been erected, how long they stood, the Bishops who had come to Matador being H.A. Boaz in 1936; Paul Galloway in 1963; Eugene Slater in 1965; and Louis Schowengerd; also native son, Bishop Danny Solomon. A list of former pastors was read and thanks to those many people of the church who had worked long, laborious hours toward a culmination of this joyous occasion. Mrs. Vinson introduced Mr. E.E. Masters, Representative of the Archives and History of the Northwest Texas Conference who, in turn, presented a certificate of appreciation for the 100 years service to Methodism in Matador, to Mrs. Glen Woodruff, Chairman of the Board of the Matador Church.

A litany composed by Rev. Mary Helen Cross was led by Mrs. Vinson after which the congregation joined in a medley of favorite hymns, Amazing Grace, Oh How I Love Jesus, He Keeps Me Singing and Blessed Be The Name.

At this time, Rev. Dr. Ishan Ardhuerum, recently appointed District Superintendent of Plainview District was presented. He did under graduate work at Indiana Tech and University of Oklahoma receiving a Masters degree in Management from University of Rochester. He was granted both Master of Theology and Dr. of Ministry degrees from Perkins School of Theology at S.M.U. He has served churches in NWTCC and held many District and Conferences offices since 1980 when he was ordained.

He was born in Bagdad, Iraq of Turkish heritage and raised a Moslem before his acceptance of Christ as Lord and Savior. His wife, Lillith, is also a minister in the NWTCC and has been associate in Borger with her husband until his appointment as District Superintendent. They have been married 35 years, have five children and nine grandchildren.

All who came enjoyed a feast of brisket, beans and many other foods brought by members.

As this was also the day of Harvest Festival when once-a-year giving for percentage items was held, it was a day to be doubly proud and thankful.

The programs cover a wide range of subjects all the way from local gardens to the rose garden at the White House in Washington D.C.

The attractive books, featuring blue-bonnetts on the cover, were made by Mrs. Lee, a service she carries out yearly for the club with her artistic ability.

5 A DAY - IT MAY BE EASIER THAN YOU THINK

The 5 a day program is the first nationwide health promotion, sponsored by the National Cancer Institute (NCI), to focus on the positive role of fruit and vegetable consumption in reducing the risk of cancer and other chronic diseases.

The slogan, "5 a day - for Better Health" provides consumers with a clean, understandable message that can easily be incorporated into their lifestyles.

The goal of the program is for Americans to increase fruit and vegetable consumption to 5 servings a day by the year 2000. One serving is 1/2 cup of fruit, 3/4 cup juice, 1/2 cup cooked vegetables, 1 cup leafy vegetables or 1/4 cup dried fruit.

Five main points to remember are:

- Eat five servings of fruit and vegetables a day.
- Eat at least one vitamin A rich selection everyday.
- Eat at least one vitamin C rich selection everyday.
- Eat at least one high fiber selection everyday.
- Eat cabbage family (cruciferous) vegetables several times a week.

Some suggested ways of incorporating more fruits and vegetables into the family diet are add sliced bananas or strawberries to your cereal, top pancakes with fruit instead of syrup, add zucchini, carrot or celery sticks to your brown bag lunch or lettuce, sprouts and tomatoes to your sandwich, snack on dried fruit, use yogurt to garnish main dishes, top frozen yogurt with fresh fruit and add chopped fruit or berries to muffins, cakes and cookies.

Fruits and vegetables without added fats have no cholesterol and almost all are naturally low in calories, fat and sodium. Some are good sources of other nutrients such as folacin, potassium and calcium. Fruits and vegetables also help promote a healthy digestive tract and may lower your risk of cancer.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are for people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap, or national origin.

Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise: be thankful unto him, and bless his name. For the Lord is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations.
Psalm 100:4-5

DOES ANYONE CARE?

"I looked on my right hand, and behind, but there was no man that would know me; refuge failed me; no man cared for my soul." (Psalm 142:4). This sad cry of the psalmist, although not quite accurate, expresses both desire and despair. He wanted someone to care about him and his soul. Haven't we all at one time or another felt the same? What hopelessness and helplessness, when we feel that no one cares. But someone does. No matter who you are or where you are, there are those who care about you.

God cares for your soul. "God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life." (John 3:16). God cares about you. He cares for your soul.

Jesus Christ cares for your soul. Our Lord Jesus willingly went to the cross and died there, for you. As written in Hebrews 2:9, "That he by the grace of God should taste death for every man." Jesus wants you to be saved and invites you to "Come unto me." (Matthew 11:28). There is a song in the hymn books which states: Does Jesus care? Oh, yes, He cares! It appears that the song writer was familiar with biblical principles. Jesus cares for your soul.

Your friends and relatives care for your soul. The loving concern of a Christian spouse, or parent, or child, makes itself known in so many ways. Every act of love says, "I care for your soul." If you knew the whole story, you would marvel at the number of friends who care for you. God has given us a great support system. Great is our God.

Robin's 'Ritins

Thursday of last week, October 8, the Motley County School hosted a College Day. We had Lockney, Paducah, Guthrie, and Patton Springs came down to join us. We had many different colleges and Universities, plus the Marine recruiters and Army recruiters there. Each student went to the table of the college or university that they would like to look into or enroll in.

I think everyone had fun and learned a little about each college or University they visited. It really made you think about what your going to major in and find different things out about each college.

BEING HAPPILY MARRIED IS NOT ALWAYS EASY
Formulas for having a happy, healthy marriage are passed around like trading cards. I want to add another.
Handling Conflict is necessary to keep a relationship from being eaten up from the inside. Too many people push conflict down so far that it begins to fester like an infection. It usually pops up somewhere though, in some form. Handling conflict is a lot more than yelling and arguing till you're worn out. It is being heard by the other, knowing you have the right to your feelings and having the other person kind of know you're feelings. Avoiding conflict is not, usually, healthy.

ners help each feel accepted and valuable. It shows trust and sensitivity. Each person has a right to their feelings. People who are in an environment where it is safe to express them will be a lot healthier emotionally.
Affective Affirmation has to do with being accepted as you are, for who you are. It is easy to accept someone as they are before you're married and then think marriage will change them. It doesn't work that way. A person may want to change as a means of personal growth but not to change the basic person.
Having Fun is something many of us have forgotten how to do. We've been busy climbing a career ladder, making money, and impressing people that we have left the little child, inside us, all alone.

Letter From Ex-Student Tells of Active Life in California

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fulfer

A letter to Hazel Donovan, co-secretary of the Ex-Students and Teachers Association, from Paul Fulfer, Modesto, California, member of the 1934 class arrived too late for the Homecoming Welcome edition to the Motley County Tribune. However, it contained interesting facts concerning his life in California, and a picture of him and his wife, Doris (former Doris Whately, class of 1939) on their 50th wedding anniversary.

He sent a donation to the Ex-Students fund, with regrets that they had been unable to attend any of the Homecomings so far ".....and especially it was disappointing not to share in our 50th high school reunions which were 1984 for me and 1989 for Doris."

"I am still practicing law full time and enjoying every minute of it. We are active in the First Baptist Church in Modesto, such as rotating as a Deacon. Also, I teach a couples' class of about 50, and we are Bible study leaders to a group of 20 and 30 marrieds. I have a business men's Bible study I lead, plus I meet for breakfast with some young men, disciplining them. We are all growing. Doris cares for her mother, who will be 100 years old in four months. She does lots of counseling with younger women who are stressed out and hurting with all sorts of problems, but it is very rewarding and we are excited to see what God is doing.

"I want you to know, Hazel, that we will never forget you, and you are a lady that we have admired and appreciated over the years for all you are doing for others in your area. Having been born and reared in Matador, you and the people there will always be special to me. May God reward you much for taking such an active part in the Ex-Students' Homecomings. It's so kind of you to do so.

"We send our kindest regards to you and all our former classmates and high school friends." Most cordially, Paul (E. Paul Fulfer).

PEOPLE AND PLACES

by Frances A. Ellis

NOTE: Mrs. Ellis is an aunt to Barbara Armstrong. She writes for The Paris News, Paris Texas. She recently returned from a trip to Russia.

Kiev, the capital of the Ukraine is an exciting and changing city visited by 24 journalists on the August "People To People" International Communications Consortium. It is an ancient city covering seven hills on the banks of the Dnipro River, the longest river in Europe and was founded in 800 A.D. becoming the city of the "Golden Age" under Prince Vladimir who reigned in 978. He introduced Christianity, opening the doors to cultural and architectural influence from Constantinople.

It produced heavy machinery and chemicals so was heavily damaged during World War II. Now Kiev is important for producing cameras, televisions, computers, space technology and equipment.

We flew from St. Petersburg to Kiev on Aeroflot Flight 8641, stayed at the Dnipro Hotel on Leninsky Komsomol Square with a room overlooking the square and hearing the noises of a city at night. There are 2 million people Eloene T. Griggs, official for the International Bridge Press Association, Washington, D.C. shared our room on the trip - an interesting professional who traveled on to Milan, Italy for the World Bridge Tournament until Oct. 6.

We enjoyed the large hotel restaurant, decorative with one expensive wall hung with hundreds of plates of all sizes and decor. We had to buy bottled water to drink and wash our teeth in, and ate the same salads - tomatoes, cucumbers and onions served in Moscow and St. Petersburg. Only Prague had learned about salad bars.

Kiev has many monuments, and many to Lenin, but the most outstanding was a tremendous metal rainbow formation with sculptured figures of fighters who helped reunify the Ukraine with Russia. The "Monument of Motherland" stands over the memorial complex of the State Museum of History. The "Monument to Prince Vladimir" sculpted in 1853 overlooks the Moskowsky Bridge cross the Dnipro River.

We had an interesting visit to the Kiev City Executive Committee with interpreter Andre and Intourist Guide, Svetlana translating. Nikolay Dymomin of the Ukrainian Institute for Urban Planning and Architecture spoke in English explaining Kiev had the same problems that all large cities have - housing, water, foreign investors and poor economy. The State health care system was not worked out after the change from Communism.

The evening at a Ukrainian restaurant in the country provided good fish dinner and music entertainment enjoyed by our group plus a large delegation from Japan.

The Kiev State University was started in 1880, now has 21,000 students and graduates 1,400 each year. There are 16 departments including the one we visited - Journalism with guests from local publications and the public relations man from the mayor's office. Since the change, the department is working for better level of teaching with international journalism and foreign languages a must. Their needs are like the other universities, equipment, especially in the computer and technical way. We were glad to share a letter from Dr. Shirley Chater and publications from Texas Woman's University.

Visits to the famous St. Sophia Cathedral and the Museum of Ukrainian Art plus a stop at the flea market in front of the stadium were interesting. We enjoyed Marilyn Hoffman of New York, writer for the Christian Science Monitor.

One of the most important visits in Kiev was with Sid and Bert Kruger Smith and translator Svetlana to the Institute of Gerontology organized in 1958 within the USSR Academy of Medical Sciences and since 1991 under the Ukrainian Minister of Health. We had two hours visit with Dr. Konstantin G. Sarkisov and Professor Gemradly Bufenuo. The setting is in a picturesque part of Kiev with three buildings, two housing the clinic with 240 beds. Fifty thousand patients come once a year as out-patients. Laboratory is in a six story building. A Library has 60,000 items. A Journal is printed quarterly with the findings of the study of the physical body aging process. They share with other parts of the world and Mrs. Smith said that she would mail them publications from the Hogg Foundation for Mental Health in Austin.

We walked many miles in Kiev, seeing the old and the new and hope the city and the Ukraine will progress wisely and profitably into the "change."

ANNUAL REPORT UPPER PEASE SWCD

Directors: H.R. Jameson, James Bearden, Coy Franks, Gale Stafford, Billy Paul Simpson

SO YOU THINK COVER CROPS ARE NEW? This August 1956 photo near Flomot shows that cover crops have a long standing success in this area. With the passing of the 1985 and 1990 farm bills, cover crops have become even more common. The conservation compliance portion of the two farm bills have certainly had an impact on USDA program participating farmers. Motley County farmers have done an outstanding job of implementing the conservation provisions required by the farm bills. Although all producers have not completely implemented their conservation plans, local SCS personnel estimate about 80% of the management practices are in place and 60% of the structural measures are in place. For program participants, this makes the December 31, 1994 deadline an achievable goal and the Upper Pease SWCD and the SCS personnel of Motley County commend local producers for their excellent work and accomplishments

The Upper Pease SWCD named two new directors to the board this year. Gale Stafford replaced W.H. Marshall following Marshall's resignation after serving for fifteen years. Billy Paul Simpson, of Northfield, replaced W.D. "Duke" Lipscomb. Duke served the SWCD board for 36 years. The SWCD board is now H.R. Jameson, chairman; James Bearden, Vice Chairman; Coy Franks, secretary; Gale Stafford, member; and Billy Paul Simpson, member. The SWCD also replaced Renee Meyer, clerk/technician. Debbie Denison now serves in the position of SWCD clerk and soil conservation technician. The purpose of the SWCD is to promote sound soil and water conservation programs on agriculture lands within the district and to serve as a voice for farmers, ranchers, and local community entities on conservation matters. The board of directors coordinates the conservation efforts of various local, state, and federal agencies and other organizations and has authority to enter into working agreement with these governmental agencies and private concerns to carry out its purpose. In Texas there are 211 soil and water conservation directors. Each director is a legal subdivision of the state of Texas. All programs of the district are of a voluntary nature to the landowner, owner, or other potential users of the SWCD programs.

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

Reactions following Wednesday nights freezing temperatures run from good to bad with the majority in the more upbeat category according to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG). Even though the area's first freeze came two to three weeks earlier than usual most producers think it will produce generally positive effects.

Apparently southern areas received just what they needed, a light freeze that will encourage plants to begin drying down and dropping leaves before harvest. Northern areas were not as lucky with below freezing temperatures staying long enough to put the final nail in the coffins of some late fields.

"The below freezing temperatures experienced by much of the High Plains may prove beneficial to most producers," says PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson. "In most cases temperatures dropped below the freezing mark for only a short time."

What effect the freeze will have on the eventual size of the High Plains crop is still unknown, although most observers feel it will not be particularly harmful. Many producers seem to have decided the crop has for the most part made all the cotton it has a realistic chance to make and are ready to begin harvest preparations.

Many area crop watchers now feel a crop near 1.25 million bales can be reached and that the October USDA estimate of 1.36 million bales may also be possible.

Sign-up for Phase III of the disaster program begins Tuesday, October 13, many producers want to know how disaster relief payments will be calculated according to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG). PCG officials encourage producers who pain to apply for disaster benefits to contact their county ASCS office to get specific details about the program.

PCG officials understand that no major changes have been made and disaster payments will be computed the same way they were under Phase I of the Program. One thing that did change however is that under Phases II and III producers will be guaranteed the 50.04 percent payment rate calculated for Phase I of the program.

Producers who sign up for the program for the first time under Phase III will have the option of choosing 1990, 1991, or 1992. Growers who participated under Phase I will be limited to choosing between 1992 and the year for which they have not received payments.

Producers still cannot receive a disaster payment and a deficiency payment on the same pound or bushel of a crop under Phase III. Growers need to be aware that an adjustment will be necessary at sign-up to make sure deficiency and disaster payments are not made on the same pound or bushel of the crop.

Insurance indemnity payments are also likely to have little effect on most producers applying for disaster relief under Phase III. The only time insurance proceeds will reduce the amount of a producers disaster payment is when the expected gross income of the farm is less than the sum of the insurance indemnity and the expected disaster payment. In this situation the disaster payment will be reduced by the amount of difference between the two figures.

Social Security Tips

by Mary Jane Shanes

More than 12 million people - almost one-third of all Social Security beneficiaries - receive over $5.2 billion each month in dependents or survivors benefits based on the earnings records of workers who have retired, become disabled, or died. Yet, many of these beneficiaries, and other potential beneficiaries, may not be aware of the full scope of family protection provided by the Social Security program. Still others haven't stopped to consider the impact of such benefits on their own financial well-being.

Among these 12 million beneficiaries are 5 million family members who see benefits begin when a family breadwinner retired or became disabled. Additionally, there are more than 7 million men, women, and children who receive monthly Social Security benefits because a household breadwinner has died.

Those who may qualify for dependents or survivors benefits include children, wives and husbands, and widows and widowers and parents.

Children may qualify for dependents or survivors benefits if they are:

- * under age 18, or 18-19 years old and full-time highschool students, or 18 or older and disabled. The disability must have started before age 22.

Wives and husbands may qualify for dependents benefits if they are:

- * 62 or older;
- * any age and caring for the worker's child(ren) who are under age 16 or disabled; and
- * divorced spouses 62 or older are also eligible if the marriage had lasted 10 years or more. Benefits paid to a former spouse do not reduce the amount payable to the current spouse and family.

Widows and widowers may be eligible for survivors benefits if they are:

- * 60 or older, or
- * any age and caring for the worker's child(ren) who are under age 16 or disabled, or
- * 60 or older and divorced from the worker, if the marriage had lasted 10 years or more, or
- * 50 or older and disabled.

Parents may be eligible for dependents benefits if:

- * they are age 62 or older and were being supported by the worker.

You can get an estimate of your Social Security benefits and those of your family by calling Social Security's toll-free telephone number and asking for a form SSA-7004 (Request for Earnings and Benefit Estimate Statement). The estimate will include the benefits you can expect at retirement or if you become disabled and unable to work. It also shows what your family can expect if you retire, become disabled, or die.

If you are a family member applying for Social Security benefits you will need to provide the worker's Social Security number and your own Social Security number and birth certificate. Other documents may be required, depending on the type of benefit. If you don't have all the documents you need, Social Security can help you get them.

To apply for benefits or request a benefit estimate, call Social Security's toll-free number, 1-800-772-1213, business days between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m., or stop by any Social Security office.

Roaring Springs Sr. Citizens Report

by Eugenia Bethard

The Roaring Springs Senior Citizens met October 1, 1992 for their regular meeting. The opening of the meeting was by the usual song, "The More We Get Together", with Mary Lumsden, at the piano, and Beth Hinson leading in the singing. Everyone sang with gusto. The birthday song was sung in honor of Odessa Mullins and Ray Zabielski. Mary Lumsden was not at the September meeting, so we included her in the birthday song. She was eighty years young in September.

Rev. Ernie Brown gave the opening Prayer. At our next meeting there will be a Nutritionist as our Guest Speaker. In order for her to be able to be our Guest Speaker, it was necessary to change our meeting time to the 27th of October. Our November meeting will be changed to the 12th of November. This will be our Thanksgiving dinner.

Also present at our next meeting will be Judge Boyce Hart and Mr. J.N. Fletcher.

We were pleased with the number present. There were only two out of the registered members not present. Everyone is invited to attend our meetings and enjoy the camaraderie that exists among the long time friends, and those of more recent years.

But get into the habit of being victorious. Don't make sin the policy of your life.

Winning over evil isn't only a sometime thing. Why think of victory only once-in-a-while? Make it the habit of your life to do things right all the time. How?

When you get up in the morning yield yourself to God. Resist the devil. Then go forth claiming the Bible promise, "I can do everything through Him who gives me power."

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF RATE CHANGE REQUEST AND STATEMENT OF INTENT

Notice is hereby given that DICKENS ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE INC., (the "Utility") intends to change the rate applicable to large power loads of 40,000 KW or more for customers qualifying for service under the existing load retention rate. The existing load retention rate was approved by the Public Utility Commission of Texas and is applicable to certain qualifying loads over 2,000 KW. At the time this rate was approved the Utility was not contractually committed to supply power in excess of 40,000 KW and it was not anticipated that any single load would exceed 40,000 KW. Recently, however, the Utility has been requested to provide service to a larger load. The proposed rate change would not affect customers with loads of less than 40,000 KW but would reduce the rate applicable to large power loads of 40,000 KW or more. The changes are proposed to be effective November 9, 1992. The proposed rate changes do not affect historic test year revenues. The changes are applicable to all customers with large power loads of 40,000 KW or more qualifying for service under the load retention rate in all areas served by the Utility.

Implementation of the proposed load retention rate and other changes is subject to approval by the Public Utility Commission of Texas. A statement of intent including the proposed revisions of tariff and schedules and a statement specifying in detail each proposed change is available at the general office of the Utility located at Spur, Texas.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Texas Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for he deaf.

How do you feel about locking in an interest rate when rates are at a 26 year low? In fact, when you consider inflation and taxes, the real return on your CD can be negative. With Delta tax-deferred annuities, if the rate Delta earns on your money goes up, the rate you earn goes up. Guaranteed.
