Three Times Eleven: Armistice Day

by Marisue Potts

At eleven o'clock on the eleventh day on the eleventh month of 1918, an eerie, numbing silence fell over the Western Front. The Armistice was signed between the Central Powers led by Germany and the Allies, composed primarily of Great Britain, France, Russia, and the U.S.

Pouring into the streets as the church bells pealed the news, Americans rejoiced, dancing the streets. The war to end all wars had ended in a truce.

Armistice Day, November 11, commemorated the ending of World War I. In 1954 it was changed to Veterans Day, an observance on the fourth Monday in October which honored all veterans of military service. By 1978 a movement spearheaded by veterans organizations had returned the date of Veterans Day to the traditional November 11.

World War I draftee Clarence Jinkins was recently honored with a medal from a private foundation commemorating the 75th anniversary of that conflict. Jinkins was attached to a Hot Air Balloon Reconnaissance Company at Ft. Sill, Oklahoma. The Motley County farm boy patiently scanned the skies through binoculars until time to help haul in the bulky balloon and basket by its dangling ropes.

Pulling rank as a Chauffeur, Jinkins got a taste of driving a four-wheel drive Nash Quad truck with solid rubber tires on his rounds of hauling coal to the barracks. When the Spanish flu hit the base, the hearty boy was one of the few unaffected by the deadly virus.

Armistice for Jinkins did not mean coming home, however. Months and months passed before he was discharged to return to his sweetheart and the land his dad had rented for the balloon-watching farm boy.

Veterans' Exhibit Spans the Centuries

From the Civil War to Vietnam and Desert Storm, the Motley County Museum's Veterans Room spans centuries of sacrifice and patriotism by members of the military service. Their story is told with photographs, uniforms, gear and personal mementos.

Created by Ron Bailey, a local product who is a member of the Historical Society at his home in Eastland, is an outstanding pegboard display which contrasts the gear carried during WWI, WWII, and the conflicts of Korea and Vietnam. Ron, a dedicated and prolific collector, returns to Motley County the collection of Gary Lancaster's patches, relating to the Vietnam War. Lancaster served as a gunner on a Chinook helicopter as part of the 11th Combat Aviation Battalion.

From the Northfield community comes the bronze memorial plaque dedicated by the community to the memory of Travis McDonald, killed in action and buried in France in 1944. It reads, "Student at Northfield and Matador public schools and of Texas A&M College. Paratrooper in 517th Parach. Infantry Regiment and a member of the Church of Christ. He left everywhere a record of cheerful cooperation, unreserved sacrifice and loyalty to duty, undimmed by any selfish act. His first thought was always for others. His monument is in the hearts of all who knew him."

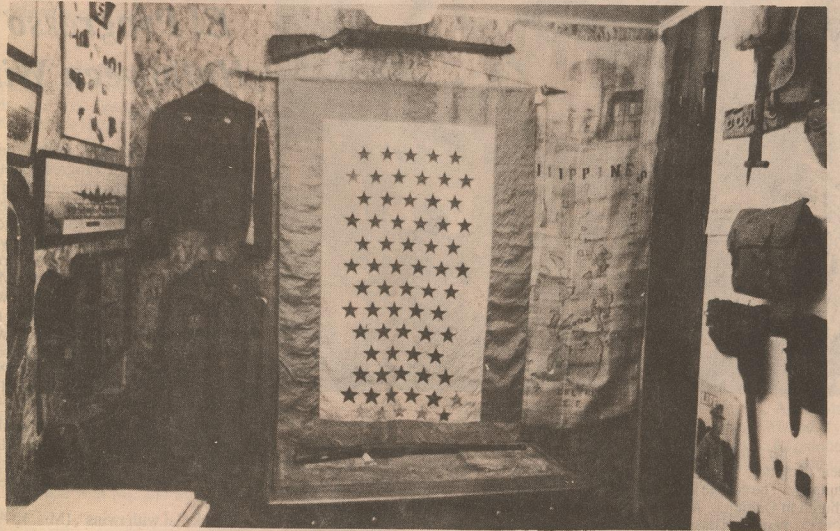

Other exhibits include an 1890 photo of surviving confederates of the Civil War era who settled here World War I is represented by, among others, panoramic views of soldiers in training camps, the tin helmet of a doughboy, a soldier's handsome likeness framed by patriotic scenes.

A unique shadow box featuring WWII items belonging to Edgar Lee includes medals, a hat, patches, and photos of his experiences in the Flying Fortress.

A banner lovingly made by ladies of the Matador Baptist Church spotlights each of their World War II representatives with a star and their name.

Uniforms representing the different branches of service include: Luther Green for the Army's 10th Mountain Battalion; W.R. Tilton for the Air Force; and Charles Johnson for the Army green of the early 1950's Korean action. War Ration books, a steel German helmet, Col. Jack Robinson's "Das Reich" collection combine to tell a story of our veterans.

The Veterans Room at the Motley County Museum may be viewed each Monday afternoon from 1:00 to 5:00 or by appointment by calling Glenn Woodruff or Marisue Potts.

VETERANS' ROOM—Pictured above is the Veterans' Room in the Motley County Museum. The room has many momentous items donated by Motley County Veterans or their families.

Roaring Springs Inventor Featured On Channel 28's South Plains Stories

Ray and Grace Zabielski were featured last week on KAMC Channel 28's South Plains Stories, by Karla Leslie.

Ms. Leslie interviewed Ray about his invention, the PAGE LIFTER. After years of perfecting an idea into a real product, Ray has seen his invention become a hot item.

Zabielski just recently shipped 10,000 of his product to a ringbinder factory in Bogata, Columbia.

The PAGE LIFTER goes inside the ringbinder notebook to help keep the pages in the center of the notebook. And it really works!

The Motley County has Ray's PAGE LIFTER on sale. Congratulations Ray!

Commissioners Meet In Regular Session

The main discussion by Commissioners Court on November 8 was problems with one bridge that had fallen in recently and one that has been out for about 8 months.

After Judge Laverna Price called the meeting to order and gave the invocation, the minutes and bills and reports of the Treasurer and County Agent were read and approved.

Elaine Hart of the Tax Collectors office reported they had collected up to 61.80% of the 93 taxes. J.P. Cora Smallwood of Precinct 1 Place 1 collected $4500 in fines for the County.

Bill Luckett met with the court to ask what the plans were for the bridge that has been out in Precinct 3 east of Whiteflat. Luckett stated he would be happy with just a low water crossing as long as it is where he can take his farming equipment over it.

Commissioner Franklin Jameson stated they have not had the funds to replace it as a bridge so he had been waiting to find out about some culverts before he completely tore out the bridge imbutments.

Luckett also asked that if they would clean up the nails left after a fire that was built in the middle of the road by Twin Bridges sometime last year.

Judge Price presented a resolution that prayer be returned to the public schools, and a letter from Denton County requesting that the Commissioners consider passing and signing the resolution. They had a list of over a hundred cities and counties in Texas that had already approved the resolution. These resolutions will be presented to the Attorney General for consideration. This passed 4-0.

Commissioner J.N. Fletcher had a request to discuss a problem he had in his precinct with General Telephone Company. When he was blading a dirt road to the Country Lake Estate at Springs Ranch he found that GTE was laying a cable on the edge of the country road. He wanted to request that GTE move the cable closer to the Ranch property and away from the road area.

Motion was made and passed to give

by Mary Meason

On this Veterans Day may we all pause to honor U.S. Veterans and give thanks for the peace we are enjoying at the present time.

War is one of the greatest horrors of our lifetime. It is something we always dread and regret.

This Veterans Day is to honor Veterans of all wars in which the U.S. has been involved. They have all fought for their country and certainly deserve all the honor and thanks we can give them.

The first World War has forever been engraved in my mind. I was a small child but many of those memories of that war are firmly etched in my mind.

My feelings I had for the Germans was one of the strangest impressions. In my child's mind all Germans were monsters, and the Kaiser was the biggest monster of all. It was a constant fear in my mind that someday he would come get me and carry me away. I spent many a night in my parents' bed after having a nightmare about the Kaiser.

My memories of World War I are rather sketchy, but I remember the day that my favorite uncle, Dr. R.L. Hamilton left to enter the service. Matador had a railroad then, and the town gathered at the depot to bid farewell to the "boys" going off to fight. There were many hugs, kisses and tears shed that day.

School children saved and collected peach seed, used in making gas masks. Women and older girls wrapped bandage, knit socks, sweaters and caps for soldiers. Many people used lard for butter and flour was rationed and we all ate pounds of cornbread.

My uncle returned safely but after a short time of practicing medicine here, he developed tuberculosis as a result of several mustard gas attacks and spent the rest of his life in an army hospital in Silver City, New Mexico.

The most cruel deeds of war are not only the loss of so many lives, but the lives of so many being ruined by becoming a permanent cripple, disfigured and maimed. The men who were prisoners of war were subjected to many atrocities, and many died before being released. Those who were listed as missing in action were sometimes located and the loved ones waited for years to hear from that loved one, but many of those M.I.A.'s were never heard from.

After World War I November 11 was called Armistice Day. After the "War to End All Wars" was over, on December 7, 1941 Pearl Harbor was bombed by the Japanese and another war was underway. This war was closer to me than any of the others. My husband was in this one. He enlisted in August 1942 and went overseas that fall and returned home in November 1945 just in time for our 9th wedding anniversary. He was Master Gunner in the Coast Artillery 114th Anti-Aircraft attached to the 8th Airforce.

To a "War Widow" there is no stretch of time as long as the time between letters from a soldier. The waiting is terrible, then comes a box full of letters and all is well!

Then came the Korean War close on the heels of the WWII. That war was called a "Police Action", but many, many of our service men were killed or made prisoners there.

And now North Korea is threatening to attack South Korea again.

There are many American troops stationed in South Korea at the present time, and if North Korea attacks South Korea again no doubt many U.S. troops will be sent to South Korea.

I have a great niece, her husband, four boys and their cat, Fraydi, in the Navy, and they are presently stationed in Seoul, South Korea. I hope and pray this war will never come about.

Then came the Vietnam War - a War never meant to be won and the most unpopular war in history. Many of our U.S. Soldiers were lost, made prisoners, or sent to slave camps in other countries, and many are still on the MIA list.

On this Veterans Day let us all honor, give thanks and never forget the soldiers who fought and died for the rest of us in the United States.

Matadors Finish Season Third In District

by Sherri Prather

The Motley County Matadors finished their season Friday night in a 12-6 loss to Munday. The game was a tough defensive struggle. The Matadors lone score came in the third quarter on a two yard run by Brandon Blanch, who replaced Frankie Ortiz as quarterback after Ortiz was injured in the first quarter.

The ballgame was the last for the Senior players, Frankie Ortiz, Dustin Davis, Jeremy Jameson, Matt Mangram, Shane Taylor, Cody Barclay, Chance Martin, and James Martin. Their leadership and ability will be missed.

The Matador closed the year with a district record of 3 wins and two losses, finishing third in District. The Matadors were 5-5 overall.

El Progreso Club Celebrates Halloween With Costume Party

by Beverly Vinson

With Halloween just several days before the meeting, El Progreso met in the Senior Citizens building dressed in costumes of all colors and characters. The meeting was called to order by "witch" Mrs. Dale (Jo Etta) Bumgardner with usual business taken care of. The group sang the Clubwoman's Song with Mrs. Frank (Lola) Pohl at the piano. It was voted to send $25 for Christmas to the Vernon Center for the patients. It was also announced that material for the room in the museum sponsored by El Progreso be ready by January 13, 1994 so the room can become completed.

The next meeting will be November 11, 1993 in the Senior Citizens building with the Paducah Club members as guests. All El Progreso members will serve as hostesses.

"Black Cat with twins", (Mrs. Jo Ann Dickson) was leader for the afternoon presenting to the group "Minnie Mouse" (Mrs. Sue Seigler) who gave a most interesting program on Halloween. She gave a history of the holiday stating the Celtic people who lived more that two thousand year ago in what are now France and British Isles, feared the evening of Oct. 31 more than any other of the year.

The Halloween witch comes from the Saxon word "wica" meaning wise one. By the 19th century, few educated people anywhere took witchcraft seriously. An English dictionary called it "a pretended magic or sorcery in which our ancestors believed." People with less education, though, especially those far from cities, went right on believing in witches. The goblins and other beings they had always feared at Halloween were now thought of mainly as witches. Long before Halloween cats were thought to have magical powers. Linked with the Druid Samhain and later, with witches, the cat found a permanent place in Halloween. Occasionally the witch is shown stirring a brew in a large cooking pot. Other Halloween legends mentioned were the ghosts, Jack-O-Laterns, the colors orange and black and their symbols, nuts, apples and cabbages predict the future, the Halloween masquerade (wearing masks).

Most holidays have both a serious and a lighter side. In the U.S. the Halloween event, with more ancient beginnings than any other holiday, no longer has any serious meaning. Children have kept it alive because they love it. Dressed as ghosts, witches, skeletons, monsters, or anything else, they stand for the ghosts or spirits that frightened people on this same evening long ago.

Mrs. Dickson concluded the program with apologies to Clement Moore's "Twas The Night Before Christmas" giving a parody on Halloween and the Harvest theme.

Refreshments of Halloween cupcakes, nuts and hot punch were served from a table with gourds, a "tree" with jack-o-latern stickers on the branches and pumpkin candles. Hostesses were Mrs. Frank Pohl and Mrs. Furman Vinson. Others dressed as "characters" were "Hobo Joe" (Mrs. Loys Campbell), "Kitty Cat" (Mrs. Dorothy Watson), "Miner 49er" (Mrs. Grace Campbell), "Ghosty" (Mrs. Lucretia Campbell), "Jiggles the Clown" (Mrs. Josephine Hamilton), "Hi-Ho Silver Lone Ranger" (Mrs. Dorothy Day), "Older woman trying to be a teenager" (Mrs. Callie Giesecke), "The Vamp" (Mrs. Winifred Darsey), and Mrs. Bailey Elliott.

Judges for the costumes were Sherry Rose and Colleen Baxter and Bradley. They declared the most scary was Jo Etta Bumgardner, most original was Grace Campbell, and most comical was Josephine Hamilton. Prizes appropriate for the day were awarded.

GTE the right -of-way only where the Commissioner gives permission.

Commissioners Court discussed the McDonald Creek bridge on the Tee Pee Flat road that fell in last Monday November 1.

Commissioner J.M. Russell and Sheriff Jim Meador are still looking into the possibility of a cotton module truck weighing approximately 50,000 pounds crossing over it before it fell in.

The County had the 44,000 lb. load limit signs posted two miles either side of the bridge and at the bridge warning of the legal load limit. The bridge is non-repairable and that road has a lot of traffic so it will need to be replaced. The State Department of Highways has loaned the County flasher lights, etc., to detour traffic. The State had also inspected the bridge three months prior and found it in excellent condition, stated Russell.

Commissioner Russell requested that Commissioners Jameson, Hughes and Fletcher act on work to be done on his private property with county equipment with payment for work at current rate previously established by the Commissioners Court. This passed

The Court canvassed the votes cast during the resolution election November 2.

Meeting adjourned.

CHALLENGING CABLE SERVICE RATES

The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) is taking a more assertive role in helping consumers challenge rates for non-basic tiers of cable service and has offered to help local franchising authorities regulate basic service rate complaints.

The FCC is ready to respond between now and Dec. 17 to consumer groups who mobilize to challenge non-basic service rates and to get local franchising authorities certified to regulate basic service.

According to the FCC's two-tier approach to rate regulation, basic cable services and equipment charges are subject to automatic regulation by local franchising authorities, which are usually cities in Texas. These franchising authorities must be certified by the FCC, with applications now being accepted by the FCC.

Consumer groups concerned about local service rates first need to speak to their local franchising authorities and urge them to file for certification as soon as possible. If a city does not have resources to carry out the regulation, it can inform the FCC of its desire to have basic service regulated, and thus pass the authority for basic rate regulation to the FCC. If a city doesn't ask the FCC to regulate basic service and does not provide it locally, there will be no regulation of the lowest priced tier of basic service.

Filing for certification requires the local franchising authority to undertake two responsibilities. First, they must put procedures in place to give local cable operators the means to challenge rate decisions made by the local authorities.

Second, they must pass a local ordinance stating that the franchising authority will carry out the regulatory scheme adopted by the FCC for basic cable rates. The FCC encourages consumers to file their complaints with the FCC about current rates for non-basic tiers of service now. All complaints filed prior to December will be accepted. After Dec. 17, complaints will only be accepted for 45 days following notice of a rate increase or service change. Complaints must be filed on the official complaint form and must have the consumer's latest cable bill attached. Forms are available from the FCC, local franchising authorities or the Consumer Federation of America. Copies of the complaint must be sent to the local cable company, local franchising authority and the FCC.

The Consumer Federation of America Legislative Council, Bradley Stillman, encourages consumers to express their complaints now. His help is available to groups coordinating local complaint filing efforts by calling (202) 387-6121.

Wireless Cable Television

Wireless Cable TV, also known as multichannel multipoint distribution services, is a relatively new technology that has become the focus of investment offers. The Federal Trade Commission has a new brochure available which explains the FTC lottery system for getting a permit to provide these wireless cable distribution services. The brochure also describes risks involved in constructing, operating and maintaining a wireless cable television station. To get the brochure, call the FTC Bureau of Consumer Protection's Office of Consumer and Business Education at (202) 326-3650.

Building your own home is a big step—and naturally, my husband and I were a little worried about moving out of town. Our builder told us that in this area, we would be members of an electric cooperative that offers rates, service and reliability second to none.

Anytime you build your own home, it's a challenge. We were amazed at how responsive the cooperative representative was in helping us design an energy-efficient home, complete with a heat pump.

I never thought I'd hear myself say it, but getting our power from the electric cooperative has been one of the most positive things about our move. I'd recommend the cooperative to anyone.

Lindsey's Lines

by Lindsey Williams

Something that the students at school are always excited about is receiving the school yearbook. This year there is a small but responsible and hardworking group working toward getting an annual together. Denise Gastineau is the leader. There are no officers for this staff but DaVona Atkinson is the photographer and Heather Turner and Keri Shorter have the job of putting everything on the computer.

There are 9 students on the Annual Staff. Seven of them work during school and 2 work after school. They are Sheryl Davis, Linda Gonzalez, Lesa Prather, Kobi Risser, Keri Shorter, Heather Turner, Jennifer Beshirs, Whitney Jameson, and Mindy Dodson.

This group has to make a big adjustment for making the annual. This year, all of the annual will be made on the computer. They have a pagemaker to make it easier.

The annual will contain two pages for Homecoming. Some of the things that are included are sports, student life, people, advertising, and organizations. The sports section is usually most popular. The annual is mainly a memory book. Its main purpose is to bring back memories for us.

Each person has a job or responsibility. Each person has a certain number of pages to have done by the deadline. Also, all of the students take time to sell yearbooks.

After all pages are finished they are sent to Jostens Publishing Co. in Topeka, Kansas to be published.

Mrs. Gastineau says that the students deserve all of the credit for the work done, because they do it all. It is left up to them to design the pages that they are assigned in any way that they would like. This is what makes every page unique.

They spend lots of time and hard work on getting the annual out, and if it weren't for them, there would be no yearbooks.

Royalty Crowned At Annual Fall Harvest Carnival

Fall Harvest Princess and Prince - Aleda Ross, daughter of Tommy Ross of San Antonio, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ross of Flomot; and Mont Darsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robin Darsey of Matador.

Fall Harvest Queen and King - Paige Neal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Smith of Matador; and Brandon Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Lee of Flomot.

Saturday, October 30 there was only one place to be in Motley County and that was at the annual Fall Harvest Carnival. There was a wonderful turnout and everyone seemed to be having a great time. All of the booths did a good business, with two the more popular attractions being the Jail and the Haunted House.

The GFWC Eternas Study Club, which sponsored the event, stated that this was one of the best carnivals in many years, with many different groups having a variety of booths. It is through the efforts of all of these groups that the carnival is successful.

It was fun to see all the little ghosts, goblins, Barney's and other costumes in the Spook Parade as well as the Queen contestants and their escorts. The winners in the Queen's contests were: Aleda Ross, Princess, and Mont Darsey, Prince; and Paige Neal, Queen, and Brandon Lee, King.

Each class that won the Queen's contest will have a coke party, furnished by the GFWC Eternas Study Club.

And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men.

Roaring Springs Veterans Memorial List

SOLDIERS OFF TO WAR — The above picture is one that the Tribune made a copy of from someone's pictures which had been brought to the Tribune for one of our special editions. We do not remember the entire story, except that the men are pictured somewhere in Roaring Springs, and one of the men is Mr. Melton Thacker, front right, if you know the story of this picture, please give us the information for our files.

The Friends of Roaring Springs have prepared a partial list of Roaring Springs Veterans for the proposed Veterans' Memorial in the Frank Mitchell Memorial Park in Roaring Springs. All individuals who have lived in Roaring Springs or in the Roaring Springs School District prior to or after having served in any branch of service will have their names on the additional wings to be installed.

We are still asking for additional names. Check the following names and, if there are errors in any of the names, branches of service or wars, or you know someone's name who should be included, please send these to us immediately.

All donations, names, corrections and requests for additional forms should be sent to Friends of Roaring Springs, P.O. Box 44, Roaring Springs 79256, rather than to the Roaring Springs City Hall as was published in the last issue of the Tribune.

MEMORIAL FUND HAS OVER $11,000
Drive Continues For $16,500 Goal

A spirit of gratitude of the people back home for the sacrifice being made by their sons and daughters in uniform was reflected in terms of cash subscribed by leaders from various communities meeting at the Matador Methodist Church basement, Thursday night. The small group of men, estimated at 80, had met for the purpose of organizing a drive to raise funds to construct a permanent veteran's memorial after the war is ended. With the characteristic spirit of the citizenship of this area, the drive was launched among the group present. Over $8,500 in cash was collected. The original goal of $10,000, set by the American Legion, sponsors of the movement, had been raised to $16,500.

Flags adorned the veteran graves and wreaths were laid at Matador, Northfield and Roaring Springs cemeteries.

WREATH PLACED AT HONOR ROLL
 The first peacetime Memorial Day will be observed in the county May 30, 1946. A parade of ex-servicemen of World War I and II will march in 10 o'clock parade in uniform from a point in south Matador down Main street to the honor roll board on the courthouse square.

Here, Lt. Governor John Lee will place a wreath before the names of Motley County's servicemen and servicewomen, following invocation by Rev. G.E. Turrentine and reading of the roll call of veterans who lost their lives during the two wars.

The above photo is believed to be a Memorial Day or Veteran's Day celebration about 1949, at the Motley County Courthouse. Both the VFW Flag and the American Flag are displayed.

MEMORIAL BUILDING PLANS RECEIVE NOD OF VETERANS

Plans for the proposed Motley County war veterans memorial building, drawn by Hoyle Moss of Abilene, Thursday night received the approval of veterans and others at the mass meeting held in the Fleming Post American Legion Hall. Plans and specifications presented by the temporary building committee in report were well received as were the two suggested tentative locations for the building. One location would be immediately east of the city hall. The other location would embrace the present Legion hall property and include the lot south, facing Main street.

Veterans were enthusiastic at the propect of erecting the memorial building for which funds were raised near the end of the war and while the servicemen were still in uniform. At present the fund amounts to $17,600 including interest on savings bonds in which the money was invested.

It is estimated the cost of the new building will be approximately $32,500. A proposal was made that the Legion sell its present property on Main street and add the amount to the fund (value was estimated at $5,000). It was proposed that the VFW toss in its $2,000 fund. In service organizations approval of 2/3 vote is required.

POPPIES ARE SELL-OUT
 The American Legion reported the amount of $81.88 made from poppy sales in Motley County.
