PRICE TEN CENTS

TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

Ignorance sometimes requires an education to develop its full potentials.

When we master the trivial problems of life the impossible obstacles often perish of sheer loneliness.

When a man looks at his own image in the mirror it is possible that he sees a far different person than he presents to his acquaintances. The same contrast may extend across the expanse of his life to include even the sound of his voice and his religion. The dual character common in mankind is the product of intimate association with self attempting to project an ideal on the world's screen. It is from this tragic orbit that a self-righteous attitude commands a place in society and assumes the sanctimonious position of being exempt from the need of spiritual relief. Thus the true purpose of religious understanding may be obscured, like the possession of college degrees which remain unused. The chosen Christian will live more religion than he can proclaim.

My personal candidate for the hair shirt award is that night-driving eager beaver who flashes his lights back to bright before I am beyond his range. In most instances I would wager that we owe about the same number of car payments.

With many attractive women entering politics there is a possibility that some male voters may take advantage of the meaning of the term, "lip service."

COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE IS UNDERWAY

ANNUAL drive for funds for the Matador Community Chest began last week, with a goal of $2500.00, according to Larry Hoyle, President.

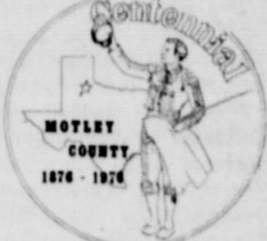

The campaign is being conducted by mail, in an effort to save time of the people who solicit, and of the time of persons contacted.

Residents Injured In Accidents

Mrs. Lucille Whitaker is a patient in Central Plains Hospital, where she was conveyed Saturday afternoon after being injured in an accident at her home during the high winds. She was knocked down by her garage door and lay in the driveway for about 30 minutes before receiving help from Billy Wason, who happened to pass by. Examination at the hospital revealed a hip injury either a chipped bone, or hair line break. Her niece, Mrs. E. A. Day accompanied her in the ambulance, and they were joined at Plainview by her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Whitaker.

Curtis King re-entered Central Plains Hospital Tuesday evening to receive a skin graft on his left arm which was injured Nov. 19 when he fell beneath a pickup while hunting. The vehicle was stuck, and when it was pushed by companions, Mr. King fell and his arm was almost stripped of flesh by the wheels. He was released from the hospital on the 23rd, and has been recuperating at his home here.

Bicentennial Coins Received

Motley County Bicentennial coins have been received for distribution by the Matador Lions Club, it was announced Tuesday at the organization's luncheon-meeting in the United Methodist Church. Two kinds of coins will be sold, one a nickel-silver antiqued coin which will sell for $2.00, and a solid silver coin priced $10.00.

The coins were especially designed for Motley County. One side is stamped "United States Bicentennial, 1776-1976" with Independence Hall in the center. The other side is stamped with a map of Texas and a star indicating Motley County, together with the figure of a matador, which is the emblem of Motley County Schools.

The coins may be purchased from any member of the Lions Club, and can also be obtained by mail from the Lions Secretary Forrest Campbell, for an additional 50 cents service charge per order.

A county and area-wide reception honoring Motley County's two new doctors will be held Sunday, December 7, from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Motley County High School. The announcement followed a meeting Tuesday night of the Hospital Board members, when plans and arrangements for the open house were completed. Honored will be Dr. Thuy Danh Do and his wife, Simone, with their five children, and Dr. Do Hoang Y, who will begin their practice here some time after the first of the year.

They are from Vietnam and received their degrees from Saigon University.

Everyone in the county and surrounding area is invited to attend the reception and meet the new doctors, who are eager to get acquainted with the people whom they will be serving.

Family groups are urged to attend and bring the children, since Dr. and Mrs. Do have three young children in school. Young couples and single persons are also expected to attend and help make the young physicians and the Do family feel that they are welcome and wanted. Dr. Y is 24, and unmarried, but expects to bring his parents and other family members here from Fresno, California after school is out next spring.

V. A. Joe Stites of Dallas, with the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development was in Matador, Wednesday and expressed interest in the possibility of re-opening the Motley General Hospital in the near future. He was impressed with the fact that the county has two doctors in residence, waiting to start practice.

County Screening Clinics Announced

A new health system will be introduced in Motley County to provide for early detection of chronic diseases, according to an announcement this week by the Texas Department of Health Resources, Region 2, Lubbock.

Multiphasic Screening Clinics will be held on regular, ongoing basis, the department announced. Screening services available in the clinics will include obesity, malnutrition, vision, hearing, hypertension, diabetes, anemia, skin disorders, tuberculosis, and other conditions as detected during nursing interviews.

Mrs. Jimmie Isbell, R. N., Public Health Nurse will conduct the clinics in Matador. The clinics will be held at Motley County Hospital on Mondays and Wednesdays of each week.

All screening will be done on an appointment basis, during the hours from 9:00 a.m. to 5 p.m. with evening appointments available on request.

It was pointed out that many persons in Texas, and the rest of the United States, have unknown chronic diseases that may someday become serious problems if not properly diagnosed and treated. An indication of the size of the problem in Texas can be seen in light of statistics released by Social Security officials, in which they estimate that 46 per cent of Americans have one or more chronic conditions.

To provide for early detection of chronic diseases, the 65th Texas Legislature has appropriated funding for multiphasic screening projects designed to identify persons in whom a potential chronic health problem may exist.

When a problem is indicated through screening procedures, the individual is referred to the physician of his choice for diagnosis and treatment. There will be no charge for any of the multiphasic screening tests. However, any diagnostic or treatment charges for services from the private physician will be the responsibility of the patient.

The screening for each person will be available on an annual basis, with approximately one hour required for counseling and screening on the first visit. Nurses will establish a permanent file, which can be referred to on subsequent annual check-ups, or can be made available to the private physician on request.

For further information, or to set an appointment for the clinic, interested persons may call 347-2622.

Santa Party Set Dec. 10

It is short notice, but Santa Clause announced this week that he would be in Matador Wednesday, December 10, for the Matador Lions Club's annual Christmas party.

The event will be held at the Motley County School.

The Patton Springs Band will present a Christmas concert beginning at 2:30 p.m. and Miss Charise

Cullen, Lions Club Queen will assist Santa Clause in giving all the children sacks of Christmas Candy and fruit, and find out what they want for Christmas.

Due to uncertain weather conditions, the annual parade was discontinued last year, and the party was held in the new school building.

Week end basketball tournaments and other conflicts made it necessary to set next Wednesday as the only available date for both Santa Clause and the Patton Springs Band.

The band, directed by Mrs. Ralph Marshall, is one of the most colorful school bands in the area and has one of the widest repertoires of musical selections to be heard anywhere.

STUDIES ABOUT THE BIBLE

Peter teaches that we must add to our faith moral excellence, knowledge, self-control, perseverance, godliness, brotherly kindness, and Christian love.

Some of these traits overlap in meaning with those given by Paul. Consider goodness and godliness, patience and perseverance, kindness and brotherly kindness, love and Christian love, faith and faithfulness. Both give self-control.

Peter does not use the expression "fruit of the Spirit," but he does tell us how important it is to add these characteristics to our faith. He gives a positive and a negative evaluation of the Christian qualities.

For if these qualities are yours and are increasing, they render you neither useless nor unfruitful in the true knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. 2 Pet. 1:8. Note the clause, "if these qualities are yours," you will be useful and fruitful. Peter speaks from the negative angle in the very next verse.

For he who lacks these qualities is blind or short sighted, having forgotten his purification from his former sins. v. 9.

Then he follows with another important gospel truth. ...for in this way the entrance into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ will be abundantly supplied to you. v. 11.

Unless we add these to our faith, we are not promised "entrance into the eternal kingdom."

For just as the body without the spirit is dead, so also faith without works is dead. James 2:26.

The difference between nuclear fission and nuclear fusion: nuclear fission is the splitting apart of heavy atoms, while nuclear fusion is the joining together of light atoms. All our 55 nuclear reactors operating today operate by nuclear fission, which releases enormous amounts of energy, that is safely turned into electricity!

TEXANS REALLY HAVE SOMETHING TO CHEER

Two hundred years ago... the 13 colonies were becoming a nation and the State of Texas was still under the Spanish flag.

In 1776, when the New England colonists took to arms and prepared to fight the British, Texas was 60 years away from independence from Mexico and 69 years away from statehood. Texans of that day (Indian tribes and Mexican settlers) had a battle of their own to fight—survival in the wilderness.

There were no cities, industries or other sources of pollution directly associated with man's activities. The industrial revolution did not find its way to Texas until the early 1800's with Stephen F. Austin's colonists and even then industry was confined to mills and cotton gins.

Water in the rivers and streams was used in a variety of ways—washing clothes, bathing, cooking and drinking. Water wells are few and far between.

First law to govern water pollution control is found in the state's Penal Code of 1860. Vague in nature, the ruling merely stresses that no one shall pollute the waters of Texas.

Then in Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes of 1913, more specific water pollution control acts appear, but in that time span of 53 years, no new provisions had been made for water quality.

In 1961, the first law of substance was created with the passage of the Texas Water Pollution Control Act which gave life to the Texas

Jim Barnhill, who attends Texas Tech, spent the holidays at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Barnhill.

Water Pollution Control Board, though it had no funds and staff members worked within the State Department of Health.

Then in 1967, the Texas Water Quality Board became a separate agency with the passage of the Texas Water Quality Act by the 60th Legislature.

From the days when Texas was considered the "frontier west of the Mississippi" on through various stages of population growth, Texas has been sensitive to water quality, thus avoiding many of the problems existing today in other parts of the country.

As the nation celebrates its bicentennial, Texans can note with pride that "Clean Water for Texas" in every part of the state is becoming a reality.

COME TO CHURCH

Creativity takes on its finest forms at Christmastime as homes are beautified both within and without, and safety should be woven into the finished product.

The Yule season is no time for accidents, asserts the Texas Department of Health Resources. There's a lot of room for a mistake, however. Trees, lights, candles, trees and mantle trimmings, your fireplace and excess paper can be a source of trouble.

Center of most home decorations is the brilliantly lighted and colorful tree, and it should be the place for starting your safety efforts.

In selecting a cut green tree, get one with a good green color. Needles of a fresh tree should be hard to pull from branches, and needles won't break when bent. Bounce the tree hard against the ground and you won't get a shower of needles if the tree is fresh.

Trees should be placed in a base which holds water, and this water should be checked regularly while the tree is up. Before mounting the tree, cut about two inches off the trunk to allow it to better absorb the water.

Placement of trees also is important, says the Department of Health Resources. Keep them away from stoves, fireplaces and radiators which could cause a tree to dry out quickly and perhaps catch fire.

What about decorations? Never use lighted candles on a tree or near other evergreens, decorations or wrapping paper. Candles should be in non-flammable holders and in locations where they cannot be knocked down or blown over.

In selecting lights, check for the Underwriters' Laboratories "UL" label. On all strings of lights, make certain that all connections are tight and that there are no frayed or bare wires. These could cause short circuits and perhaps a fire -- or a shock to the person installing them.

Outdoor lights should be waterproof. They are especially made for the outdoors. When away from home, or when you go to bed, turn off all the lights.

And, never use electric lights on metallic trees. Trimmings for trees and elsewhere in the home should be of flame-retardant material, something that won't flare up if accidentally ignited.

If there are small children in the home, care should be taken in selecting decorations. The United States Product Safety Commission urges parents to avoid decorations that are sharp or breakable -- including bubbly tree lights. It also warns against trim with small removable parts if used where children can get at them. Pieces could be swallowed or inhaled. And, trimmings resembling candy could be eaten by a child.

When installing their trees, many people burn the trimmings from branches in their fireplace. If burned a piece at a time, this shouldn't cause any problem. But piling up a big mound of evergreens could cause popping and crackling and a large number of sparks. So be careful. And always use a screen before the fireplace.

The Product Safety Division of the Department of Health Resources hopes that all clothing will someday be flame resistant. Standards are now in effect for certain types of children's clothing. But until that time, extreme care needs to be taken.

Matches, lighters and candles should be kept out of the reach of children. Children and adults should avoid the wearing of loose, flowing clothes -- especially long, open sleeves -- near the open flames of a fireplace, stove or candle-lit table.

Here's another reminder about children's toys. Efforts have been made to remove dangerous toys from retail stores. But, a safe toy in the hands of one child may be unsafe if used by a younger one.

When purchasing a toy, look for a warning label stating that the toy isn't recommended for a child under a certain age. If the label warns that the toy is too advanced for the child in mind, the purchaser should heed the warning and find one to fit the child. This will help reduce the chance of injury.

And, once those presents under the tree have been opened, gather up all those wrappings from the tree and fireplace area and remove them from the home.

Christmas should be a joyous occasion. Keep it that way by planning for safety, says the Texas Department of Health Resources. It will add to your enjoyment of the season to know that you and your loved ones are as safe as possible.

High Winds Sweep State

"VIOLENT winds gusting up to 73 mph ripped across West Texas Saturday with such force they fanned range and gin yard fires out of control, apparently caused a fire at a Lubbock business, played havoc with trailer homes and construction projects and caused general misery and gloom."

North of Midland in Martin County a grass fire pushed by winds spread over a 15-mile-long and two-mile-wide area. Firemen stood by all afternoon and into the night. For a short time Texas 349 was blocked by the fire.

This, from a story by Gordon Zeigler, staff writer for the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal just about describes conditions in Motley County. Matador Volunteer Fire Department answered a call to West Texas Gin, during the height of the storm, but succeeded in extinguishing the fire before damage was caused to any cotton on the yard.

The wind storm followed several days of cold weather which was preceded by a severe cold front and a 51 inch rainfall on November 19. Other precipitation for the month, as measured by Bob Stanley included .76 inch on Nov. 1, and .45 inch on Nov. 2 for a total of 1.72 inches.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to convey how much we appreciate the many acts of kindness shown to us during the loss of our beloved father and grandfather. We also want to thank those who sent food and flowers, and for the consoling words and prayers of our many friends which made our sorrow easier to bear. God bless each of you.

EMCY TAT

A way to determine the difference in the weight of gold and silver was discovered by the Greek mathematician and inventor, Archimedes, who accidentally learned how much silver alloy was in a gold crown by the amount of extra water it displaced when submerged in a tub.

TEXAS TALK

Salt water ponds made of plastic may be the answer to solar energy supplies for farm buildings. Such a pond would be designed as a solar heat trap. Research on such a contraption is now underway at Ohio State University where they are using a 150-thousand gallon model with a depth of nine feet. Solar ponds are special in that they utilize a black plastic lining and are filled with salt water. The lining attracts and absorbs more heat... salt water keeps the heat from rising to the surface. Fresh, cool water is then pumped through plastic tubes at the bottom of the pond... that water is heated then pumped back through the floor of a building to provide natural heat. Scientists warn of one problem in trying to utilize the pond as a swimming pool... temperatures at the bottom have been measured as high as 194 degrees.
