RC&D Program Completes 20 Years of Activities

Four Winds Resource Conservation and Development Area completed 20 years of activities in February of 1994. The original four counties of Childress, Cottle, Foard, and Hardeman were authorized by the Secretary of Agriculture in December of 1973. The office was opened in February of 1974. Nine additional counties of Motley, King, Knox, Baylor, Wilbarger, Dickens, Stonewall, Haskell, and Throckmorton were added in the summer of 1991. The area was incorporated and obtained their 501 (c) (3) IRS status in 1992.

The twentieth of the RC&D program has been very exciting. Chairman of the RC&D Directors Jimmy Smajstrla, Coordinator Von Kleibrink, and Clerks Frances Medina and Carrie Golleher have been very busy working with several projects.

Rolling Plains Textiles of Knox and Baylor counties is developing plans to install a cotton spinning and knitting plant. This plant is expected to employ about 100 employees. A 25 percent grant of $50,000 of RC&D funds has been allocated to this organization to make studies and develop plans for this project.

A grant writing course was sponsored by the Four Winds RC&D in Vernon last fall with thirteen attending.

Deborah Agnew of Texoma Community Health Services in Vernon attended an earlier grant writing course. Deborah just received a grant to provide respite services to families who have children with disabilities, chronic illness, or terminal illness. The program covers Wilbarger, Foard, and Hardeman counties.

City of Spur was assisted with a grant application to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department for city park improvements. The $91,046 grant was approved to assist with the $182,093 park improvement project.

Knox City has received a $11,625 RC&D grant to assist with 25 percent of their city park improvements.

Hardeman County Livestock Pavilion improvements are nearing completion. A $10,057 RC&D grant was approved to supply 25 percent of their improvement cost.

A $9,225 RC&D grant has been approved for the Cottle County Soil and Water Conservation District to install a new greenhouse for growing evergreen trees. These trees will be available for other counties to be used for wind protection and beautification.

Assistance was provided to Foard and Baylor counties in obtaining funds from the Texas Forest Service to purchase dry hydrants to aid in rural fire protection.

Recreation equipment has been installed on the Aspermont school campus. RC&D funds in the amount of $2,170 were provided for this project.

RC&D Activities in Motley County include Grant search for Motley County Library computer software; grant search/application for Matador VFD communications upgrade; provided computer to Matador VFD; grant search assistance to Roaring Springs Community Action Volunteers; currently providing assistance to City of Matador for City Park Improvement; provided funding for two local women to attend two separate grant writing seminars.

For more information about the RC&D program and how it can assist you, contact the RC&D office at 109 West 11th, Quanah, Texas or call 817-663-2662.

Programs and services of the Soil Conservation Service are offered on a non-discriminatory basis without regard for race, color, national origin, age, sex, religion, marital status or handicap.

Local Man Knows True Meaning of Freedom

by Kelly Wade

NOTE: This story was made possible by a grant from the Reader's Digest Foundation for Texas Tech Journalism students.

Raby Webb is a man who doesn't take his freedom for granted. He was a prisoner of war for 18 months during WWII.

Webb was a gunner on a B24 bomber that was shot down over Austria in November of 1942. Four out of 10 crewmen, including Webb, managed to parachute out before the plane crashed.

While Webb was strapping on his parachute, however, pieces of shrapnel struck him in the hand. When he finally reached the ground, there were several German soldiers there waiting for him. However, before the soldiers took him away, an elderly German woman came and helped him bandage his hand and gave him an apple to eat. Webb said he will never forget her kindness.

The first month that Webb was a captive was spent in a hospital, where German doctors cared for his injured hand. "They weren't at all brutal," Webb said.

After his hand was cared for, Webb was moved to barracks where there was no heat, in the middle of winter.

"During that winter it snowed for 52 straight days," Webb said.

Webb also stated that the prisoners often got hungry because they were only provided soup and bread.

Some relief was provided, however, because every two weeks a Red Cross parcel arrived, containing items such as food, books and cigarettes.

"I don't know what we would have done without the Red Cross," Webb said. Webb said that the hardest part about prison camp life was staying busy.

Prisoners played bridge, dominoes, softball and basketball to stay busy, Webb said.

Prisoners even built a theater and performed three-act plays.

Schools were also started, using books that were sent by the Red Cross.

The last six months of his captivity, Webb and all prisoners were forced to march from Austria to Germany, in order to avoid advancing Russian forces. During this march, Webb and the other prisoners were liberated by Patton's troops.

In all, Webb says his captivity was a learning experience. "I learned a lot about people," Webb said.

Single Family Housing Loans Available

Rural Housing Loans for very-low and low income applicants are available through County Offices of the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA), Spur, FmHA County Supervisor, said today.

Home ownership loans may be used to buy, build, improve, repair, rural homes and to provide adequate water and waste disposal systems. Homes may be built on individual tracts or in subdivisions. Funds may also be used to modernize homes - add improvements such as bathrooms, central heating, modern kitchens and other improvements. Borrowers may buy an existing house and lot or buy a site on which to build a home. Loans may be made for up to 100 percent of the appraised value of the site and the new home. Interest rates for this type of loan are presently 7.75 percent with 33 year terms. Monthly payments are subsidized with the amount of the payment dependent on the borrowers annual income. Homes will be modest in size, design, and cost but adequate to meet the family's needs. New homes average about 1,050 square feet of living area.

In addition, Farmers Home Administration guarantees home ownership loans made to applicants of low or moderate income. Guarantees offer opportunities to families who are unable to afford a commercial loan without a Guarantee.

These loans may be made for up to 100 percent of the value of the property and are made for terms of 30 years. The interest rate is based on the Federal National Mortgage Association rate with a maximum loan amount in most counties of $67,500.00.

The Farmers Home Administration assists rural America by guaranteeing private sector loans and by providing temporary, supervised direct loans to famand housing borrowers who have a reasonable chance for success, and whose current needs cannot be met at reasonable rates and terms by commercial sources. The Agency is committed to excellence in providing its services.

"Application for assistance may be obtained at the Farmers Home Administration office located at 314 Willard Ave.," FmHA County Supervisor said. The FmHA office in Spur is open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

SOCIAL SECURITY FRAUD CAN LOOK LEGITIMATE

Some Social Security recipients might be receiving official looking letters intended to look as if they were sent by the Social Security Administration of the Federal Government. However, the Direct Marketing Association warns that these letters might be deliberate attempts to defraud consumers.

Recently, the Social Security Administration invited several groups to form a coalition whose purpose will be to educate the public about misleading advertisers and the laws that can prevent them from operating.

Learning how to spot fraudulent letters can help consumers avoid problems and will assist in reporting the letters and their senders to law enforcement authorities. Consumers should be alert to solicitations in envelopes bearing false warnings of the SSA's imminent demise and "official looking" markings. Often, these mailings will warn the recipient that he or she risk losing benefits unless the consumer takes action, such as making a contribution or paying membership fee.

Material inside the envelope often asks the consumer to pay for a service or product the SSA offers citizens free of charge. Sometimes the letters ask consumers to reveal private financial information that should never be provided to anyone but the SSA or a bank, and then only if specifically requested.

Consumers who receive suspicious-looking mail concerning Social Security should contact the Social Security Administration, Office of Public Affairs, Misleading Advertising, Box 17740, Baltimore, MD 21235. By contacting the SSA, consumers will be helping the SSA track down fraudulent operations and at the same time will be protecting themselves and others from becoming victims of fraud.

WHO WORKS AFFECTS FAMILY INCOME

According to data released by the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics for the first quarter of 1993, median wage and salary earnings for families was $694 per week. However, this figure is misleading unless examined further. Median refers to the mid-point; that is, half of the families earned less than $694 and half earned more. There are important differences, depending upon family characteristics. Median weekly earnings of married-couple families were $790. Median weekly earnings were highest for families with two or more earners, $961 per week. For families headed by women, median earnings were $394. Median earnings of white families ($724) exceeded earnings for Hispanic families ($498) and black families ($484).

CELLULAR TELEPHONE LICENSE UPDATE

An estimated nine million subscribers now use cellular telephones to place calls on 1,500 systems around the U.S. The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) issues licenses, by lottery, to build and operate cellular telephone systems. If you are considering investing in a cellular telephone license for an unserved area when new applications are accepted, you should recognize that applying for a cellular telephone license is a high-risk investment, one in which you could lose all of your money. For more information about the cellular telephone application process, write: Federal Communications Commission, Mobile Services Division, 1919 M Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20554.

Educational programs of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are open to all citizens without regard to race, color, sex, disability, religion, age, or national origin.

El Progreso Club Enjoys Day of Antique Show and Tell

El Progreso Club met Thursday, April 14 in the Senior Citizens building to enjoy a "trip to yesteryear" through "show and tell" items the club members brought. In the absence of the President Mrs. JoEita Bumgardner, Mrs. Loys Campbell presided over the business session. She welcomed the group and asked for the minutes and other necessary items on the agenda. She reminded dues are due in April. Mrs. Sue Seigler was sworn in as Santa Rosa District President by Mrs. Campbell as she had been unable to attend the Spring Convention held in Iowa Park March 26, 1994. Mrs. Seigler stated there is a full slate of officers with local residents serving two positions, Mrs. Loys Campbell and Mrs. Bumgardner, Treasurer. There will be a meeting in July in Santa Rosa district with a statewide panel showing how to plan the yearbooks. This district will meet in Crowell taking a brown-bag lunch. Matador and Paducah will co-host the District Convention and Workshop with dates to be announced later.

With Mrs. Grace Campbell as leader, she introduced Mrs. JoAnn Dickson. She stated the community was blessed when they moved to Matador for Mrs. Dickson is a gracious lady, active in church, always learning something the club inspires her to do that for her programs are always most interesting. She has served as TFWC trustee for several terms, always making more than her share of items to be sold at workshops and conventions to aid the headquarters building funds.

Among the items displayed and shown by members for this "Show and Tell" afternoon were drinking glasses shown by Mrs. Lola Pohl that were given them on their wedding, fifty-nine years ago; a wash bowl and pitcher from the family of Furman Vinson that dates ca. 1905; a hand mirror from a mirror and brush set given to Mrs. Lila Meador before her marriage in 1928; Mrs. Seigler, a bracelet dating to 1898; Mrs. Dorothy Day, a Grandma Moses plate dated to the early 1940's; Mrs. Callie Giesecke, a platter dating to ca. 1920 and miniature pitcher from 1936.

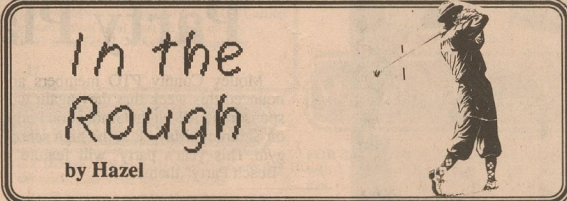

Mrs. Bailey Elliott showed a silver spoon dating to Civil War times from Arkansas; Mrs. Josephine Hamilton, a crazy jug from Aunt Patty Moore with many and varied items stuck to the jar with a substance that resembled mud with buttons, miniature items, seed-pods, etc. Mrs. Winifred Darsey showed a pitcher given to her mother, Mrs. Bert Estes in 1902 and a hand knitted handkerchief from her grandmother ca. 1958.

Mrs. Dickson showed her thimble collection of 70 years. Mrs. Grace Campbell had the gold watch presented to Harry H. Campbell by his friends, A.M. Brittan, L.W. Lomax, 12-25-1883 with this inscribed inside the case, - a Jules Jurgensen, made in Copenhagen, pat 1867, Jan. 15.

Mrs. Dickson read a short story, part fantasy and part true concerning a Thimble Tale. To conclude she played the tape Precious Memories, what we all shared that afternoon. Mrs. Campbell brought the inspirational thought stating memories should be thoughts rather than the material concluding a verse from 1 Cor.

2:9 and reading Robert Brownings "Growth Old Along With Me." Refreshments were provided by Mrs. Pearl Patten and Mrs. Hamilton

Artifact Display Set For May 14 At Copper Breaks State Park

Janell Manard and Ervy McGregor, both of Crowell, will display archaeological artifacts from Foard and Harde-man counties, a region considered the heartland of the Comancheria, or Comanche Territory, in a presentation scheduled from 1:30 p.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday, May 14 at the Copper Breaks State Park Visitor Center.

The area was once the domain of Quannah Parker, last chief of the Comanches, for whom Quannah, Texas is named.

Some of Manard's and McGregor's collection includes projectile points (arrowheads), axes, hand axes, choppers, gravers, drills and celts.

Manard's family has owned the same land in Foard County for 104 years, since before the county was organized.

Manard and McGregor will also be happy to answer questions, and will assist in identifying artifacts visitors bring to the presentation.

Copper Breaks State Park is located on State Highway 6, 10 miles north of Crowell and 13 miles south of Quanah. The Visitors Center is at the entrance to the park. Donations are welcome.

A $3 entrance fee is required to visit the park itself.

For more information, contact Copper Breaks State Park at (817) 839-4331.

As everyone expected, it was very hard to choose who to vote for at cheerleading tryouts last Thursday. We had to choose 6 out of 8 girls for cheerleader. Each girl did a great job!

The mascots did a good job too! We had to choose one girl out of the four that tried out. Their skits were all unique and they did a wonderful job on improvisations too.

This year's cheerleaders are head cheerleader, Heather Turner; Lesa Prather, Leigh Pipkin, Leslie Van Hoose, Leah Cruse, Dodie Morris, and Mascot Rebekah Jameson.

Tennis Team Competes At Zone and District

by Tennis Coach, Syd Pipkin

The Varsity tennis team competed in Zone April 8th in Lubbock. Motley competed against Petersburg, Lorenzo, and Spur. The top two teams in each division advanced to District April 11 at Knox City. Advancing were Chad Graves and Brandon Blanch and Kevin Keltz and Jarrod Brooks in boys' doubles. Leigh Pipkin advanced in singles while Brandi Jameson and Keri Shorter advanced in doubles. Also playing difficult matches and competing very hard were Heather Turner in singles, Dustin Davis and Michael Miner in boys singles. I was proud of these three individuals too, because they gave 100% and tried very hard. Also Joe Martin and Jeremy Smith were on the team but didn't travel to Lubbock.

District competition steps up a level because the top to team from both zones compete. Chad and Brandon took on a seasoned team from Knox City and took them to the limit. They came from behind to win the second set. Many exciting points were played before the third set was finished. But Knox City finally won the last set. Kevin and Jarrod, meanwhile were taking on the first seed from Crowell. These guys gave Crowell a scare as they ran every point down and kept the ball in play. The last set was 7-5, Crowell. Close huh? As the boys battled, Leigh took on the first seed from Knox City. In the second match, Leigh came from behind and also lost 7-5 in the second set. It was a good come back and some serious tennis. Not to get bored, Brandi and Keri are battling a good Knox City team. They lost the first match. Later they played Petersburg and lost in a tie-break. They played so hard and made shots that surprised everyone.

Motley County kids are the best. They play hard and give 100%. We are lucky to have such fine kids represent us. Thanks for the opportunity to coach your kids. I'm proud of them and the job they did all year.

COTTON NEWS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

Dry subsoil conditions continue to dampen prospects for the 1994 cotton crop throughout the High Plains region according to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG).

"Prospects for the 1994 crop are uncertain at this time and producers are definitely concerned about the situation for 1994," says PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson. "If dry conditions persist through the next four to six weeks we could see a reduction in the number of acres planted to cotton this year."

Concerned producers aren't only those with dryland operations notes Johnson. Many irrigated producers in the area are also under the gun because of the lack of adequate subsoil moisture. Despite the dry conditions planting activity is slowly getting underway at this time.

With an 11 percent Acreage Reduction Program in effect planted acreage in the 25 county area could total somewhere in the neighborhood of 3.1 million acres. No firm numbers are available at this time and producers have until April 29 to sign-up for the 1994 farm program. Approximately half of the acres planted on the High Plains are considered to be dryland production. Continued dry conditions mean the potential for a significant change in planted acreage is present.

Many factors figure into final planting decisions. Individual producers will have to take into account planting requirements for crop insurance and farm program purposes in addition to weather conditions when making their decision.

"The choices made by producers this year are definitely not going to be easy," concludes Johnson. "Timing and being able to get the most out of each and every rainfall we receive will play a big role in determining the kind of start we get in 1994."

Statewide, planting is progressing well at this time. Total plantings are estimated at 18 percent, 5 percent ahead of average, through April 17.

Producers need to be aware that the cut-off date for signing up to participate in 1994 farm programs is April 29, 1994. Anyone intending to participate in the 1994 program will need to sign-up before this date.

Social Security Tips

by Terry Richardson

ONE DAY CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE

"What a difference a day makes," according to a song written several years ago. The song probably wasn't written to address a Social Security issue, but it does. If you were born on the first or second day of the month, one day could make a difference and mean an extra month of Social Security benefits when you retire.

How can this be? Consider how being born on the first or second day of the month would affect someone who is just turning 62. You must be at least 62 to receive Social Security retirement benefits. And the earliest that you can be eligible for a retirement check is the first full month you are 62. That means that most people cannot receive a benefit for the month in which they turn 62. But the law also says that you "attain" your age the day before your birthday. So, if you were born June 2, for example, you legally attain your age on June 1 and you would be eligible for benefits for June because you're considered 62 for the entire month. Of course, if you were born on June 1, you also would receive benefits for June because you are 62 the entire month. (Even though you legally turned 62 on May 31, you couldn't receive any benefits for May because you weren't 62 for the whole month.)

The "born on the first or second" rules also apply to Medicare, with one important difference. Unlike Social Security, where you must be eligible for the whole month to qualify for benefits, you can get Medicare coverage for a month even if you're eligible for only one day of the month. That means if your 65th birthday is on June 1, you would be entitled to Medicare for the month of May because you legally became 65 on May 31. If your birthday fell on June 2, you would be entitled to Medicare for June.

New Fertilizer Technology Takes Guesswork Out Of Gardening

by Dr. Fred Hulme
Horticultural Technology Manager,
The Scotts Company

(NAPS)—For years, home gardeners have dreamed about a safe, effective fertilizer that could be applied once a season and wouldn't over- or underfeed trees, lawns, shrubs, vegetables and flowers.

Thanks to a recent technological breakthrough called time-release plant food, a new line of products called Once Season Long Lawn and Plant Foods has been developed. The products release nutrients slowly, over time, and eliminate the worry of having to feed your plants every other week. As the products' name suggests, they can be applied once, at the beginning of the growing season, and will deliver the vital nutrients and minerals needed to ensure healthy plant growth for the entire growing season, in some cases for as long as nine months.

The Once products contain Osmocote, unique, resin-coated granules of liquefied plant food which continually release a controlled amount of nutrients into the soil as plants need them. This means that plants receive more food when they're hungry and less when they're not. As a result, the "feast or famine" cycle that so often occurs with ordinary plant foods is averted.

Another unique new product, ideal for use indoors and outdoors, is Peters Professional Plant & Feed, which combines the benefits of professional-grade potting soil with the nutritional delivery system of time release plant foods. The product is actually a porous, medium-weight potting soil that blends sphagnum peat moss, processed bark and horticultural-grade vermiculite, along with time-release plant food elements.

Together, these ingredients help both started plants and seedlings retain moisture and provide an excellent environment for strong root development and rapid growth of house plants, ornamental shrubs, container plants, garden vegetables and flowers of all kinds. The time-release elements allow for the gradual release of nutrients over seven to nine months, as needed by hungry plant life. This measured feeding ensures optimum plant performance and beautiful results all season long.

Great strides have been made in the fertilizer field, and I'm sure there will continue to be more. In the meantime, products such as Once and Peters Plant & Feed are making it easier and quicker than ever for everyday gardeners to wield a green thumb like that of a professional.

Mental Health

by Ron Trusler, M.Ed., L.P.C.

Assistant Executive Director Central Plains Center for Mental Health, Mental Retardation, and Substance Abuse.

THE ANTISOCIAL CHILD

All children require a lot of love, patience and compassion. The antisocial child really does. Most people think that such a child comes from a family that does not care about him/her and that's the reason he/she acts this way. In other words, he/she is the product of irresponsible parents.

It is true that children who grow up around parents that are unloving and otherwise inadequate, are likely to experience a variety of difficulties, but not all turn to a life of crime. Most parents of children who are considered delinquent, that I have encountered, have demonstrated a profound love for their offspring.

It's that the love has been tested repeatedly by a child whose self-worth is not determined by how much his parents love him/her but rather on getting away with as much as he/she can, doing the forbidden and to him/her, the highly exciting. The child may be from a warm and loving environment but he grows restless, disagreeable, and disobedient.

Parents of antisocial children often feel bewildered and helpless as their children reject their guidance. These parents have often declared they would give anything if their children would be constructive participants of society. The parents are heartbroken and have become bystanders as their offspring throw away their life.

A child's behavior is not always a good barometer of the parent's love toward them. This stuff of "all they need is love" is not a good formula for all the wayward kids. Some times the child deliberately and calculatedly determines to disobey the rules, in spite of all the love. What do parents do then? They go ahead and hurt, wish and pray just like you would expect any parent to do. They also usually have to see the child face consequences of their own decisions. And that is not always as bad as it may seem, at first. That may be what will turn some children around more than any amount of love.

If you tell the truth, you don't have to remember anything.

Last fall someone stole a bus in Vancouver and drove it into a lake. The bus floated out and sank seventy-five feet from the shore.

Divers recovered it, and they were amused with the sign at the front of the bus. It read: "Not In Service."

On the streets, it was all right. In the sea, it was all wrong. There it was of no service to anyone.

Life isn't a game to be played or a prize to be snared. It's God's will to be sought and God's work to be done.

You're unique. God has a special place for you. If you're not where He wants you, you're not in service, and you're not happy.

Matador Area Host Families Needed For Foreign Teens

Foreign high school students will be arriving soon in the Matador area for academic semester and year homestays, and the sponsoring organization needs a few more local host families.

According to Pacific Intercultural Exchange (P.I.E.) Executive Director, John Doty, the students are all between the ages of 15 and 18 years, are English-speaking, have their own spending money, carry accident and health insurance, and are anxious to share their cultural experiences with their new American families. P.I.E. currently has programs to match almost every family's needs, ranging in length from a semester to a full academic year, where the students attend local high schools.

P.I.E. area representatives match students with host families by finding common interests and lifestyles through an informal in-home meeting. Prospective host families are able to review student applications and select the perfect match. As there are no "typical" host families, P.I.E. can fit a student into just about any situation, whether it be a single parent, a childless couple, a retired couple or a large family.

Families who host for P.I.E. are also eligible to claim a $50.00 per month charitable contribution deduction on their itemized tax returns for each month they host a sponsored student.

For the upcoming programs, P.I.E. has students from Spain, Germany, Poland, Russia, Finland, Argentina, Brazil, Colombia, Paraguay, Australia, New Zealand, Croatia and many other countries. P.I.E. has also been invited to participate in a special government-funded program to bring scholarship students from the Newly Independent States of the former Soviet Union to the United States. P.I.E. is a non-profit educational organization that has sponsored more than 18,000 students from 23 countries since its founding in 1975. The organization is designated by the United States information agency and is listed by the Council of Standards for International Educational Travel (CSIET), certifying that the organization complies with the standards set forth in CSIET's standards for international educational travel programs.

Matador area families interested in learning more about student exchange or arranging for a meeting with a community representative may call P.I.E., toll-free, at 1-800-631-1818. The agency also has travel/study program opportunities available for American high school students as well as possibilities for community volunteers to assist and work with area host families, students and schools.

Thrift Mart Donates 300 Trees To School

NOTE: Thrift Mart, is owned by the Clyde and Nona K. Williams family of Granbury, formerly of Roaring Springs.

"Hometown Trees" enters its third year sponsored by Thrift Mart of Granbury. Thrift Mart will donate 300 bald cypress, loblolly pine and blackgum seedlings to GISD as part of the project.

Granbury High School horticulture students, principal Troy Green and horticulture teacher Gary Best accepted the trees from Thrift Mart manager Don White.

Best said the seedlings will be kept in containers until they are mature enough to be transplanted. Students recently planted some trees at Granbury Middle School that were donated through the 1993 program.

Hometown Trees is a tree planting program with IGA retailers working with local experts to choose proper environmental sites to ensure that most of the trees will survive.

The program's purpose is to beautify the community, help improve the environment and to educate residents of the important role that trees play in their lives as a renewable resource.

Thrift Mart is an independent grocery company owned by the Williams family with corporate offices located in Granbury. The 13 Thrift Mart Food Stores grew from the original store that opened in Roaring Springs.

Spring Cleaning Time for a Home Safety Checkup

It's that time of year again...when spring cleaning fever hits the air and everyone decided to take on those tough chores around the house. This is a good time to perform a home safety check. Inspecting your home and creating a hazard-free environment will reduce your chances of having an accident.

West Texas Utilities Company and the National Safety Council recommend spring cleaning as the best time to conduct a home safety checklist:

- * Avoid overloading electrical outlets.

- * All appliances should have Underwriters

- * Replace cracked or damaged cords and plugs.

- * Cover electrical outlets if you have young children in the house.

- * Label all fuses and circuit breakers to show which outlets and fixtures they serve.

- * Washers and dryers should be electrically grounded. Be careful: damp or wet floors can lead to electrical shock.

- * When remodeling, position light switches in accessible areas. Accidents can happen when people stumble through the dark. Place locations around the home for emergency use.

* Good lighting should be provided at the stove, sink and countertop work areas, especially where food is chopped.

* Place night lights in bathroom or hallways to act as a guide to prevent falls.

Make sure a home safety list is part of your spring cleaning plans this year. Take the time to ensure the health and safety of you, your family and your home.

Therefore, lay aside all malice, all guile, hypocrisy, envy, and all evil speaking. 1 Peter 2:1

The Dangers of Lightning

A typical summer day begins with clear and sunny skies. By late afternoon a rapidly developing thunderstorm approaches. Electrical storms may be fascinating to watch, but they also can be extremely dangerous.

West Texas Utilities Company and the National Safety Council recommend the following important safety measures to follow when encountering lightning during severe thunderstorms.

— The most dangerous place to be during a storm is an open area - a field, a golf course, on a boat or in the water.

Whether you are swimming or in a boat, you are surrounded by water, which is a very good conductor. Get out of and away from all water when a storm is approaching.

During storms (or even when the skies look threatening, since lightning often strikes during the calm before a storm) stay off hilltops and out of open fields. Golf courses and baseball fields are extremely dangerous places to be in a storm.

— When seeking refuge, choose it carefully - bad shelters can be worse than no shelter at all. Seeking shelter under a tree might seem like a good idea, but it's not. Trees are tall and attract lightning.

Since dry wood is not a good conductor, an electrical current may jump from a tree to a nearby person before reaching the ground.

— When caught in a storm, get rid of all metal objects such as golf clubs, fishing rods and tennis rackets. Get off golf carts and bicycles. Stay away from conductors of electricity such as wire fences, power lines, clothes lines, metal pipes and railroad tracks.

— A large, ground or steel-framed building is the best place to be in an electrical storm. A metal top car or truck with closed windows is also safe because the vehicle's frames will deflect the lightning charge to the ground.

— A common misconception people have is that you are safe from lightning once inside the home. The home is full of objects that act as conductors. Keep away from windows, fireplaces, stoves, sinks, bathtubs, and plugged-in electrical appliances.

— If you are caught out in a field or golf course far from adequate shelter and your hair begins to stand on end, you may be about to be struck by lightning. Immediately drop to your knees, bend forward and place your hands on your knees. Do not lie flat. This position, although providing a higher profile than lying flat, has the advantage of minimum contact with the earth.

Some Helpful Hints For Mother's Day

(NU) - Mother's Day is fast approaching. No ideas? No problem. Here are a few suggestions to help brighten Mom's day:

- * Dinner out. Rekindling childhood memories with good service, a good meal and a glass of wine might be just the ticket to making her day a special one.

- * A poem. How about a few words in prose reliving a time or place you shared or just telling her how you feel?

- * Jewelry. A gold necklace, diamond earrings or maybe a silver brooch will make her day hard to forget. Personalize it with an inscription.

So your not a poet? Jewelry's too expensive? You live too far away for an evening on the town? Here are a few creative suggestions offered by 800-SEND-123, the name and number to send flowers, balloons, gifts and baskets nationwide.

- * Long stemmed roses. Fresh-cut roses arranged in a floral box. If your mom has a sweet tooth, how about chocolate roses on silk stems, or cookie roses?

- * Gift baskets. They can include anything from imported chocolates and candies to fresh fruits, cheeses and preserves, confections or even a stuffed Teddy Bear.

- * Balloons, balloons, balloons. Why not send a bouquet of balloons or string a group of balloons above any gift to make it more special. Use Mylar balloons with inscribed messages to tell mom how you feel.

Public Notice

On February 22, 1994, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company ("Southwestern Bell" or "Company") filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas ("Commission") to restructure the Company's Local Transport and Directory Transport categories of its Switched Access Service. This matter has been assigned to Docket No. 12784. The tariff sheets in Southwestern Bell's application, if approved, will bring the Company's intrastate Access Service Tariff into structural parity with the Company's interstate Tariff No. 73 for Local Transport. Southwestern Bell's companion interstate tariff became effective on January 1, 1994.

The transport rate elements provide for the transmission facilities between the customer's premises and the end office switch(es) where the customer's traffic is switched to originate or terminate the customer's communications.

Southwestern Bell proposes to implement the revised tariffs on a revenue neutral basis. Although the proposed tariff changes will affect all customers subscribing to Switched Access Service, the Local Transport and Directory Transport categories of Southwestern Bell's Switched Access Service is primarily for interexchange carriers. If approved, this application will result in an increase in Southwestern Bell's revenues of approximately $1682.00 during the first year. Southwestern Bell proposes that the changes be effective on December 1, 1994.

Persons who wish to intervene in or comment upon these proceedings should notify the commission as soon as possible, as an intervention deadline will be imposed. A request to intervene or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission's Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256 or (512) 458-0221 for text telephone. The deadline for intervention in the proceeding is May 6, 1994.
