Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your CAPITOL

Texas Press Association By VERN SANFORD

Retired Veterans Make Payments
Request by the governor was an appropriation to give underprivileged children the Salk polio vaccine.

Proposals were made by the Travis County delegation, that the state sponsor a supplement to state employee retirement benefits in the amount of $600,000 per year.

Car Dealers Licenses
Seventeen amendments were added in the House before the car dealers licensing bill gained initial approval.

Principal provisions of the bill would:
Make new car dealers pay $50 for a seller's license, and used car dealers $25; prohibit offering for sale as a new car any vehicle that had been driven or towed more than 50 miles, and require dealers to post $10,000 bond.

Original purpose of the bill, before the amendments were added, was to prevent used car dealers from offering latest model cars for sale as "new" cars.

Trinity Bill Fades
A big segment of the Texas population lives in the Trinity River valley.

Hopes of those people for an organization to administer flood control, water conservation, and irrigation were dimmed when the Senate Water Committee rejected a Trinity River Authority Bill and sent it to a subcommittee.

Representative Barefoot Sanders of Dallas, who pushed the bill through the House, blamed the railroad lobby for its failure in Senate committee. Said Sanders:
"The railroads, in the final analysis, are responsible for this setback because of the propaganda they put out on the effects of this bill."

Water Bill Falters
Trouble was ahead for a proposed constitutional amendment rated high on the list of administration-recommended water legislation.

Purpose of the measure would be to let the people vote on whether to authorize $100 million in bonds to finance water projects of the state.

Passed by the House, the resolution was patched with amendments. The Senate refused to concur and asked for a conference committee.

Veterans Land Probe
Far from abating, the veterans land investigation was expanding and reaching as far afield as Minnesota.

Cecil E. Burney, special assistant attorney general, told the Senate Investigating Committee that two years ago, when Attorney General John Ben Shepperd was vacationing in Minnesota, he happened to see former land commissioner Bascom Giles.

Giles invited Shepperd to visit his Minnesota farm of 8,600 acres.

When the veterans land investigations began, Shepperd sent an investigator to Minnesota.

As a result of that investigation, Burney predicted, the people will hear that money from the veterans land program went to Minnesota to buy land for Texas.

"It is amazing," said Burney, "that some of the same people who were anxious to buy cheap Minnesota land at high prices were the same persons who were anxious to sell cheap land in Texas to veterans for equally high prices."

Short Snorts: On foot is a drive for strict enforcement of narcotic laws and passage of new state legislation to help control the dope traffic. Three narcotics bills have passed the House and are in the Senate.

Passed by the Senate is a bill establishing a Texas commission on higher education to govern the state's nine senior colleges and universities. Sen. A. M. Aiken told the Senate the commission is necessary to take care of expanded enrollment and collateral problems of the institutions.

Gas companies would be permitted to sue the state for taxes paid under the unconstitutional gas gathering tax, according to a resolution passed by the House and by the Senate with amendments. Texas oil production for May will be reduced, according to an order of the Texas Railroad Commission. Allowables will be 3,072,150 barrels daily, lowest of the year. Texas has enjoyed a near-record oil flow for the past four months.

Pied Pinions

BY MRS. J. M.

Back home again, and having trouble becoming orientated to desk work. From typewriter, to diapers, and back to typewriter is quite a switch in occupation and requires a great deal more mental therapy than we have been exercising recently as clothesline custodian.

It's been quite a month for the Criders and Tiptons, and since the arrival of little David, Donna and Dale have been forgiven for being girls. Incidentally, he considerably made his appearance on his Grandmother Tipton's birthday, April 5, and we know of at least four other Matadorians who celebrate the same date.

Patti Craven and Karmen Jenkins, both 14, and Mike Groves, 13, were assisted by their mothers, Mesdames J. D. Craven, Emmett Jenkins and Algie Groves, who took cake and Cokes to school and treated the entire 8th grade to refreshments in honor of the occasion. This probably will be the last year the trio will share the same classes. T. E. (Ed) Cammack is the other April 5th celebrant, but we didn't hear any details of his day's activities.

This being "twerp" week at school, the girls are escorting the boys around at date-time and paying the bills. Saw several cute couples the other night, and the girls were having quite a time pooling their resources following a "snack". Seems they invited the boys to have a Coke, and instead they ordered hamburgers. "That's the way you do us" they pointed out at the girls' protests.

Enjoyed the "vacation" in Odessa, saw several ex-Matador residents there. Dorothy (Mrs. Tom) Melton and son, Tammie came by and took us to town one afternoon, and Lillie (Mrs. Loyd) Fulkerson came by and took us for a drive over the city. Also talked over the phone with Janelle (Mrs. Joe) Shirley, Her little girl, Jo Lynn, had messels and so we didn't get to see her personally. Other ex-Matador residents with whom we had a short visit were Mr. and Mrs. Claud Wilson and small daughter, Mary Jayne of Sweetwater, who were visiting his brother and family.

Gathered a few local items in the contacts. Janelle's mother, Mrs. B. F. Jackson is visiting in Odessa, having accompanied home another daughter, Mrs. Sid Landrum and the latter's son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Landrum, who spent a recent week-end in Matador. And Dorothy Melton was planning to spend this week-end in Matador bringing young Tommie to remain with his granmother Gertrude (Mrs. Roy) Smith while his parents made a trip to San Antonio this week.

Donna and Dale and TV kept us entertained at odd moments during our visit—when there was time that is. The girls knew all the commercials "by heart" and began singing and reciting them almost before the announcer came on the air. After observing their various reactions we could appreciate this joke.

The TV repairman was trying to locate the trouble in a friend's set. The six-year-old had watched the whole operation, fascinated. "I'll bet", he said, "if you'd clean out the dead cowboys from the bottom of the set it would work again."

Osborn of Roaring Springs, pneumonia; and Mrs. J. J. Lattimer of Abilene, flu and complications.

ATTEND FAMILY REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Rattan of Boys Ranch and Canyon spent the week-end here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Rattan, and with them, attended a family reunion Sunday at Vernon.

The gathering was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Scott, parents of Mrs. Ward Rattan. Over-night visitors in the Ward Rattan home Sunday night were her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Roland and children, Billy and Betty of Moses Lake, Washington, who were enroute to their home after attending the family reunion.

Bill Seale Named County Chairman Of Savings Bonds

Bill Seale of Matador is the new U. S. Savings Bonds chairman for Matley county. Announcement of the appointment was made by Nathan Adams, chairman of the Advisory committee for Texas.

Mr. Seale will direct all phases of promotion and the sale of savings bonds in Matley county. He becomes a member of the statewide volunteer organization whose efforts are contributed to public service.

Savings bonds quota for Matley county for 1955 is $90,000; for Texas, $201.9 million, and the national goal for the year is $5 billion 5 in 1955.

Improved features of Series E and H savings bonds such as increased interest of 3% compounded semi-annually will be better investments than ever before.

According to a statement released by Adams and Ed Gorman, State Savings Bond Co. Chairman, Texans bought nearly $20 million worth of United States Savings Bonds during the first quarter of 1955.

Leading area in bond sale in the first quarter was DeWitt County, comprising DeWitt, Hale, Lamb, Farmer and Sherman counties. Sales of a little over a million dollars represented 20 per cent of this district's annual goal. J. M. Willson of Floyd is volunteer district chairman.

Model Automobiles
Scholarships
Awarded At $20,000

Over America, thousands are putting the finishing touches on model automobiles to be entered in the 1955 Fisher Body Guild Silver Anniversary car competition. The model cars are eight university scholarships worth $20,000, and $70,000 in cash and U. S. Savings Bonds.

Twenty-five years ago, Fisher management and a group of the nation's leading educators joined together and worked out the details of the youth program. The sole aim is the development of craftsmanship and creativity among boys. Daniel Beard, the great Boy Scout leader, was the first Honorary President. Among the original sponsors from the field were Nobel Prize winner Dr. Robert A. Millikan, the University of California; Rev. Thomas A. Steiner, C. S. C., University of Notre Dame; Dr. George J. Davis, Jr., University of Alabama; Dr. Marjorie L. Britton, Georgia School of Technology; Dr. Dexter S. Ball, Cornell University and others.

During the period of World War II, the Craftsman's Guild held an annual competition for the year since 1930. At that time, the Guild has awarded $650,000 cash to 131 university scholars valued at $420,500 to national winners. More than $650,000 in cash and other awards have been made to thousands of winners in state and regional contests.

Approximately 3,800,000 boys are enrolled in the Guild's membership and participated in its measure in its activities.

A recent survey made by Fisher Body among former competitors in the Guild program indicates that both winners and non-winners feel they gained something very important from the experience of designing, building and entering a model in the competition.

Over 500 replies have been received by the Guild from former winners polled to find out the kind of careers they have chosen for themselves and how their Guild experience helped them in training for their careers.

Among the group already

Tribune, Matador, Matley County, Texas, Thursday, April 28, 1955

heard from, 54 per cent are either still in school (62 per cent of them in college) or in the U. S. Armed Forces.

22% Now Engineers
Of those now active in their chosen careers, 22 per cent are engineers, 10 per cent are running their own businesses and four per cent are doctors. The remainder are engaged in activities too varied to tabulate but they include industrial designers, tool and die designers, farmers, salesmen, draftsmen, bankers, educators, newspapermen, and one member of the FBI.

The 1955 competition ends at midnight, June 1. For several weeks thereafter the model cars will undergo intensive judging by General Motors styling experts, professional vocational arts instructors and members of the Guild's technical staff.

During the month of July, winners of state and regional competitions will be announced and on August 2, national winners and recipients of the university scholarships will be announced over a national television program.

especially after the late-season freezes in March.

Buds, leaves and tender shoots of all trees in the oak family possess a toxic substance which may cause severe illness in cattle, sheep, goats and horses. The plants were made even more toxic by the cold weather in March, according to County Agent Bill Pallmeyer.

The poisonous condition of oak exists from the time the buds begin to swell until the new leaves turn dark green in color. Low growing oaks, low stock (shinnery) cause most of the trouble. Cattle are most often affected.

Pallmeyer says livestock should be moved from any area where poisonous vegetation is found until the danger passes. Roughage fed to animals that can not be moved will also tend to reduce the danger.

Severe and prolonged drought have many ranges "ripe" for invasion by bitterweeds, a plant especially toxic to sheep.

Animals should not be allowed to graze pastures containing these plants until sufficient growth of other plants can supply the forage needs of the animals.

The common cocklebur in its seeding stage is very poisonous to hogs and in a lesser degree cattle, Pallmeyer warned.

POISONOUS PLANTS BRING THREAT TO LIVESTOCK OWNERS

Livestock raisers are warned to be on the alert for death-dealing poisonous range plants, especially after the late-season freezes in March.

Animals should not be allowed to graze pastures containing these plants until sufficient growth of other plants can supply the forage needs of the animals.

SECRETARY OF STATE A. M. MULDROW HAS ANNOUNCED THAT HE WILL REAPPOINT ALL PERSONS WHO NOW HOLD NOTARY PUBLIC COMMISSIONS AND THAT ALL SUCH PERSONS MUST QUALIFY BY FILING AN OATH AND BOND WITH THE COUNTY CLERK OF THEIR RESIDENCE BETWEEN JUNE 1, 1955 AND JUNE 10, 1955. THE LAW SPECIFICALLY REQUIRES COUNTY CLERKS TO APPROVE NOTARY BONDS AND INDIVIDUALS SHOULD NOT SEND MONEY OR REQUESTS FOR COMMISSIONS DIRECT TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE. ALL NOTARY MATTERS SHOULD ONLY BE RECEIVED BY THE SECRETARY OF STATE AFTER THE COUNTY CLERK ACTS THEREON.

Any person who has not heretofore been a Notary Public should apply to his County Clerk between May 1, 1955 and May 23, 1955, if he desires to have this application given prompt attention in the State Department, as the rush of re-appointing all old Notaries may slow up the ordinary process of making new appointments and issuing commissions.

Secretary of State Muldrow said, "Each person applying for a commission as a Notary Public must be at least 21 years of age and a resident of the County for which he is appointed. Exact names and permanent addresses should be given to the County Clerk in applying for a commission, as location of the Notary may be necessary long after he has notarized a particular instrument."

RMI Week Named By Post Office Dept. Uncle Sam's rural mail carries like to deliver mail to attractive boxes and the Post Office Department believes improvement in mail boxes is an important project. The PO department has officially and permanently designated the week beginning with the third Monday in May as RMI (Rural Mailbox Improvement) Week and a vigorous campaign will be launched again to carry on the project.

A news release points out that the mail box is the front door to the rural home. Since it is usually in front of the home, a neat appearance will add to the neat appearance of the home. Ruts should be filled, the post painted white, and the release suggests a few flowers be planted behind the box. The box should be secured firmly to the post and the post secured firmly in the ground. If the mail box is obsolete, its replacement is suggested. Name should be painted on the side of the box unless several boxes are grouped together, then the name should be on the front. Bottom of the box should be 42 inches from the roadway, and should be on an arm extending from the post so that it can be easily reached. The release suggests that ruts be filled with crushed rock, broken brick or cement. It is suggested that the rural home owner drive his car up to the box and test it for convenience. It is pointed out that the carrier makes 305 daily service to each box in a year's time and that his work is made lighter if the box is properly arranged. The release says the work of rural carriers has more than doubled in the past few years.

Rheumatic Fever Fight Continues

AUSTIN—The outlook in the fight against rheumatic fever has improved, but this disease, which begins most often between the ages of five and fifteen, still results in serious heart damage in many cases, declared Dr. Henry A. Holte, State Health Officer.

Rheumatic fever usually strikes after a nose and throat infection caused by germs of the streptococcus family. An average of three out of one hundred of the commonly called "strep" infections are followed by rheumatic fever.

Sulfonamide and penicillin usually can overcome the infection. But if rheumatic fever develops, strict bed rest is the first resort to ease the fever, the heart and to help the patient avoid added infection.

Sometimes alpha or penicillin may be given to the convalescing patient to help avoid a recurrence of the disease. Repeat attacks of rheumatic fever are more likely to lead to heart damage.

The rheumatic heart condition can involve damage to one or more of the four valves of the heart or to the heart muscle itself. Rheumatic fever inflames the valves and muscles and when the inflammation subsides, it usually leaves a scar.

In about two out of three cases this fever leaves no heart damage, or causes so little injury that the victim can regain active, everyday living. In other cases, modern surgery may help. No matter how slight an attack of rheumatic fever may seem, the first and most important thing to do is to follow your doctor's advice to the letter.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh
Red Finds a "Sweet Solution"
Red Jackson found a slick way to get his cows to eat what's good for them. Seems they were passing up the tall green grass—full of minerals and vitamins—and eating the short grass, which is naturally sweeter.
Red solved the problem by spraying a solution of four syrup over the grass that was going begging. The cows sure went at it. Red says it's lucky for him and the cows—that every one of them has a "sweet tooth."
Next week, according to Red, he's going to have his cows clean up all the weedy grass along his fences—after he sprays them with more corn syrup, of course.
From where I sit, some folks, like Red, are always trying out new tricks—and others stick with the old tried and true methods. Just a question of preference, I guess. Like the way you may enjoy coffee with meals, while I prefer a cold glass of beer. So let's not allow any bad feelings to "erup up" by thinking ours is the only choice.

Students Receive Tests In Aptitude

Matador high school students are receiving a series of aptitude tests designed to better qualify the faculty in more effective counseling, according to an announcement made this week by Supt. Bert Ezzell.

Juniors and seniors are receiving three tests while the freshmen and sophomores receive two, in four fields of school work. The series of aptitude tests for the entire high school includes science, mathematics, history and English. Tests in ability are also being conducted.

Juniors and seniors are receiving a test in occupational preference, designed to improve the value of counseling with regard to future training.

When the tests are completed and data is compiled, parents and students will be given an opportunity to see the results.

Beetle Grubs May Cause Lawn Damage

Spotty damage to lawns, or a general unthriftiness for which there is no obvious cause, may be the result of work done by beetle grubs, according to County Agent Bill Palmeyer.

Remaining in the soil throughout their larval stage, the grubs feed upon the roots of the grasses and other plants. If sufficient number are present in the lawn, whole root systems are destroyed and grasses die.

Though lawns may suffer from the ravages of a great many insects, beetle grubs do most damage, and their activity is harder to detect.

Palmeyer suggests an easy method of checking for the presence of grubs in the lawn. Cut down on three sides of a square foot of sod, two to three inches deep, with a sharp spade. Then lay back the sod underneath, and examine for grubs. If six or more grubs are found in this area of soil, the lawn is subject to damage, and some treatment is needed.

Tests so far have shown chlordane to be the most promising insecticide for lawn treatment, Palmeyer explains, but others include aldrin, DDT, and dieldrin and heptachlor. All the materials are poisonous.

Novel Written By Lubbock Resident

New York, N. Y.—The first novel of 72 year old Texan, Will M. Clower, will be published in early May by Pageant Press of New York.

"WHAT PRICE FORTITUDE" is an action-packed adventure tale about a young American girl winding up a secret mission on an island menaced by Communist infiltration.

The reserves of courage and strength that Madge Curry finds in her heart make up the theme of this unusual novel in which the author has tried to show that "Man's extremity is God's opportunity."

A native Texan, Mr. Clower was born in Comanche in 1882, educated in Cleburne and Clarendon, lived in Plainview, and presently makes his home in Lubbock. He is a member of the First Methodist Church of Lubbock and past Masonic Master of the Elgin (Texas) Lodge A. F. & A. M. 328.

Bigger Farm Money Bill Gets Approval

WASHINGTON—The Senate shouted approval of a big farm money bill Tuesday after insisting by a 76-5 vote on providing $55 million more for conservation payments than the administration had asked.

The unrecorded voice vote approved an appropriation carrying $884 million in new cash, another 388 millions in loans and other funds that would boost the federal farm outlay above $1,400,000,000 for the 12 months beginning July 1.

The measure now goes back to the House for consideration of more than $4 million in Senate increases and a number of other changes.

Sen. Williams (R-DeI.) led a futile effort to reduce the item for conservation payments on 1936 crops from $250 to $195 million, the amount recommended by President Eisenhower and Sec. of Agriculture Benson.

These are the payments to farmers who comply with acreage reductions and conservation practices.
