CHICAGO PLANE STILL IN AIR

Southland Greyhound To Open New Station Tuesday Tribune Recognizes Alfred Lingle Rumors

REPORTER CONNECTED WITH CRIME

Newspaper Announces Results Of Its Probe

CHICAGO, June 30. (AP)—The Chicago Tribune today, in editorial and news columns, took definite cognizance of the sinister rumors that have attached themselves to the career of its slain reporter, Alfred (Jake) Lingle.

It sets forth, editorially, that the first report of the state's attorney's investigators, which goes into detail concerning the reporter's finances, "would indicate that Alfred Lingle was killed because he was using his Tribune position to profit from criminal operations and not because he was serving the Tribune as it thought he was."

Pointing out the developments resulting from the investigation, the newspaper says: "Alfred Lingle now takes a different character, one in which he was unknown to the management of the Tribune when he was alive. He is dead and cannot defend himself, but many facts now revealed must be accepted as eloquent against him. He was not, and could not have been, a great reporter. His ability did not contain these possibilities. He did not write stories, but he could get information in police circles. . . . The reasonable appearance against Lingle now is that he was accepted in the world of politics and crime for something undreamed of in his office and that he used this in undertakings which made him money and brought him to his death."

GRINNING

"Every time we go up, John and Kenneth stick their head out the cabin windows and grin from ear to ear," said Brothers Albert and Walter after one of their refueling trips yesterday.

The four brothers practiced aviation in the cow pastures back on the farm. They first rode motorcycles, they drove automobiles; then came the airplane obsession and they augmented their farm cash by working in coal mines to scrape enough together to buy a second hand plane. It was an old Standard—then ready for the scrap heap. Walter learned to fly first—he went alone from St. Louis to Sparta and then taught his brothers.

Then came the barstoring tours—with Walter and Albert piloting the ship and Albert and Kenneth doing wing-walking and parachute jumping at county fairs.

John finally entered the air mail service; Walter got a transport plane; Kenneth became an instructor; Albert stayed in Sparta. The "City of Chicago" is a second hand, 3-year-old Stinson-Detroiter cabin monoplane, powered

NEW MARK, 455 HOURS, IS REACHED

Hunter Boys Seeks To Stay Aloft To July 4

CHICAGO, June 30 (AP)—The "City of Chicago" completed its 455th hour in the air at 2:40 a. m. (c.s.t.) today, making contact at that time with the refueling plane "Big Ten." The record exceeded that set last year by the "St. Louis Robin" by 35 hours.

CHICAGO, June 30. (AP)—The Hunter boys—two farmers who turned from the plow to the plane—raced onward today in triumph through the skies, piling more hours on the new world's endurance record they established early Sunday.

The old mark of "The St. Louis Robin," 420 hours, 21 minutes and 30 seconds, was passed at 5:01:30 a. m. (c.s.t.) yesterday. At 2:40 (c.s.t.) today, the Hunter brothers—John and Kenneth—had kept their plane, "City of Chicago," continuously in the air for 445 hours with no signs of immediate descent.

Barking hime and urdishes, the brothers hope to remain aloft at least until July fourth. Although the record set by Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brien last July 30 in St. Louis was equaled at a minute and a half after 4 a. m., yesterday, it was necessary to be clocked officially by W. P. McFarland and Major Luke Christopher, of the National Aeronautical Association's contest committee.

Many There. The cheers of thousands burst the suburban Sunday stillness at Sky Harbor Airport when the plane came through the dawn with a new record on its wings. Half of this crowd had come early and the other half stayed late.

There are four of these Hunter boys all from "Egypt"—that part of southern Illinois named for the land of the Nile. John is 27 and Kenneth 21; then Albert 25, and Walter 24, make up the ground crew that has contacted 166 times with the plane up to the last refueling at dawn today.

Their sister, Irene, also a pilot, cooks the meals. From Sparta, Ill., where the Hunter boys were born to the farms, hundreds of congratulatory messages poured into the Hunter camp at Sky Harbor—and more hundreds of people chartered buses, rode trains and drove automobiles to keep Sparta represented at the record-breaking.

Most of the messages were opened by the brothers' mother, Mrs. Ida Hunter, and then sent aloft. Grinning.

"Every time we go up, John and Kenneth stick their head out the cabin windows and grin from ear to ear," said Brothers Albert and Walter after one of their refueling trips yesterday.

EVERYDAY QUIZ

Answered by Dr. S. Parkes Cadman

Questions from readers are answered daily by the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Big Spring, Texas.

For four years I have been desperately in love with a man who is thirty years old. I am twenty-three. He does not know whether or not we can ever be married. He is honorable, clean and a fine man. Now the situation is beginning to tell upon me so that I am horribly upset in mind. When I see him with other girls I feel that I shall go insane. I don't think I shall go insane, I don't think I doubt his fidelity to me, but I am afraid...

He will some day think less of me for what I have done, and love some younger and prettier girl who could not love him as I do. Do you think an honorable man would want to marry a girl who had given herself to him before marriage? Do you think this could ever make any difference in our lives if we were married? I desperately need the help of... an outside viewpoint. Kindly omit address. Your troubled letter in Okatoe that the ground is crumbling beneath your feet. The sole hope left to you is that this man's character is such that he will see you through your difficulty. Even that hope is dimmed by doubt and fear. Your want of reserve has made life infinitely harder just now than it should be for you. I do not presume to reproach you for your weakness. Insist that your lover reciprocate your confidence and make your association with him honorable by marriage. His response to your rightful claim on him is the clew to a situation otherwise unendurable. You cannot go on as things are. Change them now and forever. Momentary delights purchased by the soul's dwindling powers are a form of moral insanity. Whatever your union with this lover may involve, it is the one course to take.

If he is what you believe him to be, he will sacrifice himself for you and not you for himself. The issue is clear and its right settlement overdue. Further delay may bring irreparable consequences. So do not hesitate in escaping from a bog in which many who deserved a better fate have been swallowed up.

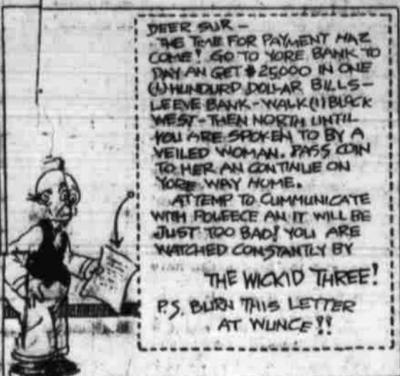

Bayre, Pa. (1) What do you really believe about the Bible? (2) Do the Roman Catholic authorities forbid its circulation? (3) Would you advise the reading of the Bible, with or without note and comment, in our public schools? (1) My assured conviction about the whole Bible is that it is the greatest and most unique record of man's divinely inspired religious experience, and that its history of Christ, as the founder of Christianity, has made the New Testament the exhaustless deposit of man's moral and spiritual instruction and regeneration. (2) No. On the contrary, our Roman Catholic brethren have an English version of their own. The Old Testament translation was made in 1609-10, and the New Testament translation was published in 1823. Both translations were made from the Latin Vulgate. The Holy See sanctions the reading of this Bible in English-speaking nations and circulates it among its followers. But the Roman Catholic authorities also maintain a body of tradition by which the teachings of both Testaments are to be interpreted and understood. (3) Yes, provided the parents of the children attending the public schools favor the reading of the Bible in them. In fact, I go further, and affirm that every child is entitled to a careful training in the religion of its parents, so long as that religion does not menace the social welfare. In my judgment it is injurious to public morals for the youth of America to be deprived of the peerless spiritualities and ethics of Holy Scripture because of our sectarian quarrels.

I am a business woman, also a wife and mother, yet I find time to do considerable reading. But the reading I do does not satisfy me, I am very ignorant. Could you assist me? I know a little about music and religion, but there is so much to learn, and I am letting the years go by without taking the best from them. I am at a loss to know just where to start. Do not underestimate your intellectual attainments. The modesty displayed in your letter reminds me of the ancient saying of the Rabbi: "When thou knowest what thou doest not know, thou hast begun to know what thou shouldst know." I have no acquaintance with your particular literary interests, but I take the liberty of suggesting the following eight volumes which I trust will be helpful: "The Ordeal of This Generation," by Gilbert Murray; "What is Christian Education?" by George A. Coe; "The Doctor Looks at Literature," by Joseph Collins; "Social Psychology of International Conduct," by G. M. Stratton; "Recent Gains in American Civilization," by Kirby Page; "Adventurous America," by Edwin Mims; "A Victorian Village," by Lisette W. Reese, and "The Influence of Christ in the Ancient World," by T. R. Glover. If you cannot find time for all, read particularly "The Ordeal of This Generation," "Adventurous America" and "The Influence of Christ in the Ancient World." (Copyright, 1930, New York Tribune Inc.)

Lovington On The Railroad Map

Governor Dick Dillon of New Mexico piloted the first train, over the newly built Texas & New Mexico line of the Texas & Pacific system, into Lovington, Lea county, New Mexico, Saturday to accompany of the cheers of 10,000.

Truly the tide of empire continues to roll westward. This is still the land of opportunity.

The Texas & New Mexico line is but one of a number of extensions and branches being built or about to be started.

Many persons see in the Texas & New Mexico the beginning of a much longer road, extending north-westward.

Big Spring is the West Texas center of Texas & Pacific operations. Here the mechanical forces, the clerical staff, the trainmen and engineers and maintenance men are concentrated.

Big Spring will receive direct benefit from the operations of the Texas & New Mexico. Her residents will pilot the engines, haul the trains, repair the locomotives and cars, keep tabs on the business of the road.

This is not true of any other city along the Texas & Pacific.

But in the face of this you might have noted, Big Spring was one of the few important cities in this part of the state that was not represented officially at the Lovington celebration of Saturday.

Such failures will damage our chances of expanding actual and potential trade territory. We ought to have been represented.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

Underworld Reporting

Boston Transcript. THE CLAIM of an undoubted gangster, in Chicago, who has been arrested, that he was "working for Jake Lingle"—a claim manifestly made with a motive to shield himself in the gang round-up—is held to raise the question whether Alfred Lingle, the Chicago Tribune reporter who has been murdered by the gangs, was not himself a "ganster."

There is every reason to believe that the implied charge is a red herring drawn across the trail of the guilty.

"Underworld reporting" is a very peculiar kind of newspaper work. Men or women engaged in it find it necessary, if their work is to be at all successful, to maintain certain relations with criminals.

There may be reporters who are "crooked," but they cannot long hold their jobs. The method of partnership would be fatal to their credit, either with their editors or with the public.

It took an automobile to halt a pair of runaway horses recently at Clarin, Kas.

rewards for the conviction of Lingle's murderers and practically working together to ferret out the guilty.

The Tribune itself, while editorially giving assurance that during his lifetime Lingle's honor, his straightness, were never questioned by the editor, promises the fullest investigation into all the circumstances of the case.

In the meantime, it is quite possible that the gunman Kinsane, who says he was "working for Lingle," really thought he was doing so. But he was "working" for him not in the terrorizing sense, but in the news sense.

The plain fact that the crime reporter's credit and livelihood rest on his straightness constitutes at least a strong presumption of his honesty and loyalty.

The assassination of the man is an equally strong indication that he was becoming a danger to the continued immunity of the "crime alliance" which has disgraced Chicago and the nation of which it is the second city.

It is the resolution of the decent millions there to probe the infamous conspiracy to the bottom and punish the conspirators.

HOW'S your HEALTH

Four Lads In 1885, Louis Pasteur performed his miracles of miracles. He discovered a method for the prevention of the development of hydrophobia (rabies) in animals and persons bitten by rabid or mad animals.

In the same year, four American lads, whose play was turned into a threatening disaster by the rush of mad dogs that bit and tore them, set our shores to travel the 3000 miles to Paris, to receive the Pasteur treatment.

Pasteur welcomed them, treated them and saved their lives. Rabies does not now constitute a serious public health problem.

There are fewer than 100 annual deaths in the United States from this cause.

But insofar as practically all of these deaths are preventable, and further more because death from rabies is so very horrible, every effort ought to be made to save each and every endangered life.

Every bite by an animal should be suspected, especially if the animal is unknown and not under scrutiny. In the United States dogs are the chief sufferers from rabies, but other animals, like the cat, may also suffer and transmit the disease.

Rabies are thought to prevail only during the hot months but this is an erroneous impression. There are more dog bites suffered between April to September than from October to March but that is because dogs are about more freely.

When a dog has bitten one every effort should be made to catch the animal alive. By watching the dog for approximately 10 days, we can determine whether it has rabies. If the dog, in this time, shows no evidences of disease, the anti-rabic treatment may not be necessary.

The danger of the bite increases with nearness to the head. A bite on the face is very dangerous. The chance of developing rabies in a person bitten by a rabid dog and not treated, is one in 10.

LOS ANGELES, June 30 (AP)—Gordon F. Mounce, 32-year-old Glendale aviator, today laid claim to the world record for successive outside loops.

Observed by officials of the National Aeronautical Association, Mounce went aloft in a small bi-plane yesterday and made 22 successive outside loops, surpassing the record of 18 set by Tex Rankin at Portland, Oregon, last year.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 30 (AP)—Landing in a tree in his first parachute, Spencer Brown, 27, a student pilot of Creekstown, was killed yesterday when his neck was broken by branches.

He jumped at 2,500 feet from a plane piloted by George Terrill of Kenmore, N. Y.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 30 (AP)—Dorothy Hester, 19-year-old Portland aviation student of a year, today had joined the small group of fliers who have performed an outside loop.

Miss Hester yesterday completed three out of five attempts at outside loops, a feat aviation experts here said, no other woman has attempted.

BRIDGE COLLAPSES TEXARKANA, June 30 (AP)—Sulphur River bridge on Highway 71 between Fouke and Dodridge collapsed last night, highway engineers reported today. They said the piers had been undermined by the May flood. The road will be impassable until a temporary structure can be built.

Hollywood Sights

BY ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD — "Ingagi," the weird film concoction recently exposed as being largely a fake, doubtless will suffer somewhat as a result of the exposure at the box offices of the theaters where it will be shown despite the organized producers ban, but even so its makers will have realized tremendous profit.

That portions of the purported African film were photographed in Hollywood in a prop jungle setting has been admitted by the producing company, but the fact was apparent from the first to many of Hollywood's film folk.

The authentic portions were old travel films, so badly worn through use that the talking monologist accompanying the show felt impelled to explain that the film was spoiled by the intense heat—an explanation which seemed satisfactory enough even though the Hollywood-made sequences, on new film, showed no signs of heat-stroke.

IT'S BEEN DONE BEFORE "Ingagi," of course, has plenty of precedent in movie faking—and probably the first instance occurred in 1909, when President Roosevelt went on his African hunting expedition after leaving the White House.

Col. William N. Selig, who had cried and failed to secure movie rights to the ex-president's exploits, rigged up a jungle, bought an ancient lion, employed an actor to double for Roosevelt, and thus, when news of the hunter's first lion broke, had a picture ready for release at once.

"Hunting Big Game in Africa" it was called, and no mention was made of Roosevelt, but the likeness of the "double" to the late president made that unnecessary.

Another Weeping Jester After all the mammy-singers and other broken hearts of filmland's backstage have done in all its variations, Ramon Novarro deserves honorable mention because in doing the original weeping buffoon he manages to be more convincing than any. In "The Singer of Seville" the climax is his singing of the clown's role in "Pagliacci."

Whether he does it well enough to have earned the ovation the screen audience gives, this untrained ear cannot say, but at any rate Novarro realizes a pet ambition—he sings opera.

One Killed, Two Shot On Border LAREDO, June 30 (AP)—Juan Espinosa, 35, was killed, Jesus Cantu mortally wounded and another man seriously wounded in a battle early yesterday between smugglers and border patrolmen on the Rio Grande. A third man was captured.

The fight occurred at the point where Chacon Creek empties into the Rio Grande, near the scene where R. W. (Red) Kelsoy, border patrol inspector was killed several days ago in a fight with smugglers.

A NICE GIRL COMES TO TOWN

London is bringing sudden changes to Mary Lou Leslie. On the night of her arrival she is deserted by Brynmor Whitmore, whom she had loved trustfully. He has been smitten by Clarice Day, a dancer. Mary Lou determines to have a good time without him, and refuses his apologies.

Tony Titherington, a debonair young aviator, meets Mary Lou and likes her. Tony's ambition is to fly around the world, but his wealthy aunt balks at financing the project. Mary Lou goes to several parties with him and enjoys herself thoroughly without Brynmor, upon whom she had originally depended to entertain her. Tony takes her to Lorna Grey's studio party, and they are startled to find Brynmor there.

Chapter II GRUDGES ARE SETTLED Brynmor was aware of Mary Lou's presence immediately, but he pretended he did not see her. He continued to talk to the brunet while he followed Mary Lou from the corners of his eyes.

He had to admit she looked unusually attractive, but the admission bothered him.

This fellow Titherington evidently was monopolizing her. Brynmor hoped he was a good enough sport to feel no ill will because Tony had knocked him out in that fight at the Emerald Dragon. Yet Tony's nonchalant air annoyed him.

Brynmor's resentment against Tony increased when his brunet friend interrupted him in the midst of a sentence.

"Why, there's Tony Titherington. I'm crazy to meet him. I'm always reading about his daring stunts in the papers. Could you introduce me?"

Brynmor was afraid he didn't know Mr. Titherington sufficiently well. The brunet promptly lost interest in him and drifted away.

Brynmor decided to pocket his pride, and go over and speak with Mary Lou.

"Oh, hello, Brynmor," she turned and gave him her hand. "Fancy meeting you here."

Her voice was bright and friendly. Brynmor felt he would have been better pleased had she shown some resentment.

"Having a good time?" he asked grudgingly.

"Oh, a marvelous time." Mary Lou's eyes mirrored enthusiasm.

"Glad to hear it." His tone implied an opposite meaning.

"Funny dancing with you again," he said. "Just like last summer."

"Ye-es," she murmured. Mary Lou still could remember the thrill of drifting about the dance floor in his arms at that Torquay Hydro, but she couldn't recapture it. It was dead. Last summer she had experienced a nervous fear that he might tire of her. And now, by a spin of the wheel of fate, she had tired of him.

"Look here, Mary Lou," Brynmor blurted suddenly. "When your father consented to your coming to London, didn't he understand you were to see a great deal of me?"

She glanced up at him. "He may have suspected it."

"Then do you think it's quite right for you to see so much of Titherington, a fellow he knows nothing about? I'm thinking of your dad."

Mary Lou grinned. "He would appreciate your concern."

Brynmor swallowed. "It's all very well to smile about it, but the fact remains that Titherington is an irresponsible lad with a reputation of sorts. I don't mind telling you that I've made some inquiries about him. I did it for your father's sake. I find he has a reputation for playing around with show girls, and—"

This Man Says Improvement Has Been Wonderful

"MONEY COULDN'T BUY THE GOOD ARGOTANE DID ME," SAYS LUBBOCK FARMER

"I haven't only gained in health and strength since taking Argotane, but my recovery has been remarkable," said J. W. Claunch, of Rural Route 3, Lubbock, Texas.

"For eight long years, I have suffered with my stomach and digestive troubles. My stomach was always full of gas and I was badly bloated and it was hard for me to breathe at times on account of the gas pressure and I thought I had heart trouble. I was also bothered with kidney trouble and had severe pains in my back and sides. And at times I would have hard lumps in my stomach, until I would nearly die.

"Sometimes, I would have severe spells of indigestion and would be in misery for hours, and would cramp until I could hardly stand it. I got to where I could only eat the light foods and even then, it hurt at times. I tried all kinds of medicines but nothing seemed to do me any good. Argotane was recommended to me, and I decided to give it a trial. My improvement has been wonderful. I feel fine every day, and eat anything I want without the slightest trouble in the least afterward. The gas and bloating spells have left me, and the hard lumps have quit forming in my stomach and I haven't had the cramps since taking Argotane. I sleep fine every night and get up in the morning feeling fine. Money couldn't buy the good Argotane did me, and I know anyone who was suffering as I was, if they will give it a trial will be benefitted by it."

Genuine Argotane may be bought in Big Spring at the Collins Bros. Drugs.—adv.

determined to forget Mary Lou, think only of Clarice.

"It's dear of you to say that, Clarice."

"You know I love you, Bryn." Husky sincerity throbbled in her voice.

He looked down at her and saw tears actually glittering on the silky curl of her lashes.

It was too much for him. With a half-choked cry he gathered her to him.

"Darling... darling... You do love me, don't you? Clarice, you will marry me? Say you will..." Her own arms stole around his neck.

"You know I will, Bryn." The party went on, but neither Brynmor nor Clarice was aware of it—until a woman's shrill voice called, "Where's Clarice? There's a man asking for her."

Will this stranger bring an end to Brynmor's ecstasy? Follow the story tomorrow.

ELECTRICAL CONCERN ON FIRM BASIS VARIETY OF INSURANCE AVAILABLE

D & H Electric Company To Supply Fixture Needs

A complete line of electrical appliances, lighting fixtures, wiring supplies and experienced workmen capable of contracting electrical work of both small and large dimensions is the foundation on which D & H Electric Company has been enabled to expand its business during three years in Big Spring.

Mark W. Harwell, manager of the D & H concern has been a resident of Big Spring since 1906, and in the past three years he has devoted his entire attention to serving customers of the D & H Electric company.

In recent months the company, which is located at 215 Runnels street, has devoted special attention to contracting work. In this line such jobs as the J & W Fisher store building, the Cities Service filling stations and numerous other contract jobs have been completed. At the same time Mr. Harwell and his associates in the business have maintained and improved the high quality of general electric work.

Mr. Harwell has surrounded himself with capable electricians to insure the highest quality of workmanship on every job accepted. In the electrical installation department are Mr. Harwell, E. R. Miller, G. R. Halley and F. E. McKnight who are all experienced workmen and, Mr. Harwell believes, capable of handling most any job called upon to perform.

Mrs. Harwell is taking an active interest in the D & H Electric company affairs as manager of the clerical department.

Cowden Agency Grows With City Through Service

The Cowden Insurance Agency, 106 West Third street, handled every type of insurance offered to the public.

H. D. Cowden, proprietor, has been in this business here more than three years and within that period has firmly established his agency as one of the "most active" in the Big Spring region.

Whether you wish insurance against fire (no matter what type of property you have), or fear damage from hail or tornado, collision of automobiles, or whether you wish to make any type of bond—you may be served by the Cowden Agency.

Life insurance also occupies a place in the list handled by this concern.

One of the chief reasons for success of this business is that Mr. Cowden lends personal attention to the needs and desires of all his clients. He keeps abreast of all sort of development and is in a position therefore to know the insurance needs of the public.

Richco Crushes Cosden's Hopes For First Half Crown ALLISON DEFEATS HENRI COCHET

BARBERS TO BATTLE TODAY

Richco Sluggers Hop On Offerings Of Simms

Unleashing a barrage of hits that sent Simms, Cosden twirling miserably, scurrying to the shade of the dugout, and in the meantime going the limit with Crouch, Richco advanced a step closer to the first half championship Sunday afternoon, and Cosden was definitely eliminated under the top heavy tally of 19 to 1.

Final Today

The championship of the first half of the season of the City League will be decided this afternoon at the City Ball Park when Richco and the Barbers clash at 5 o'clock.

Teams will be on the field before that time and the game is expected to start exactly at 5 o'clock.

Dickinson, leading hurler of the Richco aggregation, and Tip Griswold, Barber addition to the mound aggregation, will face each other in today's diamond struggle for first half laurels.

Another was added to Richco's total in the fourth when Clark walked and scored on Connelly's single. Four were picked up in the sixth inning when four hits were gleaned from Simms' offerings.

Hoehn singled, Connelly was hit by a pitched ball, and Burns singled, scoring Hoehn. Connelly tallied on Reid's single, Hoehn and Burns going home on Paul Wood's clout for a single.

Two were added in the seventh after Potter had taken over the mortgage on the rubber slab. Clark forced Crouch at second, and tallied when Martin at third let one slip over him. Hoehn singled and tallied on Cook's bingle. A two base hit by Stanton and a sacrifice fly to right field by Crouch accounted for one in the eighth.

The ninth saw four more across the plate, with Potter giving up five hits. Hoehn singled, Connelly sacrificed, Cook doubled, Burns, McWhirter and Stanton singled to account for the final spurt.

Seven In Second
It was in the second inning of yesterday's fray that Richco grabbed the game and toured south with it. During that inning Simms gave up five raps, he walked a man and he hit one. An error by West in left field cost two runs. Seven went across the plate.

Cosden's lone marker was earned off Crouch in the third inning. Simms singled and scored on Martin's double. From then on it was a string of zeros for the Cosden contingent, and in the final six innings Crouch gave up only three bingles.

After Simms had struck out three of the four to face him in the first, and Cosden had gone away three in a file, Richco tallied seven in the second.

Burns walked, Reid singled, Stanton was hit by a pitched ball,

BUFFALOES LEADING TEXAS

Yankees And Browns Gain Ground In American

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer
Unless all signs fail, the fight for second half honors in the Texas League already has settled down into a two-cornered arrangement between the Wichita Falls Spudgers and Houston Buffs. With the first week of the second lay gone, there was no indication that any of the six other outfits had the stamina to stand the pace.

The Buffs, getting away to a good start with five straight victories, had only a bare margin over the Spudgers, first half champs, who captured five of their first six. The main inspiration for the split season, I. S., to get Dallas and San Antonio, two "money" cities, out of the cellar, already had come a cropper. San Antonio was in the depths with five straight losses, and the Steers were their closest neighbors.

Ralph Judd, a little fellow with a fast ball, placed the Buffs at the head of the class yesterday when he set the Exporters down with five hits, all singles, while his mates counted out 5 to 0. Victory off Vaughn and Burns. Judd, who started the season with the New York Giants and finally made his way to Houston via the St. Louis Cards, looks like he might and Crouch drove Burns in. Reid tallied on Clark's single, and Stanton, Crouch and Clark tallied when West in left let the orbit outjump him. Connelly and Cook singled, each tallying on Burns' bingle.

JOHNNY RISKO, TUFFY GRIFFITHS TO BATTLE

CUBS GRASP NATIONAL LEAD

NEW YORK, June 30 (AP)—Johnny Risko, veteran batter boy from Cleveland, gets another chance to "spoil" a heavyweight contender this week.

Johnny met Tuffy Griffiths, highly touted Sioux City, Ia., pitcher, in the ten round feature bout at the Chicago stadium Wednesday night in the current week's outstanding athletic attraction.

Risko may not be going anywhere in particular but he takes an unholily glee in seeing that none of his rivals do either. Always on the short end, it seems, when he tackles one of the leaders, Risko, more often than not, has slumped, cuffed and roughed his way to victory or made his opponent look entirely unimpressive. A veteran as fighter, Risko has met only one real contender in recent years, losing a technical knockout to Max Schmeling here last year. A few weeks ago, Risko slapped Paulino Uscudun all around the ring in a ten round battle at Detroit. He should give Griffiths an argument all the way.

San Francisco offers a ten round non-litular bout between young Jack Thompson, negro holder of the welterweight crown, and young Coubert of Fresno, Calif., on Friday. Young Stripling battles Bud Gorman at the Newark, N. J., velodrome tomorrow night and Primo Carnera takes on Jack McAuliffe of Detroit, at South Bend, Ind., Saturday. Bud Taylor, Terre Haute, Ind., featherweight, encounters Earl Mastro of Chicago at Detroit tomorrow and Kid Chocolate, Cuban negro featherweight, takes on Dominick Petrone, of New York at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, on Wednesday.

Hotel Robbery Clues Lacking

HOUSTON, June 30 (AP)—Police admitted today they were making little progress in attempts to capture two men who beat, bound and gagged J. H. Pengelly, general cashier of the Rice Hotel, and escaped with $10,185 in cash after placing Pengelly in a bath tub in a third floor room yesterday and turning on the water.

Pengelly was found yesterday by a hall boy, who lifted him out of the tub, removed the gag from his mouth and the wire bonds from his hands and feet. The cashier was found with his head barely above the water level, with the faucet spouting water that kept the tub filled and overflowing in the upper drain. The lower drain was closed.

Negro Attempts Attack On Wife

HOUSTON, June 30 (AP)—A 26-year-old Houston wife reported that a negro entered her home early here today and sought to attack her after carrying her from one room to another while she slept.

The woman told officers that her husband left at 5:30 a.m. to go to work and the attempted attack occurred later.

"The negro told me before he left that if I reported the affair that he would return and kill me," he said.

TEXAN WINS STRAIGHT FRAMES

Great Ovation Austin Youth After Match

WIMBLEDON, England, June 29 (AP)—Whitney Allison, youthful American Davis Cup tennis player, sprang a sensation at Wimbledon by eliminating Henri Cochet, world tennis champion, in the final of the quarter-finals of the British championships. Allison won 6-4, 6-3.

Allison's victory came like a bolt from the blue. The day in singles ranks only seventh years and by among United States players in doubles, considered at his best, Cochet he Against the redoubtable to take was expected to be a single set.

Cochet, the defending champion, was swept off his feet by the boy's mostly of the Austin. To look on attack while the gallery roared up in astonishment at the feat.

Allison has been playing the greatest tennis ever, since his arrival in England, but he never reached the high's attained in beating the champion. The blond Texan was given a great ovation by the throng of 15,000 that jammed the center court stands.

It was the first time Cochet had been beaten by an American since 1927 when Bill Tilden defeated him in the Davis cup challenge round and John Hennessey stopped him in the national championships at Forest Hills.

Cochet had been looked upon as virtually unbeatable and the American Davis cup team had little hope of uncovering a player who could defeat him.

To win the first set Allison was forced to come from behind. Cochet, who started the serving, took two games, then Allison took the next with the aid of Cochet's double fault.

Miss Lucille Kyle Becomes Bride Of J. Melvin Tucker

Miss Lucille Kyle became the bride of J. Melvin Tucker in a ceremony solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Kyle, 404 Lancaster street, at 8 o'clock Sunday morning, before a group of intimate friends.

Bowls and vases of roses were placed at vantage points about the room where the ceremony was performed and ferns and pot plants adorned an improvised altar. Thornton Crews, minister of the Church of Christ, officiated with the ring ceremony.

The bride was beautifully gowned in pink chiffon crepe and cream lace with harmonizing accessories and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and baby breath tied with ribbons of the same hue. Miss Nola Couch, the only attendant of the bride, wore flesh chiffon crepe with accessories to match.

F. S. Holton of Thornton, Texas, a school friend of the groom, acted as best man.

The bride is the charming and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Kyle of this city and is a graduate of the local high school, where she was a popular member of the class of 1926. She is also a graduate of John Tarleton College at Stephenville and since finishing there has been teaching school, having been a member of the Midway faculty during the past year. While in college Mrs. Tucker took an active part in the activities of her class and school, having been secretary of the Owl Club, a reporter of the J. T. C., the college paper, and a member of the Choral Club.

The groom is also a graduate of John Tarleton College and it was while they were students there that the friendship sprang up between them. While in college Mr. Tucker majored in engineering and it was as an engineer that he left his most lasting impression on his alms mater. It is the south entrance gate to the campus, which he constructed. While at Tarleton he was captain of a cadet corps, athletics editor of the Grasshopper, the college annual and president of the senior class the year of his graduation. Mr. Tucker is a prosperous agricultural man of Bowie and there has prepared a home for his bride. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Tucker left on a brief honeymoon trip to Fort Worth, Houston and Galveston, after which they will be at home at Bowie.

Texan Wins—

fault. Winning the next three Allison led at 4-2.

Allison beat the champion back from the net after dropping the next two games and won the ninth and tenth for the set at 6-4.

John Doeg of Santa Monica, Cal., third ranking American player, defeated his countryman, Gregory Mangin of Newark, N. J., 6-3, 1-6, 6-3, 6-4, to enter the semi-final round along with Allison.

Bill Tilden fought into the semi-finals along with Allison and Doeg defeating J. C. Gregory, sturdy English player, 6-1, 6-2, 6-3.

Allison's play was of a high spectacular order. The American was trying for everything and scoring numerous sensational points. In the second set, which was made up of long hard games, the last two intense duce struggles, Allison jumped over a water cooler on the sidelines in an effort to get on of Cochet's raking crosscourt drives but missed it.

Allison will meet Doeg in the semi-finals Wednesday and the winner probably will encounter Bill Tilden in the finals on Saturday. Thus an all American final is probable.

Cochet never looked like a winning player. He played without the fire of a champion. Only toward the end of the first set did Cochet get going. He took the seventh game and continued his supreme efforts throughout the eighth set but the simple Texan beat Cochet back from the net with deep, well placed drives. Allison was holding the fort at the net and he volleyed and smashed his way through to victory.

The crowd went wild at the finish. Cochet came to the net, dropped his racket and gave the American a wringing handshake. Renewed cheers resounded through the stands as the players left the court together.

The point scores of the Allison-Cochet match:

- First set: Allison 114 444 042 4-28-6; Cochet 442 121 434 1-24-4 of a 300 horsepower Wright Whirlwind motor. The ship had been flown more than 75,000 miles previously to the inauspicious beginning of the present flight 19 days ago.

An unestimated fortune awaited the landing of the Hunter boys. The record itself will be worth many thousands to them. There will be emolument for endorsement of instruments used. There will be a percentage of profits made by other planes at Sky Harbor which carried passengers attracted to the field by the endurance performance. Altogether the profits promise to run more than $100,000.

ing a caller that Love will not get $5,000 votes. He does not know who has it; and it wouldn't do him any good if he knew.

In West Texas there is cumulative opinion that Sterling, Mayfield and Clint Small will break about even in carrying the midwestern, thickly-populated counties that are down to the southeast of Senator Small's own Panhandle pastures.

These are the counties that mostly went two to one for Hoover. And you don't hear a great deal about Sen. Love in them.

Sterling and Small seem to be the most uncertain factors in the race. Both are on the up-grade, with Mr. Sterling's campaign just in its early formative stage.

Small Gains

Of all the candidates now, it appears that Sen. Small has shown the strongest capacity to enthrone his adherents.

Back to the Ferguson once more. A significant thing this year is that they are not taking the fight back to the forks of the creek. They are speaking in the larger towns and in the big cities.

Strange as Mr. Ripley would think it, the fact appears established that Mr. Sterling will win his heaviest vote from the section that includes counties that have been Ferguson's stronghold for his political generation.

Young is cutting into the Ferguson vote in Northeast Texas. Mayfield is slicing it generally in a widely-scattered sprinkling of ballots.

The suggestion persists that Mr. Mayfield has preempted a considerable portion of the union labor vote this year.

Underlying it all, and highly significant to all the leaders, is the appearance that a considerable "floating" or unattached vote still lingers out in the open, fair game for the candidate who can corral it.
