Vandals Hit Station Here

TEXAS RANGER Leo Hickman of Childress was here Tuesday to aid Sheriff Jinks Wilson and other officers investigate the vandalism of Pete Williams Texaco Service Station. The vandalism occurred sometime early Sunday morning. A beer bottle was thrown through the south grease bay window and broken bottles were scattered on the driveway.

"I was hurt," Mr. Williams said. "I had allowed the young people to use my driveway for parking the past eight or ten years and I believed they would be loyal to me. They had done some damage in the past years but in general they had cooperated in policing the grounds. At times, however, they have left clutter of bottles and cans."

"With this outbreak of damage, I do not know exactly what I am going to do. It is possible to chain off and close the premises to the public at night. Any violation of entering can be severely punished. I had thought the young people were my friends, but now I am in doubt. I do not own the property; it is leased from The Texas Company." Mr. Williams declared.

"I have no objections to their parking," he said, "but I can not have the property destroyed."

LEON SMALLWOOD INJURES THUMB IN RECENT ACCIDENT

Mr. and Mrs. Neal Haralson returned Monday from Meade, where they visited her parents, and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Smallwood and Lisa. They were accompanied on their return home, by Mrs. David Rattan and son, Dax, who are visiting her parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Price, and her grandmother, Mrs. Tom Berryman.

TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

It was inevitable that the scream should happen at high noon. On the other hand ours is a placid community and little screams are usually confined to youngsters riding in cars at night and then very seldom. This was a charming young matron wearing shorts. She sat in her car seat and then slid over against a seat buckle that had been absorbing the broiling sun.

There is an eerie feeling about seeing half a dozen windmills all pointed in the same direction, and motionless. In West Texas, however, they remain motionless for only a short time.

One of the convenient things about making a mistake is that you immediately join abundant company.

Fear is a guard-rail along the roadway of life that prevents us from plunging to a thoughtless destiny. Its presence is usually enough to prevent testing the situation.

The merchants of habit have made another advancement in tobacco. If you do not smoke you can place a small teabag of snuff-like tobacco in your jaw. At the user's convenience he can remove and discard the small bag. I have known "snuff dippers" who would not be satisfied with the modern version. They would pinch the lower lip, pull it forward and empty half a can of Garrett's Snuff in the opening. They would then replace the can in white dried sweat overalls and return to work. They sure don't make 'em like they used to.

Early in my frustrated musical career, an old man once told me to go to a cross road at midnight and take my old fiddle. He told me to sew on the strings until the Devil appeared and that he would show me how to play. Some impulse prevented me from ever going, and finally narrowed my list of instruments to the harmonica. There was no great joy, however, in having howling dogs as accompanists.

Paper Makes Error

J. B. Cooper does not own the ranch on which the historic Teepee City Tree was located before it died. The picture taken recently by the Tribune is not the original tree.

Cooper, whose late father, Jim Cooper, was born at Teepee City, was in the Tribune, and declared the historic tree is not on his ranch, but on Matador Ranch Land. He also said the tree photographed was not the original tree. The first tree shown in the paper while still alive was the original tree.

The Tribune will make another trip to Teepee City to photograph the original, which died in the past year.

J. C. Rattan of Folsom, Calif., arrived June 10 and has been visiting here with his relatives, Mrs. Sally Huey, Littleton Rattan and Mr. and Mrs. Ward Rattan. He was joined here by a brother-in-law, Ray Baker of Hobbs, N.M. who was accompanied by private plane by his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Harkins. Mr. Rattan came by plane to Lubbock, where Mr. and Mrs. Ward Rattan met him and accompanied him here.

BEEN TO CHURCH LATELY?

One way to cope with gas shortage, and still get your family to church on time is to ride in a 1925 Chevrolet flatbed truck. Mrs. John Hamilton and her family did just this, Sunday. The truck was towed from Lubbock by Harry Hamilton who had purchased it from a friend there. The original motor and cab are still in use, although a new truck bed has replaced the old. All of Mrs. Hamilton's children and grandchildren were here during the week end with the exception of her son, Richard (Duck) and his sons, Richard and David of Eagle River, Alaska. Mrs. Maggie Hamilton of Childress was also a visitor. She is in the cab with Harry, in above picture. On the truck, from left are Tom Hamilton and sons, John and Brent, Mrs. John Hamilton (Josephine); Susan (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hamilton), Mrs. Carl Carter (Jane) and baby son, Scott, Mrs. Richard Hamilton (Patti) and Carl Carter. Back Row: Mrs. Harry Hamilton (Adrienne) and son Charles and Mrs. Tom Hamilton (Jan) and son, Rob.

STUDIES ABOUT THE BIBLE

The Christ is the Son of God in a special way because He pre-existed His earthly life. This fact of the gospel is contrary to all laws of nature known to man. Nevertheless, it is a binding element in Christian faith. God is above all natural laws. He created them.

Also, Jesus is the Son of God in a special way because of His miraculous birth. A certain segment of America laughs at the idea of miracles. However, all men must admit to at least one miracle - the beginning.

The beginning came about as a miracle from the hand of God, or the present system of living things came to exist without God. Such a theory means that dead materials moved within themselves to cause living things. That idea would certainly call for a miracle. For there has never been demonstrated a case where life developed from dead matter.

The heavens are telling of the glory of God; And the firmament is declaring the work of His hands. Ps. 19:1

One generation shall praise Thy works to another, And shall declare Thy mighty acts. On the glorious splendor of Thy majesty, And on Thy wonderful works, I will meditate. Ps. 145:4-5

Yes, there have been miracles. And one that is pertinent to the gospel of Christ is the miraculous birth of Christ.

We wish to take this method of expressing our heartfelt thanks for every kindness extended to us at the loss of our loved one, Nell Ragland Kendrick. The lovely cards and flowers, phone calls, and food that was brought to the Canyon Church for the family and all other thoughtful deeds were appreciated by her husband and son, mother, brothers and sisters, and will be remembered with gratitude.
