TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

One obvious reason why catalogs have always been popular is that the inspiring illustrations seldom if ever, depict graying and aged people. This pretense of an influential part of a subtle advertising system that has sold billions of dollars worth of merchandise. It is unfortunate that the truth has never been overly popular in the vale of tears and television.

It is probable that human behavior moves in varying cycles as the weather. Most of us are better at certain times than others, and some of us are always riding a storm front right into the atmosphere of those who can not avoid our association.

A tranquil dawn with shafts of light splashed on prairies of snow is mute testimony to the Wisdom of creation. Here the dry seeds of wild flowers repose in staid soil for the temporary death of winter, bereft of splendor. Beauty and fragrance await the summons of spring to rise again and nod to an old acquaintance with the singing winds.

The anchor of goodness in one man's life may serve as a mooring for a dozen others bobbing in the bay of destiny.

If common sense could be sold as an item of merchandise, it is probable the government would classify it as a luxury.

Wallace E. Hobbs Claimed by Death

Wallace Estel Hobbs, 80, a resident of Matador since 1906, died at 6:30 a. m. Sunday morning at his home here, after an extended illness.

Funeral services were held at 2:00 p. m. Monday at the First Baptist Church, with the pastor, Rev. Gene Hawkins, officiating. Rev. W. B. Vaughn, retired Methodist minister of Matador, assisted in the service.

Funeral arrangements were directed by Eudy-Seale Funeral Home. Burial was in Matador East Mound Cemetery. Pallbearers were James Ed Russell, C. M. Barton Jr., Alfred Barton Jr., Billy McKelvey and Bryan Martin all of Matador, and Gordon Russell of Dimmitt.

Mr. Hobbs was born in Grundy County, Tennessee, May 27, 1878. He died January 4, 1959, at the age of 80 years, 7 months, 7 days. He moved to Wilbarger County, Texas when he was 19 years old. He was married to Miss Nydia Barton, Dec. 3, 1900 at Vernon, and they moved to this area in 1903. They lived in Hall County before coming to Matador in 1906. Mr. Hobbs was a member of the Baptist Church.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Nydia Hobbs, one daughter, Mrs. Richard Berryman and one son, Buford Hobbs, all of Matador; two brothers both of Matador, J. W. (Warner) Hobbs and S. H. Hobbs; 3 grandchildren and 5 great-grandchildren.

2nd Cold Wave Drops Mercury To 4 Below

A SECOND COLD WAVE hit the Texas Panhandle Friday and sent the mercury to 4 degrees below zero here Sunday morning, according to the U. S. Weather Bureau thermometer maintained at the city wells. The new mass of frigid air followed close on the heels of another blizzard that had left a path of snow as far south as Amarillo.

The snowfall here in the week-end cold front was little more than a trace. The air, however, was extremely cold. Sunday morning readings in the north Panhandle set some records for recent years. Perryton and other north Panhandle cities registered an official 22 below zero, and some unofficial readings were as low as 25 degrees below zero. Only light to moderate winds accompanied the cold here.

Churches here reported lower attendance Sunday morning as result of the cold weather. In numerous instances automobiles would not start in some homes water was frozen and ice was reported in rooms without fire.

Because of the absence of wind, ranchers said cattle suffered but little because of the chilling temperatures where newborn calves were unprotected.

Farmers welcomed the cold weather as a rule because of its effect in destroying insects close to the top of the ground. When forecasts of the new front were first made, hope was held that the storm might bring some form of moisture. Wheat is badly in need of moisture due to the extended winter drought.

Colder 'n Alaska
As the cold front pushed southward Saturday, D. M. S. Texas had the distinction of being colder than Nome, (capital of) Alaska. The mercury was at 4 below in Dumas and an even zero in Nome.

Ironically, on the same day, President Eisenhower in Washington officially proclaimed a statehood for Alaska, unfurled a new flag with 49 stars, and automatically dropped Texas to second in size in the union.

Vaughn made the principal address at the luncheon held Tuesday in the Methodist Church basement.

"We need to know where we stand," the venerable pastor said, "and in talking to ourselves, we will find the conversation interesting... the greatest assets of our lives are not visible and they are not composed of money and property... we should evaluate these assets, for the day will come when they alone will be our only possessions."

Deposits Here Up Million Dollars

BANK DEPOSITS in Matador gained approximately $1,000,000 over a year ago, according to comparison of published statements. The First State bank here showed total deposits of $3,827,905.91 at the close of business December 31. Deposits a year ago were about $2,850,000.

John Barnhill, vice-president, said he believed the total deposits would reach $4,000,000 by the end of the week. Many cotton producers have held back the sale of 1958 cotton until after the first of the year for income tax purposes. A flood of cotton sales within the past two or three days has increased the General economy of the county is probably at an all time high. Record prices for beef and a bumper cotton crop are the major influences on the county's economy, although oil lease and royalty money is rapidly increasing.

Banks throughout the state have shown increased deposits following the December 31st call made by the state banking authorities and the Federal Reserve Bank.

Motley County installed a native son as county judge for the first time in its history Thursday morning.

Elbert Reeves, former member of the Legislature for two terms, received the oath of office from District Judge L. D. Ratliff of Spur. He lives three miles northeast of Matador on the exact location of his birth.

The installation ceremony was opened with a prayer by Rev. Gene Hawkins, pastor of the First Baptist Church here. County Attorney Howard Trawcek served as master of ceremonies. Other officials installed Thursday were Pat Sheridan, county and district clerk; Velma Fuller, county treasurer; Malcolm Turner, Pct. 2, and Charles Long Pct. 4, county commissioners.

N. N. WHITWORTH IN CAR ACCIDENT

Ice paving in Tulla sent Mr. and Mrs. N. N. (Noble) Whitworth of Amarillo, to the hospital New Year's Day. Mrs. Whitworth, who was driving, suffered greater injuries. She underwent an operation in St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo Friday morning for injuries to her knee cap, sustained in the accident.

Mr. Whitworth suffered right shoulder injuries, which necessitated taping his arm down while the ligaments are healing. They will be hospitalized for an indefinite period of time, and are recuperating in room 310, St. Anthony's Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitworth had spent Wednesday night here in the home of his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Randall Whitworth, after visiting friends and relatives in Abilene and other points south.

En route home they had reached the city limits of Tulla about 10:30 Thursday morning when the car went into a spin in an area of ice-over paving. The automobile jumped a curb and smashed into a tree, in the residential district. No other car was involved in the accident.

Besides the injuries sustained by Mr. and Mrs. Whitworth, their almost new automobile was badly damaged.

New Laundry Has Many at Opening

Unfavorable weather conditions Monday did not slow the attendance at the opening of Day by Day Automat, coin-operated laundry, according to R. A. Day and E. A. Day, managers. Near zero temperatures Monday morning held the visitors back until about 9 a. m. Suddenly the building was filled with housewives anxious to see the 20 automatic washing machines and four large butane-fired dryers. Many of the visitors brought their laundry to try the new equipment. One housewife immediately put laundry in five of the machines. Coffee and doughnuts were served during the opening day.

"We are well pleased with this area's acceptance of the Automat," Day & son declared, "we had about all the visitors and customers we could accommodate."

County Gets New Dot On Telegram Oil Map

LONELY little red dots on a vast map of Western Texas and Eastern New Mexico, published Sunday by the Ft. Worth Star-Telegram, indicate the expansion of oil development in Motley County during the past year. The newspaper publishes the map each year, indicating in red the new wells or pools, with older production indicated in black.

Motley county has two red dots on the 1959 map. The farthest north dot is the Birnie Ranch well developed to flow 1,150,000 cubic feet of gas daily with a gas-distillate ratio of 15:000-1. The well, located 15 miles northwest of Matador, developed production in the Upper Strawn sand.

The second new production in the county during the past year is the No. 1-B, C. R. Brandon discovery, a western extension of the proven Roaring Springs Field, which pumped 103 barrels of 37 gravity oil and 58 barrels of water daily through perforations at 4,232-4,240 feet (Permo-Pennsylvanian). The Birnie well production is at 8,527-8,530 feet.

The Birnie well is isolated. The discovery extends north of any other production in an expanse of more than 250 miles from Foard County, west beyond the Pecos River in New Mexico.

It may be the first discovery in the southern area of the fabulous Palo Duro Basin, claimed by some experts to perhaps be the greatest unexplored oil reservoir in Texas. According to some maps it is north of the "Matador Arch".

West Texas had 255 "strikes" added in 1958, according to the Star-Telegram. Motley County is one of two counties in a dozen in the fringe oil area to have two new discoveries in 1958. The other county is Hockley, center of a vast proven field.

New Well Staked
The Tribune has reliable information that a new test has been staked on the Fish estate vicinity in the northwest area of the county. No release has as yet been published in the daily papers of the new location. The new well will explore more of the area vitalized because of the Birnie discovery.

Of significance to the residents of Matador is this community's location between the two 1958 oil discoveries in Motley County.

Further development of the oil industry in this county is the 6-inch pipe line which is currently being installed between the Roaring Springs Field and a station near Whiteflat where the oil will be carried by a large line installed a number of years ago.

Social Activities

Golden Wedding Anniversary Observed By Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Colvin In Ross Home

A reception Sunday, Dec. 21, 1958, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ross of Flomot marked the observance of the Golden Wedding Anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Colvin. George J. Colvin and Eunice J. Tiney were married Dec. 23, 1908 at Jacksboro, Texas, by Rev. J. R. Goode of Fort Worth. The couple was honored by the presence of their two children, Mrs. Ross, and George Ray Colvin of Quitaque, their families, other relatives and friends who called in the afternoon from 2 until 4 o'clock.

The guests were greeted by a granddaughter of the couple, Judy Colvin, and registered by another granddaughter, June Ross, after which they were presented to the honorees by Mrs. Ross and Mrs. G. R. Colvin. Movies were made of the guests as they arrived, by George Ray Colvin, assisted by Jimmy Ross.

For the reception, the table was centered with a winter bouquet of yellow mums and white flowers, with two other granddaughters, Ella Raye and Etowale Colvin serving coffee and cake. White ribbon streamers, extending from the corners of the large mirror, lettered in gold with "Eunice and George," draped to the center of the buffet where a large white bow was tied at the base of a picture of the couple as they looked at the time of their wedding. Ribbon streamers from the bow were Gleaton of Lubbock.

The Rev. Luther Baker, former Flomot pastor, read a double-ring service following piano selections by Miss Sheila Degán of Flomot. A reception in the Baker home followed the marriage ceremony.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Santa Fe, N. M. the couple will establish residence in Lubbock, where he is an accountant for the Arnett-Benson Life Insurance Co.

The bride is a graduate of Palmore College, Chihuahua, and has a BBA degree from McMurry College, Abilene, where she was a member of Alpha Phi social club. Her husband has a BA degree from McMurry College, where he held membership in Senatus Romanus social club.

Attending the wedding from Flomot, in addition to Miss Sheila Degán, were Mrs. Joe Deagan and sons, Morris and Stanley, and Mrs. Lois Martin.

While we enjoyed and appreciated all the nice Christmas and seasonal greetings received, the one that reflected our individual reaction was a person-to-person card from John Pope (Quitaque News editor) to Mr. M. John says it is the only card he sent this year.

The slim-jim card is decorated with a fat Santa; not a jolly, laughing Santa, but one with a very harassed expression, and his cap tilted low over one glowering eye. He stands under a gold wreath inscribed, "Merry Christmas," and inside the card are these sentiments: "and while I'm at it. . . . Happy birthday. Please be my Valentine. Congratulations. Have a nice vacation and get well soon!"

Although we lived through the rush of another Christmas, it looked for a time as though we wouldn't make it. In fact, we had the clerks in the local stores speculating on our mental state to the extent that Dean (Mrs. Coach) Bradshaw, who was assisting at Matador Variety during the Christmas rush, prescribed tranquilizing pills, but was told by Nell that it wouldn't do any good because the old girl was too far gone.

We fooled them though, and here we are ready and waiting for the next one coming up — just 357 days hence — the silver lining being that 1959 isn't a Leap Year.

PIED PINIONS

THIS AND THAT

By Carolyn Pohl

Semester tests are this week, so everybody had better get to studying. I think the old saying "If you do not know it now, you never will" has proved to be true. If so, there is no use cramming at the last minute.

The Monday after students of MHS returned to school was a very colorful day. Everyone was dressed in the attire that Santa Claus brought them. There were new sweaters, shoes, watches, rings, etc.

During the Christmas holidays a series of parties were given by Mike and Pat Groves. Many college students were seen at the parties.

The FHA party proved to be quite an affair. When Robin was presented his gift for being elected FHA beau he thought it was for Mr. Moss. Bound for Robin, he did not hear Betty Davis announce the beau; he was talking to Jimmie Welling. See ya next week!

LIBRARY LAPSE

by Edna Williamson

John Mantley's book The 27th Day is a must for science-fiction fans.

The time is a not-too-distant tomorrow.

For the five people concerned the problem is an overwhelming one. Each of the five has to accept responsibility for a weapon which could mean the end of all human existence.

Jonathan Clark, Eve Wingate, Professor Klaus Bochner, Ivan Godofsky, and Su Tan are given a small black box containing capsules of great force. They are the only ones that can open the box, but anyone can lose their destructive power. There is the challenge to guard the capsules for twenty-seven days or risk the end of the human race.

Throughout the world-shaking events the author maintains a striking reality. The men and women are confronted by a situation that could happen tomorrow, and their story is told in a novel packed with excitement, tension, and romance.

This book may be found in the M. H. S. Library.

The Juniors celebrated the holidays by attending a number of parties.

Each year the girls in the class draw names at Christmas. This year they were entertained with a luncheon given by Carolyn Pohl, where they exchanged gifts.

Jan Barton pepped up the entire class with a breakfast at 7 a. m. in her home. It was certainly enjoyed by all.

Members of the Junior class also attended the numerous parties at the Groves's playhouse. There was plenty of music and mistletoe for all.

The class was very proud of Robin Darsey, who was chosen FHA beau.

Tops in 4-H Poultry and Crops Projects

Barbara Behlen Jarrell Young

Cackling hens and crowing roosters harmonized in a prize-winning barnyard melody for Barbara Sue Behlen, 16, of Cost. This Gonzales High School Junior was judged 1958 state champion in the 4-H Poultry program by the State Extension Service.

Since 1951, she has consistently piled up honors including division championship in the junior division for poultry books, and runner-up rating in the senior competition. She also placed high in state poultry judging.

In addition to serving as president of the Cost Community 4-H Club, Miss Behlen held Gonzales County Council offices and has carried Junior 4-H leadership projects four years.

She has been awarded an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago, Nov. 30-Dec. 4, given by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation.

Jarrell Young, 17, of Hale Center, knows that the contributing factors to good crops are soil management, proper seed, control of insects, disease, and weeds.

For his achievements in the 4-H Field Crop program, he has won state honors and also a trip to the Congress. The Arcadian Products Dept. of Allied Chemical Corp. is the award donor.

Doing what comes naturally inspired this youngster to a field crop specialty on the 160-acre Young farm and a steady parade of area and state prizes.

As a member of the Halfway 4-H Club, this teenager initiated his 4-H program with five acres of Paymaster cotton in 1953. His cotton demonstration won Hale County honors.

In 1957, with a 232-bushel per acre yield, Young placed first in area and state competition. This year, setting a crop goal of 250 bushels of corn, he again swept to state honors.

Homemaker's Hints

By Ruth Wilson

Home Demonstration Agent

January is a busy month for all Homemakers. Establishing a normal routine after Christmas and New Year's Holidays is not a small item. One way to make things easier is to distribute your heavy jobs throughout the week. This prevents you from being "completely given out" at the end of a long day of cleaning.

January also brings about much activity in Home Demonstration work and the challenge of establishing a new routine in order to take advantage of the program.

Yearbooks have been received by the members and plans are now being made, for those interested, to attend the THDA Training School in Stamford (Jones County) January 29 at 10:00 a. m. in the Central Christian Church. At this meeting plans will be made for the District THDA Meeting which will be held in the month of April in Graham.

The new officers of the Home Demonstration Clubs are doing an excellent job. It has been a pleasure to see these women conduct their first meetings with such skill and poise.

Having trouble removing spots on brass or copper? If so, here is a method of cleaning these spots. You may either use a mixture of hot vinegar and salt or lemon rind and salt. Rub either of these mixtures on the spots until they are removed. If you prefer brass with a dull finish apply a paste made of rottenstone and boiled linseed oil. Wipe off the paste with a cloth moistened in linseed oil, and polish the surface with a dry cloth.

Brass with an antique finish is polished up with boiled linseed oil or lemon oil.

The best way to keep silver from tarnishing is to use it.

About Your Health

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health.

Henry A. Holle, M. D., Commissioner

Looking for a resolution to keep during 1959? Here's one that could save you or your family a lot of strife.

"I resolve to have myself and my entire family vaccinated against paralytic polio as soon as possible and to tell all my friends and relatives to do the same."

We understand about vaccinating ourselves and our families, but what about having everybody else vaccinated?

The fact of the matter is as much of the population as possible should also receive the series of three anti-polio shots.

Although it isn't a guarantee, the Salk vaccine puts the odds overwhelmingly in your favor that you won't get paralytic polio.

The need is especially important for small children — those under five years of age. Attack rates were highest in one-year-olds, with more than 50 percent of all paralytic cases occurring in children under five.

Thousands of little toddlers received tricycles last week for Christmas, but how many may never learn to ride before they are stricken with polio.

There is nothing so useless as a tricycle to a polio-stricken toddler.

Poliomyelitis records in Texas indicated a slight rise in the number of cases in 1958 over 1957 — half of these pre-school children.

The vaccine continues to show a high rate of effectiveness. Only 12.7 percent of the total of paralytic cases in 1958 had received three shots of the vaccine throughout the United States. This is an effectiveness rate of about 87 percent.

But the Salk vaccine's ultimate success rests with the entire community receiving the prescribed series of three shots.

And don't think your chances are better because you happen to live in a particular neighborhood or social order. Polio acknowledges no such restrictions.

Parents of young children who have not been vaccinated, particularly those under five, should start children on the course of three vaccinations immediately.

While you're in the doctor's office, have him vaccinate you too. Then on your way home tell your friends and neighbors.

That's a new year's resolution really worth keeping. (A weekly feature of Public Health Education Division of the Texas State Department of Health)

Matador Couple Honored on Occasion Of Fifty-First Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Long, residents of Matador since 1945, were honored recently at an open house tea in the home of their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Long of Roaring Springs.

The reception, held Sunday afternoon, Dec. 28, was in observance of Mr. and Mrs. Long's fifty-first wedding anniversary, serving also as their Golden Wedding celebration.

A daughter of the couple, Mrs. J. B. Baird of Quitaque, and her family assisted with hospitalities.

Mr. and Mrs. Long lived at Roaring Springs for 25 years before moving to Matador. They reared their children in that community and all are graduates of Roaring Springs High School. Their other daughter, Mrs. A. D. Persons, lives in Farmington, New Mexico. The couple has ten grandchildren.

Two sons of the couple, T. E. Jr., and William (Billy) lost their lives in military service during World War II.

Married in King County

Mr. and Mrs. Long were married December 29, 1907 in King County in what is now known as the Grow community near Guthrie. At the time of their marriage, it was called Bala, and boasted a postoffice, the name of which was later changed to Grow.

Mrs. Long, the former Ethel Chalk, was born in Lampasas County, July 29, 1886. Her family later moved to Jones County, and in 1909, moved to King County, where she met her future husband, Thomas E. Long, who had arrived there the previous year to join an uncle, from whom he acquired a general mercantile store which he operated for several years.

Mr. Long, who was a school teacher at the age of 18, was born in Archer County, Nov. 21, 1877. He attended Burleson College in Waco, which later became Baylor University, and had several uncles who taught in the college.

Mr. and Mrs. Long moved to Roaring Springs in 1923, from King County, and he engaged in farming. For eight years during the 30's, he served as Commissioner of precinct 4, the office now held by his son, Charles. He retired from farming when he moved to Matador.

Mr. and Mrs. Long belong to the Baptist church and have been active and faithful members through the years.

House Is Decorated

The Charles Long home featured a golden decor for the occasion of the tea honoring his parents. Double golden bells were suspended above a mirror over the mantel in the living room, which was banked with arrangements of gold colored pompon and button chrysanthemums. Attached to the bells were streamers containing the names of the honored couple, "Ethel and Tom."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Long were assisted in receiving the guests by two of their sons, Charlie, who presented each with a favor, and Boyd, who registered them in the guest book. Men received small white, gold-lettered lapel ribbons, and the women received miniature bells, tied with white and gold ribbon.

Mrs. Baird and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. James Baird of Lubbock, presided at coffee and tea services at opposite ends of the refreshment table. Cake squares iced with gold colored frosting and decorated with the figures "51" were served.

The table was laid with a linen cutwork cloth, and centered with a floral piece of gold-hued gladioli, flanked by gilded candles in crystal holders. A similar floral arrangement was on the buffet.

Ninety-two guests were registered and included friends and relatives from Lubbock, Paducah, Guthrie, Spur, Roaring Springs and Matador and other communities in this and adjoining counties.
