Does Proration Violate Law?

Witnesses Tell of Being Near Scene When Reporter Fell

Bohemian Ex-Chief Slayer Bumped Into Him In Flight

CRIMINAL COURTS BUILDING, CHICAGO, March 25 (AP)—An out-finger was pointed at Leo Brothers today as a witness in his murder trial testified "there is the man that ran away after Alfred Lingle was killed."

Otto Swoboda, a cook who said he was standing outside the Chicago public library on the afternoon when Lingle, Tribune city reporter, was killed, related rapidly with a decided accent the events of last June 9.

"I saw a man standing near entrance to tunnel," he said. "He kept his left hand in his pocket and when he threw down a cigarette another man came up and lit a new one for him.

"I walked down in tunnel and pretty soon somebody run by, bumped into me and knocked my cigarette out of my hands. I look up and it was the same I saw up on sidewalk. Then I heard shot and this same man come running back. I run up the stairs to street and see him again, just before he starts running across the street."

"Do you see that man in the courtroom?" Swoboda was asked. "Yes, there he is over there behind man with grey hair," answered the witness and he pointed at Brother.

Swoboda was the second witness to identify Brothers as the man who ran away after the assassination. Warren Williams yesterday pointed out Brothers as the man seen fleeing after the shooting.

Brothers looked directly at the witness as he made his identification. Swoboda said he was born in Bohemia, worked as a chef in Europe and then came to Chicago where he worked in a hotel until he was laid off five months ago. He said he was now selling herb tonic.

HOME TOWN TALK

By BEDDY

A little is better than nothing.

Farmers of Howard county will receive about $30,000 if the bill appropriating funds to repay farmers in the erstwhile pink bollworm restricted area becomes law.

Engrossment of the bill by the house—even though the sum was reduced from $500,000 to $300,000—marks success in what was expected to be the most difficult step in getting the measure adopted by both houses.

Cotton grown in 1928 was not figured in consideration of the bill as it had passed two years ago and vetoed on grounds of unconstitutionality included that season and its inclusion in the new bill did fair to impair its constitutionality.

Operator In Howard-Glasscock Heard; Relation of Proration To Anti-Trust Statutes Discussed

AUSTIN, March 25 (AP)—Three of the four oil importing companies today told the railroad commission that their imports had been reduced or would be reduced. They were the Standard Oil of New Jersey, the Dutch Shell organization and the Gulf.

AUSTIN, Texas, March 25 (AP)—The question of whether restriction of oil production was violation of the anti-trust laws was discussed before the railroad commission today for the first time during the present proration hearing.

Dan Moody, former governor, and Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls, were the opposing questioners and C. W. Tomlinson, operator in the Howard-Glasscock field, was the witness whose answers caused repeated laughter.

Moody, attorney for the "East Texas, opposing proration of the new field, wanted to know if the operators in the Howard-Glasscock field, on obtaining proration, had not succeeded in getting the railroad commission to approve what the operators themselves could not do because of the violation of the anti-trust laws.

"Who was governor at that time?" Bullington went on. "Dan Moody," the witness replied. "Did he know anything about this proration agreement?" Bullington inquired.

"He should have; it was in all the papers," was the answer. "Was anyone prosecuted in connection with the agreement?" Bullington continued.

"No," the witness answered. "Lloyd Price of Fort Worth, former state senator, who appeared as an attorney for the anti-prorationists for the first time today wanted to know if some other laws had not gone unenforced during the past few years.

"The east Texas attorneys also tried to show that the Republican presidents, Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Hoover, had known about proration.

Gholson testified J. M. Gholson of Ranger, chairman of the west central Texas proration committee was recalled to the stand today to testify that proration assured ratable purchasing of oil from all wells whereas otherwise many small operators might not have any pipe line connection.

BEAUMONT, March 25 (AP)—A. B. Johnson, 46, refinery teamster boss, took the stand today in his trial on murder charges to tell why he killed Otis Lee Adams at Port Arthur Saturday night, Jan. 17.

Purchase Of Oil Mill Site Is Expected

Officials of Planters' Company Inspect Several Tracts

MAY COST $200,000

Completion of a deal for purchase of a site in Big Spring by the Sweetwater Cotton Oil Company for a $200,000 cotton oil mill is expected next week, it was learned Wednesday from authentic sources.

Several sites have been under consideration. R. S. Simms and W. P. Freeman, heads of the Sweetwater company and the Planters Gin Company spent Monday here in connection with the project.

Decision to build an oil mill here was reached tentatively some weeks ago. Local observers say in the decision to go ahead with purchase of the site strong confidence in the prospects for favorable decision from the interstate commerce commission on the application to build the Texas & Pacific Northern Railroad.

The Planters Gin company has operated one or more gins here for some years and maintains a large stock of feedstuffs in connection with it.

Bond Issue Again Delayed In Senate

AUSTIN, March 25 (AP)—A ruling from Lieut. Governor Witt, where he has stated that house bills on house bill day in the senate had precedence over everything else on the senate calendar resulted in the $200,000,000 state-wide highway bond issue resolution remaining on the table.

Alex A. Slaughter Succumbs In Dallas

DALLAS, March 25 (AP)—Alex A. Slaughter, 49, prominent Dallas business man and life-time resident of the city, died today at his home. He was a son of the late Col. C. C. Slaughter, pioneer Texas cattleman. Funeral rites were set for 3 p. m. tomorrow.

Cochran County Wildcat Has Showing

SAN ANGELO, March 25 (AP)—The Continental Oil company's No. 1-B Slaughter, a wildcat slightly south and west of the center of Cochran county, which adjoins the New Mexico line, today was reported coring in sandy lime after encountering a slight showing of oil from a depth of 4,784-93 feet. The showing was obtained somewhat higher than oil was encountered in the Marland Oil company's No. 1-A Slaughter, one mile to the northeast, which drilled to 5,000 feet in 1929 and was shot twice but failed to develop production.

The Continental No. 1-B Slaughter is 4,959 feet from the north and east lines of league 134, Armstrong county school land.

A statutory offense charge has been filed in Justice of the Peace Cecil C. Collins' court against Froquinto Subio, Big Spring, Mexican. He waived examining trial. His bond was set at $2,500 by Collins. It is alleged that, although a marriage license was issued to Subio and Consula Mendosa last June, they were never married. The girl will be sixteen in November.

Three Woman Slayers Hold Freedom

Inquest and months of investigation leave the murder of Beulah Limerick (upper left), pretty Washington shrouded in mystery as deep as that surrounding the earlier murder of Mary Baker (lower right), clergyman's daughter. The Limerick girl's sister, Mrs. Ethel Anadale (center), is shown as she appeared at the inquest.

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—The average citizen in Washington is inclined to blame any unidentified night noises on cats or the wind. His sleep is usually sound.

Burglaries are comparatively few, and the laundryman carries his clothes unhampered by the racketeer. The police might be slightly patronizing toward their brother officers in more "upstairs" cities were it not for a series of baffling murders.

The slayers of three women who have met violent deaths within the past two years never have been found.

City Officer's Resignation To Be Called For

C. O. Buerger, city policeman on night duty, will be requested to submit his resignation, as the result of his firing his pistol on Third Street between Scurry and Main, late Tuesday afternoon, it was announced by Chief of Police E. A. Long today.

It was alleged that Buerger was attempting to arrest three men who were said to have been drunk. They were riding in an automobile. As the car passed Buerger, it is said he tried to stop the car. When the men failed to stop, he drew his pistol and fired. The shots hit another car parked in the vicinity. It is alleged.

"We had been watching for the men," he said, regarding the incident. "It is true they were drunk, and it appeared to us that one of them was out. It was the belief of the police department that they were endangering the lives and property of Big Spring residents while driving the car in the business district in their condition."

"They had failed to stop at 'stop' signs and had ignored traffic signals."

Appropriation To Pay Losses Due To Restrictions Reduced To $300,000 By Amendment

Bagwell Member's Move To Cut Amount Passes 79-43; Motion To Place On Final Passage Is Defeated

AUSTIN, March 25 (AP)—The house today engrossed a bill by Representative Satterwhite of Odessa to appropriate $300,000 to pay claims of West Texas farmers for damages incurred in 1929 and 1930 as the result of cotton quarantines established by the state department of agriculture in an effort to stamp out the pink bollworm.

The bill originally carried an appropriation of $500,000, but it was reduced to $300,000 on an amendment by Representative Brooks of Bagwell which was adopted, 79 to 43. Brooks argued this amount was sufficient to pay for all damages incurred as a result of the cotton quarantines.

Another amendment by Representative Terrell of Alto was adopted, 87 to 38. It provided that the appropriation would be full compensation for all claims against the state. It also provided that in event the appropriation was not sufficient to pay all claims in full, that it be prorated among all claimants.

Vote on engrossment of the bill was 92 to 53. A move to suspend the constitutional rule and put the bill on final passage, was defeated 78 to 46. Counties affected by the quarantine were Martin, Ector, Winkler, Andrews, Dawson, Howard, Reeves, Pecos and El Paso. The claims were made for the cost of seed sterilization and cotton fumigation.

The Brooks amendment precipitated a controversy. Representative McGill of El Paso charged the amount was a debt owed by the state and that a law passed by the last legislature provided for its payment.

After September. The house adopted an amendment by Satterwhite which stated that the amount appropriated should not be paid until after September 1, 1931.

Satterwhite said none of the counties in the area were in imminent danger of a pink boll worm invasion, stating the climate of the area was such that the pink boll worm could not thrive. Satterwhite said the farmers there observed the quarantine in order to protect other cotton growing sections of the state.

He stated it was as much the state's duty to appropriate money to which to repay these farmers as it was to make appropriations for educational purposes.

The bill was supported by Representatives Westbrook of Waco, chairman of house agriculture committee, who said the quarantine was not established for the benefit of the West Texas cotton farmers but more for the protection of cotton farmers in other portions of the state. Westbrook said the claims should be paid by the federal government, but that it was "possible to get the government to do it."

Terrell supported Westbrook's claim that the quarantine was of little benefit to West Texas. Terrell was agricultural commissioner when the quarantine was established and declared the claims were a just debt on the state and should be paid because the quarantine was a protection to heavier cotton growing sections.

City Officer's Conference Envoys Home From Dallas

Shine Phillips, chairman of the Board of City Development, C. E. Talbot, city commissioner, and V. R. Smitham, city manager, returned this morning from Dallas where they attended a conference of city officials regarding city planning and zoning.

Men prominently identified with the city planning and zoning movement in larger cities attended the session, and conducted the conference.

Among them was Gardner Rogers, of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and city planning engineers of Kansas City and St. Louis. City Manager Carr of Fort Worth, also attended.

Each of the men returned with a full knowledge of the manner in which the zoning plan is adopted, and its advantage to the city of 10,000 population or more.

"I think the meeting was very beneficial to each of us," Smitham said today. "Continuous conferences were held both days, and many problems appeared to have simple solutions after they were discussed and explained."

Margin May Be Lower Than Last Year

Athletics, As Club, Are Getting No Better In A Hurry

By ALAN GOULD
NEW YORK, March 25 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics, class of baseball in general and the American league in particular for two years, will start the 1931 race favored to make it three pennants in a row.

The odds in support of the A's may not be quite as long as they were a year ago after their 1929 stampede. Observers have detected a few creaking parts in the world's championship machine guided by 68-year-old Connie Mack.

The margin may be slimmer this year, if so upset is not actually sprung by one of the other contenders, but there is no substantial evidence on which to dislodge the A's as favorites.

The champions will go into action two weeks hence with their "big five" still the greatest winning combination in baseball, assuming that Al Simmons is persuaded to sign his contract in time to support the efforts of Grove, Earnshaw, Cochrane and Foxx.

Washington and Cleveland, the second and fourth place clubs last year, if they fulfill early prospects, will continue the development manifested last year, figure to help make the race closer and more interesting than it has been in years.

The New York Yankees, under Joe McCarthy for the first time, will be dangerous at any time because of their tremendous punch, but their pennant hopes depend on finding the right infield combination and consistent pitching.

Detroit may turn up as a fifth contender for first division honors, at least, especially as Bucky Harris seems to have developed some fine new material. The prospects are that Boston, Chicago and St. Louis will have a party of their own in the second flight.

The pennant race is buzzing busiest, perhaps, among the Washington Senators, whose drive to second place under Walter Johnson last season furnished a sensational surprise. Like the A's, Washington depends on the ability of a number of veterans to continue inhibiting from the fountain of youth.

It is learned that the Roscoe football star remains enrolled at Roscoe high school but does his football spring training with the Sweetwater team and plans registering at Sweetwater high school in September. This reporter certainly has no fault to find with the situation. We feel that Mike, who has received the shoddy end of things at Roscoe, deserves the opportunity to gain his schooling in a nearer pleasing (to him) environment, and if it is legitimately possible should be permitted to disport himself in class A football. Still, on the surface the maneuvering of Mike and the Sweetwater and Roscoe officials has an outer appearance that is brought home all the more strikingly in view of Superintendent McLain's recent charges of poor sportsmanship displays by various sports writers of the circuit.

It is true that this department went off on a tangent of interrogation regarding the Hicks case. However, we were merely interested in Hicks himself, rather than anything Mr. McLain might have to say regarding the hardship sports writers work on school officials.

Obie Bristow would have liked to have had Hicks in the Steer Corral. However, so far as this department knows, the trotter was never asked to move west instead of east. Even though he had been, we doubt if he would have considered the invitation. He moved south once—to San Angelo—and got in such a muddle that, no doubt, he prefers to remain at least in talking distance with his old home town of Roscoe.

With Hicks safely in the fold, the Mustangs loom as the strong man in the 1931 act. Certainly, at the present, Big Spring doesn't look like much on paper. Midland couldn't have stopped the Mustangs last year; and it is safe to say that New-Tri-Ark-One Barry's aggression won't turn the trick this year unless reinforcements turn up. San Angelo, of course, is the main barrier in the Mustangs' path. Harry Taylor will have something to sling in the face of the challenger.

Idle Gossip Here And There

SHANO CHEERS
PENSACOLA, Fla., March 25 (AP)—Shano Collins, Red Sox manager, is cheering loud and pulling hard for his solemn-faced pitcher, Hod Lisenbee. Hod had a tough time last year. ## Borotra Expected to Defeat Bell To Win Tennis Honors for France

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP)—With tennis history repeating itself and the United States losing the doubles, the star spangled forces tonight face France in the final two singles matches of the "Winter Davis Cup" competition expected to lose.

The score stood two to one in France's favor today with Jean Borotra, Davis Cup veteran and leader of the French team, favored to defeat Berkeley Bell in one of the singles matches and clinch the victory for the tri-color.

Frank X. Shields, on the basis of the form he showed Monday night in handing Borotra a surprising straight set defeat, was favored to take Christian Boususs in the other singles but to no apparent purpose, other than to make the final score two to three.

Borotra and Boususs defeated George Lott, Jr. and John Van Ryn in the doubles match of the international competition last night to give France what may prove to be the margin of victory. The Americans' defeat was achieved in straight sets, 7-5, 6-4, 6-4, with the Happy-Go-Lucky Borotra playing the major part.

American Loop Leads Fruit League

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP)—Thanks to some engaging performances by the Boston Braves and the New York Giants, the National League had drawn up almost to even terms with the American in the annual "grape fruit league" campaign.

Twenty-nine inter-league games have been played so far and of these the American league has won fifteen and the National fourteen.

The Braves, after taking a series of jolts on the chin, turned on the New York Yankees for a couple of victories and the Giants finally managed to get an edge on the Chicago White Sox, three wins to two.

Despite their recent setbacks, the Yankees still are the heaviest winners in the grapefruit league with seven victories and four defeats. The Philadelphia Athletics and the Braves lead all the rest in defeats with six lickings in 11 games apiece but Cincinnati has a perfect record with four setbacks in as many starts against American league teams.

In games of all descriptions, the Boston Red Sox lead all the rest with four wins and no losses with Washington a step behind with five victories in six starts. Against major league opposition only, the Chicago Cubs are the leaders with four triumphs, all over Pittsburgh of their own circuit, and no defeats.

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 25 (AP)—Phil Collins, speedy Phillies' pitcher, is still a holdout despite two heart-to-heart talks with President Eubank.

Collins won 16 games for the Phillies last year, his second season in the majors and is understood to be holding out for $12,000 this year.

That Extra Portion

When on a long, hard, fast drive do you use all of your energy involuntarily pushing on the floor board trying to help the engine a little... and find yourself exhausted at the end of the trip?

That extra portion of speed and stamina that is characteristic of the thoroughbred, enabling him to outlast his competitors in the fast and grueling contests of the race track and flash first under the wire, is no less a characteristic of Cosden Liquid Gas.

When using Cosden Liquid Gas, that pure, peppy and powerful gasoline, you merely guide the car at all speeds from a comfortable relaxed position, conscious at all times that you have in reserve that extra portion of speed and power necessary to flip you and your car instantly clear of a dangerous situation. The absence of that extra portion has resulted in many a serious accident.

The championship trophy of the Professional Golfers Association has been found. Walter Hagen lost the cup in 1926. It was never found, and a new trophy replaced it. Just recently the jug was found locked in a trunk in the basement of a Chicago warehouse. It will be placed back in circulation.

The first ball in the City League will be shung Thursday night when a meeting will be held to ascertain just what is on hand to build a four club loop out of. It seems there is a scarcity of teams, although a bumper crop of material. The Barbers will not be in force this year. Cosden Refinery has indicated the red and white clad lads will play independently. Coahoma has a team, but has made no inquiry regarding Big Spring's league. It is almost a certainty that the Texas & Pacific Railway will be among those absent. The Laundry vanished like the suds. So that leaves the Bankers—and the Bankers will be ready. It behooves a few firms to take over a team and develop it. Anyway, plans will be put into some kind of form at the meeting to be held Thursday night. Everyone, including Moonshine the ball shagger, is invited, urged, requested et cetera, to attend the meeting.

Only two games a week are planned this year. This will relieve, to a certain extent, the out every night affair of last year. So many husbands remained away for so many consecutive nights that their children didn't know their father returned from Dusty Diamond. That proved, in some instances, disastrous and embarrassing. So this year that phase will be eliminated. Only two nights a week will the ball players wander away from the home fireside, to display his prowess at the local ball garden.

The mysterious Mike Hicks is again causing trouble. We thought Hicks had definitely decided to cast his lot with Sweetwater, and his himself from Roscoe. But Hicks, like the eel, is gliding around again. Says Blondy Cross in regard to Hicks:

Campbell, by the way, recently published a question put to Supt. Ben McLain of Sweetwater about the status of Mike Hicks, the Roscoe football star. The department printed a similar interrogation. The noble superintendent has not favored with a reply, but one of our operatives got busy and checked up.

With Hicks safely in the fold, the Mustangs loom as the strong man in the 1931 act. Certainly, at the present, Big Spring doesn't look like much on paper. Midland couldn't have stopped the Mustangs last year; and it is safe to say that New-Tri-Ark-One Barry's aggression won't turn the trick this year unless reinforcements turn up. ## RICKEY GIVES INTERVIEW IN HIS OWN WAY

"Has the prospective trade of Hasey for Klein progressed to any extent?" a reporter asked.

"I think we have a great player in Eddie Bell," Rickey said. "How about a trade with the Phillies of Hasey for Bartlett?"

"Pinchle isn't a bad game, but I like bridge better. I find contract more intricate than auction."

Rickey and President Sam Breadon conferred with officials of the Boston Braves yesterday afternoon, and today Rickey will meet officials of the Cincinnati Reds. However, it was denied trades were discussed.

KAMM BETTER
SAN ANTONIO, March 25 (AP)—Something has happened to Willie Kamm, third base keeper for the White Sox. He's back hustling again.

Because of some differences with the White Sox management last season, Kamm appeared disgruntled and did not play his usual game. At the start of the spring training camp this year, he still seemed perturbed about something.

"I'm going to try to see Mr. Comiskey," he said one day. He did and has been playing a great game and banging the ball hard ever since.

Minor Snags Eliminated From Congressional District Bill; Howard Remains In Twentieth

AUSTIN, Texas, March 25 (AP)—After ironing out minor snags, the house committee on congressional districts reported out favorably a bill by Representative Metcalfe of San Angelo, to provide for Texas' 21 congressmen, the number to which the state is entitled under the 1930 census. Several small changes were made in the original draft.

The committee has started working on the legislative redistricting bill and expects to run into more opposition on this than on the congressional redistricting measure. As reported out by the committee, the district represented by Harry Wurzbach, only Republican member of the Texas delegation, would be split up, with San Antonio being made a separate district. Wurzbach, who drew most of his strength from Bexar county in former campaigns, has announced he would move to San Antonio and seek re-election.

The following congressional districts would be carved out under the Metcalfe plan:

- First: Bowie, Cass, Red River, Franklin, Titus, Wood, Morris, Camp, Marion, Upshur and Lamar.
- Second: Jefferson, Orange, Hardin, Tyler, Jasper, Newton Sabine, San Augustine, Naacogoches and Angelina.
- Third: Van Zandt, Smith, Cherokee, Rusk, Panola, Gregg, Harrison and Shelby.

FORD SAFETY

Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield has saved many lives in collisions

EVERY new Ford is equipped with a Triplex shatter-proof windshield. This is made so that the glass will not fly or splinter under the hardest impact. It has saved many lives and prevented injuries in many automobile collisions.

This shatter-proof glass windshield is just one of many features that make the new Ford a value far above the price. Others are the silent, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, sturdy steel body construction, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, more than twenty ball and roller bearings, extensive use of fine steel forgings, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, torque-tube drive, three-quarter floating rear axle, Rustless Steel, and unusual accuracy in manufacturing.

In addition, you save many dollars because of low first cost of the new Ford, low cost of operation and up-keep, and low yearly depreciation.

LOW PRICES OF FORD CARS $430 to $630

F. O. B. Detroit, plus freight and delivery. Bumpers and spare tire extra at small cost. You can purchase a Ford on economical terms through the Authorized Ford Finance Plans of the National Credit Company.

Undernourished Love: HE IS MADE UP mostly of back stage scenes. People are in masquerade when they stand in front of the footlights.

And that's the way it was with Harriet Schneider of Chicago. She had a fur collar and cuffs on her winter coat, and her hair was as cheaply smart as anybody's.

For in the dark little house there had been unhappiness for a long time. Albert Schneider, according to Harriet, had been drinking.

Harriet packed them but she slipped her father's gun in her pocket. When he started to attack her mother again she pulled the trigger. And that was the end of the scenes to the center of the stage.

Every child has a right to a home which is bounded by love and laughter and unselfishness. Every little boy and girl who does not listen with rapturous eyes for the sound of homing footsteps when the day is done, has missed a priceless heritage.

Children who have unselfish devotion and wise counselship seldom kill their parents. But those who have been wounded and outraged, over and over again, until finally their sense of right and wrong is stung as a neglected wound.

Harriet Schneider did not shoot her father from a sense of rivalry. She thought she was protecting her mother, but there was another motive, deeper than that. She was revelling against home conditions, but she didn't know it.

Mrs. Schneider had expressed no grief over her husband's death. She, too, had suffered from his unkindness.

The very fact that three children had to be reared in a home so void of gracious qualities makes the situation more pitiful. Childhood has a right to fathers and mothers who love and respect each other.

Advertising is an Economy: Florida Times-Union: ADDRESSING the Advertising and Masonic clubs of Jacksonville a few days ago, James Schermerhorn of Detroit told the large assemblage gathered, that it was necessary to use advertising for business success.

Probably the best definition of advertising in few words was Mr. Schermerhorn's statement that "modern advertising is the adaptation of all known facilities for communication to the sale of merchandise and service on the one hand and the satisfaction of wants and requirements on the other."

It is not a burden upon industry or the people. Indicated as a tremendous factor of human necessity, of great and vital interest to everybody, advertising is shown as a great and essential cause. While some think of advertising as a means on employment, as a source of profit and a matter of satisfaction chiefly to those who create it, there is no difference between advertising and any other business which is profitable when it "delivers the goods," so to speak.

Advertising represents an economy and not a luxury. Mr. Schermerhorn declared, and it is a saving and not an expense. It represents a reduction in the cost of merchandise and not an increase, and a relief from the cumbersome and costly methods that were once used.

MYSTERIOUS WAY

SYNOPSIS: Pretty Marjorie Landerell's bliss mysteriously ends when she and her husband call to see her at Dr. Charters' nursing home. Having just explained to the physician that she had never been ill until she moved to her uncle's house, she protects that Dr. MacAdoo's medicine has been making her worse and asks that Dr. Stidley be given her case.

Chapter 2 "HALF-HUNG SIMON" LOUNGING forward, his hands in the pocket of his coat, the intruder, seating himself on the edge of the desk, nonchalantly leaned forward and, smiling crookedly, inquired: "Well, and how are things going with Half-hung Simon?"

His mind leapt back over the years, and he saw himself seated astride a horse, his hands bound one end of a rope noosed about his neck, the other tied to a branch of the big tree beneath which he waited for death, and the Missen crowd wanted to see him die.

How often had he wakened from dreams of sitting, bound upon a restless horse; entering, cooling, caressing with his voice, praying alternately to his horse and to his God; and of the agony, mental and physical, when it had taken one step forward, and then another, until the rope was choking him, forcing him to lean back at an agonizing angle, and wriggle his body towards the horse's crupper.

From the days of his youth, as a medical student in London, to those of his fame as the successful physician of Harley Street and The Monastery Hurling-Home he reviewed his life.

Childhood: His feebly-nagging shrewish mother; his drunken and disreputable father, a genius of great intellect and little virtue; now rich, now poor.

He could hear his own voice: "Ah, my boy, there's only two ways of making real money, patent medicine and patent religion. Look at Pumper's Pills—bread crumbs and calomel. A farthing's worth for half-a-crown. Look at the Hills Bros. Follow Similar Rule by Roasting Coffee a Little at a Time. By adding the halves of fruit to the hot syrup a few at a time, the boiling temperature is maintained and the fruit cooks to firm, tender goodness.

This principle is apparent in Hills Bros' process of roasting coffee and the result is a uniform, delicious flavor no other coffee has. A constant stream of expertly blended green coffee is introduced into the roaster in automatically measured lots of about three pounds. As it passes through, uniform heat roasts it a little at a time. When the operation is over, every berry is roasted to an even degree that could never be secured by any bulk-method of roasting coffee.

This process is fittingly called Controlled Roasting. It was originated and patented by Hills Bros. and develops a savory, delicious flavor that no other process can equal.

Because Hills Bros. Coffee is packed in vacuum, it is always fresh. By this process, air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is taken out of the can and kept out. Ordinary cans, even if air-tight, do not keep coffee fresh. Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name and look for the Arab—the trade-mark—on the can. Sold by grocers everywhere.

Run-Down, Weak Nervous? To have plenty of firm flesh and the ability to do a big day's work and feel "like a two-year old" at night, you must eat three good meals a day, relish your food and properly digest it.

Mrs. Fred Westin, of 387 E. 57th St., North, Portland, Ore., says: "Tanlac cured my stomach trouble completely after three years of suffering. It built me up to perfect health, with a gain of 27 lbs. That was two years ago, and I still enjoy the best of health."

Tanlac is wonderful for indigestion and constipation—gas pains, nausea, dizziness and headaches. It brings back lost appetite, helps you digest your food, and gain strength and weight. It contains no mineral drugs; it is made of roots, barks and herbs, nature's own medicines for the sick. The cost is less than 20¢ a dose. Get a bottle from your druggist. SEARCHING FOR "SEVEN CITIES OF GOLD" ...

CORONADO missed a Greater Wealth

DETAILED in 1541 by the Viceroy of Mexico to search for the "Seven Cities of Gold", believed to be located somewhere in the vicinity of the territory now occupied by New Mexico and Arizona, Captain Francisco Vasquez de Coronado was the second white man to enter the Southwest.

Had he but known, riches far beyond the fabled wealth of his "Seven Cities" lay beneath his feet. Not in the yellow gold he sought, but in a black liquid which for millions of years had lain in stagnant pools deep in the bowels of the earth.

The growth of New Mexico closely parallels that of its Southwestern neighbors. A single generation has seen a miracle unfolded before its eyes. Oil, like the touch of Midas, has wrought riches and wealth wherever it appeared.

As the pioneer refining company of the Southwest, the Magnolia Petroleum

Company has done much to harness the great wealth over which Coronado unknowingly trod in quest of a golden rainbow. Since 1898, when the first refinery in the Southwest was opened at Corsicana, Texas, Magnolia has served every need for petroleum products, from the kerosene that lit the homes of early settlers to the highly refined gasoline and motor oil required by the present-day motor car.

Nowhere else do ancient and modern civilization elbow each other in such amity, each lending color to the other. The delighted tourist who travels in his modern motor car, where once the Conquistadores and the Missionaries gave their lives in exploration, finds his way blazed by smooth, perfect highways... his pleasure, convenience and safety assured by a trail of Magnolia Service Stations.

NEW YORK, March 25 (UP)—Sam Lanin of the Troubadors, the pioneer radio chain program formerly on NBC, is coming back to radio.

But with his orchestra, he moves to CBS under a new sponsor. He will be heard at a weekly 15-minute period, starting April 1, with "Strappy" Lambert and Dick Robertson, singers, and Dave Elman, humorist, as other features.

A three hour service from the National Cathedral, Washington is to be presented by WABC and station, starting at noon Good Friday, April 3. The Detroit Symphony Orchestra Sunday night concert, WABC and others are to be continued for another 14 weeks.

day heard a steady dripping and investigated. Blood was oozing slowly from a bullet wound in the back of the girl's head.

The authorities have arrested 15 or 20 persons, among them a former policeman. Almost all the suspects have been released.

The Limerick and Baker cases have strengthened the belief of many that Virginia McPrehon, charming young nurse, also was murdered.

She was found in her apartment in September, 1928, with a pajama cord knotted about her neck. There was a long and futile inquiry.

LOWEST— (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) hours. This was 667.50 barrels more than its previous record. Two weeks ago, the well rebelled against back pressure doubled to 2,000 pounds, burst its bonds at an undetermined level and ran partly out of control for three days.

Deep Wells The nine wells range in depth from 8,525 to 8,923 feet. Two are deepening. The other seven gauge in excess of 17,000 barrels daily, while all have a total gas potential exceeding 200,000,000 cubic feet daily.

To utilize this fuel, the Texas Public Service Company now is laying a 12-inch, 80-mile gas line to San Angelo and an 8-inch, 40-mile gas line to the Pecos Valley Power & Light Company's plant on the Pecos River. Employment is being given 500 men.

Andrew county, with four small producers, has in the making another—the Deep Rock Oil Co., et al. No. 1 Kuykendall. While cleaning out, after 600-quart shot late Saturday from 4,256 to 4,506 feet, it has been heading every six hours at a rate estimated at 200 barrels daily.

Denney, Andrew & Fox's No. 1 Tankersley, which last week pumped 45 barrels of oil and three barrels of water in the first 26 hours, at a total depth of 1,472 feet, may extend Irion county's shallow, high gravity sweet oil field three miles northward.

In Ector Running higher structurally than the No. 1-A Cowden, discovery well in the area, three-quarters of a mile northward the Crude Oil Purchasing Company's No. 2-A Cowden promises new production for northern Ector county. It is running 8 1/4 inch casing to 3,372 feet in lime, where it will be cemented.

The Mid-Kansas Oil & Gas Co. No. 1 Gonde in east central Terrell county perhaps is the most closely watched wildcat at present, by reason of having struck dry, sweet gas Feb. 15 at 5,608 feet, which gauged 6,500 cubic feet daily. The gas flow has remained steady, while drilling has progressed past the 6,000-foot depth in hard black lime.

Oil production extends northwest from the Yates pool in Pecos county through half a dozen West Texas counties into Lea county, New Mexico, and gas in the Terrell test has aroused hopes that the trend may extend southeastward from the Yates pool.

Low Prices Flat prices of 25, 35 and 40 cents a barrel for West Texas crude, regardless of gravity, posted March 10, represented reductions averaging 27 cents a barrel or 45 per cent, and are below the cost of production, producers say.

A few wells, including some not prorated, have been shut in.

The majority of independent operators favor abolition of proration, contending that its continuation and extension to new fields, such as East Texas, merely will build higher potentials, which, it is claimed, are used to hold down crude prices.

Before crude prices were reduced, oil companies began seeking reduction in rentals and within the last two weeks, several office and field forces have been cut, in some instances fifty per cent. A few oil company offices have been closed.

Approximately one-half of West Texas storage, with capacity exceeding 35,000,000 barrels, is empty, crude withdrawals since Jan. 1 having averaged 42,523 barrels daily.

CONFERENCE— (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) The city, under the zoning plan, would have the right to see that proposed residential additions conform to specifications regarding streets as set down by the city officials.

The system, Smitham said, tends to bring about a more uniform city, with a decided increase in attractiveness and cleanliness.

All phases of city work were discussed by the different officials during the two days of the conference.

HOME TOWN TALK (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) cock crudes are bringing the lowest prices in the country for crude of like gravity. John H. Brewer, dean of West Texas oil writers, tells us.

That is why you can find plenty of people around here who'd just as soon see the lid blow off as not.

Provided state law could make major companies run oil from independent's wells abandonment of proration might, after all, stimulate general business conditions.

Who has heard of a major company shutting down wells of its own because of over-production? If proration were discarded we believe more people would immediately be employed in the fields, even though the market might sag a little bit more.

It can't sag much farther and, sooner or later it's got to hit the real bottom anyway. The sooner the better. Its bound to bounce a little then.
