TRAIL DUST

On some enchanted mesa of the future, after the winds from the billows of fate have blown much sand under the feet of our camels and our eyes have become dry and swollen from study of the doubtful maps of our aspirations, we shall meet and make camp for the evening. Neither of us will have the gold dust of Eldorado upon our blankets, nor the spiced oils of success secreted in flasks beneath the vicissitudes of existence. Defly we shall eschew mention of our mutual hopes, standing as white flamingoes in the marshes of old dreams, fed by back-water from the tides of failure. The desperate struggle and the losing conflict that each has known on the battlefields of time since we parted, will be of little consequence.

There in the haze of friendly tobacco smoke, mellowed with mugs of black coffee, we will plait the raveled ends of friendship as a rope stretched too long over the edge of distance. It will be easier to remember the trivial incidents of youth which were mixed with joys and sorrows and poured into the foundation of our companionship.

Truth is so often unkind despite the unquestionable value of its application. It remained for my wife to point out, while we were in a public eating place recently, that her glove which had fallen to the floor and to a position beneath my foot, would not have received the same degree of treatment in our days of courtship. That I would have been on my all-fours in a clumsy display of chivalry before the glove touched the floor and gushed with apology for not having seen it sooner, is at least a tribute to my thoroughness of detail in securing an accomplishment.

However, there are some symbols engraved on the lives of those who have been here ahead of me, that men marry, primarily, to rest, after having been over-gallant during courtship.

Automobile roads reach most of the camp-grounds of the chuck-wagon and the old tales of the cattle country which once had their place about the remote camp fires of riding men, are being drained into the vortex of progress. Often tradition has placed its charge in the memory of old men who have hung up their spurs and replaced their boots with house-shoes before the more constant fires of home, and this adaptation has been reflected through eyes, now tired, because they have seen so much of both good and evil.

A wealthy ranchman had been found to watch cattle driven from his herds in broad daylight by thieves branding as they desired with the cooperation of Winchesters and side arms. His own men had been clubbed in their defense of his property and the loss continued until one day a lone, white-browed stranger asked for a job. The rancher had but one job and it seemed too large for one man, especially an old man, but the stranger took it with a full understanding of his duties and the wages, which were high.

The stranger, a long barrel rifle across his saddle, soon met with exercise of his duties. He leveled the rifle at the leader of the thieves and told those who were behind his back with drawn guns that he was ready. Those behind, moved forward and the range pirates went away without the firing of a shot. They had met courage too vast and grim to challenge.

The lone stranger found little use for the long-barrel rifle as peace returned and the herds multiplied. Finally the rancher decided he needed the protection no longer and the old man smiled. He would quit only for a consideration a ransom requiring many white-faced calves to pay. The rancher paid, almost as willingly as he had paid the wages at the beginning. Perhaps the racketeer is not a product of the modern age, merely

A special program was arranged and included quartet singing by Harvey Stanford, Vernon Doss, J. R. Whitworth and Jim Edmondson; A ladies double trio, and the congregation singing favorite old songs.

Attention is called to young voters of Motley county who will reach the age of 21 before election with regard to a new law requiring exemption certificate receipt.

Miss Rachel Patton, deputy clerk in Sheriff J. E. Skinner's office explains that those voting for the first time next election, while not subject to poll tax, must secure an exemption receipt before January 31, 1936, in order to participate in the elections of next year.

The gentle eyes which used to beam with laughter are faded as the leaves of an open book left too long in the sun. Genius was in his spirit from childhood, a mad river tearing through his life, un-harnessed and untamed. Timid and retiring by nature there seemed hardly a place for him with other men, as if outcast because of his superiority.

Love, too great, too brief and searing, broke his heart and spirit, so that in his stumbling there was no strength to rise from the net of drink. Rum thrust white hot wires through his veins and poured its poisonous rust into the great spring of his mind. His tears have dried long ago because wretchedness loses its burn with abundance—an empty cocoon on the cellar floor of life, partly covered with the dust of dreams.

Matadors Win Over Spur; To Try Paducah

Feature Contest of Conference With Paducah Today

Final conference games in district 4B will be played Thursday with the Matador Matadors playing host to their ancient rivals the Paducah Dragons. Floydada meeting the scrapping Spur Bulldogs at Spur, Silvertown playing at Turkey and Flomot at Quitaque.

Matadors 7 to 0 victory over Spur last week left Coach Stanford's charges the only undefeated team in the district and needing only to take Paducah Thursday for their first district title, the Dragons who have lost only to Floydada this year are expected to deal the Matadors plenty of trouble.

The Floydada whirlwinds had little trouble last week in taking the Silvertown Owls into camp 24 to 2, using second and third stringers of the Paducah eleven scored a 26 to 7 victory over Turkey. Quitaque dropped a 25 to 0 decision to the Lockney Longhorns, while the Flomot team was whipping a class C eleven Petersburg 73 to 0.

Meet Dragons Today
A 45 yard touchdown pass in the third quarter from fullback Black-shear to halfback Washington and Washington's perfect boot between the uprights gave the Matador Matadors a 7 to 0 victory over the Spur Bulldogs here last Friday and the sixth straight conference victory. Outside the long pass the game was a defensive combat played between the 40 yard lines.

The Bulldogs threatened to score only once, that late in the second period after quarterback Bingham's off tackle smash had carried the ball to the Matadors 4 yard line, here a hard charging Matador line braced and held for downs to end Spur's only real scoring threat.

First downs favored the Matadors 9 to 7. Spur attempted 13 passes, completed 3 for a gain of 36 yards and had one intercepted. Matador attempted 5 passes, com-

ERRATUM

The Tribune wishes to correct an error regarding an article appearing in last week's issue. The benefit pie supper to be held at Whiteflat, Friday night, December 6th, should have stated that the proceeds will be used to repair the Methodist Church instead of the parsonage. The Tribune is glad to make this correction and trusts that the general public will respond to the worthy cause for which this benefit is sponsored.

Roaring Springs Man Injured In Gin Accident Sat.

Bob Cooper, employed by the Red Ball Gin at Roaring Springs, was the victim of a serious accident Saturday morning when his left hand was caught in the cotton press equipment, and badly mangled.

Mr. Cooper was rushed to Roaring Springs for medical aid and later moved to the Traweck Hospital in Matador where it was found necessary to amputate three fingers. While still suffering considerable pain, he is reported to be improving.

Marriage Climaxes Extended Courtship

Miss Mary Jenkins became the bride of Nelson McMahan last Friday afternoon, November 22, 1935, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Jenkins, in Matador. The young couple left immediately for Wichita Falls, where they spent a brief honeymoon.

Mrs. McMahan was born and reared in this community, and her charming personality has won for her a host of friends. She graduated from the Matador High School as Salutatorian of the class of 1929.

The groom is the son of W. D. McMahan, also of Matador, and has made his home for a number of years. He is a progressive and energetic young man, and his sterling character has made for him a wide circle of friends.

The wedding culminates an extended courtship of several years, and upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. McMahan will make their home at Matador.

The Tribune joins the many friends of these young people, in extending congratulations.

State Relief Vista Gloomy

County Studies Bond Issue at Meeting Saturday

Some 30 men, including many of Motley county's largest taxpayers met with the Commissioners court in County Judge W. R. Cammack's office Saturday to discuss the relief problem confronting the county when state relief funds are suspended.

It was disclosed that 7 WPA road projects in Motley county had been approved to cost about $88,700, with $68,000 of the required sum to be furnished by the Federal government in event the county can raise in the neighborhood of $20,000. Since road equipment, already in the county's possession, may be allowed as about $12,000, it was pointed out that something in the neighborhood of $9,000 cash will need to be raised.

Bond Issue Considered
The possibility of a bond issue to raise the required money was considered but no definite action taken. Should Motley county not raise its part of the funds then the Government would refuse any aid whatever and the entire relief problem would be up to the city and county, it was declared.

Gloomy Prospects
With regard to the State relief problems, the following excerpts are quoted from the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, issue of Monday, November 25:
Adam R. Johnson, Texas relief director, Saturday summed up "gloomy prospects" mid-winter with employment conditions unimproved.

Johnson said that without federal aid "the chances are we will be out of business by the first of the year." There was a possibility, he said, that state aid would be curtailed sharply and extended only to unemployed employees and reduced rations enabled the State to accumulate a surplus of $1,300,000 from various sources to match $700,000 state money, the last proceeds of a $20,000,000 relief bond issue voted in 1933.

An argument the State made was (Continued on Back Page)

W. W. Moore Succumbs To Heart Attack Sunday at Dallas in Baylor Hospital

Final Rites Are Held For Pioneer Here Wednesday

Grief spread its mantle over Matador and vicinity Sunday when word was received of the death of W. W. (Uncle Billy) Moore at the Baylor Hospital in Dallas. Mr. Moore had undergone a major operation November 19

Three former pastors of the Matador Methodist church aided Rev. D. D. Denison in the funeral services of Mr. Moore, held at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. They were: Rev. E. D. Thorp of Levelland, Rev. J. O. Quatterbahn of Canyon and Rev. Bob Jameson of Whiteflat.

One of the largest funeral crowds ever assembled in Matador, gathered at the Methodist Church yesterday morning to pay final tribute to one of the county's most beloved citizens.

and was believed to be well on the road to recovery when he suffered a fatal heart attack about noon Sunday.

William Wetherby Moore was born in Bell county Texas, August, 20, 1865. At the age of 15 he moved to Stephens county and came to this county about 1891 where he filed on a homestead to later become extensively engaged in the cattle business.

Mr. Moore was president of the former First National Bank of Matador for a number of years and was active in his various interests to the day he went to Dallas for medical treatment. He was known through-out the Panhandle country by cattlemen and because of his sterling character and friendly personality, numbered his friends by those with whom he met.

Burial Here Yesterday
Mr. Moore is survived by his wife, Mrs. W. W. Moore, Matador, one sister, Mrs. J. B. Segrest of Aquilla, Texas and one brother, R. P. Moore, Matador. The body arrived in Matador by special statutory court of inquiry, held before Justice of the Peace, Henry Pipkin investigated the murder. Warrants were issued for Everett McArthur and Melvin Ensey, each about 21 and members of respected Spur families, charging them with the murder of the aged tourist-camp keeper, Virgil Wilson, 35, Spur laundryman and Russell Smith, 35, Spur tailor, were charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants. McArthur and Ensey were arrested in Dickens county about midnight Friday. In company with them was Smith, while Wilson, in another car had overtaken them and stopped to lend aid in connection with some automobile trouble the men had encountered.

Released On Bond
McArthur and Ensey were released on bonds of $10,000 each and Wilson and Smith were freed on bonds of $500 and $250, respectively. From information available it is believed the Spur men came to Matador Friday afternoon to attend the Spur-Matador football game, between the high school teams. After the game they probably went to the West End Tourist camp and rented a cabin from Mr. Speegle and later engaged in an argument with him. But as yet no eye-witnesses besides those directly connected with the case have been uncovered.

Burial Late Saturday
Funeral services for Mr. Speegle were held in the First Methodist Church here late Saturday afternoon and burial made in the Matador East Mound Cemetery.

NEW ARRIVALS
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Graham, Friday, November 22, 1935, a son, named James Melvin. To Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cartwright on Saturday, November 23, 1935 a son was born, given the name Willie Lane. Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Austin are the proud parents of a daughter born Sunday, November 24.

Double Loss To Grower
Camp went on to say that "A volume production system, as formerly practiced, often resulted in double loss to the grower because every acre used to produce surplus cotton could have been put into needed food and feed crops."

He estimated that there were 283,199 people in this State 65 years or older.

Law West of Pecos Changes Hands Again

Del Rio, Texas, Nov. 23.—"Law West of the Pecos" changes hands again after today.

The death of William Henry Dodd, 67, who succeeded the famous Judge Roy Bean as justice of the peace at Langtry, left the administration of frontier justice at that Southwest outpost open.

Judge Dodd, a native of England, passed away in Del Rio late yesterday. Beside his "official" duties as justice of the peace, he was a merchant and postmaster in the straggling little cow town.

Known through the entire range country, Judge Dodd had carried on the traditions set by his colorful predecessor. In the early days, when six-gun decisions were more common than court proceedings, Judge Bean was known widely as the "Law West of the Pecos".

Funeral services for Judge Dodd were held this afternoon and he was buried in a Del Rio cemetery.

Special Clerk At Buckley's Office

L. W. Chapman, special clerk, of Lubbock began his duties at the office of County Agent, Frank A. Buckley this week. Mr. Chapman's duties are to augment the present office force of the office. Since his assignment here was made without future instructions, Mr. Chapman declared that he had not been informed as to whether or not the place will be permanent.

Dramatic Club Is Organized Thursday

Organization of the Matador Dramatic Club is announced following a meeting at the home of Mrs. J. F. Jordan last Thursday.

The following officers were elected: President, Miss Lorene Fryar; Vice-president, Mrs. H. K. Ford; Secretary-treasurer, Miss Roberta Jameson; Reporter, Mrs. L. R. Bishop.

Committee will be announced at a later date.

Pension Systems Of Other States Are Being Studied

AUSTIN, Nov. 25.—"We are going to be fair to the old people of Texas," said the new pension chief this week.

Orville S. Carpenter, 36-year-old State Auditor, was named executive director of the old-age assistance board, November 20, by the new three-member commission. He will resign as Auditor and take up his new duties when the pension law becomes effective February 14.

Spur Youths Charged In Slaying Of Gentle Old Pioneer Motley County

SPECIAL SESSION OF GRAND JURY

No Details Of Hearing Are Disclosed After Two Are Released On Bond Saturday

Murder, hardly with parallel of cruelty in the history of this county, shocked Matador and vicinity early Saturday as details of the fatal slaying of J. B. (Uncle Ben) Speegle, 70, gentle-mannered tourist-camp keeper and pioneer, at his tourist camp west of the city limits late Friday, spread over the community.

W. B. Webb, local fuel wood dealer, while delivering a load of wood about 8 o'clock Friday evening, was attracted by groans in an empty car-shed of the camp and found Mr. Speegle. Rushing to the home of County Attorney, John Hamilton, a short distance away, he reported his find and Deputy Sheriff, H. H. Courtney was summoned. The three moved the fatally injured man to the Traweck

A special session of the grand jury, meeting to investigate the murder of J. B. (Uncle Ben) Speegle, adjourned late yesterday, after indicting Everett McArthur and Melvin Ensey, both of Dickens county on charges of murdering the aged tourist-camp keeper. Bond was set at $7,500 for each of the youths and they were released.

The case will be moved to Floyd county and tried at the next regular term of court at Floydada.

The grand jury will reconvene again Friday morning to make further investigation into the case.

Hospital, where he died within a short time without regaining consciousness.

Need and Law Broken
Among other injuries, Mr. Speegle sustained a broken jaw, a broken neck and his head bore deep lacerations, it was declared. Feeling ran high here Saturday as a statutory court of inquiry, held before Justice of the Peace, Henry Pipkin investigated the murder. Warrants were issued for Everett McArthur and Melvin Ensey, each about 21 and members of respected Spur families, charging them with the murder of the aged tourist-camp keeper, Virgil Wilson, 35, Spur laundryman and Russell Smith, 35, Spur tailor, were charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants. GENERAL NEWS

The Junior and Senior Classes visited court Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. The court, which was a hearing about discontinuing this branch of the Q.
 A. & P., not only proved interesting to the students but also educational.
 The American National Red
 Cross is staging its annual Home Inspection Campaign. It is using a new method by which accidents
 may be prevented in the homes.
 The Red Cross shows that last year some 34,000 persons lost their lives by accidents in the homes, 150,000 persons were maimed for life by accidents in the homes, and injuries were sustained in the home by 5,000,000 persons. The Red Cross is distributing papers among the school children which is to bring our attention to things in the homes that may cause accidents. These papers were taken home by the students for their parents to read and to help them prevent accidents.

A correction should be made in last week's paper about the forty dollars worth of library books bought for the high school library.
 The books were not bought by the Child Welfare but were bought by the School Board. The Child Welfare has bought some more books for the library however, but it is not this particular bunch.

The second six weeks closes Thanksgiving, so the students will be rather busy with exams, etc.
 They will certainly be glad to have a few holidays.

The high school had a call assembly last Friday to get everyone ready and in the spirit for the game. It seems to have helped some. The high school has adopted the slogan, "On through regional".
 Several songs were sung with pleasure. Speeches were given by Mr. Stanford and Mr. Tunnell; they were "solid" speeches anyhow! Then the Pep Squad gave fifteen raps for the team and for the coach. The period was greatly enjoyed by the entire student body.

SENIOR NEWS

The Senior rings are here! Are they pretty? A few had to be sent back because they did not fit. (The Seniors are still growing.)
 The Seniors are expecting their photographs back soon.
 The other day in bookkeeping class Mr. Tunnell said, "What's the name of the Turkey paper?"
 And said Margaret on the dot,
 "Turkey Enterprise".
 We wonder why she was so informed! Oh, haven't you heard?
 Well, ask Mrs. Grundy.

SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish Club met Friday, November 22. The following program was given:
 Constitution and Department of Government—J. C. McMahan
 Early History—Elmerine Russell
 Freedom—Mable Turner
 Great Dictator & Civil War—
 Dorothy Fulfer
 Constitutional Gov. and Foreign Ownership of Land—Ruth Mevill Religious Controversy and assassinatoin of Obregon—Wilma Pool; Spanish songs—Class

The club has interesting programs on Mexico each time they meet. The club is planning a Christmas party for about December 16th, since Mexico starts celebrating Christmas on that date.

PEP SQUAD

The Pep Squad has decided differently on the new suits. They will be black flannel skirts, black wool jackets with red collars and cuffs with MATADOR printed on the left side of zipper. They should be here for the Paducah game, November 28th. The girls are looking forward to wearing them at least once this year—maybe more—they hope so.

SPORTS

The Matadors have fought two hard battles in the last two weeks,
 but felt rewarded for their efforts.
 The whole team seem determined to do things yet this season.

Last week the team showed their strength with the Spur Bulldogs.
 Was it an exciting game? There were times when people almost held their breath while Spur was near the goal line. Great was the excitement when Matador made her touchdown in the third quarter and also everyone was jumping up and down when the gun was shot.
 The smiles on those Matadors' faces were worth plenty. They were really happy.
 They play Paducah on Thank-giving, which will be another hard game.

JOKES

Mr. Harbour: "This soup seems very thin. What did you use for stock?"

Mrs. Harbour: "Why you see this recipe says to use the water that food has been boiled in. So I used the broth from the boiled eggs."

Mr. Gray: "Carl, if I gave you a large apple and a small one and told you to give one to your brother, which would you give him?"

Carl: "Do you mean my big brother or my little one?"

Coach: "Jerry, I am spanking you because I love you."
 Jerry: "I'll sure like to be big enough to return your love."

Modenna: "El-l-mer—Elmer, do you love me?"

Elmer: "I'll say!"

Modenna: "Do you think I'm beautiful?"

Elmer: "You bet!"

Modenna: "Are my eyes the loveliest you've ever seen?"

Elmer: "Shucks, yes!"

Modenna: "My mouth like a rosebud?"

Elmer: "You know it!"

Modenna: "and my figure divine?"

Elmer: "Uh-huh!"

Modenna: "Oh, Elmer, you say the nicest things! Tell me more!"

TRIBUTE PAID
 GREAT TEXAN;
 GAIL BORDEN

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 25.—Through his dual contribution to Texas and humanity the name of Gail Borden stands out in the annals of history.
 Born November 9, 1801, a timely significance may be attached to the memory of this Texas hero.
 It was Gail Borden who founded one of Texas' first official newspapers, "The Telegraph and Texas Land Register", published at San Felipe in March, 1835. Prompted by the rising spirit of revolt, Borden issued his first paper and immediately became the voice of the people. In what was probably the first "extra", he published the war proclamation of September 19, 1835. Loyal Texans responded and thus began the Texas revolution.

 It was also the printing press of Gail Borden that broadcast the tragic appeal of Travis from the Alamo and later gave to the colonists their first copies of the Declaration of Independence. Despite the fact that the original press was destroyed by Santa Anna, Borden secured another. Today the files of his newspaper furnish the earliest annals of the newborn Republic.

While serving as Land Commissioner, Gail Borden realized the hardships of families who had begun to migrate throughout Texas and it was he who discovered
 "concentrated food" first known as the "meat biscuit". Later he perfected his "condensed milk"
 and in 1857 founded The Borden Company.
 Gail Borden served his fellow-man as a Texas statesman and a benefactor to mankind.

HISTORY RE-LIVED AT GONZALES CENTENNIAL

Gonzales, Texas, Nov. 19.—As thousands of Texans gathered in this historic community to hear a stocky little cannon boom the opening of the Gonzales Centennial celebration just as its twin roared the beginning of the Texas revolution 100 years ago, a bystander murmured wistfully: "I wish I could fire that gun."

A neighbor, overhearing him, asked why, and he replied: "Well, my great grandfather was Colonel Moore, who commanded the Texans here at Gonzales and fired the first shot."

Whereupon his new acquaintance smiled and said: "And my grandfather was a guard placed over Santa Anna after his capture at San Jacinto. I guess we could say that our folks started and ended the Texas war for independence."

The descendant of Colonel Moore was John Faires of Flatonia; his neighbor was Congressman Richard M. Kleberg of Corpus Christi. Thus do the whims of destiny direct the course of the Texas Centennial.

CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK IS COVETED REFERENCE

Greenville, Texas, Nov. 19.—Inspired by the spirit of Texas Centennial activities, Miss Rachael Caughran, of Chisholm, spent her spare hours during her senior year in High School making a 600-page scrapbook of the Texas Centennial.

Miss Caughran, now a Freshman in Wesley College at Greenville, was honored by having her scrapbook placed in the college library, where it is in demand daily by other students required to write themes on the Centennial.

Material for the scrapbook consists of clippings from newspapers and other publications.

Texas Youths Are Aided By Projects

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 25.—Ten thousand part-time jobs are ready for Texas boys and girls, J. C. Kellam, assistant director of the National Youth Administration, announced today.

In order to be eligible for these jobs on WPA and NYA projects, Kellam said, boys and girls must be between 16 and 25 years old, must come from families certified as eligible for work on WPA projects, and must register with the National Re-employment Service.

This registration is required solely because all assignments for work are made by the NRS.

Urged To Continue

"Boys and girls now enrolled in school are urged to continue their school work and not drop out to accept the part-time jobs offered through the NYA," Kellam said. "Education is as much a part of the NYA program as work-relief. These jobs have been provided only to care for youths who have finished school or need or desire no further education.

Youths employed on WPA projects will work 46 hours a month, Kellam said. The WPA authorities have agreed youths may be worked on consecutive days each 15-day period, thus enabling them to complete the maximum 23 hours each period in as few days as possible.

For example, a youth working on a Harris County WPA or NYA project, will report for work Monday morning and work each day thereafter until he has worked 23 hours. He will not report again for the job until the second 15-day pay period, at which time he will repeat the process.

Pay Based On Scale

His pay, Kellam said, in Harris County, will be $1.82 a 7-hour day. Wages are based on the security wage scale of the WPA.

Youths are classified as unskilled, intermediate, skilled, and professional workers. Pay graduates upward according to this classification.

Texas Securities Act Meeting Favor

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 25.—That the Texas Securities Act is a model of its kind, is becoming common knowledge throughout the country, according to D. Leon Harp, Texas Securities Commissioner and Secrom in Washington, which says, in part:

"Gerald C. Mann, former Secretary of State R. B. Stanford, who are the two officials charged with its enforcement.

Supporting this contention they point out a recent press dispatch from Washington representative of the Texas Planning Board, has been invited to address the National Association of Securities Commissioners at their annual convention at Miami, Florida, in December.

"Mann, who was primarily responsible for the enactment of the Texas Securities Law, has long made a study of securities legislation. The Texas Law, in the opinion of securities officials in many states, is looked upon as a model of its kind. The invitation to address the Commissioners was extended by Harold K. Bradford, President of the Association, who wrote the Texas, several members of our Executive Committee and numerous Secretaries of State from different sections of the country have asked that you be especially invited to address us."

The local basket ball team met the Valley View team, at Valley View, near Paducah, for a good game Thursday night, where they defeated their opponents by a score of 24 to 16. The Roaring Springs football team are scheduled to meet the McAdoo team at McAdoo Thanksgiving day.

RELIEF . . .

200,000 Unemployables the number of employables still dependent and the necessity of carrying those transferred to Works Progress Administration rolls for 20 to 25 days.

Johnson said the last count showed 200,000 unemployables and 133,000 employables on state relief rolls. Unemployables were made a state burden under federal regulations. "Even if half of the 135,000 employables are taken over by WPA"

Johnson said, "we will have to carry them until Dec. 15, for WPA workers are paid semi-monthly."

Checks for $375,000, the last of available November state funds, were prepared for distribution to counties. Johnson said the Federal Government sent $600,000 to Texas this month and promised $675,000 more.

While relief rolls were pared, employes also were thinned in the relief organization. Approximately 1,500 "white collar" workers were released in the past 60 days, Johnson said, and by Dec. 15 an additional 500 or 600 would be dismissed.

"It will be very difficult for them to find work," he said. "A big percentage can do nothing but clerical work."

"... Or Let Them Starve"

There were scant prospects the Legislature effectually could aid the situation. Johnson said lawyers agreed the Constitution inhibited the Legislature from appropriating funds for the purpose while county funds available for the work were depleted.

End of state relief, Johnson said will return to the cities and counties the burden of charity formerly carried before Government aid.

"It will be their burden if we go out of business," he said. "There is no other way. They will have to do the best they can. Cities and counties will have to go back to the days before state relief and take care of them or let them starve to death."

In the meantime, he said, the local agencies likely will be called upon to assume some of the aid now provided by the State.

"If we have hardly enough money to provide food," he said, "certainly we can not continue to provide such as medical aid. Cities and counties will have to do their share on such as that."
