DUNCAN—KNIPE

Miss Opal Duncan and W. D. Knipe were united in marriage by 31st at the Methodist parsonage. Rev. Smallwood officiated.
The nice days of late is keeping the farmers pretty well employed in getting their spring crops planted. We've been having so much wet weather that they have been unable to finish their planting, and are certainly putting in full force now. They will no doubt be paid for their efforts this fall when the crops are gathered.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

On Wednesday afternoon The Irene Eldredge Missionary Society met with Mrs. L. B. Smallwood for a voice program and a business meeting. A real interesting program was given.

After the program quite a little business was discussed and was decided to change our meeting time from 3 o'clock to 4 o'clock each Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. A. A. Harp and Mrs. John Russell were welcome visitors, with Mrs. G. C. Mitchell joining our missionary society, and Mrs. L. C. Harp joining our study course. After which delicious refreshments consisting of sandwiches, ice tea, sherbert cake and salad were served to the following ones: Mesdames, John Russell,

A. A. Harp, Fred Simpson, E. E. Johnson, Tom Tilson, Philip Graves, U. L. Willie, G. C. Mitchell, L. C. Harp, C. E. Boyd, R. C. Mann, and the hostess.
We meet next Wednesday (June 10th) at 4 o'clock with Mrs. Tom Tilson at Whiteflat for Bible lesson.

Mrs. W. R. Cammack received a message on Tuesday of this week stating that Mr. Cammack had underwent an operation for appendicitis in a Kansas City hospital. We hope to hear of his speedy recovery.

Miss Willie Hutto, who has just completed her course at Hill's Business College, Oklahoma City, has accepted a position with the Matador Auto Co. Miss Willie has always been successful in anything she has undertaken and we are sure that the future holds success for her.

G. T. Meece, of Flomot, was a Monday visitor in town, enroute to Dallas. While in town Mr. Meece made it a point to call at the News office to get acquainted and also had us advance his time on the paper for a year.

Mr. C. D. Pyrtle wife and mother, of Flomot were in our city Monday of this week, the guests of Rev. and Mrs. C. D. Pipkin. They report the crops in that vicinity to be fine, and that the recent hail storm did but very little damage to crops.

NEW GIN AT MATADOR

Before the ginning season sets in this fall Matador will have another cotton gin. The new gin is being constructed by Sample Brothers and Cook of this city. The Gin when completed will be a five stand gin, and everything throughout will be new, modern and up to date, including boll breakers and cleaners. Part of the material for the new gin is now on the ground and the rest is on the road. The gins of this city had about all they could do last year during the ginning season and the way things look at present, there is going to be as much or more than the three can handle here next year. The new gin will be a great asset to the town of Matador.

WEST TEXAS FAIR ASSN PROGRAM

Abilene, Texas—With the awarding of the contract for a new $25,000 exhibit building at the fair park, the West Texas Fair Association is setting in motion a $40,000 improvement program looking toward record-breaking attendance at the All-West-Texas exhibition in the fall, and for the annual speed classic of West Texas, the Fourth of July races. The fair improvement program includes remodeling textile building and the agricultural building, new automobile entrances and the installation of coin turnstiles to care for the crowds.

For the July 4 event which draws each year West Texas' largest holiday crowds, the enlargement features additional grandstand room for more than 2000 people. The Independence Day races are held under the sanction of the A. A. A., the Abilene meet being one of the outstanding automobile gatherings of the entire state.

For this year, there will be special feature handicap events and the purses of $4,000 are the largest yet offered on the Abilene course. Fair Association officials stated that the increasing popularity of the Abilene automobile races, together with the speediest dirt track in Texas, and larger purses, were attracting more and more the premier speed kings of the country. There is a strong possibility that the 1925 events will see some of the most glamorous names of race history marked on the Independence Day program with assention of real thrills for speed fans. Time trials and scheduled for the preceding day, and the contest will be swift and snappy from the word "go". A "dustless track" is again assured the contestants and fans.
Another attraction to Abilene for the Fourth of July Celebration is the Bathing Girl Revue which is to be staged at Lytle Beach, Abilene's pleasure lake, following the races. Elaborate plans are being made for a distinctive show, with attractive prizes offered the beauties, and possible selection of "Miss Abilene" to the Atlantic City festival. Bath houses are being moved back to make more room for the promenade and the huge crowds expected to witness the revue.

A. B. Crump, of the Turkey country was a Friday visitor in town. While here he met up with the News editor, and by the way was enrolled as a reader to this moral weekly.

The News is in receipt of a money order this week from Mrs. Walter Canning, of Swearingen, Texas, instructing us to place her name on our rapidly growing list. Mrs. Canning says she thinks Matador situated in a fine country, and wants to keep posted through the News. We have known Mr. and Mrs. Canning for several years and consider them fine people. We are indeed glad to enroll them as readers of this moral weekly.

Mr. A. J. Spangier, of College Station is looking after business here this week.

MILLION DOLLAR MORTGAGE RECORDED

Mrs. Clara Lee Scott today is compiling the recording of one of the largest mortgages ever given on the property involved.
Texas Utilities Company are the mortgagors, their northwest Texas utilities properties being mortgaged to the Liberty Central Trust Company a St. Louis concern, with H. J. Mayer as co-trustee. The amount of the mortgage is $1,330,000. It is a series "A" mortgage.
The money is being obtained to take care of a heavy expansion program of the Texas Utilities Company, which will have several hundred miles of high-power lines and serve 20 or 30 towns when their system is completed.—Floyd County Hesperian.

TEXAS BAPTIST TO STRESS EVANGELISM

(By Carey Snyder)
Dallas, Texas:— A call for an evangelistic campaign to embrace every Baptist association in Texas has been issued by the executive board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas following its session in Dallas May 26. Dr. F. S. Groner, general secretary of the board has announced. The board has also requested every denominational school in the state to hold an evangelistic conference for its section just following the close of the present session of school.

In the evangelistic program which has been adopted by the executive board it is planned to appoint six state evangelists who will hold revival meetings at points in the state where they are invited by the local pastors and churches. The evangelistic program, according to the present plans of the board will be followed permanently as a regular policy of Texas Baptists.

Appointment of the evangelists who are to serve through the executive board will be made at the quarterly meeting of the board in Dallas June 19th. At this meeting it is planned to have every member of the board attend with a large number of laymen and pastors who are not board members.

The evangelistic program of Texas Baptists has been conducted largely through the associational missionaries and local pastors assisted by special evangelists. Last year the baptisms in Texas numbered 34,507, which was one of the best records yet attained. It is believed, however that a larger proportion of the members of the Baptist churches of the state can be enlisted in a personal evangelistic campaign through the state wide cooperation of all the Baptists, Dr. Groner said.

Mrs. Charles Waybourn remembered the editor and family with a nice lot of home grown peaches which were certainly fine. Mrs. Waybourn has a fine orchard and fruit of all kinds. She has peaches that will ripen every month from now until frost. We have fully decided that we have found the garden spot of the west right here in Matador.

Mrs. C. B. Boyd and daughter of Childress are visiting the families of her brothers A. A. and L. C. Harp this week.

SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLY

The Methodist Sunday School Rally which convened at the Methodist Church in this city last Sunday was well represented by the Sunday Schools of Roaring Springs, Whiteflat and Flomot. A splendid program was rendered consisting of readings, singing and instrumental music. Very appropriate and interesting talks were made by Judge Hamilton, Bro. Smallwood Rev. Smith, and Rev. R. L. Jameson. The entire day was devoted to Sunday School rally work. At noon an elaborate dinner was spread on the church lawn, which was enjoyed by everyone present. A similar rally will be conducted next 5th Sunday at Whiteflat.

CHURCH CARNIVAL

The W. M. U. of the Baptist Church will give a carnival Tuesday night June 9th for the benefit of the church. The carnival will be held on the vacant lot across the street from the Matador Light and Ice plant. The program will be a representation of a big carnival company, with its numerous side shows, consisting of fortune telling, magic tricks and the like. A real entertainment is expected, and all of Matador should turn out on this occasion. The Matador band will furnish the music. Ice cream and cold drinks will be served on the grounds.

EASTERN STARS MEET TO NIGHT

The local chapter of Eastern Star are meeting this evening for the purpose of installing the newly elected officers for the ensuing year.

NOTICE TO APPLICANTS

The Commissioners Court of Motley County is now ready to receive applications for stations testing head-lights of automobiles. Blanks and other information regarding the law and the handling of the stations will be furnished by the County Judge.

John Light manager of the Light Hotel became a little excited Tuesday afternoon of this week when a dog threw a fit in front of the hotel. John thought the dog was mad, and made a grand rush in the hotel for his gun. After a number of shots were fired he managed to get the poor dog down. He has been shooting at targets since to get in practice. We propose John as a candidate for official dog catcher.

PATRONIZE HOME INDUSTRY

Why should the people of any community patronize mail order houses of the larger cities, when the home merchant can furnish you with the same article of incomparably better quality for the same money, less the freight charges. The Merchants of Matador carry most every thing that you can think of, which they buy through large dependable wholesale houses, in large quantities which enables them to sell at prices that will compete with any whole sale house. It is true that the mail order houses manufacture most of their merchandise but the product is turned to the consumer at retail prices. Our merchants may have an article listed at $5.00, while the mail order house will list the same thing at $4.98. Naturally the later figures will attract attention, but when you buy your stamp, pay freight charges, and then on receipt of the merchandise you are dissatisfied, you begin to consider how bad you have been "stung". This trouble and dissatisfaction can be avoided by buying through your home merchant, or having him order the article you want through a dependable wholesale house.

THE AMERICAN CREED

"I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable, established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes. I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it; to support its constitution; to obey its laws; to protect its flag; and to defend it against all enemies."

We don't believe that this country will ever be perfect as long as its corn crop is changed to a liquid form instead of corn meal.

About the only difference between the flapper daughter and the flapper mother is their age. The latter should be about 20 years the senior, but you had better not reveal this fact to her.

If a man was able to speak a half dozen languages, he wouldn't be able to get very far, if he was married, because his wife would want to do all the talking.

We continue to get a few more compliments on the paper with each issue. People not only at home, but people from neighboring towns are complimenting us on what little improvement we have already made. We expect to put Matador on the map, and a good clean newspaper is one thing that it takes to do it.

We find among our exchanges this week a copy of the Briscoe County News, published at Silverton, Texas, by J. L. Nunn, with Paul L. Odor as editor. The News is successor to the Silverton Star, and this issue is the first that has been published with the new plant at home. It is full of good live news, and a well representation of advertising. We wish the new management much success in their new field.

The Santa Fe and other railroads are filing protests against the Fort Worth and Denver lines building their proposed lines in West Texas. Some railroads have their nerve and claim the whole world as their territory, and others can ask a large bonus for the territory they are tapping. We haven't heard of the Denver lines asking for nothing more than terminal and shop sites. The way things are developing Matadore might be favored with one of the Denver's proposed lines

We have already added about 20 new names to our list since taking over this newspaper plant and we expect to put on several hundred before the year is up. A newspaper should push the subscription end of the business. This not only helps him, but it also proves to be of much benefit to his advertisers. Practically all of our new readers are traders in Matador, and even one of them will no doubt buy enough merchandise through the influence of a good advertisement to more than pay for the ad itself. Every home in Matador and Motley County should receive the home paper, and we must get them on. So if you are not a reader, you had better look out, for every man we meet is going to be bounced about the proposition. The News must be spread over Motley county like a blanket.

Subscribe for the News.

Whether the railroad war that has been waged between the Santa Fe and Burlington, and various other proposed roads in West Texas is a "humbug" or not, it is causing considerable excitement over the country, and it may be instrumental in causing some company to construct a line through this section. A large number of people are beginning to believe the fight is a frame up in order to hold up rail developments in this section for the time being. If this is the case, why shouldn't the people get together and induce electric railway companies to tap this territory. One thing about electric lines, the percent of grade to the top of the cap-rock would be no obstacle.

Miss Willie Hutto and father made a business trip to Childress last week. Mrs. Fred Fulfer and children returned with them.

SKILLED IN "HIGH FINANCE"

Employee's Story Should Have Warned Banker That He Was Unsafe Man to Have Around

A neighbor of mine who was in at about time recently to tell me of a St. Louis banker friend who was in a self-serve restaurant one of his own employees. As the banker and his clerk sat munching their simple rations, the employee happened to look at his watch.

"Handsome watch, that," remarked the banker.

"Yes," replied the clerk, "it is a nice watch. Funny thing about that, too"—and he went on to tell how he happened to buy the watch. It seems that he was short of money at a roadhouse one night and was obliged to cash a check for $40, though he chanced at that moment to have no funds to his credit. The next morning he tried to borrow money to deposit before the check should come in, but was unable to raise more than $5. While wondering what to do, he happened to see the sign of an installment jewelry place. There he bought a $75 watch on a down payment of $5—after proving that he had a good business connection—and a few minutes later he pawned the watch for $40, which he promptly deposited against the check of the night before.

"I should immediately have discharged the fellow," the banker said, in telling the clerk's story. "He was too slick a man to have around a bank. But I didn't, and now—well, sure enough, last week he got away with $23,000."—Fred C. Kelly in The Nation's Business.

ISOLDE WAGNER'S DAUGHTER

German Courts Settle Dispute as to Legitimacy of Offspring of Famous Musician.

Frau Isolda Biedler, the eldest daughter of Richard Wagner, was born fifty-six years ago, although her mother, Cosima, was legally the wife of Hans von Bülow, the composer and pianist. In the period preceding Isolda's birth, Cosima, Wagner and Bülow lived together, but Wagner always regarded Isolda as his daughter, and named her after the favorite of his opera characters. Isolda became the wife of Johann Biedler, a well-known German orchestra leader. Several years ago she defended her illegitimacy in court, when her sister Eva sought to deprive her of any share in the Wagner estate on the ground that Isolda was the daughter of Bülow, not of Wagner. Eva is the wife of Houston Stewart Chamberlain, an English author, who is a naturalized citizen of Germany, and who, during the late war, received the Iron Cross from the ex-kaiser as a reward for his bitter attacks on England, published in the German magazines.

Frau Cosima testified to her belief that Bülow was the father of Isolda, but the courts decided that Isolda is Wagner's daughter.

There was a flutter in the Dale family when a letter arrived from the son and brother, Walter, announcing his marriage to Miss Hetty Perkins.

He had left his mother and sister on a month's vacation heart free.

"He can't mean it!" gasped Maud, who was proud of her handsome, high-spirited brother and had always counted on his restoring the old family prestige by wedding an heiress.

"And a bride from Greenville!" observed Flora. "That's where he had been staying. The very name has a flavor of hay and potatoes, and Hetty and I—kins! Plebeian enough to please the most democratic."

"Don't sneer, daughters, nor discuss it or spread it until we meet Walter's choice," chided Mrs. Dale. "It is certainly a matter of free will with him self alone as to whom he chooses to marry, and I have too much confidence in his sound common sense and judgment to believe that he would select a wife whom we could not respect. Since your father died we are in a family dependent upon his bounty, and we must give this newcomer the best welcome we can."

They were born aristocrats, were these two exclusive young ladies—at least they believed so. John Dale had cared well for his family while he was alive, but the extravagance of the loved ones he indulged as to every want and caprice had involved him at last.

"Land poor," Walter had pronounced the situation when he found himself facing serious debts and responsibilities. For two years the family practically lived on what was sold of their realty at a sacrifice. Then, after a sensible talk with his mother and sisters, Walter got down to the practical issues of life and attempted to influence them to do the same.

"There is only one piece of realty left clear of encumbrance," he said, "and that is the flat iron tract. It had some prospects five years ago, but since two railroads have encircled it, shutting it in like a back yard, no one would think of using it for residence purposes, and the only hope is that it may eventually sell for a factory site. Meantime I have secured a good position, so we can retain the old home here and live at least comfortably. You dear people shall be my care, no matter what comes."

And now a casual vacation had changed the whole current of his life. It was a case of love at first sight, the day he met Hetty Perkins. She was an orphan living with a married sister; attractive rather than beautiful, sincere, unpretentious and with a warm heart for everybody she met. The day she arrived at the Dale home, within an hour Flora and Maud were placated by her gentle, appealing ways, and Walter's mother, viewing his happiness, was content. Hetty had been brought up to strict adherence to household duties, and by the end of a week she was cheerfully assuming a due share of the domestic responsibilities of the household. Somehow she soothed the rancor and dissatisfaction of the sisters and encouraged her mother-in-law to hopefulness for the future, when she dilated on the certainty that Walter was the man to make a grand success in business.

"I am going to make a confidant of you, sister," said Hetty to Maud one day. "We all wish to help Walter, of course, and make his burdens lighter, and I feel certain that you will cooperate with me in a plan to effect that end. I went out to look over the flat iron tract this morning. Of course the two railroad embankments that inclose it, except for the boulevards cutting under them, make it valueless for building sites, but there is thirty acres of the best soil I ever saw. You see, I know a good deal about farming. I have noticed people around us cultivating a little patch of garden space, and raising a few stunted onions and radishes as if they were inestimable treasures. That shows the city hunger for something fresh and green. What do you think—it has given me an idea for a garden cafeteria."

Maud looked puzzled. "I don't think I understand what you mean, Hetty," she said.

"Why, just this: You know when I married Walter I had two thousand dollars I inherited from my mother. I offered it to him, but he refused to take it. Now I see a chance to invest it. You, with your splendid education and smart, quick ways at figures, shall be the manager of my great scheme. I understand how to direct hired workers to plow and till the flat iron tract. They will cut it up into blocks—this one planted to cabbage, that one to onions, another peas, and so on. And we'll try berries the second year. Well, we will inaugurate a new fad. The tract is right in the city and accessible to residents for miles around. A thousand automobiles pass through it daily. Rich and poor will be invited to visit the gardens with baskets, cut the heads of cabbage, uproot their own choice of onions, load up their baskets, and pass along to where our sweet and pretty cashier, Flora, collects the money for their purchases."

And Walter Dale never realized until six months later what a helpful, practical wife he had, when she revealed the secret of the family speculation and handed him a bank book showing balances in four encouraging columns.

CHICAGO ROUNDUP CAUSES BATTLE OF TONGUES

It's on again—the battle of tongues. At the grocer's, in the lobby, at church supper, in the saloon, everywhere there is a battle of tongues. Preachers base their Sunday morning sermons on the battle of tongues. Teachers discuss it among themselves and in their classes. They pass resolutions concerning it. "Subscriber" and "citizen" press the press humming with it. And like the cross-word puzzle, it will not add up—this roundup. Chicago got heretofore over it. It did much damage to the animal being ridden, roped or "bull-dogged"? split the great western metropolis into two fighting camps. The heat of conflict transferred itself to other places. Many societies took a hand in it and now from one end of this great country to the other, office boys and housewives and bank presidents alike find time amidst their duties to take one side or the other in the great talk-fest of the times.

George A. H. Scott, secretary of the American Humane Society and chairman of its committee on the Chicago Roundup and the World's Championship Rodeo staged in August. After witnessing dozens of rodeos in his line of duty, he feels that "bull-dogging" and broncho busting is far more dangerous to the man than to the animal. "If any one thinks a wild horse or a long horned steer is defenseless, let him try to ride or wrestle one. The only real cruel thing that the rodeo contains is the roping, and as only experts will take part in this rodeo, there is really no reason for interfering. The Chicago Association of Commerce will provide a real, clean thrill for thousands from every part of the United States, and it would be serving no good purpose to try and stop the spectacle."

But there are others—and the battle of tongues keeps merrily on.

They All Praise Buick

Ask any garageman, any mechanic, in fact, any person who knows motor cars, what he thinks about Buick. Invariably he will tell you that Buick is a thoroughly good, high grade and dependable automobile and that a person makes a genuinely satisfactory investment when he buys one. Then ask the Buick owners you know what they think about Buick. Do these things and you will quickly understand why Buick has sold over one million motor cars and why you, too, should own a Buick.

TRIUMPH FOR AMERICAN GIRL

Miss Margaret Robinson Secured Amnesty for Bandit Band on Condition That it Joined Army.

Is there no Homer in modern Greece singing the exploit of the American college girl who has freed Crete of its bandits? asks the New York World.

When Miss Margaret Robinson of Grand Rapids arrived in Crete as representative of Near East relief her efforts to aid the refugees encountered the predatory opposition of the Greek outlaw Barbounis and his band, who for fifteen years had terrorized the island. Sending an envoy to the robber chief, she began negotiations which resulted in the grant of amnesty to Barbounis and his followers by the government on condition of their serving the Greek army on the Turkish frontier, and the harassed population has since had the satisfaction of seeing the bandits sail away to join the "King's Own" regiment at Dedeagach.

Has a more romantic story come out of Crete since the time of the Minotaur? At least the feat of the American relief worker furnishes an interesting modern example of the kind of achievement which provided themes for the old Greek poets. Given, that it had occurred in remote antiquity, it might by this time have been embellished and elaborated into a great popular myth possessing enough historical truth to give it substance and adding a new female portrait to the familiar gallery of Ariadne, Antigone and Electra.

FIGHTING THE BOLL WEEVIL

Department of Agriculture Has Elaborate Plans for Further Effective War Against the Pest.

The work of the Department of Agriculture at Tallulah, La., in developing methods and apparatus for dusting cotton to kill the boll weevil, is being continued this summer and heavier planes are being used. In the spring three De Havilland 4B planes were developed by the War department for use in these tests, and competent engineers and pilots were also provided.

Previously, considerable work on this problem had been done with light machines, and the use of the larger ones has made it necessary to modify the distributing mechanism. Several types of dust hoppers have been made for meeting the new conditions, but it will probably require some time to develop a design which will be satisfactory.

Mr. Coad, who has charge of the boll weevil laboratory for the Department of Agriculture, expects to have a fully satisfactory permanent hopper installed in one of the planes for use in actual control work during the summer.

Several plantations near the landing field have been mapped and arrangements have been made for dusting the cotton with the planes. The results of the new tests will be awaited with interest by all those connected with the cotton industry.

Garden Annual Coming Back. The Russian Statice, Statice Suworow, is an old-time garden annual which has been neglected for many years but is again coming back, and strangely enough as a greenhouse plant, although it is an easily grown garden annual. It differs from the sinuata type in having long, branching spikes closely set with tiny rose pink flowers. The leaves lie flat upon the ground, somewhat resembling a plantain seed spike until the flowers expand and the branches develop. It is a very unusual appearing plant and very decorative for cutting, especially when arranged with the loosely branched lavender varieties.—Exchange.

Really Seemed a Miracle. My strangest and never-to-be-forgotten affair happened when my boy, aged seven, fell from the third floor when the porch railing gave way. He landed on his feet, got up and walked away uninjured. Neighbors seeing him fall say nothing but a miracle saved him.—Chicago Journal.

Celebrated Belgian Fowls.
The village of Brackel, in Belgium, enjoys the fame of having originated one of the most celebrated races of domestic fowls. The Belgians do not hesitate to assert that the Brackel hens are unequalled for the excellence and number of their eggs, while the roosters have developed, thanks to generations of cultivation and influence of "crowing tournaments," a power and rhythm of voice equally unrivaled. The breeders have a theory that the musical contests in which the Brackel roosters are trained serve to develop the peculiar qualities of the race. However this may be, it is certain that cultivation has differentiated these fowls from all others.

"I know, my dear," said the old aunt, "that it is hard for you to be so homesy and not to be invited by the boys to go on these joy rides and road-house parties, but at least you have the satisfaction of knowing you are entertaining a clear conscience."
"Yes, no doubt," sighed her homely niece, "but a good-looking sheik could entertain me a lot more satisfactorily."

Too Cool for Fever.

"Spring fever" the doctor repeated the query. "Well, this year hasn't been good for it. The mornings have been too cool, and the evenings too chilly. Good spring fever weather is like good corn weather. It has to be warm for close to 24 hours. When that happens in May, and early June look out for people who imagine they lost all the 'per' they ever had, and if they are forty and over, they indulge in depressing contemplation of a speedy death from old age. One of the most curious things about a rattling good attack of spring fever is that the symptoms come just when a chap has a desk heaped with work that has to be done immediately. As a matter of fact, that is the only time a fellow really wants to loaf."—Detroit News.

Animal Plagues Let Loose.

The true reason for famine prices of some articles of farm produce in Europe is given by Dr. E. A. Watson of the Health of Animals Branch of the Canadian Agricultural department, Ottawa. He says that it comes from disorganization and paralysis of the veterinary service in many parts of Europe. This has allowed infectious disease to spread from country to country, such as foot and mouth disease. So in several European countries milk, butter, meat and other animal foods are almost beyond the reach of the common consumer. Much suffering and ill health results especially among the children.

Gratitude.

"The recent outpouring of sentiment and sentimentality over the author of 'Home, Sweet Home,'" remarked a Detroit newspaper man, "did not impress me greatly. I happen to know that the flowers placed on the grave of Payne on the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of the song were the first floral offerings placed there in more than 20 years."—Detroit News.

Henry Ford captured a coyote pup Monday morning of this week right on the streets of Matador, as he was coming from his home to town. The animal had previously been captured by some boys of the town and had escaped. Of course Henry didn't know this and he thought he had made a real wild catch.

We would like to see a ball team in Matador. There is plenty of good material here, and there is no reason why we should not have a good team.

INFORMATION SERVICE POSTAL DEPARTMENT

While it is generally accepted that this is not the age of miracles nevertheless, there are thousands of patrons of the United States mails who will take it for granted that Uncle Sam has many wonder-workers on his pay roll.

The very fact that there are wizards in the employ of the Post Office Department—men and women who are uncannily, to say the least, in deciphering illegible hand-writing—has caused no end of trouble and expense to the government as well as to the taxpayers, along with inconvenience in the receipt and delivery of mail matter.

Yet, with all this expert handling and careful study of hand-writing on the part of the postal clerks the annual revenue from dead mail matter received by the government amounts to approximately $300,000.

Last year, the Dead Letter Office received $120,000 from the sale of orphaned packages which could neither be forwarded to the addressees nor returned to the senders because of inadequate addresses. The same office turned into the United States Treasury $55,523.96 in cash removed from misdirected letters of found loose in the mails.

Postage stamps were taken from letters or found loose in the mails having a value of $12,165.67 almost double the entire revenue of the postal service in 1789.

Three-cent fees collected for the return to senders of letters which could not be delivered $92,007.54.

But this is not half the story. Checks, drafts and money orders, whose owners could not be located, and amounting to $3,545,542.54 finally found a resting place in the Dead Letter Office.

For want of correct or complete addresses 21,000,000 letters were deposited in the Dead Letter office, not to speak of 800,000 parcels which had been improperly addressed or wrapped.

Strange to say, this depositing of letters and packages in the mails with incomplete, inadequate or incorrect addresses and wrapping comes, in a large majority of cases, from those patrons who are the most liberal contributors to this branch of the United States government.

It has been estimated by postal officials that 200,000,000 pieces of mail are given "directory service" every year, which means that employees must take time from the regular handling and dispatching of mail in the endeavor to provide correct addresses for this huge volume of misdirected matter. In New York City alone, the cost of this service approximates $500 every day in the year and the total amount through the country is stupendous.

While the revenue from the Dead Letter Office is sufficient to keep that branch of the postal service functioning it is not nearly enough to pay the annual toll for support of the "NIXIE."

A "NIXIE" is a letter or parcel so improperly addressed that it can neither be delivered to the addressee nor returned to the sender without special treatment. This special treatment costs the Postal Department or the taxpayers in the final analysis, approximately $1,740,000 every year. In order to lift this tremendous burden from the shoulders of the Postoffice Department and on the pocket books of the American people, the first week in June has been set aside by Postmaster General New as "Better Mailing Week". An active, nation-wide campaign will be conducted during that period for the purpose of impressing on the mailer the necessity from every viewpoint of using more care in the addressing of his mail, not only letters but parcels as well.
