New Order To Change Status Of Family Men

Those Married With Children Will Be The Last Called

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Family men and key war workers will be the last to be called to the colors by local draft boards under new orders sent out today.

Draft headquarters announced four categories to govern the order under which men will be called up on the basis of dependency, leaving married men with children as the last to be inducted, but emphasizing that they could count upon no permanent deferment.

Meanwhile Paul V. McNutt, War Manpower commissioner, changed his previous work-order to give men with essential skills a chance to find jobs in vital war industries before being taken into the army. Previously selective service boards had been asked only to defer essential workers who actually had key jobs.

The draft headquarters ruling was in line with the bill President Roosevelt signed yesterday granting allowances for soldiers' dependents. The ruling established general groups to be inducted in the following order:

"Category 1. Registrants otherwise qualified for military service who have no bona-fide financial dependents.

"Category 2. Registrants otherwise qualified for military service who have financial dependents other than wives or children mentioned in categories 3 or 4.

"Category 3. Registrants otherwise qualified for military service who have wives with whom they are maintaining a bona-fide family relationship in their homes and who were married prior to Dec. 8, 1941, and at a time when induction was not imminent.

"Category 4. Registrants otherwise qualified for military service who have wives and children or children alone, with whom they maintain a bona-fide family relationship in their homes and who were married prior to Dec. 8, 1941, at a time when induction was not imminent.

When a local draft board runs out of men in the first category it will dip into the next one and so on.

Other aspects of the draft headquarters orders are explained in the following questions and answers:

Q. Will it be compulsory for local draft boards to classify their registrants into the four categories and call up men for service in that order?

A. Selective service headquarters said it was the "expressed intent of congress" under the new law and insofar as practical should be followed.

Q. Will a married man who is now subject to induction be reclassified according to the new categories?

A. The directive is not retroactive but local boards were advised that "in order to give immediate effect to the general intent of congress, registrants should be selected for induction according to the four categories it outlines." Officials said that in many cases the directive probably would have no effect on men now in process of induction who might have been in a deferred category if the action had been taken by congress earlier.

Q. If it is possible for a married man to be placed in the first category?

A. Yes, if the wife is not dependent upon him. She might work and have a salary large enough to support herself or she might have sufficient independent income. The wife's dependency is the vital issue.

Q. Will some married men be called ahead of others?

A. Yes. Local draft boards must fill their calls for men on time and it may be necessary for some of them to dip into the lower categories before others. One board may not call men registered with another.

Q. When may married men and married men with children expect to be called?

A. That depends upon the reserves of men their local boards may have in the first two categories and the ultimate manpower requirement for the war effort.

Texans Protest Negro Troops

AUSTIN, June 25 (AP)—Governor Coke R. Stevenson revealed today that residents of Brackettville had protested the war department's assignment of 1,500 negro troops to Fort Clark which is near the Southwest Texas town.

Second Front Plans Shaping? — 'European Theater' Chief Named

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Major General Dwight D. Eisenhower has arrived in London and taken command of the European theater for American forces. It was announced today by the war department, which defined a theater of operations as "an area where combat is in progress or will be."

Eisenhower, a native Texan and an armored force expert, went to his post in London from an assignment as chief of the operations division of the war department's general staff.

The department spokesman who defined "theater of operations" explained that such a theatre usually is divided into the combat or front line zone and the line of communications but added that "with air power so important there is little difference now between front and rear areas."

The brief announcement was made without reference to current speculation on the possibility of a second front in Europe.

Major General James E. Chaney has been in command of American forces in the British Isles, and officials did not disclose his new status. Major General Russell F. Hartle remains in command of American forces in Northern Ireland.

In a statement by General Eisenhower on his arrival in England, which the war department released, the new commander said "the formal establishment of a European theater is a logical step in coordinating the efforts of Great Britain and the United States."

General Eisenhower, a native of Tyler, Tex., is 51, and has been a key member of the war department general staff for the last four months.

Known as an expert in armored force operations, he came to the war department in February as chief of the war plans division after having served as chief of staff of the Third Army at San Antonio, Tex. He was put in charge of the operations division on April 2.

Military Fund Likely To Be Questioned

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—A searching examination into the immediate need of a record-breaking $42,500,000,000 army appropriation was reported today by a senate committee today as Senator Truman (D-Mo) announced he would seek to cut down any expenditures that did not appear to be fully justified at this time.

In a move regarded in some quarters as the first serious congressional questioning of huge military appropriations, Truman told reporters he and other members of an appropriations subcommittee were interested in determining the actual need of making available all of the amount in the house-approved bill — the largest cash outlay ever proposed before the legislative body.

"I want the army to have every cent that it needs," the Missouri senator said, "but we are going to examine into every phase of this thing and if they are building up a big backlog of appropriations that won't be used for months or even years, I am going to move to cut some of them down."

Conceding that a strong effort might be made in committee to whittle down the measure, Chairman Thomas (D-Okla) said he had insisted that Gen. George G. Marshall, army chief of staff, appear before the group personally for a general justification of the appropriations.

Large Crowd Sees Bombing Pictures

One of the largest turnouts yet assembled for an air raid warden meeting was present at the city auditorium Wednesday night to view films of a series of actual bombings, air attacks, and duties of wardens in an attack.

The films were shown by W. E. Naylor of Austin, of the state department of public safety. Methods of fighting incendiary bombs, the United States attack on Jap-held Marshall Island, and air raid wardens in action were also viewed by the group.

E. B. Bethell, who is in charge of the organization of air raid wardens in the county, spoke briefly and emphasized the need of taking such training now. The point made by New York's Mayor La Guardia, that "if we never need what we learn, we lose nothing; if we never learn what we need, we lose everything" was emphasized in discussions of the need of future training of air raid wardens.

24 Tires And 62 Retreads Granted

Certificates for purchasing 24 new tires and 62 retreads were granted this week by the local rationing board.

Of the new tires only three were for passenger cars, while 23 for trucks were issued. Retreads for 29 passenger car and 33 truck tires were granted.

Thirty eight new tubes, 16 for passenger cars and 22 for trucks, were also approved.

FD, Churchill Talk With Solons On World Events

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill of Britain gave congressional leaders today a 40-minute review of "the world situation," touching on the British defeat in North Africa and the opening of a second front in Europe, and the legislators called the survey "very satisfactory and very encouraging."

Speaker Rayburn told reporters that the Libyan phase of the war was covered "in some detail" and that a second front was mentioned "incidentally." That subject, he added, "always comes up, of course."

Japs Tighten Island Hold

Imperial Tokyo headquarters asserted today that Japanese military and naval forces were widening their seizure of the U. S.-owned Aleutian Islands, off the coast of Alaska, as President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill summoned the Pacific war council to discuss the Japanese threat.

A Tokyo communiqué said Japanese sea-borne forces occupied Kiska and Attu Islands on June 7-8, and declared:

"They are at present consolidating their positions in neighboring islands. Unconfirmed elsewhere, the Japanese claim was the first intimation that the enemy was extending his occupation of the desolate, fog-shrouded chain of islands which point like a dagger toward the heart of Japan."

TWO FLEAD GUILTY

Two men appearing before County Judge Walton Morrison pleaded guilty to charges of driving while intoxicated. Glenn Petree appeared Wednesday afternoon and Edgar Luther Hawkins, from Oklahoma, Thursday morning. Each was fined $50 and costs and their driver's licenses were suspended for six months.

RAF Cadet Hanged As Woman Slayer

LONDON, June 25 (AP)—Gordon Frederick Cummins, 28-year-old RAF cadet stigmatized as the most notorious killer since Jack the Ripper, was hanged today in Wadsworth prison for the slaying of Mrs. Evelyn Ostley, 32, one-time actress.

Mrs. Ostley was one of four women Cummins was accused of killing in a series of blackout murders.

Dutch Harbor Raiders Met Heavy Fire

SEATTLE, June 25 (AP)—In the first dramatic eyewitness report of what happened at Dutch Harbor, evacuees and seamen told upon arrival of a transport here how the Japanese air attack at 5:45 a. m. June 3 caught civilians by surprise and how the gallant gunners on their ship and ashore laid a deadly screen of anti-aircraft fire about the raiding planes.

While the Army and Navy men manned the anti-aircraft guns, some of the ship's crew snatched up rifles and blazed away at the dive bombers.

Lifting of the military restrictions disclosed that the commander of the Dutch Harbor naval base issued a commendation for courageous duty under fire by the Army transport's crew and the gunners.

How many Jap planes were downed has never been announced officially. Reports brought by the witnesses to the raids failed to clarify the point.

Service men aboard the ship were tight-lipped about what damage was done at the Dutch Harbor base, but several said "the damage was light — considering."

"Considering what?" interviewees pressed a ruddy-faced Army corporal.

"Considering that no matter how long you've been warned and have been expecting a raid, there's bound to be some surprise when they finally do come over in force," he replied. "No matter how much stuff you toss at them, some of them are bound to get through."

Unalaska's Mayor Fletcher, on his way to confer with Indian Bureau authorities about the evacuation of natives "who were shaking like leaves" after the air attacks, said in a description of the scene:

"There was a hell of an attack in the harbor on this ship we came down on. It occurred before the passengers were aboard. The men at the guns put up a curtain of fire that was deadly. The dive bombers couldn't get very close."

"They talk about these Japs having bad eyesight," he continued. "That's a lot of bunk. Their eyesight is plenty good and they didn't lack any courage up there. I saw one getting a blaze of anti-aircraft fire on his nose, but he kept right on coming."

Action On Ballot Awaits Ruling On The Kilday Case

The Howard county democratic executive committee will take no action toward drawing for names on the ballot until after the supreme court rules on the James Kilday petition that he be certified as the sole candidate for one railroad commission place.

L. S. Patterson, county chairman, said Thursday that there was no occasion for haste since absentee balloting does not start until July 5. The committee met Monday to draw names for ballot places but held off on advice from the state executive committee.

Henderson Budget Due For A Slash

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Congressional critics of Leon Henderson squared off today for a body blow at the federal price administration's pocketbook.

Appropriated of a house appropriations subcommittee's action in cutting in half Henderson's money request for next year's operations of the OPA, economy bloc leaders said the cut was not enough. They promised a fight on the floor for further reductions.

The subcommittee approved $95,000,000, a reduction of $44,000,000 from the amount recommended by the budget bureau and $105,000,000 less than Henderson asked for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Ickes Wants War Oil Board

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Creation of a $500,000,000 war petroleum corporation was urged today by Secretary of the Interior Ickes to prevent "probably unnecessary stringent rationing orders and perhaps actual shortages of petroleum or some of its products for direct military use."

He told the house banking committee that, under the terms of the legislation, the corporation would be charged with the specific duty of causing:

1. The delivery of petroleum and petroleum products into essential areas to meet military and essential civilian demands.

2. The expansion and most efficient use of petroleum transportation facilities.

3. The production of the necessary amounts of the specific petroleum products required for the war program and to meet essential civilian demands.

4. The maintenance of adequate reserves of petroleum or such petroleum products as are of strategic importance in quality or as to location.

5. The return, upon such terms and conditions as will protect the public interest, to the natural underground reservoir or other disposition of petroleum products purchased by the corporation for the purpose of assuring the production of other petroleum products.

Second Czech Village Is Wiped Out By The Nazis

LONDON, June 25 (AP)—The Czech community of Lesany in Bohemia has been razed by the Nazis on the accusation that the villagers had parachutists involved in the slaying of Reinhard Heydrich, "protector" of Bohemia-Moravia. It was reported today in Budapest radio broadcast heard by a Czech government listener here.

This was the second village wiped out by the Germans in vengeance for the death of Heydrich, the Germans having reported June 10 they had slain the male population of Lidice, near Prague, sent the women to concentration camps and the children to "educational" institutions.

Heavy Losses Suffered At Sevastopol

MOSCOW, June 25 (AP)—The gigantic German offensive against Sevastopol is slackening somewhat, because of the great losses suffered by the attackers, Russian dispatches said today, but the battle still is violent against a severely outnumbered garrison of the Crimean port.

Already, in the 21-day assault, six German and Rumanian divisions have been defeated, three others have suffered staggering losses, and 150 Nazi tanks and hundreds of planes have been destroyed, said the Russian accounts.

US Bombers Again In Action Against Axis Supply Port

CAIRO, June 25 (AP)—Powerful Axis tank forces thrust more than 60 miles into Egypt today, forcing the British to fall back under a covering fire, but United States army fliers dealt the enemy a punishing blow with a second raid on the big supply base of Bengasi, 350 miles to the rear.

British army headquarters announced that the British Eighth Army had abandoned the frontier strongholds of Salum and Sidi Omar and that Nazi Marshal Erwin Rommel's advance forces were southeast of Sidi Barrani, with British mobile units fighting a fierce rear-guard action.

The RAF disclosed that the Germans and Italians in heavy strength were moving across all day yesterday to the south of Bir Sheferson, which is 15 miles south of Sidi Omar and about 60 miles from the Mediterranean.

Flying Tigers, Blast At Japs' Inland Base

CHUNGKING, June 25 (AP)—With a force of its fighting planes doubling as bombers, the American Volunteer Group has attacked Hankow, Japan's major inland base in occupied China, and sunk one Japanese warship and three transports in the broad Yangtze there.

Heavy Losses Suffered At Sevastopol

MOSCOW, June 25 (AP)—The gigantic German offensive against Sevastopol is slackening somewhat, because of the great losses suffered by the attackers, Russian dispatches said today, but the battle still is violent against a severely outnumbered garrison of the Crimean port.

Already, in the 21-day assault, six German and Rumanian divisions have been defeated, three others have suffered staggering losses, and 150 Nazi tanks and hundreds of planes have been destroyed, said the Russian accounts.

While the Russians thus held doggedly on at Sevastopol, there was a developing struggle for the Donets and Odol basins southeast of Kharkov in the Ukraine.

A communique which told of overnight operations on the Kharkov front, where the Germans have been attacking since June 23, said only that our troops fought against the enemy, but gave no details of the course of the battle.

The war bulletin added, however, that "on other sectors of the front no substantial changes took place."

"It declared the defenders of Sevastopol in the Crimea were 'displaying unparalleled heroism' and were waging a 'self-sacrificing struggle against superior forces.'"

(The German high command acknowledged today for the first time that its forces had undertaken a Ukraine offensive southward of Kharkov on June 22, anniversary of the invasion of Russia. The Berlin communique reported further gains into the Sevastopol defenses in bitter "forest and house-to-house fighting.")

Bigger Scrap Drive Needed

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Frodoon Chief Donald E. Nelson told congress and the nation today that raw materials shortages, admittedly due in part to a "too little and too late" policy, eventually might force the scrapping of metal fences, gates, stately and other decorative works.

"There are very few important materials concerning which the government does not need to take positive action," Nelson declared in a report to the special senate defense investigating committee.

"Some programs we now realize, with the benefit of hindsight, were clearly undertaken too late, and others were conceived in far too niggardly a fashion. Lack of foresight in requirement has certainly been all too prevalent, whatever the causes of such lack may have been."

While asserting that production of raw materials was steadily increasing, Nelson cautioned that scrap collections would have to be stepped up markedly.

Veteran Peace Officer Dies

SAN ANTONIO, June 25 (AP)—Major Jackson Decatur Moore, 68, veteran peace officer, painter, historian and Texas Ranger of World War No. 1, is dead.

He was overcome by heat late yesterday while in the midst of a conversation with J. R. Myers, with whom he has been visiting. Rushed to a hospital, he died shortly afterwards.

A former ranger captain, Moore last year was commissioned a major in the Texas Defense Guard and authorized to organize a mounted guard battalion in Brewster county. He enlisted more than 100 veteran horsemen of the Big Bend county, many of them ex-Texas rangers, in the battalion.

Major Moore was noted as the painter of "Old Blue Stier"—reproduction of a famous trail leader of early Texas cattle drivers—which hangs in the Pioneer Memorial Museum in Brackettville Park here.

Heavy Demand For Canning Sugar

An increasingly heavy demand for canning sugar has been reported by Walter Wilson, secretary of the local rationing board. Dozens of applicants appeared this week, many of them coming because of a report that no more applications for canning sugar would be accepted after this week.

The report is false, Wilson said, however, and the board will continue to handle canning sugar of Monday and Friday of each week.

Be Sure Your Sins—

HOUSTON, June 25 (AP)—Fast sins against their trees are arising to haunt Harris county motorists who apply to the rationing board for certificates for new tires. W. T. Boyd, head of the tire section of the rationing board, said today.

The names of all applicants are being checked against police traffic court records, Boyd announced, and those with a record of convictions for speeding and reckless driving—driving practices that burn up tires—will receive a flat "no" from the rationing board.

The War Today -- Hitler Now Suffering Damage That He Can No Longer Repair

By DE WITT MacKENZIE
Wide World Analyst

The weight and ferocity of the new Nazi attack against the Russians in the Kharkov sector indicates that Hitler finally is settling down in earnest to the bloody business of trying to crack the Red line in this gateway to the golden Caucasus.

The master gangster's previous assault in this zone more than a fortnight ago apparently was to improve his positions in preparation for a major offensive. Just how much he achieved hasn't yet been made clear, although he did force the Russian line back in places. This fresh drive, now in its fourth day, may be the real thing.

Judging from reports the battle thus far has in effect been a triumph for Red Marshal Timoshenko's fighting devils. The Germans have dented the Soviet line in the Donets Basin, but appear to have done so at a terrific cost in life and materiel. Naturally the attacker's losses are far heavier than those of the defense — something like three to one under normal circumstances and heaven only knows what in the present instance.

Thus so long as the Bolsheviks can prevent a break-through they are making long strides towards victory even though they remain on the defensive. This is so because Hitler is now suffering damage which he no longer can repair. He already has under arms about all the physically fit men he can call, without bringing out the very young or those beyond their prime. Further — and this is important — he has passed the peak of his war production and cannot increase his output. He is facing the down grade.

Can the Russians continue to hold the Nazis and keep them from breaking through at the resources of the Caucasus and middle east? That's the knes of the gods, but the indications are that while Hitler still possesses vast power he isn't as strong as he was a year ago when he recklessly assaulted the Reds.

If sacrifice of German youth could turn the trick, the Nazi all highest would succeed. The only regard a German commander has for the lives of his soldiers relates to the number he can afford to throw away. Life in itself means nothing; the objective is everything. That's militarism, the result of a brutal training which starts with babyhood.

Down on the Crimea there is perhaps even more sanguinary fighting as the Nazis press their siege of the great Red naval base of Sevastopol. Berlin this morning reported that Axis troops had penetrated deeper into the Russian defenses and that street fighting was proceeding. I should say that the position of Sevastopol is critical.

vegetables not prepared in their skins. Baking is a good method of cooking.

4. Cook Them In A Small Amount of Water.

5. Cook them in large pieces. — Less surface is exposed if vegetables are cooked whole or in large pieces. That means more water soluble nutrients are retained.

6. Use the Liquid in Which Most Vegetables Are Cooked.—Likely it contains an important proportion of water soluble nutrients. "Pot likker" has good flavor, too.

7. Begin Cooking Vegetables in Boiling Water.—Air present in cold water destroys vitamin C.

8. Cover the Utensil.—This prevents the loss of vitamin C and makes it possible to use less water. There's one exception to this rule: Covering green vegetables may cause loss of some green color. However . . . the utensil will be covered if the vegetable will cook in a short time, such as "five minute cabbage." For green beans, peas, etc., the utensil may be uncovered for the first five minutes and then covered.

9. Cook Vegetables Until Just Tender.—This helps them keep their natural flavor, form, and color plus more nutrients. Crisp vegetables are better than mushy ones.

10. Don't use soda. Alkali destroys valuable nutrients such as vitamin C and thiamin of the B family.

11. Eat Raw Vegetables Often

Poor cooking of vegetables has caused many people not to eat enough of them. Raw vegetables have more nutrients especially C, than cooked ones, and many of them such as cabbage, carrots, and spinach make excellent salads. Whether you cook them or eat them raw be sure you eat and everybody else eat daily:

One green leafy or yellow vegetable
One other vegetable
Potatoes
Tomatoes, cabbage and other fruit rich in vitamin C.

Victory Council Is Human Chain Of Communication

There is much confusion in the minds of farmers and even among Victory Leaders themselves as to the part the victory council is to play and how it works.

First it is not intended to cause any unnecessary travel or involve much loss of time from needed farm work. But there must be some means of carrying on the war work in an organized fashion. Perhaps the trouble is that a great many people have not yet found out that they themselves are in the war. That was exactly the way it was in France, in Belgium, Holland and other nations that have been enslaved by the axis nations. They are now shelling our western coast. This should wake us all up to a realization that every person in America must help to defend our freedom.

The Victory Council, a human chain of communication, was set up for this purpose. Briefly it consists of neighborhood victory groups with two neighborhood victory leaders, a man and a woman. These neighborhood leaders will know all of the people living in their small neighborhood and can furnish information concerning their needs and pass on to them information. Here we are handicapped by not having telephones. But did you notice how, if a scandal is started, everyone soon knows about it. Well, why not spread useful information in the same way? The only trouble is that we don't consider the useful information important enough and we forget to say anything about it.

Now the neighborhood victory leaders of a community have next in the chain two community victory leaders, who with representatives of the government agencies make up the county victory council.

The labor survey now being undertaken will illustrate how it works. The neighborhood victory leaders knowing their close neighbors were sent labor blanks to fill out for those who did not turn them in. A blank had been previously sent to each farm operator in the county with instruction to fill out and give it to the neighborhood victory leader nearest them.

This could not be handled direct from the office, because we do not have the names of families who are not operating farms and because many would receive the blanks and not fill them out. The survey must be complete in order to get enough cotton pickers for next fall. We thought that neighborhood victory leaders could at least give part of the information required.

Now when the neighborhood victory leaders had checked and found that all were included they would turn these papers over to their community victory leaders. The two community victory leaders would then get together and check up the community and mail the sheets to the office.

This would have caused any one but very little trouble or inconvenience. Then when the reports from the communities were in we might be able to complete the survey by checking with the A.A.A. records.

In this human chain farmers deal with their neighborhood victory leaders. Neighborhood victory leaders deal with their group on the one hand and with their community victory leaders on the other. Community victory leaders deal with their neighborhood leaders on one hand and with the county agent's office on the other. Because of the lack of telephone in the communities the mail will be used from the county agent's office in all cases where it will serve the purpose, and save the time of leaders. No other work not closely related to the war may be undertaken by the victory council.

Every farmer is expected to cooperate in the war effort as an appreciation of his citizenship in the most favored and greatest nation on earth. This is the least we can do to back up American soldiers in the life and death struggle of this country in every part of the world.

Suggestions On How To Get Most From Vegetables

Vegetables are classed among the protective foods because of the minerals and vitamins they contain. Scientists say that vitamin C is the most easily destroyed nutrient, so if we are successful in retaining vitamin C we have done a good job of saving our vitamins and minerals.

Do you prepare vegetables in a way that retain their nutritive value? You do if you follow the rules below. If you break many of the rules, the vegetables you eat are not what they could be.

Fontilla Johnson, county home demonstration agent, gives ten "commandments" for cooking vegetables.

1. Cook Vegetables Soon After Preparing Them.—When held in water, pared or scraped potatoes, carrots or other vegetables lose water-soluble vitamins and minerals.

2. Use All Edible Parts.—The outer leaves of cabbage and lettuce contain more iron and vitamin than the bleached, inner leaves. Dark green outer leaves sometimes contain 30 times as much vitamin A as the white, center leaves. Remember: Beet and turnip tops are good sources of iron and vitamin A, too.

3. Prepare Vegetables In Their Jackets Often.—The cortex of the potato (the outer covering) is rich in minerals. Usually, when a potato is pared, these minerals are lost. Scrape or pare thin most

by Joe Marsh

MAYBE I shouldn't admit it, but there are a few things about this writing job I really like.

For instance, I like the part where . . . after all the writin' and the routine is done . . . I just set back and think about things in general. (Oh, yes, that's part of the job, too.)

Doesn't matter much what I think about. Sometimes I concentrate on one thing. Sometimes I think of lots of things, one right after the other.

Usually, when I get to thinkin', I send down for some beer. Seems a glass of beer not only touches the spot but it also sort of helps the thinkin' mood along.

After all . . . when you stop to think about it . . . beer is a simple, natural thing to read somewhere that all it's made of is good, wholesome farm grains and water and a little yeast . . . with hops for flavor. Nature's process of fermentation and the age-old art of the brewer does the rest.

I guess that's why beer is so wholesome. It really is the beverage of moderation. You just can't imagine anybody getting into trouble drinking a few glasses of beer.

Well, here I am . . . going on and on thinking and talking about beer. Probably could go on for hours. That's the way I am when I set back and get to thinking about things.

And by the way, taking it easy and "just thinkin'" is fun. Try it sometime . . . quiet and comfortable like.

Joe Marsh

I like to hold my glass of beer up to the light and look through it. That beautiful, golden-amber color kind of fascinates me. Reminds me of the sunny barley fields where beer gets its start.

Committee Finishes Work On $5,924,000 Tax Measure

Income Levy Is Hiked And Excise Rates Boosted

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Taxes estimated to raise $5,924,000,000 from corporations, individuals, and steeply-increased levies on such common luxuries as cigarettes were tentatively recommended to congress today by the house ways and means committee.

The committee turned the hundreds of pages of the measure over to drafting clerks but reserved the right to inspect it once more before sending it to the house finally for a week's debate beginning probably July 14.

Just a fraction over two-thirds of the $8,700,000,000 which Secretary Morgenthau said was "the least" that congress should provide, the new taxes would offset only a small part of the vast war expenditures voted since Pearl Harbor and still would leave the treasury the task of borrowing at least $30,000,000,000 in the fiscal year that begins July 1.

The bill—some of which still may be reversed—was completed last night after more than three and one-half months of consideration. It was conceded that by the time it is approved by the senate and

$1,300, but retained the present $400 credit for each dependent.

On the theory that the additional burden might be too heavy for the improvement, they adopted a payroll deduction formula, beginning next January, amounting to 10 per cent of the difference between taxable income and personal exemptions.

Half of these "withholdings" would be applied against 1942 taxes due in 1943; the other half would accumulate in 1943 as a credit for that year's taxes due in 1944.

In the excise field, the committee proposed to raise about $800,000,000 in additional revenue, with liquor taxes accounting for $339,000,000 of the total.

Cigarette taxes were raised from $3.25 to $3.50 a thousand; various taxes on telephone and telegraph bills were about doubled; and the federal 5 per cent tax on train fares was revised to 10 per cent.

The committee extended the excise tax field to parimutuel wagers, freight and express and decided that the postoffice department should raise second- and third-class mail rates—under which newspapers, periodicals and advertising matter are handled—sufficient to offset the annual deficit of $102,800,000 which they incur.

Just before completing action last night, the committee reversed a previous action and discarded a treasury proposal to require married persons to file joint individual income tax returns—a move which administration experts estimated would have yielded about $420,000,000. It was eliminated at the insistence of community-property state members.

probably adopted finally by a joint senate-house conference committee, the effect of proposed excise taxes would be lost for most of this year.

The committee built its measure around $5,000,000,000 in increases to be paid starting next year by corporations and individual income taxpayers.

About $2,291,000,000 of that would come from corporation excess profits rates raised from 60 per cent maximum to a flat 94 per cent rate, and from business normal and surtaxes boosted from 31 to 40 per cent.

But, on the theory that such high excise profits rates might drive many a corporation to the wall or deprive it of enough reserves to carry it through later slack business periods, the committee approved a modification on the British plan of postwar credits.

That program contemplates periodic issuance of bonds to corporations equal to 14 per cent of the excess profits which would be subject to the 94 per cent rate. They would mature in three annual installments beginning with the second year after the war and would provide a cushion for post-war rehabilitation.

From individuals, the committee proposed to take another $2,730,000,000 in a manner which would double the March 15 tax bills of the low and middle income groups.

The members agreed first, to raise the normal tax rate from the present 4 to 6 per cent. Then they boosted the minimum surtax rate, applicable to the first 2,000 of net income from 6 to 12 per cent.

The committee voted to lower the personal exemption of a single person from $750 to $500 and of married couples from $1,000 to

$1,300, but retained the present $400 credit for each dependent.

On the theory that the additional burden might be too heavy for the improvement, they adopted a payroll deduction formula, beginning next January, amounting to 10 per cent of the difference between taxable income and personal exemptions.

Hot Weather Helps Cotton

AUSTIN, June 25 (AP)—Texas crop prospects were improved on the whole last week by a good spell of "cotton weather," the U. S. Department of Agriculture and Texas Agricultural Service reported today.

Harvesting of small grains went forward rapidly, with a start made in the Panhandle as weather conditions were nearly ideal for that work. In areas previously too wet to work in the fields, it was possible to get at the cultivation and hoeing of row crops with consequent improvement in crop prospects.

In several scattered areas corn and feed crops were suffering for lack of moisture, but were still holding on. Cotton profited greatly by the warm, sunny weather which appeared to check development of insect infestations.

Small grain harvesting spread into the Panhandle where a start was made on winter barley and the earliest wheat. Wheat was ripening fast there, but not prematurely, and early returns indicate yields might exceed earlier expectations.

War Chest Is Organized At Colorado City

COLORADO CITY, June 25.—Thirty representatives from various clubs and service organizations throughout Mitchell county met this week to complete plans for a permanent Mitchell county war chest.

Ford Merritt was named chairman; Jack Helton, secretary; Charles Moser, treasurer, and J. Ralph Lee, Dr. W. S. Rhoads, and Helton were appointed a committee to select vice-chairman from each town and community in the county.

The war chest organization is being perfected to facilitate drives for the various causes necessary to war work on the home front. In the future, the responsibility for all such collections will be in charge of the permanent committee. Suggested by the Lions club of Colorado City, the movement is expected to eliminate over-subscription of one quota and under-subscription of others.

Under the plan, all money donated to such organizations as the American Red Cross, the USO, etc., will go into the war chest and in case of over-subscription, the surplus funds will revert to the general chest to be held in reserve for later drives.

A wartime dessert that's deliciously different

Yes, this Victory Pie is so good we'll wager you will continue to make it even after the war—when sugar restrictions are no longer necessary. The unique flavor of the blended cream cheese filling with the fruit gelatine, topping will delight your friends and family. Easy to make with Mixmaster, or by hand if you haven't one.

INGREDIENTS:
1 pint either fresh strawberries, raspberries, or peaches
3/4 cup honey
1 package strawberry gelatine
6 ounces (about 3/4 cup) cream cheese
1/2 cup cream

METHOD: Bake pastry shell. Cool. Wash berries. Add honey. Prepare strawberry gelatine following package directions. Cool until gelatine begins to thicken.

Add berries. Combine cream cheese and cream and beat on No. 1 speed until blended, then on No. 8 speed until it is like stiff whipped cream. Spread the bottom of pastry shell with this mixture, reserving half for garnish. Chill until firm. Put remaining mixture into a pastry bag. Pipe large rosettes around edge of pie, or cheese mixture may be dropped from a teaspoon to form a border. Makes one 8-inch pie.

PASTRY SHELLS: 3/4 cup all-purpose flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup shortening. Ice water. Sift flour and salt together and add shortening, broken up. Beat at No. 1 speed until pastry resembles coarse meal, about 5 minutes. Add just enough water to hold mixture together and roll out on floured board.

Pilot Stranded In Swamp. Eats Hoppers And Owl

SOMEWHERE IN AUSTRALIA, June 25 (AP)—A United States fighter pilot forced down after a battle with a Japanese bomber, has come out of the crocodile-infested swamps of northern Australia to tell of a three-day ordeal which drove him to eat grasshoppers and raw owl meat.

He is a 27-year-old lieutenant, married and a former printer apprentice on the Columbia (S.C.) Record.

The pilot said he climbed out of his damaged plane uninjured. He had been forced down several months before, he related, "but this time I had only a quart of water in my canteen."

"I spent the afternoon on the beach, between the sea and a swamp, cutting a disc from my parachute to protect myself from mosquitoes and making two cloth circles, hoping to attract attention to the plane," he said.

"The next day I set out at daybreak, leaving a note fastened to the plane saying I was heading north as I knew an island where food could be had."

For three days the pilot beat his way through great matted roots, vines and grass head-tail, able to travel only three or four miles from dawn to sundown.

"All the time I had no food," he continued. "But suddenly I remembered the boys had told me about eating lily roots. There were lilies in the stream. They are nice eating, too."

"Once I toppled over in long grass and lay too exhausted to move. My eyes lighted on a long grasshopper."

"Hell," I said, "I'm going to eat you too."

"I tore off the head and tail and ate the legs and the rest of it. Not so bad. It tasted like crab meat."

Later on, he killed an owl. "I ate that owl's legs raw, planning to save the rest," he said. "Then a saw a crocodile and heard a plane."

"Still clutching the dismembered owl in one hand, I tottered to the beach. In a matter of seconds the plane flew a few Texas overhead. A canteen and a big can of food plopped at my feet."

"I threw the owl to the crocodile and dropped to the ground, crying like a baby. But not long. I tore into the food can with a knife like a maniac."

"Hours later a plane landed near the beach and an Australian pilot helped me aboard."

Celebrate July 4th With Picnic Fare To Bring You Compliments

When you celebrate the Fourth of July this year make plenty of Star Sandwiches for your porch picnic. To make them, cut enriched bread in 3-inch stars—any star-shaped cookie cutter does the trick. Spread the cut bread with butter or fortified margarine and cream cheese. For a shower of compliments dust nutmeg lightly over the cream cheese.

Star Sandwiches have an extra share of good flavor when a few chopped green olives are added. Two tablespoons of chopped olives for each hard cooked egg used in the making of this nutritious filling will make the flavorful difference.

A spreadable mixture of peanut butter and honey on buttered triangles of enriched bread satisfies any sweet appetite found hanging around the picnic table.

Slices of cold meat loaf wedged between slices of enriched bread and spread with racy chili sauce just before eating make sandwiches destined to please.

Old-fashioned buns from the kitchen or bakeshop have been picnic celebrants for years and years. Fresh from the oven and packed in a napkin-lined basket, these rolls are excellent carriers of slices of clove-studded baked ham.

Be sure to include some raisin bread sandwiches spread with honey and cream cheese mixture if the picnic is to be a festive success.

War Bond Contest For Farm People Is Announced

Announcement has been made of a Win-the-War Bond contest sponsored by Allis-Chalmers in co-operation with the U. S. Treasury department, appealing directly for the investment of farm dollars in the future of our country—an investment in our whole land of the free America, without whose protection no one's few acres can be safe from loss.

The purpose of the contest is to bring War Bond buying to the thoughtful attention of farm and ranch people. It provides an incentive to buy War Bonds to the limit of each one's ability—with no strings attached except to buy bonds. And it seeks reasons from farmers and ranchmen themselves on "Why Farmers Should Buy War Bonds."

The contest offers 125 prizes for winning letters of 100 words or less on that subject. First prize is a $1000 War Bond plus a tour with all expenses paid for the winner and one other member of the family to the Allis-Chalmers factory in Milwaukee to see weapons of victory in the making. The tour will include a side trip to Great Lakes Naval Training Station, and war conditions permitting, a cruise on a U. S. Navy ship. Second prize is a $1000 War Bond; third is $500 in War Stamps; and 122 other prizes range from $400 down to $10 in bonds and stamps.

Anyone operating or living on a farm may enter by listing with his letter the serial number of a War bond denomination of $25 permit bonds denomination of $25 permits one entry. Complete rules and entry blanks may be obtained from Allis-Chalmers dealers or by writing to the factory. Entry blanks, however, are not required to win. All letters should be submitted to Allis-Chalmers, Tractor Division, Milwaukee, Wisconsin before midnight, Sept. 15, 1942.

Cosden Firm Indicted On Hot Oil Law

News that a federal grand jury in El Paso had indicted the corporation on charges of violating the Connally "hot oil" law brought no statement Thursday from officials of the Cosden Petroleum corporation, because they had no knowledge of details of the case.

News Is Too Good For Bond Sales

WASHINGTON, June 25. (AP) - Treasury Secretary Morgenthau today blamed "over optimism statements about the war" for a lag in war bond sales, which he said made it improbable that June sales would reach the quota of $800,000,000.

"When the news is good, people just can't get mad enough to buy bonds, it seems," he said.

Another Lad Confesses Burglaries

Fingerprints had trapped another 13-year-old lad Thursday into confession of two burglaries.

While county authorities considered the case of a youngster who admitted to breaking and entering the Clyde Waits home twice within a week, police cracked the case of a residential burglary on Johnson street and one of the Big Spring Feed and Seed stores.

When prints were picked up on the feed store job, the classification fit that of a local boy whom officers had questioned in connection with another matter weeks ago.

Officers, however, picked the youngster and made new prints. They compared perfectly. Confronted with this and told plainly he could choose to tell or not to tell, the boy studied for several minutes. Like the lad the day before, he finally broke into tears and told of burglarizing a home on Johnson street.

"But," said Police Chief J. B. Britton, "that's not where we found these prints."

"Then it couldn't be but one other place," defended the boy, and named the feed store as his second field for operations.

Art Goebel To Be Speaker On July Fourth

Major Art Goebel, famous aviator and winner of the historic Dole flight from the West Coast to Honolulu, is to be the speaker at the third annual July 4th patriotic celebration here.

Maj. Goebel, one of the pioneers of aviation, is attached to the Midland Army Flying School.

Other program details were not announced by the chamber of commerce except that there would be a "musical, patriotic program, capped by the usual fireworks display."

The display, incidentally, has been shipped and will be set up as customary on the escarpment north and northeast of the amphitheatre where the program is staged.

Students Wanted In Pre-Glider School

An urgent need for 10 students in pre-glider training exists and must be filled within a few days, it was announced by an aviation defense coordinator here Thursday.

Men 27-35 years of age are preferred. Full details may be had by calling 1147.

Those who sign for the training would be in the army air corps enlisted reserve corps provided they can pass regular commercial physical examination and a new mental test.

Draft Policy Means Little Change Here

Reaction of men registered with the Howard county selective service board to the new draft regulations as regards dependency approached complete disinterest here Thursday.

Instead of there being a rush of men to the office of the board to see how the new regulations affected them, office clerks said there had been only a few inquiring, perhaps no more than ordinary.

Wednesday telegraphic instructions had been received to halt induction of married men with dependents temporarily, presumably pending passage of the law, which was signed Wednesday evening by the president.

However, the instructions were virtually in line with policies followed by the local board, which has been extremely reluctant to send men married before the declaration of war. Several married men have gone into service, but in the majority of cases they were no longer supporting either wife or children.

Matthews' Brother Prisoner Of Nazis

John L. Matthews learned Thursday that his brother, reported missing in action over Germany on May 13, is a prisoner of war in Germany.

Word was relayed by his mother after Howard, a Dallas youth, had been able to write from his prison camp. The letter was dated May 28. No other details were contained in the communication.

Howard, a Canadian-trained pilot, had been in England for about a year with the RAF.

Mrs. Matthews, whose brother, Fred Fullerton, was reported missing in action in the Pacific shortly before her husband's brother was lost, has heard no more from him.

Miss Bennett To Ride At Snyder

Big Spring's cowgirl sponsor for 1942, Miss Louise Ann Bennett, will go to Snyder Friday morning, to participate in events for the feminine riders of that town's annual rodeo.

Snyder sponsors of the western event this year are giving war bonds and stamps as prizes, and the winning sponsor will share in such awards. Social courtesies, including a dance, will be held for the visiting girls.

Rodeo events are slated for Friday and Saturday.

Inventory Problem To Be Studied At Friday Meeting

So great was the response Thursday morning at the chamber of commerce office to an offer to furnish information for filing cost-of-living inventories that a general meeting has been set for Friday at 8 p. m. in the Settles ballroom.

So many were calling at the chamber office that officials felt it would be wise to try a blanket explanation of the inventory procedure.

These lists must be filed with the local rationing board by July 1, according to OPA regulations. Although the date was extended from June 1, comparatively few have turned in their lists, and fewer still of these were correctly done, said board officials.

J. H. Greene, chamber of commerce manager, said that the meeting Friday evening would continue as long as there were questions to be answered.

Miss Laneous Notes

By MARY WHEALEY
There are many ways to tell when summer has officially arrived. There is the thermometer, which many people swear by, and the calendar, which many others believe.

Then there are the sun tans and chigger bites, the outdoor picnics and the post cards from vacationing friends which others use as proof of the time of year.

But the means we use to tell about summer, comes under the head of attitudes.

When we shudder at the thought of walking two blocks out of our way and visions of a swimming pool keep interfering with our work, then we know it is summer time.

When we've got it figured down to days and nights as to how long it will be before getting that two-weeks-with-pay, and we consult train schedules and the wobbly bank account daily, it's a cinch spring has been left behind.

Also when we look with scorn on anything heavier than a cotton dress, drink gallons of ice tea and soda pop, and revel in leaving off silk hose for cotton socks, then regardless of what the weather man, calendar or thermometer says, it's summer time.

When we prop ourselves up at a desk and try to look intelligent from time to time while our thoughts go wandering off a dozen different by-paths and we hide yawns behind a book or newspaper, we know for certain—sure that we've got summer time in our heart and nothing on our mind!

FUNDS FOR TEXAS

Fruits Can Be Put Up This Summer Without Any Sugar

Grandmother put up berries, cherries, peaches, and apples with nary a speck of sugar because SHE thought the fruits kept better and had more natural flavor, especially for pies.

Sugarless canning is easy to do and fruits keep equally well, and are just as rich in minerals and vitamins, canning without sugar. Canned fruits may have sugar added for serving, but the regular ration should take care of that.

To can fruits without sugar, select from ripe fruit and prepare as for ordinary canning. Simmer fruit until hot through, in its own juice, or in enough water to prevent sticking. Pack hot fruit into jars and process in hot water bath: apples 20 minutes, apple sauce 20 minutes, berries 5 minutes, cherries 10 minutes, peaches 10 minutes, pineapple 30 minutes, plums 10 minutes.

If oven is used, process each product 20 minutes longer than time given for water bath processing and use 275 degrees F.

If you use the open kettle method, stew the fruit until tender in its own juice or in a little water and seal while boiling hot in hot jars that have been boiled 20 minutes to sterilize.

One-third of Canada's population is French-Canadian.

Lions Club Installs New Officers At "Ladies Night" Affair

State Secretary Makes Talk On Club Activity

New officials of the Big Spring Lions club were installed at a "ladies night" program in the Settles ballroom Wednesday evening to the accompaniment of a challenge to work to make the club's contribution more significant.

Roy Keaton, Austin, state Lions secretary, declared in the main address of the evening that work was the key to any achievement. Only limitations for creative service can make club life a drudgery he said, and that there can be no grippers and workers at the same time.

Lionism, asserted Keaton, calls for a program of real activities, one which produced 60,000 separate and distinct undertakings by affiliated clubs last year. The challenge now, he continued, is to work to make your Lions club mean something to you, to your community . . . to the other fellow.

District Governor H. C. Pender, Lubbock, perceived that the new spirit was to make the American way of life significant, "to make it worth dying for." Jos Pond, past district-governor, spoke briefly, declaring real responsibility in rehabilitation lay ahead for groups such as Lions clubs.

Installation was in charge of District Governor-elect Murray Fly, Odessa, who announced that Schley Riley, retiring local president had been appointed as district-deputy governor, the second such honor to come to a member of the local club in three years.

Installed were Lawrence Robinson as president; Kink J. Sidas, Jack Y. Smith, and Larson Lloyd, vice-presidents; Dan Conley, secretary-treasurer; K. H. McGibbon, Lontamer; Stoney Henry, tall-towler; and Dean Bennett and Hack Wright, directors, and J. L. LeBlou, holdover director.

Entertainment for the evening was furnished by Shirley June Robbins and Betty Bob Diltz, in vocal selections and novelty numbers, accompanied by Mrs. Anne Gibson Houser. Program was in charge of Jack Smith. Guests included Mrs. Pender, wife of the district governor; Mrs. Fly, Mr. Tucker, deputy state administrator, announced here today.

Refreshments were served and next club meeting will be in the home of Betty Newton. Those present were Mrs. Clyde Thomas, Jr., Mary Ann Cox, Betty Bob Diltz, Barbara Laswell, Marjorie Laswell, Betty Jo Pool, Verma Jo Stevens, Jo Ann Switzer, Doris Nell Tompkins, Emily Prager, Cella Westerman, Billie Frances Shaffer, and the hostess.

The group attended a theatre party after the meeting.

Teen-Age Has Firm Grip On Fem Tourney

CHICAGO, June 25 (AP)—The new women's golfing crop—the teen-age gang—has taken a firm grip on affairs in the Women's Western Open golf championships, and Jeanne Cline is a better than fair example.

A vivacious miss of 18, whose passion is her sports program over a Bloomington, Ill., radio station and whose business is tournament golf, Jeanne with the dark brown hair has taught her elders a thing or two about driving as she trots over the Elmhurst fairways.

Typical was her winning sock in the drive contest. She outdrove Mrs. Jim Ferrier, wife of Elmhurst's pro, by 72 yards. Jeanne can hit and she can chip and her putts are pat, which spells up to a pretty good game of golf.

Miss Cline never has won a major tournament and faces a difficult time in this one, especially in this afternoon's quarter-final match with Georgia's Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta.

Jeanne turned on the heat yesterday to defeat the 19-year-old Miss Brown of Texarkana, Ark., 1 up, by taking the 17th hole and fighting for a halve on the 18th.

Besides the Kirby-Cline match in the lower bracket, Dorothy Foster of Springfield, Ill., and former National Champion Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., were paired.

The upper bracket listed Marjorie Row of Detroit against Virginia Ingram of Winnetka, Ill., and Phyllis Otto of Atlantic, Va., against Sallie Sessions of Muskegon, Mich.

Texans Freed By Japanese

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—The names of seven Texans were included in a list of 629 Americans which the state department announced were scheduled to return from Japanese-held territory under exchange agreements made through Swiss authorities.

They are to return on a Swedish motor ship which is carrying Japanese diplomats and nationals to Portuguese West Africa in the first step of the exchange. It was expected this group, with United States diplomatic officials, would be repatriated within 60 days.

The list included W. R. Attkay of Dallas, from Hongkong; from Korea, Mary Dodson of Austin; from Japan, Dr. Lardner Moore whose wife and children are at Burnside; from Hongkong, W. R. Sherman of San Antonio; C. J. Livingston of Sherman, and T. C. Westbrook of Tereana, and from Thailand, Robert Perry Abel of Dalworth.

Dr. Moore has been a missionary in Japan for 15 years and his parents were missionaries there for a decade. He was graduated from Austin College; was born in Japan, but is an American citizen.

Livingston, also an Austin College graduate, has represented the Texas company and other oil companies in China for the last ten years. His wife and father reside at Sherman.

Mary Dodson, a Presbyterian missionary in Korea for more than 20 years, last visited her home in Austin in 1938. Her sisters, Mattie and Sarah, live at Austin. A brother, William, lives at Burnet.

Looking 'Em Over

With WACIL M'NAIR

The strong arm of organized baseball discipline encircled Grover Selts, manager of the Clovis Pioneers when he was meted out a fifty-dollar fine and a 90-day suspension for "too-strenuous treatment" of an umpire. The action grew out of a fracas at Lubbock on May 21, when Selts protested, quite vigorously, some strikeout decisions by Umpire Red Norman. It was reported that Selts ripped off Norman's mask and chest protector and then threw the mask at the umpire's shins. The fine was imposed immediately and the suspension came Wednesday by order of William G. Bramham, president of the national association of professional baseball leagues.

What's this talk about the St. Louis Cardinals being picked to wind up third this year? Only last week the former gas housers were just "waiting for a chance" to unseat the Dodgers. But when their band wagon pulled out of Ebbets field after that last series with the bums, the experts were looking dubious. Now they've come to the conclusion that sensational pitching is the only thing keeping the Red Birds alive and that the Cincinnati Reds may replace them in second place before the end of the season. Mere speculation, of course, but a notable change from the talk of a week ago.

If any pitcher is remembered in years hence for the game he pitched on Tuesday, June 25, 1942, it probably will be Larry French of the Dodgers, but there was another masterful game tossed that night, although few outside of Texas know about it. Little Sal Glatto, who has followed a stony path for the Dallas team for so many seasons that his name just automatically goes on the roster each year, chunked a two-hitter at the San Antonio Missions. Since Sal has been with Dallas for the past few years, his individual career is somewhat similar to that of the club. When the team was called the Steers it had some good years and a lot of bad ones. Since taking on the Rebel name it has won a pennant and now is deep in the league cellar. Glatto has had practically the same experience, but the little curveballer can still fool 'em occasionally.

Attention has been called on more than one occasion to the Army's concern over other branches of the service stepping in with attractive offers to young college men, especially athletes. The Navy and Marines have been getting the cream of the crop from the athletic departments and no doubt the Army would like a similar recruiting system. But, according to reports from New Mexico A.&M. College, maybe the Army isn't missing so much after all. Head of the Military Science department there has offered the suggestion that college men are concentrating too much on football and other competitive sport and that it is causing many of them to fail physical examinations. He got his point over so well that a proposal to abandon intercollegiate football is now under consideration by New Mexico A.&M. officials.

C. T. McLaughlin and Co., Inc. and Couden Petroleum Corp. are joining for a new test in Mitchell county near the area where first commercial oil production was developed in the summer of 1920.

A 2,000-foot cable tool test has been announced and will be known as the No. 1 H. J. Griffin, 680 feet from the south and east lines of east 100 acres of the north half of section 26-28, 1s, T&P.

Plans call for the test to start July 5 on location five miles south of Westbrook and eight miles southwest of Colorado City, not so far from the Dockrey & Robbins No. 1 Cora Brown "airwell" test and two and a half miles southeast of the Renetex Oil Co. No. 1 Conway, chalked up as a failure at 3,245 feet.

Claude Gets His Eleventh, Bucky No 8

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Those two hardy perennials, Claude Passeau and William (Lucky) Walters, are bidding strongly for the pitching leadership of the National league again. This year most of the attention in the senior circuit has been given to Mort Cooper of the St. Louis Cardinals, with his five shutouts, and Lefty Larry French of the Brooklyn Dodgers, with his unmarred record of six victories and an earned run average of less than one per nine innings. But Passeau and Walters made their claims heard anew last night with standout performances.

Passeau pitched a four-hitter for the Chicago Cubs to beat the Philadelphia Phils, 5-1, and attain his 11th victory. The most games any pitcher in the major leagues has won.

He has accounted for one third of the victories the second-division Bruins have scored this season.

Walters, like Passeau, hasn't had much help from his teammates, with Cincinnati ranking last in the league in both batting and fielding, yet last night he scored his eighth success against five setbacks by holding the New York Giants to six hits over ten innings to lead the Reds to a 4-3 decision in a twilight tussle.

The Reds' triumph coincided with a double defeat for the St. Louis Cardinals to close the gap between second and third place to a single game.

The Redbirds were beaten 5-3 and 3-1 at Boston by the Braves yesterday as Jim Tobin and Rookie Willard Donovan turned in two nice pitching jobs.

In the American league the New York Yankees captured their second straight decision over the St. Louis Browns, 6-4, with Joe DiMaggio, Charley Keller and Tom Henrich each getting two hits.

Broadway Charley Wagner came up with his second 1-0 victory in a row as the Boston Red Sox stopped the Detroit Tigers on his three-hit hurling.

Lefty Al Milnar, who has been struggling with little success all season, organized a five-hit 9-0 shutout of the Philadelphia Athletics for the Cleveland Indians.

John Humphries shut out the Washington Senators, 4-0, for the Chicago White Sox. Catcher Tom Turner assisted with a grand slam home run.

7,500 Lbs. Of Scrap Rubber Collected In Forsan Area

FORSAN, June 25 (Sp)—Woodrow Scuddry, who is heading up the rubber collection in this area, said today he had received around 7,500 pounds of the salvage material.

Henry Parks brought in the greater amount, some 685 pounds. The American Mariacbo Oil Co. sent in 615 pounds, Roland Howard 600, Frank Thieme 550, G. B. Mo-Nallen 415, and a Mr. Mitchell 515.

J. R. Smith's 2-1/2 pound donation has been the only gift made of the scrap thus far. Best one yet was the sale of one pound of scrap rubber by a child, who took his penny, walked across the street and purchased a penny rubber balloon.

Semi-Pro Ball Gets Boost From Service Teams

WACO, June 25 (AP)—More than 100 teams in army camps, air fields and industrial plants have brought a marked increase for semi-pro baseball in Texas this year, A. H. Kirksey, state commissioner, said today.

Preparing for district tournaments to be held by July 19, Kirksey pointed out that the average small town now is not able to muster sufficient men because most of the men of baseball age are in the service, but that the service teams have more than offset this loss.

Only one district tournament has been arranged, that being at Abilene. Franchise rights will be granted to any newspaper or sports promoter in any other city to hold such tournaments with the district winner assured a place in the state meet.

The state tournament will be held at Waco July 23 to Aug. 9 with such fine teams as Shepherd Field, Camp Barkley, Camp Walters, North American Aviation, Shipbuilders of Houston, Randolph Field and Ellington Field having already expressed a desire to enter.

P. E. Teacher Faces Goodman

KANSAS CITY, June 25 (AP)—A Denver schoolman added final flavor to a second-round match of the Trans-Mississippi golf tournament today when he faced Johnny Goodman, three-times champion.

John Kraft, physical education director of Denver schools, is rated the best putter in the tourney and given an even chance to upset the Omaha who once held National Amateur and Open crowns.

The winner of the Kraft-Goodman battle will pause briefly to catch his breath, then tackle Jim Walsh, 290-pound Kansas City railroad engineer, or Art Wangler, Kansas City. Walsh and Wangler tangle while Goodman is seeking to dispose of Kraft.

The survivor may meet either the defending champion, Frank Strashan of Toledo, or Don Smith, of St. Joseph, Missouri state champion, both of whom are expected to survive today's round.

Few Favorites Left In Collegiate Play

SOUTH BEND, Ind., June 25 (AP)—Picking the next national intercollegiate golf champion is like playing the old blindfold game of pinning on the donkey's tail.

The field was cut from 64 to 18 players yesterday and Earl Stewart of Louisiana State, the defending champ, was virtually the only favorite left for today's 36-hole match play, which will have the list of four semi-finalists.

Stewart is just one of the boys who makes college golf interesting. Chick Evans, the old master who is chairman of the N. C. A. A. golf committee, has found the college players' secret.

"They swing with a freedom and abandon not found in the more experienced, more inhibited player," he observed. "They have not yet discovered the overwhelming diffi-

NEW YORK, June 25 (AP)—Fats Henry, who was only an all-American lineman 23 years ago and more recently athletic director at Washington and Jefferson college, will attend the eastern Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Football Coaches' clinic as one of the students.

He figures he needs a "refresher" course since he'll coach the football team this season. . . . This brings up the point that a lot of old timers will be back in harness since the younger fellows are going into the armed forces. Maybe next fall's games will feature the flying wedge and the old-fashioned "T" formation.

Subsidy Idea Not Liked By Oil Industry

TULSA, Okla., June 25 (AP)—The idea of a subsidy for oil companies forced by price ceilings to suffer losses is not well received by many mid-western executives.

They feel that the only answer to losses is higher prices for products.

Many companies, especially those operating in the east, have watched their transportation costs mount rapidly and some of them are dipping heavily into the red in marketing of products. Transportation of crude and refined products by tank car costs several times as much as the normal peacetime transportation by tank ship and pipe line.

Some executives feel that should a subsidy be instituted it might be difficult to terminate it after the war. Payment of a subsidy, they added, would tend to give the federal government a greater control of the oil business.

Russell E. Brown, counsel for the Independent Petroleum Association of America, declared that the sentiment of the association membership "is generally that this matter should be taken care of through price adjustments."

He said that the feeling is rather general in the association that the provisions of the price subsidy bills are too broad and that the powers delegated under them "might prove embarrassing at some future date."

Marketmen here say there are indications that Price Administrator Henderson may approve an increase in gasoline prices along the east coast as much as three cents a gallon. Such an increase, they said, would go far to correct the situation.

12,000 Watch Cats Lose To Houston 8-6

By The Associated Press

A crowd of 12,688 Fort Worth fans, gathered for a good-will party, saw the Houston Buffs take apart the home team 8-6 last night and pull up to within one game of the second-place Shreveport Sports.

The Buffs lost no time in getting underway, scoring six tallies in the first inning, thereby presumably turning some of the good will into a little sour. Leaving nothing to chance, Houston pushed over the other two runs in the second, letting the Cats creak along behind in a futile effort to overcome the huge lead.

Shreveport meanwhile was taking a 4-3 shellacking at the hands of the Indians in the final game of a series at Oklahoma City. The Rebels lost 3-1 to the San Antonio Missions at Dallas. The Beaumont at Tulsa game was postponed.

Oklahoma City achieved its victory before a booster night crowd of 6,000. The Indians scored two runs in the third and two more in the fifth, the two latter tallies being driven in by Catcher Danny Doyle with a two-bagger. The Sports sent one man home in the first and got their only other run in the eighth.

Starting Pitcher H. K. Perry's wildness led to the Dallas defeat. He walked batters in the first and second innings, giving San Antonio a run in each frame. The Missions got another run in the fifth, although they didn't need it. The Rebels scored their lone tally in the first.

Washington Daybook— Washingtonians Even Take Rooms On River Boats

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON—The Capital in Wartime

For the first time in history, the Washington Monument—which vies with the Statue of Liberty as the nation's greatest landmark—is making money. Unless you are a child or a member of the armed forces in uniform, you now pay 10 cents to ride up in the Monument elevator. You can't duck it by climbing the stairs either. The stairway is closed for the duration. The first day of the 10-cent elevator fee brought in $72.60. It's a small sum, but not when you multiply it by 365 days. Out of the almost 1,000 persons who took the ride to the top of the monument on its initial payday, more than 200 were on the free list. The idea of charging a dime for an elevator ride to the top of the monument emanated from Secretary Ickes' Department of Interior, which supervises all national parks and memorials. Why, somebody asked, shouldn't all memorials be made to pay for their upkeep in these days of super-taxation?

Washington housing problems are creating strange little resident communities but none stranger than the yacht and houseboat tenants tied up along the Potomac. One yacht owner with a four cabin boat has rented cabins to four young naval officers—rental, $30 a month per cabin—not bad when you consider that the owner couldn't get fuel enough to chug back from a drift into midchannel under present gasoline rationing. A woman government official has leased another immobile yacht, with a single cabin, for $100 a month. It has luxury furnishings, but no shower. Every day the lady walks two blocks to a riverfront seafood restaurant to get her scurrying under a shower marked "For Women Employees Only."

Speaking of housing, there has been more talk and less construction of government war worker dormitories here than almost anything else in the war program. Although housing agencies generally deny that there is anything wrong with the proposed program, the verbal threat of "forced billeting" is getting louder daily.

If your boy friend (etc.) in the armed forces is honored with a war "medal" for heroism, distinguished service, or special merit in training, and comes home with only a strip of ribbon on his chest, don't doubt him. The frequently awarded medals nowadays are operating under the same priorities as refrigerators, tires and juke boxes. When the war is over and medals are cleared of restrictions, the medals will dangle from those ribbons. It's an Army and Navy promise. Until then, the ribbons will have to do.

Editorial - - Can Federal Unemployment Aid Cease?

The Work Projects Administration—WPA for short—has almost joined the ranks of the unemployed. More than that, it was threatened with becoming nonexistent before it squeezed through the house of representatives with the requested appropriation which President Roosevelt had cut to $280,000,000 from the $575,000,000 of a year ago.

Coinciding with this vote the Board of the Social Security Board gives an interesting graph and tabulation of the trend of public and private outlays for unemployment relief and charitable assistance during the thirteen-year period from 1929 to 1941, inclusive. This shows the comparative disappearance of private charity under a mountain of government aid, either federal, state, or municipal, which has taken the forms of WPA work relief, local general relief, old-age assistance, aid to dependent children, and aid to the blind.

Private funds, which rose from $11,000,000 in 1929 to a maximum of $89,000,000 distributed in 1932 in the effort to assuage the effects of depression, slumped back to $10,000,000 in 1941. Meanwhile, federal relief took over with expenditures which reached a peak of $1,430,000,000—more than twenty times the maximum of private relief—in 1938, several years after the low point in business and employment. From this point one may project the figures so as to estimate from the current appropriations that less than $500,000,000 will be distributed to individuals by the WPA, the Federal Security Agency, and local welfare departments in 1942.

Even this, while WPA appears to be shrinking to a shadow of its former self, is ten times the volume of general relief, special aid, and private charity which existed in 1929. Though approving old-age assistance, which will represent nearly half the increase, one may reasonably feel that federal unemployment relief could be eliminated altogether when a prospective period of virtually complete employment is reached. One may wonder, too, if there is not something to be regained by getting back to a basis where more charity will come from voluntary sources and less from taxation which encourages a disposition to lean on the government.

MRS. MURDOCK TAKES A CASE

Chapter Ten
The Story
"Ah—nuts. One of these days I'm gonna—" He choked off, turned away, turned back quickly, pointing the stogie. "But just one, understand?"

Murdoch was adjusting shutter and focus. "Over by the body," he said. "You and the Sergeant. Block it off a little, will you, and try and look interested..."

"All right," Bacon said when it was over. He was still growling, but without rancor. "Now who else was at that cocktail party?"

Murdoch told him. That he was here at all had been largely a matter of chance. On his way home from the Courier-Herald he had passed within a block of police headquarters and on a hunch had stopped in to see if Bacon was on duty. A well-known labor organizer had been murdered three days previous and he had wanted to know if anything new had developed. As a result of his curiosity, he had been in Bacon's office when the telephone call came.

He put away his camera as he finished talking and took a turn about the room, which was a typical furnished-apartment layout, with a few inexpensive reproductions and some well-worn overstuffed pieces. The fingerprint man was again busy with his camera's hair brushes and powder; so was the photographer. They were out the building couple of plain clothes men were questioning tenants in an effort to find out who had tipped off the police.

Awaiting the arrival of the medical examiner, the body had not been touched, and Murdoch circled over to it.

His profession had accustomed him to the sight of death, yet he could seldom look upon it dispassionately, and there was something about the still figure on the floor that stirred him. Still clad in the gray-striped trousers, Perry Clarke lay flat on his back a few feet back from, and slightly to one side of the door, his feet pointing towards it. He wore a heavy silk house-pajama and underneath this a pearl-gray vest which had been unbuttoned.

Both this and the shirt were blood-soaked and there were two or three small stains along the front of the trousers, extending to the knee. One thing which became at once apparent after close inspection of the vest was that the position of the two tiny holes proved that this garment had been opened after the man had been shot.

"Hey, look!"

Next Door

The fingerprint man was standing by the doorway to the inner hall, pointing to something in the wooden frame. "Here's your slug. One of 'em anyway."

Murdoch went over with Bacon and Keogh. About three feet from the floor and half buried in the dark wood was a bullet.

"Good," Bacon said. "Cut it out and don't scratch it. The other one must be in him."

The fingerprint man dropped to one knee and just then the door opened and in walked a dapper, middle-aged man clad in Chesterfield and black Homburg. He wore thick-lensed glasses and a mustache, and one hand was a leather bag which he promptly dropped on a chair.

"Hello," he said to the room at large.

"Hello, Doc," Bacon said. "Sorry to get you out—"

"Hah!" said the examiner's physician. "You did me a favor." He slid out of his coat, removed the one underneath and rolled up his sleeves. "Yes, sir, and in the nick of time. I'd just bid four no-trump and my wife laid down her hand. You should have seen it. I'd been lucky to take six tricks..."

Bacon and Keogh moved up as the doctor knelt beside the body. Murdoch sat down again, trying to remember what Joyce had told him about the meeting of Perry Clarke and Ward Allen the night before. Even then, he realized, she more worried about the affair than he; now with the added complication of murder Murdoch was more worried about the affair than he liked to admit. Perry Clarke had

Have A Try At Building Crossword Puzzle

(First of Two Articles)
By J. VAN CLEFF COOPER
Wide World Crosswords Expert

By far the most popular word puzzle today is the crossword. Crossword puzzles originated around 1920 and are now as much a part of the average newspaper as the "obit" or the society column.

Millions puzzle over these crosswords every day and the variety of puzzles ranges from those so simple as to be a waste of time to those which require a reference library and the knowledge of a specialist. The latter make it tough for the reader. But if you think puzzle working is tough, you ought to build one!

Let's take the process step by step and see for yourself.

FIRST STEP IS DIAGRAM

First, the diagram. This may be original or, more likely, one used many times before. Some diagrams offer less difficulty than others and the choice determines very largely just how much trouble the puzzle maker will have.

Next he picks his first word, at random, after which the process somewhat resembles a game of chess or checkers, with the dictionary as opponent instead of somebody on the other side of the board.

His first word is usually the longest one in the puzzle, or long words that either lie parallel or across, for he knows from experience that he can build from these into the short-word corners, but that he cannot start with the short words and expect to come out into the long ones with anything that makes sense.

The basis of the crossword puzzle lies in alternating vowels and consonants. This accounts for the repeated use of ERASE, ERODE, ELITE, ENATE—the man who found that one should have a medal—EDIT, EVEN, EVER, EDEN, ADO, AGE, EWE, and a host of other similar words. It is what makes SERENE, DELETE, and TERESE so useful and also such longer words as OPERATE, ELEVATE, and ITERATE, and even ELABORATE, ENUMERATE, ERADICATE, GARICA-

Hollywood Sights and Sounds - - Clothes For A Movieland Army

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—Another side of Hollywood:

Girls who take screen tests for Paramount contracts always meet Bert Linton before they meet the camera. Bert Linton has helped Ann Sheridan, Veronica Lake, Betty Rhodes and dozens of other players answer that all-important testing question, "What'll I wear?"

Friendly, calm, pleasant, she is "forelady" of the studio's "finish wardrobe" department. Edith Head does the designing, and dresses do the sewing, but when costumes and costumes are completed they pass to the care of Bert and her staff of 14 girls.

Calm? She has to be. In her department, filled with rack after rack of movie clothes, with cases of accessories, they must be ready to clothe—according to period—any number of players, including extras, as ordered.

Things can get hectic there—over one dress as over an assignment to clothe 400 extras. Not long ago, a filmy white chiffon worn by Veronica Lake in "I Married a Witch" was torn down the front by an extra doubling for Lake in a close-up handwriting "insert."

Repairing the intricate, delicate design was an all-night job, but it was ready for Veronica in the morning.

Each garment, each article must be signed for by the wearer, and must be checked in after use. No garment may be assigned again until after cleaning.

Berta Linton likes her work, likes movies, lives movie people and her wardrobe girls. She likes reading scripts and choosing costumes to fit the characters. She likes the endless variety.

She got into pictures in 1926, fresh from art school, simply by applying to the wardrobe department. She began as a seamstress, worked up to shopper, finally became foreman. Her union scale pays her $65 for a 54-hour week. Her union dues: $3 monthly.

Berta Linton combines her job with housekeeping. She and her husband own their own 7-room home in Burbank. A defense plant machinist's foreman, he generally works nights, sleeps while she works. She has her own car, drives 7 miles each way to work, markets en route home. Fifteen per cent of her income, goes into War Bonds, along with $600 retroactive pay received recently under a union agreement. Her hobbies: Sunday gardening, knitting for soldiers.

She has been to Ciro's—and liked it—but is not "the night club type." She has seen only one star "throw a fit" over wardrobe—a star no longer in pictures. She was glamourstruck when she first worked in the studio. Now she takes stars as they come—which, she says, is usually friendly.

Once, passing out wardrobe for a 1910 period picture, she noticed a character woman studying a certain dress intently. The actress asked questions, examined the material, the ornaments. "I used to belong to me," she said. "I sold it 20 years ago."

been in Caragus—Allen had been

"Who opened the vest, Lieutenant?"
The doctor had paused in his inspection to ask the question and there was a note of asperity in his voice.
"I wish I knew," Bacon said.
"It was like this when you found him, huh?"
Bacon nodded and looked up as the door opened and a burly six-footer entered.
"Yes, Malloy."
"Get something I'd like to show you," the plain-clothes man said.
Bacon went to the door and
Murdock tagged along behind
Keogh.
"We can't find anybody that called or heard the shot," Malloy said. "There's four apartments on a floor. The one next to this—he gestured toward the front of the building—"is vacant. But this one—I want to show you."

Retailers Back July 1 Bond And Stamp Promotion
 The Retail Defense Committee, operative here several months ago in inducing mercantile establishments to stock supplies of stamps, will send its support to the July 1 special stamp and bond sale.
 C. J. Staples, chairman of the committee, said that its membership would assist any way it could in promoting sale of stamps during the quarter hour period at noon when all other sales will be stopped.
 A. Swartz is chairman of a committee making arrangements for the special sale promotion, and Staples said his group might help in the work by checking with stores where stamps had been put out in an effort to see that there were adequate stocks for the event, and to otherwise encourage participation in the sale.

Glider Ranks Attract Many

A wave of enlistments for glider training is sweeping over the nation following issuance of a new order which opens the field of training to men who have never before flown.
 This announcement by the West Coast Air Force Training Center officers extends this comparatively new branch of the military program to thousands who were otherwise qualified except for the requirements of 25 hours flight training or 200 hours gliding time.
 Men who are 18 to 35 and who are physically qualified but who are not previous flight training will be enlisted as class B aviation students and will receive 10 weeks actual flying instruction.
 The course includes five weeks instruction in light power-driven planes, with an additional three weeks in making "dead stick" landings as an aid in familiarizing students with glider technique, instruction of the type given in the Big Spring Flying Service contract glider school near here.
 Following completion of this preliminary work, students will take a final two weeks of actual glider training consisting of a course in two-place and larger cargo gliders at elementary and advanced glider schools, such as one near Lamesa.
 Qualified candidates with previous flying experience will be assigned to class A aviation schools for a five weeks training course. Graduates of both will be given staff sergeant ratings with flight pay and the right to wear pilot wings insignia. Selected candidates of both class schools may be appointed second lieutenants in the U. S. Army.
 Men within the required age limits and who have no previous flight training may enlist through local army recruiting stations, but those with flight experience should write the West Coast center at Santa Ana, Cal.
