Food Stamps will soon be out of business in Matador as Lone Star Card gears up for largest expansion

(Austin) — "Food stamps will go out of business in Matador on August 1", State Comptroller John Sharp announced today. "Motley County is included in the largest expansion of the Lone Star card in Texas, and with this roll-out, the Texas attack on bureaucratic bloat and welfare fraud moves into high gear."

"In just four weeks, food stamps will virtually disappear from another 90 Texas counties, in the San Antonio, El Paso, Lubbock, Amarillo, Victoria and Beaumont-Port Arthur areas, along with portions of East Texas," Sharp said. "And retailers who prepare early should be ready to accept the card without a hitch."

The Lone Star card is the cornerstone of Sharp's wide-ranging welfare reform plan, which was approved by the Texas Legislature and recently signed into law by Governor George W. Bush. The card was first proposed in 1991 by Sharp, who created a task force to oversee its development.

The August 1 implementation will affect 300,000 families and 4,000 retail grocery locations in 90 counties.

"This security card will hold accountable both the bureaucrats and the people who depend on temporary public assistance," Sharp said. "It will save tax dollars, reduce fraud and boost grocery sales."

"That's why I urge all retailers that accept food stamps who haven't yet signed up for the Lone Star card to do so immediately so they don't lose business or leave their customers hanging."

Sharp said that retailers who accept the Lone Star card reported an immediate increase in food sales after the program was first implemented in February in the Houston area.

"Between February and March, food sales rose by $4.5 million, because benefits can be spent on food and food alone, not on crack cocaine or other illegal activities in the food stamp black market," Sharp said.

"Since June 1, when the program expanded throughout the Dallas-Fort Worth Metroplex and along the Gulf Coast, the Lone Star card has been working so smoothly that retailers have rung up food stamps sales totaling nearly $65 million," Sharp said.

"But these benefits will by-pass retailers who don't soon take steps to accept the card," Sharp said. "Because of the vast geographical logistics of this expansion - which includes the San Antonio, El Paso, Golden Triangle and Panhandle regions - it's critical that retailers make arrangements now to install the necessary equipment."

Slightly more than 50 percent of the 4,000 retailers in this 90 county area have already signed agreements to provide food stamps and Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) payments with the Lone Star card.

"We need the remainder of the retailers in these areas to contact Transactive Corporation, the Austin-based operator of the Lone Star card and make arrangements to come on-line by August 1. They can contact the company toll-free at 1-800-418-8000," Sharp said.

Food stamps benefits issued in the 90-county expansion area represent nearly $50 million worth of food sales per month, and the AFDC grants represent some $15 million worth of cash payments.

The Lone Star card is the largest electronic benefits transfer program in the country and is administered by the Texas Department of Human Services. The system's expansion into the San Antonio, El Paso, Beaumont, Victoria, Lufkin and Panhandle regions will reach some 300,000 households in about one-third of the counties in Texas. It is scheduled to expand statewide by early 1996.

"This card will trim the national costs of the old food stamp system by $45.4 million for printing, $4.5 million for shipping and storing, and $23.3 million for the final processing and destruction of the paper coupons of the Federal Reserve,"

Sharp said.

Sharp said the Lone Star card is already proving successful in reducing food stamp fraud throughout the state.

"Just six weeks into the new system, $1 million was taken off the black market in Houston in one of the largest food stamp busts in that city's history," Sharp said. "These were taxpayer-funded benefits that previously had disappeared into the black hole of the black market."

"By the end of this year, we will have abolished paper food stamp coupons in Texas," Sharp said. "We are returning the program to its original purpose - feeding hungry children, not feeding a bureaucracy and a black market of fraud."

SUPERMARKET SPENDING TRENDS TO WATCH

Even though 55 percent of supermarket shoppers use shopping lists, they continue to return home with nearly twice as many items as intended, according to a recent survey of 4,000 shoppers conducted by the Point of Purchase Advertising Institute. The survey also concluded that half of those surveyed visit most aisles during every visit and usually spend $45 per trip.

The most frequently purchased food items are milk, cereal, carbonated soft drinks, bread, cookies, canned soup, cheese and mayonnaise/salad dressing. The Institute reports that 52 percent of shoppers use manufacturer's coupons, 40 percent respond to store sales and other deals, and 7 percent use store coupons.

Convenience and time factors continue to have an influence on purchasing decisions and the market offerings. Supermarket food service sales are up, with slightly 80 percent of supermarkets selling both hot prepared foods and refrigerated prepared foods. These may be bought by the grocery from food service suppliers, or prepared on site.

One produce item growing in popularity, according to the survey, is pre-cut vegetables, which are predicted to account for 25 percent of total produce sales by the year 2000. The veggies currently most popular are pre-cut carrots, salad greens and coleslaw.

MESCLUN - A FRESH MIX

What is mesclun? Some supermarket shoppers may be able to find ready-to-purchase or may choose to concoct a delightful mixture of fresh "baby lettuces" sometimes called by the name "mesclun." Mesclun is a mixture of young greens, sometimes prepackaged at supermarkets, or simply concocted by consumers who collect a variety of young greens from available supermarket selections. Target greens may include radicchio, Belgian endive, red leaf lettuce, arugula and baby romaine, to name a few. Of course, the combination may change depending on availability and season. Ever heard of the terms "spring mix" or "yuppie salad?" Mesclun sometimes goes by these names.

SAFETY OF PEWTER DINNERWARE QUESTIONED...

Is pewter dinnerware safe? This is questioned because pewter is an alloy of tin with brass, copper and sometimes lead. It appears that even low acid foods would absorb lead if present.

Educational programs of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are open to all citizens without regard to race, color, sex, disability, religion, age, or national origin.

LIBRARY NOTES
Suzanne Abbott

For the last days of Romance Month at the Library we are featuring romance novels for the teenagers. We have some of the Sweet Valley High series and we have other books with a romantic tale, such as Meet Me In The Park, Angie by Phyllis Anderson Wood and Two Guys Noticed Me... and Other Miracles by Marjorie Sharmat.

When was the last time you read Dinner At Antoine's by Frances Parkinson Keyes? It's a wonderful romance for adults or teenagers. We have this and many others. Come to the Library for Romance...by the Book.

Thanks go to the Friends of the Library for the new Dr. Seuss books. Our old copies had disappeared or were so torn and dirty that they were not readable. The Friends have bought us Yertle the Turtle, The Foot Book, Green Eggs and

Ham, and other Dr. Seuss favorites. I know our younger library patrons will appreciate these new copies of old favorites.

The Library is introducing a "waiting list" policy. Some of our new books are so popular that, to avoid hair pulling and fist fights over certain titles, I will make a waiting list and will call you when the books come in. You will then have 24 hours to pick up the book. At this time we have three names on the list for John Grisham's Rainmaker.

I'm sorry that we didn't have any Library Notes in last week's paper. My son was ill in Lubbock, and even though he is 35 years old, his mother had to go see about him. Anyway, I was out of town and didn't make the deadline. I know that all of you missed the scintillating news from the Library.

Iris Blevins Honored On 90th Birthday

On Monday, June 19th a large group of friends and relatives gathered at the class building, adjacent to the Church of Christ in Matador, to celebrate the 90th birthday of Mrs. Iris Blevins. Mrs. Blevins and her guests enjoyed a covered dish luncheon, served by the ladies from the church, that included a lovely large decorated birthday cake. After the lunch and cake, pictures were made and Michael Crowley read a poem entitled "Women". Mr. Crowley also led the group in singing "Happy Birthday" to Iris.

Out of town visitors from Clyde, McAdoo, Plainview and Spur were here for the special occasion.

Mrs. Blevins is an active member of our community. She attends church regularly, meets with the Senior Citizens for lunch and plays 42. She has lived in Matador and Motley County many years, rearing two sons and two daughters here.

If you don't know Iris, you have missed a real treat, just look for a lively little lady with a sweet smile and a twinkle in her eye, that's our Iris.

We Depend On God

One of the great temptations of our day is to forget or deny our dependence upon God, relying instead upon our own cleverness and power.

A modern parable tells of a spider who spun a large, intricate, beautiful web which he suspended by a single thread. As time went on he added to and perfected the web. Then one day as he was going around its outer circumference he came upon the all-important strand by which it hung. He had forgotten both the origin of the strand and its importance so he snipped it off. At once his whole little world collapsed.

There are some like the spider that sever their ties to God and imagines themselves to be self-sufficient. All of us should understand that our God is the source of our strength and our security.

The Psalmist long ago encouraged the people of his generation and of ours to acknowledge our dependence upon God saying:

"Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits."
(Psalm 29:11)

Barbara's Bylines and The Foothill Country News

Oops! We made a mistake. Last week we had put the paper together early and in my hurry to get off to Floydada and Plainview to get my jeep from the repair shop, I left our Neighbor picture at the office. The Floydada Hesperian girls helped out by introducing their new Highway Patrolman to the people of Motley County, who might have the opportunity to meet him while he is on duty on the highways in Floyd County. Sorry for the misunderstanding. He is not coming to Motley County! Hopefully no one will get to meet him while he is on duty!

Also the First Annual Motley County Chamber of Commerce Banquet will be held August 3. The tickets will go on sale July 1 and may be purchased from any Chamber member or business.

Recently I clipped the following from an article in the Post Dispatcher by their Chamber Manager.

"Active membership in your Chamber of Commerce carries with it a sense of accomplishment and inner satisfaction from the knowledge that you are doing your share of an important job.

Although everyone in the community benefits from the work of the Chamber of Commerce, you can accept those benefits with a sense of pride ONLY if you are doing your share of an important job. How would your business suffer without a viable Chamber? There would not be a vehicle in which businesses could voice opinions as a unit to move progress for the community as a whole. SO, HOW MUCH IS A MEMBERSHIP WORTH TO YOU? Build your business by building your community.

Think about it and...TAKE PRIDE AND TAKE PART IN THE MOTLEY COUNTY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Truth is generally the best vindication against slander.

ON LAND VALUES AND FARM CREDIT

Over the years, government farm programs have provided a measure of price and income stability for agriculture, and these benefits have been capitalized into land values. Eliminating farm programs would depress not only farm prices and income, but also the value of farmland used as collateral for agricultural loans. Credit would become more restrictive and more expensive as lenders assess the credit worthiness of their farm clients. According to recent studies, cash rents and land prices would be about 10 to 15 percent lower and more variable without government farm programs than they are today. If export demand dropped sharply, cash rents and land prices could topple by as much as 59 percent and 38 percent, respectively. Around 45-50 percent of all cropland is rented, so impacts would be widespread, and would particularly affect older farmers and widows who rely on rental income for their retirement. The farm debt-to-asset ratio is in much better shape than a decade ago, but farm debt is expected to increase in coming years with rising production costs for hired labor, energy-based inputs, and interest expenses. Agricultural lenders value stability, particularly in repayment ability, if they are going to provide the financing producers need to operate.

WHAT ABOUT PROGRAM COSTS?

In recent years, both policy reforms and an improving world economy have helped to reduce annual commodity program outlays from a peak of $26 billion in 1986 to an average of $16 billion from 1986-1990, and to an average $11 billion from 1991-95. While federal spending has gone up by 50 percent. USDA now projects that farm program spending will average less than $8 billion per year from 1996-2000 -- even with no change in current law. Without any changes, then, the proportion of the federal budget spent on agriculture is expected to drop to a 40-year low in the years 1996-2000. Farm price and income support programs stand out as a prime example of an entitlement program that actually has been substantially reduced in recent years.

To All Our Patients and Friends:

The past few years have seen dramatic changes in the practice of medicine in this country, and Plainview certainly has been no exception. Our local hospital has undergone three changes in management. In addition, terms such as "HMO", "PPO" and "managed care" have become almost household words in recent months, dramatically changing the manner in which our office does business.

Throughout this time, our office has been able to meet the challenges brought about by change and has continued to provide each of you with the quality family health care you have come to expect from us. The changes have, however, placed an increasingly large burden upon my office staff, my family and myself. This has led us to pursue alliances with other health care institutions in order to ensure our survival in this "new market" and best position ourselves to meet your health care needs.

As a result of lengthy discussions, we are proud to announce our association with St. Mary Family Healthcare Centers effective July 1, 1995. We believe this association will ensure our ability to continue to provide health care to all our established patients as well as others whom we have not been able to serve in the past. We feel our alliance with St. Mary—one of the region's most trusted health care providers—will give our patients, my office staff, my family and myself the greatest security and assurance of continued quality medical care into the 21st century.

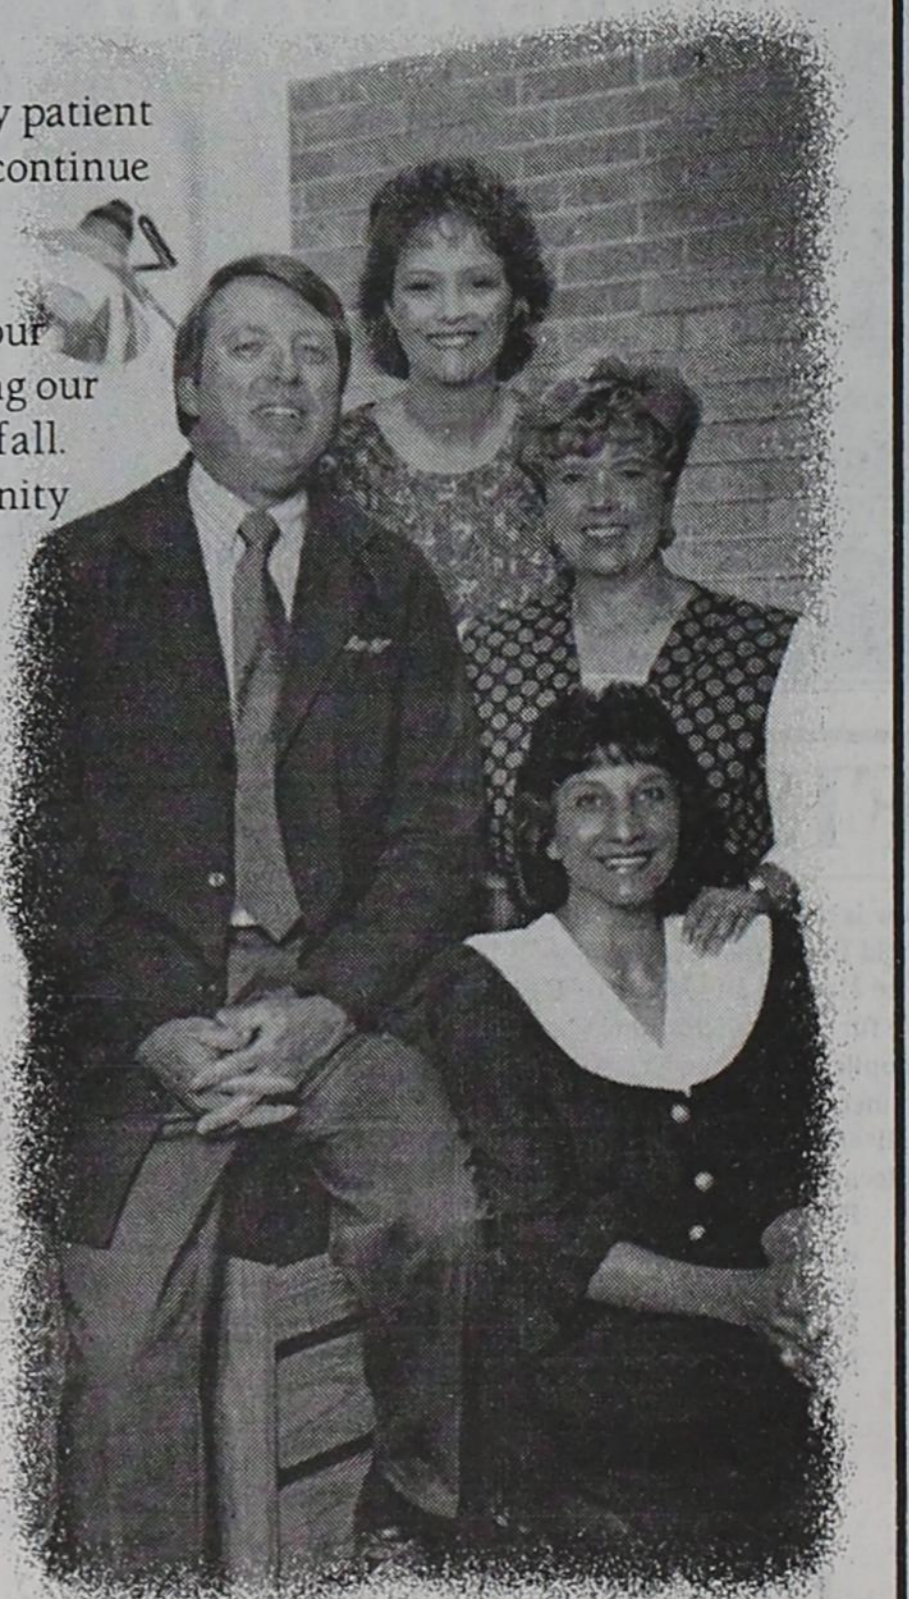

This change will only affect the business portion of our office operation. Daily patient care, hospital care and/or referral patterns will remain the same, and we will continue to work to strengthen and stabilize Plainview's medical community.

For the next several months we will continue to conduct business as usual at our current location at 2222 West 24th Street, Suite 1. We will, however, be moving our offices to the new St. Mary Family Healthcare Center at 3409 Olton Road this fall. We greatly appreciate your ongoing support and anxiously await the opportunity to be of continued service to you.

Sincerely,

Larry R. Karrh, M.D., D.A.B.F.P., D.A.B.Q.A.U.R.P.

CCCS Names Top Ten Solutions For Debt

Plainview -- Living paycheck to paycheck has become a way of life for many families, meaning many are not saving to repay debt. Consumer Credit Counseling Service has compiled a list of ten steps to help consumers develop spending and savings plans and regain control of their financial future.

Saving money is the key to being prepared for the future financial obligations, according to Marianne Gray, executive director, Consumer Credit Counseling Service of Greater Fort Worth. "Many people we counsel are getting by just living from paycheck to paycheck," she said. "Consumers should have a repayment plan to handle current debt as well as a savings plan for future expenses including college education for children, retirement, emergency expenses and possible medical expenses."

Consumers should start by asking a few questions: How would I handle a large, unexpected expense? How long could I stay afloat if I lost my job or had my hours cut back? Will I be able to retire comfortably or educate my kids? How much do I have in savings or investments.

If you don't like your answers, consider the following as a means of controlling your financial future:

* Carefully track your current expenses and trim where possible. List your monthly expense. Try cutting back on things such as entertainment, dining out and nonessential clothing.

* Set financial goals. Prepare for future investments including college education, retirement plans, mortgages and related expense.

* Prepare a written spending plan. Most consumers find it easy to create a budget but hard to stick to it. Writing a detailed plan and keeping it readily available will help to keep it in mind more frequently.

* Plan for periodic or unexpected expenses. When creating a budget, keep in mind expenses that could occur such as job layoff, medical emergencies, and maintenance on cars or major appliances.

* Begin a savings plan. Make it a priority to contribute to a savings account or investments. Take advantage of employer-sponsored plans. Even the smallest deposit can add up to a sizable amount if done consistently.

* Develop an effective bill paying system. Keep track how your money will be distributed, budgeting for fixed and variable expenses. And when you use credit to pay for an item, write down the amount and subtract it from your funds to ensure you can pay the amount at the end of the month.

* Monitor debt load and reduce where possible. Keep strict records on your debt repayment system and pay more than the minimum amount due when possible.

* Obtain credit reports and correct or explain if necessary. Several credit reporting agencies offer free credit reports. Study and understand your report. Call and explain if there is a problem or an inaccuracy on the report.

* Maintain control of your personal finances. Handle your finances with a serious effort. Dedicate time each week to develop and improve your financial situation.

* Use helpful resources for problem solving. Consumer Credit Counseling Service can offer the necessary resources to help individuals and families develop a workable budget and spending plan. A nonprofit organization, CCCS provides professional counseling and financial guidance to consumers through one-on-one budget counseling session, educational workshops and debt repayment plans.

Headquartered in Fort Worth, CCCS also has branch offices in Abilene, Grapevine, Killeen, Lubbock, Midland, Odessa, San Angelo, Temple, Waco and throughout the greater Fort Worth area. CCCS also has satellite offices in Azle, Big Spring, Cleburne, Lampasas, Mansfield, Stephenville, Weatherford, Fort Stockton, Plainview, Granbury, Brownwood, Hillsboro, Mexia, Sweetwater, Sonora, Burleson, Gatesville, Lamesa, Levelland, and in Hobbs, N.M.

To schedule an appointment for counseling, consumers can call toll-free throughout Texas, (800) 374-2227.

Sr. Methodist Youth Group Travels To Ceta Canyon For Mission Work

by Lindsey Williams

The Methodist Senior Youth Group chose to go to Ceta Canyon to do their Mission work for the summer. They left on Tuesday, May 30.

They arrived at the camp just in time to work a couple of hours before dinner. However, before they began working they were welcomed by the camp manager and were taken to the rooms where they would spend the night.

Since there was so much to be done, they were split into two groups. The first group which consisted of Ron Kelley, Kristi and Lindsey Williams and Misty Thomas cleaned mortar off bricks so they can be used again. The second group consisted of Rodney Williams, Charlie Johnson, Heather and Coby Turner, Scott and Jeremy Smith, Samantha Osborn and Dayton Grundy. They built steps and a rail along a walkway.

Both groups spent until about 5:00 that day and about half of the next day working. The brick cleaners cleaned over a thousand bricks and the other group was told that they built more steps in one day than any other group had built in 3 days.

The people at the camp were very appreciative of all that was done. We were happy to have helped them and we learned a lot while doing it.

Summer Refreshers

Whether you're relaxing poolside or having friends over for a backyard barbecue, you'll find these recipes--Sparkling Sangria and Apple-Grape Cooler--light, refreshing and delicious. Because these drinks are made with sugar-free iced tea mix, they taste sweet without all the calories from sugar.

The sangria is especially great for entertaining. This fun, easy-to-make recipe blends mandarin orange flavored tea with white grape juice, seltzer, and slices of fresh apple, lemon and lime and their natural juices.

The Apple-Grape Cooler recipe uses lemon flavored tea as a base and adds apple and white grape juices for a smooth, fruity tasting drink. Make it in a thermos and take it along on a summer picnic or a long bike ride. If you're sensitive to caffeine or are simply trying to limit your caffeine intake, this recipe calls for a decaffeinated iced tea mix. (If caffeine isn't a concern, the recipe is equally tasty in the regular lemon variety.)

These cool, fat-free drinks will replenish your thirst without adding to your waistline. So, indulge. Healthy doesn't have to be boring.

To send for your free recipe brochure, mail your name, address and ZIP code to: Refresh Body & Mind, P.O. Box 1100, Grand Rapids, MN 55754-1100.

CAPITOL COMMENT

U.S. SENATOR
KAY BAILEY HUTCHISON

Justice Delayed
Has Been Justice Denied

How long should the victims of crime have to wait for justice? In February of this year, Samuel Hawkins was executed at the Texas State Penitentiary at Huntsville for the rape and murder of a Abbe Hamilton, of Borger, a woman who was six months pregnant at the time she was attacked.

Had her child survived, it would have been nearly 20 years old at the time of Hawkins' death. His execution followed 19 years of litigation over two separate capital convictions, one for the murder of Hamilton and a second for the rape and murder of a 12-year-old girl. The victims' families in these cases were forced to relive their horror on the innumerable occasions when Hawkins' death sentence was postponed by seemingly endless litigation.

While there was never any doubt of Hawkins' guilt, he nevertheless managed to delay justice by manipulating the post-conviction review process, using (and many would argue abusing) federal habeas corpus procedures. But on June 7, the U.S. Senate passed an anti-terrorism bill which would end the unjust lapses of time between capital crimes and capital punishment.

The writ of habeas corpus, which dates back to the English Magna Carta of 1215, serves as a way for U.S. federal judges to determine whether a defendant has been wrongly imprisoned. Prisoners can apply for a writ of habeas corpus on the ground that their conviction was unconstitutional. Those subject to state courts — where the vast majority of murders are prosecuted — may seek the writ only after they have exhausted all appeals under state law. Defendants have been able to apply for a nearly unlimited number of writs in consecutive order, delaying the execution of their sentences indefinitely.

The bill which the Senate approved last week would limit most death row inmates to one appeal filed within one year under time limits that would conclude most cases within two years of sentencing. A second appeal would be allowed only under narrow circumstances, including new, "clear and convincing" evidence that could not have been discovered during the first trial.

In Texas, for the 92 cases in which the death sentence was carried out, the average time between the jury's assessment of the sentence and its imposition has been more than eight years. But as of last March, there were 156 inmates on Texas' death row who had been there significantly longer than that.

I supported the anti-terrorism bill, and in particular, its change of habeas corpus rules. This is a timely reform. It will apply to prosecutions brought against anyone indicted in the Oklahoma City bombing. Under the old rules, a generation might pass before justice is served.

Americans want their judicial system to be fair and even-handed. But they also have a right to expect it to provide justice swiftly and surely. As Judge Learned Hand wrote in 1923, "Our dangers do not lie in too little tenderness to the accused. Our procedure has been always haunted by the ghost of the innocent man convicted. It is an unreal dream. What we need to fear is the ... formalism and watery sentiment that obstructs, delays and defeats the prosecution of crime."

LEGAL MATTERS

CHILD SUPPORT:
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Child support enforcement, which comprises more than half of our agency's personnel, is one of our crucial missions. When your child needs help getting a non-custodial parent to pay court-ordered child support payments, we stand ready to help.

Child support is a complex issue. It can be a confusing process for our customers as well. The following are some of the most frequently asked questions and answers regarding child support.

What does the OAG Child Support Division do?

We are responsible for establishing paternity, locating non-custodial parents, establishing and modifying child support orders, establishing and modifying medical support orders, enforcing delinquent child support orders, and collecting and distributing child support payments.

Who can apply for child support services and what is the fee?

We accept applications from both custodial parents and non-custodial parents. Our attorneys do not represent either parent, rather they represent the State of Texas in providing child support services. We are required to provide all appropriate services for the benefit of Texas children — we cannot pick and choose our clients. There is no fee for services provided by our office.

Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) recipients automatically become a part of our caseload. Persons not on AFDC must apply directly with our office for child support services.

Where do I apply?

We operate child support enforcement field offices around the state where people may apply for services. The telephone numbers and addresses for these offices are in local telephone books. You may also call our toll free phone number (800-252-8014) to request an application.

Do other agencies handle child support enforcement cases?

In Texas, county-operated domestic relations or child support offices, private attorneys, and private collections agencies also provide some child support enforcement services.

How long will it take before payments begin?

That varies on a case-by-case basis. For example, your case might require the full gamut of services — locating the non-custodial parent, establishing paternity, obtaining a support order, and enforcing the order. Or you might have all the necessary information and groundwork already laid out. In that case, you may begin to receive payments much sooner.

What information does we need to locate a non-custodial parent?

The most important information an applicant can provide, aside from the non-custodial parent's current address and social security number, is the name and address of the non-custodial parent's employer. If the current employer is not known, the name and address of the last known employer should be provided.

Other very useful information about the non-custodial parent includes his or her social security number, date of birth, names and addresses of relatives and friends, and names of organizations, unions, or clubs to which he or she belongs. It is also helpful to have the names of the non-custodial parent's banks or creditors and a list of the places where he or she spends free time.

What documents do I need?

If available, child support applicants should submit copies of the following:

- Divorce decree or separation agreement (necessary only if you were married to the other parent).

- The children's birth certificates.

- All documents which may reflect both parents' income and assets, such as paycheck stubs, tax returns, and bank statements.

- Copy of court order for child support (if you have one).

- Evidence of payment history (if you have one).

How do AFDC recipients seek child support?

To receive AFDC benefits through the Texas Department of Human Services, you must cooperate with our efforts to identify the non-custodial parent and collect child support. In addition, the state of Texas will recoup the AFDC payments made by the state from the noncustodial parent.

THANK YOU

We would like to thank everyone for the cards and flowers, and a special thanks to the day care nurses, Deb Jones and Daphne Meredith when Florine had surgery and since she has been home.

The Hemphill family

I would like to say thank you to the teachers, faculty and people of Motley County who honored me with graduation gifts. I appreciate your support and prayers during my time in Motley County. Even though I have moved back to Ft. Worth, I'll still call Matador home.

Michael "Mike" Mincer

My love and deep appreciation go out to the following persons who made a visit with me in my home one of their school homecoming activities: Mr. and Mrs. S.N. Davis of Waxahachie; Mr. and Mrs. Larel Foster of Idalou; Mrs. Hazel Gordanier of Las Vegas, Nevada; Joe Bruce King of Austin; Bob Lewis of Chapin, South Carolina; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lewis of Corpus Christi; Jennie Lou Murphy of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Nolen and son of Belton; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Purvis of Stephenville; Kenneth Robbins of Tucson, Arizona; and Mrs. Oleta Watson of Floydada, and her daughter Oma Sue Helms.

Roxie Lewis

A LITTLE TASTE OF HEAVEN

Words cannot express my gratitude to all who carried out, so well, their part in the success of the school homecoming. A special thanks to all my committees. I couldn't spread myself thin enough to check with everyone before 9:30 Saturday morning, but you were there, filling your places and getting the job done. And especially to Billie Clifton, my Secretary, who worked far beyond her call of duty.

We all appreciated having our class pictures hanging in the Depot. C.E. Watson worked two days there. And the Depot looked great, decorators.

The City did so much in sprucing up our town, mowing, hauling, painting the park fixtures and trash barrels our school colors, and the Old Settlers owes Rickey and Crawford a special thanks for painting their trash barrels too. In fact everyone in town did a little extra and the yards all were pretty. I think they said to all who came, "We're glad you're here!"

The Lions put out the flags and although I didn't ask anyone, I really wanted the flags flying at the Depot, and Saturday morning when I started to give a final check, I was thrilled to see Old Glory and the Texas flag flying high. Thanks to whoever was responsible for that. Also Jerry Green provided the flag for the tabernacle.

The food committee and Virginia Sailsbury did a very professional job catering. I couldn't believe over 400 people could be served so quickly, and the food was all delicious.

Kim Alexander spent many hours at the computer typing the material for the Reflector, and later Susan Jameson and I ran off 350 copies on the school copy machine. Thanks Mr. Blanch, Judy Woolsey copied registry forms and helped me copy the programs which were designed by Ann Thacker. The City and Charlie Long also lent their copy machines for many pages.

Gordon Harmon was a great emcee. It's a wonder he didn't get in to more trouble than he did, in High School. Lots of fun!

Goodness, I have to say that Jane's singing really shifted us into another mood - and we were glad she could come - even if she did have to leave Max at home. Thanks Max for allowing Jane to come on.

Thanks for all the work the Volunteers did - at the Depot and cleaning up. I'm probably going to be in trouble for trying to name names - I don't want to leave anyone out - but you know who you are so please except my sincere thanks.

Everyone did such a superb job - it makes me proud all over again that I live in Roaring Springs, Texas and have all of you for friends and neighbors. The smiles on everyone's faces made it all worthwhile. Homecoming is sort of a little taste of heaven.

God Bless You All,

TEXAS GARDENER TIPS

Birdbaths Beautify, Entertain

Water gardening is one of the fastest growing hobbies in America today. A simple birdbath adds the sparkle of water's reflective charm to the garden economically while doing something nice for the birds at the same time.

Birds need water both for drinking and bathing. All birds that come to feeders should also come to water. You may also attract robins, thrushes and orioles.

A birdbath can be plain or elaborate, as you wish. Even an upside-down trash can lid will work, with a few stones in and around it for birds to stand on. A popular new style hangs from a chain.

Running water attracts many birds. Bring this sound into your garden by hanging a bucket with a small hole in the bottom over your birdbath. Or, make an old-fashioned dipping well from a porcelain basin—the birds will enjoy it too.

Water is most attractive to birds when it is near feeders because they can see it as they come and go. Convenient perches make the water more appealing, too. Some birdlovers go so far as to tie large branches onto decks and poles so that perches are abundant.

Look for a birdbath with a gradual slope that isn't deeper than two inches. Small birds don't like deep baths. Empty the birdbath, hose it clean and refill it at least every two days.

The service furnished by this fine co-op is rendered at a low and reasonable rate. It will pay you to support and patronize this co-op. No review of the business, agricultural, and industrial interests of this section of the state would be complete without prominent mention of this well known co-op.
