Counties Band to Save Road Money

Toll Roads

When you drive your automobile ten miles during the next few months and should average one gallon to the gallon of gasoline, you will have paid the Texas a toll of some $30.00 the privilege of driving over its highways. If you paid fifty cents a toll bridge and found a hole in your starting point, or if you had a refund of your money, you would hardly notice the difference. If you start over a highway and find a hole in the road, you would hardly notice the difference. If you start over a highway and find a hole in the road, you would hardly notice the difference. If you start over a highway and find a hole in the road, you would hardly notice the difference.

Annual Weather

The wind-swept plains of Texas enjoy one of the mildest climates in the world. In years, a news story says that a "white" snow-pow in California is turned to rain. In the mountains of the West, the growth that makes the "Angles" one of the fastest growing communities in the world. The power of public works equals either way. The California wading in snow may be dependent on no more than: "It's annual weather."

Glee Club Program

Don't you just love to travel? I had a visit to the Hawaiian Islands one of your secret ambitions? Forest Phipps Claimed By Death Early Saturday

The entire town and surrounding community was overshadowed with grief early Saturday morning when word was received of the sudden death of Forest Phipps. Although suffering with infected tonsils for several days, he was believed to be in no immediate danger until a few moments before his death, which came at 2:36 Saturday morning.

Forest Phipps was born in Fisher county, Texas, Jan. 4, 1895. He came to this country with his parents when quite young and spent the greater part of his life here. He was married Oct. 10, 1931, to Miss Pearl Sloan of Comanche, Texas, who was formerly a very popular teacher in Roaring Springs school. Offering his services to his country during the World War, he received an appointment from the United States Civil Service Commission in June, 1928, as rural carrier, where he served to the time of his death, always efficient and dependable in the discharge of his duties.

His unstinted love and devotion for his family bespeaks for him the fine, many traits of character beautifully portrayed in his home life. The best he had had not enough for him to give to them. His many intimate friends testify to his pure, unshaking friendship. He will be greatly missed by his patrons, the postal employees, and business friends, who are loud in their praise for his honest, courteous, prompt and dependable dealings.

Funeral services were conducted at 3 p. m. Sunday at the Church of Christ, by Rev. R. P. Brennan of Tahoka, Texas, former pastor of this city.

Survivors are: The widow, Mrs. Pearl Phipps; Mrs. Sallie Phipps, mother; one sister, Mrs. Clyde Mitchell and one brother, Claude E. Phipps of Vernon, Ark., who was unable to attend the funeral.

The great esteem held for the deceased by his friends and patrons was mutely evidenced by the large crowd that gathered at the church to pay final tribute.

Those from out of town who attended the services were: Supt. and Mrs. S. B. Culpepper, Jr., Mrs. C. S. Ross, Miss Molly Grisham of Comye, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. Wid Spivey, Mrs. R. M. Scott and Miss Ollie Sloan of Comanche, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. Dent Adkins, Slaton, Tex. and Lee Wilkerson of Floyd, Tex., Joe Speer and mother of Floyd, Mr. Cliff Bird, Spur, Rev. and Mrs. R. P. Brennan, Tahoka; Mr. and Mrs. Jess Jenkins, Turkey and Mesdames John Smith, T. H. Duval and Chas. Bird, Matador; Misses Mary Green and Jennie Lou Jackson of Alton.

Burial was made in the city cemetery Sunday afternoon under the direction of Campbell Undertaking firm of Roaring Springs.

Active pallbearers were: Cliff Bird, Wid Spivey, Clyde Mitchell, J. R. Lee, Herman Havis, Joe Speer, John Green and Theodore Harmon.

Honorary pallbearers were: Mes-

'I'm From Roaring Springs' Says Movie Actor In 'Big Broadcast' Film at Spur

Air's Biggest Stars In New Comedy Film

Evidently proud of his home town, Stuart Erwin, who is cast in the leading role of "Big Broadcast" coming to the Palace Theatre in Spur Saturday, Sunday and Monday, when asked where he is from replies with a true Texan characteristic, "Roaring Springs."

"The Big Broadcast", a romantic comedy set against the background of a radio studio, and featuring many of radio's greatest personalities in company with a cast of screen favorites, opens Saturday night at the Palace Theatre, Spur, Texas.

Bing Crosby, Kate Smith, the Boswell Sisters, the Mills Brothers, Cab Calloway and his Orchestra, Burns and Allen, Arthur Tracy (The Street Singer) and Vincent Lopez and his Orchestra, all of whom have radio audiences numbering millions, are cast with Stuart Erwin, Leila Hyams and other movie players in the picture.

The story revolves around Crosby, Miss Hyams and Erwin. Crosby, in the film as in real life a radio favorite, is so fascinated by another woman that he never shows up at the studio in time for his broadcasts, and consequently gets himself fired. Erwin, in love with Miss Hyams, finds she loves Crosby, and in a magnificent gesture, buys the station and a network to restore the latter his job, for Leila's sake.

But Crosby remains irresponsible, and it is only after a big broadcast in which the other radio favorites are featured that the tangled lives of the three are straightened out.

Methodist Church

One of the most encouraging things about the services of the church is that along with renewed interest in every phase of the church's life and work, there seems to be a growing in spiritual life. When people get in earnest about God's work, give it its rightful place in their life, become deeply spiritual and pray to God with faith, then will God bless them.

Services were well attended on the last Sabbath. If for some reason you were not there, we urge you to be there next Sunday if possible. Visitors and friends always welcome. There were two united with the church at the morning service on profession of faith and baptism.

The pastor urges each member to cooperate with us, help us talk up the services and best of all pray for God's blessings upon this pastor and the work of the church.

Merchants Offer Cash

The usual five awards of $2.00 each will be given.

Church of Christ

"There is a land of pure delight Where saints immortal reign" Friday, Jan. 20, the ladies of the church entertained fifty-six ladies of the several churches of the town. At the meeting a ladies Bible Class was formed. It is to meet every Wednesday at 3 p. m. at the different church buildings and a new teacher for every week. This church commends the effort. No body has an "axe to grind", it originated with the holy purpose of learning and teaching God's word. We hope the Bible study movement will grow.

Next Sunday Bible talks: 10:45 a. m. "Figuring on the Finances" 2 Cor. 8 and 9 chapters. 7:30 p. m. "The Power of God's Word" Heb. 4:12. At 7 p. m. the young people will give an interesting program to the whole audience. "He findeth it empty" Matt. 12:44. Is your life empty too. An empty house is hard to keep clean and can't be insured.

One can't live crooked and pray straight. If you want to know a man listen to him pray. A lot of church members don't pray because they have no God to pray to. Don't stand on your dignity, nothing so slippery. "Fret not thyself because of evil men, neither be envious of the wicked" - Prov. 24:10.

Lubbock Meeting To Protect Gas Tax Funds From Being Diverted

PERCY RALLS MADE PRESIDENT OF ASSN.

Thirty Counties Represented In Effort To Complete Good Road Program

Representatives of thirty west Texas counties met in the Ball room of the Lubbock Hotel Friday afternoon for the purpose of protecting the present gasoline tax against being diverted into any other use save the construction and maintenance of designated highways. An association to be known as the "South Plains Good Roads Association" was quickly formed, which is affiliated with the "Texas Good Roads Association".

Percy Ralls of Ralls, Texas, was elected president of the association and other officers were selected.

Marshall R. Diggs of Dallas, secretary and treasurer of the "Texas Good Roads Association", addressing the assembly said: "Of the five cent tax you pay on each gallon of gasoline, only two cents goes to the construction and maintenance of highways. One cent goes to the Federal Government, one cent to Texas schools and one cent to paying off road bonds. If any of the remaining two cents is diverted it will mean the cessation of road construction, the loss of Federal aid and insufficient funds to properly maintain roads already constructed. Over 40 thousand men have been employed in road construction will be without work and 100 thousand men affected indirectly. It will mean that this section of Texas must wait for or lose its share of paved road system. It will mean that the tourist who left over a million dollars in Texas last year will avoid this section, which is famed for being in the road."

The association of which Diggs is a member is non-political and sponsors no movement except the completion of paying Texas highways, particularly in this section. The over-taxed automobile user, who is now paying 41 per cent of all taxes, pays for and deserves good roads.

Motley county was represented at the meeting by Henry Papkin of Matador and Douglas Meddard of Roaring Springs.

There is glory enough for any man to live and die a Texan.

Every Young Person Should Finish High School

A business man remarked the other day that he would not employ a young man or woman who did not have at least a high school education, supplemented by a good business training in a reputable Business College. This gentleman expresses the sentiments of at least nine-tenths of the larger employers. If there should be a young person on the verge of quitting high school before finishing, this man's remarks should be a solemn warning.

Now that business demands a high school education and all the schools of higher learning have their doors closed to a non-graduate, it makes him almost an outcast so far as his educational status is concerned.

This should be a distinct challenge to the youngster who wants to quit. For when the doors of all the colleges are closed in his face and business demands a high school education, this should make a young person think twice before he quits.

We are told that one of the outstanding business schools, located at Tyler, Texas, is requiring for entrance into its more important courses a high school training. What, then, is there left to the non-graduate but to dig ditches and draw water?

This editor has always urged young men and women to finish their high school training and at this particular time, when all the higher professions seem to be overcrowded, we think a business training in some good school like the Tyler Commercial College and School of Business Administration at Tyler, Texas, is about the most sensible thing for a young person to do after finishing high school, of course.

If you are graduating from high school and will write this College for one of its catalogs, it will give you some valuable information about business training. We understand the catalog is free.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Clifton went to Spur Saturday to visit their son, Aron, who is recovering from an operation.

The Child Reader

by
MARJORIE BARROWS
Editor, Child Life Magazine.

One afternoon many years ago a wharf rat on San Francisco Bay wandered into the Oakland Public Library. There, opening a bound volume of a children's magazine, he stumbled upon a story. It was a story about a boy like himself—a runaway, a gang leader of wharf rats, who had certain semi-practical adventures, but who, after a hard lesson, learned of better ways of living his life.

That boy was Jack London. The dramatic, exciting story awoke in the young reader the uneasy consciousness of his own wrong actions. He walked out of that library resolving to lead just as adventurous a life but one that carried with it a clear conscience. So he joined the Fish Patrol, cruised about the bay, fought poachers, and before long began to write stories about his adventures.

Careful investigators have discovered that next to persons, nothing has more influence on children than what they read. If a hero they admire acts under certain circumstances as they themselves would like to act, they'll remember it.

They imitate the hero. And when the time comes, they'll unconsciously be influenced by that hero's action and try to do likewise. The heroine's kindness, ambition, steadfastness, loyalty, the hero's resourcefulness, quick-wittedness, painstaking qualities, courage, magnanimity, modesty—all these examples "sink in" and are emulated both now and later. One story with hidden character-building values is worth a dozen sermons from parents or teachers.

Let us try to see that this sort of a story, full of plenty of adventure for the boy, full of interesting plots and characters for the girl, is convenient for them to pick up. Jack London isn't the only one to be tremendously influenced by the printed word.

Lucky Scrap Jelly

Chip up pieces of candied fruit—you must have at least one-half cupful and you can use twice that amount if you like. If no candied fruit is around, use broken nut meats, or small bits of candy or raisins or dates stoned and finely cut.

Make 2 cupfuls of lemon or orange gelatine. Pour the gelatine into a mould and, when it is cool and begins to "set" add the diced candy. When serving time comes, turn the mould upside down over the serving dish. Wrap it tightly with a cloth wrung out of very hot water and the jelly will fall onto the dish.

A garnish of whipped cream or condensed milk, whipped, makes the dish prettier.—Child Life Magazine.

Size of the Stars

How large are the stars? To the average individual their size is hard to comprehend, but Dr. Edwin B. Frost, famous blind astronomer in Child Life Magazine, solves the problem. The sun, he says, is 350,000 times as large as the earth, and yet some huge stars are forty million times larger than the sun.

College Degree Worth $100,000, Experts Find

Statisticians and research investigators have at last run down the elusive and much discussed dollar and cents value of a college education and have fixed it at $100,000. Their survey reveals that the average untrained boy goes to work at the age of 14, earns less than $1,700 a year, so that his income from 14 to 50 totals $64,000. The high school graduate, they find, starts work at 18, reaches his maximum income of $2,800 at 50 and by 60 has earned a total of $88,000. The college graduate, they learned, starts his career at about 22, has caught up with the high school graduate by 30 and at 60 is earning from $6,000 to $8,000 a year with a total earning at 60 of between $100,000 and $200,000. Figures from the same survey produced by the statistical department of Union Central Life Insurance Company show that out of 1,000 children entering grade school only 23 graduate from college. Lack of funds is revealed as the main reason for leaving school and educational insurance is now advocated as a means of giving a higher percentage the "break" which a college degree assures.

W. M. U. Social Meeting

The W. M. U. of the Baptist church met with Mrs. Joe M. Duren Thursday afternoon for a social hour. The main event of the hour was the removal of patches from the society's apron which had been patched by some twenty five members. Under each patch a coin was revealed and a nice sum of money resulted.

Each guest then guessed as to what the total amount would be and Mrs. L. C. Davis received the apron as a gift for the nearest correct guess.

Several games were played and delicious refreshments were served to: Mesdames W. C. King, M. S. Thacker, E. E. Moss, O. O. Love, I. R. Yandell, L. C. Davis, W. C. Grishom, Frank Ferguson, J. D. Mitchell and Joe M. Duren.

Texas Wool Industry

By W. E. TALBOT

Editor's Note—This is the seventh of a series of articles dealing with the possibilities of the wool industry in Texas. Colonel Talbot, managing director of the Southern Industrial Development Bureau, is an acknowledged authority on the subject of industrialization for Texas.

STORY No. 7.

Copyright, 1932, Southern Life Insurance Co.
Today we are shipping our wool "in the grease" to New England, paying freight rates on approximately 40 per cent of dirt and grease. Here the wool is manufactured and the three cents of men's clothing and overcoats and women's suits are shipped back to us. Under normal conditions for every dollar we get for wool we pay 3 for the finished product, which is reflected in salaries and labor among our own people.

We have been told that wool cloth could not be manufactured in the south because of climatic conditions, yet we do not have skilled workmen, and that we could not create styles that would sell. I was told that I was not a plain and fancy darn fool when I suggested that it could be done in Texas. Of course, the man who made this remark was an Eastern manufacturer. So I accepted it as a challenge and went about to ascertain whether or not it could be done. In a short time we had two concerns making 700 suits a week and there were sold from twenty to thirty-five a day. We have today in Texas as cheap power as is obtainable in any State in the Union. In addition to this, there are oil, gas and lignite. We have long, light, working days, adequate transportation; intelligent labor, and last but not least, a market in Texas of 6,000,000 and in our actual trade territory, of 12,000,000. In other words, the only thing lacking to make a success of this industry has been initiative.

In addition to it all, we produce the raw material itself, and economic management has shown that success, under present conditions, can be achieved only by those manufacturing plants close to the source of raw material.

POPULARITY

All students were anxious to know who would be adjudged the most popular boy and girl in school. To get facts on the case, the question was put to a vote. The entire high school participated in the election and the final results bestowed upon Miss Zella Bridges the title of "most popular girl", and Leon Love, "the most popular boy". This is indeed an honor and we are sure these two young people appreciate such an expression from their friends in the student body.

STAFF MEETING

The STINGER staff met last Tuesday afternoon as per usual, but the proceedings were not usual. Two novelty songs by "The Flower Girls", and "Putting The Children To Bed" by Eloise Vaughn, were features of the short entertainment given in honor of the staff. In the future we hope to make these Tuesday afternoon meetings an occasion of merriment as well as a business meeting.

NO REST FOR THE WEARY

Everyone is aware of the approaching mid term. Perhaps no one realizes this more than the students of the high school. "Think of those mid terms" has been a popular expression the last few days. If the tone of their voice might be any indication, it could be said that some are a little doubtful, some hopeful, some dejected and some hilarious because of exemption. Well, let's cheer up. It's always darkest before the dawn and when the sun does come out all those booger bears disappear with the darkness. Here's wishing you a pleasant second term.

YELLOW JACKET BUZZING

The senior boys and girls went to Valley View Tuesday night, January 24, and contested them in some plain and fancy basket ball. Both games were close and, consequently, very interesting. The Valley View teams were victorious, which evened the score, for they were drubbed when they visited over here. Both teams displayed a nice, clean brand of basketball.

Wednesday afternoon, January 25, the senior girls and junior boys from Matador engaged our teams in two very interesting games, and the score will indicate. The girls played to a 29-26 tie and then released the gym to the junior boys.

The Matador juniors gave our boys a sound beating some two weeks ago. They came back determined to do it again, but our boys were out to avenge their previous defeat. They did this in a very doubtful four quarters. The game ended with Roaring Springs only two points in the lead.

"Some Were in Old Wyoming"
"Is the Good Old Summer Time".

"Sweet Jenny Lee".

"When the Moon Comes Over the Mountain" about "Three O'clock in the Morning" I will be "Thinking of You" "Till We Meet Again".

Once in "A Cabin in the Hills" I saw "Abdulah Bul Bul Amir" and "Bernado Bill the Sailor" play "The Waltz You Saved for Me" on "My Ukulele." I saw "Frankie and Johnnie" go "Down the River of Golden Dreams" on "A Beautiful Bull for Two".

After "They Cut Down the Old Pine Tree" that "Old Gang of Mine" went "In the Old Town Hall" and took "The Old Wooden Rocker" to "Clancey's Wooden Wedding".

I met "Little Mary Brown" "Down By the Sycamore Tree", "What Kind of a Noise Annoys an Oyster," she asked. "Figure It Out for Yourself," I replied.

"In the Little Old Church in the Valley" I heard "The Bells of St. Mary" telling of "The Pictures From Life's Other Side."

I received a "Letter Edged In Black" calling me to "My Blue Ridge Mountain Home" to see "The Dying Cowboy". When the Work's all Done this Fall".

"When We're Alone" I'll tell you about "The Runaway Train" that went Beyond the Blue Horizon" to get "The Argentinians, the Portuguese, and the Greeks."

"Tie A Little String Around Your Finger" "Till We Meet Again" and don't forget to "Say Hello to the Folks Back Home."

"Many Happy Returns of the Day".

BOOSTING

"The true meaning of the word 'boost' is 'to assist'."

It seems too many people think of a booster as one who by talk makes his school, town or club just a little bigger than it really is. Talk may boost but all talking is not boosting. The business men in our town are doing their best to assist us. We should appreciate what they are doing and in returning the favor, we should boost our home town merchants. Give them our business. Pay back what they do for us. Ask the neighbors to come and trade with them.

GUIDEPOSTS ALONG THE ROAD OF LIFE

Luck seems to favor the man who doesn't count on it.

Flying off the handle seems to suggest that you have a screw loose.

The victory of success is half won when one gains the habit.

Doing the impossible is frequently done by an amateur because he doesn't know it is impossible.

Everytime one man puts an idea across he finds ten men who thought of it before he did—but they only thought.

The good talker may not be the best worker; the hen which does the most cackling may lay the fewest eggs.

The man who says more than he thinks is apt to make others think more than they say.

The qualities that we possess never make us so ridiculous as those we pretend to possess.

Moments wasted are gone forever.

Don't be a cloud because you cannot be a star.

It takes a brave man to honestly face himself.

Happiness is a duty—not a gift.

Walking is good healthful exercise but wouldn't you like to see a mail man fight a nice big truck driver?

Mrs. M. S. Thacker and Mrs. E. E. Moss and children visited their grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Sanders of Floydada.

Franklin-Martin

Miss Ira Mae Franklin and Gus Martin were united in marriage last Friday, January 20.

The bride is a daughter of and Mrs. M. E. Franklin, Prairie Chapel community graduate of the Roaring Springs High School Class of '30.

Mr. Martin is a progressive member of the Afton community. The News extends congratulations.
