Bank Teller Says Part Of Ransom Intercepted In Twin Cities

OKLAHOMA, (AP)—Testimony relating to disposition of part of $200,000 with which Charles Urschel was ransomed was admitted over objections counsel for seven Minneapolis and St. Paul defendants in the Federal Court kidnaping conspiracy trial Friday.

Ralph Hagen, teller in the Hennepin State Bank of Minneapolis told of interception of part of the ransom at his bank.

His testimony brought the Minneapolis and St. Paul defendants into the trial by name for the first time. The government sought to pin the conspiracy angle on these defendants. It was the last direct government offensive in the trial, which brings the first actual test of the new "Lindbergh" law.

Policeman Killed In Fight After Bandits' Car Crashes

CHICAGO (AP)—Five gunmen staged a daring hold-up of four Federal Reserve bank employees in Chicago's loop Friday, and five minutes later shot and killed Policeman Miles Cunningham after their automobile collided with another a mile from the scene of the robbery.

The robbery, carefully planned and swiftly executed will probably not net much loot an official of the Federal Reserve Bank said.

W. C. Bachman, deputy governor of the bank said he believed the two bags contained only cashed checks. The employees were on the way from the postoffice to the bank when the gunmen appeared.

WASHINGTON By George Durso

De-Frosting—A faint whisper has just emanated from the New Deal laboratories that Dr. Roosevelt and his colleagues are working on a sensational new experiment designed to jolt us perceptibly along the road of recovery.

The idea is to liquidate all the closed banks and release about five billion dollars in frozen deposits.

If they can work out the proper formula and apply it about a month from now a much-needed stimulant would be given business just at a time when approaching winter will be making things plenty tough.

The understanding is that the ambitious venture would be undertaken through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Details are valueless because the plan is still in the test-tube stage. The technicians want the remedy to be fool-proof before releasing it.

Ex-Governor Says Majority Of Solons Should Sign Measure

Legislators seeking to have Governor Miriam A. Ferguson include the pink boll worm reimbursement bill in her program for the special session of the legislature have a long and difficult path to travel.

Status of the boll worm bill was made known in a letter by Senator Arthur P. Duggan to leaders of the move in this section.

Duggan, in company with two other senators and six representatives, called on the governor and her advisor, James E. Ferguson, in an effort to get the former include it as special legislation.

Ferguson informed the committee to draft the bill, then circulate it among members of both houses, until a majority of each body signs it. This done, he promised the governor and himself would give it their careful consideration.

Ferguson said that his wife was "favorable toward the legislation" and did not "anticipate any trouble if a majority of the house and senate members sign" the bill drafted by Duggan and colleagues.

The committee has drafted the bill providing that farmers sustaining losses due to the pink bollworm quarantine here several years ago be reimbursed. The measure is being circulated for signatures.

Said Duggan: "We have hopes that we may obtain enough signatures."

Deputy Public Works Administrator M. Waite has just wound up a 5,000 mile airplane tour of inspection. He reports privately to his chief, Secretary of Interior Ickes, that the states are blaming Washington for all the delays in getting building projects under way.

Col. Waite slipped the boss a lot of lowdown. He didn't find the men out along the line peaceably inclined over the way public works is functioning.

State boards and state engineers are being subjected to terrific pressure for action on projects that have been submitted. Their hands are tied because the final decision rests with Washington and they complain that the ties that bind look very much like red tape.

Cuba

One of the two gentlemen, who were dispatched posthaste to Havana to give President de Cespedes the benefit of their financial and economic knowledge is back and has reported to the State Department.

He is John G. Laylin, special assistant to the Undersecretary of Treasury. About the time he arrived in Cuba the de Cespedes regime was booted out of office and Grau San Martin installed.

Unable to find any official with sufficient authority to talk to him he came home.

Work of various committees will be discussed and plans for another year of operation will be formulated. It is understood from an unofficial report that Sweetwater has contributed more toward the upkeep of the council than all other towns combined.

Williamson said that he was making a special effort to have representation from every section of the council present at Tuesday's meeting.

He said he had received word from the First Christian Church that it was withdrawing as sponsor of Troop No. 2. Another local organization has indicated it would undertake to sponsor the troop.

Boy Scout Board Of Area To Meet

The meeting is being called at an early hour to allow out of town attendants to return home before the early hours of the morning. It will not be restricted entirely to council officials, other scouts being invited to participate.

229 Take Part In Fourth Evening Activities At First Baptist

The First Baptist church B.T.S. revival went through its fourth evening Thursday with another gain in enrollment. The figure was 229 as against 204 for the previous night.

The training service revival will end Friday evening. Those taking the tests successfully will be in line to receive a diploma for their work.

T. C. Gardner, state secretary of the B.T.S., has been in charge of the revival this week and has conducted a school on "Modern B.Y.P.U. (B.T.S.) Methods."

Rev. Dick O'Brien of Colorado and Rev. Garnett of Stanton have also been filling places on the faculty.

Taxi Operator Held Up In Business District, Robbed Of Money And Part Of Clothing Here Thursday Evening

Not satisfied with taking his car and between $50 and $60 in cash from him, robbers Thursday evening relieved Hollis Webb, taxi operator, of his trousers and left him to walk three miles to the nearest house.

Webb received a call to pick up a customer at the west side of the Crawford Thursday at 8:10 p. m. When his two passengers entered the car Webb found himself looking into a pistol barrel.

He was forced to drive north past the cemetery to the point where the road turns east. Then he was commanded to drive several miles in an easterly direction.

After forcing him from the car, a new Pontiac sedan, his abductors took his trousers also.

Webb hiked back to the Sid Davis place and telephoned back to town.

The car, abandoned after a tire had blown out, was discovered Friday on the north side of the city.

Home Town Talk by Betty

President Harriman of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States has said publicly that NRA forbids closed shops. There are plenty of smart fellows who disagree with him. President Green of the American Federation of Labor referred to Harriman's statement when he declared that if the recovery act could get "half the support from employers that it has had from labor we would have double the number of newly employed."

All of which makes us glad the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce is not affiliated with the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

The U. S. Chamber repeatedly has embarrassed and injured local chambers of commerce through public utterances of its officials. If it expects local chambers to remain affiliated with it the policy of the officials ought to be revised to respect the views of local chambers, as well as conditions under which the local organizations work.

No doubt Mr. Green is correct when he says that labor has given much more support to NRA than have the employers. One might answer that labor naturally would thus react because NRA calls for higher wages and shorter hours.

We answer that if employers everywhere, in every case where it is humanly possible for them to meet increased payrolls, would actually abide by NRA and in no case dodge, chisel or openly violate its principles a few weeks would find many an employer who now feels

Washington Senators Clinch Pennant Of American League

Heinie Manush Ends Game With Brilliant One-Handed Catch With Tying Run On Base, Crowd Rushes On Field

WASHINGTON—With a minimum of fuss and excitement, the Senators officially took charge of the American league pennant Thursday by defeating the St. Louis Browns, 2 to 1, in a closely fought game.

Although there had been little if any doubt for weeks that the Senators would be the ones to oppose the New York Giants in the world series, it took Thursday's victory to remove the New York Yankees' last mathematical chance of winning the championship. With 97 victories to their credit, the Senators can lose all of the six games they have left and still finish a game ahead of the Yanks. New York, idle Thursday, has won 87 games and lost 55 with eight to go. Washington has lost only 49 games.

The actual clinching of the title brought little stir in the crowd of 10,000, mostly women taking advantage of a special ladies' day.

Heinie Manush ended the game with a brilliant one-handed catch with the tying run on base. There was a buzz in the stands as Manush speared the ball the crowd rushed out on the field. Manager Joe Cronin and his men ran for the clubhouse and the demonstration subsided after a minute or two.

The Senators got only six hits off Bump Hadley, their old teammate, but they made them count. Lefty Walter Stewart, a former Brownie, was nipped for seven blows, most of which didn't count.

Washington took a one run lead in the second inning when Fred Schulte singled, went to third on Joe Kuhel's base hit to right and came home on Bob Boken's fly to Reynolds.

The Browns tied the score and gave Stewart his only bad inning in the seventh.

Washington came right back with the winning tally. Kuhel hit a clean single to center and Boken walked. Sewell hit a long double to center that scored Kuhel.

PHILADELPHIA—The Detroit Tigers salvaged the last game of a four game series with the Athletics by slaying out a 10 to 3 victory Thursday behind the six hit pitching of young Eldon Auker.

Trailing 2-0 as the result of Jimmie Fox's 4th home run of the season with Mickey Cochrane on base, the Tigers fell on Johnny Marcum, the sensational recruit from Louisville, and scored six runs in the third to put the game away. Marcum yielded seven hits as the Tigers batted around and Eric McNair contributed an error.

San Angelo announces a squad of forty-six players. We take a chill every time we think of the experience represented on that squad, because where the Bobcats have thirty-six seasoned players the Steers have none and the Mustangs only twelve who have been tested under fire. Of course in the case of the Condors, some of the experience was received in Junior High, but after all, that's a great deal better than none at all.

Of the forty-six represented on the Angelo squad, five, count 'em, five men have had three years' of seasoning prior to this year. The Mustangs have no man who has had that much experience, yet we still wager the Ponies win.

In the case of San Angelo, there are eleven men who have kicked, passed, banged, and butted the pigskin around for two years; Sweetwater has only two men, Jones and Holbert. The Bobcats have nineteen men for whom last year was their first season, while the Mustangs have ten one year players.

The five Bobcat three-year men are Reid, Hays, Raiborn, Gregg, and Turn. Did you ever see or hear of any of these young men before? If memory serves us correctly Reid and Hays are backs of the first water, and Raiborn and Gregg are guard and end respectively.

El Paso's Austin High grid-ders, with a city and district championship to defend and a scarcity of experienced players to make the defense, is not planning on the most successful campaign in history we hear.

Coach Pat Murphy already is casting his eyes toward 1934 and is working with this year's squad with next year's race in mind. But when a coach has a backfield boasting two such men as Raymond Saloma, speedy little triple threat who runs at quarter, and Herbert "Doggy" Baird, smashing kicking fullback, he is likely to find enough fighting material to go along with them to make a winning combination. And no doubt, down in his mind, Coach Pat Murphy may have a bag full of tricks to hand the Bovines September 30.

BRITAIN STEPS OUT

Our British cousins are throwing many traditions to the winds, in an effort to revive a moribund trade and industry.

All the way from Cardiff, Wales, comes an envelope packed with British propaganda—not the usual black-and-white type, but of a sort that would do credit to the most unorthodox trade booster in America.

The cancellation stamp bears the announcement that "The Telephone Saves Time and Money"—the telephone being a government affair in Britain. The Industrial Council of South Wales and Monmouthshire, 1 St. Andrews Place, Cardiff, rubber stamps its address on the back of the envelope.

Inside are press sheets and a snappy folder. The folder's front page is titled, "Monmouthshire and South Wales offer YOU Unrivalled Opportunities: Let Us Tell You About Them." These opportunities and advantages are then set forth at great length and in approved press agent style.

Where is the old-time British reserve? What has become of that fine old spirit of exclusiveness, that splendid attitude of superior detachment which made our overseas kinsmen so heartily disliked and so highly respected throughout the world?

Well, Britain is up against it; and overboard go many of the old traditions. Britain has begun to advertise its advantages from the houseposts, to promote and propagandize and buttonhole the world.

And this, it seems to us, is evidence that the old bulldog spirit still lives. Britain's back is to the wall and she is fighting tooth and tongue for recovery and escape for substance. The right little, tight little is no longer master of the world, but she is captain of her soul.

New Orleans Evens Series With Ninth Inning Attack

Southern Association Team Beats San Antonio 7 To 4, Third Game To Be Played Friday Night, Fourth Sunday In New Orleans

SAN ANTONIO—The New Orleans Pelicans tied up the Dixie series 1 and 1 Thursday night by winning the second game here, 7 to 4. The third game will be played here Friday night and the teams go to New Orleans for the fourth game Sunday afternoon.

New Orleans broke a 4 to 4 tie in the ninth inning with three runs that San Antonio failed to overcome with a hard try in the Mission half of the ninth. In the pay-off frame Harrington singled to right with two out and Galehouse fled to Bettencourt who dropped the ball. Harrington scored all the way from first. Moore then doubled into the right field crowd, scoring Galehouse. Les White relieved Wilts, but Ward greeted him with a single to left, scoring Moore. Fleming hit to retire the side but three hits and three runs were enough.

San Antonio came back and things looked good when Cliff, with one out, batting for White, crashed out a single to center and Crossley doubled into the center field stands. His hit took a poor past Ward and Cliff stopped at third. But Engle looked at a third strike and Purdy hit to third and Morgan tagged out Crossley going into third base on a great barehand play.

Big Spring High School will have a championship team in 1934 or 1937 if the healthy young rookies that appear for practice yesterday afternoon don't lose their "win, woe and witality" at Lubbock tonight.

The Bovine lads will get a rather rough start for the season's grid and the Westerners. In spite of the fact that many of the boys will be making their initial appearance on the grid at Lubbock, a hundred or more eager fans are expected to give the youngsters a boost. Don't judge the team on the first appearance too much, but watch the squad mold into a winner ere the season wanes away.

Bristow gave the boys a rapid once-over yesterday afternoon and cut out the ones he thought couldn't take it, leaving about twenty-two youngsters to be scrambled into their bright, new yellow equipment and out onto the rolling green at Tech field tonight.

Real Battle Of Ballot Due For Pennsylvanians

HARRISBURG, Pa., (UP)—Pennsylvania will have a genuine "battle of ballots" this November with the voters struggling with the ballots themselves.

With 12 constitutional amendments to be passed upon various referendums and the election of county and municipal officers, the voters will receive enough ballots to literally paper a room.

Constitutional Changes

The proposals to change the State's 1874 Constitution will make a ballot comparable to an old-time bill of sale. The important issues involved include a $30,000,000 unemployment relief bond issue and a $50,000,000 bond issue for a soldiers bonus.

Another separate ballot will be used, force will be used," General Barrett declared.

Murray Sends Guard To Prevent Drilling Of Well Near Capitol

OKLAHOMA CITY, (UP)—Governor William H. Murray invoked his executive military powers and ordered out a one-man army to prevent drilling of an oil well near the state capitol.

The fiery governor's order—sixth in a series—invoking his commands during his three-year administration—directed adjutant General Charles E. Barrett to use all the force of the National Guard that is necessary to prevent the Russell Petroleum Co. from drilling a well in northeast Oklahoma City.

General Barrett, elderly veteran of two international wars and of all Murray's military maneuvers, said he will first use himself as a one-man army to notify Frank Russell, head of the company, to stop drilling.

Delinquent Tax Penalty To Rise Soon

Two Per Cent To Be Added After October 1; More To Come Later

Beginning October 1 penalty of delinquent taxes due to City of Big Spring will rise from one to two per cent. Property owners whose taxes are past due are being notified in for prohibition repeal. The names of 20 delegates at large will be on this sheet, 15 for repeal and 15 for retention of prohibition. The winners will meet at the State Capitol on Dec. 5 to formally accept, or reject the 21st Amendment.

Vote on Sports

Every municipal subdivision will vote Nov. 7, on the question of permitting Sunday baseball and football. This will require another ballot.

Local option for 2.5 per cent beer will be voted upon in a number of sections, necessitating a fourth ballot. Under the present law, beer can be sold in any community, but the question of local option was inserted in the statute and the Women's Christian Temperance Union and other allied, dry organizations raised the issue, forcing a vote on local option in some districts.

The fifth ballot to be given voters will contain the county and local states.

Says Cardui Seemed To Do Her Most Good

"A few years ago, my health wasn't so good," writes Mrs. L. E. Erwin, of Lamar, Mo. "I was nervous and tired, and felt the need of a tonic. My mother advised me to take Cardui. After I had taken one bottle, I found I was getting revivified. I took about five bottles, and certainly was much better than I had been in some time, as my headaches had stopped. Cardui had done me more good than any medicine I had taken."

3 ALWAYS LUCKIES PLEASE

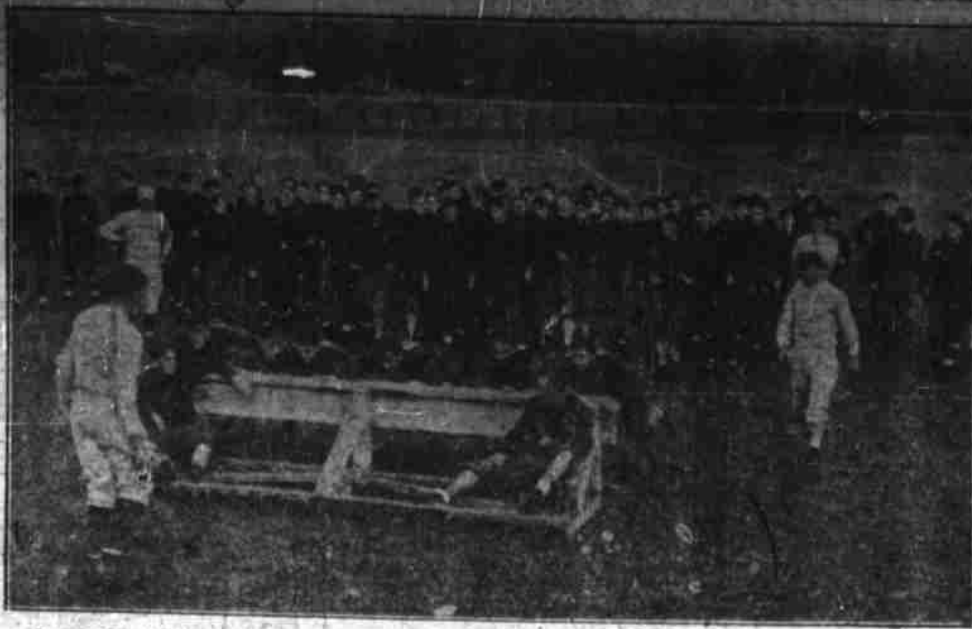

Why do we say "Always Luckies Please"? Well, one reason is that every Lucky is made of choice, ripe tobacco—the Cream of the Crop. Another reason—Luckies are always round, firm, fully packed—with no loose ends to sputter and spark.

Careful examination and inspection by over 60 precision instruments and 17 alert scientists guarantee unfailing uniformity. That's why Luckies draw so easily, burn so evenly—always mild and smooth. And that's why—"Always Luckies Please!"

For The Love of Eve by Lucy Walling

CHAPTER XIV
Christmas fell on Tuesday that year and Eve was overjoyed when Mr. Barnes said that she could have Monday as a holiday and thus be able to spend Christmas with her parents 200 miles away. Baby's was open until nine o'clock each evening of the week before Christmas and Eve was obliged to spend at least part of every evening at the office. Dick agreed without objection to come down to have dinner with her those nights.

Saturday, with the last task completed, Eve said goodbye to the others in the office, wished them a Merry Christmas, and left to meet Dick. On their way to the train they posted their marriage announcements to Eve's friends in Lake City. Those for the home folks had been sent a week earlier.

Eve felt a mixture of apprehension and relief after the announcements were mailed. But at least there was nothing to worry about for the present and she boarded the train with a light heart. Tomorrow she would see her parents again and Dick would be with her.

Henry Bayless met them at the station Sunday morning. Eve spied her father first and gulped as her eyes filled with tears. Then she hurried forward and met her mother while he struggled for composure. Partings and meetings after long separation always affected Henry Bayless. His eyes were blurry and he swallowed hard. Then he welcomed Dick with a hearty handshake and felt a glow of friendship in that firm clasp. Hank trusted few men until they proved themselves but his instinct told him Dick Rader was all right. It had snowed heavily overnight and Hank drove carefully. He was proud of his new car and boasted to Dick of the number of years he had driven the old one.

The Bayless home was in an old section of the city on a tree-lined street. "Nice here in the summer," said Hank as he drove into the yard. Dick saw a modest house of the seven-room variety with side porch and a low attic over the kitchen. Eve's mother, rosy and smiling, beamed a welcome from the doorway.

all of Eve's relatives who seemed so friendly and merry. The next morning he built a crate to hold their gifts. "It's such fun," the cousins had declared, "to celebrate Christmas and a marriage at the same time." There were shell pink dishes, an ornate brass lamp and a portable radio. There were exquisite silver pieces and an electric iron.

Monday evening Esther invited a crowd of young people—all of them old friends of Eve's—to her home. There was bridge with a buffet supper and music afterward.

Then Christmas night the whole Bayless family escorted Eve and Dick to the station. "Eve," said her mother at a moment before the train arrived, "here is an extra little present for you. Buy yourself some nice silver or something you really want with it. And don't tell your Pa! I saved it myself." It was a $20 bill.

Eve was awake and had eaten breakfast long before the train reached Lake City next morning. She was filled with anxiety. By the time she reached the office the store would have been open for some time and she would have to face everyone at once. They would all know about her marriage. She wondered how they would greet her and what new complications she would have to face.

Would Barnes be nice about it or would he be afraid her work would reflect a divided interest? How would the girls take the news? Myra would be sweet, she knew. But Mona Allen?

Eve's trepidation increased later when she entered the store. Mr. Barnes had given her permission to arrive late, inasmuch as her train did not reach Lake City until 10 o'clock. A throng of after-the-holiday shoppers already was engaging the attention of the clerks, but Eve felt all eyes focused on herself. She nodded to several acquaintances as she hurried along toward the elevator. Her knees were weak by the time she entered the advertising office.

"Eve!" shrieked Ariene Smith, darting up from her typewriter and flinging her arms about Eve's slight form. "Congratulations, darling!"

Myra looked up from the evening slippers she was sketching. She arose and with dignity extended her hand and kissed Eve. "I am so happy for you," she said, smiling. Eve never remembered what she answered. She thought giddily, "What deep dimples Myra has!"

Mona Allen assumed a bored expression. She remained at her desk and as Eve passed she glanced up and returned her greeting with a "Good morning, Mrs. Rader." The words came as a distinct thrust. Strange as it seemed to Eve then, she had never thought of being called anything but "Miss Bayless" or "Eve" by her business associates.

To her intense relief Mr. Barnes was in consultation and she had time to regain her composure before facing him. As Eve opened her desk and lifted out sketches and notes she answered Ariene's questions and learned that the marriage announcement had caused pleasant excitement in the office.

Ariene and Myra said they hoped Eve would continue her work. Mona Allen permitted one corner of her mouth to lift in a scornful quiver.

The office boy entered then, almost buried under the stack of newspapers on a large flat-topped desk and smiled brightly as he greeted Eve. Approaching her desk, he scowled darkly and whispered, "Don't let Miss Allen get your job. She's counting on it!"

Jolly Times Bridge Club Has Shower

Honors Ex-Members With Pretty Pink And Blue Party

The Jolly Times Bridge Club gave a clever miscellaneous stork shower Wednesday afternoon honoring one of its ex-members, Mrs. Clyde McGinnis. The party was held at the home of Mrs. Tom McGinnis with Mrs. H. V. Crocker as assisting hostess.

There were three tables of bridge players, two of forty-two, and a tea table. The color scheme was pink and blue, and was carried out in house decorations, refreshments, score pads, tallies and prizes. The score pads were cardboard babies dressed in pink and blue sequins. The refreshment favors were mint cups made of diaper material pinned with safety pins and filled with pink and blue mints.

The honoree was presented with a large basket of lovely and useful gifts. The basket was drawn by a stork holding a baby in its bill.

The prize for high score in bridge was a Mickey and Minnie Mouse set for a whatnot, and was presented to Mrs. West. Two forty-two prizes were awarded, high, a pair of baby hose, to Mrs. Scott, and low, a baby comb and brush set, to Mrs. Lloyd. Both prizes were given to the honoree.

At the refreshment hour the tables were spread with linen cloths and centered with bud vases, each business manager; T. L. Leach, Brownwood, treasurer; and Odie Holly, Lubbock, arena director.

American Bankers' Association President Hopes Inflation Of Currency Will Be Unnecessary

BY STUART E. JONES
United Press Staff Correspondent
HOUSTON, (UP)—Francis Marion Law, president of the American Bankers' association, said he believed "perhaps a majority of the thoughtful bankers of the country earnestly hope" that inflation of the national currency will prove unnecessary.

Law gave his views in an interview with the United Press. "I am reminded that someone recently remarked: 'There are only two men in the world who understand economics, and they disagree,'" he said. "I think the remark largely holds true as to inflation."

"It is probably true that a majority of thoughtful bankers the country over look askance at any form of currency inflation. In any event, as Secretary Wallace said, inflation is not a cure-all."

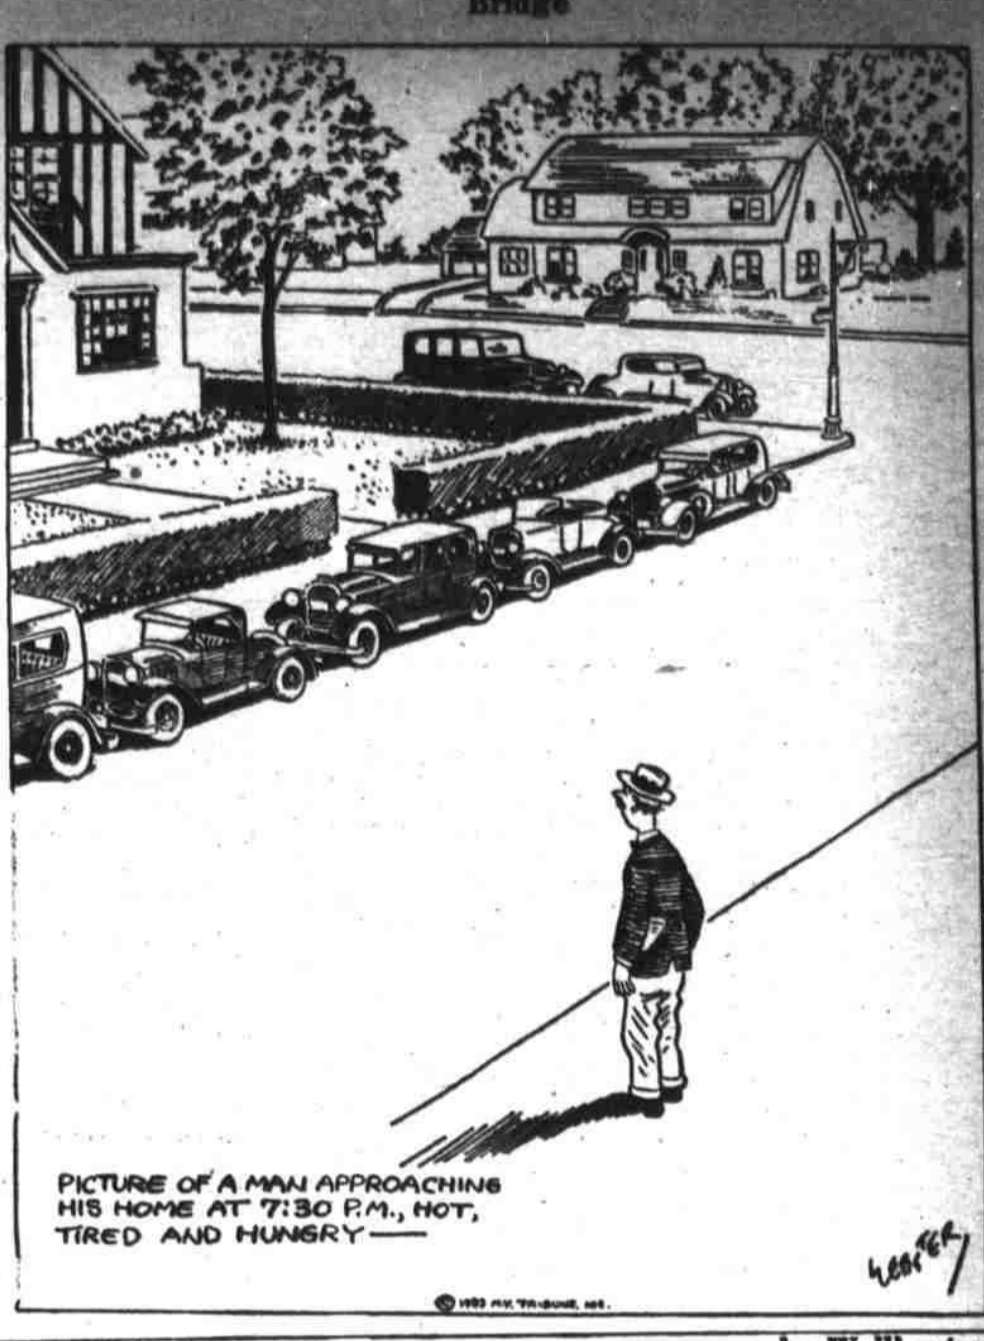

Law said he believed the Roosevelt Administration would not be hurried into the adoption of inflation measures, regardless of the increasing pressure being brought to bear from many sources.

"The President has been given full power to put into effect some form of currency inflation," said Law. "He has never been a radical inflationist; he has not shown any disposition to rush into inflation, and I am sure the country is willing to trust his judgment."

"It is wholly true that many good, sound bankers are in favor of inflating currency as soon as possible. But an even larger number want to hold a pink rosebud. Sandwiches, cake and lead tea were passed to the guests and members who were as follows:

A Hot Trail

Almost Home

Let's Pull Together!

Dick felt the spirit of Christmas for which he had long been homesick. He accompanied his father-in-law to the woodshed and helped him nail together a stand for the Christmas tree. Later he helped Eve trim the tree. He put extra leaves in the dining room table to accommodate the guests and when Eve's sister, Esther, arrived with her husband and child the baby held out her arms to Dick and seemed to prefer him to anyone else. Later, to the child's intense delight, Dick made a snow man.

Eve's grandmother, accompanied by the one with whom she lived, came for dinner. Grandmother Bayless, little, spry and yet always complaining, enjoyed the day enormously. "I have lived a great many years," she said, "but I declare to goodness no one ever surprised me as much as Eve does. That announcement now—coming with a Christmas greeting! 'Twas right odd! I thought to myself, 'That's just like Eve.' Seems like you picked out a right nice man, though. I know you must have asked him; he doesn't look as though he was bold enough to ask you."

After dinner they all gathered in the old parlor and Esther played the piano while the others sang Christmas carols. Then the gifts were distributed. Dick, who had been alone at Christmas for the last 10 years, was amazed at the unselfish generosity displayed. Accustomed to paying his way and expecting favors from no one, he was touched and pleased to see how he was accepted and included in the group as one of the family.

Grandmother Bayless, in particular, amused him. She brought Eve a handsome quilt of intricate "log cabin" design which she had made herself and then grumbled when she saw the exquisitely colored rag rugs which Eve's mother had given to Dick.

"Hi-m!" Grandmother declared. "How I know why Kate was so awfully busy drest an' sewin' all those rags that she couldn't give 'em time to visit with a person!"

Dick surprised Eve with his gift—a beautifully designed dinner ring set with diamonds. "We were engaged and married all in one breath," Eve explained to her mother, "and I said to have only the wedding ring."

That evening the whole family bundled into heavy wraps and rode out to "Cousin Myrtle's" in Beachwood. There, in a modern suburb, Cousin Myrtle and her family lived in a house of Normandy type. There was a tower with a winding, wrought iron stair and casement windows. Through diamond-shaped panes of glass the lights of an outdoor Christmas tree twinkled. The beautifully furnished home had not been built by wealth but rather by years of hard work combined with thrift and careful planning.

food products are glutting markets and making their production unprofitable to farmers.
 By using funds of the agricultural adjustment administration, supplemented by those of the federal emergency relief administration, and the nationwide network of state and local relief administrations for distribution, a real effort to bridge the gap between supplies and consumption will be made. In this way two major objectives of the recovery program will be promoted—feeding and clothing the unemployed more adequately and hastening the agricultural recovery.

"It was emphasized that commodities given unemployed will be in addition to amounts they are now receiving, wherever they are now inadequate, for the purpose of giving them reasonable standings of sustenance. They will add to and not replace items of relief already provided.
 "In removing the surpluses from the market, carefully applied safeguards will forestall any disturbance of the regular channels of production, processing, and distribution.

"The president said he considered the program arranged between the agricultural adjustment administration and the federal emergency relief administration one of the most direct blows at the economic paralysis which had choked farms with an abundance of farm products while many of the unemployed have gone hungry. He has directed departments concerned to expedite in every possible way their combined attack on the food surplus and hunger problems.
 "While this joint effort is being made to increase domestic consumption of surplus farm products, the agricultural adjustment administration will intensify its program of preventing accumulation of farm surpluses so great that they cannot be consumed, but result only in ruinous prices to farmers, destroying purchasing power and aggravating rural and urban distress."

 many of the more important holders in public office will be out of jobs before Congress returns.
 Two men in particular are being aimed at by the Democratic politicians. One is J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Bureau of Investigation. The other is Elbert B. Burlew, administrative assistant and budget officer to Secretary of Interior Ickes.
 Hoover was appointed head of the reorganized bureau of investigation despite the fact Postmaster General Jim Farley was running for him. The head slouch has been in the Bureau since 1917. Some of the Democratic insist he did a lot of undercover work for Herbert Hoover that was largely political.
 Burlew was secretary to the Secretary of Interior dating back to the days of Albert B. Fall. He found promotion and pay during the Hoover administration. Those seeking his scalp say he knows more about what's going on in the Interior Department than Ickes.

Coal
 The coal operators like their nice new code as a small boy likes a castor oil.
 The code in its final form was drafted by the NRA, with an assistant from United Mine Workers. The operators had about as much voice in the matter as the Republic of Old Guadalupe in the New Deal. It had to be done that way or not at all. The President and General Johnson went over several decks of cards playing patience while waiting for the mine owners to do their stuff. Finally it became clear that patience had ceased to be a virtue. Then the whip cracked.
 Only a few days before the final showdown quite a few operators were talking big among themselves about going home and to heck with it all. But when the dotted line was presented they signed.
 How coohe the surrender? For one thing, the northern mines got a fairly good break. Their costs will drop up but those of the southern mines will take an even bigger jump. So they get a better competition differential. That soothes their blistered feelings. Then there is the hope that the code will be abandoned in January. It proves a failure and meanwhile they might as well ride on the bandwagon.
 An effort will be made to establish nine-month prices at $180 a ton. It's a good trick if it works. But local experts say that Houdini himself couldn't put that across. The offstage chuckles you hear come from oil and natural gas people.
 John L. Lewis of the Mine Workers got about everything he wanted and is now sitting pretty as a labor leader who goes places and does things. His success may have a bearing on internal developments in the Federation of Labor.

Wheels
 There were wheels within wheels in the sudden decision of the Frick mines to unbind and talk amicably with the United Mine Workers. The Frick properties are controlled by U. S. Steel. Word got around that Big Steel had better induce its subsidiaries to behave if it wanted its normal share of luscious contracts for public works. Apparently the advice was heeded.

Slap
 Some of the steel boys are headed for more than a slap on the wrist if they don't come down on the bearish propaganda that has issued so artlessly from certain trade publications. Broad intimations have been passed that concessions made to labor by the steel industry will be ruinous.
 New York insiders hear that Washington is pretty sore about these undermining tactics and is considering a counter barrage of he can not meet higher payrolls not only meeting them but making more profit than he is making today.

 Heard a banker say the other day that if inflation does not come soon NRA will mean absolutely nothing in the long run. His argument was that currency inflation is an essential to success of the president's effort at re-employment.
 Since most bankers are opposed to further inflation this individual's expression is noteworthy. It at least shows that all the bankers do not agree on everything.

There is a growing volume of complaint in Big Spring concerning compliance with NRA by retailers, as well as others. Repeatedly one hears citizens ask when and how the government is going to really start enforcing obedience to permanent codes. It already is obvious no organized effort beyond the mobilization of public sentiment is going to be made to enforce the President's Re-employment Agreement (Blanket Code). But these permanent codes of fair competition are different. They are enforceable by law and one may be punished for violation.
 There are, too, frequent expressions here that many small retailers are absolutely unable to meet the financial demands represented by full compliance with NRA. That may be true, we do not know. But, we believe that if a retailer shows unmistakably that he is doing everything he is able to do to meet the demands of NRA he should not be penalized.

After all, the force of public sentiment is the supreme enforcer of a program such as that of the president.
 Therefore, when you go into a store and buy a pair of overalls or a pair of school shoes for the son or daughter and find the price has risen fifty per cent do not instantly condemn the whole NRA set-up, and thus help to pass the program a failure. We have recently seen some invoices to local merchants and they show that the wholesale prices have risen greatly in some lines. That calls for a higher retail price.
 That also calls for greater buying power if the merchant is to sell his stuff. Therefore, any merchant who marks his prices and at the same time dodges or chisels his way while displaying a Blue Eagle is inconsistent. He can not expect the people to have the money to buy goods at higher prices if they are not paid more money for their work and if a lot of unemployed are not given jobs and he can not expect the other fellow to do all the hiring to help him sell his merchandise.

Toilers of the State of Texas

Again the Vicious Sales or Consumers' Tax Threatens!

The "special interest," the owners of many acres of land and other real estate properties, the tricky political proponents of "more revenue," are again planning a drive to shift the chief burden of taxation on the already-heavily-tax-laden shoulders of the men, women and children of this State!
 And the home owner, the farmer, the wage earner, again face intensified hardship and suffering . . . again face the test of defeating the powerful interests behind the plan to impose a new and increased tax levy on our toiling masses during the Special Session of the Texas Legislature
 Are we going to stand by and be hoodwinked by political trickery, only to awaken and find we are paying unneeded millions of dollars into the coffers of the State? . . . paying an additional heavy tax on the very necessities of life—the food we eat and the clothes we wear — our small luxuries and amusements — practically everything that is needed for the happiness and very existence of ourselves and our families?

Your Help Is Needed!

Talk to, write, phone or wire your Senator or Representative that you do not want a Sales or Consumers' Tax of any kind! Urge him to vote AGAINST any proposals for new or increased taxation . . . tell him emphatically that our government costs must be kept within the amount that is necessary to meet its present income. Tell him that you know that Texas is in need of no major revenue measures at this time. DO IT NOW!

Sign the Slip Below

. . . and mail in your opposition to your Senator or Representative NOW! Help defeat this disaster that threatens us all!

PARIS (UP)—Hats. What a subject these days when anything from a wooden Happy Hooligan peg to a cartwheel-ten-gallon affair comes under the heading. You just see to 'em out and take 'em as they come. Here's Chanel's hat notions:
The new Chanel hats, an inspired collection of seventy samples, are individual creations instead of merely accessories after the mode. The lines are good—which means they are flattering; the materials add lustre by their sheer strength a new type of frame. There are of quality; the shapes, they may really be called such, beautify the head and face and frame it in a new type of frame. There are felt and feathers, cloth and silk, velvet and fur embellished with dashing aiglettes and crests, languorous paradises, enchanting plumes, smart wings and tiny clustered feathers.
While the felt shapes embody the chic set of mannish hats, the ornamentation of plumes, feathers and ribbons is ravishingly feminine. There are jewels holding in place a smart, simple but sophisticated knot or bow of ribbon. In some models, the selection of the choicest fur skins magically transforms the heretofore severe sports beret into a hat of infinitely feminine elegance—something you wouldn't believe possible unless you saw it, and even then you wonder how it was done.
Chanel is a little hat lover. The Cook raisins in boiling water for five minutes, pour in sugar and cornstarch which have been mixed together. Cook until thick. Remove from fire, add other ingredients and bake between crusts.

Dale Pecan Pie

One cup corn syrup, three tablespoons sugar, three tablespoons flour, three-fourths teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon cinnamon, three tablespoons butter, one-half teaspoon vanilla, two eggs, one cup broken pecan meats, one cup chopped dates. Mix corn syrup with sugar, flour, salt, cinnamon, melted butter and vanilla. Add well-beaten egg yolks, fold in beaten egg whites. Add the pecans and dates. Put into pastry shells and bake about fifteen minutes in a hot oven. Reduce temperature and cook until done.

Cream Pie

Scald one cup of milk, add one cup of sugar and one-eighth teaspoon salt. Mix two teaspoons of corn starch with a little cold milk; add to the scalding milk, stirring constantly. Cook until smooth; then pour on two well-beaten eggs mixed with a cup of cream. Pour into a pastry-lined tin and sprinkle with cinnamon. Bake until firm in the center. Remove at once from the oven and serve cold.

Pineapple Pie

IMPERIAL PURE CANE SUGAR

America's Finest Quality

1-3 cup ice water.

Drain juice from cherries and place it over the fire. When it boils add sugar into which cornstarch and salt has been mixed. Take from fire, add butter and pour over cherries. When filling is cooling, make pastry by sifting flour and salt, add lard to two-thirds of the flour and mix with fork until well blended; add rest of flour, working in until light and flaky. Add ice water. Roll thin and handle as little as possible. Bake in hot oven until nicely brown.

Cottage Cheese Pie

1-4 cups cottage cheese.
2 eggs, separated.
1-3 cup sugar.
2 tablespoons cornstarch.
1-2 teaspoon salt.
2-3 cup thick sour milk.
1-2 teaspoon nutmeg.
1 teaspoon lemon juice.
3 tablespoons melted lard.
Press cheese through sieve. Beat egg yolks, sugar, cornstarch and salt together with rotary egg beater. Heat in sour milk, gradually till mixture is light and smooth. Then blend in cheese and nutmeg. Add lard. Add lemon juice and fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Line a pie plate with pastry. Brush with melted butter. Pour in filling. Bake in a hot oven. Test filling with a silver knife—when it is set the knife will come out clean. Cool and serve.

Deep-Dish Apple Pie

3-4 cup sugar.
3 cups apples.
1 cup crumbled butter crackers.
1-3 cup butter.
1 package cream cheese.
1-2 cup cream.
1-4 teaspoon salt.
1-4 teaspoon nutmeg.
Reserve one tablespoon of sugar for crust and mix remainder with apples, peeled and sliced, add nutmeg. Put in shallow buttered dish. Mix crackers (about twenty rolled fine) with softened butter and one tablespoon sugar and spread mixture in an even layer over the apples. Cover and bake in a hot oven until apples are tender, about thirty minutes. Uncover, brown lightly, garnish with cheese blended with cream.

Custard Pie

Make a rich pie pastry, enough to line a baking pan. Make a custard from the following: four eggs slightly beaten; one-half cup sugar; one-fourth teaspoon salt; one quart scalding hot milk; one teaspoon vanilla flavoring. Mix the sugar and salt into the slightly beaten eggs, slowly, stirring until the sugar is poured over this the scalding milk, fully dissolved. Add the flavoring. Pour into the unbaked pie crust, bake in a moderate oven twenty-five minutes. Serve cold. Brown sugar used instead of white will give an unusually good custard.

Lemon Meringue Pie

1-4 cups sugar.
1 cup boiling water.
1-3 cup milk.
3 egg yolks beaten with 1 egg white.
1-2 tablespoon butter.

TOOK PILLS FOR 30 YEARS, THEN CEREAL BROUGHT RELIEF

Mr. Forsythe Endorses ALL-BRAN for Constipation

If you suffer from headaches, loss of appetite and energy or any other of the frequent effects of constipation, read this voluntary letter:

"After taking pills and tablets for about thirty years for constipation, I started to take your ALL-BRAN three times a day according to directions. Today I can eat cheese, and that is binding, and certainly feel fine."—Mr. Ed. Forsythe, Box 219, Youngstown, N. Y.

Science says ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regular habits. In addition, ALL-BRAN is rich in blood-building iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Isn't this pleasant "cereal way" far more healthful than using patent medicines—so often habit-forming?

Just eat two tablespoons daily, in serious cases use with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

East Ward Parent-Teachers' Association Begins Work

High Enthusiasm, Good Attendance And Many Matters Of Business Transacted At Initial Meeting Of School Year

The East Ward Parent-Teacher Association met Thursday afternoon for its first regular meeting of the 1933-34 school year. An unusually large number of members were present and all showed much interest in the coming year's work.

Mrs. Sidney Woods presided. Mrs. Long led the singing with Miss Phillips at the piano. A representative from South Ward talked on the work planned by this ward for mothers of pre-school children.

The program was composed of a very interesting reading by Mrs. S. H. Gibson in Negro dialect, "The Bride," and followed by an encore, "It Takes a Heap of Living in a House to Make It Home."

Most of the time was devoted to matters of business, following the report of the secretary, Mrs. Tom Cantrell, and the treasurer, Mrs. A. R. Kavanaugh. The association voted to keep the dues at 80 cents per member.

Mrs. Woods appointed the following committee: program, Mmes. Felton Smith, A. J. Cain, Roy Pearce; ways and means: Mmes. A. L. Carlisle, D. H. Thomas, Granville Glenn; shrubbery, Mmes. James Wilcox, Terry and Troup; council, Mmes. Cain, Thomas and Woods; prizes for rooms, Miss Phillips, Mrs. Kavanaugh and Mrs. Long.

Mrs. Long was made chairman of the Mother Singers. She will organize a quartet to sing at the programs throughout the year. The association voted to keep price of the room prize to a dollar. Miss Phillips' room won the prize this month for having the most mothers present. There will be also an attendance contest for three months, in which the two rooms having the smallest attendance will entertain the other rooms with a Christmas social.

Mrs. Ada Ramsey was given charge of the cafeteria. The P-T-A. decided to limit its meeting to one hour.
