TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

Frequently the true value of a horse is not appreciated until he has been replaced by less desirable conditions.

Age is a series of shock treatments which nature has devised to restore the human mind after it has experienced the hallucinations of life.

With the passing of the horse is going to be awkward for a man to insist that his son exercise tractor sense. The final result will be the same however, one very few sons used it when they were convenient.

In trying to describe an uncle who spent too much time waiting for his ship to come in, an old politician once told me his relative was the kind of a man who forever tried to peep through the keyhole of opportunity's door.

Love's vapor trails lead an aerial splendor to the world's best skies but the restless winds of time sweep with cloud fame against the sunset becomes a shadow in the night.

A sticky mist fell out of the Alabama sky above Los Angeles and the screams of ambulances echoed at intervals in the steady guttural thunder of traffic. Workmen hammered constantly as they ripped away banks from the proud old house on a side street, and dried shingles fell in the yellow palm leaves of a massive tree. A dirt shovel was biting into the lawn like a bed-toothed monster while mangled trucks belched and lunged with their loads. Across the street a small gray-haired woman sat in her polished limousine and watched the wreckers. She held a handkerchief in her hand and squeezed it tightly. Tears lay on her cheeks briefly before they fell on the expensive upholstery. When the front wall crumbled and pitched into the lawn a mid workmen's shouts, the little lady sobbed. She tapped on the plate glass partition with a jeweled hand and the long car rolled away.

Failure is spawned in the sluggish little rivers of personal attitude and regardless of long journeying, it will return there to perish.

A smile is the universal solvent. Its physical components are so powerful as to dissolve even a flint heart; to destroy an outspoken word of anger.

Joint Water-Sewer Meeting Held Here

City of Matador was host Thursday evening to a joint meeting of the Cap Rock and Greenbelt Water & Sewer Associations. J. C. Frazelle, president of the Cap Rock group, served as chairman. Mr. Frazelle, manager of the Crosbyton municipal electric department.

Approximately 30 members of the two organizations attended the banquet and program held in the basement of the Methodist church. Cities represented included Lockney, Crosbyton, Ft. Worth, Plainview, Vernon, Pecos, Roaring Springs, Quitaque, Turkey, Lubbock, Lamesa, and Matador.

Interesting discussions relating to water and sewer problems were conducted during the program. The two associations meet here annually because of Matador's convenient location to the largest number of members.

Miss Barbara Neighbors is visiting at Seagraves with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Myers.

The losers will treat the winners to a picnic party. Matches can be played any day next week. In the following matches, Barton's men are listed first and the Norman players second:

Flomot Gin Goes To Electric Power

Another Motley county gin has installed electric power. The Goodwin-Crowell gin at Flomot Saturday turned current into a new 250 HP electric motor and ginned the plant's first 1954 bale.

Manager Odus Crowell said he believed the new power plant would prove more practical in gin operation. Formerly the gin had been powered by diesel engine.

Jackets Win In Six-Man Classic

With the voices of cheering fans echoing against Quitaque Peaks and the Cap Rock foothills, Roaring Springs won the six-man football classic over the Flomot Longhorns Thursday night, 46-31. It wasn't easy.

Hard-running Max Washington, ball-handling Joe Ike Clay and Pass-catching Billy Shannon kept the fans on their toes. Washington scored twice on 10-yard runs and Joe Ike Clay brought the Longhorn cheering section to its feet with a 40-yard touchdown run. Billy Shannon caught two scoring passes for the Longhorns, one for 25-yards and another for 40 yards. Flomot scored one extra point.

200 pounds of Bill Woodin, deep man for the Yellowjackets and half back Bob Stafford scored three touchdowns each. Woodin scored on runs of five, ten and 15-yards. Stafford made two 10-yard runs and his third TD was a pass which he took for ten yards. Roy Mathis caught a long pass which amounted to 30 yards for the Yellowjackets.

The Long twins executed excellent quarterbacking for the Yellowjackets. Charlie Long kicked one extra point and passed for two more. Bob Stafford, Charlie Long and "Pee Wee" Long were top defensive men for the Yellowjackets.

ROGERS SCHEDULED ON FARM MEETING

Sen. Andy Rogers of Childress will be a guest speaker Monday night at a meeting of the Motley-Dickens Counties Farm Union Local scheduled at Old Settlers Pioneer pavilion, Roaring Springs. The senator will discuss the state's responsibility in carrying out drought disaster feed programs.

Judge Anton B. Chapman of Floydada will discuss current trends and policies of the Department of Agriculture on price support. A pre-program supper of fried chicken is announced with invitations extended to all farmers, ranchers and their families in this area.

A question and answer program will follow the addresses of guest speakers. The answering panel will include Joe Berg, Sue, 13, Bobby, 11 and Mary 4, while James Renfro and Mrs. McCaghen accompanied the parents and sick child to Amarillo.

He is showing gradual improvement according to word received here late Wednesday by the boy's grandmother, Mrs. C. C. Renfro.

Lions Receive Grade 'A' Lubbock Entertainment

Top, Grade-A entertainment from the "Hub of the Plains" furnished the program Tuesday at the regular meeting of the Matador Lions club held in the Methodist church basement.

The visitors included boosters for the annual South Plains Fair which opens Monday in Lubbock. Top-notch entertainers from two Lubbock television stations and one radio station, provided musical numbers, games and an "after dinner" story. Enthusiastic applause followed each performance. Arrangements for the program had been made previously by Lion Bert Ezzell.

All the Lubbock visitors were guests of the Lions at the luncheon prepared and served by Flomot high school girls and sponsors. Jim Cook, publicity director for the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce introduced the guests and entertainers (including one Rotarian).

During the business session before the program Boss Lion J. R. Whitworth said the board of directors in meeting Monday morning had voted to sponsor the Community Chest again this year and that plans for a Motley county fair in 1955 were under way.

Lion Bob Stanley announced that a premeeting to arrange the chest x-ray campaign, would be held this afternoon at 1:30 PM. in the Legion building.

Lion Forrest Campbell announced that a meeting of the Community Associates would be held tonight at 8 PM. in the VFW building.

Star-Telegram To Continue Low Rate

In spite of the continued rise in production costs and increased mail charges, the Ft. Worth Star-Telegram has announced "no raise" in the annual bargain rates.

Daily with Sunday is still $13.95 and daily without Sunday continues at $12.60. The outstanding Texas newspaper has continued to keep its rates down despite the advanced prices charged by other metropolitan dailies.

The Tribune is agent for the Star-Telegram and will sincerely appreciate carrying the commission on new and renewal subscriptions. Merely call 123 and say "Renew my Star-Telegram when it expires." That is all that is necessary. The Tribune will service your subscription and bill you on the following first.

Oklahoma Releases Man Wanted Here On Forgery Charge

Ed Calvin Hurt (alias Bud Hill) 50, was released Saturday by the State of Oklahoma and lodged in jail here where he faces three indictments for forgery filed by the grand jury in November, 1947.

Hurt was released last week from the Oklahoma penitentiary at McAlester where he finished serving a three-year sentence for forgery at Mangrum, Carlson being Sheriff Stotts had located Hurt several months ago and was awaiting his release from McAlester penitentiary. When he was notified by Oklahoma officials that Hurt would be released he was confronted by the man's refusal to waive extradition.

Sheriff Stotts went to Austin Thursday night where he obtained extradition papers and then hurried to Oklahoma City where he met Oklahoma Governor Johnson Murray and obtained his signature. He returned with the prisoner Saturday night.

Petersburg Accepts Matadors Challenge

Wildcats Run Away With Victory, 28-0

A PHALANX of beef here Friday night met the Matador Matadors and turned their hopes for a first home game victory in a score holocaust. The class A Crowell Wildcats went home with a 28-0 victory.

A capacity crowd witnessed Red Ammonette's charges outplay the Matadors despite their valiant efforts. Crowell's Jerry Knox ran three of the Wildcats four touchdowns; taking honors as the outstanding player of the game. All four conversions were made by Crowell's Jerry Gibson who also scored the fourth touch down on a 25-yard run. The actual score was no indication of how the hard-fought ball game was played, however, Crowell's weight advantage was put to good use.

ACCIDENT IS FATAL

Mrs. Ollie M. Westmoreland, 62, former Matador resident, died Monday at Galveston as the result of an accident, and the body has been brought here for graveside services and interment at 2 P. M. today. Rev. Bruce Oliver, pastor of First Baptist Church will officiate. She was a member of this church.

Mrs. Westmoreland died instantly when struck by an automobile while crossing a boulevard in the late afternoon.

After church services at Galveston, the body was sent by train to Lubbock, where it arrived early this morning and was received by Eury-Seale Funeral Home, who is in charge of arrangements here. Pallbearers are Howard Traweck, C. M. Barton, Tom King, John Stotts, J. R. Whitworth and Brooks Caloway.

Westmoreland, and they moved to Motley county in 1920, living at Whiteflat two years and then moving to a farm east of Matador.

Tragedy touched Mrs. Westmoreland's life 3 times in the 3 years, beginning with the tragic death of her son, Weldon, on October 7, 1943, followed by that of a brother who met death in a manner similar to her own, and the death of her husband on August 22, 1946 in a highway accident near Guthrie, in which Mrs. Westmoreland was critically injured.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Lamar Guthrie, and 1 grandson, Gail Guthrie, both of Erick, Okla. and 1 brother, Tom Houston, of Galveston Texas.

New Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP

- Boosts power as much as 15%!
- Increases spark-plug life up to 150%!
- Gives you extra gas mileage, too!

Here's the most revolutionary advance in motor fuels since the introduction of tetraethyl lead in 1922—new Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP, brought to you by special arrangement with Shell Oil Company. TCP is Shell's trademark for the remarkable additive first developed for aviation fuels.

Now you can actually enjoy the benefits of an engine tune-up—just by changing to new Conoco Super Gasoline. Chances are, by the time you've finished your second tankful, you'll feel the increase in power. And you'll keep that extra power just as long as you use Conoco Super.

For Conoco Super with TCP is a new kind of gasoline. It overcomes the greatest single cause of power loss affecting most of the cars on the road today. Now, you can enjoy all the power that was built into your car.

Why you need Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP
In the average automobile, the by-products of fuel combustion constantly build up deposits on spark plugs and in combustion chambers. These deposits can "cheat" you of power in two ways. First, they actually short-circuit your spark plugs. This causes mis-firing. Second, deposits in the combustion chamber get red hot and cause the fuel to ignite before it should. This is called pre-ignition or "wild ping." The effect of fouled spark plugs and pre-ignition is a loss in power and a waste of gasoline.

How TCP works
TCP is a special chemical additive which is added to Conoco Super Gasoline. It was specifically developed to overcome the loss of power and fuel caused by combustion deposits. TCP neutralizes harmful deposits on spark plugs—your plugs spark as they should. It prevents deposits in the combustion chambers from causing pre-ignition—"wild ping" is controlled. Thus, every time you fill up with new Conoco Super, it's like getting your spark plugs cleaned and your engine tuned-up.

TCP helps your car, whether new or old
If you are driving a new car, with a high-compression engine, you need Conoco Super Gasoline to keep your car delivering all the power that was built into it. It will actually increase spark-plug life up to 150%. If you drive an older car, with tens of thousands of miles on the speedometer, Conoco Super can restore much of the "new car" performance and power you've been missing.

Yes, a great new era in motoring is here for you. Drive into your Conoco station today and fill your tank with new Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP. You'll feel the difference by the second tankful!

Now—at your Conoco dealer!

Guar Beans Used as Protein Supplement

Guar beans are indicated to be an acceptable protein supplement for weaner steer calves on grass according to Woodward (Okla.) Experiment station. A daily ration of 3 1/2 lbs. of rolled guar beans per weaner steer produce slightly greater gains per head and more "bloom" than a standard daily steer ration of 2 lbs. of 41% cottonseed pellets.

This preliminary information was obtained during the 158 day winter grazing period Nov. 13, 1953 to April 20, 1954 at the Woodward Oklahoma Station. Results given in this progress report are the data of a planned 3 year study. To date, definite conclusions and recommendations cannot be made, but results are encouraging that guar can be used satisfactorily as a protein supplement for beef cattle.

Guar is a summer growing, drought resistant legume, introduced from India, that did not arouse public interest until 1940. Guar is now being grown as cash and soil improvement crop on a limited commercial scale in Texas and Oklahoma. It is generally adapted to the sandy soils in the cotton and sorghum areas and it should be grown as a row crop with inoculation, phosphate fertilization, and clean cultivation. It matures in about 135 days.

Matador IOOF Lodge

Meets every Tuesday night.
Earl Thompson, Noble Grand.
Ralph Nichols, Secretary.
Visiting brothers welcome.

Third Use Promised

Guar has two present uses and promises to have a third. It can be grown in rotation with crops as a soil building legume or the beans can be easily harvested as a cash crop and limited quantity of seed can be used by industry for production of vegetable gum. It is not an oil crop. Its third use promises to be that of a home grown protein supplement for cattle.

Ten head of weaner steer calves were wintered on open range and dry grass at Woodward. They were fed a daily ration of rolled guar beans in direct comparison with other lots fed cottonseed and soy bean pellets. The steers were trucked to Woodward in mid-October, weaned on standing sorghum, branded, vaccinated, treated for ear ticks and lice, and then allowed to recover for a period of 3 weeks. They were weighed individually and graded. They were again weighed at the end of the test.

Leads In Gains
The 10 steers fed on guar beans gained an average of 135 lbs. The 10 steers fed cottonseed pellets gained 117 lbs., and the 10 steers fed soy-bean pellets gained 123 lbs.

The guar beans were rolled to about the same degree of coarseness as rolled milo. A few whole beans could be found, but very little meal. The steers appeared a little reluctant to eat the beans at first, so about 1/3 lb. of 41% cottonseed meal per steer was mixed with the guar for about 2 weeks and then withdrawn. After that, the steers ate the beans readily. The guar fed steers showed

MOTHER OF INFANT THANKS KEEPER OF "PRAIRIE GRAVES"

Mother of an infant son buried in a small three-grave cemetery south of the Matador Ranch headquarters, has been comforted by the knowledge that the graves are fenced and receive attention.

Several weeks ago the Tribune published pictures of the cemetery, with a story explaining the attention Seth Sager, manager of the ranch, has given the graves.

In a letter O Mrs. Sager, Mrs. Oma (Walker) Farmer, mother of an infant son buried in the tiny cemetery, expresses her thanks as follows:

"I saw the statement and picture of the three graves cemetery on the prairie near Matador headquarters and was glad to learn someone had fenced it in. I want you to please thank your husband for his kindness. To know the Walker baby's grave was cared for and to know the wild flowers were so pretty—I appreciate this kindness so much.

"Mr. J. M. Walker named the baby John Lewis Walker. The mother of the baby named him James Omar Walker—James for its father, and Omar for myself, the baby's mother.

Mrs. Oma (Walker) Farmer, Box 1440, Vernon, Texas."

IN DALLAS HOSPITAL

Mrs. Jack Bearden is receiving treatment at Beverly Hills Sanitarium, Dallas, following a recent collapse. Address of the hospital is 210 N. Westmoreland Ave., Dallas 11, Texas. Recent reports of her recovery, received by her family, are encouraging.

More "bloom" throughout the winter and out-gained the other lots. There was no unusual tendency for the animals to scour. Other reports will be released as completed. Additional information may be obtained at the office of County Agent Bill Paltmeyer.

Sarah Lee Russell, 6 months old, is an addition-by-adoption to the A. G. Russell (of Waco) home and was but 7 days old when they acquired her. Their other daughter, Patsy, 7, is also adopted. Mary Jayne, going-on-2 is the cute little adopted daughter of the Claude Wilsons of Sweetwater. There must be a special reward in heaven for these folks who unselfishly open their hearts and homes to the little homeless babes.

About the friendliest young fellow we know is Don Seigler, 8. Don always calls to us, or speaks when he sees us, and always asks about Mr. or Mrs. Tipton (our folks) if they are sick. Don spent most of the summer with relatives in Oklahoma, and his sidekick, Thomas Edmondson was one "lost" youngster until Don returned home. The boys live on opposite corners from each other across Eubank street.

A WIDE VARIETY: There are different kinds of Christians, reminds a minister of the gospel. For example he points out:

A lot of Christians are like wheelbarrows—not good unless pushed.

Some are like canoes—need to be paddled.

Some are like kites—if you don't keep a string on them they fly away.

Some are like footballs—you can't tell which way they will bounce next.

Some are like balloons—full of wind and ready to blow up.

Some are like trailers—they have to be pulled.

Some are like neon lights—they keep going on and off.

Some are like a good watch—open-faced, pure gold, quietly busy and full of good works.

Cancer Protection To Be Included By Blue Cross-Shield

Cancer, one of the most dreaded disease known, is often one of the most expensive to treat. Beginning October 1, 1954, Texas Blue Cross-Blue Shield will add Cancer to the original ten dread diseases covered in their $5,000 CIE (Catastrophic Illness Endorsement) first introduced in 1951.

Effective on the same date, the benefit period on CIE diseases will be extended from two years to five years.

The addition of Cancer marks another forward step for the voluntary health care plans that had their beginning in Dallas.

In keeping with the tradition of extending to their members the fullest possible benefits, Blue Cross and Blue Shield in Texas constantly study the needs for health care, revising their benefit schedule to meet the demands as experience suggests.

Cancer, like Polio and other feared major illnesses, is under constant study and experimentation by the scientist, physician, and laboratories, and progress has been made in their early diagnosis, treatment, and cure. They continue, however, to be prolonged and expensive in many cases. The cost of care is often beyond the means of the majority of families. Protection against these financial problems is important to every family and every single person.

Effective automatically

Those Texas Blue Cross-Blue Shield members already enrolled in CIE will receive the Cancer protection with no increase in cost to them. The service will become effective automatically

FHA TO MAKE FARM IRRIGATION LOANS

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 20 (AP)—A new type credit for financing soil conservation measures will be available to farmers through a recent amendment to the Water Facilities Act. In addition, loans to develop irrigation systems and farmstead water supplies, previously limited to 17 states, are extended to the rest of the nation.

The loan services will be available from the Farmers Home Administration. Applications must be made to FHA county offices.

An outstanding feature of the law is provision for insuring loans made by private lenders. Where insured loans from private sources are not available for approved projects, some direct government loans will be made.

Interest rates for insured loans from private sources will be four percent a year on the unpaid principal, plus an annual loan insurance of one percent. Direct loan interest will be five percent.

Loan Use Defined

Loans can be used, under the amendment, to pay costs of ma-

on October 1, 1954 To give all Texans an opportunity to own this protection, applications will be accepted from eligible Texas residents, for membership in Blue Cross-Blue Shield and CIE.

Cancer benefits have been paid in the past under the regular program of the Blue Cross-Blue Shield plans, but the increased benefit recognizes the cost of extended treatment that may spread over several years.

800,000 Texas Members

In making this announcement concerning Cancer protection, Walter McBee, Executive Director for Texas Blue Cross-Blue Shield, noted: "The people of Texas, over 800,000 of them, who have joined in this movement, are entitled to the best protection their money can provide. The addition of Cancer is a result of our careful study of major diseases and their treatment. We have found that financial loss is often coupled with the mental anguish of the family when Cancer strikes. It is our hope that we will be able to relieve much of the concern that naturally develops when Cancer bills begin to reach a Texas family. Our plans are operated by and for the people of our State and this is another step in recognition of our responsibility to our members."

terials, equipment and services directly related to the application or establishment of soil and water conservation practices, water facilities or drainage. This may include such things as construction or repair of terraces, dikes and ponds, pasture improvement, basic application of lime and fertilizers, and tree planting. Water facilities that can be financed with these loans include tanks, cisterns, wells, pumping and irrigation equipment similar facilities.

Eligibility for loans under this new legislation will be passed upon by the local three member county committee of the FHA. Loans will be made only for the types of soil and water conservation practices recommended by the Extension Service, Soil Conservation Service and other agricultural agencies. No loans can be made for annually recurring costs that generally are considered as farm operating costs.

Fifth Grade Writes Themes On America

Mrs. L. D. Wilkerson, grade school music teacher, had her fifth grade pupils write a theme on "America." Johnny Ezzell's was the best.

His theme is as follows: "I am glad that I live in America where goodness is more important than riches, where character is the most important thing you can own. I am glad that I live in a country where I am free to think and read and say what I wish, where I can worship God as I please. I am glad we have a government for the people, by the people, where we have a government that can be changed any time the people wish. I am glad we have the best schools in the world!"

Student Participation In School Activities

(By Tom Hamilton)

When I look around at my different schoolmates I notice some that are happy, some that are sad, some that are smart, and some that are dumb. But the main thing I notice is that they are divided into two groups. There is the group that participates in school activities and the group that does not. To me, there seems to be a distinct difference in the character of those in the two groups. The group of students that participate in school activities are friendlier, happier, and are generally the leaders or "the backbone" of their school.

Our teachers say one of the main purposes of school is to teach us how to get along with our fellowman. Thus, the more activities in which we participate while going to school the better trained we will be to obtain and hold a job when we get out of school.

I have read quite a number of pamphlets put out by different industries on the type of person they like to have on their payroll. Although the pamphlets applied to the college level student, I think it would apply to high school student as well. One of the main points that they stressed was the participation in school activities. The pamphlets stated that they would rather have a "B" student that participated in school activities than an "A" student that does not.

If we participate in school activities for no other reason than to prepare ourselves for our future employment, it would be to our advantage.

—M. H. S. B.—

KAMPUS KLATTER

Greetings again from the campus of Matador High School! Seems as if our hot weather is still with us. We've started hav-than on the football field. Joanne Darsey, head cheerleader, wasn't sick to start with, but, in the scramble, she was made to smell smelling salts. Consequently, Joanne, lost her supper!

Have you noticed that the AG barracks are wearing a new coat of stucco? Nice, huh?

The seniors had their pictures made last Thursday for the senior panel.

We're glad to see that our second bottle of milk now only costs a nickel in the lunchroom.

Say, did you see our cute little mascot, Glenda Williams at our Crowell pep rally? She was carrying a little "Crowell Wildcat" in the hangman's noose.

Pat Groves and Johnny Shanks are the new managers for the football team. We know they'll be good ones!

Guess that is about all for this week. It's too hot to think or do much.

Adios for now.

County Schools Form 4-H Clubs

All schools in Motley county now have active 4-H clubs for boys and girls, according to County Agent Bill Pallmeyer. Clubs will meet the 2nd week each month under the supervision of the county agent and adult leaders (selected by club members). Membership is open to any boy or girl between the ages of 9 and 21. There are no dues.

It is not necessary to feed a calf to become a 4-H club member. A few of the optional projects are cattle feeding, livestock or poultry. Any type crop, garden, or orchard may be used as a project. Growing of flowers, ground beautification, cooking or sewing may be used as a project.

Projects of a general nature include wildlife and soil conservation, rifle marksmanship, safety, citizenship, leadership, crafts or recreational training.

Pallmeyer reminded boys and girls planning to enter stock show feeding projects to get started as soon as possible. He said a deadline of Oct. 28 had been set for the purchase of lambs to be used in stock show projects. Information concerning lambs may be obtained at his office.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

When it comes to overtaking and passing moving vehicles, exercise of ordinary common sense will generally keep a driver within the law. For instance, when passing a car it is only common sense to proceed on past at a safe distance before cutting back to the right side of the highway. Also, any driver would realize the danger of increasing his speed while another is attempting to pass him.

In the same category is the prohibition against passing on the right under most ordinary conditions. Of course, you may legally pass on the right in a few specific instances, such as when the vehicle overtaken is making or about to make a left turn, or upon a one-way street with two or more lanes, or upon a four-lane highway.

However, our traffic laws state that even when passing on the right is allowed, it shall be done only under conditions permitting such movement in safety. And, in no event should such passing be accomplished by driving off the pavement or main-traveled portion of the roadway.

Familiar to all are the no-passing zones designated by dash lines placed to one side of the center stripe on our highways. Not so well known are the restrictions against crossing the center line when approaching within 100 feet of any bridge, viaduct or tunnel. The prohibition also applies when approaching within 100 feet of or when traversing any intersection or railroad grade crossing.

A driver should never cross the center line of a highway when the left side of the road is not clearly visible and free of oncoming traffic. Generally speaking, when engaged in passing another vehicle, one should not drive to the left of the center of the roadway.

This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.
