Roaring Springs Gets P.W.A. School Building Loan

To Cost $46,700

Work May Start As Soon As Arrangements Are Completed

Dr. J. F. Hughes, president of the Roaring Springs school board, received a telegram from Tom Connally Sunday notifying the board that the $46,700 P. W. A. loan to build a new school building in Roaring Springs had been granted. The application for the loan was made last fall.

At present it is not known how much time will be required before actual construction of the new building can be started owing to a number of details that must be completed. Some estimates of six weeks have been made as the time required before work can be started.

The original plans for the building include a structure of the most modern type. It will possibly be constructed on the site of the present building unless changes are made from plans at the time the application for the loan was made.

Everett Arnold Victim of Thugs Last Wednesday

Attacked at Ballard Bridge by Man Believed to be Friend

Everett Arnold was treated here late last Wednesday afternoon when it was found necessary to take 4 stitches in his scalp as the result of being struck on the back of his head by a brass knuck in the hand of a former friend.

Mr. Arnold declared that Wednesday afternoon he met Loyd Pollard and a companion named "Blackie" of Borger, and that Pollard, a former resident of this county had been a friend of his for some nine years.

He said the two men tried to persuade him to buy a truck jack which he declined but agreed to accompany them to the country on the pretense of seeing a man.

He said that on approaching the Ballard Creek bridge, about two miles east of Matador, the men stopped the car and asked him to get out. He said he did not suspect anything until the man named "Blackie," when they were under the bridge, suddenly pinioned his arms, while Pollard swung with a heavy brass knuck and struck him unconscious.

The two men had departed when he regained consciousness. No reason was given for the attack.

Sheriff J. E. Skinner made a trip to Borger Friday when it was believed the two men had been arrested there but found on his arrival that it was not the men who had made the attack.

Quite a few children wouldn't be so bad if it weren't for the parents they have to live with. Other children wouldn't be so bad if their parents would stay home long enough to live with them.

Unfortunately, to make money we must spend money.

Candid Advertising to Be Carried Out

VALUES OFFERED

Double Page Ad In This Issue Tribune

At a meeting of the trades day Chamber of Commerce held in the chamber of commerce held in the directors' room of the First State Bank Monday afternoon an entirely new merchandising plan was launched to become effective next Saturday, July 7.

After a close study of the reaction of certain plans being used by neighboring towns to attract crowds on Saturday, it was decided that the most powerful incentive to the buyer, is the price of merchandise he needs. Immediately following the agreement was the frame-work of July bargain sales, whereby each merchant would do his share offering specials for each Saturday in July at prices so low it would be impossible to duplicate them in this section of Texas.

A double page advertisement in this issue of the Tribune carries the specials offered by the various merchants of the city at prices which will apply only on Saturday, July 7. A different list of specials will be offered each Saturday in the month.

The most unique feature of this cooperative advertisement is the candid explanation of purpose in the extreme low prices offered. It was the opinion of merchants that customers are tired of schemes used to promote their buying and that they would appreciate and respond to the frank statement of facts.

Prices offered are in every instance below the actual value and in some cases below the actual cost. It is believed that with all lines of business cooperating with these specials every Saturday in the form of a sale for the entire town will offer the greatest possible inducement to people of this trading territory to make Matador a recognized shopping center.

In order that the response to the plan might be as successful as possible the regular Saturday Trades Day tickets will be given by all the firms participating in the July Bargain Sales.

HONEY GROVE MAN FINDS THAT IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

S. B. Evans, grocer of Honey Grove, a town of less than 3,000 inhabitants, began running a quarter page advertisement in his home paper five years ago, jumping to a half page a year later, and two years later making it a full page, never missing an issue.

He has now run a full page for 114 consecutive weeks, and he admits that he has made plenty of money against all kinds of competition, in spite of hard times. This success could be copied in any size town.—State Line Tribune.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Crews and daughter Margaret, of Plainview, spent Wednesday at their home in Matador.

SERVICE CLUBS

Kiwanis, Lions, Rotary and other organizations exert a powerful influence in causing those of us who are in a position to do so to do so in the name of God given us with his blessings. Their constructive and generous giving to the plain people of this country and the understanding of the American industrial revolution with which we are confronted to any particular line of endeavor, but are as varied as circumstances, place and time suggest opportunities for concrete and constructive effort for the common good.

A great cardinal principle of these clubs, in maintaining their service to humanity, is a belief in the fundamental fact that behind every finished product there must be the human heart, the human mind and the human hand, and that only in so far as these human agencies are trained and developed, given breadth of vision and courage, any worth while building be accomplished.
Their record of achievement is open for all the world to see, and it is abounding in the high purpose of upbuilding, human character, relief of suffering of humanity and a constructive attitude toward every worthy problem local, state and national.
At the recent Florida district, Lions International convention in Miami a well merited tribute was paid to these service clubs for the beneficial work they have accomplished by Fred H. Davis, Chief of Florida, who said: "Service clubs, such as the Lions, Rotary and Kiwanis have prospered and grown great in America, because they have evidenced the scope of human relationships, fostered good will. We've left us no opportunity for the spread of hatred in this country and I feel the chief responsibility for this happy condition may be laid to the service clubs of the nation."—Topic,

The other day I had luncheon with a friend at Victor Hugo's Cafe in Los Angeles. Frank Craven, the veteran comedy actor and ace playwright also had a friend with him and they sat right beside me. The waiter, by mistake, handed me Mr. Craven's check. When I glanced at it and saw the amount totaled to $7.80, I got one of my dizzy spells—after I came to I called to the attention of the waiter his error and soon everything was righted once more.

O. O. McIntyre, in his famous column "Once Overs" calls Victor Hugo's one of the very finest cafes in the United States. This is taking in a very large territory, but Mr. McIntyre knows his food emporiums—he is an epicurian and a very fastidious one at that. And what with his travels, both here and abroad, he is in a very good position to judge.

Victor Hugo's is located practically in the heart of the down town section of Los Angeles. It is not a large place, but it has an intimate feeling about it of quiet richness. The place is done in ivory and old gold with olive green velvet upholstery and hangings. Amber shaded lights from the center and side, flood the place with refined subdued lighting. Crystal, silver and white nappery are in evidence everywhere. The waiters are all dressed in immaculate white jackets and dark trousers and look to me as if they had received their training in Europe's finest hotels.

Their service is courtesy itself and quiet unobtrusiveness. Besides the cocktails, wines, coffee and desert—the main body of the luncheon can be roughly divided into two parts. The hot dishes and the cold ones. The hot dishes are all brought to you by the waiter, served in silver chafing dishes. Among others I remember spaghetti with ground meat, sauce and mushrooms; then came ravioli this was followed by portions of duck in orange sauce (this I liked the best of all) now came the salads and cold cuts of meats.

The waiter brought us six different salads—all served in silver trays resting on crushed ice which in turn, was placed in silver containers. The salad that I liked best was one of hearts of lettuce with anchovies and gorgonzola cheese. After the salads came the cold cuts of meat—smoked tongue, ham, beef, pressed meat, pate de foie gras (this was the genuine and it was delicious) and I almost forgot to mention the wonderful stuffed eggs. All this was placed before you dressed up as only a great chef could prepare it. Quantity and quality seems to be their motto here at Victor Hugo's. It is a real treat to dine at this place amid the quiet elegant surroundings—an experience that all gourmets will recall with pleasant recollections long after the price is forgotten.

Campaigner at Eight

The youngest campaigner in the state. At eight, precocious student of government and a silver-tongued orator, Little Jane Lou Short of Navasota has been telling the voters who's who in the state races.
Neither microphone nor camera bother her. How she is "con-ting it on" while John Francis of Dallas candidate for Railroad Commissioner, holds the "mike" so her voice will be picked up.

The Works' the two principals will be performing on a higher and better plane. I have reference to Lew Cody and Dorothy Dell.
Both died very suddenly—only a week apart. Perhaps this greivsome circumstance will have interest from the speculative angle.

Ann Southern and Niel Hamilton will soon be seen in a picture called "Blind Date." Some of the scenes are laid in a dance hall where a dance marathon is in progress.

Dance marathons have not been shown often on the screen but the marathons are a disgusting spectacle. I witnessed one about two years ago. It was held in a suburb of Los Angeles. When the dance started about 80 couples were on the floor. The idea was to have them dance day and night with only 15 minutes out of each hour for rest, until only one couple should remain who were then entitled to a money prize of one thousand dollar. The day I saw them only three couples remained on the floor, they had been going it for five months day and night, with only this hourly fifteen minute period of rest. The law finally compelled them to bring this marathon to a close at midnight of the day I went. The three couples that I saw looked dull and 'dopey' cheap and trashy. Only morons would let themselves in for this sort of thing, abusing themselves—going against all laws of nature, perhaps harming themselves permanently for life. The managers, however, realized a mint of money from this enterprise.
On the backs of these dancers were placards reading "No. 7 sponsored by Buckeye Stove Co." or "Sponsored by the Ladies' Hat Shope" these firms would then give these people articles of wearing apparel, or other articles, because while dancing about they were advertising these firms.
Sometimes the monotony of it all would be broken by the announcer requesting a lively jigg or some other thing and money would be thrown to the favorites. In the picture "Blind Date" is shown just such a condition of affairs—when Ann Southern exhausted on the floor and Niel Hamilton rushes in, picks her up and carries her out.
The picture is not true to life, in as much as the people engaged in this marathon are all young, and intelligent looking for the most part, while in reality they look stupid, simple and cheap. At any rate, this dance marathon may interest you by its very novelty, and something new and different is what we are all looking for, after all.

able to draw for himself the major portion of the applause of the crowds at the other state park

MOVIE CHATTER
By A Rogue

Coming Friday and Saturday we are going to have George O'Brien in a role different from those he has been playing the last few years. As you remember his productions have been entirely limited to westerns, well this picture is not a western. I don't know a great deal of the story myself, but as I understand, its going to be a he man type of picture that will please all who see it. The name of the picture is "Ever Since Eve," now if the title suggests anything to you I should like for you to drop me a card, because it doesn't mean a thing to me; however besides George in this production, we have Mary Brian and Herbert Mundin, so taking the cast, and putting it with the things I have read and heard about this picture, I do not hesitate to recommend it to you.
You will like "Ever Since Eve," but I still say this is a heckuva little.

Sunday and Monday we have a story for you that you have all heard about—"Bolero," starring George Raft, Carole Lombard and Sally Rand (the famous fan dancer of last year's worlds fair at Chicago). The scenes of this picture are laid in Paris, France, the city of enchantment, with all the beautiful girls he can catch merely as stepping stones to his fame, which he attains to be hurried off to war; but then perhaps I had better not tell you too much of the story. You have been hearing and reading about "Bolero" for a long time, and your chance to see it will be Sunday or Monday.

Whether one considers the world round, flat, square or crooked depends on the part he has bumped against.

Employees who are fired by enthusiasm and a desire to succeed always have a decided advantage over those fired by the boss.

Sings to Entire United States Fleet

Harry Richman in his amphibian plane, about to take off on his flight over the United States fleet.

WHEN the United States fleet of battleships, cruisers, aircraft carriers, destroyers, mine sweepers, training ships and one hospital ship, anchored recently in New York harbor, Harry Richman wondered if there wasn't some way he could sing to the whole United States Navy. So, he fitted his amphibian plane with loud speakers, proceeded to fly from one end of the fleet to the other, and sang songs he sang during the three and a half years he spent in the navy. Richman, who broadcasts every Wednesday night over a nationwide hook-up, usually pilots his own plane but this time allowed someone else to handle the controls so that he could devote his time to singing and announcing. Harry announced between numbers: "This is coming from an ex-gob who remembers well the happy days he spent in the navy."

Texas U. Students Search E-Tex for Cremated Remains

Austin, Tex., July 3.—Searching for cremated burials and pottery in east Texas, nine University of Texas student anthropologists left Austin June 2 to be gone the entire summer, according to a report from J. E. Pearce, professor of anthropology. Under A. T. Jackson, head field foreman in archaeology at the University, who will select the places to be explored, the students are hoping to get interesting facts and information for the department of anthropology. Students making the trip are those who have had several courses in anthropology and are interested in research work. They will spend one month at Mount Pleasant, then until September they will make tours of east Texas.

ROTARIANS MAKE RECORD DRIVE IN NEW CHEVROLETS

Detroit, July 3.—Seven Stockton, California, Rotarians led by A. H. Patterson established new unofficial records in their trip to the International Rotary convention at Detroit, it was reported to Chevrolet officials here.

Making the journey in two Master Six Chevrolet sedans, the party covered the 2225 miles from Stockton to Chicago in 39 hours and 54 minutes, according to Patterson, who drove the pace car. Woodruff Patterson, his son, piloted the second car.

The first 1,047 miles of the journey, from Stockton to Rawlins, Wyoming, was made in 19 hours, wind, and cloudbursts from Battle Mountain, Nevada, to Rawlins. Stops were made only for gasoline in the entire journey from Stockton to Detroit, only four quarts of oil were added, two to each car, and not a drop of water.

Canyon Museum Gets Bedsread From Matador

Canyon, Texas, July 3.—A bed coverlet, made of silk handkerchiefs, has recently been loaned to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, to be on display for a short time.

The coverlet, made of silk handkerchiefs with a brocade-like finish, is 45 years old. The handkerchiefs were presented to Mrs. D. E. Keith on Christmas Day 1889. They were a gift from cowboys on the old Matador ranch.

On each handkerchief the initials of the giver are embroidered. Shown with the spread are pictures of Mrs. Keith and her husband and some of the cowboys who worked on the Matador ranch long ago.

This interesting spread was brought to the museum by Prof. L. F. Sheffy, secretary of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society.

who is spending the summer collecting manuscripts of the Plains country.

Another display of great interest is that of a case of guns which were presented to A. Dumont by the 13th Texas legislature in 1873. They were given as a token of respect for his bravery in one of the Indian battles of southwest Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Dumont were residents of the Paducah country for many years. Mr. Dumont came there in 1877 and was the first white woman to settle there.—Amarillo News-Globe.
