TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

There is something forlorn about a camp-fire deserted while the flames still live, as if a painter had left his canvas because no more beauty remained in his heart or the color had dried in his brushes. The memories of song and laughter, pleasant stories and prayer will rest enshrined and peaceful in the cooling embers and the ashes, after the smallest flame has moved behind the curtain of oblivion and the chilling winds of solitude scurry hurriedly to tidy up the empty theatre. But a camp-fire is a forge from which pleasant things are hammered by the beating of human hearts, with work unfinished as long as the flame remains, unless the artisans stay close-by to model with dreams and meditation.

My mother alone has shared my pride in the "cow-lick" on my forehead. The lock of rope-colored hair has remained through a lifetime with no applause from this vain world, except the times long ago when my mother would point out the attribute to visiting neighbors. Even then, it seemed to me there was considerable lack of enthusiasm.

Then, there was the remark by a portly, red-headed girl one night when I held her hand at a party in an exciting "snap" game, about the funny way my hair grew in front. Time has parented the conclusion that each individual can best appreciate himself, anyway.

The master of words and thoughts O'Henry, once used a man's kindness to a dog as an index to the character of a murderer which was the touch of an artist in a story, but truth is stranger than fiction. Were I hungry and friendless, arriving in a strange city, I should like to know where the men who loved dogs, lived. I would have little fear in approaching them because they—the most human of all, teeming with the faults and virtues of mankind—would be tolerant and listen to me.

West Texas nights are fragrant, like the clean aroma of apples and pipe smoke, when the first young norther, cloaked in the guise of a cool wind, steals from that fortress under the high polar star and spies into the drowsy camp of summer. An intangible element lingers as the melancholy flapping of invisible wings that may be time passing too hurriedly.

A genuine smile is a lamp in the hands of courage that knows no darkness too great along the pathway of ambition. Its fuel is faith and the temple gates of tomorrow are stripped of their secret fastenings by hands that do not wait for the light of a new day. Storms lash their fury against the flame in the rock-walled canyons of struggle, but it does not fail the restless feet of purpose. The vanquished, after the standard of victory has fallen into new possession, do not despise the man who smiles while he fights.

My father used to worry considerable about the frequent difficulties my brother and I would have between ourselves that often terminated with bloody noses, torn clothes and doubled buggy-lines. He feared for the future when we would grow to manhood. However, he failed to take into cognizance the tremendous influence of nature and would have been relieved had he known then that my brother would outweigh me fifty pounds. I have often wondered if he noticed when and why we ceased the hostilities.

A strange power will clutch the heart at times when there is no premonition and bring brief visions to the soul of a broader, transformed plane glided with the fine dust of a more magnificent life. It may come after the roar of a speeding express train when the shrill vibrations of the engine's whistle plead pitiously under the smothering hand of space. Or again from an orchestra pit when the violin's spirit trembles with

Huey Long Mortally Wounded; Assailant Is Killed Instantly

Senator Dies Early Tuesday Morning From Bullet Fired In Louisiana Capitol Corridor

BATON ROUGE, La.—Senator Huey P. Long was mortally shot, Sunday night in the Louisiana statehouse when his assassin, Dr. C. A. Weiss Jr., Baton Rouge eye, ear, nose and throat specialist was riddled with more than a score of bullets and killed. Senator Long died Tuesday morning. Long walked stumbingly down the steps from the first floor to the basement, holding his hands to his side, and was taken to Our Lady of the Lake sanitarium. Physicians said the bullet entered the right side of his abdomen and apparently ranged through body, emerging on the back side. Long's bodyguards were trailing him at the time of the shooting and they went into quick action and riddled the body of his attacker with bullets.

The shooting occurred immediately after the house adjourned at 9:20 p. m. Long had just left the house of representatives where he was directing the enactment of legislation in a special session and was passing in a corridor near the governor's office when the shooting occurred.

Dr. Weiss, 30, who was standing near the wall, suddenly drew a .32 pistol from his shirt front, pressed it toward Long's abdomen and fired just as John B. Fournet, a justice of the state supreme court grabbed the gun. Paul Votier and Murphy Roden and other bodyguards who were with Long immediately opened fire with automatic pistols. Weiss, his body riddled by about 40 bullets, slumped face downward on the floor. He was killed immediately.

Bodyguards said Long was probably saved from instant death because Dr. Weiss' automatic, a .32 caliber "outlaw" automatic, jammed after the first shot was fired. The body lay in the corridor for more than an hour as Dr. T. B. Bird, parish coroner, viewed it and had photographs taken of it. The crowds were just leaving the house as it adjourned when the firing rang through the ornate main floor of the 33-story statehouse Long built. Women screamed and men cried out as scores pressed pell mell to get back into the house chamber and clung to the wall to escape rapidly flying bullets.

MORE RAIN FALLS IN COUNTY SUN.

Additional rainfall in Motley county Sunday afternoon, estimated to have been between one and one half inches and two inches in Matador, has banished all fear of drought from 1935 crop prospects. The abundant moisture and favorable growing weather has completely assured one of the best fates in the county in several years according to conservative farmers. With a possible late frost cotton will greatly increase the prospects of a few weeks ago.

YOUNG TAHOKA ATTORNEY FOR SENATE PLACE

District Attorney From Lynn Co. Announces As Candidate To Succeed Late Hon. Duggan

G. H. Nelson, District Attorney of the 106th Judicial District, announced Monday his candidacy for State Senator, 30th Senatorial District of Texas, to succeed the late Honorable Arthur P. Duggan. He stated he would make an active personal campaign of the district and make known his platform at an early date. Governor Allred has called a special election for September 28 to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the prominent West Texas Senator. "I will base my campaign," Nelson stated, "on the proper methods of liquor control, and on the old age pension problem, in accordance with the recently voted

CANDIDATE WILL SPEAK IN MATADOR

Information received in a telephone call from G. H. Nelson, District Attorney of the 106th Judicial District, whose home is at Tahoka, declared that he would be in Matador Saturday afternoon to speak on his campaign as candidate for Senator to fill the unexpired term of the Honorable Arthur P. Duggan, deceased, of the 30th Senatorial district. Mr. Nelson extends an invitation to everyone interested in the race to hear his address.

constitutional amendments. I will favor old age pensions such as will be keeping with the ability of the State to pay, and seek to put such pensions in operation as quickly as possible. "I favor education for West Texas children in equality with those of other sections of Texas, and will seek adequate support of West Texas institutions of higher learning.

Proper Representation "If elected, I will fight for proper representation of West Texas in the legislature through redistricting of representative and senatorial districts as required by law." He also stated he would lay special emphasis on agriculture, labor, highway, revenue and taxation.

Worked Way Through Schools

Born thirty-three years ago on a farm in Cass County, Texas, Nelson early in life acquired an ambition to serve the people in public office. He worked his way through Hughes Springs High School, East Texas State Teachers College and the University of Texas Law School, following which he served as principal of Roscoe and Herleigh High School and Secretary-Manager of Tahoka and Ralls Chamber of Commerce. Since 1928 Nelson has served two terms as County Attorney of Lynn County and is now serving his second term, unopposed, as District Attorney under Judge Gordon B. McGuire, Lamesa.

"I believe," Nelson said, "that my twelve years in West Texas, with three of them devoted entirely to the study of West Texas problems and needs, my records before the bar, as a school man, as a civic and church worker, will show I am qualified for the office I now seek."

Gov. Allred Pays Tribute To Vets Amarillo Reunion

Praise For Bravery In South's Defense State Rights

The tribute paid by Governor James V. Allred to the Confederate Veterans last week before their 45th Annual Reunion at Amarillo is full of stirring praise for the brave deeds of the South in defense of their ideals of state rights. Because we cherish the memory of the Confederacy and because possibly the last reunion of the thinning grey ranks was held in our state, the following excerpts from Governor Allred's speech should be of interest to our readers. "As we catch the torch of Jeffersonian Democracy from your failing hands," the Governor said to the Veterans, "we renew our pledge to you to pass on to our posterity the creed of our forefathers—to fight and die, if need be, for the principles of state sovereignty as guaranteed by the Constitution.

"I think it was Joseph Weldon Bailey, the great states rights defender of Texas history, who once said, 'No triumph or defeat can change the immutable principles of free government.' That truth was never more evident than today—70 years after the surrender of General Lee at Appomattox. "The greatest discussion in the (Continued On Second Page)

Crowell Expects Big Grid Crowd At Matador Game

CROWELL, Texas, Sept. 10.—The largest crowd to ever attend a football game in Crowell is expected when Matador clashes with the Wildcat eleven in the opening game of the season here Friday night, September 20.

This will be the initial game under Crowell's new lighting system, which is rated as the finest on the market and also the first contest for which the new seating facilities will be used. Construction on a new bleacher seat section is nearing completion. It will be capable of seating over two thousand people comfortably. The first row of seats is seven and one-half feet above the ground, thus eliminating the possibility of interference with a clear view of the game, in case an overflow crowd requires some to stand along the sidelines. Matador and Crowell will share in the gate receipts on about a fifty-fifty basis.

Crowell and Matador contests have always drawn large crowds here and with reports that the Matadors will invade the Wildcat den with a strong squad have caused local fans to look forward to the game with particular interest.

Although Crowell lost several outstanding veterans from last year's regional championship team including the well known Dick Todd, the Wildcats have ten letter men back and expect to have another strong squad this year.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Carl Sanders, who underwent an appendix operation at the Traveek Hospital last Friday is declared improving. While Mr. Sanders' condition was found to be more complicated than at first believed due to certain growths revealed through the operation, he is thought to be out of serious danger

LAST RESPECTS PAID SENATOR ARTHUR DUGGAN

Interment Of Beloved West-Texas Is Made In State Cemetery

AUSTIN, Sept. 8.—The State paid its last respects to Senator Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield in a brief, simple service in the historic Senate chamber. Burial was in the State Cemetery. High state officials and the late Senator's friends crowded the spacious chamber. The casket was escorted to the Capitol by a guard of honor of state highway patrolmen and city police and placed before a flower banked rostrum. Rev. Lawrence H. Wharton pastor of University Presbyterian Church, officiated. He eulogized Senator Duggan as the ideal type of citizen who served his Nation in war and his State and church in peace. Services at the grave were conducted by the Masonic Lodge of Littlefield, assisted by the Austin Lodge. A large delegation from Littlefield attended the services. "A special election will be held Sept. 28 in the Thirtieth District to choose a successor to Senator Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield. Governor Allred signed a proclamation Saturday calling the election, but withheld announcement pending the funeral services for Senator Duggan, who died Friday. The district is composed of Lamb, Bailey, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Cottle, King, Dickens, Lubbock, Crosby, Hockley, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Kent, Stonewall, Borden, Dawson, Gaines, Andrews, Garza, Martin and Cochran Counties.

Employment Office Has New Location

The National Re-Employment office which has been located in the First State Bank building, has been moved upstairs in the City Hall just east of the post office. While the office supplies labor for all types of work, farmers will find the service convenient during the coming harvest season. It is doubtful if any permanent organization of the present administration will prove of more lasting benefit to those seeking employment and those seeking re-employment offices.

Presiding Elder Will Fill Pulpit

Rev. W. L. Tittle, Presiding Elder of the Plainview District of the Methodist Church, will preach at the Matador Methodist Church next Sunday, September 15. Rev. Tittle will fill the vacancy caused by the absence of Rev. D. D. Denison, who is visiting with his family in Virginia. The Board of Stewards invite everyone to attend the services to be conducted by Rev. Tittle.

Billion Dollar Cotton Crop Looms For South

Motley county may raise one of the best cotton crops in its history this year, but there will be no shortage of tax-exemption certificates according to estimates furnished by M. E. Thompson, Assistant in Cotton Adjustment through the office of county agent Frank A. Hockley. Regarding the situation that is giving much concern to West Texas cotton producing counties since the increased prospect for a good cotton crop Mr. Thompson furnishes the following information: The average ginning of Motley county for the four years 1928, 1929, 1931 and 1932 was 15,676 bales. One Third Is Rented Of the average acreage that was in cotton during those years 33.4 percent or one third has been rented to the government. With this reduction from the average we have a potential of 10,451 bales

DRUG STORE COWBOY PARIS, TEXAS, SEPT. 8.—A real drug store cowboy has shown up.

At least, J. B. Strong, Paris drug store employe, knows something about the weight of cattle. He guessed the exact weight—20,852 pounds—of a lot of 25 Herefords shown at the Lamar district fair which closed yesterday. Guesses ranged from 1,500 to more than 1,000,000 pounds for the lot, indicating that some East Texans don't know much about cattle weights. Two persons, however, guessed the lot to weight 20,850 pounds.

Beryl Blackshear Hurt In Scrimmage

Topping Highway Now In Progress

The second topping of Highway 28 east from Matador to the Cottle county line was started last week and traffic on the road detoured north through the city over the 'Lovers Loop' to avoid conflict with workmen. The work is progressing rapidly and will possibly be completed within a few weeks.

Hand Badly Cut In Saw Friday

T. E. (Ed) Williams, manager of the Handcraft Shop, which is located in the Crews building on the south side of the square, was the victim of a serious accident Friday afternoon when his right hand came in contact with a speeding wood saw. Three fingers and the thumb of his hand were instantly cut to the bone. Immediate medical attention was administered and at present Mr. Williams is hopeful that the injury will not derive him of the use of his hand unless complication should follow.

Small Damage By Blaze Here Sunday

Fire Chief, C. B. Groves, reported that a small amount of damage had resulted from the blaze discovered in the roof of a house owned by I. N. Plumlee, and occupied by a Mr. McMillen, located in south east Matador, Sunday morning. While the call was answered by the fire department, the fire was under control when he truck arrived. The fire was believed to have been caused from a defective flue connected with a wood cook stove.

 11,489,000-bale cotton crop this year was predicted today by the Department of Agriculture, representing a reduction 309,000 bales
 from the estimate a month ago.

The department said the drop was due largely to insect damage and continued dry weather.

Most of the reduction was predicted for Texas, where the forecast was 384,000 bales less than a month ago. A decline of 59,000 bales was shown for Oklahoma, only moderate changes were indicated for other states.

GOVERNOR ALLRED . . .

history of the nation has waged throughout the land in recent months over proposed or threatened changes in this government which has been handed down to us from the time that our early forebears gathered in groups to discuss the ratification of the Constitution. Suggestions have emanated that in America's hour of distress we should give up all that the framers of the Constitution insisted should go into it, that we should amend it so as to give the federal government the power to regulate the intricate and minute details of personal life and business. Small wonder indeed that turbulent thoughts should be aroused and seethingly churned in the minds of those who believe in the principles of states rights!

"The eternal principles of right and of good government are eternal everlasting. You may change the application of a rule to changing conditions, but time brings no necessity for altering time-tried and time-proven rules of good government. It is inevitable and natural that slow and gradual change shall take place in this living constitution by construction and the change of the people themselves, but up until now we have preserved that essential characteristic, an American Republic, from the fatal experience of all the other forms of government. We have guarded against strong national government; we have adhered to the theory of states rights!

 "To you immortal heroes of the Confederacy, I say that we in Texas pledge our allegiance to the cause of state rights—that true Democracy for which you so nobly fought. Texans, with the memory of the blood so illustriously shed by our fathers in the immortal defense of the Alamo, probably more than the citizens of any other state believe in states rights and local self-government.

"As descendants of a proud and fearless, free and independent republic which recognized tribute to no nation, we would be unworthy of the proud heritage we claim should we not stand firm for the sovereign principles of state government so expressly granted by the United States Constitution."

BAPTIST REVIVAL CLOSES

The revival which has been in progress at the Baptist Church during the past two weeks, closed Sunday evening. Services were conducted by Rev. A. V. Bradley of Vernon, assisted by Rev. and Mrs. Harold Russ of Wayland College, Plainview. Every service was attended by good crowds. In the service Thursday evening, Rev. Bradley was called as pastor of the church. He and his family will move here within a few days to take charge of the work. A. B. T. U. was organized with an enrollment of eighty eight members.

ROARING SPRING SCHOOL OPENED MONDAY

The Roaring Springs schools opened Monday morning with a record-breaking attendance. Due to the removal of the seats from the auditorium, no program was presented for the public.

This promises to be one of the best school years in the history of the town in spite of the fact that the new building could not be constructed before the beginning of the term.

AUDITORIUM SEATS SOLD

It is contemplated that work will begin in tearing down of the third story of the school building, within a few days.

AAA Amendments Passed By Congress

College Station, Sept. 7.—A special release from Washington, D. C., outlined the amendments to the Agricultural Adjustment Act which have met the approval of both houses of Congress and have the signature of President Roosevelt.

The amendments have two major purposes. One is to give the Secretary of Agriculture added powers in carrying out the farm program and the other is to erect bulwarks around the program against the time when provisions of the Act will have to meet the crucial test in the Supreme Court.

"The new amendments," Secretary Wallace commented, "will permit increased 'adjustment' of production by permitting benefit payments for increased production," Wallace was careful to point out that there is little likelihood of this provision being put to use except in cases of grave emergency.

On the most controversial point, the section barring suits by processors to recover processing taxes in event the levies are held unconstitutional, a compromise was reached. Processors can sue for recovery, but only after they have submitted their claims to the commissioners of internal revenue. However, the processors must show they have not passed the taxes along.

The amendments also permit the Secretary of Agriculture to draft marketing agreements with the consent of the majority of producers or processors for the following: Milk, fruit, tobacco, vegetables, soy beans, pecans, walnuts and naval stores.

The recent act of Congress also extends the Bankhead cotton control act and authorizes a similar program for potatoes. It also permits start of the "ever normal" Government could make loans to producers to induce them to hold surplus crops on farms.

Other provisions in the amendments authorize use of 30 percent customs receipts to finance export of crop surpluses except cotton, under the export debenture plan; and authorize use of part of the $4,000,000,000 works funds to buy up sub-marginal farm land.

PLAINS BOOSTERS CONTINUE TRIPS

LUBBOCK, Texas, Sept. 7.—Crops look good—so do Fair prospects.

That is the verdict of Lubbock business men after making the first two good will trips over the section, advertising the Panhandle South Plains Fair.

A third trip is to be made to the northwest and western part of the Plains section Tuesday, Sept. 17.

Carrying novelties for the kiddies literature for the grown ups, the good will trippers have spread the word of a two dollar show for a quarter, while H. A. Anderson, director, and the Lubbock High School Band played concerts over the section.

Speakers told crowds of the thrills to be expected on the midway of the Wortham Shows, at the Harley Sadler 3 ring circus, and other attractions at the fair.

School children and farmers were told of the educational exhibits, of the fine livestock, poultry, swine, that will be on display and the many other interesting things awaiting the fair visitor.

Wednesday, Sept. 25, School Day, when all school children are admitted free, is expected to again be the biggest day of all, in spite of stellar attractions on all other days.

Safeguarding Of School Children Against Disease

Austin, Texas, Sept. 9.—The beginning of another school year is now at hand. The weeks have provided for school children the opportunity for mental rest and relaxation; they have likewise made for physical growth and development. Thousands of boys and girls will advance to a higher grade as they turn toward the schoolhouse.

In addition, a new group of children, escorted by parents or older children, will be entering school for the first time. The years spent in school represent training for life work. Such training accomplishes most when administered to pupils and students with clear minds and sound bodies.

Moreover, this training must go on without serious interruption. Other things being equal, the school with a fine record for attendance is more apt to approach a high standard of education than the school with poor enrollment due to avoidable disease, declared Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

It is unfortunate from any standpoint when children are kept away from school because of illness, doubly so when sickness is due to preventable cause. No school need have its attendance record shattered because of an outbreak of smallpox or diphtheria. Parents increasing number are having their children safeguarded against these diseases in the first year of life.

Bobby Black of Moran, is visiting relatives here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Mose Dameron, accompanied by Mrs. W. F. Caghen, made a trip to Spur Monday of last week.

E. M. Rice of Plainview visited friends here Saturday, returning home Sunday.

Welding
... the best way to make a perfect union of two pieces of metal is by welding them together.

... and the best way to get a more pleasing flavor and a better taste in a cigarette is by welding together the different types of tobacco ...

That is just what we do in making CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes—the three types of mild ripe home-grown tobaccos, that is tobaccos grown in this country, are welded together. Then they are welded with aromatic Turkish. When these tobaccos are welded together you get a combined flavor which is entirely different from any one type of tobacco. It is this welding of the right amounts of the right kind of tobaccos that makes CHESTERFIELD a milder and better-tasting cigarette.
