TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

Rain drops cling to the window pane and move as clear, tremulous tears upon the worn cheek of an old man kneeling at twilight besides a grass-covered bier. There is a tender silence and some unspoken veneration serving faithfully the moods of nature as well as those of the human heart in a capacity which is not understood through expression. Both pain and joy may seek the expanses of silence as a comet's tail whipping madly in the dry lake of space rather than to be confined between the tangible banks of wail and laughter. The tear is that which is left over when the heart-measure is too full of the incredible ingredients going into the batter of life.

If the goodness of nature is exceedingly happy or sorrowful despite the eternal jewels of stars fixed as a diadem and silver tresses of moonbeams swept by the night wind across lovely shoulders of hills, the rain drops are tears falling from the white cheeks of a cloud. And man has inherited the identical trait from his buxom parent to which he has developed the concession of abuse in crying for sympathy the moment he touches the glowing coals of needless disaster.

I have never wondered about the omnipotence of the Almighty since I first witnessed the sea.

Red hills crowned with scrubby cedar trees stand close back of the corrals and the stack-lot adjoining the rambling old house of the line-camp nestling in the lap of a wide sandy river that seems too comfortable to ever rise again. The house has rotted and settled to its first strip of spongy weather-board and pillows stuffed in missing windows of the bunk room have bleached white in so many days. Wild china-berry trees screen the long veranda where every board was once held firm by square nails until the beating boot-heels of restless men wore away its strength. Birth and death have each held their fervent trysts beneath a roof which now defies time more effectively than the rain. The past hangs too heavy about the place with its damp incense of old love and dreams, the burning agony of heart-ache and loneliness of songs echoing in a prison of solitude, as if time had wearied of its own company. Sometimes the wind stirs melancholy needs in the ghostly walls with the sound of wailing violins, a crowded dance floor, the jingle of spurs and laughter mingling with garish shadows, passing before the jostling flame of a coal oil lamp.

It is a bubble blown from the cup of youth, poured too soon, and dried gracelessly upon a table where only one has dined and remained to watch the dancers. Clean, brittle wind blowing off the straggling lagoon of sky, chaste, childish tears and broken words as the juggernaut of life crashed over a brief world. The mid-night express whistle through the teeth of fate and flames burning in the snow as altar fires for an eternal parting. One sip of the enchanted wine before the casks were destroyed.

So many miles lain as formidable stones in wall about another world with futile little prayers and tender memories—foolish carvings on a Gypsum rock that is crumbling and all traces of a bare foot in the dust, overgrown with grass.

I have a personal fear of being first to reach the scene of a motor tragedy where death alone may be listening to a soul-less radio still playing a torch song.

Those without rest are the wretched whose emotions have become as dead branches on a barren tree. They look upon the starved garden of hope with listless eyes and taste the worn-wood of despair at the dawn of each tomorrow. One sound, healthy hair is to be preferred to complete apathy.

Chief Parker is a graduate of the Ft. His older brother, the white man's friend, Dr. A. C. Traweck, adopted the white man's custom of hair dress and the white man's clothing after he became a lawyer.

Friend Of Quannah Parker
Dr. Traweck knew Chief Baldwin Parker's father and was his friend until the time of the aggressive warrior's death. He has known Chief Baldwin Parker for many years and the Chief has always visited with the doctor when passing through Matador. Chief Baldwin Parker was born at Ft. Sill. CITY WATER TESTS PURE

Customers of the Matador Water Department need not fear the purity of their drinking water, according to City Secretary, Tom Harris. Monthly tests of the water reveal negative showing with no variation, and no need of any kind of treatment is recommended.

While the water has considerable mineral content, it is beneficial rather than harmful, some of the minerals being used in expensive medicated waters.

Certain minerals causing corrosion on utensils where water is boiled, has caused many to believe the city water supply contains "gyp" or gypsum, found in the water supply of many cities in this section. This is an erroneous impression, Mr. Harris declared, since no gypsum is revealed in regular tests of the water.

"THERE IS GLORY ENOUGH FOR ANY MAN TO LIVE AND DIE A TEXAN."

BY E. A. HARP

To give you some idea of how our representatives from the great Lone Star State spend their time and our money in Washington, D. C.—Representative Maverick introduced a bill in the House a few days ago making it unlawful for women to wear uniforms or any part of uniforms that would lead people to believe they were in any way connected with our National Defense. He said, "If the women want in the army let them scrub floors".

A few days ago Representative Vito Marcantonio, Republican of New York led 12,000 unemployed W. P. A. workers in a demonstration in New York City, against police orders. A riot ensued. Is that spirit truly representative of our people?

It might be that one way to recovery would be to place some new faces in the House of Representatives.

Did you know that Richard Hauptmann was assessed over $9,000 income tax on the Lindbergh ransom money? Maybe they will send him to the penitentiary if he doesn't pay it.

I don't mean in any way to take Hauptmann's part. A person having such a huge amount of the ransom money in his possession is guilty enough to die.

The joke business is a good one and most prosperous. Most all of the jokes are written, switched and rewritten by about a dozen men drawing from $500 to $1500 a week. Hal Horne has incorporated his joke business and has offices on Fifth Avenue. He has more than 3,000,000 jokes in his files and the price is 40 for $10. He has special services of selected jokes at higher prices.

It is likely that Jimmie Walker and Al Smith will be the delegates from Tamany Hall to the Democratic Convention. Probably Al Smith wants to walk in so as to make his "walk-out" more impressive.

Some of our high state officials are to receive soldiers bonus bonds. The Senior boys' basketball sweaters and the junior boys'

Among them are, James V. Allred, Attorney General William McCraw, Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson, and Judge J. H. Baugh. Allred is giving his to his sons, McCraw is giving his to his brother, Thompson is giving his to the Presbyterian Church in Amarillo. Judge Baugh was the only one who was doubtful whether he ought to draw it. He said, "Looks like somebody ought to leave it in the treasury." Probably Judge Baugh believes in helping the one who needs it most.

Countess Barbara's child, heir to Woolworth fortune, will never come to America. She is afraid that in this land of racketeers her baby may be kidnaped. This attitude is unfair and has gone to the point of injustice to the people of the United States and to our law enforcement officers. All of the 62 abductions since the Lindberg Law have been solved and there are only 4 major offenders at large today. Anyone will admit that this is a good record in a country as large as ours and with the complications arising from having to deal with so many different races of people.

To avoid newly imposed taxes the following men gave away large sums of money. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., $100,000,000; Walter P. Chrysler, $3,000,000; Alvan Macaulay, $178,000; Cyrus H. McCormick, $1,584,000; Joseph M. Schenck, $1,431,000. The Government probably needed the gifts worse than the ones to whom it was given.

The new War Department appropriation bill that skimmed through the House of Representatives a few days ago amounted to $545,266,318. At the same time preparations were going ahead for spending record sums on defense. House and Senate stood ready to shove through legislation intended to keep the United States out of war.

Pittman in his attack on the Japanese policy in China said that our sea forces and air forces are not large enough. He said that the 9-power pact had been violated and we should enforce it. To enforce a thing we must use force. May the Lord have pity on those poor misguided souls who would have war to insure peace.

George Horace Lorimer, publisher of the Saturday Evening Post, may not be instinctively destructive but, like many of the rest of us, just doesn't have any control over his wife. Mrs. Lorimer recently advocated the breaking up of lawns to plant potatoes as a protest against the AAA. Secretary Wallace wasn't fazed. He just raised the number of bushels necessary to qualify as a potato grower above the possible yield of a socialite front yard.

HOLLYWOOD

Publisher's note: This column is written especially for the Matador Tribune, an represents accurate information from the world's film capitol.

Comments of any nature will be appreciated by the author whose address is 1122 N. Edgewood Ave., Hollywood, California.

There are some directors in Hollywood who share with bulls their violent dislike of red.

Cecil De Mille, while directing a scene supposedly laid in ancient Egypt, discovered that most of the ladies on the set wore red on their finger nails. "Where are your brains?" he screamed "didn't you stop and think that those modern looking finger nails are entirely out of place here?"

The other day another director noticed that nearly all the ladies wore carmine finger nails. The scene represented a honky-tonk on the Barbary Coast in San Francisco in 1906. In consequence the ladies were all chased off the set into an adjoining room for digital ablutions. Men with cloths saturated with nail-polish, remover, scrubbed off the offending color.

"Oh, gee," I overheard one of them say "what a shame and I just got a manicure yesterday so my hands would look real pretty". And thus it goes, artistes must ever sacrifice their beauty on the altar of their art.

In a very short time most of the extras will be recruited from movie stars, directors, etc. More and more are coming into the fold. I shall not mention her name, but suffice it to say a well-known beauty of the silent days—who married a very wealthy coal baron retired from the screen and lived abroad in lavish luxury, is the latest applicant for mob scenes. Another one paid thousands of dollars for a mink coat, rode about in a specially built foreign car, with two men on the front seat, now has scarcely enough to eat. Thus it is that foolish extravagance exacts its toll in time.

Some of these take their demotion in good grace—they are real sports—"I've learned my lesson, when I had it, I thought it was going to last forever, and I spent my money like a drunken sailor." There are others, however, who live in their glamorous past, they cannot accommodate themselves to their changed conditions. They still expect to have every one wait on them, to flatter them, etc. But these things are not forthcoming under the new regime. In time, of course, they will become reconciled to their changed state.

The other day on location Gary Cooper's Dusenberg roadster was parked nearby the scene of the shooting. As the on-lookers foregathered, the sexes quickly divided. The ladies made a bee line to get a good look at Mr. Cooper, while the masculine contingent clustered about and examined his Dusenberg. Both, apparently, admired the object of their gaze. "Each to his own taste" as the old lady said, when she kissed her cow.

When you see "A Small Town Girl", you will notice that Janet Gaynor is emoting with the latest heart throb—Robert Taylor. Unless you have seen "Magnificent Obsession" you will not know what a great impression Mr. Taylor has made on susceptible feminine hearts. He has voice, good looks and acting ability.

"Ah Wilderness"

Eugene O'Neill's great American drama, "Ah Wilderness" can be seen Sunday and Monday at the Rogue. The stars are Lionel Barrymore, Wallace Berry, Aline MacMahon, Eric Linden and Ceclia Parker. This is the story of "The Average Man", of his hime, his town—and of that man's life, of his hopes and happiness, his triumphs and his failures. This is the story of that man's boy, of his ambitions, his plans, his hopes for that boy, of his heartbreak when he thinks his boy has "gone wrong". It is the story of this boy's girl, of her simple decency and honesty, her love for the boy of her heart. The story of the average American, the small town and small town people. This for Sunday and Monday.

Community Service...

Perhaps no other institution in a community is called upon to render the vast amount of community service required of a bank. In many instances the progress and development of a locality depends entirely upon the banking institution serving it.

Other businesses depend upon the bank for their growth and security. The bank usually leads the way to safe expansion and contributes from its own earnings to movements that will benefit the entire community.

The First State Bank is proud of its part in the development of Matador and Motley county and seeks to serve its patrons in such a manner that they will share a mutual pride in future progress.

Governor Allred's Proclamation!

To early Americans, the word "Texas" meant friendship. Today the word "Texas" still means friendship, and more. It means opportunity, a land of fabulous natural resources, of rolling ranges, of loamy black farmlands, of unsurpassed climate, and—BEAUTY.

This year, Centennial Year, Texas is entertaining millions of visitors from every part of America. They're coming to see the Texas they've heard and read about. They will travel every part of our state. The favorable impression Texas and Texans make will result in a priceless asset for the Lone Star State.

Let each of us do everything possible to see that our visitors not only remember Texas as an empire of friendly people but as a land of BEAUTY, as well. This can best be accomplished by each citizen seeing that his or her premises is free from unsightly rubbish, made attractive with flowers or green lawns. In brief, let us all cooperate to the end that visitors will be impressed with the cleanliness and beauty of Texas as well as with our far-famed reputation for friendship.

Sunset Over Historic Alamo

A Texas twilight adds softness to this photograph study of the Alamo Mission, historic Texas Shrine of Liberty, in the center of San Antonio. Here 182 Texans died to a man, defending the mission in the revolution against Mexico. One hundred years later the Texas Centennial Exposition, opening at Dallas June 6, pays tribute to the Alamo's gallant defenders.

Texans to Spend Millions in 1936 As Host to U.S.A.

Southwest Empire's Fete of Independence to Center in Dallas

Dallas, Texas.—In 1936 the State of Texas will celebrate the passage of a century since her pioneer settlers won freedom from Mexican rule and established the Republic of Texas, which later became a state.

Throughout the Lone Star State there will be celebrations at places of historic and patriotic interest. The cities and towns which were battle scenes in the Texas Revolution, and communities founded during the exploration and colonization preceding the Republic, will commemorate progress of the only state that existed as an independent republic, recognized by foreign powers, prior to its entrance to the Union.

Under the stars that have flown over Texas soil—those of France, Spain, Mexico, Republic of Texas, the Confederacy and the United States—since 1519, there has been written by men and women, in thought and action, a saga that is truly mighty.

Highlight of the gala and festive celebrations of the Centennial Year will be an event that is in its own right an historic one. It is the Texas Centennial Exposition to open in Dallas on June 6 and continue until November 29.

The Texas celebration represents an investment of more than $20,000,000. The City of Dallas pledged $8,000,000 in cash and property and the $4,000,000 plant of the State Fair of Texas, located within her city limits, will be used as the Exposition grounds. Dallas also pledged $5,500,000 in cash for building her share of the enterprise, $3,500,000 of which was raised by a municipal bond issue and $2,000,000 bonds sold by the Texas Centennial Central Exposition Corporation, comprised of Dallas citizens.

The Texas Legislature appropriated $3,000,000 and the United States Government a like sum.

The Dallas Exposition grounds consists of approximately 200 acres. Exposition buildings and their cost follow:

- Texas Hall of State, $1,200,000;
- Hall of Fine Arts, $650,000;
- Hall of Varied Industries, Electricity and Communications, $440,000;
- Hall of Transportation, $440,000;
- Hall of Livestock and Animal Husbandry, $300,000;
- United States Building, $325,000;
- Hall of Natural History, $280,000;
- Rural Boys' and Girls Dormitory, $250,000;
- Hall of Foods and Beverages, $230,000;
- Hall of Aquatic Life, $180,000;
- Hall of Agriculture, $170,000;
- Hall of Domestic Arts, $75,000;
- Hall of Horticulture, $75,000;
- Band Shell and Pavilion, $50,000;
- Hall of Negro Life and Culture, $50,000;
- Radio, Police, Fire Station, Texas Ranger Headquarters and Hospital, $40,000.

Cost of landscaping and paving is estimated at $675,000. In addition, a half-million dollars worth of utility equipment and $350,000 in electrical equipment will be installed.

A million dollar sports plant will enable the Exposition to handle sporting events of all kinds. The grounds already have a $400,000 stadium seating 46,000 people, a horse race track and grandstand costing $300,000, and indoor boxing and wrestling arena costing $100,000 and seating 6,000 persons, a polo field, straightaway and oval running tracks and tracks suitable for automobile or motorcycle races. A standard-sized swimming pool will be constructed for aquatic events.

Main entrance of the Exposition grounds will face the Esplanade of State, 300x1000 feet, leading to the Texas Hall of State. The esplanade's center will be a reflecting basin 200x700 feet with concealed lighting effects flashing from the pool to adjacent buildings.

The Texas Hall of State, built of native granite, will be 488x258 feet. An 80-foot high center will house the Niche of Heroes, dedicated to illustrious figures of Texas history. The front wings will be devoted to regional rooms, a replica of a Texas mission representing the Hall of 1936. An auditorium in the basement will be used for convention purposes.

When the new Florida canal is completed, that state will be able to boast locks and keys.

It's Not Too Cold in Dallas

It may be snowing in the East, freezing in the Midwest and a blizzard may be coming out of the Northwest, but in Dallas, where the Texas Centennial Exposition will be held next year from June to December it wasn't too cold for Mary Ellen Logan to try the waters of White Rock Lake. With her is Carolyn Durham, chief of the Exposition's Rangerettes, a Post corps of 50 hostesses.

Speedboat, sailboat and outboard (CIA) motor races will be held on yet's third Rock, just outside of Dallas next July and August as part of the position's elaborate sports gram.

TEXAS ON PARADE...

Texas in on Parade and Matador is on Parade! Thousands of visitors from every part of the United States will be in Matador this year. The picturesque characters of the cattle country have built a legendary land that is immediately associated with the magical name of Texas in the hearts of countless Americans. They will be here during the Centennial in search of that country. It behooves every citizen to cooperate in making Matador a cleaner and more beautiful town—to show our visitors that while the cowboy is gone, he has left, appealing sparkling and thriving communities as clean as the wind-swept prairies.

A very little effort and expense will make Matador one of the most attractive towns in the Panhandle. Let's join this state-wide crusade for a more beautiful Texas.

(Delayed) GENERAL NEWS

The High School has several mid term graduates. They were: Forrest Faulkner, who is now at West Texas State Teachers College...

Friday morning, the high school students met in the auditorium for a "sing song". The program began with a hymn, "Faith of Our Fathers"...

The Latin Class has started a democratic club which meets every Monday. The pupils take turn about being head officials.

In economics class Thursday, the seniors discussed colleges, occupations, and so on. When Grace Keltz was asked what her ambition was...

Our Senior Class is gradually diminishing in number. It looks as if we might lose two more soon...

Virginia Edmondson has been appointed Editor-in-Chief of the school news, to take the place of Allie Faye Williams...

The Junior Class has ordered its class play. It is expected to be here soon and the parts will be given out.

Marjoria Moore has recently been appointed assistant editor of the school news.

Since both the president and the vice-president of the Junior Class have left school...

Marjoria Moore, president; and Billie Lawrence, vice-president.

Stan Russell is now a new pupil in the eighth grade. Durward Allen has started back to school again...

The freshmen play to give a play in the next week or two.

As the season begins to come to a close the Matador basketball team has showed a great improvement.

Here last week the Matadors showed their best form of the year and beat Paducah 35 to 21.

The Matador squad brought back another (not another) from Turkey Friday night. They showed good form, but got beaten 32 to 15.

This is an active week at Matador for basketball. Tuesday night the Matadors met Quitaque, and Thursday night they met Floydada.

The boys' and girls' tournament is being held Friday and Saturday at Matador (county affair). Be sure to attend these games in full force.

The basketball girls played Lockney last Tuesday night at Matador. Lockney defeated them 35 to 24.

This may sound bad to some of you, but you just should have heard about their first game with Slatney. They must have learned many things about basketball...

Mr. Gray did keep them on Somerliet (line, maybe). Anyhow we redeemed ourselves in a game with Valley View the next night. Matador won 28 to 24.

And they made six of those points in the last two minutes. The basketball girls would like to see bigger crowds at their games, so come and see them this next week. It's their last week.

JOKES Tom Tilson: "Mr. Gray, I don't think I should have zero on this exam."

Mr. Gray, unconcerned: "I know, but zero is the lowest mark we have."

Fred G. Simpson: "Daddy, a boy at school to-day told me I looked like you."

Mr. Simpson: "That so? and what did you say?"

Fred G.: "Nothing! He was bigger than me."

Helen Brown: "If you remember, I wasn't so anxious to marry you. I refused you ten times." Bodie: "Yes, and then my luck gave out!"

(Delayed) Boys Sport News Anyone missing the County Tournament really missed seeing a good team in action.

The Matadors had one of the most outstanding teams ever known to our fair city. The Matadors beat Roaring Springs 38-3, and walloped the Northfield noted basketball team 76-13.

Matador played Flomot and Fairview but were defeated since they were out of the other teams class; therefore, Matador won third place in the county.

Oh, yes, you want to know what Coach Stanford and the boys are going to do in track this season. Well, we don't know what Coach is going to do, but these conceited regional champs are not going to do anything.

Spring football has started, and prospects look unusually good for next season. There are enough boys for a full team. All these boys are big huskies—their weights run from 120 lbs. to 130 lbs. in uniform.

If there's anything important that happens, there'll be another edition next week.

Senior Report We are going to send off the order for our cards and invitations next week. The invitations will carry out the Centennial idea. We will also send the order for our diplomas soon.

Several of the seniors are out of school with the mumps. Geneva Cooper and Bernice King returned Friday.

Believe it or not, Katherine Copeland says she can't tell a telephone from a street car. She drew this conclusion when asked by a student "Can you tell a phone from a street car?" Katherine answered, "Certainly not." We certainly don't want to send her for a phone because she might come back with a street car.

One of our Senior students has been nicknamed Shirley. Tutt Harrow wears his hair like Shirley Temple's so we thought the name suitable.

The Business Law Class is working up a civil law suit, which it will "have court on" in the near future.

Girls Sport News Sore arms certainly have been popular around Matador High School this week from socking a volley ball. That is about all the girls have done, just to sock the ball and get socked. But they are getting used to it. (Socking the ball and not getting socked).

Coach Gray 'lows as how' things are going to be a mite different this year, as far as volley ball is concerned.

General News The Sunshine Sisters sang in both the schools Thursday, Feb. 20. They sang "When I Grow Too Old to Dream", "Ole McDonald", and "Lulu's Back in Town". They certainly proved to be popular, because they were called back the second and third time.

March 2nd will begin what is known as "Know Texas Week" to celebrate it, the American history class is going to give a program. The "Know Texas Week" was begun in 1931 so that people might know more about Texas. As you probably have noticed, March 2nd is the date of the battle of San Jacinto.

The school has begun to prepare for the annual track meet. The tennis courts are being fixed, and declamations are being learned in grade school.

The Freshman class is to give a program for the High School Friday, 29th. Everyone is invited.

Junior Flashes A play is to be presented in a few weeks by the Junior class. Local play goes will hail with delight the announcement of this season's play. We hope that Mrs. Randall Whitworth, who is noted for coaching good plays, will coach this play too. We mean by this that it is a good play. The selection is a Mystery Comedy to be on the billboards as "Yimmie Johnson's Yab".

Rehearsals will begin shortly and the play will be presented in the Matador High School Auditorium, April 9th.

Sophomore Report Seeing this is exam week, the sophomores are really covering space in those History books. A bit of extra studying is being put out in English also.

The sophomores, so far, have been lucky to ward off the mumps. S. M. Guthrie has been ill for a period of time, but is back now.

Freshmen Class News The General Science class had a nice time chewing parafine, Thursday. It made their jaws sore and they thought they had the mumps.

We are expecting to have a big program February 28th. Everyone is invited to attend.

Jokes Mrs. Luker: "Rhenard, where is you excuse for being tardy?" Rhenard: "Mr. Harbour was writing it but he is so slow that I came in without it so I wouldn't miss the whole class."

Harold: "Say, Froggie, who was that lady you were walking down the hall with?" Froggie: "That wasn't a lady, that was one of Mr. Gray's friends from Cee Vee."

B. F. Junior: "Tell Coach that I will not be out at Football practice this afternoon. I don't feel well." Houston: "Why?"

B. F.: "Dad will be back from Austin tomorrow morning and you know what we did to his airfilled mattress." Albert Willis: "What's a penisula Mr. Gray?"

Mr. Gray: "A long neck of dirt running out to sea." Later—Mr. Gray: "Albert, what is a penisula?"

Albert: "A long dirty neck running out to see something."

SENIOR NEWS Mumps seems to be a fad among the seniors now. Quite a few of our members have it.

The seniors are about to order their cards and invitations now. The invitations are to be centennial invitations with a picture of the Alamo on the front. Junior Flashes We are very sorry to lose one of our popular students, Tommie Berryman.

The Juniors have received their Play Books and the play is really a "hum-dinger". You had better start searing up nickles and dimes to see it. Don't forget it's that crazy class that is putting it on.

Did you know that they have detentions in High School? Well they do, for the History III Class. Lyman Bundy Campbell and Billie Lawrence have the mumps. Ester Collie is wearing a bandage over her eye as the result of a car wreck recently.

Freshman News Since a few of them are players, the freshmen have been quite interested in basketball for the past week. From a class of 24 we have eight students who are players on the junior team.

The freshmen have begun working on their chapel program which we expect to give about the 28 of this month.

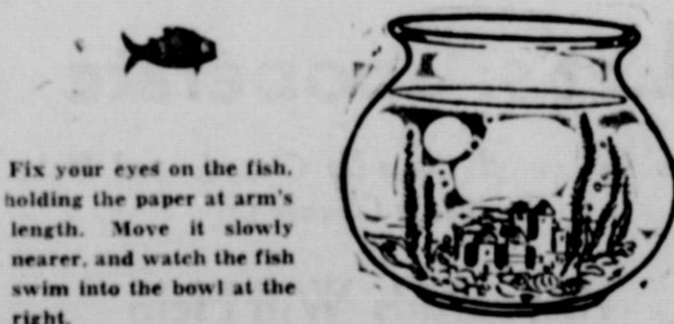

We are glad to have a new pupil, La Verne Frye.

S. P. Q. R. The S. P. Q. R. met Monday for a very interesting meeting, led by Charlie Scaff. High-lights from the Roman life were given. How Valentine originated was fully discussed, and the girls decided it would be wise to have a Roman because they are (boys are) supposed to bestow all sorts of gifts upon the girls.

Jokes Mrs. Luker: "Dear, I read in the paper where a man in the city of Chicago traded his wife for a horse. You wouldn't do that would you?"

Gene: "Certainly not, but I sure-

Boys Sport News A very successful County tournament was held here Friday and Saturday. Flomot took home most of the honors.

The Flomot Longhorns took the County Senior Boys Championship by winning with very close margins over Fairview and Matador.

The Matadors scored decisive victories over Roaring Springs and Northfield, and lost in the last few minutes of play to Flomot and Fairview.

The Matador Junior boys gave a very good account of themselves in the tournament. They lost a hard fought game by one point against Fairview. The Junior boys won a second trophy, and have ended a very successful season.

The Matadors began work this week for a Championship team. The squad is made up of some individual track stars. The ones reporting are Bodie Brown, Clayton Titus, Beryle Blackshear, Clyde Amonett, W. J. Brian, Will Pritchett, Charlie Scaff, Ray Dow Thompson and R. E. Campbell.

Girls Sport News Basketball is over, and the girls are all ready for volley ball.

The junior and senior girls both won second place in the county tournament, and have added two more beautiful trophies to Matador's collection. Several of the girls added skinned knees and elbows to their collection, but nobody minded.

They probably have sore throats after the excitement of defeating Roaring Springs, 21-20. But best of all there will be ten gold basket balls, awarded to the girls.

So, Here's to a grand volley ball season! How about it folks are you with us?

Sophomore Report Valentine has rolled along again and found the Sophomores very busy studying. Whoever did not come to see the Sophomore's Major Boles amateur hour certainly missed a swell program. It seems the program went over with a bang but we'll give most of the credit to Mrs. Stanford, our sponsor.

The Sophomores are sorry to lose one of their classmates, Virginia Vinson, who has dropped out of school.

JUNIOR SOROSIS CLUB GIVEN TEA

The members of the Junior Sorosis Club were guests at a tea in the home of Mrs. Marvin English last Wednesday afternoon, February 19, when the senior club met in regular session. Mrs. Ben Edwards acted as leader of an interesting program on The English Novel, with a response to roll call, by the members of an outstanding English novel of 1935. This was followed by a discussion on "Development of the Novel" by Mrs. John Hamilton, after which, Mrs. C. B. Groves held the undivided attention of the group with her book review of "The Golden Chord", a modern English novel by Warwick Deeping.

Music by the Sunshine Girl's Quartette, composed of Misses Grace Keltz, Aleta Casey, Oma Mae Jameson and Katylynn Humphries, was a special feature of the afternoon's entertainment. Tea and dainty cookies were served at a lovely lace-covered table, centered with a pot plant in bloom, with Miss Lorene Fryar, president of the Sorosis Club, presiding at the tea service. Co-hostesses were Mrs. F. A. Buckley and Mrs. B. F. Harbour.

Members of the junior group who attended were: Misses Emma Lesta McKee, Hope Clements, Pearl Cammack, Jerry Tudor and Mrs. Clay Gilbert.

BAPTIST Y. W. A. HAS SILVER TEA

The members of the Young Women's Auxiliary of the Baptist church were hostesses at a silver tea last Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. H. Sample, when the ladies of the town called between the hours of three and six.

The guests were met at the door by Miss Bertha Casstevens and conducted to the dining room by Mrs. Claud Groves, where Misses Jerry Tudor and Evelyn Fulkerson presided at the tea service. The young ladies were appropriately arrayed in colonial dress, in keeping with the patriotic motif, symbolizing George Washington's birth anniversary. Dainty cakes in hatched shape, were served with the tea.

A spring plant, in bloom, graced the center of the table laid with a lace cloth, and lighted tapers provided illumination.

Misses Ruby Spears, Emma Lesta McKee and Ruth Groves, as well as other members of the Auxiliary, assisted in the serving.

Entertainment was furnished by the Sunshine Girl's Quartette composed of Misses Aleta Casey, Oma Mae Jameson, Katylynn Humphries and Grace Keltz, who sang at intervals during the afternoon. The proceeds of the tea will be retained in the treasury of the organization and used for various purposes.

Dates Are Set For Stamford Reunion

STAMFORD, Tex. Feb. 15.—Dates for the seventh annual session of the Texas Cowboy Reunion have been officially set by the directors as July 2, 3, and 4—Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The Reunion this year will be part of the Texas Centennial observance, being known as the Texas Cowboy Reunion Celebration of the Texas Centennial.

The Texas Cowboy Reunion, which is recognized as one of the most authentic survivals of the old west and the rapidly vanishing cattle empire, will prove instructive as well as entertaining to Centennial visitors both from within and without the state. The annual meeting in Stamford brings together the pioneer cowboys and cattlemen who replaced the buffalo with longhorns, as well as the bronzed cowboys of today who punch white-faced cattle on the comparatively few remaining large ranches of the Southwest.

Many To Stamford Texas Centennial year is expected to bring to Stamford for the Reunion crowds which exceed the record attendance of 60,000 at the three-day celebration last year.

Plans for a number of improvements on the Reunion grounds, which border SMS ranch lands one mile from the business district of the city, are being made by Reunion officials. One of the improvements will likely be an enlarged floor for the cowboy dances held each night of the Reunion at the cowboy bunkhouse. Another will likely be a building at the entrance of the rodeo arena to house ticket

Old Cars Being Smashed To Aid Safety Campaign

Thousands of old automobiles so decrepit that they were potentially a danger to users of the highway have been smashed up since January 1 under the nation-wide "junking" plan instituted by Chevrolet Motor Company in January and continued in February, according to W. E. Holler, Vice president and general sales manager. Full reports for the period to date have not been compiled.

"The operation of the junking plan is bound to reduce the hazards of the highways", Mr. Holler pointed out. "Literally thousands of cars whose further operation on the highways would be a menace to their owners and to others will be retired permanently, and the probabilities are that the number will run even higher."

"The removal of the cars already scrapped from the streets and highways will definitely reduce the traffic hazard, for next to the driver himself, the most important factor in highway safety is the condition of the vehicle."

Mr. Holler explained the plan under which Chevrolet and its dealers are carrying out the junking program. The Chevrolet Motor Company, he said, pays the dealer for each old car, taken in trade on a new Chevrolet, that is scrapped. The actual junking is supervised by the Chevrolet district manager, who certifies that the car was destroyed in accordance with the terms of the agreement.

"The announcement of the junking program", said Mr. Holler, "called forth enthusiastic public response. Many newspapers and magazines commented upon the plan editorially, calling it a worthwhile step in the direction of street and highway safety."

STICKERS ADVERTISE TEXAS CELEBRATIONS

Austin, Texas, Feb. 16.—All Texans who buy motor car licenses in 222 or 254 Texas counties this year will receive Centennial windshield stickers. The stickers are being furnished to the tax collectors in 222 counties by the department of information for Centennial celebrations and will be distributed by the tax collectors or deputies to all who want them.

A request from the department to tax collectors, asking their cooperation, brought replies from 228 of them.

The stickers are small, square in size, printed in red, white and blue colors and contain the words, "1836-Texas-1936. Centennial Celebrations."

EDWIN MARKHAM TO LECTURE AT COLLEGE

DENTON, Feb. 19.—Edwin Markham, dean of American poets and unofficially styled "America's Poet Laureate", will speak at Texas State College for Women (CIA) Feb. 20. This is the poet's third lecture tour of the Southwest.

Let's get straight to the point about your winter gasoline

In plain words it's old-fashioned to have winter starting troubles. (You needn't admit anything in company—because lots of people don't know there is hard starting any more.) But get a neighbor off to one side. Chances are he's an old regular on Winter Blend Conoco Bronze, or he is one of the thousands and thousands who changed to it these recent cold months. See if he doesn't say almost these words: "You always start up on Conoco Bronze; you start, that's all. No weather yet, around here, seems to make any difference. Maybe your car isn't new, but this stuff starts. You or I don't know how any gasoline is made, no matter what we're told. But when you don't have to grind the starter and pray for your battery, nor keep on choking and choking, then you know you've got what you want. And they don't have to tell you any more about Conoco Bronze than the way it starts, as long as you know it does." Continental Oil Company, Established 1875
