German Raids On London Are Brief

RAF Replies To Axis With Attack On Naples, Italy

LONDON, Nov. 1 (AP)—Axis bombing planes struck at London, Merseyside and other points in England and Scotland by daylight today as the air ministry announced a raid by RAF bombers on Naples, Italy.

Oil tanks and "other objectives" at Naples were attacked successfully last night, a communique said, adding that a direct hit was scored on a merchant ship off the German-occupied Norwegian coast.

London, after a comparatively quiet night, underwent two alarms before noon, but both were brief and British fighters in each case were reported to have turned back the attacking planes.

In a later raid several bombs were dropped on the capital's outskirts.

Meanwhile German long-range guns on the French coast shelled British shipping in the Dover strait and got a hot reply from Britain's big batteries.

The Nazi bombardment lasted about two hours, but most of their shells burst wide of the targets and the British vessels continued on their courses, observers said.

Britain's guns slammed back hard at the Germans who laid a smokescreen on part of the French coast.

The air ministry communique announcing the attack on Naples did not disclose the base of the British bombers. However, since it specified that they were on the bomber command, naval planes were ruled out.

At least 350 miles from Naples, is the nearest British base for land planes.

British bombardments of the Italian mainland previously had been confined to such northern industrial cities as Milan and Turin, carried out by bombers crossing the Alps from Britain.

The Italian high command said "slight damage" was caused in the Naples suburbs of Bagnoli and Pomigliano D'Arco. The former is the site of some of Italy's largest steel plants and the latter of airplane factories, testing fields and laboratories.

The Rome communique reported one person killed, five wounded.

The air ministry said "no operations were carried out over western and central Germany because of bad weather."

Franco-German 'Collaboration' Is Approved

VICHY, France, Nov. 1 (AP)—The French cabinet announced tonight that it had approved unreservedly the results of Vice Premier Pierre Laval's recent discussions in Paris with German officials on details of France's new "collaboration" with her German-Italian conquerors.

A communique said the cabinet expressed "confident unanimity" in Laval and Chief of State Marshal Philippe Petain in the negotiations with the Germans.

Laval, who now is also foreign minister, explained the discussions at a two and one-half hour cabinet meeting after his return from the Nazi-held French capital.

Government circles said the minister, particularly Laval, were "extremely satisfied" with the course of the negotiations.

Soviet Relationship Is On Friendly Basis

By The Associated Press Turkey will not enter the Balkan war now, President Ismet Inonu announced today, at the same time countering any threat of Rome-Berlin axis plans by proclaiming that Turko-Russian relations "now have taken a friendly turn."

On the Balkan war front, Stefani, the official Italian news agency, reported a 35-mile fascist advance into the Ioannina sector of north-west Greece, along with the capture of 79 Greek villages.

Turkey's president Ismet Inonu, in a speech to the national assembly at Ankara, said Turkey and her ally, Great Britain, "are studying the situation in the Balkans."

The nation's relations with Soviet Russia, he said, had "gone through a critical period" but now are much improved.

With her reported "2,000,000 bayonets," Turkey has openly defied any axis attempt to use Turkey as a passageway to the Near East, but has maintained a hands-off policy under pressure from Russia.

The new "friendly turn" in soviet-Turkish relations might indicate that Russia has guaranteed support to Turkey in the event of an axis attack on Turkey—in return for Turkey keeping out of the Greek-Italian war.

Stefani's report of 35-mile Italian thrust—which would indicate that the City of Ioannina (Janina) now is under fascist siege or that Mussolini's invaders are not advancing on the shortest line from the Albanian frontier—confronted with official Greek reports.

The Greek high command reported today that tank-supported Italian troops in northwest Greece had been "repulsed everywhere" in the 5-day-old Balkan conflict while on the east end of the 100-mile front the fascist invaders started a major drive toward Salonika.

British RAF bombers attacked southern Italy for the first time, bombing the ancient Tyrrhenian seaport of Naples near the "ankle" of the Italian boot.

The Naples attack, striking at oil tanks and other military objectives in the Naples area where great blast furnaces and steel mills are located, followed a rising clamor in the British press for stronger blows against Italy.

"Italy is the weakest link in the axis," said the London News Chronicle. "Smash it, and more than half the battle is won."

Similarly, Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express declared: "Living women and children matter more to us than the antiquities of Rome. If bombing Rome is to mean an earlier victory for the Greeks and ourselves, we should begin it tomorrow and continue it until the Italians see sense."

Premier Mussolini's high command said the raid on Naples cost one killed, five wounded.

Belgrade dispatches said the Italians were hammering at Greek positions in Ploderia Pass, at the northeast end of the Albanian frontier.

The fascist columns, supported by heavy artillery and warplanes, apparently had as their first objective the Greek city of Phlorina, 50 miles distant, and thence to the Aegean port of Salonika which might be used as the base for a drive to the Turkish Dardanelles.

New Airplane Program In The Offing

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today there may be a new production program for American military planes as soon as congress gets back.

He told a press conference that such a program was probable and, replying to a question, said it was based on the objective of pushing United States plane production capacity to 50,000.

The question was whether the possible new program was based on Britain continuing its fight through the winter.

Mr. Roosevelt previously had said that an annual production of 50,000 planes was the goal.

A proposed British order for 12,000 additional planes recently was passed on to the defense commission by the president with an expression of hope for favorable action.

The chief executive was asked to say whether published stories were true that the Sperry Manufacturing company was making the United States secret bomb sight for Britain and soon would start shipments across the Atlantic.

Mr. Roosevelt replied that he had not the faintest idea whether the story was correct.

If it's like other stories, he added, it isn't.

LIGHT QUAKE LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1 (AP)—Coastal Southern California had another light earthquake shock last night, but a check disclosed no damage.

The quake, which was felt in two nearby beach cities, was reported by the city of Long Beach.

Surging forward on the strength of new models and the opening of autumn business, new passenger car sales jumped from 64 in September to 106 for October. This also was far above the 82 for October of last year.

Postal receipts furnished one of the brightest spots in showing an approximate gain of $1,294.64. For October they totaled $7,461.55 in comparison with $5,541.75 for September and $6,197.51 for October a year ago.

Overflows from 150,000 acres stocked with game is calculated to replenish the adjacent areas.

Will J. Tucker, executive secretary of the game, fish and oyster commission, said 11 tracts totaling 150,000 acres which were set up as game restoration areas under a federal-state program indicate large increases of game.

Candidates 'Turn On Heat' As Campaign Nears Finish

Local Interest Points Toward A Record Poll

General election interest, overshadowed by the war and draft for weeks, burst forth Friday with a vigor unknown here since 1928 when Howard county joined with the state in bolting from Al Smith to Herbert Hoover.

Presaging a record general election vote total here Tuesday was the accumulation of 237 absentee ballots at the office of County Clerk Lee Porter to noon Friday.

The total was a clinch to go over 250 and might reach 300 before deadline time Saturday night.

On this basis a total vote upwards from 3,500 was being forecast, and there were prospects that it might be substantially higher.

Determined to break into the democratic circle in hopes of making serious inroads if not to repeat the 1928 switch, local republican leaders announced Saturday that the presidential campaign would be brought actively to Big Spring Saturday.

George W. Wilburn, Dallas, was scheduled to speak on the east side of the courthouse square at 10:30 a. m. and county G. O. P. workers urged the public to attend.

No speakers for the democratic campaign had been scheduled, and democratic leaders discounted claims of republicans that there would be any serious threat to democratic solidarity at the polls here Tuesday. They conceded that Willkie might "do better than Alf Landon four years ago."

Much interest in the absentee balloting has centered around J. E. McDonald, democratic nominee for commissioner of agriculture, who announced he would vote for Wendell Willkie. Judging from the number inquiring of the name of Bill Corry, write-in candidate, McDonald may have been getting a liberal scratching in this county.

Too, the justice of peace race, with its peculiar status, was attracting attention. Walter Grice is shown as the democratic nominee, having been named by the county democratic executive committee to that place following the death of Newton Robinson, who won the nomination in August.

Friends of Levi Robinson, father of Newton, and of L. A. Coffey, who went into the run-off with Newton, have been pushing for a write-in campaign.

City Has Gain In Tax Collections

Substantially better tax collections were reported by the City of Big Spring for October, the first month current taxes were due and payable.

H. W. Whitney, city secretary, said that through Oct. 31 collection had totaled $15,728.77 on the current roll as compared with $17,129.89 for the first month of collections last year, a gain of more than $1,500.

Moreover, October brought a total of $2,138.28 in delinquent taxes, said Whitney. School district and county and state collections for the month were not immediately available.

The school's three percent discount for October payments ended Thursday by J. F. Welcott, county tax collector, said the same rate would hold through Saturday for the county and state.

GOOD HUNTING AREAS FORECAST THIS YEAR

AUSTIN, Nov. 1 (AP)—More than 500,000 acres, practically devoid of turkey and deer for several years, might yield good hunting this year, the game department predicts.

Overflow from 150,000 acres stocked with game is calculated to replenish the adjacent areas.

Will J. Tucker, executive secretary of the game, fish and oyster commission, said 11 tracts totaling 150,000 acres which were set up as game restoration areas under a federal-state program indicate large increases of game.

Contestants Turn Attention To The Key Vote Areas

By The Associated Press Hectic and historic, the 1940 presidential campaign reached its intensive, "all out" final stage today with both President Roosevelt and Wendell L. Willkie opening their finishing drives for the votes which will tell the story on Nov. 5.

In Washington, President Roosevelt donned his "old campaigner" hat for a tri-state sweep into New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio. The timetable called for a major speech at Brooklyn tonight (8 p.m. C.S.T.), another at Cleveland tomorrow night (8 p.m. C.S.T.), and a last talk to the voters from Hyde Park, N. Y. on election eve.

Willkie, concentrating his finish "push" this week in two states which add up to 63 electoral votes, marked one section of New Jersey by his attention today and had a major address down for Madison Square Garden tomorrow night. Aides announced that from "somewhere in New Jersey" he planned to reply tonight by radio (7:30 p. m. C.S.T.) to Mr. Roosevelt's Boston speech of Wednesday charging republicans in congress with obstructing both national defense program and efforts to benefit the farmer.

For Mr. Roosevelt, his departure from Washington today held unusual significance.

For Willkie, the final drive betokened the approaching end of a strenuous campaign which already has taken him into 29 states and over 15,000 miles.

The United States, he told a Camden, N. J., audience last night, "is sick and tired of the type of government that treats our constitution like a scrap of paper" and regards the supreme court as an "obstruction."

He attacked his democratic opponent on the third term question, asserting "our unwritten law against granting a third term to any president is not even mentioned by the third term candidate. He doesn't even attempt to justify his violation of it." He used the expression "one man government" to describe the administration.

Willkie asserted today in a statement that President Roosevelt's foreign policies "are leading us straight to a war for which we are totally unready," and added that his domestic policies "are leading to complete collapse."

The statement took up primarily Mr. Roosevelt's disclosure at Boston Wednesday of what the republican candidate termed "certain orders which the British government has placed with our manufacturers."

"And the tragic fact," he said, "is that, owing to the policy of neglect and delay over the past seven years, they must remain on order for many, many months to come."

The republican candidate argued that the president "by inference and innuendo" tried to take credit for the plane orders to manufacturers who, he declared, had been neglected and "even abused" by the new deal.

(In Boston Mr. Roosevelt disclosed he had asked the defense priorities board to give "most sympathetic consideration" to a British request to order 12,000 more planes for American manufacturers.)

"I was surprised by the use, in such a superficial manner," he said, "of an effort so vital to Britain and our own safety. I cannot understand the propriety of speaking in a political speech, as if from the White House, of making campaign material of the duties of the president of the United States."

Mr. Roosevelt was at his White House desk most of yesterday, but in an afternoon address at the dedication of the newly completed National Institute of Health in Bethesda, Md., he asserted that "neither the American people nor their government intend to socialize medical practice any more than they plan to socialize industry."

Roosevelt Blamed For 'Axis Belligerency'

ROME, Nov. 1 (AP)—Virginia Gayda, authoritative fascist editor, accused President Roosevelt today of initiating an offensive against the axis and held him and his supporters responsible for creation of an "ideological political conflict which is skidding toward belligerency between the United States and the axis."

The editor of Il Giornale d'Italia, who often reflects official fascist opinion, said he was answering a recent appeal of United States Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

Hull's speech, he said, "pretended again to change the elementary truth of the facts, inventing an axis menace to America. He invited these belligerent Americans to furnish 'one single, concrete, documented proof' of this menace."

He repeated, however, that Italy was not interested in the outcome of the United States' presidential election.

(Secretary Hull, speaking last Saturday night over a nationwide book-up, described the rulers of Germany, Italy and Japan as "would-be conquerors" engaged in a relentless attempt to reduce mankind to "a master-and-slave relationship among nations and individuals, maintained by brute force.")

(They "adhere to no geographic lines . . . on their programs of invasion" and "there can be nothing more dangerous for our nation than for us to assume that the avalanche of conquest could under no circumstances reach any vital portion of this hemisphere," Hull asserted.)

Gayda followed these charges with citations of speeches and actions of Hull, President Roosevelt, Henry C. Morgenthau, Jr., secretary of the treasury; William C. Bullitt, ambassador to France; William Allen White, editor of the Emporia (Kas) Gazette, senators and other leaders.

FD's Election Guess Is Just About The Same

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today he probably would return to Washington Sunday from Cleveland, instead of going to his Hyde Park, N. Y., home, because it seemed wiser to keep in pretty close touch.

Originally he had planned to go directly from his Saturday night speaking engagement in Cleveland to Hyde Park where he plans his final radio broadcast of the campaign Monday night, election eve.

When asked whether recent events had caused him to modify the election prediction he had placed in a sealed envelope some weeks ago, Mr. Roosevelt replied that the guess was just about the same.

The chief executive was asked to comment on remarks by his political opponents directed to Mr. Roosevelt's recent reference to Joseph P. Kennedy (Ambassador to Great Britain) as "my ambassador."

(Wendell L. Willkie said in a statement Thursday that he had "assumed" that Kennedy "was the ambassador of the people of the United States and not the personal representative of the president," adding: "I, at least, would consider all government representatives to be servants of the people rather than of myself.")

The president replied that he didn't think he'd better take up a political thing in a press conference. It's a purely political thing, he added, asserting that some of you here in Washington know the difference between an ambassador and a minister.

If you don't, the president said, you should check up at the state department.

Local Boards Draft Master Lists Being Mailed To

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—Just copies of the selective service "master list" rolled off the presses at the government printing office in the early hours today and were rushed into the mail for the conscription boards in nearby states.

The "master lists" for inland and western states had long been known on their way by train and plane as selective service headquarters here concentrated on speedy distribution so that local boards would have their lists by the start of next week.

Until the lists are in the hands of the nation's 6,175 local boards, these boards cannot get to work on the mailing of questionnaires and the classification of the first selective service eligibles for a year's military training.

REA Line To Go Up Soon

Line construction on the 166-mile "A" project of the Caprock Electric Cooperative is due to be started within a week or 10 days.

Plans have been scattered from Big Spring to Knott by the way of Moore and Hiley and O. E. Bryan, supervisor, estimated that erection of the poles would start about Monday. Twelve carloads of poles have been received here, and two carloads of conductor wire have arrived.

Owing to the light weight of the steel centered aluminum conductor to be used, poles are being spaced at 325 foot intervals.

R. W. McKinney Construction Co. of Nacogdoches has the contract for the "A" project for $26,000. It calls for lines from Big Spring to Knott, from Fairview to Center Point, R-Bar and north of Coahoma, from Center Point north to Gay Hill, from Knott to Lenora, Courtney and country around Stanton.

Eleven miles have been added to the project seven miles of it in Midland county where a substation will be erected in anticipation of early approval of a "B" project which will add 150 miles to the Caprock unit total lines.

KILLED IN CHASE

BURNETT, Nov. 1 (AP)—Moran E. Jenkins of the U. S. Army Medical Corps at Fort Snelling (Minn.) was killed today in a crash landing of a biplane near Grand City, Tex., while on a mission to deliver medical supplies.

Mr. Jenkins, 32, was killed when his biplane crashed into a tree while he was riding a high loop in the air. He was on his way to a hospital here when he crashed.

Mary George Morris Crowned As Queen At Stanton Annual Carnival

STANTON, Nov. 1 (Sp1) - Ghosts, witches and spooks of all kinds reigned supreme Thursday as the Stanton public schools held their annual Halloween carnival at the new gymnasium. The carnival is sponsored annually by the Stanton Parent-Teacher association and is the climax to a contest for the choosing of the school queen.

A program and the coronation ceremonies preceded the carnival festivities. The Tom Thumb wedding, also an annual affair, was presented in the school auditorium, directed by Miss Ozella Hunt and Mrs. W. A. Phillips. Jo Jon Hall, attired in all the traditional bridal finery represented the bride, while Gilbert Sadler Graves was Tom Thumb. Bridesmaids were Mary Lynn Hamilton, Marlene DeBerry, Ermine Haynie, Earle Powell, Mary Sue Moffett and Anna Lou Draper.

Miss Laneau Notes

Remember all those Halloween's ago when you made yourself a costume and bought a penny mask and then set out to get even with all the cranky neighbors who had spoiled your fun during the year.

You soaped windows, took off gates and stuck pins in door - bells. Anything left outside was fair game for your pranks and woe unto the neighbor who banned your dog from her yard because her windows were soaped from top to bottom and the fate of her porch furniture was sealed.

After committing all sorts of vandalism under the guise of childish fun, everybody hides themselves to your house where the folks had hot chocolate, apples to bob, and cider and doughnuts.

Each year, though, that old kill joy, common sense, kept taking the place of that fun finder, irresponsibility, until at last you decided not to hang that chair on a lamp post because it might get broken and you voted out taking somebody's screen door to put on the roof.

Even letting air out of all the tires you could find, didn't seem to be so much fun because you were beginning to realize that it would make somebody a lot of trouble.

Until at last, you gave up the night railing on Halloween and the neighbors were safe until the next youngsters moved in to stay.

There are a lot of compensations to being grown-up but not on Halloween night when there is so much mischief to be done and so many new ideas of how to annoy the neighborhood are popping into your grown-up head.

Mrs. McDowell Given Dinner Party By A Group Of Friends

A group of friends of Mrs. J. I. McDowell of Austin entertained her with a dinner party at the Settles hotel Thursday night and place cards and favors carried out the Halloween theme.

Badgett Quads, Without Special Care, Are Thriving, Healthy Girls

GALVESTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—The Badgett quadruplets—as soy a batch of girls as ever smashed a toy—are nearing their second birthday in perfect trim, despite the absence of any unusual precautions to safeguard their health.

The quadruplets—Joan, Joyce, Jeradine and Jeannette—are being reared in simple fashion. That's the way Mrs. W. Ellis Badgett, 28-year-old mother of America's youngest quads, wants it.

"Those children are going to grow up just like any others," she says firmly.

The blonde girls, born Feb. 1, 1939, are housed in one light, airy room of the Badgetts' modest bungalow. Their four trundle beds take up most of the room's space.

There is no nurse, no governess for the children—Mrs. Badgett takes care of them herself.

"And that is a full-time job; trying to look after four wild little girls keeps me on the jump.

"They are rough; sometimes they get into fights. I can't let them have toys very much; they'll hit each other with them."

Joan is the heavyweight of the quartet and occasionally takes advantage of her bulk, bullying the others about. She tips the scales at 29 pounds; the others weigh in the neighborhood of 28.

Mother Badgett classifies the girls thusly: Jeradine learns quicker than the others.

Joan is timid (around visitors) and serious. She loves to look at the comic section of the newspapers, but often does so with a poked-faced expression.

Jeannette is the "spit-fire." She "pushes 'em and pulls 'em around, starts lots of fights, and generally struts up things."

Joyce is the sweetest. The quads' physical and mental development has been so swift that Mrs. Badgett decided she would enter them in dancing school this winter.

"They are growing up. You know, they are aunts already," she laughs.

The tots became aunts this summer when their 18-year-old half-sister, Mrs. J. L. Jones of Odessa gave birth to a girl.

Mrs. Jones is Mrs. Badgett's daughter by a former marriage.

The city of Galveston, in an effort to repay the Badgetts for the publicity they have brought the island resort, is endeavoring to raise $10,000 for the purchase of a home for the quadruplets.

The process is slow, but in less than a year the Badgetts are expected to be in their new domicile.

AN ANALYSIS OF THE WAR DEVELOPMENTS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE I have reached unimpeachable information that there is in France a growing anti-German unrest, accompanied by actual under-cover sabotage—a condition which casts still further light on Herr Hitler's anxiety to bring that country into the Nazi fold and secure the cooperation of the general public.

One suspects that the fushner is beginning to find much truth in the old Chinese adage that he who rides a tiger finds it difficult to dismount.

The Nazi chief has plowed a large portion of Europe under with his mighty war-machine without much opposition. He probably will plow more under.

But in every instance where he has occupied a country by force he has found that while he could break physical resistance he couldn't destroy the spirit of the nation as a whole. The situation in France is symptomatic of that existing in other parts of occupied Europe—potential danger of vast proportions.

This can only be kept in hand by armed overlordship, and that will be increasingly true as the conquered countries recover from the shock of assault.

I understand there has been a remarkable undercurrent change of sentiment in France in recent weeks. The country was utterly smashed by its military defeat, and at that time there was much bitterness against the British (a flame fed eagerly by the Germans) because of a rather widespread feeling that the French had been "let down" by their ally.

That feeling has undergone much change, although there still is an anti-British party which may be said to be represented by Vice-Premier Laval who has proclaimed that he believes democracy is dead in all countries and is working overtime to swing France into the Nazi camp.

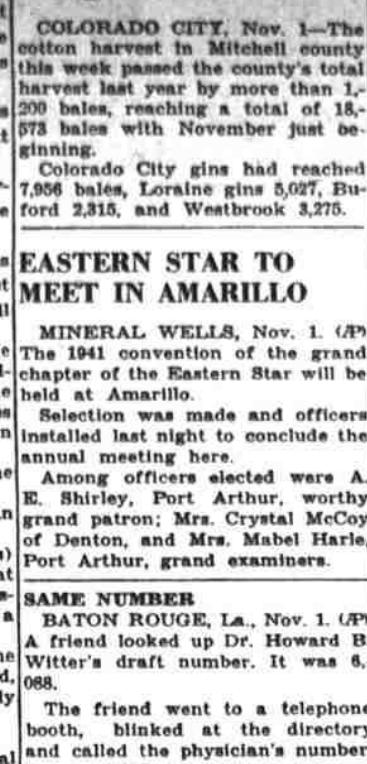

However, there has been a widespread shift of sentiment in favor of England. This has been due mainly to determined and successful British resistance, Germany's failure to launch the much-advertised invasion of England, and the material support the United States has been affording Britain.

I don't wish to give the impression a revolt is imminent in France. The country is too utterly defeated for that. However, the power of resistance presumably will grow, and already there is much sabotage reported in Nazi bases.

This situation in France is only one of many. Embittered passive, and often active, resistance on a considerable scale is meeting the German occupiers. It has been particularly marked in shattered Czechoslovakia, Poland and Norway.

One need look only at the number of refugee governments in London to realize that there is an undying resistance.

Looking 'em Over

With Jack Douglas

According to an Odessa writer we have stuck our neck out in putting Sweetwater on a slow freight as far as the conference prospects are concerned. Big Spring, so says our colleague in the business of calling 'em wrong, is due to be crushed by the Mustangs without any particular trouble, thus joining the ranks already occupied by the Abilene Eagles. Mebbe so yes—mebbe so no. Regardless of our remarkable low standing as a southsayer, we are timidly and non-commercially advancing the opinion it will be Coach Pat Murphy's lads who walk off the field with the purse.

Tonight Big Spring plays the last non-conference game of the season when Plainview entertains on its home field. Anything but a breeze, considering the no-defeat record hung up by the Plainviewers this season, the Longhorns are going to attempt to call it that. Naturally, they are going to be out to give Plainview a pasting, but no chances of endangering the district 3-A hopes of the Herd will be taken. All in all, tonight's engagement is due to be a wide-open, winner take all affair.

This week's chips off a cracked crystal ball:

Odessa vs. San Angelo—San Angelo by virtue of the old saw that the worm is bound to turn.

Midland vs. Abilene—Midland has occasion power except on one end and there is no reason to believe that they are suddenly lacking in winning strength.

Sweetwater vs. Lamesa—Despite the fact that the Lamesans are playing at home and they are a scrapping crew of little fellows, the Sweetwater machine should be able to grind them.

Plainview vs. Big Spring—After all this isn't exactly a bloomer girls' circuit down here, so Big Spring, district leaders that they are, should be able to carry off this one by a thin, thin margin.

There is always a bit of confusion about the distance teams are penalized for various and sundry gridiron misdemeanors—so—

Loss Of 5 Yards: Taking more than 3 times out during either half.

Illegal delay of game. Violation of substitute to report to umpire.

Violation of kick-off formation. Failure to maintain proper alignment of offensive team before ball is snapped. Also backfield man illegally in motion.

Offside by either team, or enmeshment on neutral zone. Attempts to draw opponents offside.

Taking more than two steps with ball after signaling for fair catch. Illegal use of hands and arms by defensive player.

Flying block or flying tackle. Running into kicker. Crawling by the runner.

Loss Of 15 Yards: Team not ready to play at scheduled time.

Substitute communicating with teammates before ball is put in play. Illegal substitution (player also suspended from game).

Failure to stop at least one second on shift play. Forward pass by member of team which did not put ball in play.

Forward pass touched by ineligible player. Intentional grounding of forward pass.

Interference by member of passing team with defensive player eligible for pass.

Interference with fair catch or tackling player before ball is caught.

Illegal use of hands and arms by offensive players.

Defensive player striking opponent above shoulders. Roughing the kicker.

Filling up, hurding, clipping. Tackling player out of bounds. Coaching from sidelines. Illegal interference with defense by passing team.

Longhorns Move On Plainview's Title Hopefuls Tonight

Ags, SMU Out For Title Fight Nov. 9

DALLAS, Nov. 1 (AP)—Two stunning football teams, only a week removed from a face-to-face challenge that could be the nation's game of the day, have immediate business coming up tomorrow that may wreck everything.

Impressive, undefeated Texas A. and M. and Southern Methodist, billed for an encore to their famed 1939 battle on Nov. 9 at Dallas, risk their necks and the glamor of their meeting against dangerous Arkansas and Texas, respectively.

Pressed by Baylor last weekend, the Aggies, winners of 16 straight games, worked into tonight throughout the week readying for the invasion of Arkansas at College Station. No same football team ever takes Arkansas lightly.

The Methodists had time to breathe the past two weeks during an idle period, and they needed it with 12 injuries on the roster. Now, Coach Matty Bell has his bunch laced up and ready, with the exception of Halfback Bill Thomas, out for the season.

Rated the country's best defensive team against rushing, the Aggies, who have permitted only 127 yards by ground in five games, also rate as one of the sector's top offensive units. A total of 1,420 yards have been ground out by the big red machine—and almost half of them came from Marion Pugh's wizardry. The unsmiling quarterback has accounted for 669 yards by running and passing.

Strangely, the Arkansas passing game, it's deadliest weapon for many years, is the worst in the conference, statistically speaking. Their percentage of completions is only 330, but the joker lies in the fact that they have done well with the ones they have completed—593 yards, to be exact.

Last weekend Arkansas pulled one of its typical stunts and beat highly favored Ole Miss, 21-20. But there's no other choice than the Aggies here.

Some of the punch left the Texas-SMU meeting when Rice sneaked in its haymaker to Texas' chin last weekend, but the Methodists weren't fooled. Coach Bell scouted the Texans, and came away remarking that Jack Crain missed "by just about six inches," getting away on a couple of runs that could have made it a more interesting afternoon.

Crain, not up to physical par against Rice, is sound again. But Texas was pinning quite a bit of hope on fullback Pete Layden, who ran and passed beautifully against the Owls.

The hunch is a tie, with SMU by a field goal in the going. Texas Christian and Baylor, both defeated in conference play, meet at Fort Worth. The Christians are putting up everything on this game, including injured Kyle Gillespie, and it may be their turn to beat a Baylor team weakened by the Aggie effort last week. Jim Witt is hurt, and that hurts Baylor.

Rice doesn't play a ten party against Texas A. and I. in a night game at Houston. It's serious business, but the Owls won't let anyone sneak up on their blind side the way they are going.

Deacons Engage Colonials Tonight

WAKE FOREST, N. C., Nov. 1 (AP)—Still nursing numerous bruises as result of their battle with Duke's powerful Blue Devils last Saturday, Wake Forest's Deacons have stepped up practice as far as possible this week and are working daily until dark preparing for the George Washington meeting in Washington Friday night.

Except for these minor bruises which seem to go along with football, there were no serious casualties and the Deacons should be at top strength by Friday. There is a possibility however, that Louis Trunzo, guard who started against Duke, may not be ready. He suffered recurrence of a foot injury that laid him in the infirmary Monday, but he's out and about now, although not taking part in contact work.

Corsicana, Amarillo Horses Win Show

DALLAS, Nov. 1 (AP)—Corsicana and Amarillo entries won first places at the Dallas charity horse show last night.

Bold Knight, a bay gelding belonging to Mrs. R. L. Wheelock of Corsicana, took a blue from twelve three-gaited horses over 15-2, in a class where half the entrants were ordered back to the ramp for a second look.

A veteran at jumping, T. M. Swoazy of Beaver Crossing, Neb., took the blue tie. He rode a mare belonging to Mrs. A. R. Anderson of Amarillo, a spring-muscled brown mare named Lady Joy who flattened her ears and cleared the barriers with spiteful disdain.

Jubilusea Is Big Success

The Kiwanis club's Halloween Jubilusea pulled stakes late last night and went into "winter quarters," the most successful of three seasons ended.

A last night attendance of thousands—by far the largest ever to attend the Kiwanis built and operated carnival—filled the large lot to overflow for hours as customers from all parts of Big Spring and many surrounding communities made their way to the benefit affair.

Although all stand operators had not been checked Friday morning, Secretary Meese Stewart estimated that total intake for the two nights would run little better than $1,000. From this figure will be deducted operating costs, such as merchandise, lumber, etc. "Just estimating without any definite operating cost charges yet on hand, I'd say we will probably net around $500 for the crippled children's fund," Stewart said.

Thanks went out to all firms and individuals cooperating with the Kiwanis club in its carnival efforts and contributing to its success in one form or another.

"We wish it were possible to thank every individual who attended the show," President Tom Coffey said, "for it was their attendance and spending that made this year's offering the most successful of all others."

Master, Pupil Vie In Sooner, Husker Tilt

NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 1 (AP)—Maj. Lawrence McConey Jones, better known to the football world as "Biff" but best remembered in Oklahoma as the man who brought Tom Stidham back to his native state, returns tomorrow to the grid camp he once commanded.

And smack in the middle of the path his Nebraska Cornhuskers are beating toward the Big Six title, the major again finds Oklahoma's rugged Sooners—the team he gave up four years ago, now coached by Stidham, his former lieutenant.

Three times their teams have met since Stidham and his old boss parted, but the score is still all square.

Jones resigned as Sooner head coach to return to Army life and Stidham stepped into his shoes.

But Nebraska outside Uncle Sam, and 1937 found Jones picking up where St. X. left off as head man in the Husker show.

Oklahoma and Nebraska fought a scoreless draw in the mud that year, but in 1938 the Sooners won, 14 to 0, and rolled on to the conference crown.

It was the Biffer's turn in 1939, and his Cornhuskers evened the count by blustering Oklahoma, 13 to 7, after both had been stopped by Missouri.

With the 1940 season only half gone, the two teams are neck and neck in the conference—out in front with two victories apiece.

Nebraska with its superior reserve strength is the favorite. The Sooners, however, haven't lost on their home side since 1937.

Gridiron Grins

JUST WANTED TO EVEN THINGS UP, BUDD?

AP Feature Service

It was the Georgia Tech-Centre game of 1920, a bitterly fought contest. Tech boasted an all-American tackle in Bill Fincher, who had one glass eye, and as tough a football frame as ever graced a gridiron. Center featured the mighty Bo McMillan and Red Roberts, the latter alternating at fullback and end.

The game began and Fincher traveled over Roberts' prone figure to throw McMillan for a loss, on the first play. The second play Fincher repeated. Coach Moran yanked Roberts and barked, "What's the matter with you?"

"Coach," raged Roberts, "that guy ain't human. He's like nothing I've ever seen in my life. When we lined up to play he reached back in his shirt and pulled out an old, dirty handkerchief. Then he pulled one eye out and rolled it up in that old handkerchief and put his eye in his shirt. When he took his hand out he had a big plug of tobacco. He bit off a chunk, rolled it around in his cheek and asked me,

"Are you going to play square?" "Before I had time to answer. Bo golla spit tobacco juice in my eye and I ain't seen him since!"

Challedon Favored Over Can't Wait

BALTIMORE, Nov. 1 (AP)—Challedon, reigning king of the turf, goes forth in the Pimlico Special today heavily favored to defeat his lone opponent, Can't Wait, and add another bright jewel to his crown.

The special, featuring the opening-day program of Pimlico's 13-day fall meeting, brings Challedon and Can't Wait together in a mile and three-sixteenths test for a winner-take-all purse of $10,000.

Gobs of prestige, as well as the rich purse, awaited the winner, for the Maryland Jockey Club has termed the event a race to determine the outstanding horse of the year, a title Challedon won last year.

CHAMBERLAIN DENIES HE'S COMING TO U. S.

LONDON, Nov. 1 (AP)—Widely circulated reports that Neville Chamberlain was on his way to Chamberlain in hopes of regaining his health brought from the former prime minister's secretary today the assertion that he "has not left this country and has no intention of doing so."

Reports emanating previously from Chamberlain's home city of Birmingham were to the effect that he and his wife had been on the high seas for about 10 days.

Swami Barker Peeks In Crystal For Grid Choice

By HERB BARKER

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Another chapter in the weekly football guessing contest (and may it be happier than last week's):

Northwestern - Minnesota: As close to a standoff as can be imagined. Both unbeaten, both untied, both potent. Blanketed by a deep fog, Minnesota.

Army-Notre Dame: Think of a number. Notre Dame.

Texas A. and M.-Arkansas: The Razorbacks are coming along fast. Spot for an upset but stringing along with the Aggies.

U. C. L. A.-Stanford: UCLA has lost five ball games, yet nobody has scored more than one touchdown on the Bruins. There's a strong urge to take a chance on them until you glance at Stanford's record, Stanford.

Tulane-Clemson: This is where everybody discovers just how good Clemson may be. Timidly, Clemson.

Duke - Georgia Tech: Possible fireworks but taking Duke.

Ohio State-Indiana: The Buckeyes have the greater manpower and that might prove decisive. Ohio State.

Tennessee-Louisiana State: Can't look beyond Tennessee.

Kentucky-Alabama: Taking Alabama, but not too happily.

Georgia-Auburn: The loss of Rufus Deal will hurt Auburn and Georgia seems to be making excellent progress. Still, Auburn.

Vanderbilt - Mississippi: Haps, Hovious and Mississippi.

Texas - Southern Methodist: Jack Crain apparently is not fully recovered, influencing this ballot for S. M. U.

Penn Navy: With Reagan a doubtful quantity, this corner's nod goes to Navy.

Wisconsin-Illinois: And still another, Wisconsin.

Michigan State-Kansas State: Taking Michigan State.

Oklahoma-Nebraska: Might be close but Nebraska gets this vote.

Missouri-New York University: Looks safe for Missouri.

Villanova-Kansas: Looks like Villanova.

Detroit-Tulsa: A threat to the Titans' unbeaten record but we'll still take Detroit.

West Virginia-Washington and Lee: Quick, Watson, the cola.

West Virginia. North Carolina State-Furman: Taking State.

George Washington-Wake Forest: Out of the fish-bowl, Wake Forest.

Also: Temple over Bucknell; Dartmouth over Sewanee; William and Mary over Virginia Military; Virginia over Virginia Tech; Washington State over Idaho; Oregon over Montana; Colorado over Utah; Brigham Young over Utah State; Lafayette over Washington and Jefferson; Santa Clara over San Francisco.

Injuries Give Big Springers Underdog Role

Still a bit battered from the rough romp with Midland last week, Big Spring high school's Steer footballers left for Plainview today for their non-district tilt tonight with the Plainview Bulldogs, one of the three undefeated leaders in district 1-A.

Taking a position among the top-rankers in high school football, the Plainviewers gave a slight edge over Big Spring. Mick and Wick Mason, the first a fullback and the second a end, makes a gridiron duo that has carried Plainview along the road. Mick is leading scorer in his district with 74 points chalked up to his name, while twin brother Wick has three touchdowns on his own hook. The two of them add up to a consistent combination that can kick up dust in most opposition's faces.

It's in the reserve matter that Big Spring may have the advantage, although that item is not any too well supplied in the Herd's sector. Also, Coach Murphy is able to put a starting lineup in the field that carries weight were it is needed the most.

Plainview's main chance of mopping up on the Bovines is in the full development of wide-open attack that seems to be a Plainview specialty.

The Steers were able to put the hex on Midland's offering and has been working with the same objective in mind in preparation for the struggle with the Panhandle sharpshooters. Murphy might use a variation of a 5-2 system to keep Plainview's spread formation listed as a frozen asset. Bruises and strains will slow the Big Springers down and might allow the hosts to rip over a winning touchdown from their pet maneuver.

But, judging from Plainview's past showings, the Bulldog spread is strictly a touchdown tactic and most proposed advances will start from the conventional punt formation.

For the first time this year, Coach Murphy is intending to make full use of his reserves and get some of his next year's men lined up with some experience under actual fire.

Probable starting lineups:

Masons, Jeff Davis Continue Win Streak

Mighty Mites Tag Ft. Worth Tech, 27-0; Davis Downs Lamar

Masonic Home's mighty mites and Jeff Davis' Panthers kept their goal lines uncrossed last night as they won conference games in the Texas schoolboy football race.

Members of the select circle of 15 teams without defeat or tie, the Masons won over Fort Worth Tech 27-0 in the Fort Worth district and Jeff Davis downed Lamar, 13-0 in the Houston district.

Both are strong favorites to win their sector titles. Davis is undisputed leader. Masonic Home is tied for the lead with Arlington Heights, which plays Riverside (Fort Worth) tonight.

Two other games scheduled last night were postponed.

Tyler's tilt with Jacksonville, originally set for tonight, was moved from last night to tomorrow night due to inclement weather.

The Jeff Davis-San Antonio Tech game in the San Antonio district, scheduled for last night, will be played tomorrow night.

Thirty-seven contests will be played today and tonight over the state, with five more tomorrow.

Headliners In Mexican Golf

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 1 (AP)—At least two close matches were expected to develop today as play began in the championship flight of the 12th Mexican national amateur golf tournament.

Bobby Riggs of Houston, a finalist here in 1939, faced stiff first round competition from Gus Gross of San Antonio. Riggs shot a 75 in yesterday's qualifying play; Gross scored 83.

Observers looked for another hard battle between Bartlett Cooke, San Antonio, and William Hillstrom, Tampico champion.

Young John Barnum of Edinburg, Tex., who won last year's tournament, is paired against Porfirio Diaz III, grandson of Mexico's dictator-president from 1877-1910. Barnum was second low man yesterday with a 73.

Other players tabbed to reach Saturday's quarter-finals without difficulty include Jack Timm, Dallas champion, and Morris Watson of Wichita Falls, Tex. John D. Ross of Corpus Christi, Tex., meets Carlos Pani, Mexico City.

No Danger Slated For Welter Champ

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—It took Ken Overlin, an ex-sailor from Virginia, 13 years of battling all over the world to ascend to the middleweight throne recognized by New York and he hasn't any intention of existing in his first title defense.

Nobody thinks he will be in any great danger when he bumps into 21-year-old Steve Belloise of New York in a 16-round championship bout at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Odds of 5 to 8 favored Overlin.

Editorial

At the bottom of the bulky ballot given voters in the general election Tuesday will be a group of proposed amendments to the state constitution. Texas voters long have followed a rather sound policy of voting against amendments to the constitution unless they were well informed on them and convinced the changes were highly desirable.

Changing A Tax Limit

Even for Red River county this does not appear to be the best course, for there are other counties in the state in worse financial position and with heavier debts. Red River county should face facts and seek to correct the source of its trouble. Otherwise, there is no assurance that it would not be back in the same fix.

WASHINGTON—Answering a mail order: T. D. S., Alhambra, Calif.—According to the 1940 census, and this figure is brand new, there are 157,895 Japanese in the Hawaiian Islands. How many of these are subject to registration for selective service, it is impossible to say now, although I asked estimates from the army, navy, state and justice departments, selective service headquarters and the census bureau.

What it actually meant she knew. "Or expanded the metal," suggested someone. Lynn replaced his knife and took the ring. The rest of the party had their trinkets waiting for him. When the two had finished and stepped out, one of the ladies who might have fainted but waited to see if something more exciting would happen, remarked: "Really, they were quite gentlemanly."

tioning for Lynn to come out. Instead, she crouched back in the slight protection the chair afforded. An instant later the figure appeared at the door. "Miss you some with me," Chan recognized the voice, that of Chan, Temu Darin's head coolie. Lynn stepped out joyfully. She had been thinking that surely Temu would do something about this outrage.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—Hat check girls have made curious Broadway history from time to time. I remember one who whipped out a knife and stabbed a dancer one night because this dancer was shinning up to her sugar, a philandering Romeo who played fiddle in the orchestra. There was another who married an undergraduate at Columbia and moved with him to Mexico, where she became a bridge expert. Likewise famous among New York nightclub hat-check ladies is Renee Carroll, who is now assisting in editing Stage Magazine.

got for this number was the heaviest of the week. Added notes on "The Thief of Bagdad": June Duprez, who plays the Beautiful Sleeping Princess, is worried sick about her brother, an aviator now interned in Finland. She hasn't had word of him in three months. This is her first American picture. She was seen briefly in "Four Feathers," but all of that film was produced in England. Rex Ingram, the giant negro who plays the Evil Genie, will be on Broadway with Ethel Waters and a notable cast soon in "Cabin in the Sky." Sahn, the little "thief," is a Mohammedi. He tells you the British are a bunch to win the war. The villain of "Thief" is our old friend Conrad Veidt of silent days who was a great hit in "The Man Who Laughs." Veidt must be well into his forties, perhaps close to fifty. He is lean, hard, and seemingly young.

Bridge

There was a kitchen, a bath, a bedroom, a living room, all windowless and ventilated from the mysterious surrounding enclosure. Lynn heard an odd, musical gurgling coming from below the floor. "This building is over the river," she said aloud. Chan bowed himself into the kitchen. The girl looked about the handsomely furnished room. On the blackwood table lay a small revolver, and beside it, a book of poetry, face downward. Lynn picked up the book.

HOLLYWOOD—Rosalind Russell was talking on the set of "This Thing Called Love." She was enjoying this run of comedies she's been doing but she was beginning to wonder a little if she hadn't better try for a change. "Something different, a little more serious." Gloria Dickson was talking on the set of "This Thing Called Love." She liked this part, a sort of tough glitter gal, but she was afraid it was too much like the tough glitter gals she'd been doing at another studio. She had talked the director into letting her dress up the part—she didn't want to get stuck in a rut.

Jobs to the several people who have written for them. Some day, when I am older and wiser, I will know better than to mention a million dollars anywhere—especially in writing! Would a look at Carole Lombard's dressing room compensate, just a little? It's different from all the other portable dressing rooms in town. It's here today on the set of "Mr. and Mrs. Smith," with no chrome doorknobs or hand-cupped satin walls. It hasn't any doors or walls at all. It's five pieces of furniture, right out in the open set—a chaise longue and two chairs, a dressing table with stool to match, all covered in powder blue chintz.

Dogs And Cats Learn Meaning Of Raid Sirens

LONDON, Nov. 1 (AP)—England's 45,000,000 domestic animals are getting—and taking—their share of the German air blitzkrieg along with the island's human inhabitants.

Dogs, cats and other pets which occupy a place of honor in homes from the poorest Limehouse slums to Buckingham palaces have generally accepted the bombing and accompanying with stoicism.

Theoretically, pets are barred from public shelters, but there's no record yet of anyone complaining when a pet owner runs into a shelter with a cat or a dog tucked under his arm.

The family dog or cat usually goes to the household shelter with others in the family when air raid sirens start. Occasionally, however, the pet is left in a shuttered room.

In one instance a woman hurried to a shelter during a raid only to remember that she had forgotten her two dogs. She dashed back to get them, but a bomb killed her on the doorstep. The dogs were safe in the kitchen.

Two days after a bomb struck the Associated Press building here last month workmen clearing debris from a mass of cables and pipes heard a faint moaning. They dug toward the sound and presently a bedraggled cat and her two kittens climbed unsteadily into the daylight.

Dogs and cats are learning what the air raid siren means. When they hear it they stroll to shelter. It doesn't seem to be fear—they just recognize the noise and join sirens start. Occasionally, however, the pet is left in a shuttered room.

Securities Office Setup Is Changed

PORT WORTH, Nov. 1 (AP)—The regional office of the securities and exchange commission announced today new steps have been taken to regionalize the registration of securities under the securities act of 1933.

The Fort Worth office, in charge of Administrator O. H. Allred, is headquarters for Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kansas and Louisiana. The announcement said in part: "For the past six months, the commission has provided facilities in the San Francisco regional office for assistance to registrants both before and during the process of registration. It has been found that smaller issuers in particular have availed themselves of this assistance."

"This plan is now being extended to regional offices in Boston, New York, Atlanta, Cleveland, Chicago, Fort Worth, Denver and Seattle. Under this procedure, a prospective registrant may confer with registration experts in those field offices during the period when he is preparing his registration statement. The field office will send copies of memoranda based on the Washington office to aid in expediting registration examination."

Carnegie Commission Meeting To Make Awards For Deeds Of Valor

By FRANKLIN BANKER

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1 (AP)—Who is the nation's "hero of heroes." The Carnegie hero fund commission three times each year awards medals to those who have risked or given their lives for others, but it declines to single out any one act as the most heroic. That, the commission says, is "a matter of opinion."

This body, holding a meeting here today to make further selections, has granted 3,155 awards in the past 36 years.

Here's just one amazing example of human courage from the files:

It was at Highlands, N. C., May 14, 1911. R. Augustus Baty, 26, fell from the summit of Whiteside mountain, rolling 150 feet down an almost vertical cliff and lodging against a small bush only two inches from the brink of a 2,000-foot precipice. There he lay, injured and unconscious, one arm and one leg dangling over the top of the precipice a matter of two inches from eternity.

Charles N. Wright, 38, a merchant, started down the cliff to the rescue, his only handholds and footholds ridges and hollows no more than an inch deep in the stone cliff.

A single misstep would have sent him plummeting to the rocks some 2,000 feet below.

His wife, above, screamed. It startled Wright and nearly caused him to lose his grip—and nerve.

Another man started to descend but changed his mind.

Long minutes later Wright reached Baty, and by holding to a bush near the base of the cliff, lifted him up. Once the delirious Baty all but plunged himself and rescuer over the precipice.

By dint of tremendous effort Wright hauled the helpless man to safety. The spectacular rescue took two and one-half hours. Baty recovered.

For his feat Wright received a gold medal and $2,000. Only 18 other gold medals have been awarded by the Carnegie commission. There have been 553 silver awards and 2,583 of bronze.

The commission has been doing this since 1904, when a $5,000,000 fund was set up for that purpose by Andrew Carnegie, the Scottish-born steelmaker who felt that mankind applauds deeds of sacrifice but forgets to care for those who perform them.

TEMPLE, Nov. 1 (AP)—An old, blind mule went for a stroll down a high railroad trestle. Along came a fast train, whistle screaming.

The mule balked. The train stopped.

The mule was adamant.

Two hours later the mule still stood there. So did the train.

In desperation they shot the mule.

Then the fast train sped on—two hours later.
