From Roaring Springs Buzz Thacker noted a total of 3.20 for the month of June. Betty Simpson, reporting from the northeastern part of the county, said that Northfield has crop needs at this stage in the grow-ing season. Mrs. Tommie Jo Cruse, for a yearly total, to date, of 15.09

Ancient skull, fossils on display at Motley County Museum

Ricky Day, an amateur archeolo-gist known to many landowners in said that they spent the rest of the day Motley County, has scoured many of the area's breaks and canyons for evidence of ancient, prehistoric life. In the rock layers of time, he has often found bits and pieces of reptiles, amphibians, fish, and mammals which lived millions of years ago.

Many of these unusual bones, as well as rocks, Indian artifacts, and a bison skull, he has placed on display at the Motley County Museum.

A few years ago, Day, a middle school science teacher at Andrews, was instructing a friend, Richard Galle of Plainview, on how to find artifacts. Galle proved to be an unusually good student by quickly spotting the horn of a bison sticking out of an eroded ravine. Instead of a leisurely ate grew up in Floydada, but spent a digging in the dirt to free the skull, which they and the landowner later donated to the museum.

Galle was also with Day when they found the bone trail of a Phytosaurus while fossil hunting in Briscoe County. They excavated the broken bits of bone, and then Day spent a year piecing together the skull. Though parts of it were missing, he has filled in those parts to make it look complete.

According to Day, the phytosaurus was a late Triassic age reptile that lived in the swamps and river areas that were common to this area about two million years ago.

great deal of time in Motley County at his grandparents' home at Horner Lake. Summers were often spent with his family, Bill and Sally Day, former residents of Roaring Springs, camping out and looking for artifacts, fossils, and rocks. This interest led him into the fields of science and geology. He graduated from Stephen F. Austin College in 1985 with degrees in both. Ricky and his wife, Susan, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cloyd, are both teachers in Andrews Middle School and are the parents of one Day has been seriously looking for Triassic period fossils since 1996. He has often said that he would like to be the first in Motley County to find an entire skeleton of a dinosaur or some ancient rare species, like a leptosuchus or maybe a phytosaurus.

And now he knows what to look for.

Local American Legion Post, Commander recognized

The U. S. American Legion's National Commander, Alan G. Lance, Sr., and National Adjutant, Robert W. Spanogle, recently singled out for recognition American Legion Post

In the organization's declaration of commitment award, the officials cited the post for achieving personal involvement of members in the following areas: vision, goals, image, partnership, public outreach, programs and membership.

In addition, Donald F. Simons,
Commander of the Legion's Department of Texas unit, congratulated Commander Jerry M. Green of the local post for being an inspiration to members and achieving a successful membership campaign.

Simons stated, "You are doing a marvelous job in the Americanism programs as we remind all that free-dom is not free, in celebrating our national holidays, and protecting our

Legion Post 337 participates in the American Legion Boys State, an ora-torical contest, the Need a Lift program, Get Out the Vote campaign,

Just Say No to Drugs promotion, and other children and youth activities.

Simons declared that as Green and other Legionaires bring these programs into their local communities, they must respond to the quality of life needs of all veterans and their families; prepare each generation to meet its citizenship obligations; maintain a strong national defense; perpetuate the principles of government embodied in the U.S. Constitution. Simons describes the Legion as a value-based organization committed to serving God, Country, Community and every veteran.

The Department of Texas Commander exhorted Commander Green to continue and improve local activities and set new goals for American Legion Post 337.

"Statistics are measures of achievements within the American Legion, and you and your post have met your part of our Texas goal. All of the Department of Texas extends hearty congratulations for your attainments during the millennium year," Simons said.

Italian students visit Motley County

Dear Editor,

A membership drive is under way to form a chapter in the Texas Panhandle or join an existing chapter which is located in Shuttack, Ok. The purpose is to bring people interested in the history of Germans from Russia, joining together for a better un-derstanding and promoting a better appreciation of their history and the preservation of their culture through their descendants.

In 1968 the American Historical Society of Germans from Russia was founded and is an international nonprofit, educational organization. Chapters were formed for members and non-members to meet and exchange genealogical information, and preserve their heritage.

The greatest migration of Germans from Russia began under the auspices of Catherine the Great in the 1760's, when Catherine invited western Europeans to settle in the sparsely populated steppe lands along the Volga River.

A second wave of German immigration, this time to the southern reaches of the Ukraine, began in the 19th Century.

A third wave of immigration to the east introduced German colonists to the area of Poland and the Ukraine known as Volhynia.

The German colonists flourished in the rich steppe land of Russia, but mounting nationalism and social unrest in Russia forced the German colonists to seek vistas in the West, and in the late 1800's and 1900's many came to America.

We appreciate the donation to the Library by James Bearden in memory of Adelle Durham. These donations help the Library and make for lasting memorials.

The Library's Summer Reading Program ended with an exciting Magic Show last week. Monte the Magician and his assistant, Delilah, confounded and surprised kids and adults alike with their magic.
Jeanette Case provided delicious refreshments, and certificates and prizes were passed out. Each child who participated received a certificate of participation.

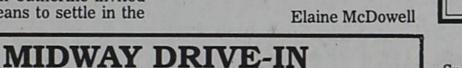

Kids attending this last session were Adrian Mathis, Alexandria Jenschke, Christian Brooks, Jay Henderson, Haley Blanco and this book will be in great demand.

Those receiving prizes for reading the most books on their grade level were Taelor Norrell, Tanner Norrell, Sarah Kreusel, Andrew Kreusel, Hanna Alexander, Garrett Jenschke and Kyla Simpson. We appreciate the help of Jan Jones, Patricia Green and Brittany Moore at this last session. We also appreciate Pam Thacker's willingness to be in charge of the Library Summer Reading Program. We could not have such a grand time without her.

One of the new books in the Library is an inspirational volume called Never Stick Your Tongue Out at Mama by Max Davis. This book is a collection of short views of everyday life as told by a former pastor. The Library also has Michael McGarrity's Mathis, Annie Hurt, Garrett newest Kevin Kerney novel, The Judas Judge. This book is set in New Mexico and is a mystery. Another Potts, Kyla Simpson, Sarah Mexico and is a mystery. Another Ferguson, Taelor Norrell, Hanna Alexander, Tanner Norrell, Gavin Magic & Card Tricks by Jon Luckett, Gunnar Luckett, Reagan Tremaine. #### "Victory in Jesus"

To live for Christ is to share His triumph over this world. And who has not been afraid? We read of Peter, bidden by our Lord to come to Him, walking on the water. We read that Peter began to "be afraid" and started to sink. Jesus lifted him up. Our Lord gives us victory over Jesus promised in John 14:27, "my peace I leave with you...Let not your heart be troubled, neither be afraid." When you and I place our trust in Jesus, there is no need for anxiety. Even as He told the apostle Paul, "Be not afraid. I am with thee." (Acts 18:9-10). And when Paul was later threatened with imprisonment, he could only answer, "I am ready not to be bound only, but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus." (Acts 21:13).

That is victorious living. The trials and cares and yes the fears of this life cannot hurt us if Jesus Christ is our Savior. He gives us the victory. Victory over sin, over this world, and victory over death is ours. Because we belong to Him who is victorious!

One of my greatest loves is the reading of pioneer stories, so I want you to have this one from page 81 of the later History of Dickens and Its People published

Here is a story by Luke Davis: Uncle George and Aunt Emma Davis were early settlers of West Texas. They came by covered wagon about the year 1898. They were residing in Eastland County, Texas. They homesteaded 160 acres from the State on the outskirts of the Matador Ranch. The land was grazed and farmed for some 25 years. The first cows that calved from the Matador wild herd were driven into the corral and broke to milk. Being range cattle, they gave very little milk. We milked ten cows for our own

The taxes on the land for property tax, school tax, and improvements was $1.75 night

Mr. Davis built a half dugout on ar- nuisance rival. They had 9 children: Ray, Lina, Darcis, Hettie, "B", Henry, Minnie, Luke and Emmett. No doctor was ever in attendance (at the births of these children) only a midwife, Aunt May Holly, a neighbor.

The old Liberty School was a oneroom structure. It was a one mile walk to school across the Matador land for us. First through tenth grade was taught in the one-room school. The teachers' pay was very low. The teachers included J.W. Hilton, Steve Cobb, Mr. Walker, Mr. Reese, Blaine Speer, Lydia McCormick, Lena Davis, Loyd Hopkins and Ella Worswick.

Midway school was built a few years later. It was 4 miles to walk. It had higher grades as well as lower grades. The neighborhood produced a baseball team. It was almost unbeatable. The team was known as the "Shinnery Twigs". The roster was as follows: Catcher - Emmett Gladdish, Pitcher - Ben Clark, First Base - Tony Holly, Second Base - Watt Holly, Third Base - Duck Dobbs, Short Stop - Ira Dobbs, Right Field - Claude Clark, Center Field - Ide Clark, Left Field - Steve Austin, Alternates - Hallett Holly and Lee Peters, and Managers - Man Clark and A.

George Davis passed away in the year 1919 and was buried at Afton Cemetery. Emma Davis passed away in the year 1945. She was buried in Westminster, California. Of the family, only Minnie Day and Luke Davis are living. They reside at 379 Hamilton, Costa Mesa, California.

We enjoyed 4th of July celebrations at Dickens. There were spelling bees and community plays. Seeing a wagon coming across the prairie, you knew you were going to have company.

Frightful experience: we walked into the cellar where a snake was hanging from the ceiling. My mother got a long nail and hammer and spiked it to a post. After a 30 minute wait, it came down to the bottom and we got out.

In the early days, anyone passing was welcome to spend the night. One night a voice said "hello" at the water tank. My mother answered. He asked for lodging, and Mother said, "My husband is gone and only the children and I are here." He and raised pigs to feed the kids!

News from the County Agent

Most of Texas Could Be Cattle

TB-Free When New Federal

Regulations Go Into Effect The majority of Texas -- 252 of its 254 counties - could be declared free of cattle tuberculosis (TB) infection, when new federal TB regulations go into effect in late 2000 or early 2001. Texas and other states have been working to eradicate this bacterial infection in cattle since 1917, when about five percent of the nation's herds were known to have the chronic disease that causes internal lesions, and before pasteurization of milk, posed a public health threat.

Texas, New Mexico and Michigan are the only states not already carrying the "accredited TB free" designation from the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Under the new TB regulations, New Mexico also would gain the "free" classification. "The USDA is poised to institute new cattle TB regulations, and states -- or areas of states -- that cannot be declared free of the disease will have more requirements when moving cattle out of state," said Dr. Terry Beals, Texas state veterinarian and executive director for the Texas Animal Health Commission. "Cattle herds in 252 of 254 Texas counties have been free of TB infection for more than five years, and we will be asking the USDA to grant Texas 'split-state' status, so the majority of the state's 153,000 herd owners can continue to move cattle interstate without restrictions." On the other hand, it could be tougher to transport cattle out of El Paso County and a small portion of Hudspeth County, two counties that will not make the "cut for TB-free status." State and federal animal health officials will meet with the area's producers to discuss the impending regulations at 1 p.m. Tuesday, July 18. The meeting will be held at the Texas A&M University, Agri-cultural Research & Extension Center on the southeast edge of El Paso, near the intersection of Interstate 10 and Americas Avenue. "In the El Paso Milk Shed, all but one of the 10 dairies have had recurring bouts of low-level TB infection during the past 15 years. A beef herd in the area also was found to be infected in the mid-1990s and was depopulated. The two cattle herds now quarantined in the U.S. are in this milk shed, which runs along the U.S.-Mexican border in El Paso County and a small area of Hudspeth County," said Dr. Terry Beals. He emphasized that these dairies do not pose a public health threat, as pasteurized dairy products and cooked meat are safe to con-

eradicate this disease and stop the recurrence of infection, representatives from the U.S. Department of Agriculture have approached the 10 dairy operators about a possible onetime buy-out and liquidation of the herds," he said.

Excessive rainfall can trigger fungal diseases like leafspot, which can seriously damage the yield potential of the peanut crop. University studies show that a leafspot epidemic before harvesting can reduce pod yields by 500 pounds or

Extensive field testing has consistently shown that Abound will/can improve yield and quality. In on-farm trials in Georgia and Alabama in 1997, the Abound/BRAVO* season-long spray program delivered over 300 pounds in increased yield and 2 points of grade increase versus the Folicur* program. Plus, this one-of-a-kind resistance management tool helps growers manage fungicide resistance concerns because its mode of action is completely different from all current fungicides. Use two foliar applications of Abound at 60 and 90 days after planting. Combined with a normal multiple-spray leafspot control program with products like Bravo fungicide, also marketed by Zeneca Ag Products, will deliver highly effective disease control.
