PEACE ON EARTH

by
Bud Russell, Chief Transfer Agent
Texas Prison System,
Huntsville, Texas

Jerusalem has been conquered by the Romans. Caesar Augustus has decreed that his dominions should be taxed. Unrest, discontent and fear gripped the hearts of the chosen people of God. In the midst of this political tempest, three lowly shepherds tender their flocks in the fields. Suddenly the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of God shone round about them. This struck a chord of fear in their hearts.

The angel, perceiving their fear, spoke unto them: "Fear not; for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Savior, which is Christ the Lord."

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men!"

Down the corridors of time this message has been carried to fearing, oppressed, and suffering mankind! Those who have been blessed have known a peace that is rare in this world of tears and darkness.

The world today is torn with dissension. Dictators rise and fall according to the whim of popular opinion; people struggle under taxation and tyranny, and this earth whirled its way through space. Dark clouds of war threaten the lives of the young, and starvation haunts the very old. These clouds are not descended from the heavens; they rise from an earth that is steeped in avarice, hatred, and sin. There is but one answer to man's wailing cry for light: Christianity!

The darkness which covered the face of the earth on that terrible Friday when the Son of God sacrificed his life that man might find life everlasting has never lifted for millions of men and women. The light which glorified the Man who revealed himself to Mary Magdalene on that blessed Sunday when the stone rolled away is the only ray of hope to grope mankind. We have but to turn to Christ to find a fulfillment of the blessed promise, "Peace on earth, good will toward men!"

When poor, blind humanity accepts Christ as the Son of God, then, and then only, will the black pall of war and crime and disease be swept aside in the blaze of glory which signifies the presence of Almighty God.

The suave diplomats who frame treaties could better promote peace by turning to the Father of Peace for guidance. God rules in His heaven, and would reveal Himself to them just as He appeared to Moses on the mountain-side. His will is written between the covers of the oldest, sweetest book in existence, the Bible, and when men read it submissively, prayerfully, and reverently, God will be revealed to them in His glory and power and wisdom.

This perplexing problem of crime cannot be solved by laws on our statute books. Man-made laws are deadlines that must be violated before they are brought into play. The laws of God are written on the human heart by His finger and voiced by that thing we call conscience. Whenever men read the Father's will on the tablet of their hearts, His law becomes a living word of powerful, significant, glorious beauty. The Christian is ablaze with a flame that is older than our sun. Our little minds can hold but an infinitesimal portion of God's spirit, but so great is that portion of power that men fired with it have risen to heights that made them immortal in man's memory.

There are thousands of men in prison in Texas. Ninety per cent of these unfortunates can trace their miserable lot to a moment in their lives when they wilfully stifled the voice of conscience. In their faces one sees the saddest tragedy in human experience; the withered soul that has been shut off from God! Man can no more thrive without God than a plant can flourish and flower without the sun. I have handled more than 100,000 of these poor men, and I know better than any man that they are starving in stubborn sin for want of the saving grace of Jesus Christ. I saw with sorrow that 10 per cent of them are past reformation. Immortal souls damned by sinful hearts that are past reaching. These are the habituals. But the great majority are like the lost sheep which bleats pitifully in the darkness to attract the Good Shepherd's attention. Let us lead these lost lambs to the fold. Our Father will reward us for leading these sheep to Him.

I tell you implicitly that Christianity is the one and only cure for crime. When Jesus enters the heart of a man, murder, rape, theft, and other evil traits are washed from that heart in his most precious blood. I have seen men whose eyes were harder than granite weep like little children in the presence of Jesus. I have seen them gain their feet, and deport themselves with Christian dignity. So powerful is the Word of God that these saved sinners shine out on the shores of eternity to guide storm-tossed souls safely to the shore.

I tell you that there is no power anywhere comparable to Christianity. The day of miracles will never be past so long as God wills to shine in human hearts. The most sinful, hardened man can rise to a new life even as our Lord arose on that Sunday morning in the long ago.

It is my prayer that the Lord will make me an instrument of peace. Where there is hate, give me love; where there is offense, give me pardon; give me union in place of discord; truth to replace error; faith where there is doubt; hope for despair; light instead of darkness, benevolence rather than greed; and joy to replace sadness. These things are heritages of the Christian.

MARRIAGE MADE WIFE SMUGGLING AIDE

Few women have looked on the grim details of smuggling human life, but a thirst for adventure, a desire for love and the lure of the blue Caribbean, led one woman into the toils of this ruthless racket where outlawry, bloodshed and death go hand in hand. In May Cosmopolitan her story is recounted as she told it to Barton Merrill.

Horror stalks the decks of the boats which smuggle aliens into Florida and usually they are stolen boats. One of this young bride's first duties was to help her husband convert a handsome stolen launch into an unrecognizable craft which passed for a fishing boat. This accomplished, they sped down the time-honored pirate's highway toward the West Indies, but their booty was even less honorable than the golden doubloons and pieces of eight which were the goal of earlier outlaws.

Be patient, my brethren, God yet lives and my ears hear again His beautiful promise, "Peace on earth, good will toward men!"

In the Texas Prison System and probably every other penitentiary in the world, 75 or 80 per cent of the prisoners are confined there, directly or indirectly, because of booze or dope. In my opinion it is the most damnable curse on earth.

War, panics, crime, and all the ills that plague this generation will disappear whenever we choose to accept Jesus Christ. There are but two roads to follow. One is a straight, narrow road, at the end of which is a heaven four-square. There is life, peace, and happiness—all life love. The other road is a broad road—easy to get on—hard to get off. At the end of this road is destruction, a burning, everlasting death. Take your choice!

A&M Specialist To Speak Here Again

Paul G. Haines, organization specialist of the A. & M. College Extension Service, who spoke at Matador, Monday, April 17, is to be here again Monday, May 8. He will speak at a general meeting at the Courthouse at 9:30 Monday morning. Those who heard Mr. Haines at the first meeting expressed the unanimous opinion that a valuable opportunity would have been lost had they not been present. They expressed the hope that everyone in the county might hear Mr. Haines on his next visit. The meeting Monday morning is open to the public and everyone is invited to attend, according to an announcement by Frank A. Buckley, county agent.

As a result of Mr. Haines' recent talk, a group of leading farmers of the county are holding a series of Community Meetings to discuss organization and pressing farm problems. Liberal attendance was had and lively interest was shown at meetings held at Whiteflat Monday night and Flomot Tuesday night. R. L. Jameson of Whiteflat made an enlightening address on the need for farm organization. Frank A. Buckley, county agent spoke briefly on "The Farmer and the American Tariff". W. L. McWilliams, Whiteflat, spoke on freight rates, and Elbert Reeves, Matador told about the recent Farmers' Congress at Austin.

Game Group Finish Big Rock Sign

A large rock sign to tell the public about the Game Management work in Motley county has been completed near U. S. Highway No. 70 fourteen miles east of Matador. Frank A. Buckley, county agent, who directed the building of the sign, gave the height as 75 feet, width at top 60 feet and width at bottom 120 feet. The rock letters are from five to seven feet in height and a rock bored completely encloses the sign. Buckley said. The labor was furnished by the Extension Service project of the National Youth Administration. A crew of four to eight youths put in 22 days labor on the project.

The sign is located on the southeast slope of a steep hill about a hundred yards north of the highway, three miles west of the Motley-Cottle county line. It is situated on land belonging to the Swenson Land and Cattle Company who granted permission for the use of the site. Materials for painting the rocks and darkening the background were furnished by the Motley County Game Management Association and by Bob Robertson, local merchant and director of the Association. Elbert Reeves and U. L. Wille, also directors of the Association, furnished trucks to haul the rocks to the site.

Great interest in the rock sign and other game management work in Motley county was shown by George A. Montgomery, representative of the "Capper Farmer" magazine, who spent the entire day Wednesday of last week touring the county and taking notes on the various phases of the work. The Topeka, Kansas, Publication sent Mr. Montgomery to Motley County, Texas, to get a story on quail management, county agent Buckley, who accompanied him on the tour, was told by the journalist. He stated that his paper was convinced that this county is outstanding in its work with these game birds above its entire circulation area which includes the greater part of the United States. The story of Motley County quail work is expected to appear in the November issue of the magazine.

School Campus Beautification Program Continues

(By Kara Hunsucker) Work is being continued on the beautification and improvement of the Matador school campus. A rock walled flower bed twenty feet in diameter is being erected north of the high school building.

When completed, the flower bed will be unusually attractive. An ornamental bird bath will rise thirty inches above the surface of the bed. The bird bath will be surrounded by roses and blooming annuals, such as poppies and bluebonnets. A rock curb will be built fourteen inches from the rock wall, and more flowers will be planted in the intervening space.

The rocks used in the construction of this flower bed were shipped here from Palo Pinto County. The Child Welfare Association is furnishing the money for the erection of the bed.

Other features of the landscape program for the northern part of the campus are an ornamental drinking fountain in the grove of trees, park seats under the trees, a cactus bed, and improved tennis courts. These will be built as soon as funds are provided.

TUBERCULOSIS RANKS AS MAJOR DISEASE

May 4—"Tuberculosis ranks first among the killing diseases—a position occupied not only in the entire country, despite its now being on the list in 1938, it can kill more persons between and forty-five years than does any other single disease. And this is in the face of evidence that the major-bercubolosis patients can be cured if proper treatment and diet maintained," states W. Cox, State Health

Fish Gets Big Majority

The National Wildlife Federation's vote among anglers and outdoor editors on the popularity standing of fish resulted in an easy victory for the large-mouth bass. The large-mouth likes shallow, weedy lakes, not too cold. In Florida, where bass feed voraciously all winter, specimens weighing as much as 20 pounds have been caught. The large mouth is almost as greedy as members of the pike family. This portrait of the large-mouth was painted for Wildlife Week poster stamps by Fred Everett.

Leon Ice Leads In Bowling Contest

Burden's Grocery won the first week's bowling contest over the Matador Auto last Wednesday night with a total of 2374 to 2292, but some fault in their line-up caused them to withdraw from the contest, giving it to Leon Ice which was 58 points behind.

Charley Andrews, owner of the local bowling alley, extends an invitation to the general public to witness these games played each Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights. The ladies are also cordially invited, Mr. Andrews declared.

YOU'LL LEARN LOTS ABOUT FLORIDA ORANGES

The Florida exhibit at the New York World's Fair 1939 is to occupy an area of two and a half acres on the west shore of Fountain Lake, near its head, and is expected to spend a minimum of $250,000 on its elaborate presentation. Its chief display is to be of its citrus industry, showing the growing, picking and packing of its fruit crops.

The steel framework of the 200-foot Perisphere, which weighs 4,300,000 pounds, and of its attendant 700-foot Trylon, containing 1,690,000 pounds of steel, have both been completed at the New York World's Fair 1939. No such structures of their kind have ever been erected.

that the spread of infection to others be prevented. Such prevention is possible. A more concerted attack on this front would mean the saving of thousands of lives. "In every case, when diagnosis of active tuberculosis has been made, an investigation of the physical condition of the other members of the family should follow. It cannot be too emphatically stated that tuberculosis runs in families solely because it is communicable, the disease being usually transmitted through intimate and prolonged exposure to the 'open' case. "It has been estimated that forty per cent of the tuberculosis cases that will develop within the next decade will be the result of close contact with others already infected. "Routine examination of all high school children, isolation or hospitalization of the active case, discovery of the sources of infection, application of hygienic living principles, periodic examination for all adults, and a careful check-up by physicians and trained workers of all known active cases and contacts represent an invaluable defense against the spread of tuberculosis."

He is operating this fraudulent "business" without a charter and without authority from any source. I am in possession of some of the literature with the name TEXAS PENSIONS UNION inscribed thereon. This nefarious literature asks each person interested in pensions to send One Dollar for membership with the aforesaid "business". This literature is very misleading. Some people might even construe it to mean that they cannot get their pension unless they send in a dollar. A larger group are led to believe that this "business" will be a great help to them in securing their pensions. "Now, the facts of the case are that even if Jan Anderson were conscientiously working for the things that he says that he is in his efforts to swindle the people, there is absolutely nothing that he can do to further the cause of pensions. We, as members of the House of Representatives are here to represent our individual districts and it is my conscientious intention to represent the people of my district and no man can dictate to me, especially a man who is attempting to swindle the people of my district out of money that is needed for food, clothing and shelter. Chairman, U. S. House Committee On Agriculture

The farm movement will be continued. The law will be improved, mistakes will be corrected, but the movement itself, since it is based on the fundamental principle of equality, must go on.

The principle of equality was recognized by the early statesmen of every political faith. It was written into the Declaration of Independence. It was carried forward in the Constitution. It was recognized in the first report on manufactures. It is not a question of whether we shall have a farm program. It is a question of what that program shall be.

What parts of the long-range program should be kept and what parts should be discarded:

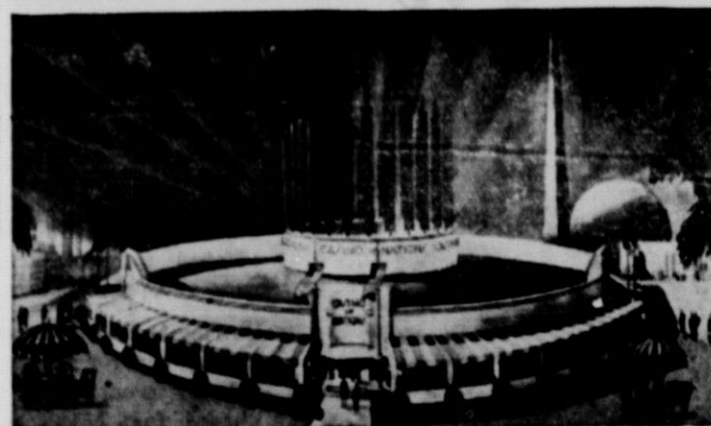

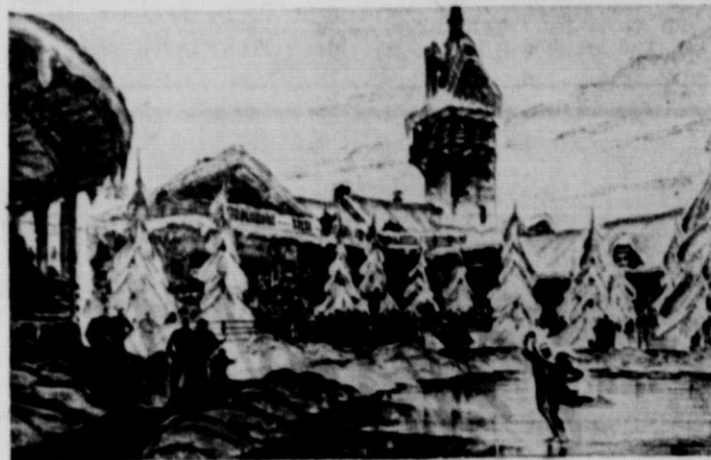

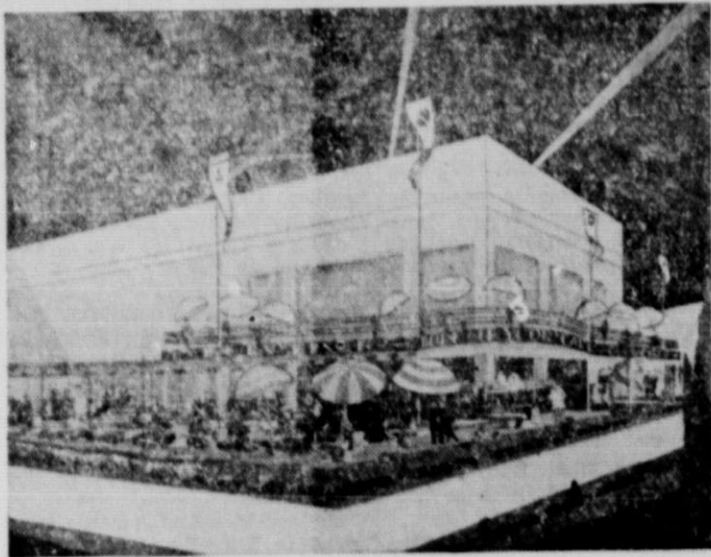

(1) We have the lowest farm interest rates that have ever prevailed in this or any other great country. The farmers of America are now paying 160 million dollars per year less in interest rates than they were paying in 1932. These advantages should be retained.

(2) The freight rate provision of the present act authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to file applications for correction of the rank discriminations against agriculture in the freight rate structure of the country. This is the first tangible step that has been taken in this regard and should be retained.

(3) The present act provides for

ARE YOU A YIN OR A YANG?

LEE RUSSELL delves into Chinese philosophy and emerges with the theory of decorating yourself and your background to match your personality, in describing the Cosmopolitan lady on the May cover of Cosmopolitan magazine. Yin personalities, says Miss Russell, are gentle people who require softness, pale colors and quiet backgrounds to express themselves. Yang people are the direct opposites—forceful, dominant folks who can take sharp lines, strong colors and flamboyant interiors.

The Cosmopolitan lady for May is a Yang. Her name is Marina Gard. She is eighteen and aspires to be an actress, has definite likes and dislikes, strong determination to get what she wants and a warm, kindly, considerate nature. Her clothes and background are chosen to accentuate her Yang tendencies in the cover picture.

plan that may be offered must deal with this tremendous carry-over.

These quotas should never be formed on a scarcity basis. We should always produce all that the market will absorb both at home and abroad.

The farm problem is the primary outgrowth of traffic and other group legislation. Had there been no tariffs, no trade barriers, no trusts, no monopolies and no group legislation, there would have been little need for special farm legislation.

But for a hundred years these interests have been fighting for and securing legislation favoring their particular groups.

Every one recognizes that, behind the tariff wall, the prices of industrial products have been greatly increased. The most ardent protectionist will not claim that the cotton farmer gets any advantages from the tariff. He is burdened with all of the disadvantages of that system.

Personally, I do not believe in the high protective tariff system. I believe in the principles of

FIRST AID FOR FISH

A number of state conservation departments are operating fish rescue trucks. Tanks are supplied with motor pumps that provide a constant supply of air. An outfit of dip nets and seines are carried and where fish have been stranded in stagnant pools, sportsmen aid in salvaging operations. In Ohio as many as 16,000 young fish of game and food species have been removed by a Conservation Department crew from the remnant of a single pond that had dried up—rained off.

Thomas Jefferson. However, in a fight that has lasted more than a hundred years, the tariff schedules have grown higher and higher, until our economic system has become lopsided.

So long as we have a tariff system, the cotton farmer is entitled to an offset to the tariff. For this reason the benefit payments do not constitute a subsidy. They are merely restitution.

An interesting sidelight is the fact that since the adoption of the farm program there has been more discussion about removing the inequities of the high tariff system than in many generations heretofore.

Many people make the mistake of comparing farm prices now with those which prevailed in the 20's. In those years we were lending billions to foreign countries for the purpose of sustaining a market for the products of this country. We were living in a fool's paradise while we were headed for the deluge. A man running a grocery store could do a great business so long as he financed all of his customers in the making of their purchases. But ultimately pay-day arrives.

Pay-day arrived in the fall of 1929.

Comparison should be made between the prices of 1932 and prices today. In 1937 we produced the greatest cotton crop in history. We produced the greatest wheat crop since 1915. In 1932, with a smaller cotton crop than in 1937, cotton sold at 4 and 5c per pound. In 1932, with a smaller wheat crop than in 1937, wheat sold at 20c per bushel.

I do not believe that the solution of this age-old problem can be achieved, or even materially contributed to, by extreme attacks and bitter personalities or by dogmatic statements. It certainly cannot be solved by ap-

I am sure that if all those who have a simple heart interest in the success of the greatest of American businesses, American agriculture, will be more understanding, realizing the magnitude of the problem, substitute suggestions for extreme measures, much more progress can be made.

Today's popularity of Doan's Pills, after many years of world-wide use, surely must be accepted as evidence of satisfactory use. And favorable public opinion supports that of the able physicians who see the value of Doan's under exacting laboratory conditions. These physicians, too, approve every word of advertising you read, the objective of which is only to recommend Doan's Pills as a good diuretic treatment for functional kidney disorder and for relief of the pain and worry it causes.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove waste that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole body suffers when kidneys lag, and diuretic medication would be more often employed. Burning, scanty or too frequent urination may be warning of disturbed kidney function. You may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all pained up.

Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Ask your neighbor!

Aid Of Farm Security Has Wide Scope Supervisor Cites Benefits Which Are Extended

W. T. McKinney of Floydada, Farm Supervisor for the Farm Security Administration in Floyd and Motley counties, who may be located in the county treasurer's office here each Tuesday and Friday, released the following statement yesterday regarding the scope of activities of his agency:

"Farm Security Administration was created to help needy and low-income farm families to become self-supporting. Since 1935 it has helped more than one million families to get back on their feet. Many of these farmers had been ruined by drought and floods. Others were the victims of poor farming practices, worn out soil, unsound tenure system, poor health, or an overwhelming burden of debt. None of these could get adequate credit from the banks or other lending agencies.

Farm Security offers assistance to farmers with standard rehabilitation loans, community service loans, tenant purchase loans, farm debt adjustment, tenure improvements, and grants. Many farmers are probably interested in how they can get a Farm Security loan, and what they would have to do after they get it.

"The prospective borrower should contact the local supervisors and fill out application. The application, when completed, contains information about the family's past farm experience, report of last year's business, information about the farm to be operated this year, tenure arrangements, the resources and debts of the borrower, and probable amount of money needed for farm operation, and family living expenses for the year.

"The next step is the making of farm and home management plans by the borrower and his wife. The farmer considers his cropping system from several angles, and usually selects the one that gives him greatest income and at the same time protects the fertility of the soil. He studies his livestock and estimates his probable income from livestock and livestock products. He estimates the amount of feed he will need, and his total farm expenditures for the year. While the farmer is working on his farm plan, the homemaker is making out the family expenditures for the year, she considers the amount of food that can be produced at home, and the amount that must be purchased. She also considers clothing, personal, medical care, household operation, furnishings, school, church, educational, and other expenses that might arise. After the farm and home plans have been completed, they have a picture of the farm set-up and know to a certain degree of accuracy just what their income and expenses will be under normal conditions. By this plan they can determine whether or not they have an economical farming unit, and whether or not they can repay their loan. The problem also arises within the minds of the farmer and homemaker as to whether or not they have enough livestock for subsistent needs, whether they have long enough lease agreement to justify the loan. In other words, many of the farmers look to farming as a business for the first time. After the farm and home plans are complete, and the amount of the loan has been agreed upon, the legal papers are signed and sent to the regional office for approval and payment.

"The farmer and homemaker start a complete farm record at this time. Many of them have never kept written records. With these records the farmer and homemaker can make a much better farm and home plan in the future than they did this year, because they now have a record of their income and expenses for one year summarized under the various headings as mentioned above. The homemaker should know the probable amount of food it will take for her family for each year, and should make provisions to supply as many of these needs on the farm as is possible for her to do. The farmer should be able to determine the amount of feed used for his livestock during the year and make provisions for that. He should build his livestock program up to the point where it will take care of all of the family expenditure. It aids the farmer in thinking of the future. He knows his needs far enough in advance and tries to make satisfactory lease arrangements with his landlord, if he cannot, he has the opportunity of looking for a more economical farm unit."

ROARING SPRINGS SCHOOL GROUPS VISITS CAVERNS

Two groups of students from the Roaring Springs High School, accompanied by their sponsors and several parents, enjoyed the weekend at famous Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico.

Although they did not make the trip as one group, both the Junior and Senior classes were granted a holiday Friday, and left during the morning for their destination.

The senior group, with their sponsor, Miss Bess Medlen, and Mrs. G. Green and Jack Bridges driving cars, left about 8:00 a. m. arriving in Hobbs, New Mexico, Friday evening, where they spent the night. They left early Saturday and continued the trip to the caverns.

The junior class left around 9:30 o'clock Friday morning, with their sponsor, Mr. Paddock. Others taking cars for the class members, were Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Swim, Mrs. W. A. Campbell, Mrs. J. H. Hughes, and Messrs. R. C. Irwin and Leslie Smith. This group traveled by way of the Bottomless Lakes near Roswell, New Mexico, and continued their trip to Carlsbad, where they spent the night.

Both groups left immediately on their return trip to Roaring Springs, after leaving the caverns Saturday afternoon. There were forty-two students and adults comprising the parties making the trip.

Improved Lamp To Be Demonstrated

Shades of the old coal oil lamp! That relic of a by-gone period in West Texas history has been replaced by a new electric lamp giving several hundred times as much light.

"With this new lamp," said C. A. Pitts, local manager of the West Texas Utilities Company, "you can thread a needle in the darkest corner in the average room. It is a 500-watt lamp specially designed and manufactured at the request of our lighting department and is expected to fill a long-felt need in many homes."

The lamp, he pointed out, provides light enough for several persons in a room to perform close seeing tasks such as reading fine print, sewing, or playing bridge, and may do away with the necessity for two or three lamp cords strung across the floor.

The company's lighting advisors soon will begin demonstrations of the lamp in Matador homes.

The building and repair boom which has kept carpenters busy in this section for several weeks, shows no sign of slowing its pace according to the local building supply houses. Extensive repair jobs now under way include the home of Dr. A. C. Traweck in the southwestern part of town, where carpenters, painters and paperhangers are busy this week. Design For Happiness...

Money alone can not buy happiness but the security of a bank account will do much to promote tranquility. Marriage has a dependable design for happiness when a young couple agree on the necessity of thrift.

It is a conceded fact that much of the discord in married life can be traced to improper planning in money matters—a bank account with a selected system of saving is the practical solution.

But the importance of thrift is not confined to age or occasion—it is a fundamental law of life.
