During the week they will cook all their meals, either in the

Unusual Gifts And Novelties Are Displayed

"I never saw a purple cow... but, believe it or not, I really did. At the gift shop at the Ranchhouse Motel, all types of most unusual gifts and novelty items are offered, including the legendary purple cow.

When Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rodstein purchased the Ranchhouse, there were relatively empty corners in the long lobby. The Rodsteins slowly began to utilize the empty space by adding shelves and display racks.

As you walk into the motel office, an array of brilliant color gleams in the bright light. Stretch bottles with color gems of plastic flowers shine in the big windows, and the displays of 'Mules to Mail' greet tourists at the registration desk.

Intricately carved figurines of ironwood from Kenya, Africa and carved from caribou horns in India fill glass shelves. The figurines are giraffes, cranes and natives.

Fires Inflict Minor Damage

Two fires, either of which had the potential to become major blazes, inflicted only minor damage to a farm home and a local business late Wednesday and early Thursday.

Bailey County Volunteer Firemen made the first run to the Morris Childress farm around 7 p.m. Wednesday evening where a basket of clothing was blazing.

Fire Chief Earl Ladd said a basket of clothing in a bathroom caught fire, however the blaze was apparently extinguished when the heat of the flames burst the commode water tank and spilled out. The Cont. on Page 2, Col. 2

MULTIPLICITY OF LOCAL FOURTH'S EVENTS EXPLODE WITH CROWDS... More than 5,000 persons watched the fireworks "burst in the air" after dark descended Friday evening at Benny Douglass Stadium - as crowds continued to enjoy the annual Independence Day celebration variety.

Big winner, by 20 feet, in the pony express relay race early Friday morning was the Cochran County Sheriff's Posse over the Needom's Outsiders. Later in the day Ed Neutzler of Maple triumphed over New Mexico State Cham, ion Horseshoe pitcher, 21 to 13, in a well-attended Muleshoe Pitching Contest. Steve Mousasco won the junior championship. Another winner of the day was Mrs. R.O. Gregory who won a free painting at the Art Display.

Best All-Around Cowboy presentation made following the Junior Rodeo went to Gayland Chandler of Portales, N.M., with Colynn White of Clovis topping off All-Around Cowgirl Awards.

At the Old Settlers' Reunion Friday afternoon, Frank and Vernie Snyder were honored as the persons having the longest uninterrupted residence in Bailey County. They "got off the train together," in January 1908. Donald Buhrman, son of Mrs. E.H. Buhrman and third baby born in this country, returned 12,000 miles from California to win the prize of having traveled the greatest distance, while the Buhrmans and W.M. Wilterding's descendants tied in winning prizes for families with largest number of descendants present.

Trophy presentations to riding clubs following a well-attended parade were Lamb County Sheriff's Posse, first in the senior division with Cochran County Sheriff's Posse coming in second and Earth Riding Club as third. In the junior division first place trophy went to the Progress 4-H Club with Y-L Riding Club. Approximately 400 parade participants attended the annual barbeque following the parade.

Litter Increase Topic of Study

LUBBOCK -- The physiologic factors which help to increase the size of litters of pigs will be discussed by Purdue University swine specialist Richard Hollandbeck at the 17th annual Swine Short Course at Texas Tech July 10-11.

Dr. Hollandbeck, professor of animal science at the Indiana institution, will team with J.K. Butler Jr., executive secretary, North Carolina Pork Producers, one of the nation's most progressive hog producer groups, to headline the panel of speakers.

Butler will discuss methods of organizing and operating producer groups and promotion of the industry from production through consumption.

Tech Prof. Leland Tribble, general chairman of the short course, said Dr. Hollandbeck will tell West Texas and Eastern New Mexico pork producers how good breeding, feeding and disease control, tied together by good management, result in successful swine production operations.

Dr. Hollandbeck has been an extension swine specialist at Purdue almost 15 years, since receiving his doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Illinois in 1955.

He was born on a Central Indiana general livestock farm and after service in the Seabees during World War II began his college education at Purdue, moving to the University of Illinois for his master's and Ph.D.

He is secretary of the National Institute of Animal Agriculture, member representative of the Agricultural Research Institute, chairman of the National Pork Industry Conference Program Committee and a member of the Purdue Swine Day Committee.

Butler was reared on a farm and holds a master's degree from North Carolina State in animal husbandry.

From 1957 until 1965 he was with Gwaltney, Inc., meatpackers of Smithfield, Va. He has been executive secretary of the North Carolina Pork Producers Association almost four and one half years.

"Our program's educational in nature," Dr. Tribble said, "and is designed to help the rapidly growing swine industry in this area."

"It's tough to find out just how many swine are being produced and fed for marketing in this area," Tribble said, "but without a doubt the industry is growing."

He said it was not growing as fast as the cattle feeding industry, but the same factors which have contributed to the explosion of the cattle feeding industry also support increased swine production.

"It is difficult to estimate with any degree of accuracy the number of swine being produced because there are many more individual producers and the industry is not so well organized and centralized as cattle feeding," he said.

One of the advantages the pork industry offers in this area, he said, is the ability to get into it without as much capital as is required by the cattle industry.

"It offers a real opportunity for the smaller operator," Dr. Tribble said. He pointed to the recent establishment of the Jimmy Dean Sausage Company as an indication of the expansion of swine producing in this area.

Lyndon K. Almand and Dr. Bill C. Clymer, Area Entomologist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service say that aphid infestations have steadily declined. Thrips and fleahopper infestations are light throughout much of the area. They said boll weevils were detected in five fields in Kent County and in two additional fields in the Fluvanna area.

The entomologists say that only light infestations of aphids have reported recently in Lubbock, Terry, Bailey, Lynn and Hockley counties. Light to medium infestations are occurring in Cochran County.

They said that thrips infestations are occurring in Cochran County.

They said that thrips infes-

Salvation Army Celebrating

Eightieth Year

Committeemen and others who administer the Salvation Army in Muleshoe remind citizens that this is the 80th year that the Salvation Army has been serving Texas. In June, 1889 the first Salvation Army Corps was established in Dallas. Since that date, the Salvation Army services have spread over the state and now serve 534 communities.

Statewide services of the Army now include disaster relief, veterans and servicemen's services, homes and hospitals for unwed mothers, summer camps for boys, alcoholic treatment centers and other social services.

The Muleshoe Service Unit Committee of the Salvation Army is composed of the following civic-minded citizens: Bill Moore, chairman; J.V. Peeler, vice chairman; Mrs. Alvis Burge, treasurer; Joe D. Vaughn, welfare secretary; Dee Clements, Roger Albertson, Frank Ellis, Lyndal Murray and J.D. Back. The charitable work of the Salvation Army in Muleshoe is administered by the committee.

We feel that this year's celebration has been one of the best Fourth of July celebrations we have ever had. The reason is because so many people became involved, every service club in Muleshoe had an important part in the celebration, and they each performed their jobs admirably. We had numerous excellent suggestions, such as the one by Mrs. Eugene Black that we conclude the fireworks display with the Star Spangled Banner. There were different tasks for everyone to perform, such as going on the promotional tours, planning the celebration, planning and preparing food and drinks, and judging our different contests. Those who helped in the advertising of our celebration were the Muleshoe Journal, Bailey County Journal, Radio Station KMUL, and interested citizens telling their friends about the celebration. When everyone works together nothing is impossible, and I think our Fourth of July celebration has been an excellent example of this.

Bugs...

Texas recorded the first outbreak on small grains in 1891. Damaging infestations have since occurred in 1901, 1906-7, 1916 and 1942, when over 61 million bushels of grain were lost. Possibly the most damaging infestation was in 1949-51 in the Panhandle.
Damaging greenbug infestations do not occur at regular intervals or in any predictable pattern. In 1968, severe greenbug outbreaks occurred for the first time on sorgham crops throughout Arizona, California, Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, New Mexico, Oklahoma, South Dakota and Texas. Several million acres of grain sorghum in all stages of maturity were infested. Wheat, oats, barley and rye normally are preferred host plants. Although previously observed on grain sorghum, the greenbug was not considered a major sorghum pest until 1968. Greenbugs have overwintered on western wheat grass, as well as other grasses in the Texas Panhandle, for at least 10 years. Within the past few years, light populations of greenbugs have been observed on johnsongrass.

Gifts...

Sparkling miniature paintings by area artists grace the soft colored walls of the motel office and blend with small, fuzzy animals who nod their heads in greeting when a slight breeze fans across them.
After hearing of unusual gift items and tucked and hand-worked pillows made by several of the women in the Muleshoe Nursing Home, the Rodsteins contacted several of the nursing home residents and have their works for sale also.
In keeping with the traditional pioneer and Texas theme, banks, lamps, souvenirs and other items are among their displays.
Rodstein said, "It has been a lot of work, but a lot of fun has gone into the selection and showing of the numerous items we have accumulated."
Most of their items either say "Souvenir of Muleshoe" or "Souvenir of Texas" proving their interest in their chosen home just west of Muleshoe.

Fires...

fire was almost over when firemen arrived a few minutes after they were called.
The second call was at 4:31 Wednesday morning when a passerby noticed that Ray's Rocket was in flames. When firemen reached the scene, they did short work in averting a major conflagration.
The fire chief said that apparently a fryolator in the kitchen shorted out causing the fire at the drive in. He said only minor damage resulted from the fire.

Zirkle of San Angelo, USDA veterinarian, and Buddy Winter of Lubbock, pork producer. Another feature of the meeting will be a talk on management factors affecting litter size by Richard Lollandbeck of Lafayette, Ind., agricultural extension swine specialist at Purdue University.

BY BRENDA HARRISON
My sister and I had been singing a song called "I'm On the Inside, On Which Side Are You?" I was only seven years old, and I did not understand what this meant. She explained that she was on the "inside" and I was not because Jesus Christ was not within my heart.
This really upset me, so I went to talk to my parents. They said that if I believed on the Lord, Jesus Christ, and called on Him to come into my heart and cleanse me from all my sins, He would do just that. We talked to our pastor the next day, and as we knelt in prayer, Jesus Christ came into my heart forever.
No matter how far away from God we get, He is always there to turn back to, if we really mean it.
Christ has done so much for me in giving me good, Christian parents, and helping me to withstand many of the temptations which confront teen-agers today. He gives me hope and joy in knowing Him, and that one day we will be with Him eternally. Christ once said, "I go to prepare a place for you; and if I go, I will come again, that where I am, ye may be also."
THIS IS THE SECOND ARTICLE IN A SERIES OF EIGHT, WRITTEN BY THE YOUTH OF THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, MULESHOE, PREPARING FOR THE YOUTH LED REVIVAL, JULY 27 - AUGUST 3, THE YOUTH ENCOURAGE YOU TO BEAR YOUR TESTIMONY OF CHRIST BEFORE MEN.

Boat Accident Prevention Highlighted

AUSTIN -- With Texas having 2,879,360 acres of inland water most of it suitable for boating, and 624 miles of meandering coastline, National Safe Boating Week, starting June 29, should have a special meaning to Texans, according to R.G. Mauerman, deputy director of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.
So far this year, Texas has had 284 drownings, and 64 of these were caused by boating accidents.
"Most of the boating accidents were needless and could have been prevented with common sense," said Mauerman. "When you have accidents involving small boats which kill five or six persons, it's a sure bet that overloading was a contributing factor to the tragedy," he said. "The error is compounded by the lack of foresight of not requiring each person on board to wear a life saving device."
"No matter how many gadgets and new equipment you have on board, the boat is still only as safe as the operator," says Mauerman. "An operator who disobeys the rules of safety not only endangers his own life, but the lives of others as well."

A double ring ceremony in the home of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Don Bryant of Muleshoe, June 17 at five o'clock, united in marriage Miss Sharon Quinetta Harvey of Clovis and Reggie Dan Gulley of Muleshoe. Rev. A.L. Burchel, pastor of Progress Baptist Church, officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harvey of Clovis, and Mr. and Mrs. Elton Gulley of Muleshoe.

The couple stood before an arch decorated with greenery, yellow chrysanthemums and daisies, white candles also decorated the living room. The entrance hall table was decorated with an arrangement of white mums and gladioli and brass birds.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown of Chantilly lace over white satin, fashioned with bateau neckline, long fitted sleeves ending in points at the wrist and Empire waistline. The lace panels extended the entire length of the dress front and swept into a chapel train at back. Her veil of silk illusion was caught to a satin pillbox, lace covered. She carried a cascade of white daisies and white satin streamers tied in love knots, atop a white lace covered Bible which was the gift of a friend. She wore the traditional blue garter and a 50 year old lavalier belonging to Mrs. Lola Bryant. Maid of honor was Miss Brenda Ellis of Muleshoe, cousin of the bride. She wore a long yellow and white dotted Swiss dress with Empire waist and long full shirred sleeves, a yellow ribbon bow in her hair. She carried a nosegay of white daisies.

Larry Gulley of Muleshoe served as his brother's best man.

PIPELINE PEOPLE

Custodian of the pipelines

The Foreman of a natural gas pipeline maintenance crew cannot be just a problem-solver; he must be a problem-preventor.

With his experienced crew, an NGPL Pipeline Foreman regularly patrols the pipelines in his territory. He examines above-ground equipment, inspects the right-of-way. A Pipeline Patrol Pilot questions a specific area, and the Foreman closes in for an on-the-spot check. The mere hint of a fault is his signal to investigate further, quickly and thoroughly.

Thousands of communities and industries depend on natural gas as a primary source of energy. And it's our Pipeline Foremen who are responsible for maintaining the network of pipe which sends the gas where it is needed.

They are pipeline people—vital links in a giant private industry serving the public interest.
