

TRAIL DUST
By DOUGLAS MEADOR

Flowing between gray mountains of winter, the golden delta of the crimson, red-tinged mist above the cooling waters of light, while the rufous mists flooded its banks until the mountains became golden, and the glaciers of a norther were melting towards the sun's unclosing and a motionless wind, laden with its cargo of chill; a tableau of red and gold awaiting destruction from the wide expanse of darkness. Presently the mist was gone, its colors poured back into the tubes of time, except for the facsimile left a few scattering hearts, the splendor is lost forever; the artist made another for eternity.

Great men are hardly apt to pay the homage tendered them for their achievements, knowing that success is usually the crystallization of a fault.

But was scattered over the element like coconut frosting on a great cake, and the wind whirled overhead in the creaking commission wires. There was the sound of a closing door and another store-keeper switched off the lights to bring additional light to the street. The man who stood beside me at the door did not move, nor look my way, but waited like a faithful dog for the slow pressure of my hand to receive the warmth of my hand, and looked at my companion again. His light was so obvious that I had looked it during the first time; he wore no coat. Somehow I am certain that life requires more courage than any battlefield.

Who spends time without regret has wasted more than the man who spends the wages of many months in one mad evening. Time which passes through the meter of life can never be returned, while the loss of money is but to break the scheme of security which labor will repair.

Being the road like a spongy wagon hitched to a runaway Pegasus, the long, sleek cut a rapid tunnel through night and closed it up in a matter of minutes. Further on there was a light fastened in the stubble field at the side of the road, the crumpled form of a man in the borrow ditch where he had been tossed by the hurtling machine. A woman was screaming at the crushed automobile lay on its side, the horn sounding continuously, like a wounded animal which would never rise again.

My friends quit drinking, shook hands on the promises, and tossed neatly filled bottles of schemes at the window. They met in the open below on the following morning, shook hands and laughed together.

From a distance the great city's towers were like a single torch lighting the clouds or a conflagration feeding on both earth and sky. But after a time each light came a separate jewel in the dark hand of night, upheld with a bracelet of stars; the city was peninsula off the coast of day. The beauty had vanished and the torch seen from a distance as glowing coals scattered over the isles of streets.

The charm of a life is frequent, more effective when viewed at a proper distance where all the qualities seem to fuse as a remote glow of many camps. The finest building is not beautiful if we stand so close as to see only a single brick.

Many times success is produced by cultivating the turn-rows when a man has completed plowing his assigned field of duty; the regions of life contain fertile

New Fords Shown Here

The new 1939 Ford V-8 cars were displayed at the Matador Auto Company's showroom here Friday and created considerable attention as automobile owners and prospective automobile owners examined what is declared the greatest car the Fords have ever built.

Radical changes have been made in both of the models now on display. Great beauty, increased safety and more economical operation are the principal features of the new cars. C. M. Glenn, manager of the agency, declared, "The deluxe cars are powered with the 85 horsepower engine, the Ford V-8 with the 85 or 60 horsepower engine."

Both cars have hydraulic brakes. Bodies are all steel. The deluxe cars are available in five body types, the Ford V-8 in three, with color option. Prices are quoted with a reduction over those of last year.

The deluxe car has wholly new streamlines, a deep hood unbroken by louvers, a low radiator grille in bright metal and wide spaced headlamps. The Ford V-8 has a full grille, and unobstructive, louvers at the rear of the hoodsides.

Judge Cammack Has Small Operation

County Judge, W. R. Cammack, went to Lubbock Monday where he underwent a small operation on his eye to have a growth caused by a sty, removed. Judge Cammack has been detained at his home since his return and forced to protect his eye from strong light. He was at his office a short time yesterday but is expected to remain at home most of the time for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Fulfer and children of Paducah, former Matador residents, spent Sunday here visiting relatives and friends.

Mercury Drops To 22 As Snow Falls Over North Texas

Winter arrived with all its baggage here Saturday night, followed by a regulation, mid-winter northern Sunday that sent citizens in search of heavy coats and other cold weather garments. The mercury continued its downward glide during the late afternoon until it had reached 22 some time after midnight. Starting shortly after nightfall, the first snow of the winter soon covered the rolling hills of the country below the Cap Rock. The snowfall reached an estimated depth of one and one-half inches and remained well in evidence until near noon Monday when the bright sun finally caused it to thaw. Low temperatures again returned Monday night as a stiff wind chilled those who found it necessary to be out of doors.

Entire Panhandle Covered
Newspaper dispatches declared that the snowfall extended from Dalhart to Big Spring and that the cold winds reached all the way to the Gulf of Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming and Montana had been covered in snow Saturday according to reports.

With fair weather again in prospect, it is believed the remainder of the 1938 cotton crop will soon be gathered following the cold weather which killed all vegetation subject to freezing temperatures.

A heavy frost Friday killed much of the vegetation and that which weathered the first frost was left black and wilted in the wake of the first blizzard of the year.

Large Crowd Enjoys Play

The three-act comedy, "Aaron Slick From Pookin' Crick," presented by the Young People's Department of the Baptist Church, at the high school auditorium Tuesday night, won enthusiastic applause from the large crowd which packed the building.

Those who witnessed the play declared it was one of the best home-talent productions ever presented here, being superior to many professional shows which have appeared in Matador.

Excellent acting was proven by the entire cast, which was well selected and directed by Hugh Gray, teacher in the Matador High School.

The proceeds from the play, totaled in the neighborhood of $25 will be used to complete work already started in the Young People's Department, under the direction of Mrs. Farris Fish, superintendent.

The program also included a reading by Miss Frances Stearns, and vocal solos by Miss Virginia Estes, accompanied at the piano by Miss Rachel Patton, presented between acts of the play.

LIONS MEET NEXT TUESDAY

The Matador Lions Club will hold its regular meeting and luncheon at the Baptist Church at noon Tuesday, November 15, and all members are asked to attend.

An interesting program has been arranged and all members are assured of a profitable and enjoyable hour, meeting in the fellowship of friends. The meeting will start at the usual hour, 12:30 p. m.

HORSE FALLS AND BREAKS RANG THORNTON'S ARM

Rang Thornton, venerable cowboy, who has experienced many hardships to fall beneath him, is carrying his arm in a sling this week as result of an accident on the J. M. Jackson ranch, near Afton, several days ago. Mr. Thornton, who has been employed on the ranch for some time, had another horse to fall with him, altho his horse to fall with him, altho his arm was severely injured, he believed it only sprained. Examination, however, disclosed that his arm was broken.

Twenty years have passed since the firing of the last gun—but this nation has not forgotten the men who served their country. The twentieth anniversary of the Armistice finds their memory as bright as it was in 1918. Let's keep on remembering the armies of '18, they did immortal deeds in the line of duty.

Governor Signs Proclamation...

Governor James V. Alfred, above, seated, signing Proclamation No. 18647, proclaiming "American Legion Week", November 4-11, 1938, prompted by Public Law No. 501, which was approved by Congress May 13, 1938, making November 11th of each year a National Legal Holiday, "dedicated to the cause of world peace." (See text of Proclamation on page 4.) The Fleming Post American Legion of Matador joins the nation-wide organization, represented in 11,458 communities, in celebrating the new National Holiday, established 20 years after the signing of the Armistice, November 11, 1918.

Armistice Day Plans Ready

Fleming Post To Pay Tribute In Program Friday

Plans are completed for the Armistice Day program of the Fleming Post American Legion, to be held at the Matador High School Friday morning at 11 o'clock, 20 years after the signing of that historic document. The program will include students of the Matador High School and the principal address will be made by C. A. Cryer of McLean. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend the program celebrating the signing of the Armistice which ended the greatest war in the history of the world.

Special tribute will be paid Motley county boys who gave their lives in the great war. While the Fleming Post history declares that six men from this county are believed to have lost their lives while in military service, present officials are able to account for only four and only one, Frank Fleming, for whom the post is named, is known to have died in action. Those of Motley County's Honor Roll, to whom tribute will be paid, include Frank Fleming, Guy Russell, Albert Jackson and Anderson Cagle, and possibly others. Hackberry Slim Rides On

"Hackberry Slim", Frank Fleming started working as a cowboy for the Matador Ranch about 1912, at the age of 19. He was a good cowboy and enjoyed that rare comradeship associated with men who ride the prairies by day and sleep beneath the stars at night.

When registration day arrived, Hackberry Slim rode in from the range and registered for military duty. Some months later when his number was called, he quietly disposed of his riding equipment, sent his personal belongings home, rode to the ranch headquarters to turn in his string of mounts and draw his final pay check. He was sent to Camp Bowie where he set about learning military duty as carefully as he had learned ranch life. Having distinguished himself in preliminary training and shown proficiency with his rifle, he was sent to a machinegun school and was soon sent to France as a machine gunner. He was assigned to the western front and took an active part in

Red Cross To Start Drive Armistice Day Solicitors Named For County In Annual Roll Call

One of the most intensive drives for Roll Call memberships to the American Red Cross ever attempted in Motley county will get under way tomorrow, according to W. F. Jacobs, Roll Call chairman. The extended program of the Red Cross embracing first aid teaching, farm and home accident prevention, besides the great aid to suffering and unfortunate humanity, has identified the organization as one of the greatest in the history of the world, Mr. Jacobs declared.

"During the first nine months of this year," Mr. Jacobs said "the Red Cross assisted 3,029 Texas families, which included more than 13,000 persons, who suffered losses following six tornadoes and three floods. The $65,125 contributed by Texans was supplemented by $56,017 from National Organization funds to provide the necessary medical care, food, clothing, shelter, replacement of household goods, livestock, implements and other equipment to enable stricken families to again establish themselves on a normal living basis."

The following sub-chairmen have been named for the 1938

City Soon To Have Butane Gas System

A contract has been signed between the City of Matador and the P. K. Distributing Co., of Lubbock, assuring the plains organization that a ten-year franchise would be granted for the sale and distribution of butane gas, when the city council holds its next meeting, December 6th.

Paul Kasiske, president of the firm was in Matador Tuesday night and completed the contract. The P. K. Distributing Company is installing plants at Throckmorton, Ropes, Meadow and Olton. Work on the plant here is expected to start immediately.

The contract calls for a price of 12 cents per gallon for the gas. Three units of the system will be installed in Matador, according to present plans. The storage containers will be located in alleys and pipes will carry the gas to the customer's property line. It is believed the containers will be located as follows: one in the south section of town, another between the highway and the ravine at the north edge of the business district and the third unit located in the north section of town.

No Minimum Rate

There will be no minimum rate charged users of the gas. Meters will be installed for every user and the charge will be only for the exact amount consumed. A deposit of $10 will be required on each meter, the same as the system used in obtaining a water or electric meter. However, a second charge will also be necessary for a "regulator", which is to regulate the pressure of the gas. A charge of $11 will be made for the regulator, which will call for a $21 investment, besides pipes, heaters and other equipment which must be furnished by the customer.

BACK FROM DENVER

D. I. W. Birnie, employed by the Matador Land and Cattle Co., returned from Denver, Colorado, late yesterday after a six-day business trip in the northern metropolis.

Howard Traweck Is Elected By Wide Plurality Tuesday

With eight of Motley county's ten election boxes accounted for late yesterday, unofficial returns of Tuesday's general election indicated that voters evidenced more than usual interest and that in the neighborhood of 500 went to the polls to exercise their rights of citizenship.

Howard Traweck, write-in candidate for the office of county attorney, after the death of Democratic nominee C. B. Whitten on November 1, was almost the unanimous choice of voters. He received 313 of the 414 votes accounted for late yesterday, while the boxes from Flomot and Foley are yet to be reported. It was believed by some observers that Mr. Traweck would have received an even larger vote had he had time to make his candidacy more generally known.

Amendment Has Majority

The single amendment to come before the voters received a sanction of 75 over an opposition vote of 57, with the two boxes still unaccounted for.

It is interesting to note, that the Republican candidate for governor, Alexander Boynton, received a total of 4 votes in the county.

The eight boxes accounted for, voted as follows: Whiteflat, 68; Traweck 63; Northfield 46; Traweck 28; Matador City Hall 92; Traweck 72; Matador Court House 79; Traweck 68; Darden Canyon 13; Traweck 11; Union Corner 12; Traweck 9; Roaring Springs 91; Traweck 50; Fairview 13; Traweck 11.

Due to the fact that the election was held on a week day rather than Saturday and also because of the busy season, the interest is considered unusual.

Lightning In Winter Storm Burns Home

House At Whiteflat Destroyed After Bolt Hits Radio

Lightening in a freakish winter storm cloud destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Browning in the Whiteflat community last week and Mrs. Browning received a severe shock from the bolt which struck the radio to which she was listening.

The light rain and hail storm reported in last week's issue of the Tribune which struck Matador about dark Wednesday evening, and advanced in a northern direction, was responsible for lightening which set fire to the Browning home and shocked Mrs. Browning. Altho there was considerable electrical display here, only a few instances of close thunder were noticed.

Knocked Across Room

Mrs. Browning was sitting beside her radio when the bolt struck the antenna, knocking her across the room where she remained in a dazed condition for a short time. When she revived it was discovered that the house was in flames and an effort was made to save the household goods. Mr. Browning saved their clothing and a part of their household effects, including some furniture. The house was completely destroyed, however, it was partly insured. The house was the property of Mrs. W. W. Moore.

The storm which occurred on the evening of the 2nd of November, was considered unusual by old residents of this section, since damage from lightening at this time of the year goes not often occur.

First Aid Training Saves Boy's Life

BIG SPRING, Nov. 6—First aid knowledge gained from the safety manual of the Continental Oil Company today brought Mary Elizabeth Davis, 13-year-old daughter of the American Red Cross, the President's Medal of the National Safety Council and commendation together with a $150 award from the Board of Directors of Continental in honor of her heroism in saving her 11-year-old brother from death by asphyxiation last May.

Just Another Day in New York

NEW YORK—It is a dull day when New York does not have some sort of a parade. Pictured above is scene at 23rd Street and Broadway during Motorcade and Preview of the New York World's Fair 1939. In the background is the tower of the Empire State Building. All floats in this parade were on wheels. The procession ended in the Fair grounds where half a million people were assembled.

Oklahoma, who stipulated that the property should be used "without any restriction whatsoever" save for the benefit of members of the Boy Scouts of America.

"If this proposal were being made to any other organization whose rating was inferior to the record of service made by the Boy Scouts of America," the donors said in making the grant, "we would be inclined to be more particular in outlining a program, to be assured that the property would be put to full beneficial use as I visualize it."

The National Executive Board of the Scouts said they had tentatively decided to use the tract for a Boy Scout reservation "for the development and furtherance of "wilderness camping."

The property is in the Rocky Mountains, at an elevation of 7,000 feet, and rises in spots to at least 11,000 feet. It is the Kit Carson territory, and the old Santa Fe Trail passes through it. There are nine main canyons on the tract converging either at the Cimarron River or the main branch of the Ponil River, which later flows into the Cimarron. Two prominent landmarks—Old Baldy, elevation 12,491 feet, and Costilla Peak, elevation, 12,600 feet, are on the tract. There are also several high mesas, offering excellent camping spots.

The tract is well wooded and is the natural habitat of deer, wild turkeys and beaver.

On May 31 a quarter-acre live oak mott in Colorado county harbored 859 active bird nests.

Worst enemies of tree nesting birds in May are wind, grackles, and snakes in the order named.

Workers of the Texas Cooperative Wildlife Research Unit found a quail nest that was being filled at the rate of two eggs a day and was being incubated by a male quail.

Grackles not only eat many dove eggs, they devour many of their own eggs as well.

Salvage of deer hunting privileges in Colorado county earned 22 landowners more than $3,000 in 1937-38. Preserves ran from 170 to 11,000 acres.

How Safe Are You at Home? Red Cross Warns of Hazards

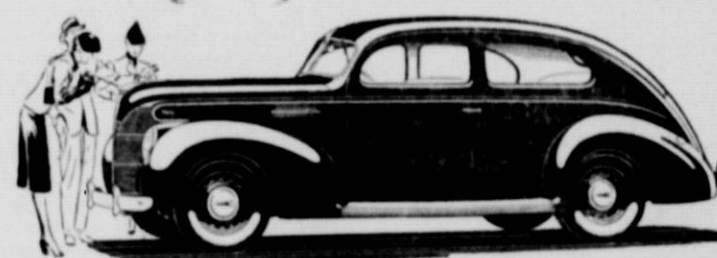

1. Loose rug at top of stairs is a dangerous hazard. 2. Keep medicine cabinets locked or out of reach of youngsters. 3. Teach children not to put safety pins or other small objects in their mouths. 4. Good luck if you hang it up, but bad luck if you step on the nails in this horseshoe.

DURING the month of October, the American Red Cross will carry a safety message into ten million homes and farms throughout the nation, urging a check-up on accident hazards. Do you know these hazards? How safe are you at home? Do you know that deaths from injuries on the farm are steadily increasing? What are the causes? These are a few of the questions the Home and Farm Accident Prevention Service of the Red Cross will send into homes, on an accident check list to be distributed through Chapters, by millions of school children and members of the Junior Red Cross. And the answers are provided on the check list, too. National attention was concentrated on the Home and Farm accident problem in 1935-36 by the Red Cross. In that year, 37,000 men, women and children lost their lives in home accidents, which were largely preventable. In 1937, this toll of life was reduced, and only 32,500 lives were sacrificed to carelessness. The spread of knowledge on hazards which were subject to correction was everywhere credited with this cut in the death toll. The 1937 deaths from home accidents were divided as follows, according to the National Safety Council: falls, 17,500; burns and explosions, 5,600; poisonings, 1,700; firearms, 800; mechanical suffocation, 1,000; poison gases, 1,100. The Red Cross appeals to those in the home and on the farm to carefully check hazards which may exist inside and outside their houses, and perhaps save a life or prevent a life-long injury.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES

In spite of the inclement weather last Sunday, we had a very nice attendance at the service. We wish that you could have been present. Won't you try to come next Sunday? Your presence will be a blessing to you and a help to others who may be there. Sometimes we think that it makes no difference if we are absent. The church is a service station. There we may get the help that we need to carry on the duties and responsibilities of life.

A boy was walking with his father along a lonely road at night, carrying a lantern. He told his father he was afraid, because the lantern showed such a little way ahead. The father answered, "That is so, but if you walk straight on you will find that the light will reach to the end of the journey." God often gives us light for only a little way ahead, but he always gives at least that, and so he always gives us light enough for the whole journey. —Reporter

Spur-Flomot Game Is Tie With 26-26

Flomot and Spur played to a 26 to 26 tie at Spur last Friday in a football game that fairly sparkled with thrills. Lockney is now the leader of District 4-B, but she meets Flomot this week in an effort to clinch the title.

Flomot received the kick and ran it back to mid-field. The first play yielded a first down, but Amomet went around left end on the second play of the game to score standing up. L. Gilbert kicked goal. This time Spur received, but they were not as fortunate as Flomot. On the second play Brown intercepted a pass and ran it back to Spur 7. Ammonett had to plunge the line twice to make the score 13 to 0, as Gilbert failed in the attempt to convert.

In less than two minutes Flomot had chalked up 13 points, but the first works had just started. Spur tied the score before the first quarter ended, then went into the lead at 19 to 13 late in the second quarter. However, Flomot was not through by any manner of means. The Longhorns put on a sustained 60 yard drive that netted another touchdown with seconds remaining to play in the first half. Gilbert could have put Flomot in the lead, but the kick failed to go between the goal posts. This left the score tied at 19 all as the half ended.

Again the Longhorns received. Brown took the kick, and after running about five yards up the field and to his right, lateralled to Ammonett who reversed the field and literally outran the entire Spur team for eighty yards to put Flomot in the lead again. This should have been enough scoring for an ordinary game, but Spur added another touchdown to her score, then kicked goal to knot the tally at 26 and 26. As the game ended both teams were making desperate efforts to forge to the front.

It is a game that will be played and re-played by all the "Monday morning Quarterbacks" for miles around, and must surely stand in the minds of the players and coaches the symbol of their best.

PEACE!

NOVEMBER 11th, 1918. THE MARNE. YPRES. LOOS. ARRAS. SOMME. CHATEAU THIERRY. VERDUN. ARGONNE. BELLEAU WOOD—ALL THOSE FAMOUS, BLOODY BATTLES WERE HISTORY. AND THE MEN WHO FOUGHT THEM, LIVING AND DEAD, BECAME AN IMMORTAL MEMORY. THE MONSTROUS ARMIES WERE SLOWLY SENT HOME TO BEGIN THE FIGHT OF PEACE. LET'S HONOR THOSE MEN WHO FOUGHT FOR A CAUSE AND, AT THE SAME TIME, USE THE MEMORY OF THOSE TERRIBLE YEARS AS AN OBJECT LESSON OF THE BLESSINGS OF PEACE.

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them! Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—a constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide disturbance. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feeling tired, nervous, all worn out. Frequent, scanty or burning passages may be further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance. The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. PROCLAMATION

No. 18647

BY THE

GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF TEXAS

To All to Whom These Presents Shall Come:

The Congress of the United States of America having enacted Public Law No. 501, which was approved on May 13, 1938, making "November 11 of each year" a National Legal Holiday, "dedicated to the cause of world peace," such being a public holiday hereafter "in the same manner as New Year's, Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, and Christmas"; and

The American Legion—an organization composed of American citizens who received an honorable discharge from the armed forces of the United States of America engaged in the World War which terminated soon after the signing of the Armistice between this Country and our Allies, and the Allies of the German Empire which became effective November 11, 1918—has called upon its membership of approximately one million in 11,458 communities in the United States and abroad to cause to be set aside the week of November 4-11, 1938, as

"AMERICAN LEGION WEEK"

In commemoration of the enactment of said law, the signing of the Armistice and the 20th anniversary of The American Legion, during which week its members are requested to arrange "Home Products Dinners" in their respective communities, featuring products of the State, inviting all World War Veterans to join and other citizens to participate, thus calling attention to the varied resources of our State in Agriculture, stock raising, and the like, and at the same time focus the attention of the American Nation upon:

The "Peace Through Preparedness" crusade of The American Legion "For Enduring Peace";

The observance of National Education Week, which The American Legion has sponsored jointly with the National Education Association since 1921 for the purpose of raising the educational standards of our native-born, approximately two million of which become of voting age each year, and assisting the foreign-born to better assume their duties of citizenship; the necessity for eternal vigilance if our Country is to be saved from the onslaught of subversive groups;

The militant campaign for aid to dependent children; The child welfare, public health, high health safety, unemployment and youth activity program designed to minimize juvenile delinquency;

Twenty years of unrelenting effort in behalf of rehabilitating the disabled, adequate care of the widows, orphans and other dependents of those brave men and women who paid the supreme sacrifice;

And varied community service activities in time of disaster and other emergencies.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, JAMES V. ALLRED, Governor of the State of Texas, do hereby set aside and proclaim November 4-11, 1938, as

AMERICAN LEGION WEEK IN TEXAS

(SEAL)

STATE OF TEXAS

By the Governor:

EDWARD CLARK,

Secretary of State.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto signed my name officially and caused the Seal of State to be impressed hereon at Austin, this 29th day of October, A. D. 1938.

JAMES V. ALLRED
Governor of Texas.

Collections Good On FSA Loans Here

In Motley County the collection of F. S. A. Loans, many of which have been in force for only a year, has been high. Supervisors report that 95 percent of the borrowers are making satisfactory repayments. In fact 99 percent of the FSA clients farming this year have made some repayments. A great many have been repaid in full; and in most cases where repayment is slow, there has been such ill luck as crop failure or illness in the family.

"We've something to be thankful for, too," says Claude C. Carpenter, county rehabilitation supervisor, "not only for the high percentage of loan collections, proving again the fundamental honesty of the American farmer; but also for the courage and resourcefulness they have shown in fighting out of a major depression and drought."

Lady Luck Big Factor in Gold Discoveries

Placer Mining in Gold Canyon, Nevada

LADY LUCK has had more to do with the discovery of earth's treasures than science likes to give her credit for.

Probably every American, at one time or other, has dreamed of stumbling onto hidden treasure, and in the December issue of Cosmopolitan Magazine, Harold McCracken tells what it's like when it really happens. "That dream is one of the truest things in the world," he says. "Plenty of men have actually stumbled onto fabulous wealth. They simply took it out of the ground, in high-grade silver and gold ore, or in diamonds."

Gold was discovered in Mexico by a Comanche Indian square. The historical Cripple Creek boom was started by a cowboy who found free gold while herding cattle. The world's richest placer mines in the Klondike were from the beginning a poor man's game and it was in this region that a Nova Scotia Scotsman and a man known as "Siwash George" started the Klondike Rush.

Australia is one of the gold countries with plenty of unexplored territory in which the lucky prospector may any day stumble onto a million or two. A gold nugget worth more than $20,000 was found here by a native shepherd boy when he accidentally dropped a hatchet on a rock.

Africa's Kimberly diamond field was discovered when the son of a Boer farmer gave a neighbor a greasy-looking pebble he had picked up on the river bank because it showed flashes of red and orange and violet.

Will men continue to make lucky finds that will bring fabulous fortunes? That's one of the mysteries known only to Lady Luck.

We wish to call to the attention of the farmers, the fine checks coming back from cotton which has been shipped by this gin.

Farmers ginning with me have received good turn-outs, good prices on their cotton and are receiving additional checks which average $1.50 per bale.

If it were not for these farsighted farmers who are placing their cotton in the loan, no one would be receiving more than 6c per pound.

Have you done your part?

If not, you should cooperate by placing some of your cotton in the government loan and aid in holding prices at higher levels.

Your cotton will possibly bring more money soon.

SCHOOL ETIQUETTE

B. F. Tunnell

Observing the proprieties of good breeding as fixed by social custom and usage has no special application in a student body that it does not have and require in other realms of life. However, we do assume that the very nature of school life makes it a suitable training ground even for socially approved manners and customs. This thing we call personality is in a large way, the sum and total of one's social mannerisms. To become more refined and more appreciated each day would be a worthy goal for any student. And since etiquette observance is so much the result of habit, there is never a moment when one can afford to be rude or inconsiderate. To maintain an attitude of consideration for the well-being of others at all times requires constant self discipline until definite habit makes the act of courtesy an automatic one.

To act at all times in accordance with good taste is to apply the golden rule in social intercourse. The whole matter of socially approved conduct is based upon what we call common sense. To become more precious more considerate, and hence more refined should be the daily aim of every person, and more especially that of a youth whose life habits are in the making of tomorrow. Indeed, a crown of honor is worn by him who is at all times, courteous and thoughtful in his attitudes toward his fellows.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

M. H. S. offers four years of English to students. This includes a study of both grammar and literature, and most students are urged to take all four courses in order to make them better prepared for college.

This is Miss Rister's third year in the English department of M. H. S. She is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University and has done graduate work at Texas Tech. She lacks only six weeks' work and her thesis before receiving her master's degree. Miss Rister is co-sponsor of the junior class and also sponsor of "Los Toreros."

HOME EC. CLUB HAS MEETING THURSDAY

The Home Economics Club had its second meeting of the year on Thursday, November 3, with about forty-five members present. Betty Jo Simpson, vice-president of the club, took charge of the meeting in the absence of Lola Carpenter, president. Two songs were sung, and then a talk was given by Kara Hunsucker on "An Ideal Bedroom for a Young Girl." The club selected the rose as the flower, and then chose red and white for the colors. The following motto was chosen: "We believe in minds that think, hearts that love, and hands that work." The club decided to meet the first and third Monday of each month. At this time of the meeting delicious refreshments were served.

TIPS FOR SMART COLLEGE ROOMS

If you are going to make your room over at college this fall, "the trick is to make it inviting, comfortable, interesting, restful, and at the same time exciting" is Henrietta Ripperger's Tip to the Teens in the December Pictorial Review.

Henrietta Ripperger

"First, you'll need something outside to mark the room as your own," she says. "You may like to hang up a swinging sign of metal or wood or a mounted picture or if you're more on the refined side than these wags, screw up an artistic knocker of old brass or painted iron."

Miss Ripperger explains in her article several tips to remember when you are decorating that room that will make people say, "Let's go over to your room; it's so much nicer."

1. Make the room inviting—there must be plenty of places to be comfortable in.
2. Have the things for something to eat. You'll enjoy a stone cookie or doughnut crock and perhaps a tea set.
3. You'll want a place for your favorite magazines, of course, and your books, too. Paint the inside back wall red or dark blue or paper it with old bill paper and give it a coat of shellac.
4. Arrange a place in your room where you can work in comfort. This means one good straight chair, a reading light by night and a window by day, and a flat-top desk or table.
5. Have something growing. If you live in a cold climate, use one window that doesn't need to be opened every night for big splashy plants.
6. When you get through your room may be too inviting. Sometimes you'll want to be by yourself. Don't use a key; it is so unfriendly. Buy a big old-fashioned iron hook and staple. Then when you have to, you can make your room really your own.

THIS AND THAT

We wonder why Harold has been giving Elwanda the cold shoulder lately. Could it be that he has lost interest, or is it because a "third party" has stepped in? (Mabry, for interest.)

It seems that the latest fad for boys at M. H. S. is overalls and bright red shirts. We suggest that they stay clear of all bulls unless they wish to test their strength.

We wonder why Wandell insists upon going clear to Wichita to buy her clothes. (Could she possibly have another objective in mind?)

It used to be J. W. and E. A. with Frances all the time. Now it is Johnnie and Harold. (Who is next?)

We hear that Coach and Betty Jo had a grand and glorious time Saturday—(on the way home.)

Is there anything that won't happen to Doris Whistey?

"Heck," says Rudolph, "I get 'em on the rebound. All they want to do is walk and talk about the guy they busted in with."

SENIORS ENJOY TRIP TO LUBBOCK SATURDAY

Last Saturday a group of students from the senior class and Coach Martin spent the day in Lubbock. They attended the Tech-Loyola football game and also went to a show. The following

HOLLYWOOD HOLIDAYS

Sonja Henie wants skates and new skating togs. Is your daughter mad about Sonja and skating? If so, this skating costume of wool printed with skiers and skates is easy to make and will surely please her mightily.

Ginger Rogers wants clothes—especially a slithery hostess gown. Plenty of other girls feel like Ginger Rogers about Christmas. They want a hostess gown, too. This one can be made after Pictorial Review pattern directions of striped upholstery's satin.

Hollywood has already put in its bids to Santa and its leading ladies are wanting more clothes, of course. In the December issue of Pictorial Review, Sonja Henie and Ginger Rogers, place their Christmas orders—what they want and how they want it made.

seniors made the trip: J. B. Cooper, Betty Jo Simpson, Jimmie Lee Irby, J. W. Hough, Kara Hunsucker, Doris Whitley, and Charles Dunlap. The class was very sorry that a number of seniors were unable to go, but they plan to make several similar trips in the future.

Don't forget the band and pep squad bake sale Saturday.

JUNIORS GIVE CLASS PARTY THURSDAY

The first class party of the year was given by the junior class on Tuesday night, November 1, in the gymnasium. Almost all members of the class attended and also Coach Martin and Miss Rister, co-sponsors, and Mr. and Mrs. Tunnell.

When he's not with the "real McCoy"

He always seems to pine; He got just two demerits, So they ran him thru the "line".

SOPHOMORES REGULATE DEMERIT SYSTEM

The sophomores called a meeting on November 1 to devise a system that will regulate demerits. If a student receives two demerits in one six week's period, they run him through the bell-line.

The seniors have adopted a similar rule, although it is a little more drastic. These classes found these rules necessary in order to calm some of the students down.

WTCC SOIL AND WATER CONTEST

WEST TEXAS is more conservation minded than ever before since 108 of its counties have entered the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Soil and Water Utilization Contest. All but 24 counties in the organization's far-flung territory, which is all that section of the State west of the heavy black line on the above map, are in the contest. Sixteen counties shown on the map are those which are participating, and ranch land entered by these counties in the contest totals more than 70,000,000 acres. Cash prizes totaling $1,000 will be awarded to the three counties with best records in soil and water conservation and utilization this year. Twenty-four approved conservation practices count toward the total score. Texas Extension Service, State Department of Vocational Agriculture and other agencies are cooperating with the WTCC in conducting the contest. Local committees to promote activity in the contest have been organized by county. More than 1,000 West Texas agricultural leaders are on these committees.

Explains New A. A. A. Setup

The new relationship of the county agents to the A. A. A. Farm Program was explained by George Adams, Assistant State Agent of the A. & M. College Extension Service, at Lubbock Tuesday of last week.

Agents Still To Serve Mr. Adams pointed out the provision of law whereby the county agent must serve either as Secretary of the County Agricultural Conservation Association or as ex-officio member of the county committee.

At the Lubbock meeting an effort was made to present the true agricultural situation in the world today which makes the present farm program necessary.

Southern Division spoke on the relative merits of the present program and some proposed substitutes. E. R. Alexander of the regional contract division led a popular discussion of popular improvements in the present plan.

It is contemplated that committeemen and county agents who attended the meeting at Lubbock will conduct similar meetings in all communities later this month.

Warning Given On Wheat Allotments Notices of wheat allotments for harvest in 1939 were mailed from the county agent's office this week.

Many who feel that they must plant more than their wheat allotment will mix 25% barley or rye with the seed so that the acreage will be counted as wheat.

A special warning to all farmers in regard to wheat seems necessary, Buckley said, because of the custom in this area of planting small acreages for winter pasture.

COTTON CROP FORECAST IS DECREASED

The agriculture department Tuesday estimated 1938 cotton production at 12,137,000 bales, a decrease of 75,000 bales from a month ago.
