Interment Of Halbert Drace Is Made Here

Summoned By Death At Lubbock Early Wednesday Morning

Halbert (Hal) Drace, 33, of Floydada, died at a Lubbock hospital at 3 o'clock Wednesday morning following an illness ascribed as bloodstream infection which is believed to have resulted from a severe case of pneumonia and throat infection. He had been in the Lubbock hospital for the past six weeks where four blood transfusions had been made in effort to save his life. Two of the transfusions having been given by his brother, J. W. (Dub) Drace of Matador.

Funeral services were held at the First Methodist Church at Floydada at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Vernon Shaw, assisted by Rev. I. E. Brittain, pioneer pastor of this country, and Rev. H. M. Weldon, local pastor of the Baptist church. Interment was made at the Matador East Mound cemetery at 6 o'clock after the long funeral caravan of friends and relatives from Matador and Floydada had been joined by others awaiting here.

Native Of Motley County

Halbert Currie Drace was born April 23, 1905 at a Matador ranch line-camp conducted by his father, W. J. Drace, pioneer of this country and wagon-boss for the Matador Company, who preceded his son in death two years ago. He attended school in Matador and spent much of his early life in this section before going to Floydada several years ago. He was a member of the Baptist church having joined as a youth.

Mr. Drace was engaged in the filling station business in Floydada for a number of years and later was employed as a mechanic until the time of his death.

Besides his wife, Mrs. H. C. Drace of Floydada, he is survived by his mother, Mrs. W. J. Drace of Matador, one brother, J. W. (Dub) Drace of Matador and one sister, Mrs. Lee Moore of Erick, Oklahoma.

Matador Will Be Host For Singing Meet

Organization Plans Meeting Here For Sunday, June 26

The oldest organization in Motley county, the Motley County Singing Convention will hold its first meeting in 47 continuous years of existence at Matador High School Auditorium on the 4th Sunday in June, according to an announcement made by T. M. Dixon, president, at the meeting of the Matador Lions Club, Tuesday.

"We appreciate the invitation which Matador has extended to us to hold our meeting here this year and we can assure you that the program will include some of the best singing talent in the country." The singing convention meets twice each year and has not missed a single meeting since it was organized in a small building now located about one half mile north of the present town of Whiteflat, the third Sunday in June, 1891. The other meeting is held on the 4th Sunday in October each year.

Only two residents are now living in Motley county who were present when the group was organized. They are A. B. Echols and W. J. Whitworth.

Basket Dinner Planned

According to the traditional plan, the meeting next month will include "singing all day and dinner on the ground." Everyone is urged to bring well-filled baskets in order that visitors may be provided for. Coffee will be provided by Matador organizations. Special committees have been appointed by the Matador Lions Club and the Matador Chamber of Commerce to make arrangements for the convention. On the Lions club committee are: T. B. Edmondson, R. E. Campbell, L. A. Carlisle and W. R. Cammack. On the Chamber of Commerce committee are: John Hamilton, chairman, Douglas Meador and Bob Robertson.

Outlook Here Is Aided By Recent Rain

Much Of County Is Benefitted From Two Rainfalls

The prospects for good crops during 1938 were aided in Motley county by two rains during the past week which totaled about one and one half inch registration in Matador with various registrations in other sections of the county. A sudden rain out of the north Thursday night left over one inch of water in the lister-furrows in the vicinity of Matador. The rain was accompanied by a driving wind but no reports of any damage have been received. The second rain which registered .37 inch fell Monday night. Reports from the south section of the county indicate that the rain was less than in Matador and north. Northfield reported about the same as here, with probably slightly more in the Whiteflat and Flomot sections.

Warm Weather Gets Start

The long delayed summer appears to have reached the Panhandle as the mercury rose to about 90 degrees Tuesday and Wednesday. Ranchmen declare that the range is showing rapid improvement and that with a continuation of showers, good grass is assured. Farmers are elated over the rain which was badly needed over most of the county. Much planting has been started and in many places farmers are re-listing to destroy the weed crop which is getting under way.

General conditions over the county are reported as very favorable and somewhat above the usual average at this time of the year.

Lions Program Well Received At Convention

Local Talent Is Lauded At Lubbock District Meeting

The program sponsored by the Matador Lions Club at the District Lions Convention held at Lubbock last week received wide acclaim according to reports made by Boss Lion Fay Jacobs at the regular meeting of the local club held in the basement of the Methodist church Tuesday. The program presented at the Lubbock convention consisted of a reading by Mrs. J. R. Whitworth, vocal solo by Miss Virginia Estes accompanied at the piano by Lion Sweetheart, Rachel Patton, and an instrumental duet by Riley Rigby and Dood Mize. Miss Estes was recalled after the program to sing at the Luncheon following. Secretary J. R. Whitworth read a letter at the Tuesday meeting in which the Lubbock club paid high honor to the quality of the Matador program and also of the interest and support shown by the Matador club. Those who attended the district meeting were Miss Patton, J. R. Whitworth, Henry Pipkin and W. F. Jacobs.

Committees Are Appointed

Visitors introduced at the Tuesday meeting included honor students or the "brain trusts" of the Matador High School and the grammar school, T. M. Dixon of Whiteflat, and Nolan Fulkerson of Brady, Texas, former Matador resident. In the absence of a regular program, business of the club included the appointment of a nomination committee to select new officials of the club for the next fiscal year. The committee is as follows: Douglas Meador, chairman, D. D. Denison, Homer Sheats, Jack Bradshaw and C. A. Pitts.

Elbert Reeves, secretary of Motley County Wild-Life Association asked the support of the club in sponsoring a "prize" contest for evidence of destroying predatory animals and birds, which was immediately approved by the organization.

The thick walls are of the most modern insulation known and all windows are four thicknesses of glass with three air partitions. Air is kept circulating in the box by means of a fan and air channels. The refrigeration system of the box and the meat case is operated from one unit consisting of a dual-cylinder compressor and one horse-power motor, which was installed with the new box. The equipment is declared to be the most up-to-date on the market.

About nine months ago she became ill and had been bed-fast ever since. She is survived by two sons and three daughters.

Buys Beauty Salon Here

A deal was consummated last week in which Miss Julia Davis purchased the Modern Beauty Salon from Mrs. J. S. Lea, owner and manager for the past few years. Miss Davis assumed control immediately upon completion of the transaction.

No change will be made in the present personnel of the shop, and Mrs. Noble Groves and Mrs. A. P. Hodges will continue to serve the customers in their usual courteous and efficient manner. Miss Davis, as chief operator, is well qualified for the position she has assumed. She received her training at Southwestern Beauty College of El Paso, after which she accepted a position as managing operator of the Mirror Beauty Shop of Lefors, which she held until returning to Matador to enter business for herself.

Afton and Roaring Springs Methodist Churches

Eugene L. Naugle, pastor, There have been instances in the past when an event in the life of one person has changed not only the trend of life for that person but the history of an entire nation. Such an event transpired in the life of John Wesley, an Episcopal minister, on Friday night, the 24th of May, 1738.

Although Mr. Wesley had been a minister in the church for 13 years, he felt that his life had been a failure. He was not in touch with God. In fact he doubted that he knew God in forgiveness for sin. He had been seeking this knowledge very earnestly and on this memorable night, the light broke in on his heart and life. He became a flaming evangel. His preaching touched all classes of people; the high and the low.

Although he is known as the founder of Methodism, he established no churches. He only started a movement which grew into the Methodist Church. The influence of this movement was of such great power that it touched the entire English nation. Lecky, the great English historian, contends that the preaching of Mr.
Wesley did more to save the nation than did the armies of Pitt, the military leader.

On next Tuesday night, May 24, throughout the world in every Methodist church there will be held a commemoration of this great experience which came into the life of this one man and has grown to touch people in every nation.

Let every Methodist in the Afton Community be at church next Sunday. Bring your friends.
Let us make it a great day.

"Art Illumines The World— Birth of Art—"

Art had its beginnings in some cave where lived hairy, half-nude savages. The potential artist had eaten his fill of his huge chunk of meat. The bone he had thrown away. The wife and his young ones were lying in one corner sleeping. Outside his cave the winds were howling, there was plenty of food in the cave—so why venture out in this storm? But he was bored—what to do—mechanically he picked up a charred stick and began making marks with it—long lines, short lines, curved ones and before he knew it something inside him made him draw the crude outlines of an animal—he saw its head, body, legs and tail evolve before him on the walls of his cave. In time he picked up the discarded bone from the floor. With a sharp piece of stone he began to scratch out a fish—a head of a reindeer—in this cave art was born—an art that eventually was to spread all over the world and beautify it—illumine it.

Mexican Pre-Historic Art—

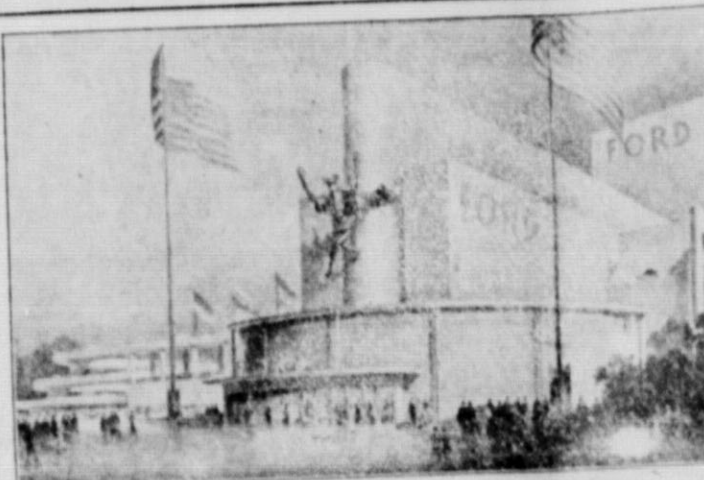

The more one knows about Mexico, the further does one push back time until one reaches a point where mythological gods intermingle with mere mortals.

On the outskirts of the town of Villa Obregon (the former San Angel) one comes across a section of the Pedregal. This is an ancient lava flow that covered the surrounding country for some miles. When this occurred is left to surmise. Some say two, others say ten, thousands years ago. No one really knows. Indian communities were buried under it. Excavations in the lava have brought to light skeletons of some of these unfortunate who were buried under it. Nor is that all—but also pottery, shards, and many small figurines, heads and bodies fancifully wrought. This art is classified as Mexican Archaic—the earliest yet discovered and just how many thousands of years old it is, no one knows.

The Art of the Mayas—

The ancient Mayas were the most remarkable American aborigines that we have any record of. Their remarkable ruins one sees at Chichen Itza, Uxmal and elsewhere in Yucatan, Honduras, Guatemala—all attest their great intelligence, their artistry, their astronomical erudition etc. They had reached a high point in their evolution. Their art was exemplified in their magnificent structures built on terraced heights, their bas-reliefs, the sculptured stone columns, their applied abstract designs in stone, their Chic-Mools. (Gods in a recumbent position with knees raised and facing East). Their tombs reveal many objects of art—bowls, basins, vases, and figurines all pierced with a hole to let their souls escape and accompany the deceased on his long journey. Even yet, one can discern here and there faint traces of pigmentation with which they embellished their temples. Vivid color brought out the forms they sculptured in low relief.

Ford Exhibit At New York World's Fair

The theme of the Ford Motor Company's exhibit, building at the New York World's Fair in 1939 will be prophetic of the advances America may expect in transportation in coming decades, according to an announcement by Edsel Ford, president of the company.

Based upon an exposition of the institutional character of the Ford company and the fundamental policies which have directed its growth during the past 35 years, the fair exhibit will reach its climax in "The Road of Tomorrow," an elevated highway more than half a mile long, rising upon a series of spiral ramps, traversing the borders of a patio and finally circling the main building on a deep setback at the top of the walls.

The exhibit, in four rather distinct parts, will include an entrance rotunda facing the main west side, a spacious Manufacturing Hall, a patio, with pools, playing fountains and large rest areas, and the elevated road. From the west side of the patio, steps will rise to a broad mezzanine. There Ford V-8 and Lincoln-Zephyr cars will load passengers for the ride over "The Road of Tomorrow."

From the loading platform the cars will pass to the south, enter the spiral ramps, climbing to the upper level and following the elevated highway as it passes over the mezzanine, west along the south wall of Manufacturing Hall, through a tunnel lined with photographs; thence circling the top of the building, through a glass tunnel high in the Rotunda; down the ramp to the second level, around the patio and back to the starting point.

At night flood lighting will fall upon the cars as they circle the highway high on the walls of Manufacturing Hall, playing moving shadows on the building walls, in full sight of the whole fair grounds. The building will occupy the highest location on the grounds. It will be decorated in white, red and blue and will be floodlighted at night.

Contemporary Art—

Contemporary painters have swerved from the religious theme in their painting to depicting the Mexican scene in terms of sociology. The work of the people—the humble peons, their fiestas, their arts, not to mention the oppression and exploitation of the country at the hands of the Capitalist, the Clergy and the crooked politician.

The best examples of this contemporary mural art is to be seen in the Preparatory School, the Ministry of Public Education, the National Palace, the Palace of Fine Arts in Mexico City and at the Cortez Palace in Cuernavaca, the Agrarian College at Chapingo, in the Governor's Palace in Guadaluajara and elsewhere.

Easel Paintings—

Historical paintings—not murals, are seen in many places where art is seen in Mexico City. Battle scenes, portraits of Mexican heroes, scenes pertaining to Cortez and the Spanish Conquest—the Torture of Cauhtemoc to make that Aztec king reveal the riches of the discovery of pulque by a Toltec princess—the Senate of the Tlaxcalans, enemies of the Aztecs, who allied themselves with the Spaniards and helped to defeat their former adversaries.

Other paintings reveal the beauties of the Mexican landscape; its impressive snow-capped volcanoes, its deep valleys, its ranches, ravines, the lush tropics with their superabundance of fruits and flowers, the waterfalls, and the magnificent Lake region, Chapala and Patzcuaro.

To the tourist who is at all interested in art, in beauty, Mexico has much to offer. It bobs up on every hand, not alone in the galleries, in the market place, pottery, lacquered bowls, gourds, in their serapes, etc. The ruins at Teotihuacan, Mitla, Chichen Itza and Uxmal—all are eloquent with artistic beauty. To such people this art gives great pleasure and to think how much more pleasure the artist must have experienced himself when he created it. Art often supplies what nature denies. (To Be Continued)

During this time Ecclesiastical Art blossomed forth in all its glory. The Mexican churches—and their number was legion, were all more or less adorned with religious paintings. The greater ones contained many paintings of great merit executed by the greatest of Mexican artists: Cabrera, Juarez, Echave, The Elder, and Echave The Younger, Villalpando, Ibarro to mention but a few. These glorious religious paintings can now be seen under one roof—The San Carlos Art Academy at Mexico City. Many of their works, however, are still in situ and can be seen in various churches throughout the Mexican Republic. ASCENSION DAY SERVICES WARM SUPPORT IN AREA

Knights Templar plan of the occasion has been compiled by Dr. John R. Miller of Plainview, publicity chairman for the event.) Ascension Day, or Holy Thursday as it is called is the fortieth day after Easter, being the Thursday after the 5th Sunday after Easter. This date commemorates the ascension of Christ into Heaven.

Although not strictly a Masonic meeting the order of the Tempars is sponsoring an appropriate public worship, and extending an invitation to the people of Plainview and all surrounding towns to attend. This is the first undertaking of its kind in the history of the Plains. An attendance of at least 2500 people is anticipated.

Sir Knights Arch Keys, Angus Wood, Charlie Vincent, T. J. Boney and Dr. John R. Miller, working in groups of two or more, have personally canvassed every town in the jurisdiction. Many interested parties have promised their unstinted support.

Earl G. Alexander, president of the school board has obtained the consent of the school authorities for the use of flood lights and promises other arrangements will be taken care of at the Junior High School athletic field, where the meeting will be held.

If the weather does not permit an out-of-doors meeting, Mayor T. J. Shelton has authorized the use of the city auditorium.

Scoutmasters Herman Ford and Lawrence Draper have promised the assistance of the Boy Scouts in any capacity in which they can serve in handling the traffic, etc.

Ote Martine, chief of police, has arrangements under way to handle the parking of automobiles in the vacant lots surrounding the Junior High School grounds at the corner of Ash and Ninth streets.

The Chamber of Commerce is giving this open air Christian service unlimited support in a publicity campaign.

The Grand Commander of the State of Texas has promised to send one of the outstanding orators of the order to deliver the principal address of the evening. His name will be announced later.

Guy Woods, organist of the First Baptist Church and local music instructor, has assumed the responsibility of providing instrumental music.

T. J. Shelton, Jr., has consented to equip the field with all necessary loud speaker attachments.

Arrangements have been made with Charles Dean, director of the Methodist Church Choir, to organize and direct a chorus of at least 400 voices. This choir will be assembled from the singers and soloists from Plainview, as well as visiting congregations. Reserved seats will be arranged for this number and singers are requested to find their location in this section upon entering the field it is also desired that each singer bring a song book containing the hymn.

Flying for Fair

Frank W. Fuller Jr., air speed king, watches while pretty Zoe Dell Lantis, the "most photographed girl in the world" puts finishing touches to a Golden Gate Exposition emblem on Fuller's plane in which he will attempt new inter-city records this year. "Onward Christian Soldiers." Rev. J. Pat Horton will assist Dean in organizing a series of special vocal selections.

R. C. Davidson, director of the high school band, will arrange for a half hour sacred concert previous to the services, which will start promptly at 8:00 o'clock. The following committee of ushers has been appointed. Each will provide three additional assistants; E. P. Stone, Dick Cross,

J. Fields, Ray Lowe, E. H. Ezell, W. J. Stuckler, and W. J. Lewis. Mann Pledges Help Against Racketeers

FORT WORTH, Texas—Enthusiastic statewide response to his vicious attack upon political racketeers in his recent opening address for attorney general at Sulphur Springs, was reported here today by Gerald C. Mann, Dallas attorney, native of Hopkins county.

"I greatly appreciate the warm response that has come from all sections of the state to my attack on the political racketeers and the pledge of so many of their support in the battle I propose to wage on rackets as attorney general of Texas," Mann declared.

"It is also greatly encouraging to learn that so many citizens of Texas remember my successful fight against the fraudulent stock broker and racketeer when I was Secretary of State."

Torn From Homes by Tornado, Electric Refrigerators Still Provide Ice, Food Protection

FOLKS who spend good money for a refrigerator are should give them a guarantee of Safety. The folks who many years ago bought the two electric refrigerators pictured above bought both Service and Safety. A recent tornado in a small West Texas community proved this point. Buildings crumbled around them and the wind tossed them into the street like a fretful child discarding a toy. But—these electric refrigerators operated perfectly when picked up and connected to an electric socket the following day. That IS Service! There was no damage resulting from refrigerant fumes. That IS Safety!

Tower of Sun

Striking 400-foot Tower of the Sun, at the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition on Treasure Island in San Francisco Bay. The tower, now nearing completion, will house a carillon of 44 bells on which world-famous bell ringers will play throughout the run of the Fair.

Shortly after boasting that he had climbed many high structures without an accident, Alex Hassen, a steeplejack of Hayttsville, Md., fell eight feet from a shed he was painting, breaking an arm and a leg.

TEXAS COWBOY REUNION PLANS IMPROVEMENTS

STAMFORD, Texas.—Replacement of the old No. 1 grandstand with a larger and more comfortable structure which increases the seating capacity at the rodeo arena by 2,000 is the largest item on the $7,000 improvement program now under way at the Texas Cowboy Reunion grounds just outside the Stamford city limits. The enlargement will give a total grandstand capacity of 10,000 besides the 3,000 bleacher seats.

The new grandstand, as well as the other improvements, will be completed in advance of the opening of the ninth annual Reunion, which will be held on July 4, 5, and 6. The floor of the arena is being re-graded to give a better take-off for roping contestants as they dash into the arena.

The bucking chutes, pens, judges' stand and directing official's platform also being rebuilt. A new two-story rodeo office is re-placing the smaller structure used for that purpose. As during the past two years, the rodeo arena will be practically dust-free, the ground being treated with a special preparation for that purpose.

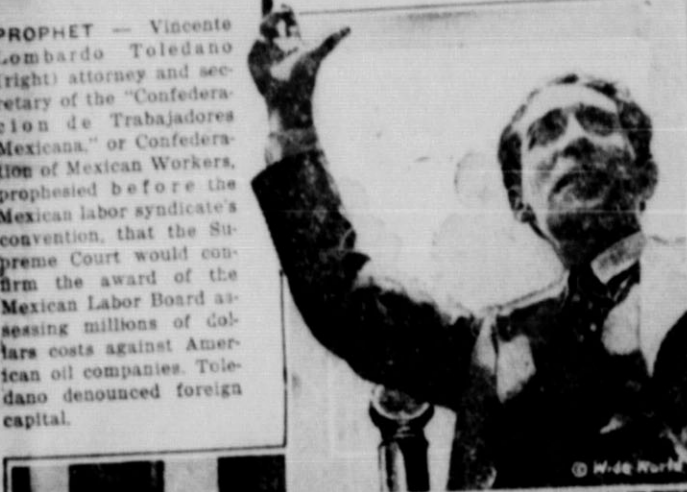

Five registering turnstiles of the type used at the Texas Centennial Exposition will be installed at the main entrance to the rodeo arena and a new fence will be built on that side of the show area.

This year's improvements, along with the superior lighting system installed last season, gives the cow-boy Reunion probably the finest outdoor arena in the United States.

In the chuck wagon area, a steel-towered Dempster windmill will lend ranch atmosphere. The mill will be near the east shore of the lake which has been filled with sparkling, clear water by abundant rains this spring.

Poultrymen of Burbank, Calif., have protested against airplanes flying in their vicinity, saying their hens are frightened and refuse to lay.

MEXICAN LABOR LEADER'S PROPHECY COMES TRUE!

TAKING OVER!—New Mexican "Board of Directors" of the former Huasteca Petroleum Co., an American firm whose property was seized by Mexican government. The group, known as "Section Fifth," and comprised of officers and members of the labor syndicate, occupies company office (above), from which

FORMER HEAD OF W. T. C. C. FOR McCRAW

EASTLAND, Texas.—Milburn McCarty of Eastland, immediate past president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, this week announced that he will devote his full time to campaigning for Attorney General William McCraw for governor.

"I have decided to lend my full support to Attorney General McCraw," McCarty said, "because he has come forward with a program that best fits the needs of all Texas and that is possible of accomplishment. He will represent the people of the entire state and his record shows that what he says he will do, he will do."

The Eastland attorney will have a major role in the McCraw campaign. His activities will be statewide.

Commenting on the West Texan's decision, McCraw said: "No one in Texas is more widely known or more highly regarded than Milburn McCarty. He has always worked for the best interest of Texas. I am most happy to have him associated with me in my race."

McCarty, who was reared in Granger, Williamson County, graduated from Baylor University, then took post-graduate and law work at the University of Texas. After he obtained his law degree and license, he practiced at San Angelo and there served as county and district attorney.

tive in the affairs of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. First he served as local director, then as district director, and then as vice president. From that position he was elevated to the presidency which he relinquished last month.

Campaigning is not new to McCarty, who has long been active in the Democratic party. He has had two terms on the State Democratic Executive committee, and was a presidential elector in 1932 after being one of the original Roosevelt men.

Harold Meckerly of Westerly, R. I., lost his memory after an accident and wandered through the south for several months, finally becoming normal and returning home to find that his fiancée had married another.

Details Ready On Wheat Insurance

Full details for signing up the all-risk wheat insurance policies on the 1939 wheat crop was brought back to Motley county by W. I. Rushing, county committeeman, and Frank A. Buckley, County Agent, who attended the regional meeting held at Plainview Texas, Tuesday, May 17th, according to those who attended.

"While the policies will be underwritten by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation the Corporation will use, as far as possible, the already existing Triple A set-up of county and community committeemen and County Agents," said Mr. Rushing, in commenting on the meeting.

"If you want one of these policies," continued Rushing, "just as soon as the county office advises, through the local paper, that it has the application blanks, all you have to do is get one and fill it out and turn it in to the county office or see the committeeman with whom you are working."
