To make and use these weapons, men must be In all the categories vital to the war effort, this company is taking an important part. As for MONEY—our payment in 1942 taxes will total not less than $1,150,000 ... enough to buy 55,200,000 bullets at the Army's specified price of 25 cents a dozen. The company has ought $50,000 in war bonds. Its employees are buying bonds in a united, organized program.

As for MAN POWER, a total of 122 men from this company are already in the armed forces where their experience and training in business, electrical engineering and distribution service has been of inestimable value to Uncle Sam. Twenty-one of them already commissioned officers...one lieutenant colonel, six majors, four captains, nine lieuten-
