

Matadors Lead In First Conference

Turkey Turks Fall In Harvest Rush Of Local Eleven

Fans are still playing the game. They are still saying it was one of the most exciting gridiron contests ever staged in this section and other contenders who yet have to meet the Matadors are wondering what is in store for them.

The Matadors clipped the Turkey Turks to the tune of 26 to 20 at the Matador Arena Friday afternoon, in the first conference tilt the locals have had this season. It was the kind of a game which causes strong men to bite the bits of their pipes; to turn hand-springs on the side lines.

Johnnie Runs To Victory

The flying feet of Johnnie Allsup accounted for three of the Matador touches.

Matador took the lead when Kenneth Simpson, quarterback, scurried 65 yards on the opening play. Before the quarter ended the Matadors held a 13 to 0 advantage. Scores had to be made in the third and fourth periods, however, since the Turks made 20 points in the last half.

In the last few seconds, Allsup dashed 25 yards for the winning touchdown. Matador, which had locked its doors for the game, went home happy, more so since the game was an official district encounter.

The Matadors will meet Silverton Friday afternoon in another conference tilt on the plains school's gridiron, which many fans feel to be in the bag if the Matadors keep up their splendid work.

All local fans and boosters of the Matadors are urged to attend the game and help the squad bring home another victory.

Local Firm Will Start Sale Today

Today marks the opening of a "True Value" selling event conducted at regular periods by the Matador Hardware and Furniture Company. Reduced prices on many items of merchandise will continue through Saturday, October 15th, according to L. C. Harp, manager.

This particular True Value selling event will differ from others conducted by the store since it will include many items besides the regular listings. Mr. Harp has reduced prices in the furniture department of the store in connection with the low prices offered on smaller articles, as will be found elsewhere in the Tribune.

"Popularity of the events has continued to grow," Mr. Harp said, "and I particularly want to call attention to our big colored circular which has been placed in every home in the county. Besides the low prices on needed articles for the home and farm, will be found the supplement which lists drastic reduction in the prices of our large stock of new furniture."

The modern hardware department store is representative for most of the standard brands of merchandise, including Zenith radios, Farmall tractors, International trucks, Superflex oil heaters, perfection oil cook stoves, Gold Seal Congoleum rugs, Ser-Gel Seal Congoleum rugs, Dempster refrigerators, Dempster windmills and many other well known lines.

DANCE TO AID PARK FUND

Announcement is made by C. C. Haile, president of the Motley-Dickens Old Settlers Association, that a dance will be held at the Roaring Springs pavilion owned by the organization, Friday night, October 7. Half of the net proceeds will be sent to the Big Bend National Park fund, Mr. Haile declared.

A string orchestra from Spur will furnish music which will consist of both modern and old time dances.

Wallace Hits Lint Handlers In Address

Real Issue Cited As Whether Control Of Surplus To Last

Praising the Roosevelt Administration's conservation program as one of the most constructive measures ever taken in behalf of the South, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, in Fort Worth Friday, charged cotton exporters, spinners and handlers are back of the current attack on efforts to aid cotton farmers.

Interest which are and always have been against a farm program of any kind, he said—are urging various kinds of substitutes.

The Secretary was loudly applauded when he declared "it is high time these interests began doing some real thinking about the effects of low cotton prices on the prosperity of agriculture, business and industry."

"Cites Real Issue"

"The real issue," he declared, "is whether farmers are going to give up their present program for one which would mean bigger crops and cheaper prices; which would bring more business and profits to those who buy and handle cotton, but less to those who grow it, and whether the cotton producer is going to become a forgotten man, once more."

"The time has come," he continued, "for farmers to make up their minds where they stand. No other program that I know of would give farmers as large an income over a period of years."

He urged farmers to "close up their ranks" and present a united front for retention of the program.

The address was delivered to farmers of six States assembled in the Municipal Auditorium. The visitors were welcomed to Fort Worth by Mayor Harrell, and Secretary Wallace was introduced by Virgil D. Pars of Spur.

CHANGE MADE IN STATION MANAGEMENT

Announcement appears in this issue of the Tribune of the change in name and management of the former Shorty's Service Station, located in the Graves building across Highway 28, north of the Motley Hotel.

Wiley McCowan, former Matador resident, has recently returned to assume management of the business, which will be operated under the name of Mack's Service Station and Garage.

Magnolia products, including Mobiloil and Mobilgas, will be featured at the service station. A full line of accessories, batteries and a well-known brand of tires will be stocked, Mr. McCowan declared.

Besides rendering a complete filling station service, the garage department will provide competent mechanical service for repairing all makes of automobiles.

Mr. and Mrs. McCowan returned from Brady, Texas, Sunday with their household effects and will make their future home in Matador.

A cordial invitation is extended to the motoring public and Mr. McCowan's friends to visit him in his new quarters where he solicits a portion of the automobile servicing trade.

C. C. Sycaringen, former manager of the service station has not made an announcement of his future plans.

Child Welfare To Hold First Regular Meet

Many Activities Of Organization Aids Community

The first regular meeting of the Matador Child Welfare Association will be held next Wednesday afternoon, October 12, at 3:30 o'clock in the High School Auditorium, it has been announced. Every patron of the school as well as all others who are interested in the welfare of the future citizens of the county, are urged to attend, as matters of vital importance to the entire community are to be discussed, according to Mrs. B. F. Tunnell, Chairman of the Finance Committee.

The Child Welfare Association is one of the most worthy organizations in the community. Since its organization in 1931 it has raised over $2000,000, all of which has been used for the benefit of the children of the community.

A report by the Executive Committee of the organization discloses that First-aid kits have been kept well supplied in both high school and grade school; first aid treatment is given children each day of the school year and financed by the association; it has taken active lead in three campaigns to immunize school children against small-pox, diphtheria and typhoid, doubtless saving many lives, and in one campaign alone, in cooperation with the American Legion and Lions Club, spent over $100.00.

Many Civic Activities

The committee's report revealed further that over $150,000 has been

Firemen Are Winners Of Donkey Game

Despite the excessive sales of amica and pillows registered here Saturday morning, the Matador Fire Department won over the Lions Club in the Donkey base ball game held at the Matador Arena Friday evening. But the Fire Eaters had chalked up only one score when the lights were turned off. While the game could hardly be termed fast, it was filled with excitement from start to finish and the crowd of fans felt that they received more than the price of admission as the contest progressed.

The Lions were badly handicapped by the lack of players altho the club has more than fifty members, as many found it impossible to attend the game. Tail Twister J. D. Craven kept close check of the members who appeared to defend the club's honor in the contest and Tuesday assessed fines on those who did not take part in the game.

The exact amount of the gate receipt was not disclosed but it is understood that the same added several dollars to the coffers of both organizations, besides providing a well-rounded evening of entertainment.

Howard Traweck Opens Car Agency

Announcement of the opening of an agency for Chrysler and Plymouth automobiles, by Howard Traweck, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Traweck, appears in this issue of the Tribune.

Mr. Traweck has spent most of his life in Matador with the exception of studying law at the University of Texas, Austin and the past two years where he has been connected with the National Park Service in Montana.

The agency is located in the Graves building across Highway 28, north of the Motley Hotel, sharing the building with Mack's Service Station and Garage.

Mr. Traweck extends a cordial invitation to everyone to visit the show room of his new agency and inspect the new 1939 Plymouth Road King which is now on display.

G. T. Edwards, Mayor of Matador

Long Staple Cotton Draws Premium Here

Higher Price For Acala Shows Worth Of Better Seeds

Acala cotton, which is becoming more and more popular with Motley county producers, proved its worth in a transaction here yesterday. From a lot of cotton containing 15 bales of pure Acala, 14 bales graded strict middling, inch staple, and brought 9.40 in the government loan. The price compares with 8.60 and less commonly received for other varieties previously considered as good cotton. Some cotton has been considered ineligible for any loan because of the extremely short staple.

The lot of even running bales of long staple cotton was submitted by the Farmers Gin at Matador in order that some of its patrons might test the advantage of the improved lint.

County Gins Post Charts

All gins in Motley county have posted charts this week showing the varieties of cotton recommended for various parts of Texas by the Statewide Cotton Committee. The charts were prepared and furnished by County Agent, Frank A. Buckley, who is directing a county-wide movement to improve the grade of cotton grown here. Acala is one of the varieties recommended for this section by the Statewide Cotton Committee.

TAILOR SHOP INSTALLS NEW EQUIPMENT

Installation was completed last week of a new pressure naphtha filter at the City Tailor Shop, which brings the equipment of the establishment in line with the most modern shops to be found anywhere. The filter cleans the fluid as it is used and provides fresh naphtha for each cleaning operation, according to H. M. Solomon, manager.

Recently Mr. Solomon installed a steam iron for pressing delicate fabrics and a steam spray for sizing knit garments. Other modern equipment in the shop includes two Hoffman presses, a new automatically stoked boiler, modern cleaning and drying machines and a large drying room where the fumes are removed from garments before they are pressed.

"We want to render the very best service possible," Mr. Solomon declared, "and our investment in modern equipment, combined with our constant study of improved cleaning methods, places us in a position to offer our customers the same service obtainable in larger cities."

HOME BEING REBUILT

The duplex home of Mrs. Annie Tudor, located on south Main street, which was partially destroyed by fire in August, is being rebuilt.

The walls and framing of the structure was saved from destruction by the efforts of the fire department. Work of constructing a new roof is complete as are most of the other repairs. It is probable that all the work will be finished within a few days, restoring the home to as good condition as when it was first built.

NOTICE

This is to call your attention to the fact that M. P. Fulkerson was elected City marshal of Matador and has sworn to enforce the ordinances of the city. He will be active in the fulfillment of his duties for the next few months, and the City Council and myself have pledged him our full cooperation in enforcing all ordinances, especially those governing driving and parking. This action is made necessary in order that damage and possible loss of life may be avoided.

G. T. Edwards, Mayor of Matador

Harvest Of Cotton Is Nearing Zenith

Gins Hum Far Into The Night As Hot Weather Continues

With the continuation of hot, dry weather, the peak of the harvest of Motley county's cotton crop will be reached within the next week or ten days according to observers. An abundance of pickers and the exceptional autumn has created the unusual condition which may leave the empty stalks in cotton fields long before the usual period.

The past week might have been one taken from the heart of summer instead of the season when occasional northers are expected. Altho ice dealers are elated over the turn in seasons, stove and fuel dealers are wondering when their turn will arrive.

The entire section is suffering from a drouth condition which would cause serious damage in the growing season of crops and much loss has resulted in late feeds according to estimates by farmers.

Cool Weather Would Aid

Cool weather would relieve the drouth condition to some extent it is declared and slow up the rapid maturing of cotton, however, the general desire is for rain.

All three of Matador's gins have continued far into the night during the past week and it is expected that they will operate on 24-hour basis if the present weather condition continues.

Trench Silos Hold Valuable Store Of Feed

More good feed will be stored in trench silos this year than ever before in Motley county, altho the number of silos filled may be less than last year, according to county agent, Frank A. Buckley. Three years experience with trench silos in this county has proved their ability to keep feed in the very best possible condition, and large acreages of the best feed available is being put into them this season. Mr. Buckley has been leading the movement for better feed storage.

On hundred acres of well-matured maize will be stored in a three hundred-ton trench silo by L. A. Stearns at Darden Canyon, this week. Four days will be required for the job and those wishing to see the work are invited to visit the Stearns farm on any day this week or Monday of next week. Mr. Stearns has already filled a 150-ton silo earlier this season.

J. T. Anderson of the Darden Canyon community has filled two silos of 200-ton capacity each. One hundred acres of well-headed maize was stored in these trenches. U. L. Willie stored 100 acres of maize and 40 acres of begira in a 650-ton silo on his farm near Roaring Springs.

Joe Bloodworth of Whiteflat is filling a 300-ton silo with a fine crop of cane. Mr. Bloodworth has a large acreage of other feeds which he plans to store in the trenches. He expects to put up 1000 tons or possibly more trench silage this season. Fred C. Bourland and other farmers in various parts of the county are also planning to fill silos this fall.

Lion Directors At Breakfast

The directors of the Matador Lions Club met at the Texan Cafe at 7 o'clock Monday morning for the regular monthly breakfast-meeting.

Business transacted included plans for the Ladies' Night meeting and the reception of Governor Omar Burleson who will be here Tuesday.

Special charity causes justifying action of the club received consideration.

Popularity of the director's breakfasts continued and it is assumed that they will be called through the fall months.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Campbell returned home Tuesday evening from a two week's trip to Mirer-al Wells.

Furniture Gets Needed Refinishing

The high school started out this year with all of the study hall desks and the class room recitation chairs in excellent condition. All of the desks in the study hall were gone over with a sander and then plastic wood was put in the deep cuts that could not be taken out. Then a heavy coat of varnish was applied to the desk tops. The recitation chairs were gone over in the same manner.

The floors in the study hall and the class rooms were sanded and resurfaced. The old method of oiling the floors has been abandoned because the varnished floors are so much more attractive. The cement in the halls was also given a glazed finish.

An appeal was made to the student body to put forth every effort to see that the furniture and floors are kept in this good condition. The students are doing their best to see that this request is carried out.

Home Ec. Club Sells Pencils

The Home Ec. Club recently bought five-hundred pencils to sell. They are red and black, the Matador colors, and the football schedule is printed on them. The net proceeds of this sale will be used to buy a new sewing machine for the home economics department, so everyone buy your pencil before it is too late.

PLAYS SELECTED BY

The committee appointed to select the plays to be presented by the dramatic club met with Mrs. Whitworth, the sponsor, last week. "Double-Crossed", a light comedy and "The Trip", a dramatic play, were selected. The cast for "Double-Crossed" includes J. W. Durbin, Ellis Terry, Mary Gaines, Frances Stearns, J. B. Cooper, and Mary Ellen Barton. Jewell McCoy, Juanita Mize, Frances Carpenter, Ruth Rushing, Raymond, Iletta Bird, and Bob Murphy were cast for "The Trip."

Pep Squad News

Perhaps you noted the three "flashes of red" at the Quitaque game in the vicinity of the pep squad. They were the new suits the pep leaders were wearing, and they certainly added a lot of color to the pep squad. Also each member has purchased a red beret and will probably buy sashes soon.

The band members are showing a great deal of interest in the band this year. Two snare drums are to be added to the band instruments soon according to Mr. Gray, the sponsor.

The band members also have some new uniforms. The shirts are scarlet satin of Mexican design, and the rest of the uniform is black.

After the Quitaque game Friday, the band, pep squad, and football boys entertained the Quitaque visitors with a picnic on the football field. Afterwards several games were played, and many said they had a grand time. It is hoped that we will be able to entertain other visitors in the future, because it adds to the friendliness and cooperation between the schools.

Junior News This And That

Of the different amusements that tend to lower the grades of our students, circuses are now the newest. (Get it?) Ask Tom Nell and Benny.

Cupid has started on his yearly tour early. He has "slandered" two students already. (Ask Wiley and Minnie Kathleen if you doubt it.)

Oh, dear! Matrimony must be "It". Mrs. Frank Webb, formerly Miss Pauline Oden, has taken the step. Happiness ahead. Pauline and Aileen (the constant companions) are still at it. No wonder they're always dreaming. Ain't love grand?

JOKES

Stanley: "Is a chicken big enough to eat when it's two weeks old?" Mr. Gray: "Certainly not." Stanley: "Then how does it live?"

A. J.: "Just one more question." Miss Rister: "What is it this time?"

A. J.: "If a boy is a lad and he had a step-father, is the boy a step-ladder?"

Many Craters In Texas Created By Exploding Meteors

DALLAS. — Many craters in Texas which long have been considered of volcanic origin were really made by meteors striking the earth at terrific speed and exploding, according to a theory advanced by Dr. John D. Boon and Dr. Claude C. Albritton Jr. of the Southern Methodist University faculty.

For two years the Southern Methodist University professors have been conducting geological research regarding craters believed to be of volcanic origin. They found that many scars thought to be of volcanic origin closely resembled the crater near Odessa, which is accepted as being of meteorite origin.

The Southern Methodist University professors have concluded that a meteor crater located in Arizona was caused by a 100-million ton meteorite travelling through space at a speed of 20 miles a second striking the earth and exploding, in the geologic past. Their theory is that a meteor penetrating the earth's surface sets up explosive effects on impact by converting part of its own substance and part of the earth into white-hot vapor. They contend that the heat generated from the impact on the nose of the meteor would raise any known substance to a high temperature and bring about an explosion that would backfire and shatter the meteor, digging a crater much deeper and larger than that produced by the penetration of the falling body, and that the explosion would cause the rock strata to wave and bulge.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

Eugene L. Naugle, pastor
A story has come down to us from the days of Wesley concerning his work among the miners of Cromwell. Whole villages were transformed from a gambling, swearing, and Sabbath-breaking people to men and women of sobriety and godliness. In every home was to be found the picture of John Wesley, the man whom they all loved. One day a stranger visiting in one of these humble homes, seeing John Wesley's picture on the wall, said, "Whose picture is that?" The old miner reverently lifted his hat and said, "That was a man sent from God, whose name was John."
Is your life such today that when you are gone, people will say, "There was a man sent from God, whose name was—?"

Willard Wood and family of Sacramento, New Mexico were here last Wednesday to attend the funeral of Mrs. John Louie Woods. Mrs. R. H. Rhudasil of Paris is visiting her mother, Mrs. M. E. Turner and other relatives.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

In all of our churches there are members who are not regular in attendance upon the services. They have for one reason or another grown indifferent and unconcerned. When the matter is discussed with them, excuses are made. One says, "I don't like the preacher." Pray for him, you will become interested in him. Another says, "The church is cold." You are a member, pray for yourself that you may become a blessing to some one. You will receive a blessing and see the membership in a different light.

Pray for the services next Sunday. Invite, at least one person. Be on hand to welcome that person. The world will be brighter. You will be a happier member. As a church, we regret to see Bro. Bristow leave our community. We pray God's blessings on him in his new field of labor.

WALLACE...

(Continued From Page One) theory, he said, was a middle course between these extremes. He listed six advantages of his course: 1. It continues such moderate adjustment of production as would preserve and build up fertility of the soil, and still allow production of as much cotton as the markets have been accustomed to taking.

production of home food and feed crops. 4. It serves notice on the world that the United States intends to keep its place in the world cotton market. 5. It provides authority for loans to prevent price collapse. 6. It provides authority for marketing quotas on the entire crop, to be used after a referendum of producers in time of emergency disaster from crushing surpluses. Without the loan and acreage control program, Wallace said, the price of cotton would be down around 4 or 5 cents, instead of 8 cents.

Calls Idea Myth The idea that bigger production and lower price of cotton bring increased domestic consumption, he said, "is another myth that has been exploded the past year."

Growers' income from the 1938 crop, Wallace estimated, will be about $865,000,000. This will be $117,000,000 less than in the previous year, he admitted, but still will be nearly twice the cotton income of 1932, before the present program was put into effect. "The cotton belt does need more income," the Secretary declared. "There must be action, and I know there will be action. There is a man in the White House who has pledged himself to grapple with that problem, and under his inspiring leadership all of us who count ourselves true friends of the South can go forward in a march toward better days."

Discussing the domestic allotment plan which is being urged in some quarters, especially by J. D. McDonald, Texas commissioner of agriculture, Wallace said that the best features of the plan already are incorporated in the AAA program.

Supply and Demand Wallace expressed his opposition to cotton loans which are far out of line with world prices based on supply and demand. "Any plan for Government loans on cotton far out of line with supply and demand will take this country rapidly in the direction of complete Government operation of the entire cotton marketing, processing and exporting industry," he declared.

Wallace also said that outright subsidy on cotton exports, such as now are being used for wheat, was not an answer to the problem.

"Such subsidies," he said, "amount to international price wars that are bound to be destructive in the end."

The wheat export subsidies, he explained, were forced on the United States by other wheat growing countries. "This old world," he said at this point, "has got to give up policies of dog-eat-dog and learn to live and let live."

If any cotton subsidy is to be used, he said, it should be for the benefit of Americans, rather than foreigners.

Urges Break for Workers "Why not for once," he asked, "give our own consumers and our own workers a break?"

He suggested that part of the 7,000,000 bales of cotton now being held under Government loans might be placed in relief channels, to provide employment for textile workers and needed cotton goods for people who can not now buy them.

In speaking of greater domestic consumption of cotton, he urged producers themselves to use more of the staple.

"It is tragic but true," he said, "that among all classes of people in the United States, the use of cotton goods is just about the smallest among those people who produce the cotton."

Pointing out that farming is about the only business not now covered by insurance, Secretary Wallace suggested the possibility of a cotton insurance plan, whereby crop surpluses of one year would be held as a form of insurance against poor crop years. He also advocated a return to the processing tax as "the best method I know for securing an American income for cotton. It has been tried and proved to be simple and workable. To go back to that system would be a common-sense thing to do."

expended by the Welfare Association toward beautifying the school campus and that it has furnished free meals, clothes and school supplies to a large number of underprivileged children. It has financed three beautiful May Festivals for the benefit of the community.

"The Matador Child Welfare has held out the hand of mercy to every needy child, where its needs were in any way connected with its health or school interest," Mrs. Tunnell declared. "This worthy organization needs you, and hopes that you, as parents and patrons of the school will attend the meeting next Wednesday afternoon. Come and bring your neighbor with you."

A short, interesting program has been planned. The grades, in both grade and high school, having the largest number of parents will receive a book. A social meeting will conclude the program.

* Estate Of World's 'Wealthiest Man' * Amounts To $2,500 * SAN JOSE, Cal.—Henry B. Stuart, 82, known around San Jose as the world's "richest man," left a tangible estate of only $2,500, a petition filed in Superior Court today by his widow disclosed. Stuart became, theoretically, fabulously wealthy when the Superior Court here awarded him judgement in 1922 for $304,840,332.912.685.16 against George Jones of San Jose. Unfortunately Jones didn't have that much money. Neither had everyone else. Stuart collected only $19.69 and Jones went thru bankruptcy. The judgement which made Stuart the world's wealthiest man, on paper, was principal plus interest compounded monthly on an unpaid promissory note for $100 Jones had borrowed in January, 1897, to buy a horse.
