Pioneer Is Claimed By Death

FINAL RITES ARE HELD FOR A. B. ECHOLS President Of Bank Here For Over Quarter-Century

A. B. Echols, 80, pioneer cattleman and resident of Motley county for almost half a century, died at the Plainview Hospital at 4 p. m. Monday following illness of three weeks. Funeral services were conducted at the Baptist church here Tuesday afternoon by Rev. H. L. Burnam of Spur and interment made in East Mound cemetery.

Armpstead Benjamin Echols was born in Georgia, January 5, 1859 and grew to manhood there completing his common school education. In 1880 he moved to Jack county, Texas and engaged in the cattle business for a decade before moving to Motley county in 1890.

Arriving here April 1 of that year, Mr. Echols filed on a claim at Whiteflat, nine miles north of Matador. Five years later he purchased the present ranch he has operated in the foot-hills of the caprock, 13 miles northwest of Matador. The ranch consists of about 17,000 acres. In addition, he operated with his son, Bob Echols, about 50,000 acres of ranchland through ownership and lease.

Active In Church Work Mr. Echols joined the Baptist church more than 60 years ago and was active in his denomination. He was married to Miss Mary Osborn Lisenby at Whiteflat, January 23, 1895 and to this union four children were born, three of whom survive. They are Mrs. Frank Eiring, Plainview, Bob Echols, Matador and Miss Ollie Echols, Matador. Mrs. Echols died June 9, 1936.

Rev. White to Preach Sunday The District Superintendent of the Methodist Church, Rev. E. E. White, will have charge of the services next Sunday morning. Rev. White is an excellent preacher, and people are always glad to hear his messages.

The third quarterly conference will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. All officials of the church are urged to be present.

Sunday school will meet at 9:45, the evening preaching service at 8:00, and the young people meeting at 7:15. Rev. Vaughn will be in the pulpit for the evening services.

All are invited to attend each of these services.

Huge Program In Fight On Grasshoppers

Poison Control Is Being Applied In Panhandle Area

A huge program is now under way in an attempt to exterminate grasshoppers in Texas before they have a chance to do impairable damage to this year's crops. The state last year lost at least $1,000,000 from grasshopper ravages a lot of the damage occurring in the Panhandle.

By fighting the hoppers last year, however, Texas probably prevented a $10,000,000 loss. This year, farmers are threatened with a $15,000,000 loss unless something is done to stop the plague.

"These grasshoppers should be poisoned," said P. T. Riherd, Area Supervisor in grasshopper control, after examining conditions in Motley County on Tuesday. Hoppers were found to be nearly all hatched and very numerous.

A new service to Motley County farmers was announced by Frank A. Buckley, County leader in hopper control. Through the cooperation of the U. S. Forest Service and the W. P. A., ready mixed poison bait is being delivered to all community centers by truck twice each week.

The charge for the mixed bait is sufficient only to cover the cost of the cottonseed hulls and syrup used in the mixture," stated Buckley. "All of the other services are furnished free by the government and the county."

All farmers in the county are urged to secure this poison immediately in order that the hoppers may not gain too much headway on this year's crops.

Ed Lee Hurls Shutout Game The Matador baseball club did exceptionally well last Sunday afternoon in defeating the Plainview boys one to nothing. The game moved at a fast pace and featured good pitching by Ed Lee of Matador.

The locals were cheered on by several Matador boosters who went along skeptically but returned happily.

The scoreboard recorded the following figures: Matador, four hits, one run, four errors, and nine strike outs; Plainview, four hits, no runs, one error, and seven strike outs.

Next Sunday, the boys will go to Quitaque and play its team. All Matador friends and boosters are cordially invited to attend the game.

Mrs. J. H. McNabb and small daughter, Eutonia Sue, of Quanah visited here last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Beauchamp.

More Showers Over County

Showers again fell over this section late yesterday after several days of record May heat and dry winds. The storm cloud approached from the west and north west and observers believe that much of the county received beneficial rain, however the rainfall here was estimated at less than one fourth inch. No reports were available from other sections at the time the Tribune went to press.

TWO CHARGED AFTER AFFRAY

Leon Watson, 19, and M. J. Boggs were placed in jail here late Tuesday after a reported affray in the northwest section of town. Watson was charged with fighting while Boggs was charged with an affray. An examining physician found it necessary to take a number of stitches in Watson's back, it was declared. Watson was released from jail late yesterday, according to reports.

ADULT CLASSES BEING TAUGHT

Classes in sewing for women and girls of the community are being taught by Miss Zona Beth Faulkner each morning, except Saturday and Sunday, at the high school building.

All who are interested are requested to attend these classes, which begin at 10:00 o'clock each morning. The home economics laboratory is excellently equipped with machines and other facilities for sewing purposes.

Miss Faulkner will remain here until the latter part of June to conduct these classes. All home economics students desiring to take summer project work in order to gain one-half credit are to meet at the high school building tomorrow afternoon at 2:00 o'clock.

FRANK COLE IS APPOINTED TO INTERNE STAFF

Wm. Frank Cole is a member of the 1939 graduating class of the University of Texas Medical School at Galveston. Dr. and Mrs. Cole will spend a few days in Matador following the graduation exercises on May 31st.

They will visit Mrs. Cole's father, Judge W. R. Cammack, after which they will leave for San Diego, California, where Dr. Cole has been appointed to serve on the interne staff of the San Diego County General Hospital.

Farm Women Are Alarmed By Vagabond

A strange appearing old man, described as being between 50 and 75 years of age, frightened farm women in the Fairview community yesterday and caused a searching party, headed by Sheriff L. A. Carlisle, to spend most of the late afternoon in a futile quest over the farm and ranch territory southwest toward Tee Pee Flat.

The grey-haired old man, who was dressed in rags and shoes much too large for him, first appeared at the Lloyd Stafford farm home about 9:30 yesterday morning and frightened Mrs. Stafford until she ran a considerable distance to the field where her husband was working. About 10:30 he appeared at the Jim Lancaster farm and asked for food which

Hatchery To Close Season Next Monday

Announcement appears in this issue of the Tribune, of the closing of the Matador Hatchery's spring hatching season next Monday, May 29. The entire stock of about 5,500 baby chicks are offered on sale at greatly reduced prices. Lewis Newman, manager, declared. Mr. Newman said the reduced prices would apply to all varieties of chicks, but that it would be necessary to place orders immediately to secure choice selections since bookings are be-

MATADOR HAS DELEGATION AT PLAINVIEW

Matador, having fourteen delegates present, was well represented at the Pioneer Round-Up held at Plainview last Saturday. The Matador people rode horses in the colorful Pioneer Day parade that took place in the afternoon. In this parade, many people were dressed in old-fashioned costumes depicting styles for as long ago as 1880. Others were attired in cowboy regalia.

Those attending from Matador were: Mrs. Bob Robertson and daughter, Reatha Rayne, Walter Russell and son, Charles, Sonny Russell, Marvin Guinn, Mr. and Mrs. U. L. Willie, Vernon Daniels and son, Red, Curtis King, Les Guthrie, Jim Jeffers, Mrs. Loretta Moorhead and Mrs. Virginia Smith.

Clubs Enjoy Final Picnic Friday Night

The final meeting of the Matador Choral Club for the year was in the form of a chicken fry last Friday night at Roaring Springs. Members of the Sorousis Club and their families also attended the picnic.

Due to cloudy weather and showers in the afternoon, many people were unable to attend. However, by late afternoon, the weather had cleared sufficiently; and about forty guests enjoyed the delicious fried chicken which was prepared under the direction of Paul Eubank, Choral Club president.

Both the Sorousis Club and the Choral Club have adjourned until fall when they will again resume their work.

DEATH CLAIMS SISTER OF R. E. CAMPBELL

Mrs. Charles Blanton, 30, died early Sunday morning at the Gorman Hospital, Gorman, Texas, following the birth of a baby daughter earlier in the morning. Mrs. Blanton was the sister of townsman R. E. Campbell and her death was the first in the family of 14 children.

Funeral services were held at Tolar, Texas the Campbell family home, at 2:30 Monday afternoon.

Besides her husband, Charles Blanton of Dublin, Mrs. Blanton is survived by two children besides the baby, Betty Charlene, 11 and Frankie Lou, 6, of Dublin, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Campbell, six sisters and seven brothers: Mrs. C. C. Wood, Mrs. A. O. Neely and Thad Campbell, all of Tolar; H. R. Campbell, Mrs. R. R. Murph and Mrs. Keith Mitchell, all of Atlanta, Texas; D. M. Campbell of Bonham, W. M. Campbell of San Saba, Mrs. Lestie Brooks and Lorraine Campbell of Shreveport, La.; C. E. Campbell of Seymour, Mrs. Jack Harrison of Fort Worth and R. E. Campbell Matador.

Accompanied by his wife, Mr. Campbell left Matador immediately upon receipt of the message regarding his sister's condition, returning home late Monday.

Miss Rebecca Fulkerson, who is employed at Plainview, visited here Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Fulkerson.

Western Girls Will Parade Here Today

A bevy of beautiful cowgirls is expected to enter the contest here this afternoon in order that judges may select "Miss Matador" to represent this city at the Spur Rodeo, June 16-17. Altho no official number of girls planning to enter the parade was available late yesterday, it is believed that the interest is sufficient to make the rivalry exciting and possibly make the judge's task, a difficult one.

Horsemanship, beauty, regalia, mount and personality will all be considered, according to the announcement made by the sponsoring committee last week. An unofficial report made to the Tribune late yesterday declared that the usual rules for selecting a cowgirl were based on the following qualifications: Horse, saddle and rig to be valued at 50 percent; ability to ride, or horsemanship to be valued at 30 percent and personal beauty, personality, regalia and etc., to be valued at the remaining 20 percent. The Tribune has no information that this basis will be used by the out-of-county judges this afternoon.

To Compete For Prizes

The young lady selected as "Miss Matador" will have an opportunity to compete for one of the three prizes offered by Spur, including a $135 saddle, pair of shop-made boots and a pair of silver-mounted spurs.

The parade will be held on a downtown business street this afternoon at 4 p. m.

Storage Room Ready for Use

The cold storage rooms being installed by the Leon Independent Ice Company will be ready for use next week, according to Earl Laughlin, manager of the ice plant here.

One room will be kept at a temperature of thirty-five degrees and will be used for storing fruits, vegetables, and other foods. The other room will be used primarily for the preserving of meats.

Anyone wishing to do so may place meat in the storage room and it will be kept at a ten degree temperature. A meat-cutting machine will also be provided for customers. The meat will be placed in one of the numerous lockers, that will hold 500 pounds of sliced meat each.

These rooms were especially built for cafes, hotels, grocery stores, and other business institutions that wish to preserve foods for future use. The entire public, however, is invited to take advantage of the services offered.

R. E. Campbell Turns Attention To Merchandising Chevrolet Cars

Opening Of Agency Of Interest To Motoring Public

Announcement of the formal opening of the Campbell Chevrolet Company here will be of interest to the motoring public of this section. Opening of the Matador agency, which is under the management of R. E. Campbell, the third agency to be operated by the Campbell brothers. For a number of years Mr. Campbell has been a silent partner with his brother C. E. Campbell in the Campbell Chevrolet Company of Seymour and last year they opened the second agency at Throckmorton.

Mr. Campbell is well-known in this section, having been engaged in the grocery business here for the past ten years, and operating a branch store at Roaring Springs several years. He has been active in civic and religious life in this community, included in the First Baptist church building here last year.

Complete Sales And Service
Mr. Campbell declared yesterday that the agency will stock a complete line of Chevrolet parts and maintain expert mechanical service at all times. In addition to genuine Chevrolet parts, Mr. Campbell said that he would also stock a complete line of automobile accessories.

The parts department and bookkeeping will be in charge of Mr. Groves who was employed several years by the former Chevrolet agency in the same capacity. Mr. Groves had accepted a position with a San Angelo lumber company where he was employed for about two months, when he resigned to return here and accept the place with Mr. Campbell.

In addition to Mr. Groves, Mr. Campbell and an expert mechanic present staff includes Wiley Cowan who was recently employed as salesman.

Campbell To Manage
Mr. Campbell said that he planned to devote most of his time to the agency. Busily engaged in the construction of a new home located on north Main street, Mr. Campbell said that as soon as his home is completed, he will be in position to aid more in the operation of the automobile agency. Mr. Campbell received his second car of new automobiles this week and declared that he appreciated the response which is being shown in the new 1939 Chevrolets. "We believe it is the best automobile that Chevrolet has ever built," he declared, "and evidently the public feels the same way since Chevrolet has won a decided leadership in sales of 1939 models".

Besides a wide variety of models of new cars, the agency also offers a number of used car bargains to be found elsewhere in this issue of the Tribune.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to visit the show room and inspect the new cars now on display.

New Style Gear Shift Helps Chevrolet

The new vacuum gearshift with steering column control has been the determining factor in the sale of more 1939 Chevrolets than has any other single advance embodied in the current models.

This fact is revealed by reports from Chevrolet's nation-wide dealer organization. Almost without exception, dealers cited the gearshift as the outstanding improvement for 1939, their opinion being based on customer's reaction rather than on their own.

Since the introduction of the 1939 models last October, the public has bought Chevrolets in such numbers as to give that company the largest percentage of the total business in the low priced group that it has enjoyed since 1936. Registration figures, now complete for 45 states thru the month of March, show Chevrolet leading the second-place car in all but two states and the District of Columbia. The latter's lead for those states totals 886 units, a figure more than offset by Chevrolet's lead in any one of 10 different states. The third place car also has a lead, year to date, being based on the District of Columbia, but its total lead is less than Chevrolet's lead in any one of 28 different states.

Dealers were asked not only to report on buyers' reasons for choosing Chevrolet, but, insofar as possible, on their reaction after having driven the car for some time. Comment received under this latter head shows that the public has found in the vacuum gearshift advantages beyond those of safety and convenience, which were two of the primary points advanced by Chevrolet. Many owners report that this feature enables them to make long trips without the fatigue which would ordinarily follow such a period behind the wheel. The explanation seems to be that the driver can sit in a relaxed position, since the shifting operation which once required movement of the arm and the body is now accomplished with the flick of a finger, without removing the hand from the wheel.

Other major new features which have figured in buyers' choice are the new knee-action, shockproof steering and better visibility, dealers report.

Thompson, national director of the bureau and well-known travel expert.

Based on a survey of the number of motorists who received hotel, route and other information in 1938 and a study of the number of inquiries reaching the Conoco Bureau since the first of the year, Thompson said:

"We can safely say that this will be a banner year for this state. Motorists representing practically every state in the Union, and Canada, have written us asking for route information about Texas".

From actual records of the spending habits in earlier years, Thompson gave the following analysis of the probable expenditures of Conoco visitors in 1939: "About $10,100,000 will be left in retail stores; about $8,500,000 will be spent on food and meals; $8,000,000 will go for gasoline, oil and car repairs; another $8,000,000 will be claimed by hotels and tourist houses; $3,200,000 will be spent for recreation and $2,400,000 for refreshments, souvenirs and miscellaneous items".

As one enters its sacred precincts it's like a dash of cold water in the face of the sleeper—shockingly stimulating—coupled with an element of great surprise.

TRADE AGREEMENTS OPEN VISTAS FOR S. A. COMMERCE

NOW, as at no other time, the nations of South America offer rich opportunities for enterprise, capital and men from the United States, according to Edward Tomlinson in an article in the June issue of Cosmopolitan.

Not only in Brazil but in many other South American countries are there opportunities for competent men. South America has barely scratched the surface of her rich earth.

With mutually beneficial trade agreements, we can buy raw material from South American countries and sell them our finished products.

chapel; the Churrigueresque, the Plateresque and the Moorish. The last of these three orders stands out due to its rather coarse outlines and the vivid reds and dark blues.

Looking up, through an octagonal dome, richly embellished in gold, I caught a glimpse of a golden dove in the zenith. Light came through slabs of thin onyx.

Pilfered Niches— High on the golden walls of this Chapel of the Monks, I saw many empty niches.

Monastery Interior— With this church, although not so richly adorned nor so artistic, was, nevertheless most interesting.

proached the outskirts of the Mexican capital, we paralleled the route taken by Cortez and his men on that rainy night of July 2nd, 1520, in their ignominious retreat before the furious hordes of Aztecs who pursued them.

This monastery was built almost a century before the church was started. In these quarters one sees not only the cells the priests formerly occupied but many other things of interest besides.

The Library— The Library interested me. Here one saw books dating back 1328 and 1432. Many of these books were bound in parchment and present a brave and interesting spectacle as they are ranged along the shelves.

Dining Room— In the dining room utilized by these monks, one sees a pulpit where one of the monks would pray while the rest were eating.

The "ice-box" that these clever monks used was a most ingenious contrivance. A small room was utilized for this purpose that had a double ceiling.

In the adjoining patio I noticed a stone aqueduct pouring its water into a fountain used for laundering purposes and for watering the vegetable garden.

The original kitchen used by the monks from the 16th Century. It has now been superseded by better, larger quarters, but the original kitchen finally was used by the Jesuit monks as a smoke-house where they cured their hams.

The Beggar— We motored through the same highway that we came, but this time I saw one thing that escaped my attention before—it was a beggar.

As we motored through the small town of Cautitlan I saw a small town of Cautitlan I saw a beggar, old, blind and filthy in his rags leaning against a building.

Terraces Alone Do More Good on Farm and Ranch Than $28,000,000 Marshall Ford Dam

WITHOUT expenditure of tax money and through the voluntary work of farmers, ranchmen, and county agents, over 50,000 linear miles of terraces—twice the distance around the world—were built in this West Texas region last year.

Terraces, along with a balanced program of contouring, strip-cropping, and earthen dams, stored moisture in the soil for crops, at the same time aiding flood control. Altogether they impounded over 1,000,000 acre-feet of water... all without tax expense.

Inasmuch as Marshall Ford and similar dams earned the reputation for being a "flood menace" during the same period, a lesson thereby is offered that the only effective curb on devastating floods must begin at the point where the rains fall.

Believing that industrial and agricultural development go hand-in-hand, this company has lent its efforts to promotion of soil and water conservation and the successful culmination of the 1938 soil and water utilization contest.

It is our hope that the land may be passed on to the next generation in actually better condition than it is in this.

MISS KARA HUNSUCKER

The Tribune wishes to announce Miss Kara Hunsucker, above, as a new member of its staff. Miss Hunsucker, besides being valedictorian of the Matador High School graduating Class of '39, was editor of the school section of the Tribune, "Los Toreros". Her interest and ability in journalism is well-established and much of this issue of the Tribune is proudly credited to her. She is the daughter of Mrs. Charlotte Hunsucker of Matador.

ONE CENT MORE TO BE ADDED ON CIGARETTE TAX

The Texas legislature Tuesday prepared to add another penny to the present three-cent state tax on cigarettes as part of the $15,000,000 omnibus tax measure. Proponents argued the increase would not in the long run, decrease cigarette consumption and thus decrease the tax. The three-cent tax cut down cigarette purchases for a time but they came back stronger than ever, advocates said. There is already a 6-cent federal tax on each package of cigarettes.

HISTORY OF COUNTY TOLD IN EXERCISES

The seventh grade of the Matador Grade School gave unique graduating exercises last Thursday morning by giving to the audience an interesting history of Motley County through various speeches.

The exercises, graduating twenty-six students, took place in the high school auditorium. Following the processional, played by Miss Mable Jameson, Rev. W. B. Vaughn gave an invocation. The salutatory address, "The History of Motley County", was delivered by Ruth Evelyn Keith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Keith.

The interesting class history was given by Rachel Carpenter, Norman Merle Pitts, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Pitts, gave the valedictory address, "Motley County Now". The principal address was delivered by Howard Traweck, Motley County attorney. He showed to the students the many advantages that they have now and gave them advice in regards to the future.

Jewell McCoy Is Honored AT Farewell Shower

LOCAL FACULTY MEMBERS LEAVE ON VACATIONS

Several teachers of the Matador Public Schools returned to their homes following the close of school last Friday. Mrs. Carl T. York left on Saturday morning for Abilene where she will visit her parents for two weeks. She will join her husband, who has been attending school at Texas University, and they will spend the remainder of the summer at their home in Canyon, Texas.

Hugh C. Gray left on Monday for his home at Cee Vee where he will remain for the summer. Bert Ezzell, high school principal, accompanied by Mrs. Ezzell, will visit relatives in Cisco, Texas, and will spend a portion of the vacation in attending Texas Tech at Lubbock. He expects to receive his master's degree from that college this summer.

On Monday morning, B. F. Tunnell, superintendent of the Matador schools, and son, Billy, accompanied Coach Don T. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Doss and children, George and Doris Ann, to Junction, Texas. Mrs. Doss and children will visit in DeLeon, and the other members of the party will spend several days fishing at Junction.

Two other teachers who live out of town will spend a portion of the summer in Matador. Paul Eubank will have charge of the summer school for six weeks, and Miss Zona Beth Faulkner will teach summer courses in home economics until the latter part of June.

Alien Smuggling Is Big-Time Racket

SMUGGLING of aliens is divided into two categories, according to the account of this illicit trade told to Barton Merrill by a smuggler's wife in the June issue of Cosmopolitan. Small-time smuggling is the comparatively careless running of barely identified human beings between the West Indies and Central and South America. Big-time smuggling is the highly organized business of running aliens, usually of questionable background, into the United States. Those entering by this method are paid for on arrival just as if they were commodities. If they happen to have criminal records thousands of dollars may be extorted from their anxious families and relatives. A prison record precludes an alien from the American quota but the families of such men will go to almost any extreme to entice them in this country, where they usually continue their unfortunate habits.

Many traders in human flesh are also smugglers of opium. Cargoes of opium are transferred to smugglers' launches in midocean contacts. The launches convey the opium to some arranged-for base where it is flown into the United States. This illicit traffic piles up tremendous revenues for smugglers, according to the woman interviewed, but they rarely live to enjoy their spoils. Sooner or later they come to violent ends.

LOCAL CAST TO PRESENT ANNUAL PLAY

"Balmy Mr. Brown", a farce comedy in three acts will be presented by the Matador Fire Department at the high school auditorium on Friday night, June 2.

Clay Gilbert, local fire chief, is in charge of the direction, and the proceeds are to be used by the fire department. According to Mr. Gilbert, this is one of the funniest plays ever to be presented here.

When John Brown (Paul Eubank) has a delusion that he is William Tell and escapes from an asylum, there is bound to be an entangling situation. He wanders into a country club where a home talent production is being rehearsed. Constable Ezra Bogge (Joe Berry Meador) vigorously arrests everybody, one after another, except the right fellow.

After Ezra and old man Denning (Albert Rattan) find the pirate chest which has been stored away in a haunted cave for generations, the treasure trove slips right through their fingers. Especially vivid will be the scene from the play, "William Tell", when the members of the cast appear in full dress costume depicting the "apple-shooting" scene.

Others in the cast include Mrs. Denning (Zona Beth Faulkner), who takes herself seriously; Molly Fayne (Frances Stearns), who is directing the play; Paula (Lucretia Estes), a bubbling debutante; Babs (Geraldine Skaggs), her effervescent cousin; Nan (Kara Hunsucker), another social bud; Daisy (Virginia Estes), a corrupted gal from the wide open spaces; Jerry Barton (Burrell Tipton), the boy from Princeton; and Steve (Dee Cates), a collegiate jazz leader.

One hundred and sixty choice seats have been reserved, and those desiring such seats should make reservations as soon as possible. All reserve seats will be 35c. Unreserved adult seats will be 20c, and children will be charged 10 cents.

COTTON TALK ON AIR FRIDAY

"The Cotton Situation" will be the subject of an address by Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture Friday, May 26. The speech will be given at Little Rock, Arkansas and will be broadcast beginning at 10:30 a. m. A large crowd is expected to go to Little Rock to hear the talk including delegations from Texas and other nearby states. Many others, in all parts of the cotton belt, will tune in their radios at that time to hear the address.

Public to Name Pullman Cars for First Time

A FEATURE that is expected to draw an attendance of several million at both the New York and San Francisco World's Fairs is the Pullman Company exhibit, representing to the American public the finest in land transportation and the very latest in mechanical development.

It is a far cry from the pioneering days of 1859, when the first

Pullman Lounge Car to be Exhibited at New York Fair

Pullman sleeper, "Old No. 9," set its wheels down on a Chicago & Alton roadbed, to the aluminum streamliner of today. "No. 9" was a reconstructed day coach, forty feet long (half the present length) and, save for wheels and axles, all wood. The roof of the car was flat and too low for a tall man to walk upright. The seats were immovable; two small wood-burning stoves furnished heat; and there was no bed clothing.

Speaking of "No. 9," who names Pullman cars, anyhow? How are they named? And why? At first, each car was designated by number; later by the alphabet. But numbers were soon exhausted of its twenty-six letters. It was then decided by the committee on nomenclature, made up of officers of the company, which has always done the naming, to baptize each car with a definite name.

Through its eighty-year history, sleeping cars have been named for residents of the United States, scenery of the various states, rivers, lakes, cities, historical figures, poets, soldiers, battlefields, etc. Of recent years names have been applied with an eye to the character of the car (sleeper, drawing room, dining parlor, etc.) or the railroad for which the car is built. But there is no hard and fast rule; any appropriate name.

It stands, however, that no person other than the committee on nomenclature has ever been privileged to name a Pullman car. But now, for the first time, the public has been invited to try its hand at naming new cars!

The Pullman Company inaugurated on April 25 a nation-wide car-naming contest, with fifty free round-trip tickets to either Fair to be awarded for the best names submitted. Winning names will be selected on the basis of originality, uniqueness and suitability. The judging will be done by the Reuben H. Donnelley Corporation. The contest closes Thursday, June 15, and all prize winners will be notified by mail posted no later than July 1. Entry blanks may be secured from the Pullman office in Chicago, or at any of the 21,000 ticket agents throughout the United States and Canada.

At the New York Fair, on a stretch of track 485 feet long, five Pullman cars will be exhibited: a 16-section tourist car; a streamlined 12-section car; a duplex car with "upstairs" and "downstairs" rooms and double bedrooms; an 18-roomette car, and a bar-lounge-observation car. At the Golden Gate Exposition, a tourist section, convertible single occupancy section, roomette, connecting double bedrooms, new compartment, new drawing room and lounge-observation room.

Cooling System To Be Installed In Grocery Store

A special refrigeration room is now being installed in the Spot Cash Grocery for use during the summer months. The room, which is twenty feet long and ten feet wide, will be large enough for customers to enter through a swinging glass door and choose their groceries inside.

The temperature will be kept at forty-five degrees. All foods that need refrigeration will be placed in the room, and thus they will remain cool and fresh on the hottest days.

This cooling system for grocery stores is comparatively new. Only three other towns—Hobbs, New Mexico, Abilene, and Ballinger—have such systems. It differs from air-conditioning in that refrigeration is used for cooling.

The West Texas Utilities Company is in charge of the installation.

LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Groves drove to Wellington Sunday, where they are visiting their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Groves.

Miss Amy Glenn and nephew, Glenn Woodruff, left Monday for a visit in Mineral Wells, in the home of Miss Glenn's sister, Mrs. T. T. Bouldin. Mrs. T. P. Metcalf, another sister, with her two children, of Franklin, will accompany them on their return home within about ten days.

Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Joslin and Mrs. H. S. Watson returned home Friday from Oklahoma City, Dr. and Mrs. Cronin and Their Three Sons: Patrick, Andrew and Vincent.

Dr. A. J. CRONIN, phenomenally successful novelist who turned from a career in medicine to writing, is married to a doctor, according to a sketch in the May issue of Good Housekeeping Magazine. They have three sons, Patrick, Andrew and Vincent.

Dr. Cronin's first novel, "Hatter's Castle," appeared in 1911 and was immediately successful. This was followed by "Three Lads," "Grand Canary," "The Stars Look Down" and "Lady with Carnations." In 1938, Cronin wrote "The Citadel," which was widely acclaimed by critics and was on the best-seller list for many months. His new novel, a dramatic story of the nursing profession entitled "Vigil in the Night" begins serially in the May issue of Good Housekeeping Magazine.

Dr. Cronin and his family live in a beautiful old manse, Sullington Court, in Sussex, England, where in addition to writing, Cronin farms, raises ducks, plays golf and tennis and goes fishing. He also collects modern paintings and other Chinese art objects.

Dr. Cronin is a Scotsman who Irish blood and his wife is Scotch. He spent his youth in Carmarthen and Glasgow, studied medicine and became an inspector of the Welsh mines. Here he had personal experience with harrowing and man's inhumanity to man. These unforgettable experiences are reflected in his novels. Cronin says that he will always remain a doctor at heart.

NAGGING BACKACHE
May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action. Don't Neglect It!

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking, exposure, contagion, grief, and stress, keeps doctors busy, hospitals crowded. The after-effects are disturbing to the kidneys and oftentimes people suffer without knowing that disordered kidney action may cause the trouble.

After colds, fever and similar ills there is an increase of body impurities the kidneys must filter from the blood. If the kidneys are overtaxed and fail to remove excess acid and other harmful waste, there is poisoning of the whole system.

Symptoms of disordered kidney function may be nagging backache, persistent headache, dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of strength and energy. Other signs of kidney or bladder disturbance may be burning, All over the country grateful people tell "Doan's" helped me! I recommend it to you."

Del Rio Man New President West Texas Meet

E. K. Fawcett of Del Rio, new president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, is a typical West Texan. For many years he has been one of the largest sheep ranch operators in Texas. Fawcett has represented Del Rio and Val Verde county on the board of directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for more than a decade. He was elected vice-president of the Chamber organization in 1937 and named first vice-president in 1938. He was elevated to the presidency at this year's WTCC convention which closed in Abilene, Monday, May 17. Although he has passed the age of many men retire, Mr. Fawcett is still active and hearty. Through all the years he has maintained an active interest in the welfare, not only of his home city and county, but of all West Texas as well. Pioneer Val Verde County. He first arrived in Val Verde county on July 24, 1883, coming from Yorktown, Texas. In company with a group of other young men he drove a flock of 3,000 sheep into Val Verde county and settled on Dolan Creek, about 60 miles northwest of Del Rio. The party lived in a cave until a house could be built of sycamore logs. Mr. Fawcett has prospered through the years and now owns 53 sections of land, well improved and stocked with sheep and goats. He also has a home in Del Rio where he spends most of his time. He and Mrs. Fawcett have six children, Horace, Elmer, Walter, Lee, Mrs. O. D. Finegan and Mrs. F. C. Whitehead, all of Val Verde county.

GIANT MURALS AT WORLD'S FAIR

His theme the strong, stark beauty of the machine, Dean Cornwell, one of America's foremost painters, has completed two massive murals, each 15 x 65 feet, depicting the birth and growth of a motor car body, for the Fisher body exhibit in the General Motors Building at the New York World's Fair. In his ten-foot giants, heroic figures which spread majestically across the canvas, Cornwell has caught the human relationship of man and machine, and the power of steel fused to steel. "In art, a strong draughtsman is one who looks on a human being as a machine, with an understanding of all the parts, how they work and function as an esthetic whole," Cornwell says. "When the same artist draws a machine he should treat it as a human, living thing." The murals, done in gold and aluminum leaf against a jet-black background, show the giant workmen, their bodies rippling with strength, molding crude steel into an articulate whole—man's duality of grim practicality and instinct for beauty at work. It did not take Cornwell long to be in complete sympathy with the processes of the making of a motor car body. He was able to see deeper into the machines than that which meets the eye. The machines began to live for him, and he looked upon them as a living symbol of his age. The murals, which flank the stairway leading to the Fisher exhibit, are said to rank with the painter's other important works. These include the murals in Los Angeles public library, the Lincoln Memorial at Redlands, Calif., the County Court House at Nashville, Tenn., and the Raleigh Room of the Warwick Hotel in New York City. Leading critics and connoisseurs, who have seen the work, hail it as an important contribution to 20th century American art, certainly one of the finest artistic endeavors to be seen at the Fair, and millions of people will view the murals before the fair ends.

FIRST TELEVISION PICTURE

NEW YORK—Amos 'n' Andy, famed blackfaced comedians, made television history at the New York World's Fair when they played the stellar roles in the first experimental television pickup of a commercial radio program. This is how they appeared on the television screen. Incidentally, that's Amos on the left. Later Mr. Whalen was interviewed on the national broadcast of the comedians.

Henry Ford Expresses Confidence In Youth

"GREATER progress lies ahead in the next fifty years than we've had in the last thousand," according to Henry Ford in the June Cosmopolitan. "Young people say there are no opportunities today. Why the world's opportunities are just beginning to break. The young folks of today are going to reduce prices, raise wages and increase production. That's the task youth has ahead and youth will do it. It

Henry Ford and His First Car

Henry Ford advises young Fair visitors to look for anything which will set their minds to working constructively. Imagination is the principle requirement for new invention, for when the imagination is excited people soon sense what is necessary for a better world and find ways to provide it. He also indicates that developments in mechanical farming offer great possibilities to today's youth. All kinds of inventions are needed on the farm and he predicts that in the coming year greater things will be done in the field of mechanical farming than have ever been done before.

"Farming should hold a double interest for today's young people," Ford continues. "That involved with providing better food and more food at lower prices, and at the same time, products for industrial use. The farm and the shop each need what the other produces. Real prosperity will come with farm products because the farmer is the greatest buyer of manufactured goods. Industry suffers when the farmer is short on cash." Ford practices what he preaches. Each year greater and greater tonnage of raw materials are used in his plants.

We are seeing the death of an epoch, Ford declares, but it is also the birth of a new epoch which will be far greater. He calls it the Agricultural Age and predicts that it will alter our civilization, revolutionize industry and agriculture, bring the city worker and the farmer into closer contact and better understanding.

week-ends in the month of last year. Week-ends generally exact the heaviest traffic toll.

Police Director Advises Honking In Underpasses

Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., State Police Director, confesses to one superstition that he likes. It's the one about honking three times and making a wish when your car goes through an underpass.

"I don't know how much the three honks have to do with getting your wish, but if you wish for safety the honks ought to help you out," Garrison commented. "It wouldn't be a bad idea for every motorist to make that wish either."

Famous Economist To Make Address

May 31st next has been set as the date of the Agricultural-Livestock-Industrialist meeting for West Texas region at Lubbock. This meeting will be held under the immediate direction of the Texas State Manufacturers Association, the Texas Technological College and the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. John Lee Coulter, economist, Washington, D. C., will be the principal speaker. J. Handy Wright, secretary of the committee on agricultural cooperation of the National Association of Manufacturers, will conduct a farmer-manufacturer session. Dr. Kenneth M. Reuser, head of the Department of Dairy Manufacturers at Tech will preside.

Warning that several cases of poisoning have been reported already this year, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, describes Rhus toxicodendron for the benefit of those not familiar with it. The plant has three leaves which are now green, and later become red or bright yellow. It grows on a low but erect plant, varying from several inches to three or four feet in height. The plant bears smooth, whitish, waxy berries containing a stony seed.

The easiest way you can distinguish the plant is by its leaves. Two of them are on short stalks and the third is on a longer one. They are one to four inches long, dark green on top and lighter underneath. The leaves also have notched margins.

If you are susceptible to it, slight contact with the plant may result in violent skin irritation caused by a resinous substance in the sap. First manifestations will appear within a few hours to five days. Itching, burning sensations and redness, swelling and development of small blisters on the affected parts are symptoms of rhus poisoning.

Early use of soap and hot water soon after exposure will prevent poisoning, but a brush should not be used for washing. The most effective method of prevention, however, is to avoid the plant entirely.

Ignore Rhus nitoxidendron as you would poison ivy, for if you haven't guessed it yet, they are one and the same.

Traffic Death Toll Reduced During April

Texas' traffic death toll for April was set at 90 fatalities as State Police today rounded up statistics from the far corners of the State.

The total is somewhat below the April, 1938, figure of 94 deaths and is well below the official March, 1939, figure of 120 deaths, Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., State Police Director, pointed out. Actual fatalities occurring in March were 106, but 14 additional deaths were listed as unreported from preceding months. For the same reason the April total will be augmented by one fatality previously unreported from February and seven deaths unreported from March.

"The reduction shows that safe driving can win over the most persistent highwayman of them all," Colonel Garrison declared. "Anyway you want to figure it, at least 21 more persons are alive today because more people are driving safely."

Colonel Garrison pointed out that fatalities were reduced in the face of five week-ends in April this year as compared with four

State Officer Warns Against Poison Ivy

The main trouble with Rhus toxicodendron, which is blooming now, is that most of us do not recognize it.

Not knowing this plant, many Texans, particularly those city folks who seldom go to the country, may contract a severe case of skin poisoning if they are not careful on picnics, camping and fishing trips.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD PICTURE TRIMMING

Trimming improves many pictures. Select best part—have it enlarged, with remainder masked out. One picture may contain many, as sketches at right show. Experiment with your pictures, find composition you like best—then enlarge.

THE effectiveness of a picture often depends on its proportions in relation to the natural composition of the subject. Snapshots made with the same camera are necessarily the same shape—but that does not mean that the exact proportions produced by the camera are the best for each picture.

Sometimes a picture will look better if portions on the sides are trimmed away, leaving a long, narrow panel. In other cases, a vertical picture may be improved if it is trimmed down to a horizontal shape. And often, a picture is best if it is cut almost square.

Don't accept your pictures just as they came from the camera. Try this. Cut two L-shaped pieces of white cardboard, and use them as movable masks over your prints. Move the two L-masks about, excluding various parts of the picture, and experimenting with different shapes. You are likely to find one shape which is just right for the subject. And you may find that there are two or three attractive, well-composed pictures in one not-so-good snapshot.

Frequently, you will find that the "heart" of a picture—the real picture—is just a small part of the whole. In that case, trim out the essential part, and have an enlargement made, using it as a guide.

Generally, a subject with strong horizontal lines, such as a landscape, calls for a horizontal picture. On the other hand, a picture with strong vertical lines, such as a forest scene with tall straight tree-trunks, calls for a vertical picture. Watch this point when you are taking snapshots. If a subject is suited to a vertical picture, hold the camera in the vertical "portrait" position. Again, if the subject is best in a horizontal composition, take it that way. With this method you will not need to trim your pictures so severely to make them picture shape, the whole atmosphere or "feel" of a picture can be changed. Try it—and when trimming bring out a really outstanding picture, have an enlargement made so the picture can be enjoyed in a comfortable, easy-to-view size.

The rate of 50 cents an acre of cropland applies to 65 acres (acreage of cropland in excess of the total soil-depleting allotment)...

In this example, $48 is the largest amount available to assist the farmer in carrying out soil-building practices...

Soil-building practices are measured in terms of units. For example, construction of 200 linear feet of terrace qualifies as one unit of practice...

The program provides for a long list of soil building practices in Texas. However, not all of these are adaptable to Motley County...

Each of the following counts as one unit ($1.50):

- 1. Construction of 200 linear feet of standard terrace.
2. Contour ridging of noncrop, open pasture land—750 linear feet of ridge terrace counting as one unit.
3. Construction of reservoirs and dams—10 cubic yards of material moved in making fill or excavation counting as one unit.
4. Contour listing, subsoiling (chiseling), or furrowing noncrop land.
5. Stripcropping on the contour alternating with strips of erosion-resisting crops and erosion-permitting intertilled crops.
