WASHINGTON, May 12. (AP)—The United States may ask the Soviet Union soon just what differences between the world's two great powers it considers capable of negotiation and settlement now.

Bevin Says Only Soviets Block Peace

LONDON, May 12. (AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin told parliament today only the Communists are standing in the way of world peace.

Bevin was replying to a question by Anthony Eden, wartime foreign secretary. Eden had asked whether he could make a statement about the American-Russian diplomatic exchange which the Moscow radio disclosed early yesterday.

Bandits Steal Gold Shipment

BANGKOK, May 12. (AP)—The Criminal Investigation Division announced between 20 and 30 armed bandits today stole an international gold shipment valued at $2 million.

The shipment was enroute to Macao from India on a KLM (Dutch) plane that stopped at Bangkok overnight.

The bandits, disguised as Siamese police and soldiers, halted a truck carrying 120,000 grams of gold to the customs house for safekeeping.

Nine guards were handcuffed. The bandits escaped. International air traffic from Bangkok was suspended until noon while police searched planes to prevent the gold being flown abroad.

Dragnets were formed throughout the city. An unconfirmed report said police recovered some of the gold, but officials declined to comment.

LEWIS HAS RIGHT IDEA?

New Phone Strike Hinges On Federal Mediation Try

WASHINGTON, May 12. (AP)—A possible nationwide strike of long distance telephone operators hinges today on a new government try at settling the union-company wage dispute.

John J. Moran, president of the CIO American Telephone Workers Union, said a strike date will be set if the government negotiations fail.

"Nobody pays much attention to you until you inconvenience them," Moran told a reporter. "I guess John L. Lewis has the right idea."

Further official information on this surprise development in relations between Moscow and Washington appeared likely to come from a news conference of Secretary of State Marshall scheduled for noon.

Meanwhile, it seemed that within the next few days Marshall and President Truman will have to decide how to cope with a situation which their ranking foreign policy advisers indicate privately they did not directly seek.

It is, however, a situation which has resulted in a tremendous wave of hope throughout the world that the long period of East-West tension may be nearing an end.

The State Department kept busy all day yesterday issuing the texts of various declarations to try to set the record straight on exactly what is what.

The texts issued were these: 1. A statement which Ambassador Walter Gedell Smith made to Molotov in Moscow May 4.

The substance of this statement has been cabled to Smith by the State Department although officials here said it was expressed in his own words. It was aimed, these officials said, at impressing on the Russians that the United States intends to go through with its policies for rebuilding Western Europe but is not hostile or aggressive toward the Soviet Union.

2. The statement which Molotov made to Smith in reply on May 5. In this the Soviet government assumed that what Smith had said on May 4 added up to a proposal to discuss a settlement of outstanding differences. Molotov said the Soviet Union "is in agreement with the proposal."

3. Informal comments Smith made to Molotov immediately after the ambassador had read over Molotov's reply. In this Smith reiterated substantially what he said in his first statement and sought to drive home the point that American policy had been compelled to develop as it has by what Smith called Russia's "expansionist policies" in Europe.

Contract awarded Tuesday by the state highway department for construction of a bridge across the Colorado in southwestern Scurry county.

The bridge will be on state route No. 350, the road which eventually will connect with Big Spring.

M. E. Worrell, Abilene, and Worrell and Watkins, Hillsboro, were successful bidders at $76,878 for the bridge which will replace the swinging bridge across the river.

One significance seen in the contract is that it will fix the route from Big Spring to Ira, in southwestern Scurry county, along lines already secured. Half of the diagonal road in Howard county has been topped, but the highway department has not let contract on the other half. Presumably the Ira bridge deal fixes an eastern point which would remove the obstacle from completing the Howard project.

This would carry the route diagonally across the northwest corner of Mitchell county and in proximity to the Coleman Ranch and Sharon Ridge Oil pools. From Ira to Snyder, the routing is a matter of conjecture.

Rail Unions Await Next Federal Move

WASHINGTON, May 12. (AP)—Union members under a court order to keep the nation's trains running for the Army today awaited the government's next move to settle their wage dispute.

When or in what form the move will come was not clear. The government has a full week of grace before the threat of nationwide railroad strike may arise again.

During that week the three unions involved must decide whether to fight the anti-strike edict in court or simply leave the whole burden of proof up to justice department lawyers.

Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough, who averted yesterday's threatened restraining order after the government had seized the railroads, set a hearing for next Wednesday on whether the injunction should be made permanent.

Brotherhood attorneys said today the union strategy decision has not yet been reached. Policy committees were standing by to pass on that and any other developments in the 11-month-old pay battle.

The union chiefs met with Secretary of the Army Royal yesterday and came away saying his authority to umpire the dispute remained a question.

Rommel's Gun Is No Memorial

PARIS, Ill., May 12. (AP)—The Army more than obliged Paris Legionnaires with its contribution to the city's war memorial.

The veterans' group had requested a field piece suitable for mounting on the public square. The gift arrived—a 23-ton howitzer used by General Rommel's forces during the North African campaign.

Legion Commander Elbert Bogart didn't even try to have the 35-foot weapon moved from the flat car it monopolized. He wired Army Ordnance that the howitzer wasn't at all what the Legion men had in mind.

The Army took his order for two light 75 millimeter guns to be placed on either side of a flagpole, and authorized re-shipment of the original gift to the Terre Haute Ordnance plant.

Manpower Bill Hits Racial Issue Head-On

Angry Dixie Solons Promise Red-Hot Fight

WASHINGTON, May 12. (AP)—The Senate's military manpower bill bumped head-on today into the explosive race segregation issue.

Even before the compromise measure blending a five-year draft revival with a voluntary training program for 18-year-olds hit the floor, angry southern senators promised a red hot fight.

And when southerners talk fight in the Senate they often mean filibuster.

What they want is a provision in the bill guaranteeing every enlisted man the right to serve only in a unit of "his own race."

Senator Russell (D-Ga.) asked the Armed Services Committee to approve such an amendment yesterday, but the committee turned him down, 7 to 4.

Senator Maybank (D-SC), who cast one of the losing votes, served this warning on his colleagues: "The day that this bill comes to the floor I will make speeches and offer amendments until the issue is cleared. It cannot be allowed to pass in its present form."

Maybank and Russell, along with Senators Byrd (D-Va.) and Hill (D-Ala.)—the others who voted for the segregation provision—all have been active in the Dixie revolt against President Truman's civil rights program.

This was the first time, however, that the Democratic Party strife spilled over into any phase of the preparedness program Mr. Truman laid before Congress in his St. Patrick's Day speech.

The Armed Services Committee has been wrestling ever since with the draft and universal military training requests the President outlined in that address.

Newsmen who asked Chairman Gurney (R-SD) whether the segregation question might jeopardize the compromise bill finally worked out were given this reply: "I am not making any forecasts but I sincerely wish that issue never had been raised."

Russell strode from the committee session which rejected his amendment and shortly issued a crackling statement. "The amendment did not enforce segregation," he said. "It only preserved freedom of choice to the individual as to the race of the military unit in which he is forced to serve."

Boy Found Dead In Crashed Plane

MARSHALL, May 12. (AP)—Fifteen-year-old Edward Corrier was dead today because of his love for airplanes.

He was found yesterday in a plane which had cracked up in a field next to the Marshall airport. Deputy Sheriff Hulon Huffman said the plane apparently had made a takeoff—it was nearly demolished. Officers today were comparing blood samples from the plane with those of Corrier to determine if any other person was involved.

Young Corrier was taken to Kahn Memorial Hospital where he died this morning. Death was attributed to skull fractures and brain hemorrhages. He suffered other injuries.

W. S. Sanders, airport manager, said the boy, whose home is at Woodlawn, a rural community six miles north of here, hung around the airport during the afternoon.

Police Are Holding Suspect In Theft

City police were holding one suspect this morning for questioning in connection with the theft of several articles of clothing from an automobile last night.

The vehicle was parked at the Motor Inn Courts at the time the theft was reported.

Burglars attempted to open the safe in the YMCA headquarters last night, officers said. Although they were unsuccessful in reaching the safe's contents, the mechanism was jammed sufficiently to require repairs.

U.N. Struggles For Decision On Palestine

LAKE SUCCESS, May 12. (AP)—With only two days left to act, the United Nations struggled today to thresh out some decision on what is to happen to Palestine.

The deadline is midnight Friday, Palestine time, or 4 p. m. CST, when the British drop their old League of Nations mandate over the Holy Land.

No agreement is in sight here, either on the Palestine problem as a whole or on special measures to safeguard the holy places of Jerusalem, although a special session of the United Nations assembly has been sparring with both questions for nearly a month.

A special subcommittee received last night a proposal from the United States and France that Jerusalem be placed temporarily under the authority of the United Nations when the British mandate ends. Under this proposal the UN trusteeship council would be the administrative authority. It would be empowered to name a high commissioner for the city, site of holy shrines of three religions.

Jewish Agency sources here disclosed, meanwhile, that the agency will emerge in a new role after it loses its official standing as spokesman for the Holy Land's Jews Friday.

Governor Files A Complaint In Michigan

Strike Opens Third Round In Wage War

DETROIT, May 12. (AP)—The CIO's 75,000 Chrysler Corp. employes struck today for a third round of post-war wage increases.

Gov. Sigler immediately ordered a complaint against the strikers under Michigan's new Bonine-Tripp labor law.

It requires that the state take a strike vote before workers can walk out. The CIO United Auto Workers contend it does not apply when a firm has plants outside of Michigan.

Sigler told reporters that he had asked the State Labor Mediation Board to make a complaint to Wayne County (Detroit) Prosecutor James McNally. Under the law, McNally then could ask a court injunction.

"Either the law is good or it isn't," Sigler said. "If it's constitutional, we might as well find out now."

Picket Cal Moorehead, parading before the big Dodge main plant, told reporters "It looks like a long strike."

"This will probably be tough," he added. Picketing was quiet. Union headquarters said the first workers out were those at the Dodge truck plant. They jumped the gun by 30 minutes.

The union already is raising a million dollar "kitty" to finance the walkout.

The executive board of the union met in special session as picket lines were thrown about Chrysler's Detroit plants.

Negotiations broke down Tuesday night on wage demands of the CIO United Auto Workers. The union scaled its 30 cent an hour demand, down to 17 cents without success. The best company offer was six cents an hour.

It was the auto industry's first major strike since November, 1945, when the UAW and CIO walked out at General Motors Corp. to begin a 113-day siege.

It was the first big strike at Chrysler since 1939. Police Commissioner Harry Toy said he had been informed by the union that non-striking office and maintenance help would be permitted to "go in and out as heretofore."

Norman Matthews, head of the union's Chrysler negotiators, told a UAW-CIO meeting last night that "since Chrysler has forced us into the position of striking, we will give them the damndest strike they have ever seen."

General Manager Herman L. Weckler of the corporation said that, despite the strike, the company is "still willing to discuss the situation and to arrive at a reasonable settlement."

New Yorkers Cheer Wallace

NEW YORK, May 12. (AP)—A crowd estimated at 18,000 cheered Henry A. Wallace last night as he outlined his ideas for ending the "cold war" and launching a "century of peace."

Addressing a Madison Square Garden rally, the third party presidential candidate said that there are no differences between the United States and the Soviet Union "which cannot be settled by peaceful, hopeful negotiations."

He presented his views in the form of an "open letter" addressed to Prime Minister Stalin. Wallace's running mate, Sen. Glen Taylor (D-Idaho) also spoke at the rally, which was sponsored by the Wallace for President Committee.

Between bursts of applause, Wallace enumerated six "definitive, decisive steps" which he said must be taken to restore a "common ground of peace."

He called for general disarmament, outlawing of weapons of mass destruction, a ban against export of weapons by any nation, and resumption of unrestricted trade between Russia and this country, except for war goods.

Jews Control Arab Jaffa

TEL AVIV, Palestine, May 12. (AP)—Mayor Israel Rokach announced today the administration of neighboring Jaffa had been "taken over" by this all-Jewish city.

Jaffa, an all-Arab city, has been the main port of the Arabs in Palestine.

The announcement came a few hours after Abu Laban, chairman of the Jaffa Emergency Committee, came to Tel Aviv in a car guarded by the Jewish militia Haganah for a truce talk. The Jaffa Emergency Committee which took over the virtually deserted Arab city last week end already had declared Jaffa defenseless and without normal municipal service.

Thousands of Arabs had fled the city following Jewish attacks on it. The Jews succeeded in virtually isolating the city before the British stepped in and enforced a truce.

East Fourth Baptist WMS Has Missionary Program Tuesday

The East Fourth Baptist Women's Missionary Society used as the Missionary theme, "Laborers Together In Our Denomination" Tuesday afternoon at the church.

The program was opened with the hymn, "Onward Christian Soldiers" after which Mrs. S. H. Morrison led in prayer.

Mrs. J. S. Parks used John 4:34-38 and I Cor. 3:5-9 for the devotional period. Mrs. George McLellan gave a demonstration on planting the flower garden and how it correlates with planting and harvesting in the Kingdom of God. She pointed out that the time for laboring is limited and that Jesus said, "I must work the works of him who sent me while it is day for the night cometh when no man can work." George McLellan sang, "Work for the Night Cometh" as the lights were extinguished.

Mrs. B. D. Rice discussed, "Laborers Together" showing that working together in God's work means fellowship, power and success. Mrs. A. S. Woods led in prayer asking that the members might realize the value of cooperation in the Lord's work. Mrs. L. F. Brothers explicated the importance of working together in the WMU. Mrs. Tom Buckner related how necessary it is to work together in the denomination through the help of WMU, the foreign and home missions.

The highlight of the program was Mrs. D. J. Wright's talk on laboring together with God. The missionary field is God's work, he designed it and it is his plan for saving a lost world. A spotlight was placed on Sallman's picture of Christ as the Great Commission, Matthew 28:19-20 was repeated. A prayer was also given that the Women's Missionary union and Southern Baptist convention may always work together and with God for the furtherance of the gospel.

Refreshments were served by Circle four to Mrs. Bill Sandridge, Mrs. Edith Harrill, Mrs. Jim Bennett, Mrs. A. S. Woods, Mrs. Tom Buckner, Mrs. J. S. Parks, Mrs. B. D. Rice, Mrs. D. J. Officials Call Municipal Conference Here A Success

With attendance exceeding estimates, the first of a series of eight regional League of Texas Municipal meetings was regarded as successful here Tuesday.

The entire day was spent in talking shop, dealing with an assortment of problems such as the employ retirement program, taxicab ordinances, paving procedures and costs, fire calls outside city limits, extending utilities beyond corporate limits, trash and garbage collections, etc.

B. J. McDaniel, Abilene, former city manager in Big Spring, was empowered as chairman to name a legislative committee of five to serve with others from the various regions in constituting a league legislative committee. McDaniel said he was not ready to announce the personnel, but indicated that G. W. Dabney, Big Spring mayor, might be among those appointed.

Dean Gorham, Austin, director of the Texas Municipal Retirement system, told city officials that "board wants something sound" and therefore is proceeding slowly and already is suggesting some amendments. Under terms of the act, he said, no individual is liable for payments on prior service, but that participating municipalities would be liable for prior service payment, which would be amortized over long periods of time. He envisioned the day when all Texas cities would be under the system. Big Spring is one of those which turned it down at the polls.

Under amendments to article 6698, said E. E. McAdams, Austin, executive secretary of the league, cities can levy a two per cent gross receipts tax on taxicabs, city buses, etc. Under special contracts, the figure could be four per cent or more, he said. Some cities levy a street use tax, he added, some a flat per cab rate.

There was little uniformity in paving procedures. Big Spring reported a contract plan averaging out $5.15 per front foot on 40-foot streets with an inch and half asphaltic base. Odessa reported a two-course penetration type at $3 per foot. Curb and gutter costs ranged from 5.85 cents to $2.35 on 18-inch to 24-inch curb and gutter. Most cities participated to the extent of one-third on paving.

Most cities also charged substantially higher rates for outside city limits utility service or refused to serve at all. San Angelo, Odessa, Big Lake, Kermit, Wink, Colorado City reported county participation in fire fighting equipment so that outside city limit calls might be made. Crosbyton representatives were told a veterinarian could not serve as health officer but might be agent for the health officer. In cases where attendance at commission meetings dwindles below a quorum, proceedings may be halted at any time on a point of order, officials were told.

Cities suggested looking into liquor, gasoline tax, automobile registrations and admissions of 50-cents and less as new sources of revenues. Better than half the cities reported charges for garbage disposal service and 50 cents per month was the general residential figure. Sanitary fill method was recommended for ultimate disposal and many cities were said to be reclaiming land by thus disposing of refuse.

U. T. RESEARCHER SAYS

New Tax Sources May Be Necessary

State legislation which would permit municipalities to "broaden the tax base" (open more sources of taxation) may have to be the solution of cities' search for more revenue.

This was the suggestion of Dr. Stuart MacCorkie, of the Bureau of Municipal Research, University of Texas, in a luncheon address at Tuesday's meeting of city officials.

MacCorkie pointed to the rapid growth of Texas towns as a factor in the need for more money—to provide additional services, etc.,—and said that such routes as increased valuations and tax rates could not be pursued much farther.

He was opposed, he said, to systems pursued by other states, including taxes collected by the states and shared with the municipalities, or the grant-in-aid plan whereby states made direct revenue grants to cities. These, he said, tended to take independence away from the cities. Some states have permitted cities to place excise taxes on retail sales, restaurant checks, utility bills, liquor, amusement admissions, hotel rooms and motor vehicles, he said. The city sales tax plan is spreading, particularly on the west coast.

Such a program might have to be the answer, the speaker said, but he also shared with all citizens the aversion to such special levies. Best of all MacCorkie told the audience, is to establish and maintain more efficient administration, with an eye to cutting of governmental costs.

Lovera Cigar Supply Jumps

The announcement by the G. H. P. Cigar Co. of a 40 per cent increase in Lovera Cigar shipments to their exclusive distributor, Brannon-Sigalago Cigar Co., Dallas, has brought back to life one of Texas' oldest and most consistent newspaper advertisers after a lapse incidental to production difficulties during the war years.

This was pointed out by Wesley Burch, representative of the company, while in Big Spring calling on the trade and stocking businesses with Loveras.

"Despite the fact that we have had orders for millions of Loveras annually which we could not fill, due to lack of stocks, we are proud that we have kept our sales staff intact through these non-selling years," J. Harper Brannon was quoted as saying. "The majority of our sales staff has been with us a long time and we felt that the least our company could do was to maintain them on the payroll, even though their activities were, of necessity, restricted to other programs of selling."

"Naturally my associates and I are deeply appreciative of the promised relief on Loveras, so we can take care of the demand of our customers."

Burch said the president of the G. H. P. Cigar Co. announced in Dallas last week that the company will pay the highest price in history for the light, select wrappers that Texans demand for their smokes.

Girl Sentenced For Shootings

EMINENCE, Mo., May 12. (AP)—Seventeen-year-old Betty Jane Kroeger was sentenced last night to 20 years in the state penitentiary for the fatal shooting of her father.

The girl told the jury, which returned the guilty verdict, that she watched her father shoot her mother, then later shot her father in self defense.

"I told him I was going to tell police," she testified. "He got white around the eyes and said if I wanted to see the light of another day I'd better not. I told him I didn't care what happened after Mom died. I pulled a gun from my purse. He started toward me. There was nothing to throw. I fired."

A written statement signed by the girl following her arrest March 8 was admitted as evidence by Circuit Judge Gordon Dorris. It said she killed both her parents. Judge Dorris dismissed a charge of murder in the death of her mother at the prosecution's request.

TCU Golfers Spoil Chances Of Texas

FORT WORTH, May 12. (AP)—University of Texas golfers held a 4-2 victory over Texas Christian today, but it was soured a bit because the Frogs' two points kept Texas out of a tie for the Southwest Conference Championship.

TCU's Jack Williams and Bobby Malone did Texas A. and M. the favor of spoiling Texas' last chance yesterday.

Williams beat Hugh Dahlberg, 3 and 1, and teamed with Malone to beat Morris Williams and Dahlberg, 3 and 2, in the Number one low ball match.

An Answer To Red Parades

An example of how communism can be placed in its proper perspective and peacefully and effectively so was demonstrated the other day in New York City.

As is always the case, since it coincides with the comintern's May Day rallies, parades are held the world over on May 1 by communists and communist sympathizers. In this country at least, they are a vocal minority, but in larger centers where working conditions and living conditions are conducive to the sprouting of communist seeds, the concentration is sufficient to give a pretty fair number for parade participation.

You may be sure that when the communists have a parade, all the communists plus anyone else they can rope in will be in that parade. They will be carrying deceptive and derisive posters which either attack the government or seek to undermine it by innuendo.

On this last May Day in New York City, other citizens quietly organized a Loyalty Day program. Instead of lining the sidewalks to heckle or try to pull rowdy stuff in breaking up the communist parade, 70,000 people showed up to march in the loyalty parade. It completely overshadowed the Red procession and it gave anti-communists a means of expressing their approval of the American democratic system. About all the communists can do about a thing of that sort is to cry that it is reactionary or something or another. In short, about all they can do is cry.

Service For Public Good

The meeting of representatives from more than a score of cities in this area to the regional League of Texas Municipalities session here Tuesday is a good instance of why the average city gets reasonably sound government.

For every paid worker that was here for the parley Tuesday, there were two or three others who were volunteers or those receiving only token payment for serving on official boards.

These men, including those on the Big Spring commission, laid aside their jobs for the day. They had no compensation for time away from their businesses or professions. They came for one reason—to learn how other cities are handling certain problems, how they may function more effectively, how maximum service can be provided at minimum cost.

Because they are giving service out of a sense of civic responsibility, these men function without political fears and vote as they feel will best benefit the most people.

Another interesting and refreshing thing that came out of the meeting was in the legislative discussions. E. E. McAdams, executive secretary, urged cities to refrain from suggesting laws unless they saw a real and pressing need for such laws. "We don't want any more legislation than absolutely necessary," he said. And a lot of people will say amen to that.

Tarts, Darts And Dashes

It's a sign of prosperity when men's pants bag at the pockets instead of the knees.

Arms Of The World

America's Peace Bid

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Washington's plain-spoken and at times bluntly-worded bid for "decent and reasonable relationship" with Russia is a historic experiment which may at least produce some clarification of Moscow's intentions.

American Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith has told Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov that "as far as the United States is concerned, the door is always open for full discussion and the composing of our differences." Smith followed this with the forthright assertion that the American people are solidly behind the United States policy toward Russia. Molotov is quoted by the Russian news agency Tass as replying: "The Soviet government views favorably the desire of the government of the United States to improve relations . . . and agrees to the proposal to proceed with this end in view to discussion and settlement of differences existing between us."

American diplomatic quarters are examining the Soviet reply with extreme caution. So does this columnist, and he invites readers to do the same. One is reminded of the truism that words are the cheapest commodity on the market and that it's concrete actions which count.

All honest folk most certainly must wish for good results, but we should approach this test with realism. There is one basic fact which we cannot escape:

All the differences between the United States and Russia stem from the Soviet's cardinal policy of world revolution for the spread of communism. As this column has so often pointed out before, that policy has existed ever since the establishment of the Bolshevik regime in 1917. It is a vital part of the Communist program.

We see the concrete effects of this policy in many countries throughout the world. It has even dominated the United Nations to such an extent that the work of the peace organization has been all but hamstrung. It is doing its best to throttle the Marshall Plan for rehabilitation of Europe. It is reaching for political control within the United States itself.

The Nation Today

U. S. Runs Railroads

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, (U.P.)—What happens when the government takes over the nation's railroads?

Nothing, really, unless there's a strike or trouble. In that case, the government actually steps in. Otherwise, it just sits back and lets the railroad companies run the trains just as they did before the government took over.

If the workers stay on the job and keep the trains going till their dispute with the railroads is settled—which is what they're doing—everything goes on as before.

The President—as in the present case—just issues an order saying the government is seizing the roads.

Then he appoints someone—in this case the Army in the person of Secretary of the Army Royall—to be the railroad boss.

As soon as Royall was appointed he handed the job over to Maj. Gen. Edward H. Leavelle, the Army's top transportation man.

What about the money the railroads collect while the government has the roads? Who gets that? The railroads, just as before. Mr. Truman's order said that should be done.

Who pays the workers while the government has the roads? The railroad companies, just as before.

If there's a strike, then the government takes an active hand. The government could hardly try to run the nation's railroad system with troops. They don't know enough about railroading.

In short—unless there's a strike or trouble—government seizure of the railroads is hardly more than an order on a piece of paper.

This is the fourth time in 30 years that the government has seized the railroads. It did it in 1918, in 1943, and again in 1946.

The government took over yesterday 18 hours before the strike was due to start. As a result, it never did start. The workers agreed to obey a court order and stay on the job.

In 1946 workers struck, though the government had taken over the roads six days before.

The strike was broken and the men went back to work when President Truman asked Congress to pass a law drafting the strikers into the Army.

Highways Hit

TOPEKA, Kan. (U.P.)—The Kansas highway system, second largest among the nation's states but with one of the lowest revenue totals for construction and maintenance, was dealt a record $2,000,000 blow in damage during the severe winter weather, engineers reported to Gov. Frank Carlson.

"DARN SHAME - MAYBE YOU CAN BUY MORE FROM ARABIA"

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Arabs Have Wary Eye On Abdullah

WASHINGTON.—Arab leaders have been meeting secretly to plan for the invasion of Palestine, and some of them are not too happy. They don't particularly trust King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan, the central figure of the proposed invasion.

King Farouk of Egypt, Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia, and the Syrian government fear Abdullah will promote his own greater-Syrian ambitions by annexing part of Palestine for himself and then quit. These fears were increased by a recent secret meeting at Amman between Abdullah and his nephew, Prince Abdul-Ilah, the regent of Iraq. Arab leaders have also got wind of a secret British understanding with Abdullah, giving Trans-Jordan a permanent corridor to the Mediterranean, in the vicinity of Gaza.

Final agreement on Arab invasion plans was reached at a secret meeting at Serka, Trans-Jordan, on April 23, attended by representatives of all the Arab states and the Arab higher committee, including the Mufti. The main points of the agreement were:

The invasion army to be known as the "Arab League Palestine Army of Liberation." It will comprise the Arab legion, supplemented by contingents from the regular forces of Egypt, Iraq, Syria, Lebanon, and Saudi Arabia. The contingent from each country will number between 2,000 and 3,500 men. In addition, Egypt and Iraq agreed to supply air force units.

Abdullah was appointed supreme commander, with a general from each Arab state and two Palestine Arab commanders under him. General Ismail Safur, British-trained commander-in-chief of the volunteer "liberation army," and Fawzi Al Kawajji, present field commander of Arab forces are to be absorbed in the new headquarters at Jericho. The Mufti's assignment is to watch Abdullah.

Arab states agreed at the secret meeting to finance the operation in proportion to their national resources, not in proportion to their contingents. Egypt is to bear the largest share; Iraq, which gets most of its money from England, is next.

D-Day was set for May 16, on which day a Palestine Arab provisional government is to be proclaimed and recognized by the Arab governments.

One significant statement at the meeting was made by the Grand Mufti, who interpreted the state department's and United Nations' failure to become alarmed at previous Arab aggression as a guarantee they would not become excited over the invasion.

If the United States or the United Nations stiffened its attitude, however, it was agreed that Arab strategy might have to be changed.

Note—Since then, Arab leaders are reported worried over the Jews' ability to defeat their armor for invasion.

NO 49TH STATE
The Hawaiian statehood bill, which passed the House by a big majority, was secretly scuttled 7 to 5 by the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs committee. Republican Sen. Guy Gordon of Oregon and Democratic Sen. Joseph O'Mahoney of Wyoming led the fight for making Hawaii the 49th state, but were overridden behind closed doors by Senators Hugh Butler of Nebraska, the committee chairman, Eugene Millikin of Colorado, and other Republicans.

However, here is the pay-off. After voting down the statehood bill, the same senators decided on another congressional junket to Hawaii—the 14th in the last five years—this time to investigate alleged communism in the islands.

Butler and GOP colleagues apparently were more interested in getting a vacation on the sands of Waikiki at the expense of taxpayers than in granting Hawaii's rightful claim to statehood. Note—One unfortunate aftermath of the Senate action is that Hawaii's able delegate to congress, Joseph Farrington, who was chiefly responsible for piloting the statehood measure through the House, faces defeat in the next election because his own political party knifed the bill in the Senate. Farrington is a republican.

REAL-ESTATE FRIEND
Washington's real-estate spokesman, Sen. Harry Cain, who tried to scuttle public housing in the Senate the other day, blew up a verbal hailstorm on the Senate floor.

In the thick of it were two fellow republicans, Charles Tobey of New Hampshire and Ralph Flanders of Vermont.

"Last Friday," thundered Tobey, "he (Cain) stated that if we adopted his amendment, it would lessen the chances of the House adopting the general housing bill which the Senate passed unanimously."

Then, lifting his eyes to the rafters, Tobey appealed: "Are we going to commit Hara-Kiri? I ask you, Sir!"

"Is it Hara-Kiri," cut in Flanders dryly, "or Harry Cain?" Note—Republican leaders in Washington state say that Cain has already committed political Hara-Kiri.

PICKETING CONGRESSMAN
Congressman Aime Forand, Rhode Island democrat, has finally taken the wind out of the ever-flowing speeches of amiable Congressman Bud Gearhart, California republican.

Gearhart has been assailing his colleagues with tirades against the reciprocal trade treaties, so every time Gearhart preaches for more than 15 minutes; Forand pickets him.

Autry Plans To Make Political Conventions
By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (U.P.)—Gene Autry is trying to arrange his plans so he'll be able to visit the republican and democratic national conventions this summer.

An ardent sideline observer of politics, Gene will probably attend the conventions as representative of his newspaper and radio interests, but no doubt they'll ask him to sing. The guitar-picking cowboy stresses his impartiality; he's a longtime friend of both the GOP's Harold Stassen and the Demo's Bob Hannagan.

Gene is currently making "Loaded Pistols" with Barbara Britton. She's the first leading lady to co-star with him, but he isn't worried about gals stealing his thunder. "It hasn't hurt Crosby to have co-stars," he says.

George Brent makes no secret of his lack of enthusiasm for his next film at U-I, "Wildfire." He's supposed to play Ann Blyth's father instead of the romantic lead. It's a Zane Grey story about the pursuit of a wild Mustang across hundreds of miles of desert. "The only horses I'll be following," says George, "will be running at Hollywood park."

Wanda Hendrix is becoming more interested in Robert Stack, confirming reports of her rift with Audie Murphy.

Rita Hayworth's next film is reportedly "Lona Hanson," a story of a city girl who inherits a Montana ranch. All the characters will be westerners except Rita. After "Lona" she'll probably enact "Anna Lucasta"...

Powerful Shutters

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK, May 12. (U.P.)—One of the men who did the most for the late Queen Marie of Rumania on her American tour was the ship news photographer who said: "Show a little more leg, Queenie."

She did, the shutters clicked—and the American people were sold on the first visiting member of royalty human enough to show her pretty gams. Purple cheese-cake was something new.

Just as astute a job of publicity for the King and Queen of England was managed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt when he served them hot dogs at Hyde Park. Some sons of "the empire" may have wriggled at the photographs, but every American who had ever forked over a nickel for a frankfurter—those were the good old days—put down the King and Queen as cousins.

Today few people with a message to the public shun the camera. Its silent eloquence sometimes can do more than the spoken word in getting public sympathy.

What convinced more people that the elder John D. Rockefeller was a kindly old man with generous principles? His multi-million dollar bequests? Or pictures showing him handing out dimes to eager youngsters?

Did Socialist Norman Thomas' talk at Jersey City in the heyday of Mayor Hague emphasize the importance of free speech as much as the picture showing him erect, eyes closed, taking a spattering egg in the face? Who remembers what Financier J. P. Morgan said at the Senate hearing? Very few.

Who remembers the chuckle-filled picture of the lady midget plumped in his lap there? Practically everyone who saw it.

For pictures have a never-failing appeal to the human mind, an appeal often stronger than words. People quarrel and praise with words, but when they think of each other it is usually in terms of pictures.

This has given a new status to the news photographer, who lives by the old Chinese proverb, "A picture is worth ten thousand words."

A campaign picture by a photographer you never heard of may crystallize your preference and lead you to say:

"I like him. That's the man for me."

Coolidge posed for pictures wearing an Indian headdress. They looked ridiculous, but the average reaction was: "He wants to show he's a good guy."

Texas Today

Minutemen Of Storm

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
When storms hit Texas, men of the little-publicized State Highway Department swarm like ants to aid and warn the motoring public.

In flooded North Texas today these men are posted in law areas, watching the threat of high water, closing roads, warning of dangerous underpasses.

We rode with one of these fellows through a blinding rainstorm at dawn today and learned the emergency workings of the Highway Department.

An engineer of the Highway Department, W. C. Whitman, a native of Bowie, became a rescue expert when a storm hit the Dallas area.

In his high-riding truck, he pushed stranded motorists out of low areas to shelter, and with practiced eye he watched the rising waters of overflowing creeks.

The thousands of Highway Department workers in Texas are coordinated by teletype from the main office in Austin. District offices are in every section of the state—generally there are about seven counties to a district.

"When an emergency comes up," Whitman explained to us, "we are ready for it. When a big rain—like this one—comes along, we know where to expect trouble. We know what highways will go out first. When a Highway Department man finds high water, he puts up signs and then stays right there with it. Generally he finds a few cars stranded and he pulls them to safety."

"It's a funny thing, but some motorists refuse to pay attention to warnings. You can stop a car and tell the driver that the water is too high to navigate and lots of times they just plow right on into it. We have no authority to stop them—if they want to go ahead we can't do anything about it."

"We're not under any obligation to pull them out when they go ahead and get stalled, either, but we nearly always do after we've let them sit there a while."

Schoolhouse Burns

FARGO, N. D. (U.P.)—What was believed to be North Dakota's oldest rural school has been destroyed by fire. The one-room brick building, popularly known as "The Little Red Schoolhouse," was built just outside Fargo in 1877, when this area still was a part of Dakota Territory.

Around The Rim—By The Herald Staff

We Were Rich And We Knew It

Everyone has nostalgic memories of childhood days, and I certainly am no exception.

Of course that was before the town had grown to anything like its present proportions, and we lacked many of the social problems that have accompanied material development.

It was before this four-bit collection of syllables known as juvenile delinquency had been added to most vocabularies. I guess we got into our share of meanness in the process of finding things to do—which seemed not to be the chore it now is—but unless some kid got into serious stealing, nobody seemed to get too excited about the juvenile situation.

Right off I can't recall any really malicious activities in which the kids in our end of town indulged. Maybe the human conscience is salvaged by a merciful memory of the good things.

Some of the things I do most remember, though, are those such as the summer season. Inevitably, there had to be a straw hat, sometime a very practical medium brimmed affair, but most often a copious interpenetration of the 10-gallon sombrero. Going barefoot went with the straw hat like ham used to go with eggs.

Rigged in our hats, probably a blue shirt and pair of overalls, we'd paddle off down the sandy ruts of a road, running like mad to get to a spot of shade. Then we'd dance momentarily until we got cool air and cooler sand between our baked toes and gained courage for another dash. Occasionally, we paused to spot locusts (or what we called locusts) singing shrilly from their anchors on the side of a tree. These always made handy pets, just the same as a June bug did with a thin thread tied to its hind leg.

There were certain standby games, among them stick horses. We got more fun out of riding a red picket and a make-believe remudas than most kids seem to get today out of riding merry-go-round or flesh-and-blood mounts. I guess we got safely along in years before we stopped skipping off into the foothills to gallop secretly about on our favorite palling in search of imaginary rustlers or bandits. In the meantime, there's no telling how many pieces of wood we had branded with pride of ownership.

Although it would be frowned upon as unsafe—and I guess it was—we rode the gravel wagons frequently from the pits (which were located diagonally from where East Ward is now situated to the present ball park site) to some point on the east-west highway. This gave us the idea of developing gravel pits of our own, and for hours on end we would scrape up dirt, dump it through a trap hole in a board into a chewing tobacco box below. With a string, we dug this to the spot for dumping and continued the process over and over until we had built little roads all over the neighborhood.

Still another activity which thrived and waned alternately was that of "caves." The Lord hadn't blessed the area with caverns, so we either dug holes in the ground and covered over with such material as soil or kind, or we tried to bore into the side of caliche hills. Countless gallons of sweat rolled off and untold amounts of soil air were breathed in these private confines, and even a cedar-bark cigar or a coffee cigarette were lighted up now and then. But the spirit of exclusiveness and adventure—especially when the Floyd Collins story unfolded in Kentucky—was like a million dollars. We were rich, and I think we somehow knew it.—JOE PICKLE

Williams Is Like Subdued Saroyan

By JACK O'BRIEN
NEW YORK—Having been asked interminably what Tennessee Williams, the leading young man of theatrical letters hereabouts, is like, I'd say, generalizing, he's a sort of subdued William Saroyan. He does not dazzle you with the apparently frivolous dash of Saroyan. He impresses everyone who knows him with unswerving hard work.

Other playwrights take a month or a year off after battling out a play such as "A Streetcar Named Desire," winner of both this year's Pulitzer and the New York Drama Critics Circle Prize. But Williams, on the Sunday after "Streetcar" busted into the hit class, was hard at another play.

One thing bothers our literary set: Williams' absence from the Park Avenue parties and afternoon luncheons of the cultural kiddies. He's off somewhere in Italy, lathering material for future stage projects.

This, then, seems a good enough time for a thumbnail rundown on this young man of Manhattan, Italy, St. Louis, New Orleans, Hollywood and literally dozens of communities in which he has starved, labored, lolled and matured. He's 33, and a bachelor. His plays, dealing in delicately emotional themes and spidery moods, would give the impression that here is a young man who should be equally delicate, probably a thin, brooding ascetic, dreamy youngster with feet planted firmly in thin air and a psychiatrist on full-time retainer; for how else could he so successfully probe tortured minds!

Instead, he's short, mustachioed, more than a little pudgy about the middle. He's a bow tie guy, lives in a one-room confusion while in New York, in hotel rooms elsewhere. After his first hit, "The Glass Menagerie," some one convinced him his new financial stature necessitated a plush hotel suite. He was in it only a few weeks when he began to recoil in horror at his new-found luxury.

HITS ANIMAL DISTEMPER

New Vaccine May Aid Fur Industry

MINNEAPOLIS, May 12. (P)—A new vaccine has been developed against distemper in foxes and minks—two of the big shots in the fur neckpiece and coat circles—the Society of American Bacteriologists was told today. Distemper is one of the most destructive of diseases among furbearing animals. Doctors J. L. West and C. A. Brandy of the University of Wisconsin described the development. Brandy said the new material "gives protection to animals on the furring range with more safety than ever has been possible before." Saying the vaccine was made of "killed" virus with materials added to prolong its immunizing power, Brandy declared it lacked the hazards of existing vaccines made of "live" virus, although the duration of its protective power is less. A possible new cause for pneumonia in pigs was described to the meeting by Doctors S. H. McNitt and Paulo Dacorso, also of the University of Wisconsin. They reported that strains of a swine virus, not previously reported in the United States, had been detected among small pigs—and that it might be a pneumonia organism. It has a strong tendency to attack the lungs. "Three of the (five) strains," they said, "were obtained from herds wherein there were losses of from 50 to 90 per cent of the spring pig crop." In still another report, Dr. Preston Harrison of Baylor University College of Medicine, Texas, said certain substances—called "coproantibodies"—were found in human waste products during diseases like dysentery and diarrhea. He said these substances offered a means of diagnosing those diseases and measuring the effectiveness of treatment. He said these antibodies are nature's own defensive mechanisms against germs that invade the intestinal tract. He declared it might eventually be possible to produce an oral vaccine made of non-infectious germs so that the production of these antibodies would be stimulated while a person was well. Then, he said, when a natural attack by these germs came along, the body would be able to fight them off.

Crowd Cheers Freed Farmer After Trial

MARSHALL, Mich., May 12. (P)—Earl Kent, 20-year-old farmer, was free today of a charge of murdering his high school sweetheart, Flavian Watkins. A circuit court jury of seven women and five men acquitted young Kent early today after more than seven hours deliberation. The decision—returned at 1 a.m.—was greeted with cheers by a packed courthouse. During Kent's week-long trial, the defense had contended the pretty 16-year-old girl took her own life with a rifle blast March 24. Kent testified he had visited Flavian at her farm home near Burlington and had broken their engagement shortly before she was found fatally wounded. He insisted he left her unharmed but hysterical. The dark, curly-haired defendant took the verdict calmly. Then he went with his father to the family's new home in Marengo Township near here. None of the Watkins family was present when the verdict was announced. Judge Blaine W. Hatch had warned the crowd against any demonstration, and when cheering began he quickly silenced the spectators.

BY $229,074 Howard County's Cash Balance Up

Howard county's cash balance rose to $229,074 at the end of April, and all the increase and more beside came from automobile license fees. The road and bridge fund had revenues of $86,947 for the month, which was the major portion of the $112,225 total receipts. Disbursements amounted to $29,268, but of this amount $11,000 was in two road machinery accounts. One payment of $7,637.18 liquidated the road machinery warrant "A" account for equipment purchase from R. B. George company. A $3,401 ($3,283 principal) payment on the "B" account left $4,000 due in this account on May 1, 1949. The third machinery warrant account will have $3,500 due on Dec. 1 this year and $4,000 due Dec. 1, 1949 to liquidate the last of these warrants. During April the jury fund received $1,111, the road and bridge

Third Justice Precinct Set For Howard

Orders were entered Tuesday creating a third justice of peace precinct for Howard county. These followed action by the county commissioners court Monday in acting on a petition filed by R. N. Adams and other voters in the northwestern quarter of the county. Admittedly, the creation of the precinct was a block to applications for county-line liquor and wine and beer permits. The new justice precinct (No. 3) may, if its constituency desires, petition for local option election. However, most observers felt that there would probably be no applicants for permits in the area since the possibility of a dry vote at anytime would invalidate licenses and leave investments worthless. The new precinct takes in the voting boxes of Soash, Knott, Center Point, Moore, Gay Hill and Morris. The line starts at the southwest corner of the county, southward along the west line to the line which divides the Moore and Big Spring No. 1 voting boxes, thence eastward along that line and the continuation which divides the Big Spring No. 4 and the Center Point voting boxes, northward along the lines which divide the Center Point and R-Bar and the Morris and Vincent voting boxes to the county line, thence to west to point of beginning. Vincent, R-Bar and Coahoms comprise justice precinct No. 2 which, incidentally, is dry under a local option test.

Peddy Declares Reds Hit U. S. Defense Plans

DALLAS, May 12. (P)—George Peddy, candidate for the U. S. Senate, said here last night he believes Communists are trying to thwart the nation's preparedness program. "This country's only defense is a military force that could meet any attack," Peddy said in a speech over a statewide radio network. But, he said, "I believe that every member of the organized Communist Party in this country is following orders from Russia to weaken our nation and is a traitor. I believe each Communist of this stripe should be treated as a traitor." "They should be sought out wherever they are and if found active against our country's interests on orders from Russia or any other foreign nation they should be put where they can do America no harm." Peddy said limited drafting would be the best way to build up military strength. "When we are strong enough to speak with authority," he said, "we can tell Russia to take her bloody hands off the peoples of Eastern Germany and other Central European countries and we will be obeyed." The Houston lawyer urged full United States help to build a strong United Nations to deal with world economic and political problems. He said aid to Western Europe along the lines of the Marshall Plan should be continued.

Priceless Art Is Stolen In Germany

COBURG, Germany, May 12. (P)—Military government officials said today thieves have robbed historic Coburg Castle of priceless art objects which German police valued at $200,000. The loot included two silver clocks presented to the Duke of Coburg by Queen Victoria of Britain, and three paintings. Military Government officials said the thieves entered the castle—now an art museum—by removing the iron bars from a window. They cut the paintings from their frames. A solid silver ship model, apparently too heavy to abduct, was found lying outside the building.

Aggie Quartet Eyeing Record

COLLEGE STATION, May 12. (P)—The conference meet this week and then the Coliseum Relays in Los Angeles is the schedule for Texas A&M College's quarter-milers who are claiming the National Mile relay Championship. The Aggies are undefeated. They have won every mile relay in which they have entered, and that includes record times in the Texas and Kansas Relays and two other meets.

The Drake Relays time was the best — 3:15.2 — but the Aggies are capable of doing better than that.

When Don Cardon, Ervin Bilderback, Ray Holbrook and Art Harnden get together for a lap drive, the aggregate time may drop very close to 3:12.0.

Holbrook several times has been clocked in 47.6 while running the third lap. Harnden has made it in 47.9, and has not been pushed in bringing the baton across the finish line first.

Cardon, who joined the team in time to help with a 3:15.6 record in the Kansas Relays, has clicked off a 48.8 Bilderback, No. 2, has run at 48.3.

That quartet probably will not form the mile relay team in the Southwest Conference meet in Houston Saturday because Cardon also is a low hurdler, but in the Coliseum Relays at Los Angeles on Friday, May 21, those four Aggies will bid for additional honors.

BEN JONES' SON, JIMMY, GETS SECOND BIG CHANCE MAY 15

BALTIMORE, May 12 (AP)—When one has to bank in an illustrious father's limelight it usually takes exceptional skill to reap due recognition, but horse trainer Jimmy Jones is well on his way to doing it.

Jimmy gets his second big chance Saturday when he saddles Citation for the Preakness. As far as the "experts" are concerned, any old barn hand could do it and have the honor of tightening the girth on the winner of the second leg of the turf's triple crown.

Citation, cream of Calumet's three-year-old crop, is that good. Actually, there is more to getting a colt ready for the Big Stakes than merely being listed as his sadder, but that's the way the record books work in horse racing.

Jimmy, a short, congenial man in his late thirties, got his training under one of the sport's best—Father Ben. He was listed as assistant trainer until 1946, when he was given charge of half of Calumet's string which came to Maryland while Ben took the rest to Kentucky.

In Jimmy's charge was Armed. The smooth gelding won the Philadelphia Handicap, setting a new track record, and Pimlico's Dixie. Last year Jimmy got a chance to saddle a Preakness entry, Faultless. He won in a style equal to his name and Jimmy had his first "Big Three" winner as well as becoming Calumet's trainer. Father Ben took the title of general manager.

When Calumet split its string after this winter's racing, it was Jimmy who brought Citation to Maryland for the all-important Kentucky Derby tuneups. He handled the colt for two important races, climaxed by victory in the Chesapeake Stakes just two weeks before the Derby.

But when the "Run for the Roses" came off, Father Ben saddled both Citation and Coaltown, admittedly to enhance his chances of tying the derby record of four winners by one trainer. It worked, as you will recall, Citation and Coaltown running one-two.

Citation's opposition in Saturday's $100,000 race has been reduced to four. Remaining as listed opposition are William Heits Salmagundi, Sylvester W. Labrot, Jr.'s Boward, King Ranch's Better Self, and C. V. Whitney's Vulcan's Forge.

On past performances, Jimmy Jones merely will have to go through the formalities of saddling Citation to beat such a field.

Abilene's downtrodden Eagles made the most of eight hits to turn back the Big Spring Steers in a District 3AA baseball game here Tuesday afternoon, 8-5.

The War Birds broke on top with two runs in the initial round, saw the Bovines tie it up in the second and then went out in front to stay with two runs in the fourth.

O'Bar and Owens twirled seven hit balls for the visitors. D. A. Miller and Johnny Hooper each collected a brace of blows for the home club.

O'Neill drove home the first two Abilene tallies with a triple, scoring Armstrong and Loving.

Benson collected two blows, in addition to his three bases. Landrum got two for two. C. Ingram two for four and Bell two for three.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

H. C. (Harry) Burrus, a great Big Spring football wing in other years and a greater end at Hardin-Simmons university, will spend his last season in professional ball with the Chicago Rockets of the All-America Conference, according to Our Town's Joe Kuykendal.

Burrus exposed the fact that he had been traded by the New York Yankees of the same circuit to Chicago in a recent letter to Joe, an old friend.

Burrus was heartily in favor of the change for two reasons, (1)—he will be playing for his old friend, Ed McKeever, a fellow Texan, and (2)—he will be allowed to concentrate exclusively on end play. The Yankees had him playing at half back and the position was foreign to Harry one of the greatest offensive terminals in the history of Hardin-Simmons.

Burrus will retire from the ACC after next season, he informed Kuykendal, to enter the coaching business. He's weighing several offers. At the present time, he's teaching school at Columbia university and working toward his doctor's degree. He could remain there. He also has an attractive offer from a college in Florida, a Texas college and another from Goose Creek high school, Texas.

ARC SYSTEMS DO NOT MEASURE UP THROUGHOUT LEAGUE

One reason Longhorn baseball league players might be given the benefit of the doubt, when they're being appraised by scouts, is the handicaps they work under in nocturnal ball.

The ivory hunters figure that, if the athletes can do as well under faulty lighting systems, their chances of doing better under more favorable conditions are ordinarily enhanced.

The arc system here is as good as any in the circuit but still leave much to be desired. There are shadows around home plate and in the outfield. The pitcher who has control and can keep the ball low has a much better opportunity to get out with a victory than the fellow who sprays the ball in the general direction of the plate, even though the latter might be faster and have more stuff.

The ball disappears from the vision of the batter at a certain point in front of the plate when it is delivered low and the batter simply guesses as to its flight.

If the club owners continue to improve the lighting systems of their plants, the caliber of play is certain to improve. And the better quality of baseball the fans see, the more often they're going to come out.

UMPIRES SHOULD HAVE DRESSING ROOMS AT PARK

Club owners also have a responsibility to the league umpires. If at all possible, dressing rooms for the arbiters should be provided. In most of the parks, the officials find they must change their clothes either in their hotel rooms or their cars before they enter the park.

EG-BIG SPRING PLAYERS CONTINUE TO DO WELL

Wyman Hunnicutt, who played here a while back in the late '40's, hit .335 for El Dorado in the Cotton States league last season. Wyman, a talkative, friendly Texan, played both second base and short stop while wearing local livery.

Bill Garbe another ex-Big Spring, touched California league pitcher for a .361 mace average in 1947. A first sacker, William wound up with a .973 fielding average.

Havana, sister club of Big Spring, led Florida International league clubs in attendance last season with a turnout of 264,813 — an amazing record for a Class C team. The Havanans drew more than six times as many patrons as Lakeland, Fla., of the same circuit.

GO FOR RB'S — Rogers Hornsby, one of the greatest baseball players in history, says the only record worth keeping, when evaluating players, is runs batted in. Hornsby made the statement on a recent radio program.

Baylor Coach Cites A Need For Big Gyms

The need for bigger and better gymnasiums in the Southwest was stressed by Bill Henderson, Baylor university basketball coach, principal speaker at Tuesday night's Kiwanis club banquet for the Big Spring high school basketball team.

Henderson said he had often been asked the question why the sport isn't stressed as much in this section as it is in the Midwest. He suggested that interest would be heightened and the game could be made to pay its way if the field-houses were better equipped to handle the crowds.

Henderson also showed films of the Baylor-Kansas State basketball game, which clinched the NCAA Western championship for the Southwestern conference team and sent them into the NCAA finals against Kentucky.

Bill Dawes contributed two songs to the program, "The Old Chisolm Trail" and "The Legend of Roy Bean."

Walter Reed emcee, introduced Coaches Johnny Malaise and Conn Isaacs who in turn introduced members of the A and B squads. Others present who were recognized by Reed included Harold Davis, coach of Howard County Junior college; Eddie Houser, captain of the 1947-48 high school team; Leon Leopard, star Steer trackman; Dr. W. B. Hardy; and parents of the players.

Mothers of the players were given bouquets of flowers by the club.

Idaho had no form of government for more than 50 years after the first white men, Lewis and Clark set foot on the territory.

ABILENE TRIUMPHS

Bobby Maxwell Stops Gervis McGraw In Prep Feature, 2-1

Abilene high school's crack golf team scored a team victory over Big Spring Tuesday afternoon at the Munny course but Coach Johnny Malaise had the satisfaction of seeing his No. One player, Bobby Maxwell, roll through Gervis McGraw, ace of the Eagle team.

Maxwell drubbed McGraw, 2 and 1, to register his second victory in three starts against the Abilene star.

The two are expected to be the leading contenders for the District 3A A tournament title, which will be decided in Odessa Saturday.

In other matches yesterday, Charley Bailey lost to Dilimus James of Abilene, 5 and 4, and Maxwell and Bailey were beaten in low ball play.

Clarence Schaefer won a single point from Lee Pinkston of Abilene but lost on the 19th hole, one up. Big Spring's Sam Thurman dropped a 7 and 5 decision to Dan Winters, Abilene.

Abilene's twosome also won low ball honors in that one. Winters was five under par on the back side. Schaefer, Thurman and Bailey will represent Big Spring along with Maxwell at Odessa. The team plays Midland here Friday.

Cats, Indians Setting Pace In Texas League

Fort Worth's Cats and the Oklahoma City Indians set a blistering pace in the Texas League.

The Cats have been doing it all the time but Oklahoma City had to get a second wind. It has paid off with three straight wins over the Houston Buffs.

Last night the Indians surged into the first division by downing Shreveport Humiliated the Rebels at Dallas 11-1.

San Antonio and Tulsa couldn't play because of the weather. Four fine pitching jobs were turned in for the four games played last night.

Bob Austin limited Beaumont to five hits in the first tilt as Fort Worth and Eddie Chandler twirled a six-hitter in the nightcap. A three-run homer by Bill Deiminger in the eighth marred Chandler's efforts.

Jack Holland did an excellent mound job in Oklahoma City's decision over Houston. He limited the Buffs to six hits. Singles by Fred Marsh and R. J. Woldt with the bases filled in the seventh brought the Indians their winning runs.

Garth (Red) Mann, a Dallas resident, made the Rebels and their backers unhappy by pitching Shreveport to its lopsided win. The Rebels could get only four hits and Mann fanned seven. Mann ran to 13 a string of consecutive scoreless innings before Dallas could get to him for a couple of safeties in the eighth.

The teams change stands tonight with Houston at Dallas, San Antonio at Fort Worth, Beaumont at Tulsa and Shreveport at Oklahoma City.

Stassen Heading For Dewey Debate

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., May 12. (AP)—Harold E. Stassen was en route to Portland, Oregon, today after a busy 12 hours with North Carolina Republicans.

The Minnesota candidate for the GOP presidential nomination had quickly altered his plans. Instead of a personal invasion of the Deep South at this time, he preferred to debate communism with his party rival, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York. Stassen was scheduled to arrive at Portland about 3:30 p. m. (Central Standard Time).

Stassen made it clear, however, that organization of his southern headquarters in Atlanta would be perfected this week, and that he would make a major address in Birmingham, Ala., between the Oregon primary and the national convention.

The energetic Stassen came here for a rally of Tar Heel Republicans and a bid for the state's 26 un-instructed convention delegates.

He denounced communism and said it should be outlawed in America. This country, he said, should deal with Russia on a policy of deeds, not words.

Not only should the United States outlaw communism, he said, but it should "recommend its outlawing in all of the freedom loving countries of the world while there is yet authority in free men to do so."

Turning to regional matters, he told a ball park crowd estimated by police at 3,000 that "I am fully aware that there are situations in the South that are very difficult for any one who has not lived here for years to fully understand."

He asserted he was against the poll tax as a prerequisite for voting and that he believed federal anti-lynching laws were needed.

"I recognize the importance of states rights," Stassen went on. "I also believe very fundamentally in the concept of human rights as the very basis for our America. I believe that it should be possible to work out a just and sound balance between human rights and states rights in a program for progress."

MARCH 1 BAN EASED

Sawyer Drafts New Trade Policy On Exports To Reds

WASHINGTON, May 12. (AP)—Charles Sawyer, the new secretary of Commerce, is drafting a trade policy statement which will let Russian bloc nations buy more American goods.

But officials who disclosed this today said the clarification of the tightened export-control policy adopted March 1 will only partly lift the choke-down in shipments to Soviet-dominated Eastern Europe.

Purchases of industrial goods which might add to Russia's war potential will continue to be banned, they said.

A secret list of goods rated in that class has been drafted by a committee on which the State and Commerce Departments, the armed forces, the Atomic Energy Commission and the National Security Resources Board are represented.

Beside the goods barred from export, three other classes of goods are being listed. These range from items that would be freely licensed for export to other products that would be licensed only under particular conditions.

The list does not deal with weapons and other direct war materials since licenses for these must come from the State Department rather than Commerce.

Any list saying what the Russians can and what they can't buy from the United States is expected to ease the trade freeze that has developed in recent weeks.

The Russians and their satellites have cut down sharply on their American buying since the policy was adopted that all goods they ordered for shipment after March 1 must be licensed.

For one thing, all their applications for export licenses have been subject to military veto.

For another, the Soviet bloc countries have been required—when applying for licenses to ship certain shortage goods like steel—to state their own production, total needs, and what they plan to do with the American goods.

The Eastern European countries quit trying to buy steel rather than give the information.

Export licenses issued in March for shipment of all goods to Eastern Europe totalled $5½ million with Russia getting around $24,000 of that. Shipments to Eastern Europe last year averaged almost $40 million a month; to Russia alone, $12,400,000 (M) a month.

This country's clamp-down on exports to Russia was one of the points Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov raised in his reply Sunday to Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith's May 4 statement of American policy toward the Soviet Union.

Molotov said an American-Russian trade agreement pledges the United States not to apply to Soviet purchases "any more burdensome rules or formalities than those applied in regard to any third country."

Molotov called the export controls another example of this country's "unfriendly policy" toward Russia and said "It is perfectly obvious that such a situation cannot be tolerated."
