

Matadors Shut Out Owls In Grid Fray

Local Squad Hits Stride With 27-0 Victory Friday

Hitting their stride in the second game of the season, the Matador Matadors defeated the Silverton Owls on the Matador Arena Friday with a score of 27-0.

Despite the excessive heat for football, the Matadors held the visitors on the one yard line for three downs during the only serious scoring threat, which occurred in the last few minutes of play.

Fullback Mutt Berryman won the praise of additional fans during the game as he carried the blunt of both offense and defense plays, although he did not figure in substantial scoring. W. O. Cox, W. R. Tilson and Wiley Kennedy also made stellar defense plays.

The scoring by quarters was as follows:

Matador	6	0	14	7

In the 1st period Simpson plunged from the 1 yard line after a 40-yard run by Johnny Allsup. In the 3rd period Allsup plunged for five yards after a steady drive down the field with Berryman kicking the extra point. Simpson plunged thru center for 32 yards and the goal with Berryman again kicking the extra point. In the 4th quarter a pass from Nelson to Allsup was good for 40 yards and a touchdown with Berryman again delivering the extra point.

To Childrens Friday

The Matadors will play their first game of the season off the home range Friday night when they meet the Class AA Childrens Bob Cats on the Childrens lighted grid. Although the Matadors are considered out-classed by the much larger school, it is believed a large delegation of fans will accompany the team.

Since transportation for the Matadors is a present problem, all fans who will attend the game and will provide space for some of the squad are urged to notify John Hamilton, chairman of the Matador Lions Club sports committee. It is urgent that transportation arrangements be completed as soon as possible for the team to the neighboring city.

Saturday Last Day On Wheat Applications

With 2,528 applications for 1940 Wheat Crop Insurance received from 69 Texas counties, the State Agricultural Conservation Committee here has issued a final warning on application deadlines for insurance.

For Motley County and counties in the Panhandle area, final date to apply for crop insurance is September 30.

The Committee pointed out that farmers who want insurance on their 1940 crops must apply before seeding their wheat and that premiums are payable either in bushels of wheat in the form of a warehouse receipt or the equivalent in cash, when the application is filed.

Many people have asked if wheat can be planted for winter pasture without interfering with soil conservation payments in 1940. Wheat may be planted for pasture if it is used only for pasture and not harvested for grain. Land may be seeded to 1/4 barley or rye and wheat and then harvested for feed in 1940 without interfering with soil conservation payments. Where land is seeded partially to barley, rye and wheat and harvested for feed it will be considered as part of his general or feed allotment.

Mr. Harp declared that he would include a vast amount of merchandise in his store in addition to the special articles during True Value Week. Especially in the furniture department will be found bargains as surprising as the smaller items, he said.

They will be good on the first Saturday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of the Fair.

County Is Unable To Rescind Bonds

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED FOR M. N. F. L. A.

New Officers were elected recently to head the Matador National Farm Loan Association for the ensuing year. These included W. I. Rushing and R. C. Echols, who have been serving unexpired terms, to the Board of Directors, and the re-election of George Edwards as president, and M. S. Patton, Secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Patton reports that four new loans have been made since June 30, at which time 270 loans were outstanding, in the total of $983,128.00, making the total outstanding loans at this time, 274, amounting to $1,012,128.00. According to Mr. Patton's records, 90% of the farm loans are in good standing and no foreclosures were made between the period of January 1, 1938 and June 30, 1939. During that time two of the three Federal Land Bank farms owned in this county, were sold.

During the same period, Land Bank Commissioner's loans were: 92 outstanding, representing $168,910.00; 9 loans were made, aggregating $11,200.00; 3 were paid off, and one foreclosure made.

The members of the association own stock in the amount of $50,620.00 at this time, with the M. N. F. L. A. owning the same amount in Federal Land Bank stock.

Courthouse Issue Is Valid, Declares Attorney General

In effect, Motley county is in possession of $80,000 in notes on itself. An opinion from the office of Attorney General Gerald C. Mann, received yesterday by county attorney Howard Traweck, declares that it would probably require an act of the Legislature to rescind the $80,000 bond issue voted for the purpose of building a new court house thru the aid of PWA grant. Since the grant became impossible, it was decided at a mass meeting of taxpayers recently to hold an election seeking to revoke or cancel the bonds.

The opinion from the Attorney General's office cited various examples where a special act of the Legislature had been required to cancel similar issues, and closed with this comment:

"You are, therefore, advised that it is the opinion of this department that the commissioners' court of Motley county, Texas, is without authority to order an election for the purpose of revoking or cancelling that county's unsold courthouse bonds."

No Expense To County

The bond issue as it remains, is no expense to the county, County Attorney Traweck declared, and no tax levy has been made for retiring the unsold bonds.

The opinion of the Attorney General's office coincided with that of W. P. Dumas, Dallas attorney, who is an outstanding authority on bonds. Attorney Dumas provided the brief for the opinion, which is required before judgement is rendered by the office.

One of the cases cited in the letter received by County Attorney Traweck, includes the following reference, "Case of Orr v. Marrs, 47 S. W. (2nd) 440, the court said:

"After the will of the voters shall have been expressed and ascertained as provided by the law by an election, nothing remains, under the terms of the statute, but to carry it into effect. It is fundamental that voters of a district can only exercise such powers as are conferred by statute, either expressly or by implication. All powers not expressly or by implication conferred are excluded. The power to rescind the former vote for the bond issue not being expressly given by the statute, it may not be, it is believed, reasonably implied. The power to vote on a bond issue implies the power to vote against it, but not to vote to rescind it after it has been regularly authorized. As well may it be implied that power to vote for or against a person for office confers the power to rescind his election regularly made by a subsequent vote of voters. If the Legislature had intended to grant the right of withdrawal of the vote, it could easily have been expressed."

Light Shower In Matador

A light shower fell here late yesterday afternoon which confirmed the opinions of local weather prognosticators that this section would receive a change in conditions, brought about by the tropical storms reported off the coast of Florida.

The shower was little more than sufficient to lay the dust and its extent was not determined, however the clouds were light and it is believed the rain extended over a limited area.

Official weather forecasts declared West Texas to be fair thru the remainder of the week.

Mr. Garner Of Texas Is New Biography

"Mr. Garner of Texas," by Marquis James; Bobbs-Merrill Co., Indianapolis, $1.50.

Marquis James, twice a Pulitzer prize winner with biographies of many characters, now offers to the reading public a volume, "Mr. Garner of Texas."

Mr. James is an Oklahoman and the ties that bind him to Texas are strong. In "The Raven" he wrote the biography of the Texas Sam Houston, following with his second Pulitzer Prize winner, "Andrew Jackson." Those who have read this will recall its title—Old Hickory's last fight, the triumph, the annexation of the Lone Star empire to the United States.

It is natural, and fitting that he should paint a portrait of the leading Texan in our public life today—a third generation Texan. Like the man himself, it is quiet and unpretentious, friendly and engaging. No superlatives are resorted to. There is respect for the man but not unqualified admiration of political methods or policies. John Nance Garner is a public figure of few words. This is a short book about him, with no words wasted. A book about Mr. Garner should be full of pith and salt. This is a shirt-sleeved biography.

The political value of the James book may be important, one reviewer states, and adds: "It probably will disappoint and irk many rabid Garner supporters, but on the other hand will win the Vice-President adherents among many who previously may have been lukewarm. For instance, one can gauge the political effect of Mr. James' faithful report on John Garner's Southern-Texas pioneer ancestry, if it should become necessary to gain votes in the South. In recalling one incident when the young Garner left home, Mr. James recounts that the father gave his son the following advice: "Tell the truth and try to be a gentleman."

The story carries Mr. Garner from his childhood at Blossom Prairie into his service as Vice President. From the standpoint of the author, the story of John Garner is a logical sequel to the previous biographies of Sam Houston and Andrew Jackson, and a reading of James' book will show that Mr. Garner has many traits in common with those two celebrated figures.

In closing, Mr. James takes note that in an election year we shall have a Garner legend, just as we had the Coolidge Legend a few years ago. But he adds this explanation that, "A review of the record would seem to suggest that the Coolidge Legend was mostly legend and the Garner Legend is mostly Garner."

Brewers Convene On Public Service

BREWERS of America who have been conducting a three-fold educational, advertising and self-regulation campaign to align their industry with the public interest, will review progress and plan future operations at the United Brewers Industry Foundation Convention in New York City, on Wednesday, October 4.

All brewers in the country have been invited to attend the Convention, to discuss long range plans for an industry which has made tax contributions, created employment and stimulated local business in six and a half years to the extent of 10 billion dollars. The Foundation was established three years ago as a non-profit organization to interpret the brewing industry to the public and the public to the industry.

State directors of the industry's self-regulation movement will present reports of active cooperation during the past year with local law enforcement officials to "clean-up or close-up" establishments where objectionable conditions surround the sale of beer. This phase of the program is being pursued to date in Nebraska, Alabama, Kansas, Tennessee, North Carolina, Mississippi, Oklahoma and West Virginia.

Plans for continuance of the self-regulation activities and of the newspaper advertising campaign which the Foundation has been conducting in many states will be discussed at the meeting. Following the Convention, brewers and their guests will participate in Brewing Industry Day at the New York World's Fair on Thursday, October 5.

roaring over the spillway but the dam held.

And the night that three men were fatally burned in a gasoline plant explosion at Olden and the music of the dance hall went on as gaily as tho nothing had happened.

A memorable experience back in prohibition days was an inspection of an oil boom hotel which had been raided. There were mirrors so placed that a man on watch could observe the approach of strangers and there were cords that could be manipulated, closing doors halfway down the corridors to delay the "laws" and enable law-breakers to escape or hide poker chips or liquor.

(Officers had caught the "sentry" off-guard, however.) Then there were trap-doors, false walls and secret compartments.

Maybe the movies aren't entirely wrong, after all; perhaps, a reporter does have a few unusual experiences.

Re-appointment of Tom C. King as State Auditor is a richly-deserved recognition of two year's loyal service to the people of Texas. The biggest State has the biggest auditor and Tom King's bigness of stature is equaled by his courage in hewing to the line regardless of politics and politicians.

Hick Halcomb, colorful newspaperman and political figure has a sticker pasted inside his hat: "H - - - no, this ain't yours; put it back!"

How about a saunter thru the Austin hotel lobbies to see who we can see? There's Hall Walker; he's mayor of Ranger, head of the bank, runs a hotel and in the hotel are the bus station and the telegraph office as well as a coffee shop and barber shop, and he is thinkink about putting in a curio department.

And there goes Garland Adair, who used to edit papers at Breckenridge, McCamey and Mexia, who is happy as assistant of the new University of Texas museum which he had so much to do with making a reality.

The big, quiet-looking man in the broad-brimmed hat is Captain Frank Hamer.

Who's the visitor with the snow-white hair? Oscar Chastain of Eastland, who made the closing speech in the House of Representatives years ago in support of the renowned Small riverbed bill.

A stranger walked into a district courtroom in East Texas. The judge took one look at him, recessed court and called him to the bench shaking hands with him and plying him with questions as to what he was doing there. A lawyer stepped up and said to the visitor, "Howdy, Dave". The judge frowned and said, "This man's name isn't Dave; he's Jack Dempsey." There was general embarrassment all around when the visitor had to admit he was not the former heavyweight champion but was Dave Pena, Tyler civil engineer, one-time captain of the University of Texas football team and former football coach at Texas-Kansan and Eastland.

Henry Pharr of Greenville, former assistant Attorney General, tells of a pompous East Texas lawyer who was fond of propounding a question on cross examination that went like this: "Mr. Witness, where was you at on July 10, 1931, if anywhere?"

Does a newspaperman really lead as exciting a life as the movies would have you believe? In running back over some of the events of 23 years of news-chasing, this chronicler recalls such experiences as: The night the telephone tinkled in the Eastland Oil Belt News office, no one replied to my "Hello" but, acting on a hunch, I hurried to the courthouse just as a jury was coming in with a death verdict. Later a friend who was an official said he had called me but didn't have time to wait and figured I'd figure it out. The alarming night when Curley Maynard awakened me from sound slumber to go out and see how the newly-finished Lake Eastland dam was withstanding the pounding of its first flood. Water was coursing down streets and covered railroad tracks, nearly three miles from the lake, and a torrent—so deafening it drowned out speech—was

TRUETT-FULKERSON RITES SOLEMNIZED

Pre-Nuptial Shower Is Tendered Bride-Elect Thursday

In an impressive single ring ceremony performed at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Fulkerson of Matador, Miss Rebecca Fulkerson became the bride of J. P. Truett of Chehalis, Washington, Saturday afternoon, September 23, 1939 at 1:15 o'clock.

The rites were read by Rev. G. W. Tubbs of Floydada, a lifetime friend of the family. Attendees at the wedding in addition to her parents, were Mrs. Truett's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Fulkerson.

The bride was attired in a tailored wisteria dress suitable for travel, with which she used British tan accessories. Immediately following the ceremony the couple left for a honeymoon journey which will terminate at Chehalis, where they will make their home. Enroute, after a stop at Amarillo, their itinerary included visits to Carlsbad Caverns, New Mexico, and the Exposition at San Francisco, California.

Mrs. Truett, who has lived here most of her life, is a graduate of Matador High School. She is well known in this and adjoining communities as one of the admirable young business women of this place. Resigning a position with the Matador Dry Goods Company last year to accept a similar place at Berger, she later held positions in Dimmit and at Plainview. She resigned from the Plainview position and returned to Matador two weeks ago in anticipation of her approaching marriage.

The groom, who is a prominent businessman at Chehalis, is a former resident of this county and has a number of friends here. He had been visiting relatives here and at Whiteflat during last week.

SENIORS GET CLASS RINGS

September 21, 1939, was a very important day for the 1939-1940 Senior Class. Our class rings were given to us by Mr. Ezzell during the third period.

This and That

Well, well, the little sophs are even romancing! Wanda Nelson, W. A. Rattan, and Bennie Wayne Marshall are the ones in question.

busted. We never heard the like! This time it's Billie Tunnell, Jimmie Lee Guthrie, and James R. Fish. We wouldn't want influence anyone, but can't you make up your mind, Jimmie?

The football boys played a bang up game last week, and we're really proud of 'em. (You gotta be a football hero, you know) Boys, keep up the good work, and we'll go places this year.

We're puzzled. Rudolph insists on changing seats with Wandell in Public Speaking Class. Could it possibly be that he wants to sit by Willena? It must be the real "thing" when someone becomes that insistent.

Romance blossoms, thrives, withers and dies in Matador High School. Aren't we poetic tho? Demure little June Barton and a cute Stephens boy are on "extremely" friendly terms it seems.

The annual is going to be a swell-elegant book. Everyone has a camera and takes snap-shots of students and the "hobbies" to be printed in it.

JUNIORS ORDER CLASS PINS

Mr. Lonnie Smith, agent for the Herf-Jones Jewelry Company, interviewed the Junior Class last week. The object of his visit was to sell pins to the class.

Mr. Smith stated that the pins would probably be mailed about the first of November. The class can hardly wait for that date to arrive.

"Thank You"

Americans are particularly careless in the courtesy of thanking for slight favors. It is almost impossible to be too liberal with this expression.

Por la Escuela

A season ticket to all of our football games is being given to all persons over seventy years of age who live in Matador and the surrounding communities.

PICTURING OUTINGS

On an outing, watch for amusing incidents, informal moments. Avoid stiff, posed shots.

SUMMER picnics and outings are fun—and the fun can last, if you bring back a collection of snapshots that really tells the story of the day's activities.

Getting such snapshots isn't difficult when you keep your eyes open for incidents and details that truly explain the "what, where, and how" of the picnic.

Don't bother with stiff, posed group snapshots. Make "story" pictures. Get a shot of someone coming down the steps with a heavy picnic hamper... putting it in the car... a picture through the windshield showing the picnic grove as you arrive. Snap a series of shots which show the spreading of the cloth... the setting out of pickles, cake, and sandwiches... cutting the cake... "close-ups" of individuals munching away... sports or games after lunch... the girl friend getting her skirt caught on a barbed-wire fence. If the picnic lasts into the evening, take a time exposure of the group gathered around the campfire, singing or telling stories. They'll have to hold still for this one, and the camera must be firmly supported on a handy post or table—best! It's a worth-while picture. When you make a series of "story-telling" snapshots along this line, you have something that gives far more satisfaction than a few scattered, random snapshots. And it's no trouble. Most of the pictures you can capture when your subjects are "off-guard"—not even aware a picture is being taken. Other pictures may require a little posing, but as long as you make the picture show something, something going on, it won't have that stiff, "posed" look. Try making a series of related, "story-telling" snapshots on your next picnic or holiday outing. You'll quickly decide that's the way all your pictures will be taken on such occasions in the future.

his Federation duties, and we have designated Mr. Bentley as his acting successor."

Vice-presidents of the FREF are H. S. Hillburn, Plainview, and B. Reagan, Big Spring. The directors hail from all sections of Texas, and authority lately has been given to increase the board from ten members to fifteen. This will increase the representation from East, South and North Texas.

President of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is E. K. Fawcett, of Del Rio, who said: "Our organization is happy to serve the state by making it possible for Mr. Bandeen to contribute his services and a part of his time to this work, without cost to the state."

Tribute To Mann
"The Federation and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce are encouraged and happy over continued progress registered in the great campaign to free Texas from the discriminatory toll it pays in transportation charges," said Bentley. "Now that the state of Texas has moved to the front of the battle, we may confidently look for further progress and for final victory. The official state campaign is the responsibility of our attorney general, Gerald C. Mann, and he is acting with his accustomed forthrightness and vigor. We believe his appointment of a statewide fact-finding committee is a sound approach to the problem and a notable step forward. General Mann has emphasized that the committee's work will be non-partisan. We favor that, too, and we certainly think he has picked an outstanding group of men to help him."

To Furnish Facts
"The Freight Rate Equality Federation assures the attorney general of its desire to cooperate with and assist his committee in any way he thinks we can be useful," Bentley continued. "We are prepared to furnish the committee with a great body of facts we have gathered, and we shall submit a summary of testimony we presented in June at the hearing on interstate class and differential rates called by the Railroad Commission of Texas. In that hearing we consumed an entire week and introduced 25 witnesses and 56 charts and exhibits in support of our position that the average of charges paid by Texas producers, shippers and consumers is the highest in the nation, constituting an unfair discrimination against state, fastest developing section of the nation."

HOME RULES TO PREVENT COLD SPREAD

Equality Federation upon its organization last May. He is also general manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which created the FREF to make statewide the freight rate equality campaign. The West Texas chamber's officers, in turn, have named Max Bentley acting secretary of its traffic board of which B. Reagan of Big Spring is chairman.

Bandeen Given a Leave
Action by both groups was taken on Bandeen's request for a leave of absence from his executive duties with the FREF for the duration of his engagement on General Mann's statewide committee. The committee has started its work.

J. M. Willson of Floydada is president of the Freight Rate Equality Federation. He said: "General Mann's state committee is a research and fact-finding body that will be completely non-partisan. The Freight Rate Equality Federation is in every respect a partisan body organized on the promise that the Texas rate level is high to the point of discrimination and working to bring them down to the level of CFA territory. For that reason we acceded to Mr. Bandeen's request for a leave of absence from

The common cold virus is conveyed in secretions of the mouth and nose of infected persons. Colds are the most common of the infectious diseases, outnumbering any of the other communicable diseases about twenty-five times, according to some estimates. Other diseases spread by respiratory discharges are influenza, scarlet fever, diphtheria, measles, whooping cough, smallpox, and meningitis.

The State Department of Health advises that school children go to bed at the first sign of a cold and stay there until at least twenty-four hours after the temperature is normal if there has been fever. At school, children who have recently had a cold should avoid conversing with others at close range, and should take care to use a handkerchief whenever they cough or sneeze.

Because of the complications of the common cold, it is a disease of major importance; among possible complications are sinus infection, middle ear and mastoid infection, throat infection, bronchitis, and pneumonia.

Sports Scribe Picks Matador For District

NOTE—The following comment is from the "All In Good Sport" column of the Wichita Falls Record News, issue of Thursday, September 21, an unsigned feature of that publication:

Altho the Matador Matadors lost their opening game last week to Crowell, they are still top-notchers in district 4-A, and here is the dope on them as given to this corner by a very reliable party: "The Matadors have 15 lettermen returning from last year's squad, including John Allsup and Co-Captain Simpson who were considered two of the best backs in the district last year. Day and Nelson are also returning lettermen in the backfield. Co-Captain Wiley Fuller and 190-pound W. O. Cox are expected to give the Matadors good guard play. Tackles will include W. R. Tilsen and Jack Martin, lettermen. Berryman, 170-pound fullback who was ineligible last season, promises to deliver the goods."

Well, with that kind of material, what's wrong with giving the Bull Fighters the championship?

The answer to that question will have to be furnished by Paducah's hard-to-slay Dragons, Lockney's thundering herd of Longhorns, Floydada's roaring Whirlwind, Spur's snarling Bulldogs and by Ralls and Crosbyton. Lockney won last year, after a tie with Flomot was broken by a committee or something. Now Flomot is gone into class B, but certainly not forgotten.

From the best information available, which is still bad enough, the district will wind up

- in November as follows:
1. Matador.
 2. Paducah.
 3. Floydada.
 4. Spur.
 5. Lockney.
 6. Crosbyton.
 7. Ralls.

Not much publicity emanated from the class B district and it is perfectly impossible to class them accurately, but with the understanding that it is for fun and in good sport, here is a flier at one of them:

- DISTRICT 3-B
1. Flomot.
 2. Turkey.
 3. Estelline.
 4. Silverton.
 5. Quitaque.

How To Enjoy a Fire Albert Cooper in the Shamrock Texan: For the benefit of four or five Shamrock motorists who have not been following the city fire truck on calls, Ira Wail, truck driver, has issued the following statement, "What to do in case of fires," which he recommends your reading in order that you may share the excitement and thrill your fellow citizens are now enjoying:

"As soon as the alarm starts sounding jump into your car and get it started.

"While you are backing out of your yard have your wife look for smoke so you will know which way to go.

"If you have two cars, have some other member of your family bring the other one with all possible speed. Thus, you can

STARS OF STATE FAIR SHOWS

Among the attractions which will be seen at the 51st Annual State Fair of Texas, Oct. 7 to 22, are the Holy Land Exhibit, Folies Bergere, the Southern Select Circus and the Ruben and Cherry Shows.

Top photo shows Shirley Temple, sweetheart of the movies, as she recently opened the Holy Land Exhibit when it was presented in Hollywood.

In the center photos are Leo, the lion, which growls at moving picture patrons, which will be one of the features of the Southern Select Circus, and Veronica, one of the stars of the Folies Bergere, auditorium attraction at the State Fair.

In the lower photo are the famous stars of "Tiny Town Topics," midget show on the Ruben and Cherry Midway.

park one on each side of the street at the scene of the fire. This will enable your neighbor, who should be right behind you, to park in the middle.

"Whatever you do, don't fail to get to the fire before the fire truck does (this is imperative).

"In case you are the first one there and find yourself hemmed in by the cars of other idiots it is wise to suddenly decide you have to leave there.

"This can be easily done by going ahead, and madly backing up a few times until you finally run over the hose. This important move should always be accompanied by continuous blowing of your horn.

"Don't pay any attention to the firemen. If they get in your way run over them. They are there thru courtesy, while your presence is important.

"At a recent fire, there were 46 automobiles assembled at the scene. A section of hose was ruined by one or more half-wits driving over it. That's the good old spirit!

"And before you leave, don't fail to make some snooty comparisons of the fire department with one you saw in L. A. or some other city you may have once visited."

THE POWER OF THE PRESS The Houston Post calls attention to the part the press of Louisiana has had in exposing the rotten conditions that have existed in that state, and in bringing the matter to a head. The fight on corruption, which finally led to the resignation of the governor and several officers and the indictment of many others by the federal government, was a newspaper fight. Several of the larger papers of Louisiana opened fire on the state administration several weeks ago and kept up until the whole filthy mess given an airing. The result housecleaning such as Louisiana has never known before is in place in the Pelican state.

Expressing disgust with the newspapers have had in tearing down the politicians' plays Senator Ellender of Louisiana stated recently that the press lost the confidence of the people and that congress would have to do something about it, suggested that congress find it necessary to take some of the freedom of the press.

The very fact that the press is rendering a good service to people. Instead of losing confidence in the press, the people have lost confidence in the politicians because of the newspapers have printed them. Every demagogue like to see the newspapers pressed and the freedom of press destroyed. But so long there is a free press in this country, it will not be possible for any politician to get away their schemes to rob the people.

The press of Louisiana deserves the highest praise for the part it has played in exposing rotten in high places. The power courageous press has again demonstrated, and the very that the Louisiana senator taken the trouble to denounce newspapers shows that they are striking close to home.

Louisiana editors are waging desperate fight to clean up state and chase political whackers out of Louisiana. Power to their pen!—De Herald.
