TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

Wealth is a symbol which frequently becomes confused with the tarnished and twisted escutcheon above the portals of poverty. Modern affluence has become so complex that its transcending subjects are driven to the refreshing vales of simplicity. Recently an exclusive food store specializing in rare and imported delicacies, advertised among its gastronomic delights, a new shipment of wild plum preserves. I can't think of anything more delightful but when my ship comes in I want that my board will provide a different sweet than one which I have had during all the days of waiting.

My brother is a man of extreme sagacity and he is able to employ wisdom to a profitable advantage. He has always remembered the advice of an old wagon-yard-keeper who once told him: "Son, don't ever make an offer to a man who has a jackass or a piano for sale."

Daily weather forecasts are convenient when planning a picnic and they are valuable to farmers and stockmen, but because of them much of the fun of living in West Texas is being dissipated. The element of weather speculation has about vanished. A blue bank in the north means nothing more than a cold front moving rapidly into Oklahoma, probably accompanied by some blowing dust. A cloud overcast that once might have indicated a snow storm or blizzard, is wasting its time. When it arrives we know that somewhere in Colorado it left snow flurries in the mountains and that there is no important temperature change. When we are deprived of our weather conversation, and with the Republicans in power, there certainly isn't much left to talk about.

Any time now, I expect to be confronted with one of Joe Stalin's agents and probably receive a threat or an offer to desert from private activities. I have secretly been burning the Russian thistle that collects in my back yard fence. I prefer to fight the commies in my own way.

Soft gold of a winter sunset was being fired in the kiln of twilight and the rim of a cloudless horizon blazed with majestic splendor. Beyond the cloak of soft shadows which fell about the bare shoulders of modest cottonwoods, and high on the rolling hills, a single white light gleamed amid the crimson expanse. It was the light from the window of a distant home; a jewel at the hump of night's magnificent cape.

As a youth I used to wonder often where the thunder goes, unless it was to the bottom of the same chasm where rest the shattered vases which have contained my many fears.

Kindness is a strong putty used to glaze the windows of our souls.

ON SICK LIST

A large number of flu patients have been on the "at home" sick list the past week. A few of these were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Patton, Colquett Warren and son, Jerry, Mrs. Frank Pohl, Mrs. Keith McCormick, Mrs. R. M. Stanley, Mrs. Noble Groves, and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Tipton.

NEW ARRIVAL

Mr. and Mrs. Crystal Swearingen, of Dickens, are parents of a baby girl, who was born Saturday, Jan. 17, at 8:30 a.m. in Trawick Hospital. She weighed 9 pounds and was named Vickie Lynn.

Legion To Entertain Veterans

Patients in the Amarillo Veterans' hospital will be entertained with a program of music and novelty numbers featuring local talent on the evening of January 30th, according to announcements made by Fleming Post American Legion.

The project of entertainment was arranged by the Auxiliary but will have the cooperation of the Legion. Joe B. Meador will be master of ceremonies. Tom Tilson and Wanda McMahan will conduct a series of magic and sleight-of-hand performances. The Craven sisters will perform in their tumbling act and Harold Dean Martin, his guitar and his songs will furnish a portion of the entertainment. Mrs. Noble Groves and Mrs. Tommie Crawford will provide other musical entertainment. The program will start at 7:15 in the hospital theatre.

To Tell Matador Story

Prepared leaflets which will be distributed among the veterans, will tell the story of Matador, Hub Swearingen, Legion Commander declared. The leaflets will also contain the program. A large number of local people is expected to accompany the Matador group.

Fellow Legion members and the general public are urged to send cigarettes to the veterans, some of whom have been patients for 20 years. Mrs. H. H. Schweitzer, president of the Auxiliary, said cigarette gifts could be delivered to Randall Whitworth at the First State bank and that they would be promptly delivered to the hospital.

Veterans are no longer permitted to receive gifts of cookies, as in the past, because of dietary restrictions.

CEMETERY GROUP CONFRONTED WITH FINANCE PROBLEM

Last year the sexton's salary for keeping Matador East Mound cemetery was $1,760 for eleven months, while the total amount of membership sales was only $1,729. Other receipts of the Matador East Mound Cemetery Association, (grave openings) amounted to $195, bringing the total amount of receipts to $1,903.90.

Disbursements amounted to $1,839.60, but does not include one month's sexton salary, which will leave the organization a net deficit of $95.70 for 1952.

These figures were made available through a financial statement by retiring secretary, Forrest Campbell. The association must have more support if the proposed improvement program is to be developed.

One Thousand Buried Here

Approximately one thousand white graves are located in Matador East Mound cemetery (about one hundred are unknown). Thus the average contribution per grave is less than $2 for an entire year's upkeep of the cemetery.

It is pointed out that if an average of one $3 membership per grave could be attained the association would have ample funds to meet its obligations and within a short time be in a position to make desirable improvements.

President Bill Seale appeals to everyone in the county who has loved ones buried here, to buy at least one membership and if possible one each for man and wife.

Recently elected Secretary Mrs. John C. Russell believes the public should thoroughly understand that the annual cost for upkeep of the cemetery is at present more than the total membership sales. "We are desperately in need of funds to place the association on a sound financial basis."

Boy Scouts Are Hosts At Party

Matador Boy Scout Troop No. 60 entertained with a party, Tuesday, Jan. 13 from 7:30 until 10:00 p.m. in the V.F.W. hut with their girl friends as guests. Approximately forty-five youngsters (12-13 years old) and their sponsors attended.

Games were played and refreshments of punch and cake were served.

Leaders present included Scoutmaster Bert Schweitzer and Mrs. Schweitzer, Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Welling, Algine Groves, Mrs. Robert Darsey and Mrs. R. E. Campbell, Jr.

Plans Made For Father-Son Meet

Plans were made Monday morning at the Matador Lions club directors breakfast for the 16th annual Father-Son banquet. One feature of the program which will appeal to the boys, is the change from former policy of securing a "name" speaker.

This year entertainment will be the keynote of the meeting and the program committee is making an extra effort to provide the kind of entertainment which will have special appeal to boys. There will be no "principal" speech.

Boss Lion Ralph Stapleton announced Tuesday at the regular Lions meeting that the price of tickets have been reduced to $2 (each $2 ticket admits one father and son or "adopted" son). "The reduction in price is made possible because we had a surplus in the banquet fund," Lion Stapleton declared.

Polio Drive Collapse Is Feared by Civic Leaders

INTEREST in Motley county's annual polio fund drive according to a standstill this week according to county chairman Jack Norman. With a third of the amount still to be raised, fears are entertained that the drive may collapse short of the $2,500 quota.

"A collection Sunday at the First Baptist church brought $119 to the fund," Mr. Norman said, "and other churches have promised to aid with special collections, but our chances of reaching the quota are becoming alarmingly small."

"Blue Notes" Sing During Lions Meet

Ten attractive Floydada high school girls, "The Blue Notes," attired in identical blue dresses, and singing in the manner of professionals, brought repeated rounds of applause from their listeners in a performance Tuesday at the regular meeting of the Matador Lions club. The "Notes" were accompanied by their instructor Miss Ruby Bevell.

"We have never had a more attractive program," Boss Lion Ralph Stapleton declared, "and we want these girls to return and sing for us again."

Business of the meeting was curtailed to allow ample time for excellent singing of the talented and trained high school girls. The introduction was made by program sponsor Lion Bill Seale.

"These girls would be singing today in the Washington annual ceremony," he declared, "except the Democrats didn't win."

NOTICE OF PARENT-TEACHER MEETING

All members of Matador Parent-Teacher Association interested in plans for a Mother-Daughter Banquet are urged to attend a called meeting at 2:30 p.m., Monday, January 26, to be held in the Home Ec room of the high school building.

Dual purpose of the meeting is to choose a general chairman and select committees for the banquet and to elect a committee to nominate officers for the association for the coming year.

FORTY-TWO PARTY

Elbert Reeves Named To Five Committees

If, by the merest chance, you are dissatisfied with any phase of state government, you now have a voice in Austin. That voice is the voice of Elbert Reeves, newly-elected representative of the newly-created 88th District, comprised of Hall, Donley, Childress and Motley counties.

Representative Reeves did not go to Austin on a political honeymoon. He asked for places on exactly five of the most important committees and he was assigned to exactly five committees—the ones he had requested. They are: Agriculture committee, Common Carriers committee, Conservation and Reclamation committee, Education committee and Highway and Roads committee.

Elbert Reeves Named To Five Committees

Some of the greatest problems which confront the lustrous, growing giant state of Texas, rest on the wisdom, experience and vision of the men who comprise these five committees. Jet-powered commerce, agriculture, transportation and education embraced in the commonwealth of Texas is hampered by much horse and buggy legislation. The way will not be easy, but Representative Reeves did not ask for the easy way.

During his campaign Representative Reeves frequently declared: "If I am elected I will do my duty as I best see it. I will make many mistakes because I will try as often as there is opportunity and I will not straddle issues. I will learn by experience and through experience I will become better able to serve the people who depend upon me for representation."

EYES OF WORLD TURN TO WASHINGTON AS NATION'S LEADER ASSUMES OFFICE

Religious Solemnity Marks Inauguration Of Texas Governor

WHILE the eyes of most of the nation were turned to Washington Tuesday with the inauguration of Dwight D. Eisenhower as 34th President of the United States and Richard M. Nixon as Vice-President. More than half a million people witnessed the inaugural parade and attended the many social functions that honored the new president.

By the modern miracle of television uncounted millions witnessed the inaugural ceremonies. Some observers believe as many as 100 millions in this country alone may have looked on television screens during the momentous occasion. Other millions heard the new president's voice over the radio. It is probable that no other event on earth has ever been seen by so many people.

Texas was well represented in Washington but not by Governor Allan Shivers who was busy in Austin being inaugurated as governor for his second full term. Levelland sent its sheriff's posse (horses and riders) to take part in the parade.

"Where do General Electric's engineers come from?" a visitor asked us. "I suppose they all got trained at MIT, or Cornell, or Michigan."

His question set us pondering, so we started plowing through the file cabinet for an answer. And, of course, it turned out as you'd imagine—NO. General Electric engineers don't always come from eastern technical schools. They won their slide rules from colleges in every state.

Maybe you'd like to hear how many of our bright engineers got their engineering education in your home state. Here's part of the list . . .

One out of every twenty employees at General Electric is an engineer or scientist. You know that a big part of our work is improving products and working out new ideas. Right now young men from your home state are working on big and important engineering jobs at General Electric. You should be mighty proud of them because—take our word—they're doing a swell job.

Texas Cities Make Bid For Place In Future Tax Plans

Texas municipalities, which feel they have been by-passed from state tax revenues and benefits, are coming out of their corner swinging as the 53rd Legislature gets underway. The League of Texas Municipalities, headed by Mayor Jim Wright of Weatherford as president, has adopted a definite legislative program which was unanimously approved at its annual convention in Dallas last November.

Making it plain that the League recognizes the claims of all other sub-divisions of State government, Mayor Wright and a strong legislative committee, have served notice that the incorporated cities and towns of Texas expect to get a fair share of any new tax revenue measures adopted by the next legislature.

The following four point program, approved unanimously by more than 500 Texas mayors, is the legislative objective of the League:

1. Oppose any increase in gasoline or other road-user tax unless a fair share of the increase is allowed Texas cities for construction and maintenance of streets.

Also oppose any additional or substitute levy upon natural gas unless a fair share of the proceeds from such levy is apportioned cities and towns for street maintenance and construction.

2. For passage of a constitutional amendment exempting all motor vehicles from paying of ad valorem taxes on all types and requiring each vehicle owner to pay only the annual registration or license plate fee. The proceeds of such fees would be shared in proper proportion by the state, counties and cities.

3. Against the unconscionable levy by the state of gasoline taxes upon the cities' own vehicles and for passage of a bill to allow the cities to retain all taxes paid by city buses and taxicabs using exclusively city streets which the cities now maintain.

4. Against passage by the legislature of any bill imposing any additional financial burden on the cities of Texas or any group of such cities.

The program of the League of Texas Municipalities, Mayor Wright points out, is the program of five million Texas citizens since the 1950 census revealed that for the first time in its history, Texas is now predominantly urban instead of rural with 66 per cent of the inhabitants living in incorporated cities and towns.

Situation Declared Acute

The League president describes the situation of Texas municipalities as acute because of their mushroom growth. To use his words "the towns of Texas are caught in a squeeze — a fiercely insistent and tenacious gripping nutcracker."

The legislature limits cities to only three possible taxes — ad valorem, a gross receipts tax only upon certain select city franchises and an occupation tax Mayor Wright states maximum rates cities can charge on the three taxes are prescribed by state law.

The League has factual information backing its claim that the cities have been dealt with unkindly, or completely ignored, by past legislatures. Texas ranks third among the states in its aid to school districts, 22nd in its aid to the counties but in aid to cities, the League sadly points out, Texas ranks 44th.

The comparison is further amplified by the League in showing that the average state allocates an amount equal to $7.08 per capita to meet its obligation to incorporated cities and towns. Texas' munificence to its cities in that regard, Mayor Wright states, is only 5 cents per capita and this largely from federal funds.

"After all, the people of Texas

Some changing around among the state departments sees Jack Ross, secretary of state, moving in Feb. 1 as a member of the State Board of Pardons and Poles. He takes the position of R. A. Smoot Schmid, who has served out a six-year term.

Ross became secretary of state upon the retirement of John Ben Shepperd, who is now attorney general. The new secretary of state will be Howard Carney of Cass County, a former state senator who did not run for reelection.

Missing from the Austin scene is Price Daniel, whom Shepperd replaced as attorney general. Daniel is now in Washington in the role of U. S. Senator, where he will take an active part in the campaign to restore the Texas tidelands to Texas.

In his most recent expression on the subject Daniel scored a reported plan of President Truman to set aside the continental shelf as a naval petroleum reserve.

Such a move, says the Senator, would be a flagrant violation of the law.

As of now the tidelands belong to the federal government under a decision of the supreme court. President-elect Eisenhower has indicated that he will support legislation to surrender the federal government's claim to the states.

The legislative committee of the Texas Press Association met Saturday in Austin to plan legislation calling for more detail in the reporting of public expenditures. A long-range legislative program of public interest was thoroughly discussed and outlined.

Jake Smyth, publisher of the Liberty Vindicator, is chairman of the committee. Members are: J. C. Phillips, Borger; Dick Dwelle, Athens; Rigby Owen, El Campo; L. B. Smith, Brady; Brad Smith, Westaco; Tom Whitehead, Brenham; Morris Roberts, Victoria; Franz Zeiske, Bellville; W. R. Beaumier, Lufkin; Jimmie Gillentine, Hereford; Victor B. Fain, Nacogdoches; George Baker, Ft. Stockton; Paul Fulks, Wolfe City; Louis N. Goldberg, Austin.

The association takes the position that making public the record of tax money—how it comes in and how it goes out—makes for honesty in government and helps the people understand more fully how the public agencies operate.

We're sorry to hear of Joe Spray's going to the Air Corps. We know Betty Ruth and his family will miss him.

The Seniors received their diplomas this week and they surely are anxious for that final day when they will be filled out and are theirs for keeps.

We wonder if you all have noticed the leather work that is being done by our Aggie boys. We think it is some of the best we've ever seen. The most commonly made articles are belts, billfolds, and purses.

We all enjoyed "Charlie and his Wanda Dog, Ranger" in the assembly program last week. It is amazing what you can teach animals by persistence and patience. The program was sponsored by the eighth grade.

We were happy to have Mrs. Bill Word with us part of this week. Mrs. Word is a student at Southwestern State Teachers College at Weatherford, Oklahoma.

The Junior and Senior Classes are reading and selecting their annual class plays this week. We're all anxious to see them and you'll be hearing more about them in the future!

The F.F.A. had a meeting last Monday night. The main purpose of the meeting was to plan a trip to the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show. After the discussion they elected the F.F.A. sweetheart, who is Frances Traveek.

The F. H. A. elected as their F. H. A. King, Cecil Wayne Shelton.
