RAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

spanned in the golden childhood has returned to the hope-fouled eddies of the present years. The dikes between dreams and reality have like snow on the shore of a lifeless sea. Life's cup of participation holds little but the rejected dregs; the bitter of warmed-over fears. There is not the breathless adoration of a stranger in paradise who wears a path of a slave who has his eyes. This and more are in the sentence of a man who has neglected to dress the star-cooled passion of his career.

are not reformed by love, nor by fear or pity. Reputation is planted in the heart of the beauty of truth and water by the wholesome, unshed of private meditation.

is possible that the decay of the Roman empire be traced to the simple item of insufficient diet. My history failed to reveal any general use of black pepper as a pabulum for the multitude.

is an orchid that frequent-blossoms without attention on the window of many otherwise city domiciles.

dom of the cowboy posed conveniences which seldom made life more comfortable. Their work was air-conditioned except that it was hot in summer and cold in winter with suitable regulations. Running for the cowboy's random was usually available provided he wanted to run and get it.

mistakes are like a hole in the sweater seat, often more obvious to those who follow than to the sweater or the leaders.

Time is a delicate perfume which no container is strong enough to hold.

Men who spend their lives in the saddle, facing the sun and riding through the seasons while their thoughts and dreams have the free range of solitude, are given with a wholesomeness of spirit that eludes comparison. Perhaps it is something of the charm of children who have grown old without the world having an opportunity of inflicting its penalty.

No one has ever dared to estimate the true amount of wisdom which must be attained through the use of folly. We are shamed by such knowledge.

Duty is a stowaway on our ship of dreams with authority to assume the place of master when the sea is charted through treacherous waters.

Often a man will lose his health to earn enough money that he may procure the services of doctors to restore it.

Nature prepares her sermons in the secrecy of a mighty heart. The sunlight on a rose bud, the growth of a tiny seed or the quick frost that destroys the green soul of leaves, is repeated for those who hear or see no more than the passing of a season.

War imposes many inconveniences on all walks of life. Recently a well-booted cowboy walked into a local store and purchased a pair of cheap shoes. He was to enter military service the following day and had been informed that his civilian clothing must be surrendered to some charity. A pair of boots became a part of the cowboy, perhaps absorbing some of his generous soul. Besides, this rider wanted a good pair of boots to wear when the war is over.

Engineers' Survey Excites Interest

SPECULATION is rife over Matador and Roaring Springs following the visit of two U. S. engineers here last week. The noncommitting representatives of the government entered the office of M. S. Patton, secretary of the Matador Farm Loan Association on Tuesday, July 21, introduced themselves and asked Mr. Patton for a rough appraisal on 50 sections of land located south and east of Matador. They produced a map on which the tract of land had been designated to start two miles south of town and continue five miles, then east for ten miles.

The engineers declared railroad, utility and highway facilities adequate and asked about the flow of water from Roaring Springs, the amount of water available in Matador and the quality of water in both places. They were in his office less than 15 minutes. He did not learn their names. They told him they would look over the property from a plane at some later date. They drove an automobile with the wording "U. S. Engineers" painted on the sides.

Land Bank Appraise
Appraisals of land for army camps, flying schools and ordnance plants in this part of the Panhandle have been made by appraisers of the Federal Land Bank of which the Matador Farm Loan Association is affiliated. Speculation as to the purpose to which the government may use the 32,000 acres ranges from a Jap concentration camp to a bombing range. Some believe the 50 square miles may be used for a glider school, others vision its use as an artillery range.

A study of a county map shows the Q. A. & P. railway to cross the southeast corner of the block. The West Texas Utilities power lines pass near the north boundary. It is estimated that approximately 75% of the property is grazing land.

The two engineers did not talk with anyone here except Mr. Patton and made no comment as to the purpose to which the land might be used.

Officers Elected For Fleming Post

New officers for the ensuing year were elected by Fleming Post No. 337, American Legion, at a regular meeting of the organization held Friday evening, July 24 in the Legion hut.

Officers were named as follows: Post Commander, L. B. Robertson; 1st V. Commander, H. H. Schweitzer; 2nd V. Commander, R. A. Seay; Post Adjutant, Henry Ford; Post Service Officer, J. R. Whitworth; Chaplain, J. L. Woodruff; Post Historian, Vernon Doss; Sgt. At Arms, W. W. Clements; Membership and Welfare Chairman, M. S. Patton.

Various phases of the war crisis were discussed, including the formation of a post for World War veterans of War II. Membership was stressed, and the activities of the Post were discussed. These included sponsoring of a sexton for Matador East Mound cemetery, results of poppy sales, and aid for ex-service men and families.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

RETURNS FROM HOUSTON
L. A. Stearns, who has been in Houston where he has received treatments for impending surgery, returned home Tuesday evening to remain for several weeks before undergoing the operation. Elmer Stearns, with his daughter Frances, drove to Childress to meet and accompany his father home.

ANNUAL REVIVAL MEETING TO BEGIN SUNDAY AT METHODIST CHURCH HERE

Much interest is being evidenced in the annual revival meeting which will start Sunday, August 2, at the Methodist church, to continue for two weeks.

Rev. O. B. Herring of Post, Texas, will do the preaching. Rev. Herring is a successful pastor and has been active in evangelistic work for a number of years. Rev. W. M. Culwell of Anton, will lead the singing and work with the children and young people.

The hours for the services will be 10 a. m. and 8:45 p. m. The pastor, Rev. W. B. Vaughn earnestly urges the membership of the church to attend all the services next Sunday, and those who are not attending Sunday School at some other church are especially invited to be at the Methodist Sunday School at 9:45 Sunday morning.

"We sincerely invite the entire community to join us in this revival effort," Rev. Vaughn stated, "and trust that it will be a blessing to all. We very much appreciate the cooperation of other churches, and the business men of the city for closing their places of business for the morning services. "All will enjoy hearing the messages of Rev. Herring, and Rev. Culwell's solos will be a treat to every one. He is splendid in his line of work and is a good leader."

Senate Runoff Faces Voters

County Polls 1,147 Votes To Reflect General State Candidate Preference

Reflecting the general sentiments of the state, Motley county relaxed war-tense nerves sufficiently for 1,147 voters to register their candidate preference in the Texas 1st Democratic primary, Saturday.

Because of a slight miscalculation in his confidence in the faithful Senator Wilber Lee O'Daniel is faced by his first runoff for his 2nd term as Junior United States Senator. He had frequently declared during the heated campaign, that "There ain't going to be no runoff." Texas voters have grandstand seats in a political arena where anything will probably be employed by the gladiator-candidates during the next 30 days. Former governor James V. Allred was runner-up champion in the Saturday handicap that caused the "war ain't important Senator" to break his promise about a runoff. Late tabulations indicated Senator O'Daniel might fall short of a majority by about 50,000 votes.

Motley county voted for the Senator 653 against 478 for the three other candidates. Congressman Eugene Worley "snowed-under" his opponent Lynn Miller in the county by 842 to 97.

Governor Coke Stevenson defeated four opponents, including the Mineral Wells Crazy Crystal King Hal Collins. In the county he defeated Collins 681 to 417. Gene S. Porter of Bell county, Governor candidate, probably wonders about his Motley county popularity. He received one vote in the entire county.

Largest vote in the county was received by unopposed Sheriff, Tax Assessor and Collector of Taxes H. H. Courtney who polled 1,147 ballots. District Judge Alton B. Chapman was second with 1,143 and County Judge W. R. Cammack was third with 1,142. County and District Clerk R. A. Seay was fourth with 1,141.

Motley county will have no county runoff since the single opposed candidate, Mrs. Lois Garnett was nominated by 726 to 393 received by Mrs. Lula Carpenter, District Attorney John A. Hamilton won a "too close to be comfortable" race over L. D. Ratliff, Jr., of Dickens county by a majority of only 202 votes in the four county total of 7,106. District Attorney Hamilton polled the total 13 votes in the Union Corner box which also gave its full strength to Gene Worley. Motley stood by its native son almost 4 to 1, giving him 871 of the 1,106 votes cast for the office.

Official Election Returns

Lions Will Hear Convention Report

All directors of the club are requested to remember the regular director's breakfast scheduled for 6:30 Monday morning at the Magnolia Cafe.

Close Race Winner

Nominated by a majority of 202 votes out of a total of 7,106 in the four counties of the 110th Judicial District, John A. Hamilton, above, was re-elected over his opponent, L. D. Ratliff, Jr., of Dickens county, in Saturday's 1st Democratic primary.

District Attorney Hamilton received a total of 3,654 votes against his opponent's 3,452.

Voting by counties was as follows: Dickens, Hamilton 639, Ratliff 1,598; Motley, Hamilton 871, Ratliff 235; Briscoe, Hamilton 775, Ratliff 367; Floyd, Hamilton 1,370, Ratliff 1,252.

Re-Elected

Mrs. Lois Garnett was re-elected county treasurer in the only opposed county race, by defeating Mrs. Lula Carpenter 726 to 393.

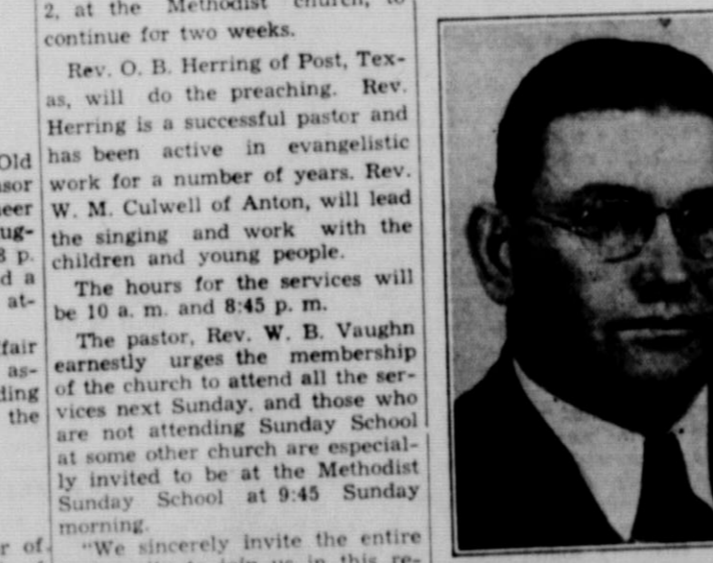

The two candidates joining an agreement with the county's unopposed candidates, did not canvass the county in their campaigns, in order to save automobiles and tires. Mrs. Garnett had only served one term as county treasurer.

REV. D. D. DENISON IN MEETING AT DELWYN

Rev. D. D. Denison of Albany, former Methodist pastor here, began a ten-day revival meeting at Delwyn near Paducah, Monday night. Mrs. Denison and son James Dickey accompanied him, and the latter is visiting here as the guest of Mack Jacobs.

He is pastor of the Methodist Church at Post, and in addition to his pastoral duties, has been active in evangelistic work for a number of years.

INJURED IN FALL

Mrs. W. D. Herring suffered a fractured collar bone in a fall Monday, which has necessitated a cast for her left arm and hand which were also injured.

Lee Barr, pioneer citizen and merchant of this section for many years, passed away Sunday at 2:30 p. m. in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Cecil Judd in Stockton, Calif. after an illness of several months. Relatives at Roaring Springs were notified of his death Monday.

"Uncle Lee" Barr had owned and operated the mill and grocery store 6 miles south of Roaring Springs for more than 15 years. Following his wife's death a year ago, he had gone to California to live with his daughters.

He is survived by his two daughters, Mrs. Cecil Judd of Stockton, and Mrs. Homer Basham of Strathmore, California; four brothers, of whom Scott Barr of Roaring Springs is one, and four sisters, besides many friends in the Roaring Springs community.

"It is therefore incumbent upon every cotton grower to pick his cotton as clean and as dry as possible. Moreover, cotton growers should not be misled by the emphasis that is often placed on high 'gin outturns.' Too close ginning frequently is at the expense of the quality and therefore of the value of the line cotton, for cotton lint containing linters is discounted when sold and the linters in such cotton is lost to the Government for war purposes.

First To Cotton Growers

"Pick your cotton clean and dry. Remember that dirt and trash and water in seed cotton not only lower the grade and value of your bale of cotton but increases the cost of transportation and take up valuable freight space; they also reduce the value of the seed and reduce the quantity and quality of the food products and munitions made from the seed. Remember also that the ginner who advertises that he gives you a 'higher outturn' of that he 'skins the seed' is probably putting linters into your cotton thereby lowering its value and what is worse in this time of emergency he may be robbing your Government of that form of fiber necessary for munitions and other essential war materials. Cotton growers remember that sabotage may be practiced through direct or indirect, positive or indifferent actions."

Panhandle's First Mill

CANYON—At a time when a huge wheat crop in the Panhandle is likely and the section's big milling industry is vitally important in the nation's war effort, it is interesting to note the primitive "mill" demonstrated above by Miss Dora Jo Covington of Littlefield, a junior at West Texas State College of Canyon. The corn grinding hole and pestle were found on a rocky bluff overlooking a small Panhandle stream. Women of a race now gone ground their meal in such depressions in the years before Coronado crossed these plains. The archaeological exhibits at the Panhandle-Plains museum show many evidences of the Panhandle's pre-history.

A banker's explanation of what is wrong with this country isn't that they're trying to run it with only one vice-president.

Infant Mortality Reaches Low Level

AUSTIN—Figures released by the Bureau of Census reveal that the Infant Mortality has reached the lowest level in the history of the State, said Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer. The reduction of infant deaths during the past year was phenomenal. For the past three years only two states had infant mortality rates exceeding Texas. The figures now available show ten states, Alabama, Arizona, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, New Mexico, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia, have rates in excess of those reported in Texas.

Infant mortality is expressed in terms of the number of deaths per 1000 live births. The infant mortality for 1940 was 68 per 1000 live births whereas the rate for 1941 is 56.7 per 1000. In 1933 when Texas entered the registration area of the United States the infant mortality was 77 per 1000 live births. The present reduction in terms of mortality for 1933 and 1941 when applied to the 135,000 live births recorded in Texas in 1941 represents a saving of the lives of 2700 infants annually.

The evidence now available seems to indicate that the greatest reduction occurred in the southern part of the state where the State Health Department has been waging an intensive drive to protect the health of babies. It seems evident that the reductions in infant mortality achieved in El Paso, San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Austin, and in Hidalgo County are the most significant in the state for the year. These same areas of the state lead in the number of well children. The mortality among the Latin American group which has been disproportionately high has apparently responded well to the educational efforts of physicians, public health nurses, and nutrition workers.

Maternal and child health is but one phase of the work being done by the State Health Department in their campaign to reduce illness and death. Other activities are carried out to the full extent allowed by the limited resources provided for saving lives in Texas.

Produce More...

Cattlemen and farmers have a great responsibility during these vital days and my company is alert to its opportunity for greater service to its customers and friends. We appreciate the splendid effort and cooperation of cattlemen and farmers in this section to produce more essential foods and other war needs. Most of us have boys in the service and we feel the need for greater unity and helpfulness.

I have just returned from an intensive week of study of modern methods of cattle, hogs, sheep and poultry feeding and breeding at the Oklahoma A&M, located at Stillwell, Oklahoma. This study was sponsored and paid for by my company that I may serve you better. I did not absorb it all, of course, but I studied from 8 o'clock each morning to 4 each afternoon. From 4 o'clock each afternoon until 6, I visited the barns and lots to observe actual demonstrations of the principals I had been taught in the classroom.

I can help you earn money instead of losing money in feeding livestock. I have a vital message for every livestock feeder in this area. It is yours for the asking. I can help you with your problems. My company has spent good money to give me this schooling and I have studied as hard as I could to receive the most from it. The advice is yours. Come in today.

YOU DON'T NEED TO BE OUR CUSTOMER . . .

You are entitled to every bit of help I can give you regardless of whether you are a customer or not. There is no cost . . . no obligation. You may be our customer someday, if not you have a neighbor who is our customer . . . your boy and my boy in the service are asking that we pull together and help each other with complete cooperation. The responsibility for victory rests not only with the fighters, but also with the men behind men who carry the guns.

"I Learned about LIGHT in a BLACKOUT!"

That's what a man wrote in a very human letter.

• "We had our first practice blackout here recently," he added. "For twenty minutes, my family and I sat in total darkness. The seriousness of war hit us all harder than ever before.

• "Then, when the all-clear sounded and we turned the lights back on, warmth and reassurance came into the room. That made me realize that whatever I spend for electricity, it's still about the cheapest thing I buy."

• Here in West Texas, where blackouts have been few and far between and the war seems far away, a lot of folks take electricity for granted until something reminds them how dependable and cheap it really is. If yours is an average family, you're getting about twice or three times as much electricity for your money as ten to fifteen years ago.

• The reasons why this service is so cheap and so dependable go back to the way America works—a way we're all fighting for now. A way of life in which free men have an opportunity to create and produce and succeed in proportion to their individual contribution.

• Your Electric Servant grew up that way—steadily making more jobs, serving more homes and people and lowering rates—under efficient business management. Because it has done its part of the job well, West Texas has the electric power to attract military training camps, flying schools and war plants. West Texas today is helping produce the men and material that promises a permanent blackout for the Axis dictators!

Pied Pinions BY MR. J. M.

Well, it looks like now that I might have missed my calling. Maybe I should be on the air, instead of in the air most of the time. Anyway, since my "debut" Sunday morning, local listeners in on KGNC, Amarillo have been mighty nice in their comments on the broadcast.

Mr. Lewis Nordyke, the Exchange Editor who conducts the program, and his charming wife made us feel right at home all during the broadcast, and the only signs of nervousness I displayed was the twisted paper clip which I toyed with; however, the fact that it was mangled beyond recognition is beside the point—just an ordinary habit of mine even under normal conditions!

Following the interview, Mr. and Mrs. Nordyke were our hosts at breakfast, and we enjoyed very much, the opportunity of becoming better acquainted with these interesting people.

Although by no stretch of the imagination could Mrs. Nordyke be called plump nevertheless she debated the use of much butter on her hot cakes, with the comment that we really should watch our figures more closely; whereupon her husband, in amiable accord with her views pointed out that, "of course women should; if they don't no one else will."

Mr. Nordyke, who is a native Texan, met his wife while attending Missouri University, Columbia, Mo., where they were journalism students. They have two young daughters, ages 5 and 2.

Before attending Missouri U. however, Mr. Nordyke attended John Tarleton, Stephenville, Texas, where he met and became a very good friend of our local citizen, J. D. Craven, who was attending John-Tarleton at that time. Also, he remembers Houston Patton, another student from Matador.

Before becoming associated with the Amarillo Globe-News, Mr. Nordyke was with the Associated Press in Dallas.

Life's most embarrassing moment is that in which you are relaying, confidentially some bit of information, and suddenly realize that the person in whom you are confiding is the one who passed the morsel to you previously, in sworn secrecy.

"Each one of us must 'pull in his belt' if we are to win the battle against rising prices." Says Leon Henderson, Administrator of OPA in a current magazine article dealing with our latest bugaboo, Inflation. His very sound advice on how to do it is as follows:

1. Cut down on your spending. There is a shortage of consumer goods.

2. Buy War Bonds. Dollars are weapons.

3. Don't go into debt. Put yourself on a cash basis. Don't buy on installment plans.

4. Don't hoard. Hoarding creates unnatural demands for consumer goods, causes artificial scarcities, and forces rationing of commodities.

5. Take care of what you have; make it last.

CUE TO BARBECUE

Max O. Cullen, nationally-famous barbecue expert, shows Muriel Barr, young M-G-M starlet, how simple it is to barbecue meat. Pete Smith, producer of short subjects bearing his name, looks on as Cullen illustrates the correct method for turning a steak during the filming of "Barbecues."

Backyard Barbecue Solves War's Entertainment Problem

With the entire nation seeking simpler means of entertainment because of war time requirements, the old-fashioned barbecue is rapidly growing in popularity. Backyard barbecues are becoming quite the style from California to Maine.

Old timers at this business of barbecuing have developed it into a fine culinary art, and in this connection Max O. Cullen, nationally known barbecue and carving expert, has brought out some new wrinkles for the handling of those old stand-bys, hamburgers and frankfurters.

Why does a frankfurter curl? Well, that's a problem that has bothered many a host, but if you're having a barbecue party and you want your franks to lie slim and straight as they nicely brown, try Cullen's little trick, as taken from the M-G-M, Pete Smith specialty, "Barbecues."

down one side without cutting entirely through the casing, turn it over and slice parallel to the first slice. Then it opens up like an accordion and will not curl and fall through your grill.

Anybody can barbecue meat, Cullen points out, if they will only remember these pointers: Use coals, not a flame, should be used as a source of heat—charcoal briquettes are good. Steaks and chops should be turned every one or two inches or more in thickness, and need be turned only once in cooking. Surplus fat should be trimmed away so it will not drip into the coals and flame up.

If you'd like a hamburger barbecue, take another hint from Cullen's repertoire and satisfy everybody's taste. Make your hamburger into a ball and barbecue it slowly until the outside is well done. Then, slice it into three parts and you have two well-done pieces for those who like it that way, and one rare piece—the center—for those who like their meat rare. Cullen personally guarantees that barbecue fans will go for hamburgers prepared this way.

What Housewives Should Know About Price Ceiling

Q. When does the ceiling become effective?

A. (1.) For goods sold at retail, the ceilings apply on May 18, 1942.

(2.) For services at retail, that is, rendered to the ultimate consumer, the ceiling applies on July 1, 1942.

(3.) For sales by manufacturers, producers and wholesalers, and services rendered to an industrial consumer, the ceiling applies on May 11, 1942.

Q. Will the ceiling prices be the same at every store for the same article?

A. No. In general, the ceiling is the highest price at which each store sold an article during March. The maximum price will vary from store to store just as prices varied from store to store during March.

Q. How will the housewife know what the maximum prices are?

A. The Regulation lists about 100 of the most important groups of items in the average family's cost of living. The maximum prices of these items must be displayed by any retailer selling them after May 18.

Q. What about prices of goods that are not on the cost-of-living list?

A. Until July 1, the housewife should ask the storekeeper for his maximum prices. After July 1, the retailer must have a prepared statement of the highest prices for all commodities or services which he delivered or supplied during March. This may be examined by any one on request.

Q. What should the housewife do if she believes that she is required to pay more than a storekeeper's maximum?

A. She should ask the storekeeper to explain the price to her. If she still believes that she is required to pay more than his legal maximum, she should communicate the facts to OPA's nearest War Price and Rationing Board or its nearest local office.

Car Owners Warned To Purchase $5.00 War Measure Stamp

Postmaster E. F. Springer submits the following announcement warning from W. A. Thomas, collector of Internal Revenue, with regard to the $5.00 automobile tax stamp:

Reports reaching the office of Collector of Internal Revenue indicate that most persons subject to the $5.00 automobile tax due July 1, 1942, have already purchased the required Stamp but that in some sections many automobile owners have failed to purchase this stamp. Beginning August 1, 1942, a concerted drive by deputy collectors in every section will be undertaken, and all persons subject to the tax, using their cars without the stamp affixed, will be vigorously prosecuted. Such tax evaders will be subject to a $25.00 fine and thirty days imprisonment in addition to payment of the tax. This automobile use tax is a war measure, and all patriotic people should respond without delay.

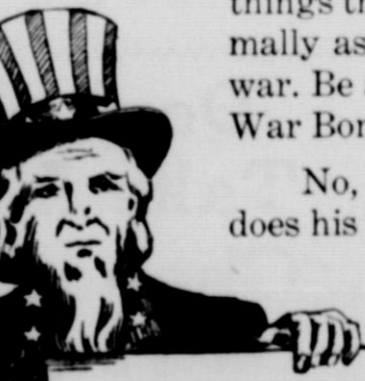

The most important thing to remember is that the $5.00 automobile tax stamp cannot be purchased from Post Offices after July 31, 1942, and purchases will have to be made from the Collector of Internal Revenue, and late purchasers will be required to establish the fact under oath that they have not used their car prior to the purchase date of the stamp, in order to avoid penalty.

This is a final notice, and further leniency cannot be extended. This statement is made by direction of the Bureau of Internal Revenue in Washington.

You are needed! Uncle Sam wants every man and every woman in all walks of life to get busy with unabated vigor to produce more . . . to help amass such an overwhelming supply of everything—guns, ships, tanks, planes, ammunition, food, clothing, supplies—that Adolf and his crowd will gasp in awe at such colossal achievement.

You can help by putting all that you have into your job, whatever you are doing. You see, if every individual did his job just a little better, produce just a little more, the nation-wide collective total would be so great that it would shatter Adolf's dream of conquering the world and of robbing us of the things that we cherish most—free religious worship, free speech, free thought, free action. We must remain free to continue our way of life unhampered by the brutal whims of a mad man.

You must not fail Uncle Sam in this crisis. You are a more important person now than ever before. Think what would happen if every American, not in the armed forces, assumed that our government would get the job done without his help! Well, there just wouldn't be an Uncle Sam, would there? And this thought is just terrible to contemplate, isn't it? Resolve not to let him down now, when he needs you most . . . when you have a chance to prove that you are worthy to be called a real American.

Conserve on everything, especially those things essential to our armament program, but do not deny yourself the things that you require to carry on life as normally as possible, considering that we are at war. Be a good American. Buy all of the U. S. War Bonds and Stamps that you can.

No, Adolf cannot win, if every American does his part.

The retail merchants, the service institutions, and the professional men serving you may be unable, in some instances, to give you the same complete service and attention that you were accustomed to receiving from them in peace time. Accept any little inconvenience that may occur with graciousness, knowing that they are doing all that they can to serve you the best that they can . . . And that what they are doing is what Uncle Sam wishes them to do.

From and after January 1, 1945, no bill containing an appropriation shall be considered as passed or be sent to the Governor for consideration until and unless the Comptroller of Public Accounts endorses his certificate thereon showing that the amount appropriated is within the amount estimated to be available in the affected funds. When the Comptroller finds an appropriation bill exceeds the estimated revenue he shall endorse such finding thereon and return to the House in which same originated. Such information shall be immediately made known to both the House of Representatives and the Senate and the necessary steps shall be taken to bring such appropriation to within the revenue, either by providing additional revenue or reducing the appropriation.

In the Armed Service

Pete Knight writes us as follows from Ft. Bliss, where he is a private first class in the Military Police battalion: "Dear Ben—I wish to take this opportunity to thank you for the paper and also all the good people who have willingly donated money to you to help you in sending it. I really do appreciate it myself, and know from their letters that all the other do also. I really get a kick out of it myself and never stop until I have finished the last line; and don't think for one minute we do not appreciate everything you and all the rest of the people in Motley County do for us. I would like to say hello to everyone. Your friend,

P.F.C. Jim D. Knight Co. A. 746th Military Police Bn. Ft. Bliss, Texas P. S. Better known up there as "Pete".

A letter from Jack Robinson Jr., who is with the Aviation Cadet Detachment at Lowry Field, Colorado, states: "I like it very much here in Denver. Days are hot, but the nights are swell. They keep us very busy here but it is worth it. Give my best regards to all of my friends in Matador and Motley county. They are the swellest people in the world. I received the Tribune today, and thank you a lot. Sincerely, A. C. Jack Robinson Jr."

And from our "flying" representative, Aviation Cadet E. Paul Eubank, whose address is: Bldg. 659, Room 2024, U.S.N.A.S. Pensacola, Florida, comes this inspirational message: "...one of the most interesting items in the Tribune these days is that reprinting of the letters from the men in the service... and don't think they exaggerate or are just trying to make you feel good when they complain about missing an issue. My paper was two days late last week and I almost sent a wire to find the cause of the delay. I, too, read it all..."

"In times such as these it seems that people realize the true value and importance of every-day happenings and incidents. Things we otherwise would take for granted attain a new meaning; all this is just by way of appreciation from a fellow who thinks a job is being done well. "I thought of Ben last Thursday night; was up for two hours of night flying in God's great blue sparkling heaven. A shining moon was setting slowly in the west—the Milky Way was brilliant and all the stary lamp-posts were bright—inspiration for eight galleys of T. D. "The only drawback was that I did not get to bed until 12:45. We still get up in time to see the lightning bugs refuel twice before daylight. "Keep the home fires burning and I'll try to see you in the late fall. Sincerely, Paul."

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Tilson are in receipt of a letter from their son, Sgt. W. R. (Bill) Tilson of the 66th Pursuit Sqdn., mailed from Port Au Prince, Haiti, with this encouraging message: "Don't worry—I'm as happy as heck." And, they know he is sincere and means just that, because it is one of his favorite expressions! ... Cpl. Albert E. Rattan, of the 5th Cavalry division at Ft. Bliss, has been transferred to Louisiana, according to advice received this week. He writes, "Dear Ben: Will drop you a line to let you know of my appreciation for the paper. It is really more than a paper; it is in reality a medium of correspondence between the boys in service and the home town. "Was glad to hear from Joe Berry again. My address is again being changed and is: Cpl. Albert E. Rattan Hdq. Tr. 5th Cav. A. P. O. 201 Leesville, La. "Mr. and Mrs. T. H. McCain received word last week that their son, T. H. McCain Jr. has been sent to Medford, Oregon, from Ft. Bliss, and promoted to Staff Sergeant, with the following address, Staff Sergeant Thomas H. McCain 416th 2M Bn. Dit. 90 Div. Camp White, Medford, Oregon. ... Imagine the surprise and delight of Pvt. Carl D. Mize on July 22, when he was informed that his brother, Amos J. Mize, Seaman 2nd Class was waiting at the gate to see him! After 5 months of separation, during three of which both boys have been in Uncle Sam's Armed Forces, the boys finally met. It seems the Navy must have known that Seaman Mize would like to be near his brother, for the sailor has followed the soldier all over the west coast. Dude (the soldier) went from here to Riverside, California, and within two months, Amos was stationed at San Diego, California. From Riverside, Dude went to Ft. Lewis, Washington, and soon Amos followed him as far as Bremerton, Washington. Then Dude was stationed at Oakland, Calif. Wednesday, Amos came to see him. He's stationed at San Francisco. ... Pvt. Alfred Barton Jr. of the 5th Corps Area Laboratory at Ft. Benjamin, Harrison, Ind., is visiting here on a 15-day furlough with his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Barton drove to Amarillo Sunday to meet and accompany him home. ... Pvt. Boyd Perkins of Camp Hulen, Texas, is visiting on furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Perkins of Whiteflat. He is with Btry A-105th Bn. C. A.

Filtering Clay From Panhandle Used In Refining AUSTIN, July 17.—Successful development of filtering clay in Briscoe and Swisher counties—a type of clay which has proven superior in reducing sulphur and gums from gasoline in the vapor form—has opened the possibility of other Fuller's earth or bentonite deposits in the Texas plains, a University of Texas geologist said today. The clay being produced near Silverton is in special demand for refining gasoline from crudes having a high sulphur content such as are produced from a number of Texas fields. Glen L. Evans, of the university's bureau of economic geology, explained. Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Bourland and granddaughters, Ruth Evelyn Keith and Margie Marshall, were Floydada visitors Monday. Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Mask of Levelland are visiting here in the home of their daughter and family Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Vaughn.
